Chapter 172

SOUTH AFRICA'S BBB PARTY BANNED

History of BBB

The "BBB Party" in South Africa was formed a few months ago. Its purpose, to FORCE Botha's ruling party and Terre'Blanche's opposition party to take stands on things on which they don't want to take stands.

The BBB is led by Prof. Johan Schabort. Shabort has impressive credentials. In the field of bio-chemistry he is a noted scholar whose research is acclaimed world-wide.

A graduate of the University of Pretoria, he did post-graduate work at Princeton, lectured at the University of California, was a member of the NY Academy of Science, was an adviser to the Atomic Energy Board, and was a consultant to the Department of Agricultural Technical Services. He is a man not easily fooled.

He is devoting himself full time to running the BBB from his home.

Conservative writers have stated the belief that the immense natural resource wealth of S. Africa is a prize the establishment will make their next objective. Such a project is breathtaking in scope and daring - a coup that makes American billion dollar corporate raiders look like penny pinching pikers.

Establishment watchers have also suspected that the S. African President Botha and his ruling party were put there, financed, and promoted by the establishment to facilitate this planned takeover, while all the time covering their tracks with protests that they were only trying to prevent such a thing from happening. A copy of the Democratic/Republican show in America. Whichever side wins - the Establishment wins. Both financed by the same backers.

Schabort's job is to force Botha's ruling party, and its so-called opposition party, to come out for Western interests in S. Africa, or to force them to come out against those interests. In such a situation "silence" is a confession of guilt. A tricky job, but one that the BBB is confident it can do.

Money Grubbing - African Style

The African takeover story is a long and profitable one. The Congo was turned over to blacks who in turn turned it over to their financiers to exploit its copper wealth. Northern Rhodesia was handed to establishment surrogates in the same manner for the same reason. The same thing happened in Portuguese E. Africa. The Blacks got next to nothing out of the deals and most are now starvation poor.

SW Africa is at this moment being handed over to establishment surrogates for the same reason with the full and even eager cooperation of S. Africa's Botha. Each time an African nation is taken from White control, generous 20% adjustable rate loans are made to the new governments and they become slaves ... slaves ready to make any deal, ready to give up anything in exchange for relaxation of rapidly mounting and ruinous debt payments. Establishment profits have been enormous since WW II.

The Rhodesian Sellout

Rhodesia is the most interesting case because she did not run. She stood and fought. It is the textbook situation that the establishment wishes to avoid, if possible, and if all else fails, to use to its own advantage when it can get its own man in the key position.

The Rhodesian news media was establishment controlled. It promoted a WW II fighter pilot, a war hero named Ian Smith, while ignoring all others. In this solitary spotlight he became famous in Rhodesia and was chosen to be leader to lead the fight. His picture was in every newspaper. He was promoted as the Robert E. Lee of the nation, one who could do no wrong.

Playing its part, the foreign press pretended to throw brickbats at him further consolidating his power. After all, the foreign press was the enemy and whomever they were against must be all right.

For years he led the fight. To everyone's surprise, the little nation overcame every obstacle and succeeded beyond anyone's wildest expectations. They broke a worldwide boycott and blockade and opened up new trade routes. They obtained new customers for their goods. They succeeded in protecting their people against establishment armed guerrillas who were known to eat their victims. As expected, nothing the White Rhodesians did was right in the eyes of the international media and the savage terrorists could do no wrong.

Rhodesia became "Fortress Rhodesia" - an armed camp. Every man, woman and child big enough to carry a rifle was automatically a soldier. There are sagas of little ten year old girls bravely firing their rifles at a score of guerrillas, refusing to back up one yard, and making them run. It was a nation of heroes who looked the enemy in the eye time after time and beat them. They were not afraid. They won every battle.

Farmers carried rifles to the fields. Trains donned armor plate and went through. Home industry boomed. Sixteen year old boys took out recon/killer patrols. A small nation of our own, unaided, won against a massive worldwide predatory establishment which furnished unlimited money, explosives, arms, and resources to their savage enemies.

Rhodesia plunged from victory after victory into defeat in a moment. One man did it.

The establishment had prepared against the outside possibility that the Rhodesians might possibly win. When they did, Ian Smith, Rhodesia's George Washington, opened negotiations with Britain and the US to "resolve the dispute". This epitome of patriotism acted without a referendum to ask his countrymen what they wanted. His countrymen thought that this was another shrewd ploy that would gain Rhodesia another advantage. They never dreamed that they were being sold out.

This international meeting took everything from the Whites and gave it to the Blacks, who in turn gave it to the banks who had backed them and had lent them money.

Smith snatched defeat from victory and ruined those who followed him. He was "establishment", and has been branded a renegade by his own dispossessed followers now in exile.

The BBB Platform

The BBB means to prevent South Africa from becoming another Rhodesia. To do this they determined to MAKE Botha and his pretended arch rival Terre'Blanche behave like George Washingtons or like renegades who will sell South Africa to the highest bidder.

To do this the BBB took the platforms of the black revolutionary parties, the ones Botha's government tolerates, and copied them.

What the revolutionaries said they wanted for the Black people the BBB said they wanted for the White people.

The Black revolutionary groups said they wanted Whites driven from S. Africa and Blacks put in control with "one man one vote".

The BBB replied that the whites have no homeland exclusively their own as Blacks do, and that S. Africa should be the White homeland. The Blacks, instead, should be the ones repatriated to their own homelands.

Schabort went on to argue that the Blacks live in and rule a score of homelands in Africa where Whites cannot vote, own property, or stay without permission, while the Whites have no such place. Not a single one. They demanded that S. Africa be declared a White homeland because the Whites were there first, and because the rest of Africa is still mostly vacant and certainly big enough for the Blacks.

This issue triggered the question of "right". Who was in S. Africa first - the Blacks or the Whites? This argument unveiled the secret the press conceals from the world which is this; when Whites landed in the 17th century there were practically no Blacks living in the land. The Whites moved into a land virtually vacant.

Since that time practically all the Black population has come from illegals or children of illegals, much like Hispanic "wetbacks" in the American southwest. They sneaked into the nation to get jobs, or were brought in on temporary establishment work permits, and have hidden out to keep from being returned to their homelands. Those illegally in S. Africa are often allowed to stay through the tolerance of Botha's government.

The BBB charged that the reason the establishment wants to give the Blacks the vote is to turn Westerners out and put Blacks in through a Rhodesian style betrayal.

"Racial intermarriage"! How do you stand on racial intermarriage? The BBB brought up the question. The Blacks want it, the Indians and the Jews want it, the communists want it, and the samaritan church wants it. The Whites, the true Christian church, and the BBB are against it.

Johan Schabort, the BBB's leader, stated that "there has never been a country in history where two races lived side by side with no barriers between them, that they didn't interbreed. To prevent racial intermarriage they must be kept separate." White South Africans applauded. Botha was for racial intermarriage, and Terre'Blanche was strangely non-committal.

"Repatriation! How do you stand on repatriation?" The Blacks want the Whites out - how do you stand on sending "illegals" (wetbacks) back to their own homelands? What about S. Africa being a White homeland? The question received no answer from either political party. They hemmed and hawed.

Botha and Terre'Blanche looked on in horror as these forbidden things began to be discussed openly.

Western voters began asking questions.

Each year S. Africa celebrates December 16, 1838, the time when 500 Boers defeated 15,000 Blacks.

At this year's celebration President Botha stood up to say that since there were a few blacks and coloreds inside the circled wagons, that South Africa must become multi-racial which means giving Blacks the vote and political power over the Whites. Terre'Blanche leaned very much in the same direction in a speech made at the same time. In effect, both left and right acquiesce in turning S. Africa over to the Blacks. Botha says do it fast. Terre'Blanche says do it slow. Both parties have begun to show their true colors. The Establishment has done its work well. But then too - so has the BBB.

Botha's Solution

The BBB was being intolerable. Its disruptive questions must be ended. Botha's police started moving in. BBB workers had been active in putting up posters proclaiming party demands. In October 1987, three BBB members were singled out of a demonstration by about 50 people and charged under the Internal Security Act.

The BBB leaned over backward not to break any law so that it could not be charged with anything. But, the embarrasing questions had to be stopped. A short time ago, a young man, Barend Hendrik Strydom, incensed over unpunished Black crimes against Whites, seized a rifle and went about shooting Blacks. Strydom belonged to Terre'Blanche's party, not the BBB, but Botha used him as an excuse to ban "people who might someday act like him".

Botha banned the BBB only. Now, he does not have to answer BBB questions. This is something he has not done to the myriad Black revolutionary parties bent on bloodshed and mayhem.

The media wholeheartedly supported the banning act with news articles designed to take away Prof. Schabort's martyr status. They are attempting to redirect attention to the shadow boxing of the establishment's right vs. left, all of which leads one way - to capitulation.

Conclusion

A basic political maxim is: "The leadership of a nation is too important to be left to chance." It appears that both the leadership and the opposition in S. Africa may not have been left to chance.

The BBB did its job well. Its questions embarrassed Botha and forced to ban the BBB to stop the questions. In so doing he has branded himself - renegade! Botha's opposition has emerged from the affair in no better light.

Thanks to Prof. Shabort, S. Africa has been alerted. The establishment now has nothing left to maintain its power except naked force. The deception is swept away.

The Whites of South Africa now have two choices. Both painful. They can acquiesce, turn the country over to the establishment, and lose everything they have including possibly their lives. Or they can fight, as their ancestors were forced to do twice before in the past century.

By opposing the Establishment and their allies worldwide, S. Africa will be plunged into a flame. If they win they can keep what they have now. If they lose - they lose everything.

If such a war breaks out, it will not be a localized matter. It will attract the scavengers of the world with their armies who hope to profit from the conflagration.

At stake is the greatest haul of natural resources in the world, and the lives of our kinsmen who are once again pawns in the international game of banditry. Also poised in the balance is the economic well-being of the entire world where economies cannot help but be thrown into chaos if deprived of critical S. African products.

LETTERS

HARRASSED FARMERS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: A group of us farmers hired a van and crossed the state border to hear your talk at Colorado Springs. No sooner than we crossed the state line than a police helicopter hove into sight and a road block stopped us for questioning. We hadn't done anything and have never done anything. We are just farmers. I don't know what this is all about, but I just thought you ought to know what's going on out here." T. M. - Texas

ED: Rebellion comes from injured people. The establishment closely watches everyone they have and are looting to detect a hint of rebellion. The masters of revolution well know how to nip possible resistance in the bud. They know they have broken our law: "The land shall not be sold forever: for the land is mine." Lev 25:23. Their bandit raid is called "foreclosure". Their loot - the victims' land. But, it is still a bandit raid and there is still blood on the ground to prove it. We know the law, we know the statute, and have the witnesses. Next - the judgment. Ask Dee Kirk.

S.AFRICAN GOLD STOCKS:"Dear Mr. Hoskins: Why is Congress making Americans divest themselves of

ED: Botha of S. Africa is turning S. African nationalized businesses over to "private" investors, international bankers and their cohorts in exchange for their support. The US Congress is helping to tidy up the loose ends. It's all part of the same package.

CHRISTIAN? "Dear Richard: TV Christianity acquiesces, participates in, is helping cause America's ills. I can't see how you can call yourself a Christian! P.R. - Washington

ED: There are two kinds. Establishment media permit the public to see only the samaritan version. Most allowed on TV are samaritan Christians who be shot down in disgrace anytime because their private lives are often cess pools. They think that they are "saved by grace" and do as they like. "Once saved always saved." In spite of theft, rape, sodomy or mayhem they are still "saved". To them Jesus has long hair, polished nails and sways when he walks. He stands for what the samaritan preacher says he stands for. His path leads to hell.

Christians who follow THE WAY, believe that a god can only be understood by what he demands. They believe that Jesus demands adherence to His Commandments. These bind all contracts. Christians of "The Way" don't murder, lie, or steal, or tolerate those who do. Anyone who teaches this is one with us. Those giving lip service to the Commandments and at the same time adding laws from other gods worship a samaritan god and are enemies of God THE WORD. The Commandments, statutes and judgments divide the samaritan from the Christian. There is eternal enmity between the two. They call us "law watchers" and "legalist". We call them "swine" and "dogs" because they will believe anything, eat anything, breed anything, and do anything that pigs and dogs will do.

CIRCUMCISM: "Dick: Better than circumcision is pulling back the prepuce in infancy and keeping it there. Very practical and effective. Serves the same purpose as circumcision, even in appearance." Edward T. Yorke, MD, Financial News Analysis, 152 W. Alta Green, Port Hueneme, CA 93041 CIRCUMCISM: "Mr. Hoskins: Everything must be held up to Law, especially Biblical scribal commentary which accompanies the Law. However, too much pain accompanies circumcision for it to be Lawful." A.D. - Washington.

ED: It is a painful operation. So is appendix, tonsil, or tooth removal without anesthesia. Certain medical men say that incidence of disease is lower where circumcision is practiced. Another says that the effect of circumcision can be achieved by pulling the skin back on boy babies and keeping it pulled back. Certain scriptures say that circumcision is performed to remind MAN never to mix with strangers. Fact: circumcision is done. Fact: It should be simple to prove benefits - if any. Fact: Until people are given a good believable reason to change the custom, it will continue to be performed.

JEWS BASHING JEWS: "Dear Dick: What is the reason for the American Jews bashing Israeli Jews?" M.K. - DC

ED: A falling out. Monied establishment German Jews in New York, London, and Bonn manage the Western media. They object to wild bomb throwing Ashkenazic Jews from Poland and Russia taking leadership and telling them and everyone else what to do. The Israelis now have "the bomb", storm troops, concentration camps, assassination teams, all sorts of other nasties, and a ruthless reputation to fit. A Frankenstein's monster may have been loosed. The German Jews are trying to put their Israeli brothers under restraint. Jews are already calling other Jews "anti-Semitic". Whether TV "talk'n TV bash'n" will do it is something else again.

The atrocity-hoax, abortion, and melting pot propaganda will continue in any case.

GOVERNMENT INVESTIGATIONS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: If the FBI says they have no data on an individual it doesn't mean that the data doesn't exist. It may mean that the individual hasn't contacted the right agency that investigated him. There are many investigative government agencies. If you ask the right one to send you your file under the 'Freedom Of Information Act', they are supposed to do it. But your chance of asking the right one is infinitesimal. My agency has never been asked for a file by a private citizen." Investigator - DC

FARMS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Lots of things have happened on the FARM since you came to speak to us farmers in Kearney, Nebraska in 1985. On May 4, 1988, eight county sheriffs arrived with 2 state planes and a swat team to take our machinery. What a day! H.W. - Iowa WAR BETWEEN STATES: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: There was no 'War Between The States', only a war between the District of Columbia and the rest of the states. Example: The following came from The Mobile Register, Mobile, Alabama, July 13, 1988.

"On July 13, 1863, rioting against the Civil War military draft erupted in NY City, resulting in about 1,000 deaths over the next 3 days." C.A. - Alabama

CHINA SHORTAGE BABY GIRLS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: What do you think about the developing girl BABY SHORTAGE in China due to selective abortion?" N.A. - Arizona

ED: Heavy head tax caused the same to happen in Greece & Rome. Girl babies were left to die of exposure. Result: in places there were several men to each woman. In nature, there are more women than men. In wartime more girl babies than boy babies are born. The scriptures say it was natural for the patriarchs to have several wives. This changed when the early samaritan-Christian church compensated for the then prevalent girl shortage by ordering only one wife per man. Today, with 14 million babies already slaughtered, and with the ability to determine the baby's sex before birth, it is logical to assume that selective baby killing will result in the same condition in the West that now exists in China.

MEXICAN LABOR: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I am a retired corporation executive. We do business in Mexico because it is cheaper. Skilled labor is 75¢ an hour set by the local government vs. $8 - $10 an hour in the US. Industry will go to the best deal." A.J. - Virginia

OUTSOURCING: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I used to be an executive of a large US electronics corporation, now retired. The greatest danger I see to America is that high paying jobs are sent overseas and the workers laid off must take low paying jobs. America's standard of living must decline drastically in the days ahead. When I say drastically, I mean exactly what I say." C.W. - Virginia

LINCOLN: "Editor: ... the following ... comments on the President of the US ... by a lawyer from Connecticut ...:

"(He is) a person of fair intellect, slight education, limited knowledge, no research, kind heart, jocular disposition; a man, in short, of excellent nature - just the man with his inexperience in statesmanship, and with his vague and hazy notions of political ethics and constitutional history and law, to be misled by the sophists of his party, and to be the instrument of crafty and unscrupulous politicians."

Another man who had known the President well in earlier years said that while it has been generally believed that a love of freedom, presumably economic freedom, is the President's ruling passion. 'Nothing is farther from the truth." Instead he went on, the thirst for distinction has always been the 'one, intense, all- absorbing passion of his life.'

"Still another ... a former vice-president in another administration had occasion to meet with the President at a grave moment when war and peace hung in the balance. He was appalled, he said later, at the President's 'flippancy, evasiveness, and cheerful ignorance.' In reply to an analog from British history, the President blandly stated, 'I don't presume to be posted in history. On all such matters I will turn you over to the Secretary of State.'"

These three men, Bernard Sage, Albert Taylor Bledsoe, and Alexander Stephens ... were in fact, writing of their contemporary, President Abraham Lincoln." Sheldon Vanauken, Prof. of History, Lynchburg College, From The News, Aug. 7, 1988 F-3.

INDIAN: "Mr. Hoskins: I killed a man and am in the penitentiary. I expect to be paroled. My grandmother was an Indian. I have blond hair and blue eyes. Does the law "No bastard (mixed-breed) may enter the congregation of Israel", prevent me from marrying a "white" girl when I leave prison. Preachers won't give me a straight answer." J.M. - Montana

ED: I have a German shepherd. I call - she comes. One thousand times I call - she comes each time. She has no choice. For 1000 generations all German shepherds before her who did not come were killed or prevented from breeding. She is descended from those who come.

A "white" man is self evidence of what he is. God's Law calls - he comes. He has no choice. For 1000 generations the murderers and rapists among his people were executed by his law, or not allowed to breed. Few slipped through the Law's net - very few. This trait is so ingrained that strangers may cheat him, rob him, rape his women, steal his children, and kill him. Only reluctantly will he defend himself. This has a limit.

Such is not the case of other strangers such as blacks. They are the result of 1000 generations of those who bought wives by stealing cattle and who rose to authority by murder. Inefficient thieves and murderers did not gain cattle with which to buy wives. They did not reproduce. Like breeds like. Western jails are filled with law breaking blacks. They are the result of selective breeding.

The Indian's story is the same. For 1000 generations they rewarded murder and horse stealing. The best murderer was made "chief" and many wives were bought by the best horse thief. The product is the result of 1000 generations of thieves and murderers. Like breeds like. The jails in the American West are filled with them. A wolf is "ravening" before he tears his first sheep.

You sound like a nice guy. I wish you well. But, in spite of your blond hair and blue eyes and sounding like a nice guy, you murdered a man. If you had not, it is likely your son will (if you have one), or his son. Like breeds like.

This is the reason the Law forbids the nation of the lawful from marrying the unlawful; "Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill (the Law). Math 5:17." "There shall no stranger (Heb: zwer - racial alien) eat of the holy thing (the Law)." Lev 22:10. This is a statement of fact. If we do associate with the lawless the scripture states; "There is no hope: no; for I have loved strangers (Heb: "zu^wr - racial alien), and after them I will go." Jer 2:25. This too is a statement of fact.

The next part is cut and dried; "But if ye will not ... do all these commandments; ... I will send wild beasts among you which shall rob you of your children." Lev 26:14-35.

If this happens and our children are caught and married to strangers the law requires this; "If the priest's daughter (each of the lawful is a priest) "also be married unto a stranger (zwer), she may not eat of an offering of the holy thing (one cannot mix unlawful with lawful). "But if the priests' daughter be a widow or divorced, and have no child, and is returned unto her fathers' house she shall eat of her fathers' meat (repentance must be followed by action); but there shall no stranger (zwer) eat thereof (statement of fact). Lev 22:10-13"

The greatest curse for us is this - to be forsaken by our God; "Thou hast forsaken thy people ... because ... they please themselves in the children of strangers." Isa 2:6; What to the willful stranger is mere amusement, is to us - death! The Law made our people. We are the result of the Law. The absence of Law destroys us.

You must find one of your own to marry. Your offspring will be like you. If you enter our nation you will bring your 1000 ancestors with you. To absorb you is to absorb your ancestors. Our nation will become like them, lawless. Scripture says that the WORD is God. We will have violated and abandoned the WORD. Once this happens we will be abandoned by the WORD.

In the past many of our nations have abandoned the WORD and been destroyed as a consequence. Many of our nations have been saved when the WORD sent the Phinheas Priesthood to end the problem. This is not a matter to be taken lightly.

The WORD and the people created by The WORD bless all. Protect them and they can and will protect you.

TAX-FREE BONDS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I have a fair amount in a state tax-free income fund. Is this usury?" I. M. - Colorado

ED: "Owe no man - ", "The borrower is servant - ." Municipalities who will not save before building, and go the bond route, end up paying double. They are servants to the strangers from whom they borrow and will do their will. You may lend at usury to the stranger or his servants. Usury is used to destroy. You may profit at their expense. Be careful not to be destroyed in the process. Reread the chapter on "Tax Exempt Bonds" in WC/PC.

DOLLAR: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I'm a small independent dealer. I import foreign cars in competition with large established car dealers. A mistake can kill me. A few months ago I was advised to buy inventory heavily because the dollar was going to go down further. Your newsletter said the dollar had stopped it's decline. I didn't buy and thus far have saved a bundle. Thanks." C.T. - Virginia

POLICE WORK: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I am leaving police work after 6 years. It's not the street - I can handle that. It's the coddling of criminals, reports, restrictions, and denial of a policeman's basic rights. It makes it impossible to do a proper job and makes one dread to go to work in the morning." M.M. - Illinois

AFFIRMATIVE ACTION: "Dear Dick: I threatened a government official. The penalty is 5 years. A black Islamic knifed another black. This carries 10 to 20 years. The black pled guilty and received 2 years. I pled guilty and received 4 years. 'Affirmative action'. The lesson - never plead guilty." W.B. - Oklahoma

HISPANIC RIOT: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Here in Philadelphia on September 28, 1988, police stood and watched Hispanics go on a rampage burning cars and looting stores. One of their drug lords had been assassinated was the reason given. Strangers rule the streets." P.N. - Pennsylvania

JUSTICE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The papers here just announced that Geraline Ferraro's son, the convicted cocaine dealer, served only 90 days of a 120 day sentence and was paroled. He served his time in a $1500 a month private apartment. under a house arrest program. The Ferraro's and the Kennedys of this world have it made." F.M. - New York

JURIES MIXED RACE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Jury trials here involving disputes between two races split according to race. There is no such thing as a fair trial or justice in Washington DC. Visit Washington at your own risk!" H.C. - DC

THE JAPANESE THREAT

Ed Martin lived in Japan for 15 years as a missionary. I've known him for years. He now ministers to prisoners in jails across America. The following was taken from his "Hope Aglow Newsletter", PO Box 3057, Lynchburg, Virginia 24503.

"Japan is a warrior culture. They have a 'No War' clause in their Constitution ... Our protection of Japan ... costs the US a staggering ... $1000 per US citizen annually.

"Japan ... has been shipping (automobiles) into the US in colossal numbers ... without tariff or surcharge or any kind, enabling them to under-sell our American cars. This money goes straight to Japan creating a money-glut there.

"The present day wealthy Japan ... was "made in America". ... The Japanese practically own Guam in the Pacific. They own upwards of 75% of Hawaii. They own 50% of Los Angeles, 43% of Houston, much of Texas, and piecemeal, they are buying up land, businesses and banks all over America. Multiple listings of American real estate - homes, businesses, ranches, farms, etc. are all posted daily throughout the cities and towns of Japan. A Japanese can go into a department store, look over the multiple listings along with pictures and descriptions, then with his credit cards buy property anywhere in the US as a foreign national.

"The transaction or the purchase of this US property is not registered, so we have no record of what, how much, and how extensive Japanese holdings are in our country. This contrasts sharply with the fact that the Americans cannot buy a foot of land in Japan. They protect their sovereignty ... our Government might as well not even exist for all the good they do us. ...

"It is a joke that we are 'trading partners' with Japan, because it's all one way. We trade almost nothing with Japan. They only buy our assets (America) not our products.

"When we tried to put through an 'equitable/fair trade bill' with Japan, the powerful Japanese Lobby in Washington warned our representatives 'You'd better not vote for that bill, or we'll pull our Japanese businesses out of your state and take it elsewhere and you'll get the blame.' So, our representatives voted against the bill. You may be sure, we don't dictate to Japan anything nor meddle in THEIR internal affairs. We have pampered, spoiled, and mollycoddled Japan until they can now get away with murder (genocide of the United States). They would like nothing better than to have the "Rising Sun" flag hoisted over the capitol in Washington, calling it 'Little Tokyo' and playing the Japanese Anthem, 'Kimi Ga Yo.'"

"I blame our American government for malfeasance, for not protecting the sovereignty of the US. There are governors and others throughout our country who must bear responsibility for this deplorable state of affairs. The Governor of Tennessee and the Governor of Virginia are both assisting, practically begging, the Japanese to buy our lands under the guise of bringing the US dollars back to America....

"They royally entertain the Japanese, taking them on guided-tours in Greyhound buses, wining and dining, showing them prime Real Estate, vast rolling acres of the best land in Tennessee and Virginia. The Japanese know that they have us by the throat ... and keep looking at one prime parcel after another until they have fully satisfied their voracious appetite for American properties .

"I talked with Phyllis Schlafly regarding the violations of US laws. She couldn't help me. I talked with our lawyer ... and he said that he didn't want to get involved. I talked to the lawyer for Thomas Road Baptist Church. His statement scared me. He said: 'Ed, it may already be too late to save America.' He stated further: 'It is unlikely you could find anyone in the US government who would care enough or dare enough to even become involved at all, to speak up for their country.'"

"I wrote Senator John Warner of Virginia. He didn't even answer my letter.

"America deserves chastisement for its misdeeds, but I don't believe it should be to the extent of losing our sovereignty to the Japanese who are effectively taking over America in an economic Pearl Harbor.

"There is one particularly alarming note: If the Japanese succeed in taking over America as they are now doing, the military and nuclear capability of the US will soon be at their disposal

"There are many side issues I could mention, such as the prostituting of American girls for Japanese brothels in the United States and Japan ...

"The next thing on the agenda is: the Japanese plan to build vast retirement communities for Japanese elderly wherever they want, anywhere in America. The ironical thing ... is, they don't even ask permission of the host states involved.

"By the way, Japan and American I.N.S. officials are planning to drop requirements for visas between the two countries. There again, it would be mainly a one-way flow of people, as the Japanese export their own people over here.

"I can see by our policies ... that our Leaders don't really understand the Japanese. Living among them, as we did for 15 years, gives us an advantage our leaders don't have. Donald Trump, well-known billionaire from New York, said the Japanese are the hardest to deal with because:

- 1) They are arrogant and greedy.
- 2) When you meet with them there's never just one; it's always three, six, nine, or a dozen; they always negotiate in groups. That means you are far less likely to reach an equitable deal with them. One may be sold, but not necessarily the rest of them. They always think in terms of the whole nation ...

"As of now, the Arco Plaza, the Exxon Building, the Exchange Place, the Tishman Building are all Japanese owned. Today, they are sizing up the Sears Tower in Chicago, the world's tallest sky scraper for $1.2 billion, which would be the biggest sale of a US building, ever ...

"Thirty six of our United States have offices in Tokyo where they beg the Japanese to come to their home states for the red carpet treatment and the best of everything. The female governor of Kentucky went farther than that; she had her state purchase prime land and build access roads and everything that was necessary for the Japanese convenience - and gave it to them!

"The Japanese laugh at the way these Americans from thirty six states are in Tokyo fighting madly with each other, each vying for the Japanese attention and Yen, for their individual States....

"To the United States government, I say: You had better start thinking about the welfare of our nation FIRST!"

AIDS UPDATE

PRAVDA: In Pravda the USSR Minister of Health states that 380 AIDS blood testing labs have been set up and there will be 1000 by year end. The Soviet government has stated that AIDS cases and carriers should be isolated. All foreign citizens coming into the USSR will undergo mandatory AIDS tests. Those infected will be deported. Soviet News & Views, p. 16, December 1988.

LEADING CAUSE: AIDS is now the 9th leading cause of death for US children ages 1 - 4. Experts say 1 of 10 pediatric hospital beds will be filled with an AIDS infected child by '91. Washington Times, A-3, 12/20/88.

DEFICIT: Private NY city hospitals face a $120 million deficit. The AIDS patients, now numbering 1513, have added enormously to the problem. AIDS patients are expected to number 2300 on an average day a year from now. NY POST, October 17, 1988.

BLOOD TRANSFUSION: A five year old boy who acquired AIDS after a blood transfusion was awarded $750,000 by a San Francisco jury. WSJ, Dec. 5, 1988.

CIRCUMCISM: "Dr. Francis Plummer, of the University of Nairobi, presented striking evidence that transmission of the AIDS virus by women in Kenya correlates directly with lack of circumcision ... in their male partners. ... Plummer found that ... those who were uncircumcised were eight times more likely to have become infected with the AIDS virus. 'I think,' said Plummer, 'that ... where traditional circumcision is practiced, such as in W. Africa, we see very little AIDS, but in E. and Central Africa, where men are rarely circumcised, we have a serious AIDS problem.'" Newsday, Sunday, September 18, 1988.

"AIDS by mail is the fear of a Houston, TX judge. He thinks an angry prisoner may be sending AIDS contaminated letters to his court and ordered sent back all documents, unopened, from inmate Damon Down, who is in a Texas prison serving a 50-year sentence for arson." (Reuter, 9/21) copied from Daily News Digest, PO Box 84902, Phoenix, AZ 86071.

CIVIL RIGHTS: "Dr. Koop, Surgeon General of the US, has declared that AIDS 'could undo all the gains made by the civil rights movement in the last few decades.'" The Ernst Zundel Report, 206 Carlton St., Ontario. Sep. 1988.

HIV INFECTIONS: "The actual number of people carrying the HIV virus in the US, as of the the end of 1987, was not the 900,000 to 1.4 million the official sources estimate, but probably more than twice that number ... with the most likely total of infections probably close to 2.4 million." First AIDS, PO Box 2396, Vancouver, WA 98668.

S&L BAILOUT: The S&L bailout will cost $50 billions. Private buyers will clean up at perhaps 10¢ on the dollar with taxpayers footing the rest. Taxpayers, however, will be prevented from owning the S&L's bought with their money. If taxpayer owned S&L's established "Arab style" (Christian style) interest-free banking it might put an end to present foreclosures and the never-ending inflation/deflation cycles. This is why the banker lobby fights taxpayer owned S&L's. They just want the taxpayers to pay for them.

S&L DEBT FOR EQUITY: Brazil will resume swapping debt-for- equity. Banks sell Brazilian loans at a discount to investors who convert the paper into paper money at full value for investment in Brazilian businesses. Last year debt converted this way totaled $1.97 billion with a further $4 billion converted in informal swaps. Six billion is less than the yearly interest on Brazil's debt. Brazilians own nothing of value in their own country. For her entire history Brazil has been nothing but a chattel of the European usury bankers.

LENIN LIBRARY: "Books which for decades had been unavailable to the general public in the USSR have been transferred from restricted-access stocks to general use ... About 500 of the previously restricted 10,000 titles will remain in restricted- access stocks ... The books to remain there are mainly those with anti-semitic or zionist content ..." Soviet News & Views, p.6, December 1988. No. 23.

LAWLESS CHRISTIANS: A lawless Christian minister collected scores of millions to build the PTL empire. A sex and money scandal forced its sale. The Toronto developer who bought PTL for $65 million was Stephen Mermick, 34, an orthodox Jewish rabbi. If the Christian community had from the first judged the acts of PTL's founder by The Law of the religion he was supposed to uphold, he would not have collected a dime from them and the Christian community would not have lost their investment to a stranger for 20¢ on the dollar.

PARAMILITARY: The Los Angeles Herald Examiner of 8/2/88 reveals that Mordechai Levy, head of the Jewish Defense Organization, subsidiary of the JDL, was establishing paramilitary training camps in both NY and California. The NY camp already has 75 trainees, according to Levy. The White Patriot Party of NC was smashed by the Feds for engaging in just such paramilitary training. Let's see what the establishment does about this.

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: I read that the US has equipped Chinese ships with the latest U. S. sub-detection gear to use against the Soviets." G. N., USN - DC.

ED: Me too. To be fair, the establishment should equip Soviet ships in the same manner to detect Chinese subs. They can track each other today - and us tomorrow.

POLICE WORK: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I am leaving police work after 6 years. It's not the street - I can handle that. It's the coddling of criminals, reports, restrictions, and denial of a policeman's basic rights. It makes it impossible to do a proper job and makes one dread to go to work in the morning." M.M. - Illinois

INDIAN: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Much interested in the letter from the blond Indian. You gave him good advice. If he lives in our society, gets drunk and kills someone - our society will kill him in turn. His own society doesn't look on murder as seriously. If he raises children like himself it will be worse later on, for both his and ours who will be killed. It is better to have him dealt with by his own people. They still have different laws. The reservation near here has several women to each man. Some of the absent men might be off working somewhere, but I suspect that most are dead. There has never been a reported murder, but Indian men I once knew have disappeared. No one seems to know where they went. I think I know." J.P. - Washington

INDIAN KILLERS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Could it be that some of the 'serial killers' are products of killer-bred ancestors the same as today's pit bulls? Three out of four pit bulls are great, the fourth may create the trouble. The same may be true for warrior races which don't enforce the death penalty. Unexecuted killers may breed killers who 'go off!'." J.K. - Wisconsin

SUN BURNED INDIANS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Anyone who looks on an Indian as a sun-burned white man is a complete fool. They are different people with different ways. Radically different ways! The ones around here are." A.B. - Montana

STEALING INDIAN LAND: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Didn't the white man steal the indian's land?" G. Z. - New York

ED: That's establishment propoganda. The media applies OUR Law to strangers. According to indian law, the land they lived on was theirs. When vacated, it remained theirs for one year, then, it was first come first served. Manhattan island was sold for $20 worth of beads by indians who had vacated it for more than one year. It wasn't theirs to sell. The white man was ripped- off. "Ownership" of land was only a technicality to them. It did not protect the indian from other indian tribes who felt perfectly justified in mas- sacring another indian land owner and taking everything, including the land. The indians didn't, and don't, look on things the way we do. The never ending but natural resort to the tomahawk caused irreconcilable differences.

At the time of the Jamestown settlement in 1607, it is estimated that the total indian population north of the Rio Grande was 750,000. Today, there are 1.3 million, 70% of whom live on 355 reservations. Protected by OUR Law they have almost doubled and their standard of living has in- creased 1000%. This still doesn't keep some from dreaming of "the good old days" when there were a dozen widows for each brave, the women did all the work, taking 100 scalps really "meant something", and serial killers were the "in thing". But then, things were always better in the old days.

AIDS CURE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Do you think re- searchers will find a cure for AIDS?" G.W. - Maine

ED: If they offered $10,000,000 for a cure - someone might find it, take the reward and go home. In the meantime why should researchers take paltry millions for a cure when they are paid billions for looking and not finding it? If these researchers find a cure for AIDS, cancer, or multiple sclerosis they will lose their jobs. My brother died from leukemia (blood cancer) in 1926. Tens of billions have gone into research since then. That's 63 years ago and still no cure! AIDS and cancer research could solve America's unemployment problem. There's no reason that only a select few should share the never ending gravy train.

AIDS LABEL: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Hospitals don't label AIDS patients as being 'AIDS patients'. They label them everything else in the world except that. If they did people would stop going to hospitals. I know - I work in a hospital! We haven't had an AIDS patient yet - so they say. I know better!" E.G. - Illinois

WESTERNERS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Why are we called Westerners?" G.B. - S. Africa

ED: When the Egyptians died their spirits traveled west looking for the entrance to the underworld. (The exact entrance is believed by some Egyptian scholars to be a strange looking cave on the Scottish Island of Ionia that can only be entered by boat from the Atlantic.) Our people lived in the west so they were called Westerners. The Greeks continued the practice. We are still called Westerners. British soldiers in WW I who had been killed were spoken of as having "gone west".

BOMB RADIATION: "Dear Dick: Chernobyl is the tip of the iceberg. A recent warhead count finds 50,000 atomic bombs. H-bombs lose their power in about 5 1/2 years as tritium has a regular 11 1/2 year half life. A 10 megaton H-bomb built 11 years ago is now useless unless it is renewed with a fresh charge of tritium equal to half the original charge. The aging machinery that built these bombs is now dirty and leaking deadly radioactive compounds. The existing choice is to 1) cannibalize existing bombs which would reduce their number by half every 5 years. 2) Increase the quantity of plutonium used as a fuse to ignite the tritium, or, 3) build new 'clean' plants to produce more tritium. To solve the problem and clean up the existing mess is expected to cost 400 billion over the next 25 years (PBS Video of Jan 11, 1989). I'd be interested to know how the establishment intends to solve the dilemma it has created." Al Henderson - California

LAND GRAB: "Dear Richard: Your background is similar to mine. My people got here in the 1840s. Gradually the usury banks have taken our land so that we only have a third left. The local Mauris have been armed with AK47s automatic rifles plus other weapons that we suspect are being landed illegally. The history of the Mauris is bloody and similar to your American red indians. We live in fear of what the establishment may encourage them to do. Here, according to the media, we can do no right and the Mauris' can do no wrong." K.B. - New Zealand

FOOD STORAGE

Because of the resurgence of talk of possible food shortage in the near future the following is reprinted as it originally appeared in the August 6, 1974 article on food storage. Also included are the seed companies listed in issue #160 of January 3, 1988 and updated.

Top names in the scientific field support the cycle theory which states that we may have a food shortage in this country. It has been suggested that once started it could last five years.

Many people have started saving food for this possible contingency with the thought that if the shortage doesn't happen they are always in the business of eating food so it won't be wasted. Obviously, if the shortage does happen it will be too late to prepare for an emergency while in the middle of it.

Mormons have been storing large quantities of food for years as part of their religious requirements and should have more experience in food storage and amounts required than most others. Accordingly, certain Mormon friends were contacted. They graciously sent several of their storage plans, two of which I am enclosing for your information. You will notice that they are different in detail. If you decide to store food for your family, you must decide which plan is best for you.

Instructions For Storing Dry Foods

Heat oven to 250 degrees and bake pans of food such as dried peas, limas, etc., for half an hour to kill any small insects. Pour into plastic milk containers while hot and secure top. Gallon plastic containers can be purchased from dairies for about 15¢ (It must be more now.) Each holds about seven pounds. Will last 5-8 years. (Food I put up in 1974, 15 years ago, is still good. Hard as a rock and takes forever to soak to become usable, but it is perfectly edible.)

Wheat can be stored in 55 gallon drums obtained from bakeries for about $2.50. (I got mine free from a bakery. They were glad to get rid of them. Goodness knows what they cost today if one has to pay for them.) Dry ice is placed on the bottom of the barrel and covered with a cloth. Three hundred pounds of wheat are deposited on top. The dry ice will drive off oxygen overnight and the loose top can then be sealed with tape and clamp. Will last 15-20 years. (There is one thing the directions left out. Once the top is removed and oxygen reaches the grain, insect larvae hatch and multiply like crazy, rapidly making the remainder of the grain unusable. If you tap the barrel for a small amount, be sure to dig down in the grain and place another piece of dry ice to again drive out the oxygen. Again, wait overnight and re-seal the barrel. It would be better if one used the entire barrel at one time, but few can use 300 pounds of wheat at a sitting. Incidentally, 1000 pounds of wheat costs about $100.)

Place on wooden blocks in a dry place.

Using slanted shelves for canned goods will cause the lowest cans to be used first. Other cans rolling down changes their position and helps preserve their contents.

SOURCES OF NON-HYBRID SEED

In Issue #160, January 1988, a list was given of dealers handling non-hybrid seed. The article went as follows:

Certain scientists believe that the weather is changing. They believe this will result in a changing climate with heat and drouth claiming large areas. Cold is expected to claim much of the areas of tillable land in Canada, the northern US, and the Soviet Union, while heat claims large areas of Africa, Mexico, and the American SW. The result in time - a general food shortage. The time frame given was less than 10 years. The outbreak of large forest fires in summer is to be one of the signals that the transition is underway.

In former days farmers planted seed they had held back from previous harvests. Today this cannot be done. The seed is hybrid. It will not reproduce. A farmer cannot hold back part of his harvest for seed.

Recognizing what may be an approaching disaster, a number of sources offering non-hybrid seed have come into being. It may be that the time will come when people will offer gold for non- hybrid seed - weight for weight. A few hundred dollars invested in non-hybrid seed may be the best investment your family has made in several generations. Frankly, what are a few hundred dollars in your budget?

Listed below are some of the addresses that carry non-hybrid seed. As a rule, the source closest to where you live will produce best for you.

LETTERS

March 6, 1989

BBB: "Dear Mr. Hoskins, Your analysis of the political situation in S. Africa is appreciated by the BBB and myself. ... the white people of S. Africa have their backs against the wall. ... traitors are a bigger problem than the anti-white enemy. The establishment ... is totally committed to sellout.

"A new movement called the National Movement was founded on the 26th of Nov. 1988 to substitute for the banned BBB. This was also banned by the Botha regime on January 17, 1989 ... without giving specific reasons. The S. African Police are patrolling my house day and night and are also monitoring visits by friends and family. (ED COMMENT: Since the BBB forced S. Africa's leaders to throw off their disguises and emerge as Establishment agents, communist S. African political parties now receive the blessing of Botha's government. Anti-communist political parties such as the BBB are the new enemy. The Establishment's Media directed Afrikaner interest away from themselves and against their ancient murderous black enemy. Then, unwatched, agents of the Establishment's money interests took over the government. Now, former communist enemies are allies, bloody black revolutionists are friends, old former friends are enemies, and The Establishment's iron rule is backed by the guns of the police and army.)

"... enclosed is BBB literature. Most is in Afrikaans. ... 80% of the BBB membership is Afrikaans - the white population of S. Africa consists of about 67% Afrikaners (ED: White Dutch/French- Huguenot ancestry. Most of the remaining 33% are descendants of late arriving English settlers who sympathize with the Afrikaners.). ...

"We are determined to carry on the struggle ... Practical ways to accomplish this within the framework of the law were (recently) discussed ... I am absolutely sure that in time we will (be forced) to fight for our freedom once again. (ED: If fighting comes - it will be the Establishment's 4th attempt to suppress the Afrikaners in the past 150 years). The enemy will not give us any other choice, and as you rightfully said in your article, the scavengers and their armies will join them.

"The future ... of the Afrikaner people, (and) ... the world's largest concentration of natural resources is at stake. The struggle of the BBB is therefore of decisive importance ...

"Although we have courageous members ... Banned martyrs and dead heroes (are useless) unless they inspire their (kinsmen) here and abroad to commit themselves Defeat will be followed by the death of my people and will be a fatal blow to Western Christian civilization." John Schabot, Ex-Chairman of the Banned BBB - South Africa

EDITOR'S NOTE: This letter from the leader of the banned BBB gives a glimpse of the rapidly changing conditions in S. Africa.

The Establishment has long used the armed might of the British Empire as muscle to expand Establishment economic interest and suppress discontent. This has left a long, bloody trail.

The seizure of the S. African gold mines at the turn of the century triggered the last Afrikaner revolt. A population of about a third of a million white Afrikaners took on the tens of millions of the entire British Empire. British armies poured in and were soundly trounced in battle after battle.

Concentration camps were established for the wives and children of the fighters. Twenty thousand of them died in these camps. The Establishment was prepared to kill them all. There was a world wide outcry. The death camps and the deaths continued. The Afrikaner fighters surrendered to save their wives and children. The Establishment consolidated their hold on the mines.

There is something else one should understand. All ore in S. Africa belongs to the country. Mining rights are only leased from the government. Depleted mines revert to the state. Whoever runs the government controls the future of all the minerals in South Africa. This was fine as long as S. Africa was a colony of Britain, but when S. Africa declared their independence this put the owners of the mine leases at the mercy of the white Afrikaners for their future leases.

The international Establishment, their mine owners, aided by their Media and their international establishment allies are trying to overthrow white Afrikaner rule and put in black rulers. As was the case in the American South after the War Between the States, blacks are easier to negotiate with. White Afrikaners stand in the way of what could be the greatest natural resource heist in history and so they must be replaced. Own the government - own the gold.

S. African mining leases stolen at the turn of the century will never be secure as long as Afrikaners live in the same land with the thieves. The wealth and the victims must be permanently separated. The Afrikaner must go.

The BBB's attempt to alert Afrikaners to the effort being made against them forced Botha's government to ban them. The act of banning the nationalistic BBB exposed SA leaders Establishment agents. Now exposed, they must join the rest of black Africa in the communist camp to protect their own hides. After all, the actions of the rulers of the S. African government amount to treason.

The renegade Botha nervously stands watch over a stirring Afrikaner nation and dares them to resist. But, the tougher he stands, the more the Afrikaner awakens. With each passing day his government grows weaker as support drains through Afrikaner desertions.

Because of the alliance between the present left-wing S. African government and the S. African blacks, the black communist states surrounding them including the Cubans, the future is once more filled with peril for Afrikaner men, women, and children. The threat is that resistance to Establishment demands will once again bring about a S. African bloodbath. On the other hand, if the Afrikaners don't resist, everything they now have will be taken anyway. Damned if you do - damned if you don't!

It's all on the line. If our Afrikaner kinsmen lose - the people and the mines and resources they guard will be lost. Then, as Schabot says, Western Christian Civilization itself may also be lost.

BANKS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: It is obvious the part giant international banks play - they rule! My question: what part does the local bank play?" C. W. - Washington

ED: Small local banks procure for the big banks. They ingratiate themselves with the local citizenry, lend them money and that same day sell their mortgages to the giant NY, Chicago, San Francisco banks while keeping a small percentage as a finders fee. When borrowers bankrupt, the ultimate foreclosing muscle comes from the big city. The smiles of the local banker are like the smiles seen on faces in the red light districts on Saturday night. Local banks make a dollar, the big banks make a dollar, the Establishment owners take the rest. The customer is infected with the usury virus and is often ruined, but there's always another.

AIDS: "Richard: An acquaintance in the latex glove industry told me that the size of the AIDS virus is 4 microns and the naturally occurring pores in the best latex gloves are 7-9 microns. This shoots Koop's condom theories all to pieces!" S. J. - Oklahoma

GREECE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: "Are the persons living in Greece today the same as those who in ancient times wrote inspired philosophy and built the Parthenon?" C. C. - California

ED: No. Usury forced many Greeks to move to Egypt where they were bred out of existence. By the time of Christ our people were extinct in Greece and Egypt. Some went to Italy as slaves where most were forbidden to have children because of the high head tax. Practically all the markers in Roman cemeteries of that time bear Greek names rather than Roman. Romans also had been forced to flee the effects of usury. The vacant lands in Greece filled with Slavs from the north, a different breed entirely. The same thing is happening to America today for the same reasons. This time we have no place to flee.

SENATOR TOWER: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: What about this Senator Tower business? Won't the country lose by not having his expertise?" D. M. - Colorado

ED: The rule: "It is not for kings to drink wine, nor princes strong drink: lest they drink and forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any of the afflicted. Pr 31:4-5.

The Seventh Law deals with adulteration of contracts. The contract that most men make with their wives upon marriage excludes others. If a man will violate this contract with his wife he will violate a contract he makes with you. Senator Tower is a Law violator. It is disgraceful that the President would want someone like that around him unless: "Can two walk together, except they be agreed." Amos 3:3 America is not missing a thing by not having him in the Cabinet.

S. AFRICAN PHONES: "Dear Dick: S. Africans can transplant hearts, enrich uranium, create ceramics harder than steel. Their Achilles heel is that they can't install a lousy phone in less than 8 weeks." V. M. - S. Africa.

LINCOLN: "Editor: ... the following ... comments on the President of the US ... by a lawyer from Connecticut ...:

"(He is) a person of fair intellect, slight education, limited knowledge, no research, kind heart, jocular disposition; a man, in short, of excellent nature - just the man with his inexperience in statesmanship, and with his vague and hazy notions of political ethics and constitutional history and law, to be misled by the sophists of his party, and to be the instrument of crafty and unscrupulous politicians."

Another man who had known the President well in earlier years said that while it has been generally believed that a love of freedom, presumably economic freedom, is the President's ruling passion. 'Nothing is farther from the truth." Instead he went on, the thirst for distinction has always been the 'one, intense, all- absorbing passion of his life.'

"Still another ... a former vice-president in another administration had occasion to meet with the President at a grave moment when war and peace hung in the balance. He was appalled, he said later, at the President's 'flippancy, evasiveness, and cheerful ignorance.' In reply to an analog from British history, the President blandly stated, 'I don't presume to be posted in history. On all such matters I will turn you over to the Secretary of State.'"

These three men, Bernard Sage, Albert Taylor Bledsoe, and Alexander Stephens ... were in fact, writing of their contemporary, President Abraham Lincoln." Sheldon Vanauken, Prof. of History, Lynchburg College, From The News, Aug. 7, 1988 F-3.

Chapter 176

THE 1929 FAST SHUFFLE

Problem: Growing Debt

The problem always waiting in a usury society is that:
Debt grows faster than equity.

More debt is issued each day. Today's S&L bailout alone is supposed to put $200 billion into circulation. Perhaps as much as $50 billion will be fed into the nation's money system over the near term. Also, at this very minute, junk bonds (more debt) are being exchanged for stock (equity) causing a further shortage of equity and a glut of debt. This debt/equity imbalance promotes an explosive situation. To deal with it the Federal Reserve banks can:

1) Inflate by continuing to issue debt.

The risk is that the price of America's dream house could go to $1,000,000 and General Motors could sell at $5,000 a share. Or:

2) Force prices down for a time. They can make the dollar scarce to depress both prices and debt through bankruptcy. Once this phase is over the money managers will allow prices to rise.

To make the dollar scarce they raise interest rates to discourage borrowing. At the same time dollars are syphoned into the banks by way of interest payments.

They are tricky. On occasion they may make you think that they are doing one thing while doing another. In 1929, they raised interest rates to stop the rising stock market. Then they lowered interest rates, BUT REFUSED TO MAKE LOANS. Many lost everything. The banks just refused to lend the money needed. This happened to tens of thousands across the nation.

As the money growth shrank, so did the value of stocks, houses, businesses, everything else. It caused bankruptcy, foreclosures, and the bankers ended up owning everything - a thing the bankers insist is the last thing they want to happen.

How They Worked The Scam

The bankruptcy cycle can only be ended by ending usury, which was done to bring the West out of the Dark Ages. The usurers fight this tooth and nail. We still continue to "treat" their disease rather than to cure it with a modified Arab style non-usury banking system. The day will come when everyone who loves to taste a slice of the usury pie carved from the side of an agonized kinsman will be asked to account for his actions. Until then:

International bankers use the system to go after 3rd world nations, forcing them to give up farms and businesses in exchange for IOUs. At some point, America will be asked to do the same. Taxes on the national debt will become unbearable - as they are meant to. Then, the international bankers will offer to trade the national debt for our public lands, as was done to Rome. This, to lower public debt which will lower taxes.

Right now, the banking system has chosen to do one of the following:

1) Raise interest rates to break the stock market. After this they lower interest rates and boom the market.

2) Raise interest rates to break the stock market. Then, lower interest rates. As borrowers flock to the window to borrow money at the lower rates, refuse to lend them money as the bankers did in 1929, an act that caused massive foreclosures and sent the stock market hurtling down. Tricky, tricky.

Conclusion

Today's usury system constantly expands the debt. A growing debt causes wild fluctuations in prices. One must deal with the swings. There is no safe place to keep your money. To deal with the wild swings the choices are limited. One can buy:

EQUITY - real estate, gold stocks, coins, common stocks. These are good to keep up with rising prices. Or;

DEBT - bonds (government, municipal, corporate); for falling prices. Or, if undecided, one can invest in:

CASH - folding money, CD's, T-bills, government money market funds as a reserve so that one can go either to cash or debt once a decision is made. Cash is always temporary, NEVER a permanent investment.

Students of economic history know WHAT will happen, they just don't know WHEN. When undecided most invest in all three. They keep common stocks in reduced amounts, and load up on fixed income when interest rates are about to change. After interest rates change and the M1 starts up they load up on common stocks. They also keep a larger cash reserve which can be moved either to fixed or common at the proper time.

Usury society manipulations cause prices to swing wildly from one extreme to another. Low prices are temporary. High prices are temporary. But, over the years the name of the BIG GAME is high prices. Debt ALWAYS stairsteps upward over the years. Those who invest in IOUs always lose in the long run.

Be ready to switch from cash into common stocks and other equity on their signal. Usually, high interest rates cause low prices. Usually, low interest rates cause high prices. When the signal is given that the monetary authorities are going to lower interest rates, and the M1 begins to rise, stand ready to once more re- enter the stock market in a big way. The next inflation leg could make the value of stocks and real estate skyrocket. We could see the Dow at 10,000 sooner than anyone thinks.

In the meantime keep a balanced portfolio, your eyes open, and be ready to move. The monetary authorities have the power to make your sandwich cost 10¢ or $100. This is the power of life and death. Respect it.

UNFILTERED NEWS

USURY IS IMMORAL: "Usury is the root cause of our predicament, of all problems. The real issue emerging from intense research of the present debt money system is the fact that interest equals usury and, therefore, interest is just as unacceptable today as usury was yesterday. Usury is immoral and anyone who believes that the interest of today is NOT usury is believing a lie. Anyone who teaches this lie by wrapping it in modern jargon is guilty of participating in a gigantic fraud. Since a lie is a deliberate misrepresentation of the real world, and one lie most certainly leads to a whole cauldron of lies, it is imperative to re-educate the public by sharing the Truth." S.A. Observer, P. O. Box 2401, Pretoria, SA

SWAPO: Today, the media calls Swapo communist guerrillas "nationalists". They also call "freedom fighters" terrorists. Day has become night and night day. In the world of our enemy the only thing that does not change is The Law of our God. It does not change, it judges.

ENERGY NEEDS: The Christian Science Monitor reports that 30 million Chinese ferment a mixture of chaff, barnyard manure, night soil, and water in tanks. The resulting methane gas furnishes 80% of the energy needs for some of them.

DEBT: "It should be obvious to any rational thinking person that it is impossible to pay off debt by incurring more debt." News & Comments, Robert B. Record, PO Box 27788, Escondido, CA 92027, March-Apr. 1989.

FILLINGS: "Disposal of fillings taken from millions of mouths have Ott's dental supply company battling the Environmental Protection Agency." NEWS, Lynchburg, Virginia 3/27/89.

ED: #169 dealt with this subject. The EPA finds no fault with toxic mercury fillings stored in our mouths, only when they are removed and stored elsewhere.

UTILITIES IN S. AFRICA: White nationalists of the Boksburg city council in South Africa have cut electricity and water to hordes of Indian immigrants to encourage them to settle elsewhere. Capetown radicals, some descended from British invaders who torched the country and killed 26,000 white women and children in concentration camps at the turn of the century, are making well publicized offers to share toilets and kitchen facilities. The gesture is believed to stop short of actually allowing AIDS riddled Indians into their homes. Without media exposure a white S. African radical is a bird.

KKK CROSS: In Portsmouth, Virginia unknown parties set fire to a cross on the lawn of an elderly black widow. The act was branded "malicious" and "offensive". A string of ministers lined up to chastise the unknown culprit. Twenty FBI agents scoured the neighborhood. An NAACP spokesman in a half page article was quoted as saying "You want something to go really wrong around here, you let them light another! Here in Portsmouth we want to put an end to racism and bigotry before it gets out of hand." It was "the third time such a thing has happened in 2 years."

General Forest, leader and founder of the first KKK, disbanded the organization, forbidding members to wear regalia or meet because radicals had learned to disguise themselves as Klansmen and commit crimes in their name. Manufactured "atrocities" were needed to keep Federal troops in the South to in turn keep the carpetbagger-ruled blacks in power long enough to finish soaking up what little white wealth remained.

Today's cross burnings cost 50¢ and ten minutes to produce. Fifty cents multiplied by 10,000 papers across the country is multiplied into hundreds of millions of dollars. A fifty cents expenditure is used as a threat to produce urban renewal, black education funds, preferential hiring, "civil rights legislation", new bond issues and all that. Cross burnings are priority media "front page". When blacks or radicals are caught at it - it's "back page". The Media hypes this sort of thing because it's big business.

Think about it. Three 50¢ crosses in two whole years! Two feet high! Little old black lady! A widow! Terrified! String of ministers! Twenty FBI agents! A bit of overkill, wouldn't you say. One hundred years ago the same sort of writers wrote the same sort of drivel and insisted that the little old black widow had been lynched, hospitalized, beaten, thrown down the steps, had salt rubbed in her wounds, and her mouth washed out with soap. Nothing's new. This production will cost the taxpayers dearly just like it did in the old days.

MEXICAN DEBT: The President approved the plan to cut Mexico's debt 20%. Mexico must exchange equity for debt. Mexico's debt grows because of interest. Each year it grows. If they don't pay - trade will be cut off and Mexico will be reduced to again using ox carts, as in the case of Cuba. To keep from being strangled economically she must turn over more of her industry each year to the international bankers. And people wonder why Mexico is such a fertile field for Communists!

LETTERS

CHASE MANHATTAN: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: For your information, the Chase Manhattan is the result of the combination of the Warburg Manhattan Bank and the Rockefeller Chase Bank. The Warburg Manhattan Bank was agent for the Rothschild's banks." R.J. - Utah

RACIST: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: One of my acquaintances is a Black- African nationalist, another a Zionist. They told me about their rights. I listened and said that whites had rights, too. They both called me a racist! Can you imagine?" S.G. - Virginia

SCHIZOPHRENIA: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: A recent news article stated that schizophrenia is a genetic defect. I have heard that it affects certain races more than others. This opens Pandora's Box. What different kinds of schizophrenia are there? Is this condition inherited? At what point should an individual be institutionalized? Or, sterilized? Are most murderers just schizophrenics? If homicidal, should society wait for him to murder to remove the 'now diagnosed' schizophrenic from society?" MD - California

ED: I have also read that schizophrenia is caused by a virus and that certain races carry this virus like other races carry AIDS. A lot of people often die before the truth comes out.

AFFIRMATIVE ACTION: "Dear Dick: I threatened a government official. The penalty is 5 years. A black Islamic knifed another black. This carries 10 to 20 years. The black pled guilty and received 2 years. I pled guilty and received 4 years. 'Affirmative action!'" W.B. - Oklahoma

HISPANIC RIOT: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Blacks may have gotten out of hand at Virginia Beach, but here in Philadelphia on September 28, 1988, police stood by and watched Hispanics go on a rampage burning cars and looting stores. One of their drug lords had been shot down by another Hispanic and they robbed and burned whites in revenge." P.N. - Pennsylvania

SODOMY LAW: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: A judge here gave a college boy 30 years instead of 60 for shooting two homosexuals. The judge said that the two asked for it. By the way, what is The Law dealing with homosexuals?" G.M. - Texas

ED: 1) "Thou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind: it is abomination." Lev 18:22

2) "If a man lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them." Lev 20:13

FIRE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The Bible says "Son of man, set thy face toward the south, and drop thy Word toward the south, and prophesy against the forest of the south field. And say to the forest ... I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour every green tree in thee ... and all faces from the South to the North shall be burned therein." Ezekiel 20:46. I'm confident that God will start the fire right here and burn out the dross as he promised. We are separated to be his people and the separation is of Him. You will hear of great things starting in the South field." B.H. - South Africa

HOWARD BEACH KILLING: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I was told that the Howard Beach incident was in retaliation for the death of a 15 year old white boy employed at the church here in College Park. He was beaten to death by 'The Bad Blacks' gang. The media covered the Howard Beach thing but didn't cover the far more brutal murder here." M.G. - Georgia

ISRAELI BOMBS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: What do you think of the revelation that the Israeli nation has secret atomic bomb factories and is rapidly producing those weapons?" G.W. - Tennessee

ED: Their treatment of their captive Arab population is an indication of how they may treat others. The big bang may not come from the USSR.

EFFEMINATE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Many Americans believe that Christianity is effeminate and therefore alien. Please comment." M.E. - California

ED: "Mainstream" and "TV" religion must be government approved to be aired. It IS effeminate. State priests NEVER attack the evils of the state. In return they receive tax exemption. They quote enough LAW to gain the attention of the Lawful, then switch to the confusing, unknowable, and inexplicable on which subject they are expert and sole high priests.

The average Christian thinks of himself as a Crusader, each man a priest knowing that in time he may be commanded to do that which The Law forbids. He may then have to resist to the death. The Crusader outlook is alien to the alien in our society. Any other outlook is alien and effeminate to us.

DRUG BUSTS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: In our city arrested drug distributors are released by their lawyers before the arresting policemen go home in the evening. Lately, three drug dealers were killed when they attempted to pull guns on arresting officers. It could be that Phineas priests in blue are enforcing our real Law in spite of establishment law designed to protect the criminal." J.A. - California

CANADIAN JUSTICE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Our Royal Canadian Mounted Police have always been regarded as something special. They relied on British military tradition and Common Law roots. The Mulroney government implemented blatantly discriminatory hiring standards. Whites were out - coloreds, Indians, and bilinguals in. A number of 'bilinguals' sent out west are functionally illiterate in English, yet are supposed to enforce the law among English speaking people. Lately, 30% of the recruits are female. It is considered a form of sedition to object to any of this publicly. During the past 15 years there have been an unprecedented number of RCMP scandals reported. Students of history can recognize that once more lawless leaders are bringing in lawless men like themselves to keep the Lawful population in subjection. I understand that this is the case in other countries of ours." G.D. - Canada

LETHAL FORCE: "Dear Sir: What is your understanding of the individual's use of lethal force to defend against a criminal who would do him harm." G. E. - Michigan

ED: The state says that the state is supposed to suppress crime. Christian tradition says that all are responsible. The Law states that each man is a priest and a king. Priests and kings are commanded to enforce God's Law. The Laws are 10 in number and simple.

"In case anyone of their own blood (strangers were not given the Law) should attempt to confound or dissolve their constitution (laws), they should take vengeance on them, both all in general, and each person in particular ... if they were not able to take such vengeance, they should still demonstrate that what was done was contrary to their wills". Antiquities 4:8:45.

"May you have the laws for your governors, and govern all your actions according to them ... for you need no supreme governor but God." Antiq 4:8:17

BRAZIL DEBT: "Dear Dick: Brazil owes US banks interest. To pay she sells us airplanes. If she doesn't she starves. If she does she puts our small plane industry out of business. She is damned if she doesn't - we are damned if she does." M.T. - Florida

JAPANESE SCHOOLS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The Japanese are opening schools here to keep them out of inferior American schools and so that their middle management's children can learn Japanese ways and culture. American ex-managers now work for the Japanese managers and such a thing as special schools for their own children it made fun of. Such niceties are reserved for foreigners." J. M. - Tennessee

"Thou mayest not set a stranger over thee." De 17:15

LAWLESSNESS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: How can you say that since the Law forbids one to raise his hand against his own kind, those who do are either strangers or agents of the stranger? Why not just one of our kind who is Lawless? G. G. - Washington

ED: Maybe, but I don't believe it. We are creations of The WORD. The WORD is known by it's requirements. It requires the Laws, statutes, and judgments. It is a rare creature of our kind who will raise a hand against his creator - the Law - unless he is NOT one of our kind. Lawless genes inherited from a distant lawless ancestor can easily come together to produce an offender. This is why strangers loudly object to enforcing the Law's death penalty for murder and rape. Lawless strangers lopsidely commit these crimes and protect kinsmen who do.

IMMIGRATION: "Dear Dick: It may be that the main reason for bringing in hoards of 3rd worlders to our country is to disguise the drastic loss of white population. Without the invaders, the vacant businesses, apartments, parking spaces and empty roadways would reveal the obvious to everyone." H. F. - Illinois

DEATH PENALTY BY RACE

Everyone is in Danger!

"CHANNEL YOUR OUTRAGE: DEMAND THE DEATH PENALTY" (Headlines, NY Post, Apr. 26, 1989)

"Yusef Salaam, who is said to have told detectives that one member of the group had suggested that they 'get a white girl.'" (New York Times, Apr. 25, 1989)

"In asking the judge to deny bail to the teen-age wolf pack accused in the brutal Central Park rape (of a 28 year old white woman stockbroker out jogging), quoted one of the gang members as explaining that he had beaten the victim on the head with a lead pipe 'because it was fun.'" (NY Post, Apr. 26, 1989)

"The wolf-pack attack in Central Park has provoked an extraordinary sense of outrage ... The people of NY are no longer willing to be seduced by the claim that society is somehow responsible ... It's clear things have to change if New Yorkers want to be able to reclaim their city from the murderers and the thugs ... And the place to start is at the top - with the Death Penalty. ...

"Call or write your assemblyman; state your position on the death penalty. Deluge him with letters. Gather petitions. This is no time to be inhibited - too much is at stake. Reinstatement of the death penalty would represent an important first step in an effort by honest New Yorkers to reclaim their city - a first step on the part of a society determined to protect itself from the animals who commit crimes akin to the one in Central Park ... real animals at least, kill to eat. These vermin kill for fun." (NY Post, Apr. 26, 1989, p. 24.)

"Israel Rosen, a 49-year old Orthodox Jew who lived in Sydney, Australia, came to NY in the summer of 1986 to visit his teen-age son ... A stranger in the city, Rosen took the subway ... He stepped out onto the platform and came face-to-face with five or six black youths carrying sticks, planks and pipes. ... they went at him with a fury ... Then they left him for dead. There was no robbery, no vengeance. No reason. ... His killers have never been apprehended. ..." (NY Post, Apr. 26, 1989)

Lynchburg

New York has its problems, but now, every part of the nation does, too.

Here in little Lynchburg, a white father and mother were carved up by their daughter and her boyfriend.¹ It was so gruesome I won't describe it. She got the usual prison sentence.

A black boy went to a white girl's house - raped and strangled her. Again - a prison sentence.

A black grabbed a doctor's wife on a main thoroughfare a few blocks from here, pulled her behind a few bushes and raped her. In Lynchburg rapes are often never reported and murder is frequent enough so that it is often commented on in the back pages of the newspaper. There's no reason to waste time talking about events if nothing is going to be done to stop the guilty.¹

It Has All Happened Before

In 1857, the "Dead Rabbits" gang took over Lower Manhattan and ruled it. It was a long time before they could be dislodged. What caused this? How could this happen? Outlaws ruled New York even in that day. Outlaw politicians did not recognize the Law. Their outlaw philosophy forbade them to punish other criminals. To condemn a crime would point a finger at themselves. Criminals multiplied and bred criminals that recognized no law at all. New York city was in their hands. The lawless recognize no restraint except force.

Reconstruction

The War Between the States ended the dispute over secession. The South could not secede. Not only could they not secede, but they had never seceded. If this was so, it followed that they were still part of the United States and had always been. Accordingly, they voted their old representatives back into office and sent them to Washington where they voted against the Republicans who had made war on them.

This upset Republican economic plans. To obtain the desired economic goals the southern whites were disfranchised and blacks were franchised and elevated to rule the South.²

The South was divided into military districts. Federal occupation garrisons were installed in permanent quarters to suppress white resentment and protect the new black-Republican governments who now voted with the national Republican party. This gave the national Republicans 11 Southern states in a voting bloc - run by puppets. The Republican Party now ruled the nation - with the help of the Southern bayonet.

In exchange for voting economic legislation to benefit the NE international bankers, the blacks were allowed to do anything they liked without fear of reprisal. Murder, rape and robbery followed. There was no appeal to the law. Black judges WERE the law in many cases. Thousands of murderers and rapists walked the streets protected by Federal soldiers. Similar tolerance of lawlessness was true in the North and the West.

This conduct was true to a lesser extent with whites, but was not as pronounced as the unleashed behavior of the blacks. The Republicans had inflicted an age of lawlessness on a large part of America in exchange for black legislation needed for them to "legally" loot the country.

2 "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zūwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15

After 10 years of Republican rule conditions became bad nationwide. In many places they were so bad that no one was safe outside their homes. New York had degenerated into a veritable sewer. The bankers themselves were robbed, beaten, or murdered on the way to offices. Wives were raped in their homes, and more important, millions of acres of prime Southern farms and plantations acquired at Southern tax-foreclosures were in danger of confiscation by the very blacks they had elevated to rule. Solution? Get the blacks out of Southern governments, fast! and bring back "law and order."

In 1873-74, the national media was instructed to stop their fifty year ongoing attack on the South. The media attack stopped on a dime. Read the newspapers of that period. One week the blacks were "holy", the next week they could do nothing right. The new media policy was that the South had been "misunderstood", that things were really bad down there and that it wasn't the fault of the bankers who had financed the likes of John Brown and Horace Greeley, it was the blacks and carpetbaggers who were responsible. This was something new. It was the first time the North had heard this. You can do this sort of thing when you have a media monopoly.

Next, the international bankers started a nationwide revolt against the Republican Party. This was also led by their media. A Democrat/Republican political war was the result. The Democrats were now the good guys. The Republicans lost and their occupation troops were pulled out of the South. Without federal troops to protect them, the blacks and the few remaining carpetbaggers were ousted. The establishment land syndicates kept their southern land purchases from grasping black rulers who would confiscate it.

Then, what to do with other BIG problem? The thousands of criminals guilty of murder and rape who walked the streets in every city in the country from New York to New Orleans. They were the source of practically all crime.

It was the criminal's turn to flee and hide, but there was no place to hide. The people remembered.

Enforce the Law!

With the Republicans gone, the criminal had lost his protector. The media was instructed to stand back and let nature take its course. The media seldom found anything to criticize in the things that followed.

It was as if fresh air blew through the land. Where Lawful judges presided, legal executions took place. Sometimes as many as 10 on a gallows. Where lawless courts still existed and criminals were protected, extra-legal executions took place. There were thousands upon thousands of unpunished criminals who had to be eliminated to bring society back to normal. America went on a nationwide house-cleaning hunt for unpunished criminals.

Almost as many legal and extra-legal executions took place outside the South as in, even though the South was where most crimes had been permitted to occur. Murderers set free ten years before rounded a corner and found a committee quietly waiting for them. A quick trial, and the felon discovered that there was a God in heaven whose Laws were enforced.

Executions

The period 1930 - 1970, is the only period for which data for "legal" executions is compiled. The government's Hist. Statistics of the US, Colonial Times to 1970, From US Dept Commerce. US Washington, DC 1975. "Historical Data" gives that information as shown on the chart below.

Reducing the data to chart-form is interesting. It may be the first time that this information had been displayed in this manner. You can see that the largest number of legal executions for one year took place in 1935.

The chart (above) "Whites & Blacks Executed" breaks the executions down by race. Of the 199 executions, in 1935, 119 were white, 77 black, and 3 "other".

Even more interesting is the data compiled on extra-legal executions (below). This data goes back 50 years earlier to 1882. This databank shows that in 1884, 211 executions took place of which 160 were white and 51 were black.

A total of 230 were executed in 1892, of whom 69 were white and 161 black.

Executions peaked in 1892 and declined drastically from that time on. The great mass of unpunished criminals were dead by the turn of the century, and from that time, both legal and extra-legal executions merely polished off the few remaining and kept down the new crop of murderers.

Other things of interest to be noted from this data are 1) almost as many whites as blacks were executed legally (see previous page, and extra-legally (see below and next page). There were more blacks executed than whites because then, as today, there were more black criminals per capita. It's a statistical fact.

There may have been some who were victims of private vengeance. Private vengeance occurs today, both in courts and out. However, those committing such crimes risk falling afoul of the Law forbidding those acts. Where murder has been committed the Law adjudges them murderers, subject to the punishment required of murderers. It only remains for the penalty to be enforced. The rules were known by all.

Whites & Blacks Executed Extra-legally

Whites Executed Extra-Legally

When I was seven I had this fact of life explained to me by Richard. We were riding down the road in a pickup truck when Richard pointed to a tree in the middle of a field and said "That's where some white men hanged a colored fella." I replied "That's awful! Why did they do such a thing? Aren't you afraid?"

Richard replied "He fooled around with (raped) a white woman. I ain't done nothin' wrong, I got nothin' to worry about."³ Life was simple for Richard and easily understood. He did "nothin' wrong" and he had "nothin' to worry about." And he didn't.

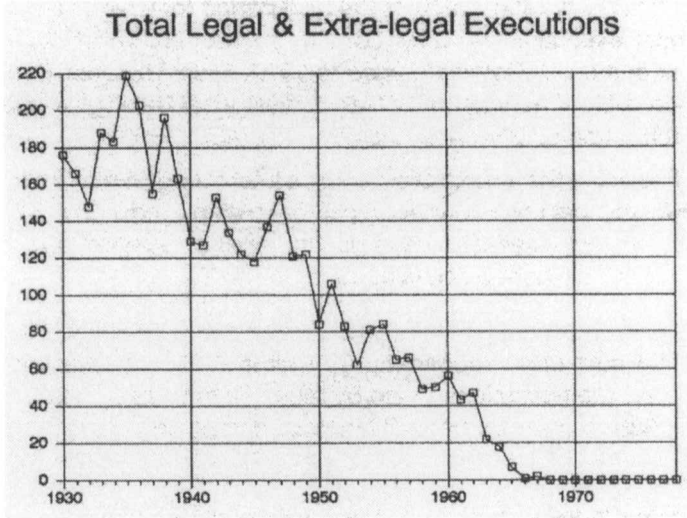

3 If anyone in Culpeper County touched Richard and could not prove justification, he would have had to deal with my grandfather, Richard Thomas Kelly and my Uncle Thompson. This might have been more than a great many people could handle. The Law that was obeyed had been here since before the nation was founded and was quite clear. Everyone understood. Incidentally, my grandfather Dick and his brother Alex, an attorney, had a dispute with the Texas Rangers in Tyler, Texas. I will try to tell that story when time permits.

There is another interesting thing the charts uncover:

The media crusade against KKK lynchings in the 1920s and 1930s was a hoax. The Klan had been disbanded and there had been no Klan for 50 years. It was not re-formed until the 1920s. By this late date the mass-execution of criminals had been completed (see chart).

The extra-legal executions were done by vigilance committees all over the country, the "neighborhood watch" of the time. These committees had virtually exterminated known murderers and rapists by the time the government started keeping statistics in 1930.⁴ The media actively encouraged the elimination of criminals by whatever means available and found almost nothing in the process with which to find fault.

⁴ The thousands of interracial couples who flaunted themselves in carriages and on the streets in every city in the 1860s and early 1870s were dispatched almost overnight - not only in the United States, but in many places in Europe.

"Legal" executions apparently took over after the actual work of doing away with criminals had been completed. The "legals" only took care of the normal flow of new criminals arriving on stream.

The 1920s media anti-execution campaign caused the newly started government executions to stop. The charge was the same one used when the KKK was first formed in the 1860s - "execution for no reason" or for "private vengeance". The Media had its whipping boy since the Klan had come back into existence. From the 1920s on, all lawlessness was blamed on the Klan. From "protector", it became the "perpetuator" in the public's mind. The same thing was occurring that caused the original Klan to be disbanded in the 1860s. Look at the charts. There were very few extra-legal executions from 1912 on, and the new KKK didn't come into existence until the 1920s.

The COMBINED CHART of legal and extra-legal executions shows the combined total dropped to virtually zero. This situation still exists in spite of a smattering of executions. The now protected criminal still walks and rules the streets. The law enforcer is still the one persecuted.

Result? Headlines in the NY papers decrying rape, murder, and mayhem. Washington legislators even want to call out the national guard to protect them - the (ho! ho!) nation's "law- makers". The very same thing that happened in the last century when crime was protected is happening again.

Summary

It's official! The New York papers have reversed their policy on capital punishment. They now broadcast the establishment's OK to execute criminals. Things must be bad. From now on the death penalty is IN. Both liberal and right-wing "conservative" writers must now echo their lead or feel the displeasure of the establishment.

The world has turned upside down.

A maxim to be remembered: "The only time establishment- media tells the truth is to gain credibility for their next lie."

Another: "Just because the media is on your side doesn't mean that it is your friend."

In the meantime, let's try to stay alive until the criminal is disposed of. You can bet one thing - he won't go to the gallows any more easily than he did last time, but to the gallows he will go!.

AIDS UPDATE

BRAZIL: may face a massive epidemic of AIDS. The New England Journal of Medicine found a variation of the AIDS virus previously found only in Africans. A second variation, thought to be confined to Japan, Africa, and Caribbean, is already established. The disease is spreading to the heterosexual community. (Copied from Daily News Digest, PO Box 84902, Phoenix, Arizona 85071)

GRIM FOR AFRICA: Dr. Keith Edelston, an economist of the AIDS Economic Task Group said that the picture was grim for blacks in S. Africa: 45% will be dead or dying from AIDS by 1996 as well as 12% of the whites. In a typical Western economy, if 2% of the population needs treatment for AIDS, there will be a drop of 10.6% in industrial production. Production of consumer items may fall by 16% and corporate profits down by 32%. If being tested clear of AIDS is a condition of employment, there may be few employable blacks by the end of 1994. Mine production will start dropping off during 1990 and 1991. Heavy industry and the mines may thus face serious problems. The main reason for the AIDS problem in America and Europe lies in their not screening for AIDS. Condensed from an article in Saturday Star, Johannesburg, South Africa. 2/18/89.

A memorial service was held for Gordon Kahl, the Christian tax- protestor, in Smithville, Arkansas June 2-6. I learned about it too late to announce it in these pages. This is one case that will not go away. The Kahl killing was frightening. I hope to cover the incident in my upcoming book.

Chapter 178

LAND

Landless People

I was filling my car. The gas station attendant was a young fairhaired chap in his 20s with a pleasant Southern accent. I asked him his name and where he was from. He told me that he was originally from Rocky Mount, North Carolina, but had lived in Alabama for 15 years. His real name was Nichols, but it was changed when his mother remarried. He was thinking about changing it back.

I knew the name Nichols. His family were yeomen back in England long ago. The Hoskins owned land close to the Nichols'. Our grandfathers had drawn swords together. I asked him if he knew about the Nichols' white horse? He didn't, so I quickly told him the story.

The White Horse Story

The Nichols owned land of their own in England in the old days. The land might range from three acres up to several hundred acres, depending on availability, quality, and family size. That land belonged to the Nichols family. No one could trespass without their permission, not even the king. On his land the senior Nichols was a king and a priest.¹ He enforced the Law on his land.

If someone objected to these conditions of ownership, he had a bow that could cast an arrow through the toughest carbon steel armor as if it were butter. Not even the king could claim that he was a better swordsman until he proved it. There were a thousand neighbors ready to pick up bows and swords to back the Nichols' claims.

He and his neighbors had a symbol to which all Saxons were entitled and many wore. It was the sign of the white horse, the sign of the Saxon. He was a son of a Saxon. It was his coat of arms. All Saxons are entitled to it.

The Nichols forefather long ago lost his land that was his kingdom. He ended up working that very land as a serf. Land that he formerly owned.

What is a serf? A serf is someone who receives his paycheck from another. A serf has no land over which to rule and which can feed him. With no land a man is defenseless - he is not a king.

This is the story of how his grandfather lost his land.

¹ "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings & priests unto God and his Father." Rev 1:5,6

The King Gets The Land

The king was just another Saxon like himself. He was elected to office to lead in war and arbitrate differences in peace. Justice itself, on the other hand, was dispensed by peers according to ancient Law that brooked no change.

The Law says that Christian kings are not permitted to be rich. It simply is not allowed:

(The king) "shall not ... greatly multiply to himself silver and gold." Deu 17:16-17

Antiquities 4:8:17 explains why:

"Let him not have ... abundance of riches ... he may grow too proud to submit to the Laws ... and if he affect any such things let him be restrained, lest he become so potent that his state become inconsistent with your welfare."

Not only were kings not permitted to be rich, they were not permitted to tax their own people, only strangers. It, too, was written into the Law:

"Of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. (Gr: allotrios - foreign, not akin.) ... Then are the children free." Math 17:25-26. The reason that kings were not permitted to tax their own people is that the people might be forced to borrow, and:

"The borrower is slave to the lender." Pr:22:7

The scriptures give examples of what happens when the people are forced to borrow because they are taxed:

"We have borrowed money for the king's tribute, and that upon our lands and vineyards." Ne 5:4.

The borrower is slave, and slaves lose their land. That's why kings are not permitted to be rich and are not permitted to tax their own people to become rich with what belongs to his people.

The king promised to obey the Law. He wouldn't think of taxing his people. It was against the Law, and law breakers were subject to being punished by Phineas priests. Every Christian is a potential Phineas priest entrusted to enforce God's Law, which meant that if the king offended the Law, any Christian coming into his presence might be his executioner. All went well until:

International Banker's Foreclose King

A new king arrived, William the Conqueror. He brought international bankers with him.²(#178) to raise revenues. He thought this necessary because everyone knew that Christians cannot tax Christians, but may tax strangers:

These international bankers, being strangers and not covered by the law,³ could lend to Christians at usury, and take their estates when usury forced them into bankruptcy. The king didn't do this - it was the strangers who practiced the evil usury. The king then taxed the strangers as a form of punishment to take part of their ill gotten gains - he did not tax his fellow Christians.

2 "William of Malmesbury Gesta Rerum Anglorum," ed. Duffy, p. 500) distinctly states that William the Conqueror brought the Jews from Rouen to England." The Jewish Encyclopedia, England, p. 161.

3 "He showed his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them. Ps 147:19- 20

The king in this manner received one-half of all that was taken. When the lender died - ALL of his goods obtained by usury went to the king. The king's wealth grew by leaps and bounds. So also did the wealth of the bankers. "As early as 1168 ... the value of the personal property of the Jews was regarded as one-fourth that of the whole country."⁴

At last, the king had gotten all he could from the international usury bankers and so in the year 1290 he banished them and confiscated the rest of the property that they had gotten by usury.

This is how the king got his lands. He said that he was as clean as a mountain stream. He had not taxed his people, only strangers, and he ended up with almost half of the land of Britain. In the process, half of his people were reduced to serfs, and rebellious serfs at that.

Nobles Appointed

To keep a lid on this Saxon serf problem, he appointed certain of the serfs who were good fighters to be overseers of certain large tracts of the land that had been foreclosed from the people. The king's appointees were required to move onto the land and take up residence, build a fort to hold the land in the king's name, and to fight for him if anyone tried to take it away from him. This was called holding land "in fief". The job was much sought after. These fighting ex-serf overseers were called nobles and given all sorts of titles. The ex-serf who administered a county for the king was called a count. Any overseer who was advanced to the lowest rung of the overseer- nobility ladder was called a baron. Some of these new ex-serf overseers put on airs.

It was a sticky situation and has remained a sticky situation ever since the Saxon was cheated out of his land. It's something the Saxon hasn't forgotten. He hasn't forgotten that the king, or the one who rules by whatever name the ruler goes by, has possession of his land, either for himself, or has helped another to take it.

The Law requires that the king go by the same Law as everyone else. The Law says that the land was given by God himself and is not to be sold:

"The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... To many thou shalt give the more ... to few thou shalt give the less ... the land shall be divided by lot: according to ... their fathers they shall inherit ..." Num 26:53-55 And if for some reason it is rented away it is to return to its owner in the 50 year jubilee:

"The land shall not be sold for ever: for the land is mine; ... If thy brother be waxen poor, and hath sold away some of his possession ... in the (50 year) jubilee ... he shall return unto his possession." Lev 25:13-28

After all these years the Saxon realizes that the king put a stumbling block in his path to defraud him out of his possessions by usury:

"Let us not ... put a stumbling block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way." Romans 14:13.

The Saxon also knows what the punishment is for one who is a false witness:

"If a false witness rise up ... Then shall ye do unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother." Deu 19:16- 17

The Awakening

The Saxon wants his land. He is tired of being a serf on the king's land, or a serf on the land of the king's favorites. He doesn't want anyone else's land, he wants to be a king on his own land. He doesn't want to rent, tax-rent, or any other scheme with a string - he wants his land free and clear.

He doesn't want anyone else's property, or anyone else's laws - he wants his own land and his own laws. He doesn't want anyone else ruling him, he wants to rule himself. He already has his own ancient Saxon laws, he doesn't need another's. He doesn't want anyone else's rules, regulations, taxes or anything that is someone else's. He wants only that which is his own.

We Saxons have millions of uncrowned kings. Two of the next ones, among a hundred million other Saxon kings, will be Nichols and Hoskins, and the new age will see each ruling his own land guaranteed by the servants of God's Law.

There is the sound of horses hooves in the distance - it is a Saxon horse! We remember!

CHINA: Allowing 'Western Media' inside China to record violence is a laugh, unless the reason was to gain sympathy for the millions of poor "freedom loving" Chinese who will seek their "freedom" and asylum in the West. It sets the stage for another massive wave of boat-people fleeing the media promoted red- terror. Thousands in Hong Kong are already seeking ways of getting to the US. President Bush has paved the way by telling 40,000 red Chinese "exchange students" that they have up to one year to apply for permission to stay in the US for good. These 40,000 students make up about three light infantry divisions. Six million want to come to the US from Hong Kong alone." Excerpted from Intelligence Update, May-June, 1989.

FIRES: Fires in northern Canada have ravaged almost 4 million acres of timber. The Florida glades are also on fire. Last year the American West burned. These fires announce the start of the ice age. MOSLEM GROWTH: "Moslems constitute the world's fastest growing religious group, and there are now almost a billion of them. The average woman in Islamic nations bears six children. Moslems may account for 23% of the world's population by the year 2020... Currently Moslems constitute from 50%-100% of the population in 40 countries. ... COLLEGE DAYS: My college age son has a couple of college friends who sat and watched TV with him last Saturday. They fish together. Nice kids. A few nights ago the friends stopped at a stop light. A car pulled up. A white boy was driving. He had three black companions. The white driver of the other car jumped out and pulled one of my son's friends from the car and began to beat him. When the other friend went to his assistance the three blacks jumped out with clubs and beat both unconscious. Faces and heads look like sewing machines had gone over them. Bones were broken and pieced together. There have been no arrests. I asked my son what lesson was there to be learned. He replied: "You can't let people scare you off the highways and still get to school, so, watch for white renegades starting a leadoff, and do whatever is necessary to ensure your safety."

ED: Some of the most dangerous Indian war parties that attacked Virginia were led by white renegades. They smiled and shot when close. They opened the doors for the Indians. Nothing's changed. Watch the renegade!

BANK MONOPOLY: "It is the central bank's money monopoly that allows it to limit creation of the public's money." FR Bank of Richmond p. 19, Volume 74/5.

ED: The central bank of the United States is the Federal Reserve Bank. It is a union of private banks. Increasingly, people are learning that our elected government allows a private bank powers which can bring about booms, busts, bankruptcies, and financial disasters whenever they like. They have the "freedom" to do these things. We have the "freedom" to go along with them.

WARNING LABELS: The Journal of Commerce says that about 100 consumer groups are pushing for Big Brother legislation to force ALCOHOLIC beverage companies to place warning labels on their products, as now required of tobacco firms. Eagerly awaited is a decision in a Scranton, PA case against Stroh Brewing Company filed by a widow whose 26 year old husband died of pancreatitis. APARTHEID: Apartheid causes a Long Island firm to be indicted for importing jet engines from South Africa, according to an article in the NY Post of April 4, 1989. This sort of discrimination brought on WW II with Germany. Make no mistake, South Africa is valuable to the US economy. She will be America's next war victim.

EDGAR BRONFMAN is a very wealthy Canadian. He stated publicly; "Let Austria decide whether it is a civilized country, or the dirty, anti-Semitic dogs they have been." Section 319 of the Canadian Criminal Code prohibits such public incitement of hatred. Ernst Zundel, another Canadian, was tried twice for publishing someone else's book that doubts the "six million" story because of the lack of evidence. That was called "hatred" and Zundel has been tried twice and is now forbidden to speak at all. Now, let's see if some are more equal than others in Canada.

The same newsletter reveals that singing the Canadian National Anthem has been banned in several Ontario schools because it contains the word "God", and that it was also noted that in the effort to win favor with Canada's new immigrants, the familiar "Mountie" may soon sport a turban and carry a ceremonial knife instead of wearing the familiar stetson. From: BC Free Speech League, PO Box 3124, Salmon Arm, BC, V1E 4R9, Canada. May-June 1989.

NERVE GAS believed to be able to pass through conventional Western military gas masks is being used in Africa. A little contacting a leg causes it to go numb. A small bit more will cause the loss of control to arms and legs and body functions. An ordinary dusting kills foliage and causes death. It does not dissipate rapidly. A Belgian nerve gas expert happened to be on hand to investigate the latest African incidents. This technically invalidates US support for UN supervised handover of SW Africa to the SWAPO communists. Heyndrickx, the nerve gas expert, complained that in the past his reports to the UN were classified secret and were never heard from again. Excerpted from INSIGHT, 6-26-89, p. 30.

NEBRASKA FARMS: Nebraska has a law on the books which bans nonfamily corporate investment in the state's 44.9 million acres of farm real estate. The rub is that farm foreclosures are usually done by corporate banks in spite of individuals such as A. W. Moursund of Round Mountain, Texas buying 30,888 acres at an average price of $105.08 an acre, and James Powell of Fort McKavett buying 30,410 acres at $97.51 an acre. The other big buyers are often out-of-state corporations. Belatedly, the state's Department of Justice has been prodded into trying to enforce the law. (Excerpted from the NY Times, Jan. 10, 1989.)

ED: It will be interesting to see how this can be done without stepping on establishment toes.

S. AFRICA: "Canadian ... Minister ... Clark said S. Africa should be added to the area control list. Canada would control the export of all high- technology equipment including computers, software telecommunications equipment, aircraft, helicopters and 4-wheel- drive vehicles to all countries on the list. He also recommended that nine Warsaw Pact countries along with Vietnam and N. Korea be removed from the list to 'facilitate the free flow of trade'" Dow Jones Tape 8:05 AM, March 7, 1989.

MEDIA BIAS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: You seem to be almost callous in ignoring the the plight of the poor blacks and Jews!" - G.M. - New York

ED: The media has a reason for everything they do. They cry "wolf" for a reason. It accused us of vile acts following the War Between the States - for a reason.

What was actually going on? Blacks were given the vote and whites were denied it. Black legislators were paid trifling sums to vote for bonds to build "needed" railroad track. A million dollar bond issue was voted, sold in NY for $250,000, given to a railroad to build track - free. Companies such as the Crédit Mobilier did the construction and 50¢ on the dollar slipped between the cracks. Washington politicians were stockholders in the Crédit Mobilier and the Media kept watch to see that nothing happened to stop the rape of the South. The white taxpayers were saddled with the million dollar debt plus interest payments for the next 75 years.

These crimes and others were blacked out by the media and DC. The theft went on. Christians in the North had no idea what was happening down here.

Today, blacks rule America's cities nationwide under federal civil rights protection. They do the same things they did 120 years ago for the same reasons. America's black ruled cities are spending taxpayers' money at a prodigious rate. Now it's nation-wide.

The Establishment's media keeps watch by telling the public that the blacks are being abused, preventing criticism until the job is done. They say their hands are clean and that the white American taxpayer is the guilty one. We aren't impressed. Locate the pockets that receive the taxpayers' rake-offs and you have the guilty parties. The Washington politician arrives poor and leaves a millionaire. He is automatically suspect, and so is his banker.

Chapter 179

THE WHITE CELLS

A doctor who lives nearby read my newsletter and commented "You make the simple so complicated. Life is simple! Business is simple!"

The following is one doctor's concept applied to conditions today as best as I can remember his conversation and analogies. I found it interesting.

Comparing Cells With People

Western society is almost an exact enlarged copy of an individual's body. The brain is the government, the nerves - communications, the stomach - manufacturing. The liver purifies the blood. These organs are natural components of every body. Each has its function. In a healthy body each instinctively does its assigned task in harmony, regulated by the brain. The blood cells are the workers.

The Body Of The Nation

There are red and white blood cells. The red cells work and white cells defend by fighting "germs" and alien substances. For 700 red cells there is only a single white cell.

Alien Substances Attack The Body

Every healthy well ordered body is always under attack from germs, i.e. viruses, organic and inorganic substances. Entry may be gained quietly through all the natural openings, usually through the mouth along with what we eat. Alien immigration can cause a stomach ache. Alien entry can also be made by piercing the skin - everything from a mosquito bite to a bullet which corresponds to invasions by armies all the way to the quiet individual wetback wading the Rio Grande. Either can cause infections.

Cuts & Abrasions

Attacks from without are often painful. The body notices a Pearl Harbor. Even an Indian attack is noticed. The first corresponds to a wound from a .357 magnum. The last to a mere splinter.

The splinter may become painful. When removed the alien portion that remains is surrounded by white cells and attacked. The resulting pus is the dead white blood cells that perish in the conflict.

Fever and Pain

The combat around the splinter causes the battle area to become warm. The pain and the warmness of the wound signal conflict with an alien presence in the body which responds at last by producing more white blood cells.

Local Abscess

White cells are unique. They attack the alien presence on sight and willingly die in the process. It's the reason they were created. Every different body has these white blood cells. They are called Shiites in Islam, Kamikazes in Japan, and Phineas priests in the West. Abortion and tax protesters are recent examples.

An infection may grow to become an abscess. It will either expel the alien presence, or the alien presence in the wound will overcome the body's defenses and kill the body.

Blood stream Infection

If a toxic wound releases poisonous material into the body, this material is caught up and moved about by the body's blood stream transportation system. An AIDS type infection brought in by alien bodies may quickly spread from New York throughout the body and infect healthy blood cells. This may be very serious. This is why white cells are so very contentious about the smallest splinter - a splinter that others don't consider important.

Tumors - Cancers

An alien presence can cause a tumor, or take up residence in an existing tumor. Tumors often grow abnormally as they absorb body nutrients meant for others. Brain tumors are often responsible for many abnormal acts. Bodily organs may respond by retaining poisons in prisons instead of eliminating them. They may even direct their release into the body where they again walk the streets doing injury to healthy red blood cells.

Nervous Disorders

Tumors, pressing on the governing brain, or normal cells made toxic by association with invading viruses, can produce nervous disorders. Entering the pituitary gland, they may cause it to release abnormal amounts of monetary adrenalin. The body may respond to this stimulus with sudden feverish activity. A sudden drop in monetary adrenalin may be followed by an epileptic stupor (boom/bust syndrome). Resulting falls can be very harmful.

Acts characterized not just abnormal but actually insane may result. The body may administer civil war type self-inflicted wounds, or assault its nearby fellows in World Wars. It may cause the forced mixing of its own blood cells with toxic cells of invading alien bodies thereby causing its own cells to become toxic. It may make abrasions in its own skin allowing bacteria to swarm in. It may drain off and ship its own needed body resources to benefit hostile alien bodies.

In cases of advanced infection a diseased brain may launch attacks on its own defensive white blood cells, and even permit millions of its own newly created red blood cells, needed for future work and survival of the body, to be killed in laboratories. Its liver may no longer purify the blood by removing alien substances. The kidneys may no longer expel toxic poisons but parole them back into the body after a short 6 month stint.

In terminal cases bone cancer infections may spread to the bone marrow where production of blood cells take place, stopping their production altogether. The patient then dies.

The whole thing can be complicated by hallucinations when an infected brain allows an infected nervous system to proclaim to the body that this condition and behavior is normal, good, and that there is no need to worry. The normal red blood cells welcome this assurance and continue about their assigned tasks. The white cells panic.

Diagnosis

To find an enlarged tumor that may be harmful, look for the largest buildings in your downtown. They are the ones getting the largest share of the body's nutrients. Without exception the largest are the pituitary gland bank buildings, next, the brain - government buildings, and a poor last - church buildings left over from the last century falling into disrepair.

It is the duty of qualified doctors to examine the patient to determine if the tumors are benign or malignant, and whether or not surgery is called for. Today, some are calling for surgery and their complete removal. Others believe that a different diet can cause the body to heal itself. These are all questions that must be faced in time.

Body's Defenses Against Virus

A virus must appear harmless to survive. It may even appear beneficial. If the body's nervous system gives no danger signal, the white cells tend to be inactive. Their numbers may even be reduced by tax courts, abortion lock-ups, and Fort Smith trials. The resulting low white cell blood count is abnormal. This low count is a danger sign that can be picked up by the body's developing alternate nervous system that operates when the primary communication system becomes useless because of infection.

The improvised alternate newsletter nervous system releases the truth and more white cells are created to gather at abortoriums to try to ensure the birth of red blood cells. There they undergo beatings, jailings, and fines as is expected of their kind. The conflict broadens, the temperature rises higher. More white cells are now being created than destroyed. The body is beginning to fight for its life.

Things begin to happen. The body is beginning to notice abnormalities not seen before. It notices that the cars speak Japanese, the computers, Taiwanese. It notices that half the body's food requirements are imported while its own farmers are paid not to grow. Other food leaves to feed strangers. The body has no anti-missile defense and no bombshelters while its enemies do.

Over the protest of its diseased brain and captive nervous system, word filters into the body that the extravagant tax demands fund abortion mills, kill Palestinians, and keep communist nations afloat. Opposition candidates are fielded and are actually elected. And, over the angry protest of the leaders of organized religion, the ancient laws of conduct that guarantee health and survival are once more being sought and are being followed by increasing numbers of individuals, if not the church.

The disease-free healthy body is its own best doctor, and is perfectly capable of judging itself by its jury system. It instinctively knows right and wrong and if left alone usually judges accordingly. Recently white blood cells came before a jury of red blood cells in Fort Smith and were found not guilty. Another jury of red blood cells believed the innocence of two white blood cells in North Carolina. They were accused of shooting down a porno-parlor of homosexuals and burning the building on top of them. The temperature is rising.

Conclusion - The Patient is Sick

A fever is again apparent in the body of the West. It is the old sign of the body's attempt to heal itself. The outcome, as always, will determine whether the body lives or dies.

Recommendations

The current disease of the West has brought about profound changes. The fever and the attempt that will follow to heal itself will bring more. Through it all we must live. A run-away outlaw pituitary Federal Reserve gland now rules and usurps the functions of the brain in Washington. It releases adrenalin when it likes, in any quantity it likes, with no restraints. One day its faults will be corrected, but for now its actions determine economic life and death to the cells. We must know what it is doing to avoid damage.

LETTERS

BACKWARD: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I don't understand how many of the 3rd world nations after having received billions from us can still be so backward?" A. M. - W. Virginia

ED: Most are lawless. They only recognize contracts that they are forced to honor. Contracts with Westerners enforceable in their own courts often result in disaster for the Westerner. In most of the 3rd world the people don't trust a neighbor's word. Arriving at an enforceable contract is a long, involved, tedious process. Gold is an absolute must to guard against treachery from their own governments. This reduces trade to a one on one barter system, enforceable with bribes and force. Without fresh inflows of Western currencies, and without contracts that can be enforced, business and society stagnate. Money, enlightenment, technics, education - all are worthless in the long run without enforceable contracts.

LIBERAL QUEEN: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The queen of England is very liberal. Is there an economic reason?" G. D. - England

ED: There's an economic reason for everything. The Queen is held ransom for her good behavior. She is head of the Established Church and as such owns/controls much of the land in Britain. This land was formerly owned by and seized from the Catholic Church. In addition, she still owns much of the land of England formerly belonging to the Jewish usury bankers. This was confiscated at the time the Jews were banished in 1290. If she does not support the ruling powers she risks having it all taken from her.

WHITE HORSE: "Dear Dick: Thanks for the story of the 'Saxon White Horse'. I'd like to see a 'white horse' patch made for shirt pockets and jackets. People would ask about them and we could give a pamphlet on the history of the Saxon horse. It sure would create interest and maybe help turn these hard headed Saxons." O. D. - South Carolina

LAUREL GROVE

The topic for the 1989 Hoskins/Garnett/Hundley Reunion had been the Bookers. Captain Lewis Booker built Laurel Grove. His daughter Sarah married Judge Muscoe Garnett. Both father and daughter are buried at Laurel Grove. Plantations had names to direct mail. "Lewis Booker, Essex County, Virginia" alone didn't say where in Essex he lived. The writer had to include "Laurel Grove". Before going home I took the two youngest girls to see the places.

Laurel Grove

Laurel Grove was built in 1786 in Essex County, Tidewater, Virginia after Captain Lewis Booker came back from the War. He had served seven years in the 1st Continental Artillery. There were about 800 acres in the plantation. It was secondary land, much of it swamp. Prime land in Virginia had been settled in the earlier 150 years. To get prime land one had to go to the Virginia counties of Kentucky and Ohio. But, still, it was in Tidewater Virginia and so it was good land.¹

The Laurel Grove plantation house was typical - a large cottage with three dormers built in the old style, and square to the prevailing winds to cool it in summer. There was a full basement - half kitchen/sitting room and half dining room.

There was a first floor above - a hall, front to back for ventilation, a sitting room on the right, Capt. Booker's bedroom on the left. A narrow old fashioned stairs on the left led upstairs. There was a nursery at the head of the stairs to the front of the house, a bedroom on the left, a bedroom on the right. All rooms but the nursery had a fireplace. It sounds small, but with the trundle beds and fold up furniture of the period it was more than adequate.

Cousin Vay, in her spry 80s, dragged me, a rebellious 17 year old, into the ground floor bedroom to point at a spot on the floor and tell me "right there was where your granddaddy sat looking out of that window to see who might be coming down the road to visit." Dragging me into the living room she said "Right there before that mantle is where your grandmother Sarah stood when she was married to your granddaddy, Judge Muscoe Garnett." Taking me 50 yards away into the cemetery she said "That's where they are buried. Now remember, so you can tell your children." "Yes, ma'am". I remembered.

The command is "Be fruitful and multiply." We had six, and would have had more except for difficulties. With six children to educate, I didn't have the money, but, I wanted to buy Laurel Grove. I want to go back home to Tidewater where my people are buried, although I was born in Lynchburg, 150 miles away. Buying Laurel Grove would be a good way. It had been vacant for 50 years, sitting way back from the road. After the last war to sweep over Essex County it had been sold into another family. They wouldn't sell it to me. They wanted to get rid of the house. To them it was an eyesore, and descendants of Capt. Lewis Booker kept coming onto the property to visit it and the cemetery. All it really needed was care, and after going to law school in the '50s I had worked as a carpenter to eat. I could fix it up with help from our boys.

I had talked to the kids. If we cut back everywhere we just might put together enough to make another offer for just the house and cemetery alone, maybe three acres, that would be acceptable. There was no way we could buy the whole 800 acres, not with land values the way they are in Essex. That might take a million dollars at today's prices and I wasn't going to borrow. The cutbacks would be severe, and to make sure everyone was willing to make the sacrifice, we all went for one last look at the place before making the offer.

There was a chain across the drive. We dismounted from the car and walked the long road. Laurel Grove was partially hidden behind oaks. It was there, but hard to see in the distance. But something about the house didn't look right. Something was wrong. It looked like a ghost house. A few hundred yards more and I knew. The clapboards had been removed from the house. I could see through it like a skeleton.

I confess, I have had few moments in my life that were worse. The house was being torn down by a company that speculates in old houses like this, and was being offered to the highest bidder. It was now a pile of old lumber marked ready for reassembling. Laurel Grove is now offered for sale to the highest bidder. It is no longer an old house vacant for 50 years, it was pure gold, and priced accordingly. Somebody with a lot of money could buy a "Virginia Plantation House" and set it up in a new subdivision somewhere so that he could say to his neighbors who also have everything that money can buy, "Hey! Look at my house. Built in 1786. Had a name. Can't think of it. Came from someplace in Virginia! They don't appreciate things like that there."

The Law was being torn asunder:

I say - damn those who would "remove the ancient landmarks", who destroy the inheritance.¹ Give it to another Booker, another kinsman, someone to keep it safe for the rest of us. But not to a stranger. Damn them!

It was again time to give my two youngest girls the Essex tour. The oldest had been twice, but the youngest was 14 and had never had the tour. I can't get away to Essex like I used to.

We drove across Hoskins Creek. I told them that my father told me that three masted sailing schooners used to come up Hoskins Creek to the plantations. Then we passed over Piscataway Creek. My dad used to run a trapline there when he was a boy. He carried Dr. William Hoskins' pistol, the one he used to shoot the two stragglers outside Richmond after Appomattox. It was a Starr, the same kind that General Lee had. Dad needed it to shoot the bigger game he found in his traps. The pelts helped put him through the Medical College of Virginia.

¹ (1) "The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... according to ... their fathers they shall inherit." Num 26:53-55, (2) "The land shall not be sold for ever: for the land is mine; ... If thy brother be waxen poor, and hath sold away some of his possession ... in the jubilee ... he shall return unto his possession." Lev 25:13-28, (3) "Give me thy vineyard ... and I will give ... thee money. And Naboth said ... the Lord forbid ... that I should give the inheritance of my fathers unto thee." 1 Ki 21 2-3

In the distance by the Rappahannock River was Clyde Side, first home of another granddaddy, John Hundley I. They had to move. Union gun boats passing by constantly shot holes through it while practicing gunnery. It was unfortunate if you were inside at the time. The family rented Woodland, another house up the road and out of range of the gun boats. When the War was over they moved to Hundley Hall.

Hundley Hall

Hundley Hall was for sale because the first owner, a medical doctor, had been treating a lunatic for an injury when the lunatic, seized an ax and killed him. He was killed in the bedroom to the left as you enter, right close to the fireplace. If you look closely you can see what looks like a stain. I can't see it, but my dad said he could when he lived there as a boy. He wouldn't sleep in that room. He was raised at Hundley Hall with his five brothers and sisters when his mother and dad died at the same time when he was 16. But, that's another story. My boy, John Hundley Hoskins II, who's at the university, likes this story best. He doesn't particularly care for those nighttime noises in Hundley Hall, either. Neither do I, if the truth be known.

Ben Lomond

We drove on past Hundley Hall down to Ben Lomond. Judge Muscoe Garnett lived there. He married the daughter of the owner, but being prideful, he paid for it. It was a half house - the hall and rooms to the left were all that had been built. He built the other half himself when he could afford it. Ben Lomond is a stacked house. This means that it is a big square, or rectangle, house with rooms in front and rooms in back. A properly built plantation house takes about four generations to build.

As a boy I remember visiting Cousin (?), (I've forgotten her name), Judge Muscoe's youngest daughter. She was very old. There were few men left alive after the War and she had married the caretaker. He was a fine caretaker but not much of an owner- overseer of Ben Lomond. He sold the bricks from the cemetery wall, the timber off the land, and the furniture in the house. In 1941, while visiting with my dad, I saw one bed and one chair in that great big bedroom. He offered to sell me the whole place, land and all for $10,000. I was just a boy, but I wanted that place. I went to dad with the offer. Dad was like I am now - raising and educating a family. He couldn't afford $10,000. That was big money then.

Someone else bought it. They died just last month and the house is now on the market for $650,000. I remember how the entire first floor was divided into four rooms separated by mahogany sliding doors. When opened they would turn the entire first floor into a great ball room. Some time I would like to tell you about Sarah Elizabeth's coming out party in 1855. That was something. People came from everywhere.

I showed the children where the dependencies had stood. The kitchen and the house for the teen age boys (they had the same problems with teen-agers then, too.) and how they used to kill ducks with poles.

They didn't believe me about the ducks, so I had to show them how they did it. Ben Lomond stands on the gentle bluffs a mile from the river. Ducks flying from the river on their way south would follow the contour of the land and barely clear the bluffs. Slaves would hide behind the rose bushes in the back garden until a flock was upon them and then stand up, thrash the air with poles, and bring down as many ducks as they needed. Of course, today we don't eat duck since we recognize them as being scavengers and carriers of scavengers' diseases, but back then they didn't know any better and duck was considered a delicacy.

Ben Lomond

I took the children over to the cemetery. We had to fight through honeysuckle. Its interesting how wealthy owners almost never bother to run a lawnmower over the old cemeteries. Usually they are hidden in undergrowth. When they are too visible they deny that the portraits on the walls are the ancestors of the present occupants.

John Thomas Tribble Hundley I is buried there (a Hundley had married a Garnett daughter). My daughter, Ella-Garnett was fascinated to see her grandmother Ella Garnett's grave. Judge Muscoe Garnett was buried there too. So were his three boys killed in the War. They lie buried together. Frank, Sgt., age 17, 9th Va. Cavalry, "The bravest of them all"; David, Captain, surgeon; and William, Lt., 55th Va. Inf.

I showed them the mock orange tree. In 1860, Judith, their grandmother, was getting ready to get in the carriage. George, the groomsman, stood holding the horses. Just before she stepped in the carriage, one of the big mock oranges fell, hit a horse and caused the team to bolt, killing George. He died right there, right next to the mock orange tree. The big one on the right of the brick walk. The latest owners lived in the house for 40 years and didn't know the story. The brick walkway is now sunk beneath the ground and is covered with grass. It's still there under the ground. It was there when I was a boy, it is just sunk. Someone really ought to fix it.

I questioned the girls on the ride back to Lynchburg. They remembered what I had told them. They had better. They have to tell the stories that were told to me. Then, when my sons, or their sons get our land back, it will have a soul.

JONES BOYS: This year is the 4th straight year that riots have broken out at Jones Beach, New York, over the 4th of July weekend. The latest left 3 people shot and one stabbed. Most of this year's 20,000 revelers were members of black fraternities. They had a party like this at Virginia Beach last year. They didn't shoot anyone though, they just tore the place up a bit. They said the Virginia police were racist. The New York ones too. These racists!

CHINESE BUILDERS: The New York Times of July 30, 1989 revealed that the Chinese Government is widely engaged in construction activities in America. Acting through a US subsidiary, CSCEC-US Inc., the world's 60th largest contractor, developments "have been undertaken very quietly" after Chinese officials thought the original name attracted too much attention. Such construction activities often bring their own labor force.

Neighbors of their latest project, Latana Lakes near Jacksonville, Florida, have incorporated to fight them. The local mood appears belligerent. Opponents' leaflets state "We do not want nor will we tolerate a foreign hostile Communist government nor its sympathizers taking over our neighborhood." Night vandalism became a problem. William Peretzman, construction manager, said that houses will continue to be built on the 206 unit first phase with completion in 1992.

SAXONS FLEE: Germans; flee to West One hundred thousand more E. Germans flee to W. Germany and the media cheers the rush to freedom. The land being abandoned is the old Saxon homelands of N. What is abandoned today by abused refugees will have to be re-won tomorrow with steel. That land belongs to us!

EDUCATION: The illiteracy rate has mounted so that some companies must interview 10 applicants to find one with 7th grade English skills and 9th grade math skills.

GUNS: Handguns were used in the US 650,000 times for self defense last year according to David Kopel of the Orange County Register, 2/1, B-11, copied from Daily News Digest, Feb 22, 1989.

ED: One can imagine what it would be like if the homes of America did not have handguns to keep the peace.

STANDARD OIL: Standard Oil of New Jersey in the early 1900s accounted for 86% of the oil refined in the US. In 1904, a Standard affiliate in Kansas cut crude prices which almost ruined 500 independent producers. This produced a revolt. Bowing to pressure, the Justice Department filed suit under the Sherman Antitrust act. In 1907, Standard Oil was found guilty and the Supreme Court ruled that it be dismembered. Paper trails revealing control do not exist in high finance. Many believe that those who controlled Standard Oil yesterday control it today. When foreign producers dealing through the dismembered parts of old Standard Oil now drop crude prices and drive out the independents by the hundreds, not a question is raised about it.

POLICEMEN "Jerusalem: British policemen who 40 years ago tried to send Israel's current prime-minister to the gallows, gathered Sunday (May 15) to remember colleagues killed in Palestine. ... PREDICTING MARKETS 1989

Is Dow 5000 Possible?

The Dow is presently at 2875. Is Dow 5000 possible? The Dow has reached the highs of 1987 and has hesitated. Pundits are calling for a drastic selloff. The stock market looks high. Let's look a bit closer.

The line at the bottom of the chart on the next page is based on "book" value - the value of the assets of all 30 stocks that make up the Dow Jones Averages minus their liabilities. This is what the 30 stocks are theoretically worth on the market if sold.

The bottom line is rising. This shows that the companies are plowing money back into their operations for new plants and equipment, which increases their worth. The Dow Jones stocks are worth more and more as the years pass.

Actually, the bottom line represents only 75% of the book value, but historically, that's about how low the Dow Averages go when they decline.

The top line represents 2.2 x book. This is usually how high the Dow Jones Averages go when the stock market moves up.

It's not always a one-way street. Note back in the early '80s when the asset value of the Dow companies took a quick tumble. The Dow was cheap then. But, now the market has risen to 2.2 x book. That's where it stands now. This isn't cheap. If earnings and assets take another tumble this next year the stock market could come down a lot. Using the scenario of an imminent depression, the timid are being counseled to sell everything and head for the safety of the hills.

But, let's look at the chart on the next page to see a little more history. We note that in the war years of the '40s the Dow was cheap and traded down to 75% of book. From this undervalued condition the stock market rose over the next few years. When it declined next time in 1947, it didn't have so far to go since the value of the stocks had increased. In 1949 the book value of the Dow had risen so much that the stock market took off to the topside. Both book value and stock prices rose together and rose rapidly. Between 1949 and 1966 the Dow zoomed to 1000 where it touched on the 2.2 x book line. Fortunes were made in the stock market and those picking stocks had a field day.

In 1966 (next page) the Dow touched on 2.2 x book at 1000 on the Dow Jones Averages and backed off. It then spent the next 18 years trading up to 1000 and down again. During the whole period the value of the Dow companies continued to rise. This lasted until the big selloff in 1974. This was a historic time for the stock market. The selloff made the stock market grossly underpriced and the net worth of the Dow stocks continued to rise rapidly. The old timers can tell you about that crash. Those who lived through it thought it would never end. Some stocks lost 80% of their value.

DOW showing BOOK

The Dow touched on the rising 75% of book in 1974 and bounced. It bounced up to 1000 in 1976, and since the 1000 level had stopped it so many times before, people sold and the Dow stopped once again.

In the 1920s (next page) the book value of America's companies grew rapidly because commodity prices were low. Companies could buy commodities cheaply and sell at the same old prices which caused profits to increase tremendously. Stock prices also increased tremendously. Reaching 2.2 x book in early 1928, the Dow hesitated for only a short time before going into a 3rd degree rise that took it up to 4.5 x book (4.5 x book is the top line).

In many respects conditions today are similar to 1928. Commodity prices are either stable or trending lower. They are kept that way by the NY international money changers raising the price of the dollar. A higher dollar means lower commodity prices and higher profits for American manufacturing companies who buy cheap and sell dear.

Interest rates are still high now and money growth is very low. To avoid a 1929 it appears logical that the Fed will have to lower interest rates. Lower interest rates encourage merchants to borrow money into existence. Money being borrowed into existence spills over into the stock market and causes it to rise.

There you have it. Low commodity prices, rapidly increasing earnings, rapidly increasing book, and the Fed's announced intention to look favorably on lower interest rate levels to encourage borrowing money into existence to avoid 1929. All the pieces fit.

To reach the same level as was reached in 1929 the Dow will have to climb to 5000. Can it do it? Of course it can. Are there risks? Of course there are. There always are risks. The Fed could raise interest rates and tumble the whole thing. The massive Japanese stock market could be manipulated into a dive which would drag the American economy with it. There are any number of things that COULD happen. But, there are no signs that any of these things are happening.

The fact is, that at this time, all the pieces are in place for a stock market rise that might take the Dow to the 1929 highs.

It is entirely possible that the Dow could go to 5000 in the months ahead.

NOTE: When this was written in 1989 the stock market was trading at about 2500. Over the next six years it went to 5,000 and then preceded to go to almost 12,000 by January 2000 following rapidly rising earnings.

AIDS UPDATE

AIDS IN NY: "New York City has 3% of the nation's population, but 20% of the AIDS patients. ... Blacks and Hispanics comprise 70% of the city's caseload. Monthly AIDS Update, Box 4009, Martinez, GA 30917. Sept. 15, 1989xxx

ED: Today, a visit to "The Big Apple" for a show and dinner may cost one his life. Tomorrow's task is to keep NY denizens from escaping into uninfected parts of the country.

"NURSING HOMES in Wisconsin that refuse admission to AIDS patients will face investigation and prosecution ... the county's fair-housing ordinance applies to nursing homes." Monthly AIDS Update, Box 4009, Martinez, GA 30917. $39/yr. Sept. 15, 1989

AIDS INCREASE: The reported rate of increase of those infected with AIDS appears to be slowing. AIDS was introduced to the homosexuals and because of their unbelievable lifestyle it spread throughout their ranks almost instantly. They were largely infected 7 - 15 years ago and are the ones dying en masse today. They spread it to Blacks and Hispanics who are only now beginning to come on stream with their death statistics. After them are scheduled the southern Europeans. The last to be reported will be the Whites. In time, the casualty figures of the thousands infected in colleges, schoolrooms, and offices will be released. Somewhere in this progression will come the panic which will shake Western civilization to its roots.

THE FUTURE DEAD: A Gallup poll of 539 students revealed that 42% of those interviewed said religion was very important, while at the same time 69% of them said that premarital sex is not wrong, 56% approve of living together in trial marriages, 9% of the women admitted one or more abortions, 51% said that they approve of abortion, and half reported having more than one sex partner. "This has implications for the potential of bites by infected children (and others) to transmit HIV. ...

"1. The body fluids of HIV infected infants and children must be considered infectious.

"2. AIDS-infectious infants who bite, kiss, or drool infective saliva on other children or shared toys pose a definite health hazard.

"3. Schools, pre-schools, day care centers and baby sitting services must have the right to determine if the infants or children seeking their services are AIDS-infectious. ...

"During kissing ... if the blood of one partner is infective, human immunodeficiency virus can pass into the bloodstream of the other partner." (Journal of the American Medical Assoc., Jan 13, 1989.)

Testing resulted in the following:

"Before brushing teeth - 44 out of 90 (49% subjects had blood detected in their saliva. After brushing - 72 out of ninety (80%) had blood. Before eating - 41 out of 90 (45%) had blood detected in saliva. After eating 50 out of 90 (55%) had blood detecting in saliva. Before kissing - 35 out of 45 couples (78%) had blood detected in saliva. After kissing - 41 out of 45 (91%) couples had blood detected in saliva. ...

"ANALYSIS: This study demonstrates the presence of blood in saliva is common in healthy male and female heterosexuals. Normal daily activities like eating and teeth brushing increase the frequency and quantity of blood in saliva....

"Deep kissing ... with an AIDS carrier can be lethal.

"The Centers for Disease Control erred in their 1988 pamphlet Understanding AIDS, ... when they stated categorically 'You won't get AIDS from a kiss.' ...

"Direct skin or mucous membrane (membranes of the eye, mouth, nose) contact with the saliva of AIDS carriers should be avoided. ...

"Saliva tinged with HIV-contaminated blood which is sneezed or coughed into the air is infective. If the contaminated droplets hit the surface of the eye, are inhaled into the nose, mouth, or lungs, there is a risk of no-sexual person-to-person transmission of HIV. ...

"The AIDS virus has been found to remain infectious outside the body after being dried out in a petri dish for 10 days. This indicates that the AIDS virus is a tough virus capable of surviving on inanimate objects for a prolonged period of time. ..."

ED: Our ancestors looked on a kiss as the seal to a contract. Only in cheap novels was there "a friendly kiss." The culture mulching media has cheapened this symbolic act. Nature is returning it to what it was before - the seal of a contract. It is a contract to create life, or it is the kiss of death.

"Dick: An American friend living in Japan says he knows of no restrictions on owning Japanese land except price." O. I. - Alabama

ED: I checked with Rev. Ed Martin here in Lynchburg who lived in Japan for more than 20 years, and he said that his understanding was that the best that a foreigner can do is to lease, which they often call "buy". He said that if someone thinks differently he had better carefully examine his deed; Japanese legal documents are very tedious and hair splitting which is done for a purpose. It is entirely possible that your friend really doesn't know what he owns, or it may be that he is a Japanese citizen, or it may be that the law has been recently changed, but Rev. Martin doesn't think so.

Chapter #182

CRASH OF 1987 & 1989

The Indicator

Every economic newsletter writer has an indicator. Most perform indifferently. To avoid week-to-week comparisons I seldom show mine.

The indicator list contains the Prime, M1, Over/Under Indicator, A/D breadth, A/D trend, 7 foreign stock markets, 200 Moving Average, Odd Lot Short Selling, and Dow-S&P divergence. A sum is assigned to each item and totaled. Every Monday I update it.

The Hoskins Bullish/Bearish Indicator is a fairly short term indicator. Just before something gets ready to happen it swings all the way over to one side or the other. There may be only 30 to 90 days warning. Sometimes much less than that.

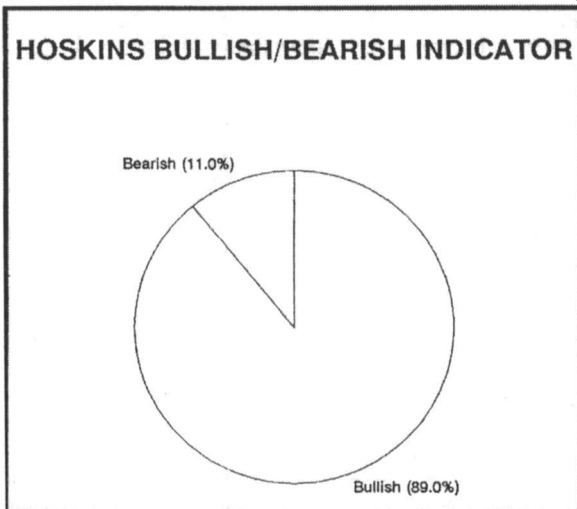

Six weeks before October 1987 it read 30% bullish. One week before it dropped to 19% bullish. I had advised portfolios to be 40% in cash in case the Fed did not lower interest rates. They didn't, and there was no time to advise further increases in cash before the break. The 40% cash was useful then.

Recently, just before the break from 2800 to 2500 the bullish component read above 60%. This is normal bullish.

Friday 13th.

Just after the break the indicator's bullish component read almost 90% before the market climbed again and the indicator receded to its presently normal bullish readings in the 60%s.

After
Friday 13th.

I have never seen a reading of 100% either way.

US Steel - Crash of 1962

The stock market of 1962-1963 can be compared with the 1987- 1989 stock market. In 1962, US Steel raised

DOW

12 mo. yr. to yr. % increase prices. President Kennedy threatened them with dire things. The stock market collapsed - it was the Crash of 1962.

On Nov. 22, 1963 Kennedy was shot. The market dropped. When it opened it went up.

What was the difference in the two?

M1 represents pocket money and money in the till. It indicates how fast it is being borrowed into existence. Over time, it must be borrowed faster than it can be paid back into the banks by interest payments. As a rule, when the M1 starts down - so does the market, and vice versa.

In 1962 the M1 had grown rapidly - too rapidly. When it broke trend (A - prior page), Kennedy's threat was sufficient to crash the market.

In 1963 money was flowing smoothly into the market. The M1 growth trend was firmly established (B - prior page). Kennedy's shooting caused hardly a ripple. The stock market runs on money - not news.

The chart to the right shows that the stock market up-trend is intact.

In 1987, higher interest rates caused the M1 to break trend and start down in early 1987. Later, in October 1987, automatic institutional computer trading took over and caused the overpriced stocks to be dumped, and the stock market declined in two days what normally would have taken two years.

Since people aren't computers, it takes longer for them to negotiate loans and borrow money into existence. Therefore, it has taken longer for the M1 to turn up. In fact, it has started up as has just now broken trend (right - point C). Investors guessed that it was going to happen, they haven't waited. They know borrowers are going to borrow now that interest rates are lower. They always do. Investors bought stocks while they were low, and the market has gone up from the October 1987 crash bottom until now. At the present time, the stock market is high, AND, at the very time the M1 is breaking its down trend (C) and is starting up. The M1 indicator crossing the downtrend line and starting up confirms that money is once again flooding the money markets and is expected to again spill over into the stock market causing even higher stock prices.

90-DAY T-BILL RATE

The 90 day T-bill rate indicator (lower left) is the Fed signal to the banks. When T-bill rates go up it signals the banks to raise interest rates.

When T-bill rates start down that is the signal for them to lower interest rates.

T-bill rates are now going down signaling banks to lower interest rates and make money easy to borrow, which is why long term fixed income securities are recommended. It also points to higher stock prices as money is borrowed into existence and spills over into the stock market.

The October 1987 stock market break wasn't at all like the latest October 13th 1989 market break. In 1987 the economic indicators signaled DOWN! Now, they signal - UP! If you don't buy stocks when news is bad - you must buy stocks when news is good - and that's BAD.

Until the nation's monetary authorities force a change in the indicators - they presently signal higher markets.

FOOD & HEALTH

SOUP: "Campbell Soup is closing 4 US plants and consolidating operations overseas. The move ... will eliminate about 2,800 jobs." WSJ p. 1, Aug. 25, 1989

ED: The US, in time, will have to ban imports from strangers. That will include imports from Campbell Soup who abandoned American workers for cheap labor overseas, but who want those who were left to buy their soup. "If thou has stricken thy hand with a stranger, thou art snared." Pr. 6:1. America may soon feel that it can do without them and their soup.

USSR - FOOD: "A quick tour of a dozen shops ... in Moscow ... reveals that supplies are worse than ... at any time since soon after the war. Basic commodities ... are gone. There is a panic buying. Sugar is rationed ... The flood waters of rationing have reached even the high ground of the capitol. ... consumer co-ops prices scare most customers .. a pound of inferior sausage costing about $10. The free market groans under mountains of vegetables .. but the prices are equally mountainous - up to $20 /lb. for meat and $8/lb. for cherries. With 43 million people getting less than ... $144 a month, and urban earnings averaging $304/mo, most cannot afford that kind of extortion." Soviet News & Views, July 1989 #13.

FOOD RATIONING: "All US military personnel (in the Philippines) have received ration cards for staple foods." Intelligence Update. 9/89.

ED: This military policy is on-again off-again. Still, in light of a possible world food shortage, such things must be watched.

DAILY BEER DRINKERS are 12 times more at risk of colon cancer according to Lancet.. Alcohol drinkers were 4 times more at risk.

(1) "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings & priests unto God and his Father; Rev 1:5-6. (2) "It is not for kings to drink wine, nor princes strong drink: lest they drink and forget the law." Pr 31:4-5. Deal only with kings. Let strangers, slaves, and establishment workers drink or not as they choose.

SYPHILIS: "There is no clear evidence that syphilis existed in the Old World before Columbus's return, researchers say, and skeletal remains containing syphilitic lesions throughout North and South America provide overwhelming evidence that syphilis has existed in the Western Hemisphere since 3000 B.C.

"The researchers believe that some of the 1490s sailors contracted nonvenereal forms of the disease, all caused by the bacterium Treponema palladium, through skin contact and then transported it to Europe, where it spread both sexually and nonsexually." Insight, p. 53, April 24, 1989.

ED: This Syphilis from the Indians devastated the West. Westerners died by the millions. The bubonic plague from the orient also devastated the West. Half of Europe died. Now AIDS from Africa and Eastern Europe is devastating the West. Tens of millions will die. Westerners are helpless before the diseases brought in by strangers. We die because the Law is violated.

(1) "If ye do in any wise go back and cleave unto the remnant of these nations, even these that remain among you, and shall make marriages with them ... know for a certainty ... ye (shall) perish off from this good land which the Lord your God has given you." Joshua 23:12-13. (2) "When they had heard the law ... they separated from Israel all the mixed (mongrel) multitude. Neh 13:3 (3) "And the seed of Israel separated themselves from all strangers." (nêkar - strange, alien). Neh 9:2. (4) "So shall we be separated, I and all of Thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth. Ex 33:16. (5) "I am the Lord your God, which have separated you from other people. Lev 20:24. (6) "Let us make a covenant (an agreement) with our God to put away all the wives, and such as are born of them, according to the counsel (advice) of my Lord, and of those that tremble (are deeply impressed) at the commandment of our God; and let it be done according to the law." Ezra 10:3. (7) "The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low." Deu 28:43

It costs tens of millions of lives to trade with strangers. Those who profit are satisfied with the exchange of lives for money and shrilly condemn The Law that condemns their grave digging business.

BIOLOGICAL WARFARE: Race-specific biological weapons may soon be possible that could kill ... specific races ... said a panel of scientists ... The viruses would be keyed to the specific genetic characteristics of a target population, said Raymond Zilinskas of the University of Maryland. Arizona Republic, 1/19, A-4, copied from Daily News Digest, PO Box 84902, Phoenix, Arizona 85071.

ED: Liberals argue that "this can't be" since there is no such thing as race. They may have to argue this one to death if they are the ones keyed.

RIOTS

BERKELEY RIOTS: "Federal officials have been meeting with city officials, representatives of the NAACP and others to resolve a dispute over whether the police used excessive force against Black students after a dance that ended in looting on the city's main street." NY Times, 8/28/89

ED: Looting's OK - got to watch that excessive force, though.

SOUTH AFRICA RIOTS: Rampaging Blacks were killed in the SA election. Most Blacks were killed by other Blacks. The establishment media reports the killings as White atrocities. More Arabs are killed in Palestine in a week than Blacks killed in S. Africa in a year. The media reports the one as an atrocity, the other as "defense against terrorists". In Palestine the terrorists are 10 years old. Figure the IQ of the reader who believes that!

MORE SOUTH AFRICAN RIOTS: "Thousands of Blacks marched ... The crowd, estimated at 5 to 10 thousand, stretched for more than a mile ... Organizers ... vowed further acts of protest during a nationwide defiance campaign." Durban, South Africa. NY News, 3 Sept 89.

MORE VIRGINIA BEACH RIOTS: One hundred thousand Blacks, mostly college students ("A mind is a terrible thing to waste"), wrecked and looted Virginia Beach for the second year in a row, looting 124 stores, causing millions of dollars of damage, injuring numerous people, and shooting bystanders. The national guard had to be called in to aid police in restoring order. The Blacks claimed that White bigotry, racism, and use of excessive force provoked the Blacks into fighting for their rights. The Blacks threatened the Whites by vowing to return next year for the third year in a row to protest the handling of this year's riots. A third year of having 100,000 drunken, fighting, vomiting, defecating, copulating, plundering Blacks having one more peaceful non-violent college gathering w/dialogue at Virginia Beach may leave the resort a burnt out battleground with hundreds of Virginians unemployed.

The media gives full coverage to Black demands and Black excuses for their destruction. The final vote isn't in yet, but the media is hinting strongly that somehow White racism is at the root of the whole thing. If somehow Whites would only shape up! But, as their T-shirts proclaimed, "It's a Black thing - you wouldn't understand."

DETROIT FLIGHT: "The mayor of Detroit denounced White flight as one of the greatest abandonments of property in history. The total and complete and reckless abandonment of Detroit by Whites was cited as being on the largest scale of any group of people fleeing from another." The Mountain, p. 7, July/August 1989.

Ungrateful - that's what the Whites are!

THE UNASKED QUESTION: Do Whites have the right to be left alone? Well?

DISCRIMINATION: (Brooklyn): "Hundreds of Blacks and Hispanics declared a 'Day of Rage' and shut down the Brooklyn Bridge for hours ... no reprisals. When hundreds of pro-lifers declared a 'Day of Rescue' and shut down a NY abortion clinic for a few hours, they were arrested, charged with contempt and fined $25,000 a day." Letter From Plymouth Rock, Marlborough, NH 03455, June 1989

ED: The thought might occur to a suspicious mind that the race who "looked at the sea for a thousand years and never dreamt a sail" may have had help in orchestrating simultaneous worldwide riots - a much more complex task.

UNFILTERED NEWS

CARS: The top 10 fuel-efficient cars in 1990 are foreign. The 1990 Geo Metro XF1 made in Japan by Suzuki for Gen. Motors gets 53 miles per gallon in city and 58 on highway. The worst gas guzzler will be the 1990 Rolls-Royce Bentley Continental with a price tag of $200,000 and 10 mpg in the city and 13 on the highway.

ED: At the end of WW II an automotive design engineer told me that Detroit had the knowledge, expertise, and desire to build fuel-efficient cars but was prevented from doing so by company directors. To build such cars would put a crimp in the activities of the NY and London controlled Japanese banks recently acquired by allied conquest during WW II. The Japs don't own their own banks - they lost the war - remember?

AF MARKINGS on US planes now cannot be detected at 100 yards. All US military aircraft and helicopters now appear unidentifiable as to nationality. This was true at the last 8 airports I visited in my travels. One can be attacked by either US, USSR, or Japanese aircraft and not know from the markings what nationality was responsible. This is what one would expect if one government ruled all.

NOTICE - CLIPPERS

Readers: I need your help.

As most know, I am writing a book on the "Phineas Priesthood". My research has uncovered the interesting fact that the only time Westerners have been successful against assailants is by adopting their method of warfare. For example, American Indian fighters wore buckskins, moccasins, carried tomahawks, ambushed, and Indian-style, fought men, women and children indiscriminantly.

The News this last month reported that muslims took 19 Western hostages for bargaining purposes. The Israeli's kidnaped an Arab from a neutral country "for questioning." An Arab woman was found "hacked to death in an alley" because she cohabited with Israelis. (The Koran, as does The Law, forbids this [Numbers 25]. It is a capital crime to both religions.)

Israeli instructors showed Colombians how to attack small groups with machine-gun fire from passing autos. There were 4 reported bombings - two car bombs, one aircraft, and one antipersonnel.

Unsuccessful Islamic attacks against Israeli's are reported, just as unsuccessful armored car and bank robberies in this country are reported. The others are censored from view. Therefore, SUCCESSFUL attacks and robberies are NEWS.

This violence constitutes a new form of undeclared warfare. It all sounds strange to our ears. However, we must learn the new way to cope. After all "He showed his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them. Ps 147:19-20." Strangers don't know our Law, are not covered by the Law, and only recognize their own law. It must be discovered what law it is that they are using.

It would be appreciated that for the next 30 days readers would clip news items pertaining to this sort of seemingly senseless warfare, and mail them to this address. Thanks.

Chapter 183

COMMUNIST AGENTS DISSOLVE SYNDICATE

Research the land. Whoever holds or controls your land is the guilty party. The struggle for this prize is the reason for almost every war - religious or political - for the past thousand years.

To determine whom we can thank for most of today's problems, we must look into history to see who owned the land in the past and who owns it now. A quick glance will uncover four interested parties. They are:

- 1) ORGANIZED RELIGION: Organized religion obtained one-third of the land belonging to the people for praying their souls out of Purgatory.
- 2) THE KING: The king, or by whatever name the ruler is called, got one-third of the land by employing official usurers as his exclusive, personal agents.

- 3) INTERNATIONAL FINANCE: The international financiers got their portion by manipulating the first two and stealing from the fourth.
- 4) THE PEOPLE: The people, whose land it was and whose land it is, are forced to declare themselves for one of the above competing parties and to hoist the colors of religion, state, or finance instead of their own. In the clash between the contending parties the people are required to furnish the blood, and receive agony, suffering, and slavery for pay.

1 - Organized Religion

Organized religion owned one-third of all the land and one half of all money in the nations of the West.

As spiritual guardian of the souls of the people, organized religion told Christians that when they died their souls would go to a place called Purgatory. This place is somewhere between heaven and hell. A soul stayed there for a length of time depending on the enormity of his sins while alive on earth. A soul could remain in Purgatory for centuries.

The people were also told that the prayers of the righteous could help get these souls out of that place, but these prayers might take many years. It required someone who could be faithfully counted on to stay around for as long as it took. Fortunately, help was close by. All agreed that there were none more righteous than churchmen, and the church, being eternal, could be counted on to be around forever. The food and shelter for those presenting the prayers were expensive. To defray this cost and to make sure the prayer work went forward, a great many of the devout agreed to give their estates to the church upon their deaths. In this manner the church guaranteed the prayers so that the souls could be released from Purgatory. The church received much property in return.

In Britain, one-third of the land and one-half the floating money accrued to the church. The same was true in France, Spain, Italy, Germany and Russia.

The supervision and direction of these enormous holdings required tens of thousands of administrators in addition to the usual cardinals, abbots, and priests. The church was very rich and very, very powerful.

2 - The King

The king was elected to office to lead in war and arbitrate differences in peace. Justice itself was dispensed by peers according to the ancient law of Ten Commandments that brooked no change.

A new king, William the Conqueror, arrived. To raise revenues, he brought international bankers with him. The Jewish Eyclopedia, England, p. 161 states "William of Malmesbury (Gesta Rerum Anglorum," ed. Duffy, p. 500) distinctly states that William the Conqueror brought the Jews from Rouen to England." This was necessary because Christians cannot tax Christians; but they may tax strangers.¹ These international bankers, being strangers were not covered by the Law,² and could therefore lend to Christians at usury, and could take their estates when usury forced them to bankruptcy.

1 LAW: "Of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers." (Gr: allotrios - foreign, not akin.) ... Then are the children free." Math 17:25-26.

2 LAW: "He showed his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them." Ps 147:19-20

The king received one-half of everything taken in this manner. When the lender died, ALL of his goods obtained by usury went to the king.

The king's wealth grew by leaps and bounds. So also did the wealth of the bankers. The J/E, England, p. 162 further states; "As early as 1168 ... the value of the personal property of the Jews was regarded as one-fourth that of the whole country." This remarkable feat was accomplished in a short 102 years from the time of their arrival.

To keep from having everything gotten by usury seized by the king, many usurers learned the advantages of concealment and secrecy. They learned to drop out of sight by adopting the appearance, manners, and customs of the English. They were virtually undetected. The English landowner was not necessarily English.

The well established and wealthy religion of England found an economic competitor in the king's agents. Land that would in time have accrued to the church went to the king instead by way of his usury agents. To remove this competition the church instituted a campaign to convert the heathen to Christianity.³ The king retaliated by ruling that the property of any usurer who converted to Christianity would be confiscated immediately. In this way bankers who converted were punished and reduced to beggars. This was to discourage conversions and keep usurers working as the

3 "Go ye therefore and teach all nations ("I am sent but to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Math 15:24.), teaching them whatsoever things I have commanded you ("A bastard (mixedbreed) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord." De 23:2), baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost." Math 28:18-19

4 "If any man that is a brother be ... an extortioner; with such a one, no not to eat." 1 Cor 5:11

king's agents.⁵ Other actions by organized religion to discourage the activities of the king's agents are related in the Jewish Encyclopedia in the article on England, p. 166, which states:

(The) "Synod of Exeter in 1287, (forbade) commensality (eating together)⁶ between Jews and Christians, and against Jews holding public office⁷, or having Christian servants,⁸ ... and denied to Jews entrance into churches⁹ No 1:51."

These efforts of the church to enforce God's Law paid off. In the face of these church pronouncements few people would have anything to do with the usurers, and, as a consequence, their receipts dropped. Then, too, the king, by utilizing the usury route, had gotten almost all the land that he was going to get from the people. So, in 1290, the king - defender of the faith - determined to obey the sacred scriptures and please the church and the people all at the same time. King Richard I issued a decree that his usury bankers be banished from England. It is noteworthy that

5 "The papacy had become more and more embittered against the Jews ... As an immediate result ... excommunicated all Christians having anything to do with Jews." J/E, England, p. 165.

6 "If any man that is a brother be ... an extortioner; with such a one, no not to eat." 1 Cor 5:11

7 "Thou shalt in any wise set him king over thee .. from among thy brethren ... thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: nokriiy - foreign, adultrious.) over thee, which is not thy brother. De 17:15

8 Ibid

9 (1) "There shall no stranger eat of the holy thing." Lev. 22:10. (2) "When the tabernacle is to be pitched ... the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death." (3) "And the Lord said ... thou and thy sons ... shall bear the iniquity of the sanctuary ... and the stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh shall be put to death." Num 18:1- 7

during the disagreements between the king and church that the church never charged the king with introducing a stumbling block in the path of his people. (1) "Let us not ... put a stumbling block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way." Romans 14:13. Perhaps they did not want to voice too loudly the punishment required (2) "If a false witness rise up ... ye are to do unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother." Deu 19:16-17. Such talk might have been embarrassing, and also might be construed by the king as treason.

3 - The Usury Bankers

The usurers had initially been brought to England to gather wealth for their master, the king, by using the usury system that the king's Christian faith forbade him to use. They had served their purpose and had been discarded.

Their history from this time revolves about their attempt to re-enter England and re-establish the usury practices that had proved so profitable before, without however, the hindrances and restrictions formerly present.

At the time of their attempted re-entry in the early 1600s, the land situation in England (and the rest of Europe) was, as has been related, one third belonged to the king, one third to the church, and one third or less still remained in the hands of the people.

The days of the 1300s had gone when "a laborer could provide all the necessities for his family for a year by working only 14 weeks." There was little land left to the people on which they could make a living.

The bankers' effort to enter Britain was at last successful. It was done by buying a king of their own. Past English rulers had been most unsympathetic to entry pleas, so the bankers gained entry by backing a competitor and financing a war so that he could claim the throne. It worked. As the power behind the throne they prospered more than ever before.

Since that time the bankers have extended their power by using their forbidden usury system, and financing the powerful in their struggles against each other; and by financing the king against the church, king against king, and church against church. In this way the king and the church have been weakened so that now the land that all squabbled over belongs to the bankers.

The king is now but an honorary clerk. He is crowned every four years, then retired with pay as banker controlled papers give his reign either good or bad publicity. Today's priest is nothing more than a "Dear Abby", if his ambitions haven't landed him behind bars. To keep his tax exemption he weekly denies the faith. His Sunday sermon consists of springtime, motherhood, and the latest message arriving from Babylon.

Today's kings and priests are the bankers' hirelings. They no longer contest for the people's land and are content to lick the hand that feeds them. The people look on the first two with contempt and the third with fear.

4 - The People

That leaves two contestants still in the field: 1) the usury bankers, and, 2) the people.

The usury bankers take their orders from one of their own who has the most money and power. The people also know who they are - THEY know that THEY have been appointed kings and priests:

"Ye shall be a peculiar treasure to me above all people ... ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests." Ex 19:5,6

"Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; Rev 1:5,6

"Ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people." 1 Peter 9

Since they are kings they call the most powerful king among them - the King of Kings: He is their leader, commander and general. There is no appeal from his commands:

"The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... To many thou shalt give the more ... to few thou shalt give the less ... the land shall be divided by lot: according to ... their fathers they shall inherit." Num 26:53-55

"The land shall not be sold for ever: for the land is mine." Lev 25:13

They know the usury bankers and the condemnation that has been placed upon them:

"Hath given forth upon usury ... he shall surely die; his blood shall be upon him." Ezek 18:13

Cheer you newspapers! Cheer as your masters corrupt priests and kings and they are condemned and marched to jail! Cheer as your masters retire their bought judges and politicians with millionaire pensions! Cheer as the Soviet syndicate is dissolved to give its promoters the prize they paid for in 1917, and the Tzar's and the Church's land is now openly turned over to the ones who financed their execution.

Cheer and be damned!! That Russian land covered with graves that you waited so long to gather, and the land of Europe and America that you have painstakingly stolen with your wars, mortgages, and usury - you have only gathered it for those to whom it belongs.

When the King of Kings so commands, it will be taken from you and returned to those from whom it was stolen. This will happen because it has been promised, and God does not lie.

AIDS UPDATE

US: In areas where AIDS is common the infection rate of men to women approaches 1:1.

MINORITIES: Blacks or Hispanics furnish almost 40% of AIDS patients.

FLORIDA: A Miami prostitute admitted to a CBS interviewer that she had had sex with 200 men since being diagnosed as having AIDS.

MASSACHUSETTS alone reported 2400 cases of AIDS while the CDC reported only 525 cases nationwide.

COMMUNIST CHINA with the world's largest population has under a dozen AIDS cases. This supports the theory that Soviet and Chinese nationals at Ft. Detrick, Maryland gave the free world this disease (With the World Health Organizations' world wide smallpox vaccination program. Ed.)

AFRICA: Tourist travel is off 47%.

INCUBATION: HIV-2 AIDS virus can have an incubation period of 19 years.

BRITISH Journal of Surgery reported that at the Leicester General Hospital 339 pairs of gloves were checked and 37.5% were found to be perforated. In abdominal surgery, where much is done by feel, the perforation rate was more than 70%. The reason there is no record of doctors infecting patients is the lengthy incubation period.

Your Clippings In Review

The rampant anti-Christianism shown by almost countless individual physical attacks on our people by Blacks and Hispanics nationwide, and the virulent aiding and abetting by the media is shown in the following stories. Individually the stories are just tragic. Together they reveal a new type of warfare.

Historically, American successes have commenced only after failure identifies which enemy tactics are successful, and these successful enemy tactics become incorporated to form new and better tactics.

- MIDDLE EAST: OCCUPIED EAST BANK: Islamic gangs have switched their efforts to assassination of Arabs collaborating with Israelis. This includes officials and prostitutes. (ED: Collaborators present very vulnerable targets.)
- PALESTINE: The killings of women and children continue but much of the media has stopped reporting them.
- IRAN responded to the American president's executive order allowing the CIA to invade their nation and kidnap their citizens with an identical order of their own to do the same in the US. The arresting officer may be from the ends of the world. Presidential executive orders used to promote only lawlessness, now they promote chaos.
- JORDAN: King Hussein's effort to have women elected in his "free" elections was smothered when a female slate of candidates was voted down and a slate of hard line fundamentalists elected in their stead. The Arabs believe that a woman's place is in the tent. •ALGERIA: Kadhafi announced that he has stopped supplying weapons to revolutionists. He is doing it to promote establishment-ordered world wide "glasnost". This, plus his personal cowardice (seldom seen in true followers of Islam) following the American air attack that killed his daughter, brands him as only a probable establishment agent, an Arab conduit (the counterpart of the Israeli conduit) for weapons and money fueling world wide revolutionary movements. •EGYPT is holding a trial of 20 members of a group called "Egypt's Revolution." The group has carried out 4 attacks on American and Israeli diplomats between 1984 and 1987 leading to the death of two Israelis, wounding six others and two Americans. The leader, being tried in absentia, is Kamal Abdel Nasser, son of the late President Nasser who was shot down by Shiite Moslems for being soft on Zionism. Included are sons of a former vice-president, a former prime minister and a nephew of President Nasser. The trial is immensely unpopular in Egypt. The defense states that the victims were all either CIA or Mossad (Israeli secret service), and that "Egyptians have got the right, as any Arabs, to defend themselves as one nation in any part of the Arab world." This is the Islamic Shiite mentality in action, and those accused represent the cream of Egyptian society. America's large Islamic population is riddled with Shiites.

EUROPE: IRELAND - IRA acts are front page. In Lisburn, Northern Ireland, a bomb planted under the car of a police officer exploded and killed him. The N. Irish retaliated 12 hours later by shooting and throwing a grenade at a Sinn Fein lawyer. Three hours after this the IRA shot and killed an Irish collaborator. Elsewhere, IRA bombs killed 10 British soldiers in England. •WEST GERMANY:

The IRA shot and killed an RAF British airman and his 6 year old daughter. He was an Indian. •PORTUGAL: Lisbon - Skinheads fatally stabbed a liberal left wing member of the Socialist Revolutionary Party. (This spontaneous anti- establishment youth movement is now world wide.).

BRITAIN's newspapers complain about the growth in Britain of the Hong Kong and Taiwan TRIAD - a secret criminal gambling, loan shark, extortion and world-wide drug gang which traces its ancestry back into the 1600s; the YARDIES, the United Kingdom counterpart of Jamaican gangsters known in America as Posses, dealing in heroin, cocaine, marijuana, smuggling, and arms, and, MAFIA - style gang groups: all closely knit, murderous, and extremely wealthy. Such groups quickly form wherever groups of strangers gather. It is their lawless counterpart to the Lawful Phineas Priesthood. •BELGIUM: - A top Jewish leader was killed by a single shot to the head at close range. No one claimed responsibility. He had Muslim as well as Jewish enemies. •FRANCE: - Three burly armed anti-Christian assassins attempted to beat to death the slightly built elderly French scholar, Dr. Robert Faurisson, the man who initially exposed the six million fraud. The attempt was narrowly thwarted by local fishermen. Badly beaten, he remains in a hospital with broken bones. A French monthly which reported the story was blown up by a Jewish terrorist group calling itself the "Organization Juive des Combat".

LATIN AMERICA violence continues. Lima, PERU - Army troops killed 27 well-armed, well- uniformed, well-fed, Shining Path Maoist guerrillas, who were bountifully supplied with money. This movement has killed 120 mayors, candidates, and local officers this year while many others have resigned because of threats. These uniformed guerrillas entered a University in Ayacucho and blew up buildings. In Huacho a car bomb exploded downtown causing casualties. Government sources say that 15,000 people have been killed thus far. •SAN SALVADOR: A 23 year old daughter of a government military officer was shot. Retaliation immediately followed with a bomb demolishing the home of a left wing politician and grenades were thrown at another. A Lutheran Church, accused of favoring the revolutionists, was bombed. A bomb in return wrecked a pro-government union hall killing 10 and wounding 29, including 2 Americans. Six JESUIT PRIESTS were shot. Government hit squads were accused. The Government earlier confiscated church lands amounting to 40% of the total land area. Communist rebels have promised to return this land to the church in return for church support against the government. This is presumed to be the reason that Catholic Priests are stirring up revolution and are shot for doing so. •VENEZUELA: At San Cristobal five national guardsmen on patrol were killed when a bomb exploded under their truck.

ORIENT: Taiwan - A new supersonic fighter plane burst a tire and skidded off the runway on its first public test flight. This fighter plane is a first, an establishment authorized and ordered plane built entirely of parts made in Taiwan. At present, no U.S. plane can be manufactured of parts made entirely in the U.S.. Taiwan can now do something that the U.S. cannot do. This is ominous.

UNITED STATES: VIRGINIA: Newspapers announce that more than a dozen journalists have been killed or injured in recent months in Eastern Europe, and Latin America. The Israelis complain that unfriendly newsmen commit acts of war the same as enemy soldiers and have banned them from sensitive areas. S. Africa objected to their misrepresentations and now controls them. Other peoples, unable to control them, simply kill them. This is the first time that newsmen have been treated as combatants and are being held accountable for their writings. •CALIFORNIA: Los Angeles - America's intellectually bankrupt liberals now have syndicated a JESSE JACKSON column to further humiliate their publications. •MASSACHUSETTS: Boston - a Black, 6 ft. tall, 30 years of age - forced entry into a white vehicle and shot the family. The local media says the Black community is indignant that attention is called to the event. MINNESOTA: Minneapolis - Black gang attacks on individual White males. The Whites were beaten with bottles and other objects. Some hospitalized with broken bones. •MISSISSIPPI: Pascagoula - a "salt and pepper" burglar team gunned down by an armed property owner. (Large numbers of renegade teams last seen in the 1870s before the backlash started.) •ALABAMA Tuscaloosa - U. of Alabama students were condemned by their Faculty Senate for booing a Black homecoming queen and for flying Confederate flags. MICHIGAN: East Lansing - 6000 students engaged in what the papers called racial rowdiness. It was noted that for the first time attacks by Whites against Blacks seem to be on the rise. •ALABAMA: Adamsville - A suburban Birmingham high school principal and a student were knifed in a racial brawl which occurred at the end of a meeting held to discuss the continuous racial conflict in the school. •NEW YORK: Three Jewish students were set upon by 20 youths as they were leaving a Jewish Student Center at Brooklyn College. The race of the attackers was censored. •MICHIGAN: Detroit - 30,000 firefighters fought 460 arson fires set on one night. Most were set in Black areas. This arson effort takes place every year on Devil's Night before Halloween.

EDITOR: In America, the media spotlights the faults of the victims, ignores the attackers' guilt, and campaigns to disarm the lawful population. This makes them the #2 enemy of law and order. The refusal of the state-approved tax exempt priesthood to teach the Law makes them #3, and strangers who commit most of the crimes a poor #4. The usual whipping boy, the politicians, aren't in the running. They earn their fat paychecks by taking the blame of others and turning a blind eye.

The root is money. Violent IRA operations, British gang warfare, Central and South American arms deals, and American drug operations generate billions. A skilled investigator could trace these massive transfers of money to their destination in a single afternoon. That's why it isn't done.

UNFILTERED NEWS

GOLD is rapidly advancing because of a call to make the ruble "gold convertible". If done, this would stop the yearly sale of between 100-200 tons of Soviet gold on world markets, tending to create a shortage.

Until now inflation has been measured by comparing the inflation of all the world usury-created currencies against each other. They all are inflating by approximately the same amount. This causes the comparison scale to rise together and be relatively unnoticed.

A ruble, convertible 1 for 1, would create a stable yardstick. All other fluctuating yardsticks would suffer. The government of the USSR has no internal debt and relatively little private debt. Our public and private debt is $9.6 trillion.

An actual gold-convertible ruble could theoretically demolish the dollar in time by forcing a comparison.

Practically, gold can inflate only as much as the fed allows dollars to be borrowed into existence to buy rubles or gold. It's quite a balancing act. However, this is certain, all usury-based economies are doomed in the long run. One cannot lend $10 for $11 when only $10 exists without having problems.

THE JAPANESE PURCHASE as much as 10% of new US Fannie May and Freddie Mac securities. (WSJ 11/1/89, C-1.)

JAPANESE investors bought 80,000 acre Selkirk Ranch in Montana. The rush to establish a cattle industry in the western US is just beginning. A group of Japanese purchased another large ranch north of San Diego and is planning to put 200,000 head of cattle on it. They are also buying feedlots and meatpacking plants - essentially an entire production system.

GERMAN REUNIFICATION: The Bush administration worries that an "early and dangerous" German reunification would detract from the planned 1992 economic integration of Europe. WSJ 11/8/89

SECESSION: The USSR's Georgia may be allowed to vote on a referendum to determine whether or not it wishes to withdraw from the USSR. If the communists can do it, it must be OK. Save your Confederate money!

LIFE WITH THE STRANGER: "During a 24-hour period New York recorded 11 homicides, three suspicious

deaths, one justifiable slaying and three other assaults that may yet become homicides." Daily News, Oct 13, 1989

AMERICAN JUSTICE: "How about Jimmy the Preach getting the book thrown at him by 'Maximum Bob', the fed judge in NC! Ivan Boesky ripped off the sheep for far more millions but he had a decent judge. Zsa Zsa slaps a cop's face and gets 3 days! Imagine Suzy Smith doing the same? 3 years is more likely. Who truly believes that there is any justice in the Oo-Ess-Ay!" *Fafnir*l, PO Box 331, Cohoctah, MI 48816

HOLOHOAX STORIES from Nurnberg used as evidence to execute hundreds of German Christians are almost all contained in the book Made In Russia, by Carlos W. Porter. Stories such as "20,000 Jews vaporized" in a secret atomic experiment near Auschwitz, 840,000 Soviet POW's killed by a pedal-driven brain bashing machine, and then cremated in mobile ovens on wheels, shrunken heads, lampshades, human soap. These and many more are related in the sworn and solemn statements presented by American, British, French, and Soviet prosecutors. It is unbelievable that one can read such tripe in this day and age. (Available from The Institute for Historical Review, 1822 1/2 Newport Blvd., Suite 191, Costa Mesa, CA 92627.

"If a false witness rise up ... Then shall ye to unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother." Deu 19:16- 17.

A great many Christians have been executed on the basis of these stories used as testimony at trials. Courts and juries should be reconvened and the credibility of the witnesses telling such stories examined. If they have lied, the Law dealing with false witnesses should be enforced and, in addition, compensation paid to the families of those unjustly harmed.

BUYOUT: The offer to buy The Jerusalem Post came from Australian Richard Pratt, from the US - Aryeh Genger and Mortimer Zuckerman of the US News and World Report, Englishman - Robert Maxwell of the Mirror Group Newspapers, and Canadian - Charles Bronfman of the Claridge Investment Group. (Dow Jones Tape, 7:50 AM, 4-26-89.)

JUSTICE: "A prominent Miami businessman must pay $5.5 million to a restaurateur forced out of business through the businessman ... accusing the restaurant owner of anti-Semitism, an appeals court says." St Louis Post Dispatch, 3-17-89.
