Chapter 232

HINDUISM

Yogaville

"Yogaville" was written up in the Lynchburg paper. It's about 60 miles from Lynchburg down in Buckingham County on the banks of the James. It is a Yoga settlement. The word "Yogaville" conjures up visions of "Disneyland" - or something else outlandish. That was a wrong impression.

The route led through Buckingham's back roads. Buckingham is a poor county. There aren't many people living there. The winding road through the pine forests seemed interminable. At last I encountered a sign pointing to a left turn which said "Welcome - Satchidananda, Ashram, Yogaville. Lotus Shrine 5/8 mi, Visitors 3/4 mi."

When I was getting out of the car at the visitors center, a bearded individual of unidentifiable ancestry confronted me in a hostile manner, demanding to know who I was and what

I wanted. He instinctively knew me. There are people like that. A few pleasantries seemed to mollify him. Passing on to the visitors center, I passed a pleasant young blond girl carrying her black kinky-haired baby.¹

The center is a modest one-story building that doubles as a bookstore. Attached is a conference room with movable benches. There were a number of women about, part of whose dress included the color "orange." These turned out to be female priests, or "swamis." They were there to answer questions and help visitors. The one who approached me was a knowledgeable young woman.

From her I learned that there are 750 acres in Yogaville, and perhaps 60 Swamis (teachers) both male and female. Private interests have bought 250 acres across the road which are in the process of being subdivided into building lots. Homes are already built and others are under construction. There are more than 250 permanent residents in this part.

The library consisted of books of teachings by gurus. It also included a selection of sweatshirts for sale decorated with likenesses of Indian gods and the like. There was also a selection of jewelry which included different types of rosaries.

1 (1) "If the priest's daughter also be married unto a stranger (Heb: zūwr - racial alien), she may not eat of an offering of the holy thing (food that is blessed), But if the priest's daughter be a widow or divorced, and have no child, and is returned unto her father's house ... she shall eat of her father's meat; but there shall no stranger (zūwr) eat thereof." Lev 22:10-13 (2) "When they had heard the law ... they separated from Israel all the mixed (mongrel) multitude." Neh 13:3

Assembly Hall

One must remove his shoes to enter the moderate sized assembly room - about 40 feet across. Candles had been lit to celebrate the Jewish Hanukkah. Swamis celebrate the religious holidays of all religions. There are many holidays and religious celebrations. People were busy at work at tables collecting and wrapping presents for 900 needy families in Buckingham County. Yogaville makes a practice of "good works." It builds trust and good will in the community.

High on the wall were pictures of the world's men considered great by the Hindus. Martin Luther King was one - Mahatma Gandhi another. I didn't recognize the rest.

Under the pictures were symbols of the world's religions, and quotes from their prophets. The religious symbols included those of Hinduism, Judaism, Shintoism, Taoism, Buddhism, Christianity, Islam, Sikhism, African faiths, Native American faiths, "other known faiths," and last, a place for the unknown god whose place was marked with the symbol "O".

My guide suggested that I might like to see the Siva Temple and the Lotus Temple.

Siva Temple

Siva's Temple was in an isolated area about a mile away high on the bluffs overlooking the plains of the James River. Siva is enclosed in glass. Parking the car and walking a hundred yards or so one reaches what amounts to a promenade about 50 feet long pointing to the river. At one end with his back to the river is Siva, a "dancing Siva." At the other end sat a statue of a guru whose teaching was responsible for establishing Yogaville.² In between were glass enclosures containing statues of Indian gods.

The focal point was the spectacular four-armed statue of dancing Siva, one foot lifted in the position of the dance. One of Siva's four arms holds a drum representing change through sound. The second - the "fear not" seal of preservation. The third hand points to the raised left foot - showing "grace" for those who come to the feet of Siva.³

Hindu Trinity

Brahmanism or Hinduism has three basic gods - or three gods in one. Brahma is the spirit permeating everything in the world. He is the father creator. Brahma created Vishnu and Siva. These are the three - Brahma, the creator; "Vishnu" the genial god of ordinary life, business, social contacts, etc. and Siva - god of death - and since Hindus believe in "reincarnation," death is followed by rebirth - Siva is also god of pro-creation. After creating Vishnu and Siva, Brahma retreated into the background as a grandfather figure and left the world to Lord Vishnu and Lord Siva.

2 "Since all perfect Masters are sons of God and one with God it follows that this is true of the living perfect Masters of today. If we want God, we should seek him there; and if we want to worship God, we should worship Him in them. There is no other living form of God in the world today than the person of the perfect Master and consequently God cannot be worshiped directly here in any other way than by worshipping the Master." Yoga & The Bible, by Joseph Leeming

3 "The image of a god is believed to be the god ... worship in a temple centers on the daily life of the god, involving preparation of the god for worship - waking him up with bells, purifying him with incense, bathing him, dressing him, and feeding him. The worshiper comes to the temple to view the god and to receive the food that the god has touched." Academic American Encyclopedia, Hinduism, Temple Worship

Lord Siva

Siva, the god of birth and death, is today portrayed as the Dancing Siva. Kali, his consort, is the black female god of death and destruction.

Dancing Siva's symbol is the "phallic" symbol. Sex definitely occupies a substantial place in Siva worship. Hindus have erotic sacred manuals dealing with sex. It is not an accident that the owners of the Western media make sex the focal point of TV, or that astrology has suddenly become prominently available in newspapers, or that fortune telling is prominently advertised on TV with "900 numbers" to call. It is not accident that almost every newsstand is a miniature porno-parlor, or, that the capital crime of homosexuality⁴ is an "acceptable alternate lifestyle." These beliefs are acceptable to Hindus. One religion's "sacrilege" may be "accepted ritual" to another.

The Rest Of The Gods

Hinduism has countless other gods. Most represent special attributes of existing gods reincarnated as other gods. One is chief of monkeys and is worshiped all over India.⁵ Then there is a class of genie represented by snakes.⁶ Each of the gods

4 "If a man lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death." Lev 20:13

5 This may be the source of the Biblical prohibition against man lying with beasts. Most Hindus believe that in an earlier life they were beasts.

6 Hindu worship is represented by the "serpent" - Eve was deceived by a serpent. Also, "God ordered Satan to show himself to Adam ... And God said to Adam, 'Look at this devil ... and look O Adam, at him who said that he is God! Can God be black? Would God take the form of a woman?'" II Adam & Eve 4:1- 4. This describes Kali, wife of Siva, who is both female and black. The "serpent" has always been the enemy of the WORD. It is also interesting to know that Genii are basic in Islamic beliefs.

has a wife. From this is further division of both the male and the female attributes of the god. Added to this is a veritable army of local saints or deities. Millions of Hindus acknowledge Siva and Vishnu - but it is the local saint that looks after the village when it is in trouble ("In India the perfect Masters are referred to as Saints." Yoga & Christianity, p. 42). The local saint is the one they pray to. There are thousands of major and minor gods, all resting comfortably and on a first name basis in the oneness of the Hindu pantheon.⁷

Caste System

In the second millennium B.C., early Aryan Brahman invaders established the caste system to prevent racial interbreeding. White Brahman aryan were at the top and the black Dravidians were at the bottom. History teaches that two races cannot occupy the same land without interbreeding⁸ and in time the caste system failed to maintain racial purity. Pictures of modern members of the Brahma caste, such as Mahatma Ghandi, show him to be obviously of mixed race. India's four basic castes today more accurately reflect "protected occupations" - "caste occupational unions", if you will, rather than "racial" castes..

The four basic castes are (1) Brahmans - or priests; (2) the warrior and ruler caste; (3) the merchants and farmers; and (4) the peasants and laborers. The "untouchables," those whose occupations require them to handle unclean objects,

In practice, Brahmans occupy the first two castes. The Brahman priests of the first caste rule through their claim to be the sole possessors of the knowledge of the way to salvation. The wealth accumulated by this caste from their religious and political activities is truly impressive. Hindu priests are not permitted to marry and consequently have no heirs to leave their wealth to (certain sects permit marriage). Most have taken an oath of poverty. The lavish offerings to the temples have accumulated wealth for the priestly caste that cannot be measured. Marco Polo tells of an invading Mongol army which used all its transport to carry the loot from a single temple. This reduced the army to want from lack of transport to carry food, causing the army to turn back. In 1880, when the price of silver reached $38 an oz., the outpouring of hoarded Indian silver broke the back of the American silver boom. It should be no surprise to find Indian immigrants to America paying cash for million dollar motels, hotels, and businesses. Brahmans are the world's original usury bankers.

One is born into the Brahma Caste. It is now a religious /economic /political /commercial caste. This caste furnishes a self-perpetuating priesthood. It is the father of the world's "episcopal religions." "Episcopal," rule from the top down vs. "Presbytery" - rule from the bottom up. Christian Episcopal sects (Catholic, Episcopal, Methodist, etc.) and other episcopal religions allege that their priesthoods receive authority from God, and have the authority to perpetuate themselves. Other Christians in opposition insist that "In the beginning was the WORD, and the word was with God, and the WORD was God." John 1:1 and the WORD - Jesus Christ "... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father." Rev 1:5-6. Thus, each man is appointed by God to be a king and priest.

He recognizes no superior but the WORD who is God himself.

Magicians

Teachers, who by word or deed gain a substantial following, may be elevated to the priestly caste.

The teacher who openly or secretly gathers followers to Lord Brahma, from whatever religious background, may be elevated to the Brahman caste.⁹ Bringing successful religious leaders into the ruling Brahma caste results in more wealth accruing to the ruling caste. Hindu temples are notorious for their accumulation of lucre.¹⁰

Feats performed by Yoga adepts often border on the miraculous - the ability to move articles without touching them, springing 10 feet into the air, etc. Hindus devoutly follow the almanac. Astrology is part of their life. They refuse to do things during inauspicious times. It is noteworthy that President Reagan was greatly influenced by his wife who followed a teacher of signs in California.¹¹

Reincarnation

The second forming belief is that of rebirth. Hindus be-

9 The book mentioned earlier, "Yoga And The Bible," may be described as a Hindu to Christian primer.

10 Unless corrupt enough to be an embarrassment, televangelists are immune from really hard criticism. They bless "political correctness" and give god's blessing to practices and individuals the Christian God rejects.

11 (1) "Thou shall not be found among you anyone ... that useth divination (ouija boards, taro cards, fortune telling), or an observer of times (horoscopes), or an enchanter (Hex, voodoo) or a witch (witches, witchcraft). Or a charmer (potions), or a consulter (fortune teller), or a wizard, or a necromancer (contact with the dead)." Deu 18:10, (2) "A man also or woman that hath a familiar spirit (medium), or that is a wizard, shall surely be put to death." Lev 20:27

lieve, in the words of Guru Nanak: "Our life is the farm where the seeds of karma are sown." A person is the sum total of his past lives, and that when he dies he will be reborn as another human or animal to continue his odyssey until he gets life right. This is his "karma." The result is a veneration of all living things and an absolute refusal to kill the smallest animal if at all possible. There are cases where people starved while cows grew fat.¹²

It is difficult not to attach too much importance in reincarnation. The "caste system" and "reincarnation" permeates Indian life. A devout Indian will cause his body to be burnt at death rather than have it placed in the ground where worms will feed upon it, and after having consumed it - starve. The starvation death of the worms will rest at the feet of the departed who did not make arrangements to have his body cremated.

Yoga

Actions committed in past lifetimes result in present events (Karma). Release from the cycle of death and rebirth is accomplished by practices called YOGA. Liberation from the cycle is the core of Indian philosophy. Yoga practices are supposed to subdue and train mind and body to the place where the individual no longer needs to be reincarnated and can merge with the Brahma. Most of its practices are practical. Some quite beneficial. Its devotees may sit and hum "om" in unison to develop close attention and harmony. "Oma" is the name of the consort of Siva, the mother goddess, whose other name is "Kali," the goddess of death.

To reach the Divine Spirit one must have a perfect Master to lead and teach him.¹³

Accepting an earthly "master" to direct one to "the way" forces one to accept the teachings of the Master as revelations from god. This is in direct opposition to the Christian belief that there is no priest between the Christian and God, since God made the Christian both king and priest.¹⁴ Astrology is also forbidden to Christians because it too can become a master (Deut 18:10- 11).

Hare Krishna

Hare Krishna is a Hindu movement founded in 1965 in the US. The name comes from the chant "nantra Hare Krishna" (meaning "O Lord Krishna") chanted by group members. The repetitious chant brings merit to the worshiper. They are Hindu proselyters who actively seek converts. In the mid 1980s the movement had more than 200 centers worldwide. In the US, internal disputes resulted in a number of killings and allegations of sexual misconduct. In spite of the stated ideals of "honesty," "courage," "service," "faith," "self-control," "purity," and "nonviolence" - Hinduism does have a violent face, a face carefully concealed behind the professions of "love" and desire for "peace."¹⁵

13 "The living Masters who now carry on the Father's work are the modern Christs, the elder brothers, and saviors of mankind." (Yoga & the Bible, p. 54); "Inwardly, the Masters are one with the universal Holy Spirit ... They are the Word personified, or in the Biblical phrase, the Word made flesh which dwells among us." (Yoga & the Bible, p. 56)

14 "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings & priests unto God and his Father." Rev 1:5-6

The Hindu ritual, quietly promoted by followers using its unlimited wealth, permeates Christendom. Jewish Rabbis claim to have received special instructions from god while in heaven during a previous existence. The Catholic Pope claims to be god's infallible representative on earth. The Brahma caste claims its divinity from god. It has been said that there are more Hindu-christian priests in the West than followers of Yahweh.¹⁶

Buddha - Christian Saint

"The strange parallel between Buddhistic ritual, discipline, and costume, and those which especially claim the name of CATHOLIC in the Christian Church, has been often noticed; and though the parallel has never been elaborated as it might be, some of the more salient facts are familiar to most readers. Still, many may be unaware that Buddha himself, Siddhárta the son of Súdodhana, has found his way into the Roman martyrology as a Saint of the Church."¹⁷

"... it was Professor Max Müller, who ... who first pointed out the strange fact - almost incredible, were it not for the completeness of the proof - that Gotama the Buddha, under the name of St. Josaphat, is now officially recognized and honored and worshipped throughout the whole of Catholic Christendom as a Christian saint!"¹⁸

15 The "love" of the Hindu is uncritical and total. Opposed to that is Christian love which is one kind only, "If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15

16 Christians, finding comparisons with Hindu-christians distasteful, often refer to the "Word made flesh" by the ancient title "Yahweh."

17 Marco Polo, Book 3, Chap XV. p. 324n, Yule-Cordier Edition, Dover Pub, NY 1993

18 Ibid. p. 326

From its inception, the papacy has been occupied largely by strangers.¹⁹ There have been Edomite-Jewish popes, innumerable "christianized" tartar popes from the descendants of the tartar invaders of Southern Italy, and the present pope is a christianized Slav. The church does many things forbidden by the Christian religion but permitted by the Hindu religion, including the operation of usury banks,²⁰ and, forbidding its priests to marry.²¹ The result of this can be seen on the front page as pedophiles and lechers are exposed to light. Some believe that the Catholic, Eastern Orthodox, and most protestant churches follow Hindu practices even more than their own Christian teachings.

The insistence of certain "Christian" sects on incorporating the Hindu practice of auricular confession makes those sects the most effective intelligence-gathering organizations in the world. "Confession" makes a security risk of anyone making such confession. The intelligence gathered daily from millions of unknowing "agents" makes that organization gathering the information invincible in politics and business. There is no business deal, political decision, war, revolution, drug operation, or moral peccadillo of the high and mighty that is not known to religious and political organizations which require "confession" from its followers, and who use this knowledge to advance its program.

19 "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zūwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15

20 "Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13

The West Adopts Hinduism

From the time of Alexander's return from India in the 3rd century BC, the classical religions of Greece and Rome bore all the hallmarks of the Hindu religion. The world was in complete subjection to Rome and her gods and the Roman gods were likenesses of Hindu gods. To change this world Jesus Christ came with the WORD. The WORD was entirely different.

Early Christians, influenced by Hindu teachings, ignored Christ's warning, "Go ye not into the way of the gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not; But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 10:5-6. "Cast (not) ye your pearls before swine (unclean /reincarnated), lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you." Matt 7:6. "Ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves." Matt 23:15. They took the Word not only to Israel in dispersion, but to strangers in Rome, Egypt, and elsewhere. Travelers, traders, and would-be holy men took the WORD to the Hindus of India. The Hindus of India accepted and absorbed this new religion with delight. Millions of Indians began to worship this new manifestation of Siva now incarnated as "Jesus." This new religion created not a ripple on the waters of Hinduism. Jesus, "the WORD made flesh" passed through the Hindu filter and became Jesus, another Hindu god requiring the same processions, incense, temples, images, pilgrimages, and priesthood that all gods are entitled to (see footnote #13).

The emperor of Rome was Constantine, an evil man who murdered his wife and eldest son. He wished to displace the disruptive Christian WORD of Jesus Christ which was causing much discord within the Roman Empire. The Hindu variation of Christianity filled the bill exactly. It was episcopal - the Emperor could be its head - and so much like the existing religion of Rome that there would be no cultural shock - so it was adopted by decree. The existing priesthood, which doubled as the Roman Civil Service, took ecclesiastical titles and the Roman provinces were renamed "dioceses." Jesus was now Brahma, and galleries of saints replaced the pantheon of countless gods in the same temples.

To prevent the newly suppressed "Jesus the Word" from reemerging - study of the WORD was made a capital offense. Violators were put to death. All went on as before. Just the names were changed. The rituals remained the same.

Buddhism

The Hindu religion goes back into antiquity four or five thousand years and has spawned many sects. One of the best known is Buddhism. Buddah lived in the 6th century B.C. and discovered the middle way between harsh aestheticism on one hand and surrender to fornication and license on the other. Its followers wear yellow robes and follow most Hindu rituals.

Zionists

The "Star of David" is an ancient Tibetan Hindu holy symbol, and many Talmudic teachings, such as the reluctance to put criminals to death, parrot Hindu teachings.²²

Some believe that the Zionists have a plan for Palestine to be the headquarters of a pan-turkic confederacy, to include Mohammedans and Hindus, with themselves as leader. This appears to be in conflict with the plan of monied Hindu-Jews who plan to have Zionist Palestine integrated into a "one world." One may expect a "flat refusal" by the Zionists to be integrated to be met with "the Kahane treatment." Rabbi Kahane was shot. Separatism is not permitted in the Hindu "One World" - not even by Zionists boasting their own elitist agenda.

Tibetan Hinduism

Tibet is considered by many to be the source of Hinduism. The leader is the Dalai Lama. Tibetan Hinduism spread to China where it became extremely influential. The "confessions" required of its adherents give information to the Tibetan Dalai Lama that allow him to exercise tremendous influence within the Chinese Empire.

"Tibet, always to China a matter of prime importance by reason of the religious authority exercised by the Dalai Lama in Tibet, Mongolia and Manchuria." E/B, 14th Ed., Vol 22, Tibet, p. 183.

Hinduism permeates Chinese converts reducing them to servants of Tibet's priestly caste. This is the reason for China's military presence in that country (see footnote 2).

Taoism

Hinduism reached China and soon the indigenous Taoism was interpreted from a Hindu viewpoint. The two faces of the gods - the male and female - became the "Ying" and the "Yang" of Brahma. Much of Taoism became Hindu.

Mohammedan

The usury activity of Brahma priests spread to Babylon, and from there to Islam. As long as the Imams forbore to condemn usury, and as long as Islam remained open to the Hindu - matters rested comfortably. In time, devout Muslims attempted to enforce the Koran and coerce Hindus to accept Allah - not Allah reborn as Siva - but Allah as revealed by Mohammed. They banned usury. Hindu adherents worldwide began a "war of acceptance" against Islamic "fundamentalism." Islamic Mosques are being burned daily in India and the conflict has thus far cost millions of lives.

Sikhism

The Sikh religion is a Hindu sect born in the 15th Century. It was a revolt against the Brahma caste system and their suppression and exploitation of the Sikh peoples. While this sect is wholly acceptable to the Hindus, their practices are unacceptable to most Sikhs. The result is an ongoing war of acceptance waged by India's Hindus against the Sikh nation with Sikh temples and holy places continually being occupied by Hindu soldiers.

Hindu Tolerance

"Hinduism has absorbed much and rejected little. It has been a great proselytizing system ... It has accepted something from its opponents, but kept them at arms' length. Its strength lies in its eclecticism²² and in its insistence on the divinity of its own sacred caste, the Brahmans. ... It has undergone never-ceasing changes and is still unchanged." E/B 14th ed, Vol 12, India, Religion, p. 160.

Hindus accept all religions. They are tolerant toward the claims of rival deities. They are able to do this because they identify divine beings who are newly sprung into popular favor as the incarnation of either Vishnu or Siva. In other words, Mohammed, Buddah, and Jesus are accepted as the rebirth of a Hindu god with a new name. A follower of Islam sees Mohammed as God's spokesman. A Hindu will agree - but sees him as a reincarnation of Vishnu or Siva. The Mohammedan "Allah" is seen as Brahma. To the Hindu all is one. There is a "one world" of the gods. It is the original "ecumenism." The "one world" belief that "all gods are basically the same" is the basic Hindu belief.

This belief is diametrically opposed to the Christian belief - "No one cometh to the Father but by me." John 14:6. To the Christian, the words "Jesus" and "Father" are translated as being the actual WORD. "In the beginning was the WORD, and the word was with God, and the WORD was God." John 1:1 and "The WORD was made flesh, and dwelt among us." John 1:14. The WORD is understood to be the will of God most easily understood in the Laws, statutes, and judgments.

In spite of the clear teachings of the WORD, "secret Hindus" have converted many to the basic Hindu belief that in God - "all is one."

"Surveys show that most Protestants ... along with the Pope and liberal Roman Catholics ... maintain that members of other religions, such as Islam and Judaism, all worship the same God Christians worship but call Him by a different name." Christian News, Vol 30, No 20, May 18, 1992, p.1, RR1, Box 309A, New Haven, MO 63068.

Centripetal vs. Centrifugal Forces

Hindus endlessly speak of "tolerance" and "nonviolence," but, Hindu violence is worldwide. The thing triggers Hindu violence is - "rejection." Hinduism is a "CENTRIPETAL" force - it attracts and gathers many separate parts into one whole. A competing god who insists on remaining "separate," on being EXCLUSIVE, the ONLY god of its people, one who refuses to become one with the world force of Brahma and be integrated into the Hindu pantheon - that god is looked upon as an opposing force - a "CENTRIFICAL" force - one that tears apart the holy Hindu ecumenism. After a reasonable period of proselyting, in which every attempt is made to peacefully merge the dissident groups and their gods onto one, and the efforts have been rebuffed - that opposing god and his followers become enemies of the state (Brahma) and must be exterminated so that Brahma will not be torn apart.²³

India's Buddhists accepted the ecumenical call to become one and be absorbed into Hinduism, or were banished. Buddhism now lives only in foreign lands - Indo-China, China, and Malaysia. Christians who refused to merge were simply exterminated. The Moslems refused integration and were forced to flee for their lives. Millions fled from India into Pakistan. The millions of Mohammedans, Buddhists, and Christians who remain in India today are "integrated" into the oneness of Brahma. They are called "Moslem," "Buddhist," and "Christian," but most include Siva and Vishnu in their worship. Like many Western christians - they are Hindu - but with another name.

Wars Of Oneness

"Centripetal-oneness." Ecumenism. The gathering of many into one. This is the imperium of Hinduism. It explains wars that are otherwise inexplicable. The apparently irrational single-minded insistence on incorporating the independent and separate American states into a single union of States. The same irrational insistence to destroy the "separatist" Southern Confederacy; Brahman "oneness" explains the insistence to incorporate the independent American farms into corporate "oneness."

Brahmanism explains Britain's insistence on destroying the independent S. African farmers and integrating them into its empire; it explains the hysterical reaction to the "separatist" National Socialist Germany which tried to escape the sticky, cloying grasps of One World oneness. It explains the Brahman use of Western armies to invade and conquer Islamic Egypt, N. Africa, and Iraq. It explains the West's support of Mao's communists to exterminate China's Buddhist and Confucian landlords and priests.

Hinduism explains Perry's insistence that Japan enter the world's mainstream, and it explains the war to incorporate Somalia into a Brahman One World. the separatist family at Ruby Ridge, and the massacre of the Waco separatists. The "centripetal-force" of Hinduism explains Siva's never-ending war with anyone who wishes to pull away - the "centrifugal force" of separatism. It explains the absolute insistence on forcibly integrating America, and it explains the encouragement of illegal immigration in spite of the almost total opposition of the American public. Brahman

The Brahman caste long ago escaped from their confines in northern India and spread wherever their interests lay. The caste has accepted all of like mind as equals and now the caste includes Jews, Mohammedans, Taoists, Shintoists, Buddhists, and Christians. They require only that each acknowledge the oneness of Siva by whatever name they wish to call him.

They rule the world with their immeasurable wealth collected over 5000 years. Wealth itself is power, they need no armies of their own when the armies of the world are theirs whenever they choose to hire them. Their interconnected usury banks are headquartered in Switzerland, Germany, England, Japan, America, and India. These banks own or control the world's corporations through stock held in hundreds of bank nominee names, and, through bank trust departments which vote corporation stock placed in their trust.

Their corporations and foundations make grants to "deserving" colleges and seminaries to teach "political correctness." They support "deserving" charities and make million dollar grants to "deserving" writers, thinkers, inventors, and politicians.

Brahmins and secret-Hindus own book /newspaper/ TV/ radio chains that channel the public's thinking. They promote reliable "televangelists" to bless their acts. "In-house politicians" are selected and elected, and, hostile politicians are defamed and defeated. The same corporations contribute to political "pac's."

World leaders are hired and fired as circumstances dictate. They are "hired help." Chairmen of corporate boards, the top bankers of the world's most prestigious bank chains, and prominent religious leaders - they too are "hired help." Powerful media billionaire owners are found to be only millionaires after they die mysteriously - and the media-chains that they were managing are revealed to be owned by Brahman banks. Most "billionaire world leaders" are just managers - "hired help."

True Brahmans, the owners of the world, have no face that is readily recognizable. They have ruled the world for millennia - they need no worship from their wage slaves.

All Gods Are One

As Siva does - so do they. Siva does not condemn homosexuality, pedophilia, or infidelity - neither do the Brahmans. Siva attacks "theistic"²⁵ religions - so do they. Siva smashes and obliterates "separatism" so that Siva can live - so do they. This is the reason the Christian nations of separatist Western peoples are marked for destruction. Christian people have always rejected other gods. They are Christian or nothing.

²⁵ "One god" which excludes others.

This racial trait is the reason they have been condemned to death.²⁶

Fingering Secret-Hindu Priests

Christians love "God the WORD."

*(1) "If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15, (20

The hallmark of secret-Hindus is their insistence on "integration" - the integration of practices, beliefs, things and persons cursed by the WORD.

In Islam, Islamic-Muslim "separatists" are holding the "one world" Muslim-Hindus responsible for placing the rest of them in bondage to foreigners. ratists" are beginning to hold White "integrationists" responsible.

In the rest of the West, Christians of the WORD are beginning to question and hold secret-Hindu integrationists responsible for the age of chaos they have unleashed on the world.

The password for all the peoples of the world who would be free of each other and free of the oneness of Brahma, Siva, and Vishnu is - SEPARATISM!

The WORD prophesies what will happen to those who refuse:

PIG

I have received a number of requests to comment on the latest food controversy. The reluctance I have to becoming involved in this, following on the heels of the Sabbath controversy, is due to the respect I have for the professional competence of the writer of the following lines, whose suggestions may have saved the life of one of my children, and the tremendous historical precedent supporting the other side. Excerpted for brevity, the parties speak for themselves. You, the reader, is the one appointed king and priest by your God - you judge.¹

Pork-Beef Capsules

"The issue is the using of gelatin capsules for health food items. The capsules are a mixture of beef and pork gelatin. ...

"Gelatin is derived from the heating up of skin and bones from cattle and pigs in water and hydrochloric acid. The chemical name for gelatin is collagen - a fibrous protein found in connective tissue, bone and cartilage. ... That is all it is. Just amino acids The gelatin in these capsules has to be of high purity to form properly and not break. ... we have this pure compound collagen. Essentially, nothing else, just collagen. Is this a pig anymore? It doesn't look like it to me. ...

"We are left with ... 50 milligrams of collagen (gelatin) which is 1/600th of an ounce which has 1/1200th of an ounce of pork gelatin. ..."

He is not saying the food laws are not in effect, nor am I." Scriptures for America, p.9, P.O. Box 766, LaPorte, Colo 80535

The Law

"Thou shalt not eat any abominable thing. ... the swine, because it divideth the hoof, yet cheweth not the cud, it is unclean unto you: ye shall not eat of their flesh, nor touch their dead carcase." Deut 14:3,8. "Ye shall not eat ... the swine, though he divide the hoof, and be clovenfooted, yet he cheweth not the cud; he is unclean to you." Lev 11:4,7

Next to this last quote in the margin of the Geneva Bible, John Knox, John Calvin and the other reformers left a note to enable the reader to gain a better understanding of Lev 11:4, 7. The note said simply: "2 Mac 6:18."

"Maccabees," is one of the 10 books censored from the KJ Bible in 1825. It tells of the wars and tribulation that befell the people of Israel after 50,000 of them returned from captivity to rebuild the temple. Note that the following story revolve about the attempt to make a venerable old man eat swine, or failing that, to just pretend to eat swine.²

Eleazar - The Old Man

"Eleazer, one of the principal scribes, was constrained to open his mouth and to eat swine's flesh. But he, choosing rather to die glorious, than to live stained with such an abomination, spit it forth, and came of his own accord to the torment...."

"But they that had the charge of that wicked feast, for the old acquaintance they had with the man, taking him aside, besought him to bring flesh of his own provision, such as was lawful for him to use, and make as if he did eat of the flesh taken from the sacrifice commanded by the king; That in so doing he might be delivered from death, and for the old friendship with them find favour."

"But he began to consider ... the holy law made and given by God: therefore he answered accordingly, and willed them straightways to send him to the grave. For it becometh not ... Whereby many young persons might think that Eleazer, being fourscore years old and ten, were now gone to a strange religion;

"And ... through mine hypocrisy, and desire to live a little time and a moment longer, should ... get a stain to mine old age ... For though ... I should be delivered from the punishment of men: yet should I not escape the hand of the Almighty, ... Wherefore ... I die willingly ... for the honorable and holy laws ..."

"They that led him changing the good will they bare him a little before into hatred ... proceeded ... And thus this man died, leaving his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memorial of virtue, not only unto young men, but unto all his nation." II Mac 6:18-31

In the next story, the alien king made eating swine a "litmus test." Those who would - served him. Those who wouldn't - were traitors.

² Apocrypha, PO Box 997, Lynchburg, VA 24505, $15/copy

The Mother & Her 7 Sons

"Seven brethren and their mother were taken and compelled by the king against the law to taste swine's flesh, and were tormented with ... whips. One of them ... spake ... We are ready to die, rather than to transgress the laws of our fathers ...

"Then the king ... commanded ... to cut out the tongue ... and the outermost parts of his body ... he commanded him yet being alive to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in a pan (and this he did to each of the six brothers).

"... Whilst the youngest was yet alive (the king said that) he would make him both a rich and happy man, if he would turn from the laws of his fathers ... But ... the young man would in no case harken unto him ... the king called the mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the young man to save his life ...

"But, she ... spake ..., Fear not the tormentor, but being worthy of thy brethren, take thy death, that I may receive thee again in mercy with thy brethren ... The young man said ... I will not obey the king ... but I will obey ... the law ... I, as my brethren, offer up my body and life for the laws of our fathers ... and that by torments and plagues confess, that he alone is God: ...

"So this man died undefiled ... last ... the mother died." II Maccabees 7:1-41

All these attempts to force a Law violation on the people bore fruit in the case of the old man Mattathias.

Mattathias

"King Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom, that all should be one people, And every one should leave his laws. ... Yea, many also of the Israelites consented to his religion, ... for the king had sent letters unto the cities of Juda, that they should follow the strange laws of the land ... and sacrifice swine's flesh ... To the end they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances. ...

"In those days arose Mattathias ... and he had five sons... The king's officers came into the city Modin, to make them sacrifice.

"Then ... said the king's officers ... to Mattathias ... Thou art a ruler, and an honorable and great man in this city ... Now ... fulfil the king's commandment ... and thou and thy children shall be honored with silver and gold, and many rewards. ...

"Matthias answered ... Though all the nations that are under the kings dominion obey him, and fall away everyone from the religion of their fathers ... Yet will I and my sons ... walk in the the covenant of our fathers. God forbid that we should forsake the law and the ordinances. ..." I Mac 1:41-2:21

Then, Mattathias rose in wrath against the king's officers and his defiance commensed the Maccabean Wars.

From the above examples it is clear that not only pork, but even the appearance of the eating of pork is fraught with consequence for those who cherish the history of our fathers.

Clarification

A phone call to the writer of the first paragraphs clarified much. His above statement answered the "disagreement" and neglected the "agreements."

There are TWO kinds of gelcaps. One "beef" - the other "pork- beef." Gelcaps come in different sizes because different dosages are needed. One - the beef-gelcap - presents no problem. Those offended by the other - the "pork-beef gelcap" - may pull it apart and take the dosage and discard the gelcap. The writer said that he would be glad to tell which capsule is the "pork- beef" capsule. Those offended by touching the pork-beef capsule should be able to work out some other method with the writer.

The writer and I agreed that the establishment often attempts to present us a choice which would force us to violate the WORD - thereby causing us to fight God.

Summery

The WORD states that "The WORD was God," John 1:1 and that according to the reformers³ "A prooffe: because the Lawmaker ... and the body of the Law cannot be divided." The Law is the Law - the Law is God. A violation of the Law is an assault on the body of God - an unspeakable act. No one intends to do that.

We are all agreed that we are working for "Thy will be done - on Earth!" Incidents such as the one above are good because they force us to use our knowledge, our study, and our authority as "kings and priests" to come to conclusions that are expected of "kings and priests." In time we will develop a unanimity of belief. In the meantime - let us work to learn what God requires of us.

DNA

The papers carried an article about "Melungians," a group of people living in the mountains of SW Virginia who claimed descent from Spanish settled in South Carolina in the late 1500s. They are olive skinned, live apart, and have different ways from their neighbors. The article listed doctors and scientists working with the project-manager to try to prove their ancestry.

I called the man leading the project. He was a "Melungian" himself. Nice chap. He said that blood typing had already revealed that his people were descended from Morescos, Maranos and the general blood groups found in southern Spain and North Africa. He was now trying to get DNA confirmation.

I called one DNA source he gave. The source refused to comment saying that he might be accused of making a political statement regarding race. I called a phone book police source next. Beating around the bush I asked his opinion about a problem I had been told about in Philadelphia - the one where someone looking white applied for and got a "blacks only" job with the fire department. It seems that there, it has been alleged that only blacks are hired as firefighters. The new "white" guy applying for a job said he was black and got a job. The blacks wanted him DNA tested to see if he really did have any black blood. The last I had heard the case was pending. I asked the police source on the phone if it were possible to find this out whether the man was Black or White by DNA testing? Without hesitation he replied - "definitely!"

Next, I called a museum curator and asked him the same questions. His answer was wishy-washy. He indicated that DNA testing gave them the information they wanted for museum purposes, but declined to give any opinion on any theoretical questions.

Next, I called a medical doctor who is supposed to be one of the best authorities on DNA in the country and posed the "Philadelphia question" to him. His answer was involved.

He said that in his opinion present-day DNA testing is too expensive - about $250 per case. Most work is done for forensic purposes by police departments, which is limited. But, a data base is slowly being gathered. Until databases are sufficiently large, it will be difficult to really come up with definite opinions.

He gave an example. The DNA for a black will have certain definite distinctive characteristics. The testing will show the same characteristics for thousands of blacks tested. But, all of sudden, you can run across a single case in which one coal-black Negro has no black DNA characteristics that one has learned to expect from Blacks. How can this be? But there it is!

The doctor was certain that in time other fringe characteristics among the 2 million or so characteristics carried by DNA will be identified so as to correct the occasional rare aberration of this sort, but now, he felt that what is needed is "data, data, and still more data." The doctor also felt that experiments should be widened to include other DNA interests than those demanded by the police.

CONCLUSION: From the reading and conversations I have done on DNA to date; I believe that the day will soon come when there will be few genetic secrets - that the sweat from a fingerprint, a bit of hair, blood, or skin, will reveal everything about a person and his ancestors. This information will be of immense value to those who want peace on earth, which can only come from "separation":

(1) "Come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord." 2 Cor 6:17. (2) "For thou didst separate them from all the people of the world to be thine inheritance." 1 Ki 8:51

SAME CONFESSION: "Dear Dick: Alcoholics Anonymous and the Masons both embrace whatever god the individual confesses to be god. This could be Buddah, Krishu, or Allah. Isn't this basic Hindu belief?" K. K. - Maryland

RKH: You got it.

SECOND TRUTH: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: What is a 2nd truth lie?" A. M. - Tennessee

RKH: Preachers used to first state the Law, and second, read a parable from the Bible to illustrate. Today, "politically correct" preachers omit the first part - the Law, and read the 2nd part - a parable, sometimes from the Bible. Without the Law, most parables can mean whatever the preacher says it means. This is a 2nd truth lie.

RIGHT WING: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: It is my opinion that there will never be a merging of interest between the political right wing and the religious right wing in this country. The political right wing has no new ideas. Those they do have will put the country right back in the same trouble it is in today."
F. D. - Wisconsin

RKH: I agree. The political right wing's lack of imagination will keep the existing monolithic organization with themselves as its kings. That's what we are fighting against now. I sympathize with "national socialism" only as so far as to agree that being ruled by our own people is better than being ruled by aliens. But, that's as far as I am willing to go. Today's right-wing would replace today's socialist governments with themselves. On the other hand, the religious right wishes to dismantle the entire socialist empire down to the Biblical self-sufficient freehold farm with every man a king and a priest.

INSPIRED BOOKS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Who selected the books of the Bible to be 'inspired.?'"
W. W. - Oregon

RKH: The same ones who issue "safe-conduct" passes to wolves to enter sheepfolds to eat sheep.

CONTROVERSY: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The fact that Christians will bicker over the Sabbath is ridiculous. I believe it reveals apostate Christianity. No one can make me believe that God would have us expending our energies on such things. There are also controversies over Feast Days, Sacred Name, Baptism, etc. ad nauseam. This division and schism in the household of God is against his WORD!

"Our women and girls are being raped on our streets, our nation is being plundered by thieves, aliens rule our land, and perverts claim to represent the WORD of God - HOW can such divisions be at issue with our people.

"These things are rituals. They are good only in that they are symbolic of higher things. They are a 'confirmation.' Even John the Baptist said that baptism was nothing compared to Christ's Baptism (Matt 3:11-12). That Baptism takes place in your mind. Or, what of the "sacred name." He is called many names. The point is, He doesn't care what you call Him - He only wants us to follow his commandments (Matt 12:46-50).

"I agree with you - any Sabbath is fine as long as we worship Him in truth. Hair splitting is a luxury to be enjoyed by a nation living under God's Laws. This one isn't.

"It is our job as Christians to Witness to the Truth. If anyone out there is not doing something - anything - each day, or at least each week to awaken our people, then he is a phony Christian and a no good son of God. It's time we put away the divisions and schisms, and put on the Word of God." David Tate. Youngest Member of "The Order" - Missouri.

Chapter 234

THE GOTHS

"The Saxons were a German or Teutonic, that is, a Gothic or Scythian tribe."¹ The name "Goth" means "God's people," and, the "Good People." "They shall put my name upon the children of Israel." Num 6:27

The words Scythian, Saxon, and Goth are interchangeable. A more recent name has been added - "German." This name was given the west Goths by the Romans.

Readers will remember the story of the Battle of the Catalonian Fields (August 1992), in which more than a million men fought, and perhaps half that number died. On one side were the invading Turkic Hun horde allied with their enemies the Ostro-Goths and others. On the Gothic side were the Visi-Goths allied with their ancient enemies - the Romans.

Leaving their overcrowded homelands in the north, the Goths used the Russian rivers to retrace the journey their ancestors had made 700 years earlier, and settled the vacant lands in the Crimea on the north side of the Black Sea.

During the years 7 B.C. to 17 A.D. the Goths first came to the attention of Roman historians as living in the area from Pomerania to W. Prussia on the Baltic Sea.² The reason that they moved was:

"Overpopulation led the people to draw lots and the inhabitants thus chosen emigrated. Their wanderings are said to have taken them across southern Russia into Greece."³

Those chosen to move boarded "dragon ships." Instead of sailing out into the North Sea and on into the Atlantic Ocean they sailed up the Vistula River. When they could go up-river no further they drew their ships ashore and put them on wheeled cradles, and oxen dragged the ships overland to a Russian river that flowed south.

Again boarding ship, they sailed down river until they reached the Crimea - on the Black Sea. The land was rich, and vacant, so they landed, put plows into the ground and begin developing their new home. There were repeated arrivals of Goths from about 238 A.D., each group going farther afield searching for suitable land to settle. By 253 some groups had gone as far as Greece and, crossing the Black Sea, they ventured down into Asia Minor. By 268 the Gothic advance had reached the Aegean Sea - deep into the territory of the E. Roman Empire. These new arrivals were trespassing and so the Empire reacted by sending armies to enforce their territorial integrity. This led to a series of wars between the Goth nation and Rome.

The Hunnic Attack On The Goths

The Goths had been ensconced in their new homes for little more than a century when in 375 a new and lethal enemy burst into their rear.

These were Huns. The Huns had complete knowledge about the Goths, their numbers, disposition, wealth, and their method of warfare, but the Goths had never heard of the Huns before. They had received no advance notice of their arrival - no warning. There was not even knowledge that such a people existed.

The Huns arrived one morning in numbers like locusts, riding little ponies, and after launching a swarm of arrows - fiercely attacked anyone in their path. They were not like any people the Goths had met before. They were extremely mobile and favored long-range fighting with the bow. Although quick to dispatch isolated groups with sword and lance, when they could they put captives to death in a barbaric manner.

Sailing up the Baltic rivers as far as they could go, the Goths pulled their ships overland to nearby Russian rivers that ran south - and sailed on down to their final destinations. The Black Sea could also be reached by sailing from the North Sea south to the Rhine River. Then, sailing up the Rhine as far as possible and transferring over to the Danube and on down to the Black Sea. Both the northern and the southern river routes had been well used for hundreds of years, and are still.

The Goths had traditionally fought in the forest and on the sea. They were now living on the open steppes and had developed no way to effectively fight this new enemy whose method of war was adapted to the wide open spaces of Asia - who were fifty miles away one day - at one's doorstep the next - and thirty miles away in the opposite direction the day after. The Goths were afoot and this fearsome enemy was mounted. While Gothic infantry was formidable, the Huns would not fight unbroken infantry. They surrounded such groups and rained a torrent of arrows on them until there was sign of disorder, upon which signal, they charged with sword and lance.

Individual Gothic homesteads and small settlements were overwhelmed and subjected to ghastly treatment by the Huns, and thousands more poured past on their way to the heartlands of the Goths.

Overnight, the Crimean Goths found themselves inundated in a sea of Huns and fighting for their very existence. Before they could mount an effective defense, half were overrun and made captive. The rest escaped by leaving everything and fleeing for their lives.

Ostrogoths

The Goths who were overrun in the years 375-377, the eastern Goths or the original East-Germans, became suzerain to the Huns and from this time on were known as "Ostrogoths." In exchange for their lives, they gave hostages to the Huns, and received "relative freedom" for agreeing to acknowledge the Huns as their masters; to fight for them when called upon, and to enforce whatever rules and policy the Huns dictated to them.

The Goths gave their word, a sacred act among the Goths, and they rendered loyal service to the Huns - even to fighting their brothers the Visigoths, who had escaped from Hun captivity.⁴ Privately, however, the Ostrogoths agreed among themselves that if they ever escaped the yoke of the Huns they would never allow themselves to be made captive by them

Leaving the borders of China, the Huns migrated toward earlier prey. Marching unseen through the Mongolian deserts, north of the Iranian and Iraqi deserts, the arrived completely unannounced in the rear of the Goths, who were occupied with the Romans. The Hunnic attack was devastating.

The Ostrogoths were quickly instructed in the military by their conquerors. They were equipped with horses in the Hun manner, and with bows and lances. They were introduced to the mobile mounted tactics of the Huns, and to their highly developed horn-braced bow, and learned to wield it from horseback. This allowed them to effectively fight for the Huns with massed firepower that often overwhelmed the more advanced armor, tactics, and might of enemies who were 5 Informers reported this oath to the Huns, but since Goths were known to take great pride in honoring their oaths, the Huns ignored the report. Of course, honoring an oath to a lawless people, an oath that violates the Law "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zūwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15, effectively prevented effective resistance to their oppressors.

Visigoths

There was an instant transformation in the escaping Goths' method of warfare and civilization. From an agricultural nation rooted to the soil, they became a mobile nation at war. Farms vanished. Every man, woman, and child became a member of their mobile army. Adopting the Hun horse, wagon, lance, and most of his tactics - they became devoted practitioners of what worked for the Huns. They improved certain of their new adaptations to give them an edge - to stay a jump ahead of their fearsome enemy. Metal plates were sewn to their leather armor to help turn Hun arrows. Long-lances were adapted to outreach shorter Hun lances. To counter the Hun "open order" attack - they adopted the tactic of mass- attack designed to run over the enemy not nimble enough to get out of their way.

Part of the mounted Goths dismounted to fight behind wagons or to become infantry stationed behind hedgerows of spears. While waiting for a chance to use their spears and swords they doubled as archers, while protecting themselves by shields to make the Hun mounted archery less effective. Thus, the infantry protected the wagons, the wagons protected the cavalry, and the cavalry protected the infantry. Both mounted infantry and cavalry soon matched the Huns in long marches.

The Danube - Gateway To The West

The Danube River was the boundary that protected Rome's eastern empire. Most of the land on the Roman side of the Danube lay vacant because Roman tax collectors had long before foreclosed the Roman farmers and had driven them from the land. The Visigoths offered their service as warriors to guard the Danube defenses against the advancing Huns in exchange for the right to settle and farm this vacant land. Of course, they needed food until the first crops came in.

This was agreeable to the Roman leaders who were forever short of soldiers, so they agreed to allow the Goths to cross the river and settle. They also agreed to feed them until their first crops came in the following year. Funds were allocated for this purpose and given to Roman officials to buy food. But, instead of buying food, these Imperial officers embezzled the funds for their own purposes, leaving the Goths to

Adrianople - 378

The Visigoths had given their word. They were trying to live up to it, but the Romans were not living up to their part of the contract - to bring food. The Visigoths were starving. They waited as long as they could and so they requisitioned food from the Roman countryside to stay alive. They were joined in this looting by scattered groups of kinsmen Ostrogoths, and independent groups of Huns and Alani who had found the Visigoth passage across the Danube and had followed them. The Visigoths were now at war with the Romans.

The Goths could not re-cross the Danube - the Huns were waiting for them. They could not stay where they were - there was no food. So, they loaded their women and children in wagons and continued in the direction of Constantinople, the capitol of the Eastern Empire, eating up the countryside as they went.

To meet this invasion the Empire fielded an army and marched to meet the Visigoths. The two armies met on August 9, 378 west of Constantinople, at a town called Adrianople.

The Romans deployed their incomparable legions, and opened the battle with the barritus, the ancient German warrior battle song. The song began quietly and gradually swelled to a thundering roar, which revealed just how German the Roman troops really were. They then commenced their irresistible advance against the Visigoths and their allies.

The Visigoths also sang their war song in praise of their ancestor's exploits.⁷ They had circled their wagons, stationed infantry to defend the gaps between the wagons, and waited. The Roman infantry reached the wall of wagons and hesitated - seeing no way of entry. While their efforts were concentrated against the wagons, Visigoth heavy cavalry rode from behind the wagons, charged the Roman cavalry armed with short javelins, and rode right over it. They then instantly reversed field and smashed into the Roman right flank, rolling it up. One Gothic regiment detached itself from the battle and circled behind the Roman lines to fall on the Roman left flank which it also rolled up. This was the first time in history that a Roman legion had been assaulted by mounted Gothic heavy cavalry armed with long lances that were pushed through infantry formations by the weight of charging horses. It was also the first charge of mounted Western chivalry that began the thousand-year reign of the mounted Christian knight.

With the lines shattered, the Visigoth infantry sallied forth from their wagon fortresses into the broken Roman lines. The battle degenerated into a massacre. Among the dead were the Roman emperor and 35 of his high ranking officers. Only the badly mauled Roman cavalry and less than 1/3 of the infantry survived. The Visigoths had shattered the defenses of the Roman empire - and in the process opened the door wide for the following Huns.

and parts of the Balkans. One thing not noted by historians is that the Germans and the Goths were different branches of the same people. One could call the Goths the early "East Germans" and those from Germany - the early "West Germans."

River Travel & Viking Ships

From time immemorial the Goths traveled and traded on the Russian and European rivers. Their ships are described as flat bottomed with figures at the bow and stern, and large enough to transport 25 or 30 men. This is the description of a Viking ship! The Viking ship was born on the rivers of Russia where shallow draft flat-bottomed boats were an absolute necessity. The exploits of the later Vikings were due more to the intrepid men than the flat-bottomed river boats that they sailed.

Genesis

Where did these river people come from? This seldom-asked question is answered in II Esdras 13:39-45:

"The 10 tribes, which were carried away prisoners out of their own land ... whom Salmanasar the king of Assyria led away captive ... They took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never mankind dwelt, That they might there keep their statutes, which they never kept in their own land. And they entered into Euphrates by the narrow passages of the river. ... For through that country there was a great way to go, namely of a year and a half:⁸

II Esdras quoted above is in the Apocrypha - one of the 10 books removed from the KJ Bible in 1825. It is little wonder that people know so little about themselves.

Josephus wrote the following only 300-400 years before the Goths arrived on the stage of history:

"There are but two tribes in Asia and Europe subject to the Romans, while the 10 tribes are beyond Euphrates till now and are an immense multitude." Josephus, Antiquities 10, 5, 2.

The two captive tribes mentioned must have been the Israelites in Palestine and the people of Britain and Gaul subject to the Romans. The 10 tribes beyond the Euphrates are obviously the Scythian-Saxon-Goths. There was only one other large group of people in that region who were called "Sarmations" whom we believe to be the ancestors of the Slavs.

River Highways

Look closely at the map of the Black Sea on p. 2. The great river flowing in from the west is the Danube. One could sail up that river as far as he could, hike 30 miles over to the Rhine River, and sail down to the North Sea, and save hundreds of miles of dangerous ocean travel. This was done on a regular basis. The Romans were forced to keep a large fleet on the Danube to stop this river traffic.

River Fork Trading Posts

The Russian rivers were the same. One would sail up a river as far as possible, put his ship on cradles and have oxen pull it a few miles to a river flowing in the opposite direction, and sail on down to the final destination. This travel had been going on for centuries.

8 Traveling only 8 miles a day, 1641 miles could have been covered in a year and a half, and Israel's captivity took place 700 years before Christ.

Wherever two rivers came together one found a trading post. These trading posts in time grew into villages and towns. They too had been there for centuries. Gothland, early Gotland, or later Russland or Russia, was a series of towns and trading posts scattered alongside rivers all over the immense land area of Russia.

Goth-Slav Relationship

The Slav-Goth, or Slav-Russ, relationship is ancient. Respect has always been rendered between the two - and a reluctance to push differences to the point of confrontation if at all possible. While the Goths settled on farms and villages located on the Russian rivers, the Slavs migrated over the endless steppes, seldom coming in contact with Goth settlements - unless there was a reason to.

Slavs have many admirable qualities, but self-discipline is not one of them. When they drink they tend to drink too much, when they fight their fights can degenerate into massacres. When they rule, they are often oppressive. This lack of organization tended to make them easy prey for roving Turkic nomads who captured Slavs as slaves - which gave them their name - "Slav."

In time, many of the weaker bands sought protection from their more aggressive fellows and Turkic raiders by placing themselves under the protection of the Goths. This was the basis of the ancient Goth-Slav alliance. The Turk was the common enemy.

Vikings

The Russian rivers were Gothic highways. There were few men living on the Baltic in the far north who had not made the voyage to the Black Sea. Those living in the Baltic traveled out to the North Sea and up the rivers deep into the heart of Germany. The Romans named them - "Germans."⁹

These Gothic-Germans in the north heard about vacant land in France, Spain, and Italy, and their younger sons journeyed to take possession. Roman armies were paid to protect these vacant lands for their absentee landlords. These armies were a nuisance and were looked on in the same way American settlers looked on the American Indians who stood in the way of gaining land for their own - just obstacles to be overcome.

By this time the Roman Empire was a hollow shell. There were no Romans left and soldiers were scarce. Many of these would-be Germans settlers found it more profitable to serve in the Roman armies. It was these "western-Goth" soldiers, or "Germans," who faced the Eastern-Goths, or "Ostrogoths," at the battle of Adrianople. Each sang their ancient war songs of their same ancestors.¹⁰ The Roman Empire was a land-corporation ruled by ever-changing laws, state-religion, judges, and mercenary soldiers. The people who had made it had long vanished. Its rulers were administrators who did the hiring, firing, leasing, buying and selling, and levying of taxes. It had devoured most of its own people and managed vast vacant provinces - which is what corporations do in time...

9 Thus, another name was added to describe the same people: "Goth," "Saxon," "Scythian," "Russ," "Saxons from Angleland" - "Anglo-Saxons," the "Saxons from Jutland" - or "Jutes."

10 GOD'S LAW: "Ye shall not ... fight against your brethren the children of Israel." I Kings 12:24 "Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people." Lev 19:18. "Blessed is the man who does not direct his heart with malice against any man." Enoch 44:3. Yankee and Southern Saxons may not fight. British and S. African Saxons may not fight. German, Danish, Australian, or Swedish Saxons many not fight. It is the law. EXCEPTION: "When any persons would compel us to break our laws, then it is that we choose to go to war." Josephus, Against Apion 2:38. He who would require us to break God's law is the enemy.

Later, other Goths took their flat-bottomed river boats with carved animal figures at the bow and stern and went "a'rov-ing" into the Atlantic and Mediterranean - they had gone "a'viking" in the Norse tongue. This added still another name to the long list of Gothic names - "Viking."

Hanse

Still later, the Roman religious-political system spread into the north Gothic counties and took the people's land. All land now belonged to the Roman religious corporation called the Roman Catholic Church.

Dispossessed farmers went to seaside villages. These villages grew into cities. These cities built walls and defied the rule of local princes and kings who policed provinces and collected taxes and tithes as part of their fief obligations to the Catholic Church landlord. These cities also built ships which traded with other independent cities inhabited by the descendants of these dispossessed Gothic-Saxon farmers. These ships were armed and powerful. In time many of these cities combined into an organization called the "Hanse." They formed an early monopoly to oppose the "Holy Roman Empire" and the political/economic rule of the Catholic Church. They were so successful in what they did that it is said that the price of bread remained the same for 3 centuries in the Hanseatic League.

The League included cities in Russia, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Germany, England, Holland, and France. An injury to the ships or trade of one was considered as an injury to all. They fought and won wars with some of the greatest of the European powers. Their leaders met periodically on the Island of Gottland in the Baltic Sea, and their Hanse was the most important economic power for centuries. It was not until the power of individual states grew greater than the confederation of Hanse cities that the organization declined in power and then vanished.

Hitler's Living Space - Russia

The Gothic-Russ, allied with Slavs, fought Turkic Islamic invaders almost continuously from the time of the Crusades until 1917. This alliance gradually drove Turk rule from Russia and regained the land that had been lost.

In the process, several Turkic tribes were overrun - former invaders who had moved in and settled on Gothic-Slavic land. These conquered Turks were treated as they had treated others. This heavy-handed treatment kindled smoldering fires of hatred.¹¹

Other conquered Turks, aided by kinsmen usury-bankers in the West, made alliances with disaffected Russian-Slavs to overthrow the Gothic-Russ. In 1917, they launched a successful revolution. The Goths, with few exceptions, were exterminated by the millions from the land they had occupied for thousands of years. The Slavs were left with a new master who had always hated them.

Gothic-Russ refugees brought sad tales of disaster to the German West. It was inevitable that a Western German-Goth crusade would be made to reinstate the Gothic-Russ refugees into their ancient homeland. It would also provide a home for the surplus Goth populations living in central Europe. This German-Goth crusade to the east was crushed by a Turkic-led western confederation of Gothic states. By way of punishment additional land was taken from the German and Austrian Goths and tribute has been exacted for 50 years.

Now, after a rule of 3/4 of a century, there is nothing but ruin left in Slav-Russia. The Turkic nomads are leaving. They are abandoning the land and moving on - leaving shambles behind them. Democratically "media-selected" Slav and Turk administrators are attempting to rule without traditional Gothic direction. The result is predictable.

Summary

"God's people" have eternally been told to flee their nemesis. Adam was instructed to flee Satan; Able - Cain, Jacob - Essau, the sheep - the wolf, the Christian - the Turk. Now there is no place left to flee to. This is not the fault of the Turk. God told his people not to deal with strangers.¹² The fed wolf never leaves the sheepfold. The enemy is not the wolf - it is the disobedient among God's own people who feed the wolf.

For many years disobedient Goths have misled their own people for gold. The teachers, the preachers, and the political leaders. "Goths" are not cities to rule; counties, states, and nation franchises to sell to the highest bidder. We are not someone's property. We have been appointed Kings and Priests by our God¹³ and we fully intend to take our rightful place. We know who we are - where we came from - and where we are going.

We are children of the Goth-Saxon-Sythian peoples of the Russian and European rivers. Our forebears settled Russia, Italy, Scandinavia, Germany, Britain, France, Spain, America, South Africa, and Australia. They are known by many names including "Indo-European" and "Caucasian" - the mountain chain which contains the narrow doorway called the "Pass Of Alexander," through which they escaped from Assyrian captivity almost 3000 years ago. Names and peoples change, but "God's people" are still known by the three proofs of Israel.¹⁴

God did not bestow his name - "Goth" - without reason. He also named his people "Israel" so that they would have his "power of attorney."¹⁵

Take note: The Saxon "white horse" is his sign, the "three proofs" his identification, and the WORD his King of kings and his authorization. His enemy are those who disobey.

Today is the day of the GOTH!

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: What reason does the establishment have for allowing the mass immigration of strangers?" M. G. - Mississippi

RKH: Read what "The Decline & Fall of The Roman Empire, p 273, has to say about what happened in Alexandria: "The lucrative trade of Arabia and India flowed through the port of Alexandria to the capitol and provinces of the empire. ... But the people of Alexandria, a various mixture of nations, united the vanity and inconstancy of the Greeks with the superstition and obstinacy of the Egyptians. The most trifling occasion, a transient scarcity of precedence in the public baths, or a religious dispute, were at any time sufficient to kindle a sedition among that vast multitude, whose resentments were furious and implacable. After ... the authority of the laws were relaxed, the Alexandrians abandoned themselves to the ungoverned rage of their passions, and their unhappy country was the theatre of a civil war, which continued (with a few short and suspicious truces) above 12 years. ... Every street was polluted with blood, every building of strength converted into a citadel; nor did the tumults subside, till a considerable part of Alexandria was irretrievably ruined." (footnote: "This long and terrible sedition was first occasioned by a dispute between a soldier and a townsman about a pair of shoes.")

Different people have different gods. Different gods demand that their followers obey their laws which may conflict with the laws of another god. A powerful third party ruler must then judge between them. The average merchant supports such an all powerful ruler so that he may continue to trade and transact business. Nothing has changed. Today's establishment encourages aliens and their gods to enter our land to create chaos so that the establishment will be "legally" authorized the power to judge between the gods. The waves of immigrant aliens give the establishment the power of a god on earth. Hail Caesar!

BYRON DE LA BECKWITH - MARTYR: Byron de la Beckwith, 73, twice acquitted in the 30 year old slaying of NAACP extremist Medgar Evers, was railroaded by a MIXED RACE JURY - IN A THIRD TRIAL. He was given life imprisonment. This travesty of justice was unlawful on at least two major counts. The choice of jury violated one: "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15. Trying an event 30 years old is the second: "Let judgment be executed speedily." Ezra 7:26. Byron de la Beckwith is known to be a Christian gentleman, who, along with his wife, has endured a continuing 30 year persecution, and through it all has praised God. History will remember him when the roll is called, and those guilty of violating the GOD'S LAW will stand in the docket and answer for their crimes.

DAVID TATE: David Tate, youngest member of "The Order," was interviewed for an article. When asked "What is your advice to the people outside of prison? He replied:

"Do Something, anything! Just do not sit idle. There are those who would follow the example of The Order, that is not my advice, nor do I disagree with such action. But, I will say this: once you've crossed the line, you cannot turn back. You must leave family and friends, you cannot work with an above-ground organization. You are committed for life. Period." David Tate w/155209, Potosi Corr Center, Rt 2 Box 2222, Mineral Point, MO 63660.

RKH: The representative form of government allows one to build a political, social, or religious platform and to expound his ideas. Every effort should be made to win others to your cause and to push your philosophy in this manner. It is the peaceful way. Even the present marxist government agrees that it is still legal to do this. The other way is the hard way. Strife, once started, runs its course. It is easier to start than stop. "The beginning of strife is as when one letteth out water: therefore leave off contention." Pr 17:14. If God decrees strife - nothing can stop it. Ruby Ridge and Waco were deliberate efforts to trigger premature resistance from American patriots so that they could be crushed. But, in spite of provocations, every peaceful method should be tried first.

ORGANIZATION: "Hi Dick: The earliest reference to the pyramidal structure that Republics embody seems to be in the Biblical reference of 'leaders of tens, leaders of 50s, leaders of 100s, leaders of 1000s." The ancient base unit in Israel was ten families. In a true Republic those ten families would pick one of their members to sit in a higher level in a group of similar size. Each group on that level would pick one member to sit at the next higher level, and so forth. It would only take five or six levels in America to get to the White House." T. R. - Wyoming

PRISONER EATING: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: How should prisoners go about 'not eating' food prepared by 'strangers,' as our culinary workers are a mixed lot? 90% of the things we get have a "K" on them, guaranteeing that an edomite blessed them. So, do we starve, or eat what we are not allowed to eat." S. - Nevada

RKH: This problem of being forced to do that which was against God's will existed in an earlier age. This was their solution:

"In case one of their own blood ... should attempt to confound or dissolve their constitution of government (God's Laws), they should take vengeance on them, both all in general, and each person in particular ... that if they were not able to take such vengeance, they should still demonstrate that what was done was contrary to their wills. So the multitude bound themselves by oath to do so." Josephus, Antiquities 4:8:45

The establishment does not allow you to take vengeance, either individually or together. Therefore, following the above rule, a simple protest that what is being done is against your will should be acceptable in God's eyes. Of course, when Christians take back their country - God's Law will be on the lips of all the faithful.

Chapter 235

Irresistible Separation

Farrakhan's Discovery

Farrakhan's Black Muslims are being castigated by the establishment press.

The reason - they discovered a secret - a secret they related in a book published by their own Nation of Islam. It is called "The Secret Relationship Between Blacks and Jews". This book quotes Jewish sources to show that Jewish merchants were a prime mover of the African slave trade. Blacks don't like that.

The Black Muslims, with this information, have the potential to destroy the long-time Black/Jewish alliance. All that's needed is for Blacks to start believing that they are patsies. If this should happen the entire political situation in America could unravel overnight.

To avoid discussing the facts, damage control agents of the ADL are attempting to discredit Nation of Islam publishers by attacking their spokesmen. A discredited spokesman can help discredit the offending book.

The ADL smear media is fed quotes and background in a NY Times ad. The NY Times acts as a bulletin board for smear material to be used against anyone.

Developing the Smear

A spy for the ADL crashed a private Nation of Islam meeting at a local college last year. Blacks are easy targets. Many are notorious loud-mouths. Their boasts are "extreme". When they think they aren't being heard, they can be very extreme. Following are excerpts, out of sequence, from a transcript of remarks made by Khalid Abdul Mohammed, at Kean Collegiate, NJ, 11-29-93, contained in the ADL ad printed in the New York Times Sunday Jan 15, 1994.

Private Black Talk

"Who are the slumlords in the black community? The so-called Jew ... Who is it sucking our blood in the black community? ... A white impostor Arab and a white impostor Jew. Right in the black community, sucking our blood on a consistent basis. They sell us pork and they don't even eat it themselves. A meat case full of rotten pork meat, and the impostor Arab and the impostor white Jew, neither of them eat it themselves. As wall full of liquor keeping our people drunk and out of their head, and filled with the swill of the swine affecting their minds. They're the blood suckers of the black nation and the black community. ...

"The Jews have sold us,¹ the so-called Jews have sold us, ve (sic) ve, ve suffer like you, ve. Ve, ve, ve marched with Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., ve. Ve, ve were in Selma, Alabama ve. Ve were in Montgomery, Alabama, ve. Ve were on the front line of the civil rights marches. Ve have always supported you. But let's take a look at it. The Jews, the so-called Jews,² what they actually done, brothers and sisters, is used us as cannon fodder.³

This same speaker made it easy for the ADL. He also spoke against Whites - even if it was in private. The prominent disclosure of these private talks was calculated to turn Whites against the offending Black separatists.

"We don't owe the white man nothin' in South Africa. He's killed millions of our women, our children, our babies, our elders. We don't owe him nothing in South Africa. If we want to be merciful at all, when we gain enough power from God Almighty to take our freedom and independence from him, we give him 24

1 Farrakhan, to try to appease his attackers, first removed the speaker as spokesman, but then defended the "truth of his talk" by consistently referring to the book he held in his hand - The Secret Relationship Between Blacks and Jews. The book documents from Jewish sources the leading participation of Jews in the African slave trade.

2 Blacks have also recently learned from their spiritual cousins in Palestine that most Jews, perhaps 98% of them, are not descended from the ancient Hebrews, but are descended of 9th century Chazar Turks who converted from animism and Islam to Judaism. See War Cycles / Peace Cycles, p. 81, Hoskins, POB 997, Lynchburg, vA 24505

3 From the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith release, 823 United Nations Plaza, New York, NY 10017 printed in the NY Time. The Anti-Defamation League is an organization of Jewish merchants whose objective is to protect their trade interests by attacking separatists as anti-Semitic. The ADL has labeled many Jews "anti-semitic." Louis Farrakhan says: "Anyone whom the Jews don't like is anti-semitic."

hours to get out of town, by sundown. That's all. If he won't get out of town by sundown, we kill everything white that ain't right (inaudible) in South Africa. We kill the women, we kill the children, we kill the babies. We kill the blind, we kill the crippled (inaudible), we kill 'em all. We kill the fagot, we kill the lesbian, we kill them all. You say why kill the babies in South Africa? because they gonna grow up up day to oppress your babies, so we kill the babies. Why kill the women? They, they ... because they lay on their back. They are the military or the army's manufacturing center. They lay on their back and reinforcements roll out from between their legs. So we kill the women too. You'll kill the elders too? Kill the old ones too. Goddamit, they in a wheelchair, push 'em off a cliff in Cape Town. Push 'em off a cliff in Cape Town, or Johannesburg, or (inaudible), or Port Sheppston, or Durban, how the hell you think they got old. The old oppressing black people. I said kill the blind, kill the crippled, kill the crazy. Goddamit, and when you get through killing 'em all, go to the goddam graveyard and dig up the grave and kill em, goddam, again. 'Cause they didn't died hard enough. They didn't die hard enough. And if you've killed 'em all and you don't have the strength to dig 'em up, then take your gun and shoot in the goddam grave. Kill 'em again. Kill 'em again. Kill 'em again, 'cause they didn't die hard enough.

Where does this Muslim get the authority to talk this way? He is unlawful according to Christians and Jews. But, this speaker was not a Christian or a Jew, he was a Mohammedan. He was obeying Allah according to the Koran which clearly teaches:

(1) "Slay the idolaters where you find them. Arrest them, besiege them, and lie in ambush everywhere for them." Repentance 9:5: (2)

"Make war on them: Allah will chastise them through you and humble them." Repentance 9:14; (3) "Fight against such of those to whom the scriptures were given as believe neither in Allah nor the Last Day ... and do not embrace the true faith." Repentance 9:29; (3) "Whether unarmed or well-equipped, march on and fight for the cause of Allah, with your wealth and your persons." Repentance 9:41; (4) "Make war on the unbelievers and the hypocrites and deal rigorously with them." Repentance 9:73; (4) "Believe in Allah and fight with His apostle." Repentance 9:96.⁴

Islam punishes those offending Allah when the offenders are present (integrated) and can be punished. Separatists in other lands are traditionally ignored.

Black's Gods Demand Separatism

Can the recent shootings of Whites by a Black gunman walking though a railroad car be blamed on Islamic teachings? Are the Florida drive-by shootings a copy of Egypt's war against their surrogate rulers, whom the Koran brands unlawful because they would embrace the infidel? Statistics show that 9 out of 10 interracial attacks are Black on White. Can these attacks be blamed on the teachings of gods? Are these acts basically religious?

What about the massacre of Whites in Hati? Both witch doctors and Catholic priests who accompanied them blessed the Blacks who removed the eyes of captive Whites with cork screws.⁵ Neither were Mohammedan.

Kris Hanni, the assassinated S. African Black whose hands were stained with the blood of countless White victims, was a good Catholic. He was given a Catholic funeral and buried in holy ground. His blood acts did not offend the god he obeyed. His "christian" was not the Christian WORD of the Whites. Kris Hani's god was the enemy of the Christian God.

The two-edged Sword

One must clearly understand, what is unLawful to the WORD of the Christian - is often completely lawful to others. Different peoples have different gods.⁶ A problem arises when one integrates different peoples whose gods demand different standards of conduct.

Jew Obeys His God And Massacres Arabs

Dr. Baruch Goldstein, a member of the Israeli Kach party, entered a mosque and shot down 39 Palestinians who were on their knees praying to Allah. The enraged Islamic worshippers beat him to death, but not before Goldstein carefully emptied one magazine, reloaded, and coolly fired off another. Other Jewish soldiers arrived and they too, proceeded to shoot down Arabs. It was a slaughter house.

The newspaper article concluded: "Goldstein was a disciple of the late Rabbi Meir Kahane, who preached violence against Arabs and their expulsion from Israel. Goldstein and his wife Miriam were married in 1982 by Kahane." News & Advance, p 2A, March 5, 1994.

Rabbi Kahane & His Backers

Rabbi Kahane always fascinated me. He was a brash,

6 GOD'S LAW: "No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hod to the one, and despise the other." Matt. 6:24

gutsy, loudmouth - a Jewish separatist - a Zionist. It is difficult being a Zionist. Their big brothers have tied a money string to them.

Wealthy Jewish merchants financed the Zionist dream of having their own homeland. It was something the merchants could do and turn a profit while doing it. Any place in the world would do for the homeland - S. America, Africa, Asia - any place. The Jewish merchants financed the deal and chose Palestine. The British agreed that in exchange for bringing America into WWI that they would give Palestine to the Jews. It was called the Balfore Agreement.

There were two parties to this Jewish Palestine enterprise. The financiers and the colonists. Each had his own agenda. The colonists' agenda was to gain the whole of the old Davidic Kingdom in which to practice their separatism. Their financiers' agenda was to use the colonist' invasion as a wedge to unsettle the political and trade arrangements in the Near East.

It was here that the two parted ways. Once the Zionists reached the objectives set by their backers, they were put on short money-rations. They were supposed to step aside and let their merchant backers work their end of the deal. This money flow crisis forced the colonists, and their worldwide Zionist supporter, to turn the untenable Holocaust into a religious belief that required continued reparations from Germany and increased subsidies from the United States. Without this income Jewish-occupied Palestine could not survive. Even with this income Jewish Palestine hangs by a thread.

Kahane Center Stage

Things went too far. Meir Kahane formed the Jewish Defense League.. It was radical to the core. It went around setting off bombs and leaving bodies in their wake. People were afraid of them.

Why the mayhem and all the spotlight publicity? The answer was simple. Zionism needed more settlers in Palestine if the invasion was to push beyond its present borders.

There were two ways to get settlers: idealism and fear. The idealistic Jews were already there living on Arab land in armed settlements in the middle of a sea of hostile Muslims. The bulk of the Jews back in America were living the "good life" in peace and security. The blood, bombings, and carnage left by the JDL were certain to generate an anti-semitic backlash among Americans in time.

The ADL-JDL media types were paid to crow "latent anti-semitism." It scares the devil out of the average Jew. Kahane honed the Jewish fear factor to a fine science. It was certain to generate colonists from among American Jewry ready to emigrate to Palestine. The friendly media gave Kahane prominent coverage.

Zionist groups across America gave Kahane a stage from which to speak. He was much sought after. He also wrote a book that many "stay at home types" wished he had not written.⁷

To change reluctant American couch-potato Jews into more proper aggressive separatists, he told them, "So long as one gentile lives opposite one Jew, the possibility of a Holocaust remains." p. 5: To the Jewish merchants who refused

7 Story Of The Jewish Defense League. It's out of print now, purposely I think, but a gem if you can find an old copy. Kahane knew the hidden agendas. He knew the difference between his own Zionists and the establishment backers. He also was a master in manipulating both. He wrote about what he was doing and what he planned to do. It's all there.

to discuss religion or politics because it was bad for business, he threatened: "Silence on any issue is usually a mask for impotence or unwillingness to act." p.14.

He told them, "Precisely because my own feelings about the inevitable fate of the Jew in America were so clear, I wanted to do all in my power to persuade the American Jew to aliyah (in- gather) and have the JDL work for it." p. 231. What was he talking about?

Let It All Hang Out

Kahane's masterpiece was perhaps his speech given at the Central Hotel in Jerusalem, in December 1971. It was given to a standing- room-only crowd of over 600. In this speech the master of manipulation predicted the inevitable destruction of Jews in America:

"The World Zionist Congress ... (should) place upon the agenda a resolution calling for an emergency conference of American Jewish communities and organizations both to plan a massive, organized propaganda campaign for explaining the threat to the American Jewish future, and to plan for a practical mass aliyah to the Land of Israel ... and bring over the Jews and his property. ..."

That was precisely what his super wealthy banker backers did not want - they had other irons in the fire. Their own people in power in Palestine had been told to wind things down. They did not want to be dragged into a never ending Arab "Holy War" costing unlimited amounts of treasure and lives. They had planned exactly how far they wanted to push the Arabs - but Kahane would not take his foot off the accelerator. Kahane's speech continued;

"The affluent Jew ... does not generally leave his comfort to live in the difficulties of the Land of Israel unless he is stricken with the plague of Jew-hatred or comes to fear its imminent danger. ..."

"The sole hope of getting mass aliyah (in-gathering to Palestine) lies in emphasizing over and over again the theme of the inevitability of anti-Semitism in the Western world ... It is to cry out that there is no hope for permanent Jewish survival in the affluent United States or other Western lands ..."

Kahane ended by insisting that this argument was the only argument having a chance of success, and at the same time he insisted that a coming American Holocaust was "tragically true" - an event inevitable and on its way to fulfillment. He demanded that the Israeli government "cry out and call for the emergency evacuation of American Jews."

The Zionist Heritage

While Islam's Koran teaches a militant religion, the holy books of Judaism, the Talmud, is no less militant.

When the Zionists first invaded Palestine, they wiped out entire Arab villages, killing men, women and children, and stuffed their bodies down wells. Just as the Koran told Muslims to kill the infidel - the Talmud tells their followers to treat those considered strangers harshly:

(1) Murder of non-Jew is acceptable if he is bound so that he dies of starvation, sunstroke, cold, a lion, mosquitoes, or an arrow (Sanhedrin 77a-77b); (2) Kill the gentile who studies the Torah (Exh. 60); (3) Even the best of the goyim (non-Jews) should be killed. (Sanhedrin 59a, (Abhodah Zarah, (26b); (4) Extermination of Christians is a necessary sacrifice. Zohar (11,54a); (5) A Jew is innocent of murder if he intended to kill a Christian. Makkoth 7b; (6) "The Akum who are not enemies of ours must not be killed directly, never the less, they must not be saved from danger of death. For example, if you see one of them fall into the sea, do not pull

(IOD, p. 63)*

The leader of the JDL, Meir Kahane, was an Orthodox rabbi. He spoke the will of his god. Eager frontline Zionist separatists believed him and closed ranks behind him.

The Jewish Unforgivable Sin

Kahane was looked upon by his backers as a loose cannon who might upset their time schedules. Kahane refused to roll-over. He went to Palestine and organized his followers in the Kach Party - a party of Kahane militants.

It was radical! It wanted no negotiation. They wanted absolute and unconditional supremacy! "Israel Over All!" Anyone who stood in the way was someone to be smashed! Kach promised unending war if need be in exchange for a permanent place in the sun. Supporters flocked to him. In the chaos of Jewish politics, the Kach threatened to become the balance of power and rule the country.

This would not do. When Kahane returned to honor a speaking engagement in NY - he was shot. The accused gunman said that the Jews themselves did it. The jury believed him.

The King is dead

Kahane is dead, but the Jewish separatism - Zionism - lives on in his followers. The mother of Dr. Goldstein, the slayer of so many Arabs, when questioned about the death of her son commented;

"I always thought to myself, when would someone get up and do such a thing?' and in the end, my son did it,' ...

"This is the man who loved the people of Israel more than he loved himself. Look at what responsibility he took on himself! For generations!"⁸

These are the words of a warrior's mother. While she spoke, thousands of other Zionists paraded, supporting Goldstein's act. To them, the deaths of 39 Arabs was just a price to be paid. True separatists can be difficult.

Meir Kahane was an orthodox rabbi. His followers believe he spoke for the Jewish god.

Christian Separatists

Michael F. Griffin, 32, shot abortionist doctor David Gunn. Griffin said that if one baby was saved it was worth his life. He said he was obeying the Law of his God. Griffin had read many of the statement of the Church Fathers on abortion:

"Where there is murder before birth, you do not even let a harlot remain only a harlot, but you make her a murderess as well." John Chrysostom (345-407); "Sometimes their sadistic licentiousness goes so far ... they find one means or another to destroy the unborn and flush it from the mother's womb." - Austine of Hippo (354-430); "We acknowledge, therefore, that life begins with conception, because we contend that the soul begins at conception. Life Begins when the soul begins." Tertullian (c 223); "the woman who purposely destroys her unborn child is guilty of murder. The hair-splitting difference between formed and unformed makes no difference to us." Basil the Great (379); "Those who use abortifacients commit homicide." Clement of Alexandria (223); "(Christians) marry, as do all others; they beget children, but they do not cast away fetuses." Pagan letter describing 2nd Century Christians; "Women who were reputed to be believers began to take drugs ... to expel what was conceived, since they did not want to have a child. See then what great impiety that lawless one (Callistus, the Emperor) has fallen, by teaching both adultery and murder at the same time." Hippolytus of Rome (170-236); "You shall not slay the child by abortions." The Didache (1st Cent) Pro-Life Action News May-June 1993, Box 75368, St. Paul MN 55175-0368.

The WORD teaches:

"If the people of the land hide their eyes, and wink at that man when he giveth his children unto Molech, and kill him not. Then I will set my face against that man, and against his family, and will cut him off (kill him)." Lev 19:4- 5

The accompanying margin note in the Geneva Bible by John Calvin & John Knox & others follows: "Though the people be negligent to doe their duty, and defend God's right, yet he will not suffer wickedness to goe unpunished."

Larry Flynt, publisher of the pornographic Hustler was shot. Joseph Paul Franklin was accused of the shooting. It was never proven. Many insisted that Flynt had disobeyed God's Law by printing a magazine said to be a "false witness" which encouraged Christians to do unlawful things - things that would cause God to destroy his people.

"If a false witness rise up ... Then shall ye do unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother." Deu 19:16-19

Who is Lawful - Who Isn't

Different nations have their own gods. Different gods have their own laws. Muslims have theirs, Jews have theirs, and Christians have theirs. The god of each nation insists that he will destroy those of their own people who are not obedient.

This can result in an untenable situation. If a man obeys his own God - the servants of the other gods may kill him. If he obeys alien gods - the servants of his own God may kill him.

Was the Muslim teacher obeying his god when he taught his people to kill whites? Were Haitian "Christian" blacks and Catholic priests obeying god when they blessed those who killed whites? Was the Jewish mass murderer obeying his god when he shot Arab worshipers? Were Christians obeying God when they punished abortionists and pornographers? They thought they were. All of them thought they were.

Separatism - Today's Imperium

Recently there have been riots in several prisons across America. Black Nationalists and Black Muslims have allied themselves with Whites in the prisons to fight for separation from each other. Read that again.

To confirm this I made several calls. One was to the Nation of Islam in Boston. My caller knew who I was and what my beliefs were. I knew his. He was politely outspoken. I tried to be, too. He inferred that he didn't want Whites telling Blacks what to do. I told him I didn't think that Blacks should tell Whites what to do. He said that his people despised Blacks who practiced racial interbreeding. We both agreed that we didn't want the races integrated and provoked into killing each other. We agreed that separation was what is needed. We agreed to try to stay apart. We agreed that our enemy was the integrationist - the one who would force us to diobey the laws of our individaul gods and thereby force us into conflict by forcing us together where either one god or the other would reign supreme.⁹

Conclusion

Pay attention, establishment! You have mixed the peoples of the world to cause their gods to fight each other You have forced them to borrow from your banks to buy weapons to kill strangers and kinsmen from whom we want nothing. You have stepped over our bodies too many times - all for a dollar. We know!

The stranger's god and our God the WORD look at each other and agree on one thing ONLY - be separate! If you are the obstacle to this separation - this peaceful separation - YOU will be placed in the docket. The jury that judges will judge you - not according to your statutes which you dignify by calling them "laws" - but, you will be judged by the Laws of the gods you have offended.

must have a plan for them. The SA press, mines, and large industry have been in their hands since the Boer War at the turn of the century. Joe Slovo, one of their own, is the SA communist party leader. He directs Mandella and his Xhosa tribe - the international establishment's surrogate army - armed and paid by them. They are his "cannon-fodder."

For years the Israeli state has dominated the SA Defense Force (the SA army) by providing instructors, training, equipment, and exchanging information. The result; the SADF and its generals are loyal to their paychecks provided by the anti-white DeKlerk. In the midst of a black-black, black-white ongoing civil war, the SA Jewish-convert population, their banks, media, mines, and manufacturing have been off-limits to attack by all sides. Why?

THE APPARENT PLAN: (1) End the conflict against the Arabs in the Mideast. Make concessions to bring peace to Palestine, even if Jewish settlers are sacrificed (this is what the Jewish settlers object to), (2) Use Mandella's black Xhosa surrogates, directed by Joe Slovo - to disarm, disfranchise, and expropriate S. Africa's whites as was done in Rhodesia. Then, (3) they may direct the surplus Jewish immigrants away from tiny overcrowded Palestine - to spacious homes in the new Israeli colony of South Africa. Vacant farms, mines and forest products will await new owners - the greatest single store of wealth in the world and, after Russia, the world's greatest economic coup.

As a bonus - a bountiful supply of cheap black labor is available needing only a touch of the whip to learn their place. This last is what the Nation of Islam objects to. They had been told that S. Africa was to be turned over to Blacks.

In America, Blacks were told that the newly-conquered American South was to be given to them to rule. In 1865, the Black Republicans put them in power and garrisoned armies in the South to keep them there. To survive, Whites began to desert their farms wholesale and migrate to the west. The Blacks then learned that the millions of acres of deserted prime plantation land scooped into the maw of giant NY land companies was to be offered to the refugees of the European 1848 communist revolt. This would be the end of Black rule. In anger, they turned on their NY banker allies. The S. African story is a reply of this plan. The Reconstruction story is in Vigilantes.

This explains the otherwise inexplicable burning and starving of the captured South by Sherman and Sheridan. They were cleansing the land to receive new occupants due to arrive after the war.

This explains today's worldwide media campaign against SA, the Mandella's and Tutu's peace prize, a stranger as US ambassador to SA, and the two new airfields being built by US surrogates 15 minutes flight-time from White SA population centers, and the never-ending surrender initiatives being made by the "SA Generals," lately of the SA Defense Force.

When one realizes that the whole thing is "just business," and that it has been done before, one can see that even relatively little could unsettle time tables and have far-reaching consequences for S. Africa.

Of course, this is just game planning. The displaced Jewish population may be better utilized in America.

Chapter 236

DHARMA-CHRISTIAN

"Tolerance"

GATT

History may say that the most important event of the 20th century is the meeting of one hundred and nine nations to sign the "Uruguay GATT Accords." GATT allows the world banker to take raw materials from the cheapest commodity market, to the cheapest labor market for manufacture, to the highest priced market to be sold. In a short time the standard of living world wide will be the same.

The GATT Accord is a 26,000 page document that no one has read in its entirety and that no one understands. However, it will be a binding contract - backed by whatever force is needed to make it work. This document requires signing nations to surrender their sovereignty to the governing group that will enforce the regulation of nations in the guise of regulating international trade.

This is another way of saying that all barriers to usury are now removed. This has been an age-old dream of the international traders.

Trade today usually involves borrowing. This triggers GODS LAW: "The borrower is slave to the lender." Prov. 22:7. Today's trading companies usually insert usury clauses into all their contracts - an act that invariably and inexorably takes ALL a nation's possessions. It is for this reason usury is forbidden to Christians.¹ The merchants of the ancient international silk trade have now at long last subdued their last adversary. The entire world will shortly be theirs.

U.S. To Guarantee Loans

To make GATT economically workable, those governing the United States have been instructed to make the US guarantor² for the multi-billion dollar debts of countries like Mexico.³

Following the formalities of the GATT signing, on January 1, 1995, GATT will then change its name to the "World Trade Organization." It is GATT today - WTO tomorrow. The

1 GOD'S LAW: (1) Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase ... he shall surely die. Ezek 18:13 (2) Unto a stranger thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury. Deu 23:20

2 GOD'S LAW: "Be not thou one of them that ... are sureties for debts." Prov. 22:26

3 GOD'S LAW: (1) "Thou shalt make no covenant with them ... For they will turn away thy son from following me, that they may serve other gods." Deut 7:2,4, (2) "If thou hast stricken thy hand with a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien), thou are snared." Pr 6:1

World Trade Organization is the New World Order that everyone has been talking about. It will arrive organizationally complete on January 1, 1995, like it or not.

GATT's "free-trade" regulation is accepted as normal by people conditioned by the media. They think that GATT means "jobs," "security," and the good things of life. In reality, it is the last stone placed in today's one world "Tower of Babel." The first stone was laid in 224 BC. This first stone was "world conquest" planned by Asoka the Great. His carefully honed weapon - "Dharma!"⁴

Storming A Sheepfold

Wolves may storm a sheepfold, slaughter the flock, and eat their fill. But, this involves open war between wolves and sheep. In such a confrontation there is always the possibility that a desperate flock may unite and fight back, inflicting injury on the attacking wolves. This happened to the Huns at the Catalonian Fields, to the Arabs at Tours, and to the Turks at Vienna. Wolf losses in each of these frontal assaults were grievous.

The Side Door Approach

It is easier to persuade the sheep themselves to manage their own slaughter; to open the sheepfold gate, let the wolves enter, and provide members of their own flock to stand guard while the wolves shear and eat the sheep - a packing plant operation. The method is involved, time consuming, but it is safe - and it kills more sheep in the long run. This is how it is done.

4 Asoka was the "St. Paul" of Hinduism. He planned world conquest using his new weapon: "The Edicts of Asoka ... combine the instrumentalities of power with those of education and meditation, and they transform law by love, reason, and tolerance." The Edicts Of Asoka, N. A. Nikam & Richard McKeon, Univ Chicago Press, Chicago, 60637, c 1959 p.viii. See HR #232.

Bribing The Watchman

The Shepherd (God), issues orders to the watchmen (priests) who stand guard at the gates to the sheepfold, admitting those the Shepherd wants admitted and turning away intruders. The Shepherd's orders (God's Law) clearly state who is and who is not to be admitted. A wolf, to enter a sheepfold, must first bribe the watchman to open the gate. Purchasing his services is less expensive than equipping a military operation to break down the gate. The question is: how does the wolf make God's watchman - a priest sworn to uphold the Shepherd's Law - how does he persuade him to betray his Master the Shepherd? The answer is that it is a "non-violent" operation done under the sign of the "Lotus," and that it is an ancient technique that almost always works.

The Lotus And the Serpent

Two Hindu-Buddhist symbols are the "Lotus" and the "Serpent." Hindus say that the Lotus is the symbol of beauty and truth. The Serpent - the symbol of wisdom. Critics protest that the Lotus is "what they say" and the Serpent is "what you get." All Christians know that it was the Serpent who gave Eve the apple. Too few have read further.

The LOTUS: Hindus say that in spite of having 40,000,000 gods, they basically have just one god. His name is Brahma - meaning "truth" - and that all the other gods are simply different manifestations of this one -"Brahma;" each of the other gods represents a different aspect of the "one god." Hindu-Buddhists insist that all the world's religions worship this same "one god," but they do it using different names. Therefore, everyone actually worships the Hindu god "Brahma" using other names.

The SERPENT: Hindus recognize many gods - each one permits something the next god may not permit. If the individual worships the right combination of gods - collectively they may allow him to do almost anything he wishes to do.

Millions of Hindus accept "Jesus" as their god while also worshipping Siva - the sex god. Jesus the WORD carefully regulates sex. On the contrary, Siva allows almost anything. A Hindu- christian may honor the WORD of Jesus one moment, and in the next moment honor the teachings of Siva. It makes an interesting combination.⁵

The Hindu "Thuggee" cult followed Brahma and Siva his creation. At the same time they also worshiped Kali - Siva's wife - goddess of death. Brahma forbids harm to others. Thuggees believed that Kali permitted them to cause the death of travelers of good character before they had the opportunity to do evil. In this way they might be reincarnated in a higher station in life - perhaps as a rich man or even a ruler, instead of possibly an insect. A Thuggee murder was believed to be a righteous act. The murderer was paid for his devotion with money taken from the dead traveler's pocket.

Following the right gods allows a Hindu to do as he likes. Following more than one god is the mark of the Hindu. The Lotus is what he says - the Serpent is what you get.

5 GOD'S LAW: "If ye forsake the Lord, and serve strange gods, then he will turn and do you hurt." Joshua 24:20

Dharma

One would think that many different beliefs would cause perpetual war and chaos among Hindus. Such is not the case. In the second century BC, the "St. Paul" of Hinduism, King Asoka, introduced the system of Dharma to calm the land and help him rule. He boasted that with it he had already conquered many kings of the West and in time would conquer the world.

Dharma does not require conversion to Hinduism, it only requires "obedience" to the king, "tolerance" of all other religions, and "non- violence" in word or deed to other religions and races. Once Dharma has been achieved, THEN, Hindu missionaries are sent in to do their work. The bandying about of these words - "obedience," "tolerance," and "non-violence" is proof that Hindu missionaries are active in a land.

Usury was practiced in the temples of Babylon and India. It is a forbidden practice in Christendom.⁶ In time, it gathers all property into the hands of the lender. Trade is the best way to induce someone to enter into a usury contract. The Christian religion has long excluded the followers of religions that permit such practices. To gain entry into Western sheepfolds, practitioners disguise themselves or corrupt the Christian priest who stands guard for God The WORD as His watchman.

Corrupting The Watchman

The watchman is usually corrupted by an appeal to his 6 If forbidden - who permits its "tolerance"?

"humanity." Tainted teachings of Jesus are presented to him which explain the necessity for "tolerance," "obedience," and "non-violence." These attributes in themselves are commendable, but the wolf extends their meaning to include himself and his gods.⁷ Thus weakened, the priest is vulnerable to offers of tax-exemption, grants, media-access, and advancement. Many accept both Dharma and the bribe.

Those who do then tell their flock that the wolf who is entering the sheepfold is not really a wolf, but "a different kind of sheep," and, that the flock should be "TOLERANT" of different religious beliefs. A flock chosen to be slaughtered must first be made tolerant of those who will slaughter them - otherwise wolves cannot not get close to the sheep. This is basic.

The second part is Ahimsa - "non-violence." Ahimsa helps the bribed king control his people - to keep them calm until the wolf can get them one by one. But, even then, the smell of blood from a slaughtering operation can cause a stampede in a nearby flock - ie. the German flock stampeded as the nearby Russian flock was slaughtered.

ONCE AGAIN: before the wolf can enter a sheepfold to eat sheep, he must neutralize the watchman with bribes and have his endorsement. The watchman's endorsement is the wolf's "safe- conduct pass." It is foolish for a wolf to enter a sheepfold if a watchman has sounded the alarm and rams stand ready to kill the intruder.

7 "Tolerance" of other peoples and religions is the first basic Hindu teaching under Dharma: "Obedience" to the king; "Tolerance" of other religions, and suppression of "discriminations within the community." "Hindu Rock Edict VII," "Rock Edict XII." The Edicts of Asoka, N.A. Nikam & Richard McKeon, Univ Chic Press, Chicago 1959

Dharmamatras

To make sure that Dharma was doing its job, King Asoka employed Dharma enforcers called Dharmamatras. They are the enforcement arm of the Hindu priesthood. Those who violate Dharma face Brahma's wrath.

The three functions of Dharmamatras are 1) to teach Dharma, (2) to punish violators, 3) to reward excellence in Dharma.

Unrepentant religious zealots that cause dissension between religions and races are punished. If incorrigible - they are visited by SWAT teams and liquidated. Under the watchful eye of the Dharmamatras the worship of many different gods is accepted in relative peace. Traders trade - lenders lend - and the country is quietly absorbed.

AGAIN: People may object to Hinduism and prefer their own religion. This is their privilege. All that is required is that they practice Dharma - "tolerance" - and not criticize other religions. Dharma is the key the "tolerant Christian" uses to unlock the gate of the Sheepfold to admit the wolf. Christianity plus Dharma-tolerance is an animal unknown to The WORD.

Hindu By Another Name

The Hindu priesthood in foreign nations seldom operates under the "Hindu" name or the many names of its Buddhist offshoot. It usually functions under the name of the local god who is reinterpreted as another manifestation of their own Brahma. Hindu-muslim followers of Islam are called "muslims" - not Hindus. Hindu-christians in America call themselves "Christian." Hindu-Jews are called "Jews." But, it is a case of the Lotus and the Serpent. "By their acts ye shall know them."

Bribing The King

With the priest's endorsement the wolf within the sheepfold can approach the king. The king's protection is needed against malcontents. The bribed king, supported by bribed priests, then uses his police powers to protect the wolf from having his prey taken from him.⁸

(1) To enter the sheepfold and eat sheep, wolves must first have the blessing of the priest-watchman. (2) The blessing of the watchman allows him to buy protection from the king. (3) The king's protection backed by the false priest allows the wolf to safely eat sheep.

Brahmas

The Hindu priesthood (Brahman priesthood) is extremely wealthy. This wealth is based on King Asoka's bequest.⁹ Before he died, King Asoka gave the Hindu priesthood one thousand million pieces of gold to advance the missionary work. This wealth has increased many times since then. Some contend that the Brahma priesthood controls most of the wealth of the world through their banks and their hired agents. The Hindu priesthood uses usury banks;¹⁰ Their offshoots and agents have created the "corporation" and the "trust." These techniques remove the ability to trace ownership. The practice of usury and corporate-monopoly in the Christian

8 There is no way that millions of acres of prime Southern land could have been taxed away practically free in violation of GOD's LAW against taxation (Matt 17:25-26), and the Law against selling divided land (Num 26:53, Lev 25:23), except those pretending to be God's watchmen had first been turned from the WORD.

9 Asoka The Great, India's Royal Missionary, by Emil Lengyel, Franklin Watts, NY, 1969, p. 136.

10 The very word "usury" means "To bite like a serpent."

West would be impossible without the connivance of Hindu-Christian priests whose professed religion forbids both.¹¹

Reinterpreted Christianity

To neutralize priestly opponents in a targeted nation, Hindu priests thoroughly study the opposing religion. They ask for teachers to come and instruct them. With the knowledge gained, they re-interpret the religion so that the new god may easily and comfortably merge with existing Indian gods. The new god may be called "Jesus." He may retain his teachings of "grace," "salvation," "repentance," and the parables, but, the meanings are changed into Hindu concepts. Jesus becomes a manifestation of Siva. Many Western Hindu-Christian priests have learned the following as if it came from the Christian God:

"What, then, is the Divine Word?"

"It is a power, the omnipresent and omnipotent creative and sustaining spiritual power of the supreme Lord God. Emanating from the Creator in the form of a current or wave of spiritual vibrations of immeasurably powerful intensity, it flows outward without ceasing to permeate and penetrate all worlds and all created things and beings."¹²

11 GOD'S LAW: (1) "Unto a stranger thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury." Deu 23:20 (2) "Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, and they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth." Isaiah 5:8

12 Yoga & The Bible, by Joseph Leeming, Punjab, India c1963. p.23.

Hindus believe that the Christian WORD is "energy." "Energy" is the supreme being - not the Laws, Statutes, and Judgments.

"Guru Nanak declares 'the Steward of God becomes God Himself; do not be deceived by his human body.'" p. 40.

In this manner the preacher himself can become a god.

"The living Masters who now carry on the Father's work are the modern Christs, the elder brothers, and saviors of mankind." p. 54

This teaching allows morally corrupt priests the power to sexually abuse, and steal from their flocks.

"Inwardly, the Masters are one with the universal Holy Spirit ... They are the Word personified, or in the Biblical phrase, the Word made flesh which dwells among us." p. 56

RAPTURE: "Nay, only through the Masters do we ... experience true rapture." p. 66

Christianity has no "rapture." This Hindu concept was introduced into Christendom in the early 1700s and is now an integral part of Judeo-Christianity. This is a cult that has evolved since the 1950s to comply with Jewish religious demands made on "infidels" wishing to use their media.

Hindu-christian converts often know more scripture than Christians. They have been expertly taught by Hindu-priests who re-interpret other religions. This was the reason for Jesus's command:

(1) "Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not. But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 10:5. (2) "Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you." Matt 7:6

The corrupted priest will quickly give a dozen reasons why he cannot follow this command of Jesus Christ. To follow it would slam the gates of the sheepfold on the wolf and he would lose the wolf's reward. The result is that the Hindu priest learns about Jesus - and the WORD is quickly reinterpreted to return to destroy the sheep. Establishment-christianity has become - Hindu- christianity. It has been reinterpreted into Brahma. In Brahma - "All gods are one."¹³

"Billy Graham, in an interview last January with David Frost said:

"Only God working through these men (can govern the world). That is why it is so important for us to have prayer groups and prayer meetings, and join hands together, whether they're Protestants, Catholic or Jews, and pray, because we're praying to the same God." The Protestant Challenge, 600 Woodview Rd., Burlington, Ontario, Canada L7N 3A3, Volume XXII, No 6, Nov-Dec¹⁴

Christian priests willing to advance this changed version of the Christian WORD, or who merely agree to include the Hindu Dharma-tolerance and tone down the strident demands of the WORD, are the ones who receive prominent media coverage and financial backing. This provides a royal road for scoundrels to rapidly float to the top of theological cess-pools, and all too often, from there straight to prison.

14 GOD'S LAW: "In the beginning was the WORD, and the word was with God, and the WORD was God." John 1:1, and "The WORD was made flesh, and dwelt among us." John 1:14 Christians DO NOT recognize any "god" other than The WORD.

Cooperating "christian" seminaries receive largess; gifts and endowment miraculously appear. They may keep their religion, but embrace Dharma and teach it to their young priests-in-training. Offending "Laws, Statutes, and Judgments" condemning other religions and beliefs are quietly ignored. Dharma's "tolerance," "love,"¹⁵ "non-violence,"¹⁶ and "obedience to the king." Most Christian seminaries now actually have Hindus, or Buddhist or Jewish offshoots teaching on their faculty, teaching future establishment priests to become Hindu-christians. A degree in "theology" today is sufficient cause to arouse a congregation's suspicions.

The Defense

THE WORD protects against every eventuality. It is concise and exact. It is the voice of GOD. It is the only defense against Dharma, and the Dharmamatras.

"In the beginning was the WORD, and the word was with God, and the WORD was God." John 1:1 and "The WORD was made flesh, and dwelt among us." John 1:14

15 "Dharma love" is "kissy-kissy," "huggy- huggy," Hindu kind. It is different from GOD'S LAW: "If you love me obey my commandments." John 14:15.

16 God the WORD is NOT non-violent toward those who disobey. He demands capital punishment for murderers, rapists, kidnappers, and the like.

LETTER FROM SOUTH AFRICA

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: March brought increasing violence and death to those opposing communism. The communist ANC rioted in Bophuthatswana and its president asked for help from the South African Defense Force. They arrived, treacherously deposed him, and placed a communist sympathizer in his place. Three of our fine young men went to help Bophuthatswana. They were foully murdered. Looking back, something died in me that day I saw our men lying dead in the dust. They were betrayed by Gen Viljoen and white traitors in the government who placed the reds in control. When we look ahead at the next few weeks, from the human eye it looks impossible that we will survive the wholesale murder of whites. We have done all that is humanly possible and our survival is now in God's hand.

A report came through that England is preparing to evacuate hundreds of thousands who hold British passports, and the Portuguese government also has contingency plans for their citizens. That leaves the rest of us to red slaughter.

After the Bophuthatswan coup, it did not take much to remove the Ciskei leader, but the Zulus proved more difficult, so a state of emergency was called and it was decreed that the Zulus are not allowed to carry arms or even spears. The SADF that was sent in will not protect the Zulus from the ANC armed forces and the Apla gangs dressed in uniforms. Soon, we will know if our army will shoot us when ordered to do so. Millions of newly arrived blacks will vote in the election. This will be another 'one man, one vote, one time' type of election we have learned to expect when blacks take over. The ballots are interesting. They are printed in England and especially treated with all other crosses fading after a few hours, but a cross behind the ANC candidates becoming very clear.

ANC and Apla murderers go free, but not one Zulu or white. One Corrie Lottering has been on a hunger strike for 33 days. He feels that it will be better to die now than wait for the blacks who promised to kill him by degrees after the election.

Radio Pretoria is broadcasting illegally again. Their management felt that to stop before the election will undo all they have tried to achieve. We listen to a person who was in Mozambique when the communists took over there. They had a code word "Operation Sunrise" and masses of blacks revolted to terrorize whites. We have the same thing here. Pray for us." K.J. - S. Africa USURY AMONG "CHRISTIANS": "Dear Mr. Hoskins: The WORD says that usury is a capital crime. A local church's ministry sells bonds to their own church members - thereby making their Christian brothers receive usury from Christians - violating the Law. The WORD says that this is a crime and a 'false witness.' The false witness gets the same punishment that the victim receives. Question: If the WORD is God, how can Christians violate the WORD and call themselves Christian?" A. M. - Maryland

RKH: The WORD allows usury from strangers, but does not permit Christians to charge usury to Christians. To do so, one must follow the teachings of another god allowing this practice. This "other god" cannot be the WORD. Thus, these "so-called christians" worship two gods - one who forbids and one who permits - a paradox. The Hindu religion allows many gods. Those worshipping two gods might better be called "Hindu-christian." God says: "If we sin willfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins." Heb 10:26 AV.

LET CHIPS FALL: "I got Vigilantes of Christendom from the library. When I get the copy I ordered from you I am going to give it to the pastor of my church. It should raise some questions about the brainwashing he got in the seminary. I think its time not to worry about a negative reaction. Let the chips fall where they may. I got so much out of your description of the Laws, Statutes, and Judgments that for the first time in 70 years I understand what it is to be a Christian. I went to Sunday School and Bible Study for the past 40 years and all I got was confusion. The WORD is something to hang my faith on. The preacher says to believe Jesus and follow Jesus. But, without the anchor of the Commandments - there is nothing but confusion. Everyone has a different idea of Jesus unless you look at him in the context of the commandments." G. D. - Washington

ASSASSINS & THUGS

Assassin is the name of a Shiite sect founded by Hasan-i- Sabbah at the end of the eleventh century AD, and remained active in Syria and Persia until destroyed by the Mongols in Persia under Hulagu in the 1200s. That part of the organization located in Syria was destroyed by the Mamluks of Egypt soon after.

Hasan, Shiite founder, spread his peculiar doctrine converting considerable numbers of followers whom he organized into a secret society. In 1090 he seized the strong mountain fortress of Alamut in Persia and settled there as the head of his secret organization. His title was "Old Man of the Mountains," as it is translated from Arabic.

Organization

The Assassins were divided into seven orders:

First - the leader.

Second - three "grand priors" - "emissaries of the faith," who ruled each of three provinces belonging to the group.

Third - the "body of priors" fully initiated into the "secret doctrines." "Secret doctrines" for the insiders - "Islam" for the people. The priors were also missionaries, ostensibly spreading "Islam," but also recruiting.

Fourth - those initiates training to be priors.¹

Fifth - the "devoted ones," the assassins proper - young men kept uninitiated and in the blindest obedience.

Sixth - novice Assassins, and

"The Assassins" by Marco Polo

Marco Polo passed through the land of the Assassins shortly after their demise, and he heard the following story from the natives of the region:

"The Old Man. ... caused a certain valley between two mountains to be enclosed, and had turned it into a garden, the largest and most beautiful that ever was seen, filled with every variety of fruit. In it were erected pavilions and palaces the most elegant that can be imagined, all covered with gilding and exquisite painting. And there were runnels too, flowing freely with wine and milk and honey and water; and numbers of ladies and of the most beautiful damsels in the world, who could play on all manner of

1 The "initiated" knew the usefulness of law and custom among the masses, so, the rules of Islam were rigidly enforced. As for the initiated themselves - they believed that positive religion and morality were unproductive. They believed in nothing - an "Illuminati of the Orient." They scoffed at the practices of the faithful, but strictly obeyed their leaders.

instruments, and sang most sweetly, and danced in a manner that was charming to behold. For the Old Man desired to make his people believe that this was actually Paradise. So he had fashioned it after the description that Mahomet gave of his Paradise, to wit, that it should be a beautiful garden running with conduits of wine and milk and honey and water, and full of lovely women for the delectation of all its inmates. And sure enough the Saracens of those parts believed that it was Paradise!

"Now no man was allowed to enter the Garden save those whom he intended to be his Ashishin (assassins). There was a Fortress at the entrance to the Garden, strong enough to resist all the world, and there was no other way to get in. He kept at this Court a number of the youths of the country, from 12 to 20 years of age, such as had a taste for soldiering, and to these he used to tell tales about Paradise, just as Mahomet has been wont to do, and they believed in him just as the Saracens believe in Mahomet. Then he would introduce them into his garden, some four, or six, or ten at a time, having first made them drink a certain potion which cast them into a deep sleep, and then causing them to be lifted and carried in. So when they awoke, they found themselves in the Garden.

Training Assassins

"When therefore they awoke, and found themselves in a place so charming, they deemed that it was Paradise in very truth. And the ladies and damsels dallied with them to their hearts' content, so that they had what young men would have; and with their own good will they never would have quitted the place.

"Now this Prince whom we call the Old One kept his Court in grand and noble style, and made those simple hill-folks about him believe firmly that he was a great Prophet. And when he wanted one of his Ashishin (assassins) to send on any mission, he would cause that potion whereof I spoke to be given to one of the youths in the garden, and then had him carried into his Palace. So when the young man awoke, he found himself in the Castle, and no longer in that Paradise; whereat he was not over well pleased. He was then conducted to the Old Man's presence, and bowing before him with great veneration as believing himself to be in the presence of a true Prophet. The Prince could then ask whence he came, and he would reply that he came from Paradise! and that it was exactly such as Mahommet had described it in the Law. This of course gave the others who stood by, and who had not been admitted, the greatest desire to enter therein.

"So when the Old Man would have any Prince slain, he would say to such a youth: 'Go thou and slay So and So; and when thou returnest my Angels shall bear thee into Paradise. And shouldst thou die, nathless even so will I send my Angels to carry thee back into Paradise.' So he caused them to believe; and thus there was no order of his that they would not affront any peril to execute, for the great desire they had to get back into that Paradise of his. And in this manner the Old One got his people to murder anyone whom he desired to get rid of. Thus, too, the great dread that he inspired in all Princes withal, made them become his tributaries in order that he might abide at peace and amity with them.

The editor of The Travels of Marco Polo give a shortened Chinese rendition of the same Assassin story in a footnote:

"The soldiers of this country are veritable brigands. When they see a lusty youth, they tempt him with the hope of gain, and bring him to such a point that he will be ready to kill his father or his elder brother with his own hand. After he is enlisted, they intoxicate him, and carry him in that state into a secluded retreat, where he is charmed with delicious music and beautiful women. All his desires are satisfied for several days, and then (in sleep) he is transported back to his original position. When he awakes, they ask what he has seen. He is then informed that if he will become an Assassin, he will (again have these delights). And with the text and prayers that they teach him they heat him to such a pitch that whatever commission be given him he will brave death without regret in order to execute it."³

Marco Polo goes on:

"I should also tell you that the Old Man had certain others under him, who copied his proceedings and acted exactly in the same manner."⁴

Assassin Murder List

Following are listed some of the more notable assassinations and attempts carried out by the organization.

1092 Nizum-ul-Mulk, formerly the powerful minister of Malik Shah, Seljukian sovereign of Persia, and later his two sons.

1102 Prince of Homsin the chief Mosque of that city.

1113 Maudud, Prince of Mosul in the chief Mosque of Damascus.

1114 Abul Muzafar 'Ali, Wazir of Sanjar Shah, and Chakar Beg, grand-uncle of the latter.

1116 Ahmed Yel, Prince of Maragha at Baghdad, in the presence of Mahommed, Sultan of Persia.

- 1121 Amir Afdal, the powerful Wazir of Egypt at Cairo.
- 1126 Kasim Aksonkor Prince of Mosul and Aleppo, in the Great Mosque at Mosul.
- 1127 Moyin-uddin, Wazir of Sanjar Shah of Persia.
- 1129 Amir billah, Kalif of Egypt.
- 1131 Taj-ul Muluk Buri, Prince of Damascus.
- 1134 Shams-ul-Muluk, son of the preceding.
- 1135-38 Kalif Mostarshid, the Khalif Rashid, and Daud, Seljukian Prince of Azerbaijan.
- 1149 Raymond, Count of Tripoli.
- 1191 Kizil Arzlan, Prince of Azerbaijan.
- 1192 Conrad of Montferrat, titular King of Jerusalem; a murder which King Richard has been accused of instigating.
- 1217 Oghulmish, Prince of Hamadan.
- 1271 Attempt to murder Ala'uddin Juwaini, Governor of Baghdad, and historian of the Mongols.
- 1272 The attempt to murder Prince Edward of England at Acre.
- 1274 and 1276 There were attempts to murder the great Saladin.

The End Of the Assassins

Marco Polo relates the end of this group:

"Now it came to pass, in ... 1252, that Alau, Lord of the Tartars of the Levant, heard tell of these great crimes of the Old Man, and resolved to make an end of him. So he took and sent one of his Barons with a great Army to that Castle, and they besieged it for three years, but they could not take it, so strong was it. And indeed if they had had food within, it never would have been taken. The Old Man was put to death with all his men (and the Castle and its Garden of Paradise was leveled to the ground). And since that time he has had no successor; and there was an end to all his villainies."

Two of the Assassin fortresses refused to surrender - Lembeser and Girdkuh. The first fell after a year and the latter is said to have held out for twenty years and fell sometime around 1270. They still had plenty of food left, but they had worn out all their clothing and were virtually naked. Thus passed the reign of the Assassins after some 170 years.

Assassin Postscript

In spite of what Marco Polo said in regards to the demise of the sect, the editor of the book states in a footnote that the dominion was extinguished, but the sect remained, though "scattered and and obscure."

A missionary of the Ismailis (Assassins) made converts from the Hindu trading classes in Upper Sind. Under the name of Khojas the sect multiplied and spread to Bombay and Zanzibar. Their numbers in the middle 1800s were 50,000 - 60,000. They combined Hindu and Mohammedan practices with Shiite mysticism, but the main characteristic that endures is their attaching divine reverence to the person of their hereditary leader - the Imám (high priest).

When the hereditary Imám resided in Persia, numbers of pilgrims made pilgrimages to see him once in their lifetime,

6 Ibid., p. 145

7 Attaching divine reverence to religious leaders is characteristic of wolf type religions - it is the "stamp of the wolf." Because the leader is divine - he is also infallible.

taking large remittances (Ismail's Pence) to him.⁸

Abul Hassan, the last Imám of admitted lineal descent from the later Sheiks of Alamut, and claiming descent from Imám Ismail and 'Ali Abu Talib, had considerable estates at Mehelati, between Kum and Hamadan, and at one time ruled Kerman. His son and successor, Shah Khalilullah, was killed in a brawl in 1818. The local ruler, fearing Ismailite vengeance, severely punished the offender, and conferred gifts and honors on the young Imám, Agha Khan.

In 1840, the Agha Khan went to Sind, India. In 1866 a schism among the Khojas led to an Indian court case where the Bombay community wanted to convert to respectable Sunnis (the major Islamic Sect). They wanted to exclude Agha Khan and transfer the rights to the property of the community into the charge of the now Orthodox Mohammedans. The judgment was against them and for The Old Man Of The Mountain.⁹

History shows that as late as the 1840s this group was greatly feared in Persia. There must have been some reason for them being feared. As late as 1866 extensive properties belonged to the sect. In the Orient, helpless sects don't have "extensive properties." Lavish gifts were conferred on its leader from fear of retribution. Fear of the group was very much alive in the last century. Perhaps Marco Polo was right - the sect is dead. But, still one hears the wind in the trees.

8 Pilgrimage rituals are required by many wolf religions. The early Western Christian Church instituted pilgrimages to Jerusalem and other local shrines at which time the pilgrim was expected to bring substantial offerings.

9 In the Orient, matters involving great wealth are often fixed before they come to trial. Religious leaders world wide tend to view the property of their sect to be their own "personal property." This applies also to the Levitical priesthood of Christendom which ordains its own corrupt members. Ezek 22:23-27, Deut 31: 24-29

And, the Agha Khan still lives today.

Commentary On Assassination

Rulers who possessed large armies used those armies to enforce their will. Certain rulers replaced their armies with the psychological weapon of "Dharma" - the "other kind" of warfare ("Dharma," see HR #236) following the lead of the Indian King Asoka in 224 BC. Dharma warfare removed resistance to change and made the use of large armies redundant. If armies were required to aid the final conquest of "Dharma," they were hired. The added use of assassins fine-tunes conquest by removing strategically placed enemies. It adds the "terror factor" and expedites a conqueror's program. In the Near East, one aspiring to a throne often hired murderers to remove obstacles. The Assassins organization was a murder factory. They produced hundreds of trained killers eager to kill and indifferent to being killed. And, they were backed by virtually unlimited resources.

Assassination on this massive scale was new, different, and almost always successful. The Assassins were a secret weapon - both destabilizing and debilitating - like the discovery of a crusader's body armor by a muslim warrior unaccustomed to such things. Later cases include germ warfare that decimated the North American Indians. The dive bomber, the submarine, and the car bomb were all terror weapons, as are the atom bomb, the sniper, and today's media-assassination. The introduction of a new weapon tends at first to paralyze the victims and induce a dread of those using the weapon.

For more than a generation, no enemy of the Assassins had ever managed to elude them. This sect, the most terrifying ever seen, was founded in 1090 by a man of immense culture, a devotee of poetry, profoundly interested in the latest advances of science.

Members, from novices to the grand master, were ranked according to their level of knowledge, reliability and courage. They underwent intensive courses of indoctrination as well as physical training. Hasin's favorite technique for sowing terror among his enemies was to send members of his sect individually - or more rarely, in small groups of two or three - on assignments to kill some chosen personality. They generally disguised themselves as merchants or aesthetes and moved around in the city where the crime was to be perpetuated, familiarizing themselves with the habits of their victims. Then, once their plan was ready, they struck.

"Although the preparation was always conducted in the utmost secrecy, the execution had to take place in public, indeed before the largest possible crowd. That was why the preferred site was a mosque, the favorite day Friday, ... murder was not merely a means of disposing of an enemy but was intended primarily as a twofold lesson for the public: first, the punishment of the victim, second, the heroic sacrifice of the executioner, who was called fidai (plural: fida'in, or fedayee), or suicide commando, because he was almost always cut down on the spot. The serenity with which the members of the sect accepted their own death led their contemporaries to believe that they were drugged with hashish, which is why they were called hashashun, ... a word that was distorted into 'Assassin.'¹⁰

The Assassins, while phenomenally successful in their speciality, often did poorly in conventional warfare and suffered severe defeats. Still, their ability to kill whomever they wished with seeming impunity made them dreaded and spread their evil reputation.

"Drawing lessons from their failures, the sect altered its tactics. (by) call(ing) a temporary halt to all spectacular actions and to return to careful and discreet organization and infiltration."

One of their greatest assassins, "Bahram lived in the greatest secrecy and seclusion, changing his dress and appearance so cleverly that he moved through the cities and strongholds without anyone suspecting his identity.

In 1124, there was a sharp resurgence in the activity of the Assassins. Many in Islam were careful not to criticize openly, because the Assassins began killing those who resisted them. They also supported those who supported them. No one dared to criticize them publicly, neither ruler nor slave. Borsoki himself, the power master of Aleppo and Mosul, suffered the vengeance of the Assassins. Al-Borsoki fell beneath their knives and his murderers were put to death. A few months after the death of al- Borsoki, his son, who had just succeeded him, was in turn killed.

When the Crusaders arrived within the Assassins' sphere of influence, demands were made on them. Their boastful defiance soon turned into polite respect after Count Raymund of Tripoli and Conrad of Montferrat were slain.

The Mongol Hulagu, grandson of Ghengas Khan, stormed Persia and took most of the Syrian branch of the Assassins prisoner including Rukn ad-Din. Rukn ad-Din was treated kindly by Hulagu but he incited revolt among Mongol captives which led to his death and that of 12,000 of his followers.¹³

12 ibid. 103, 104

Some years later the Mameluke sultan of Egypt ravaged the country around Baghdad seeking to root them out. He claimed to have exterminated them.

THUGS

Thuggees were a tightly knit confederacy of assassins who traveled in bands through India. They would gain the confidence of travelers and kill them when the opportunity arose by strangling them with a noose. They then robbed and buried them.

This was done after performing religious rites according to an ancient ritual. The consecration of sugar and the hand-pickax were used in the rituals. Thuggees worshiped Kali, the Hindu goddess of destruction and death, and used fraternal passwords and signs for recognition purposes.

The British infiltrated the organization and began to suppress them in the 1830s. By the turn of the century, the British announced to the world that the Thugs had been completely suppressed and were extinct. Others have their doubts. Few can forget that the Agha Khan still lives, and that Leon Trotsy, Number 3 man in the Soviet Communist government, fled to Mexico where an assassin killed him with a "hand-pickax."

The Indirect Approach

Both the Assassins and the Thuggees began as religious movements without either state or army to protect them. In time, they gained the protection of both, but their real power resided in the victims' fear that somewhere there was someone who would willingly die to take the life of his chosen victim. This fear gave the assassins tremendous power - it generated terror!

Westerners are shocked by what appears to be murder and suicide. Other peoples view things differently. The fact is that thousands of young Japanese airmen cheerfully stepped forward and offered their lives as human bombs in Kamikaze attacks on American ships during WWII. In Afghanistan, Muslims crawled beneath Soviet tanks with explosives and died in the explosion. Another son of Islam drove a truck laden with explosives into a marine barracks in Lebanon and killed himself and 240 marines in the explosion.

Who is this Mehmet Ali Agco of the "Gray Wolves" who in 1981 shot and wounded Pope John Paul?

Joe Slovo, communist party leader in SA, calls himself a member of the "Wit Wolves" (White Wolves). Is there a connection between "White Wolves" and the "Gray Wolf" who in 1988 attempted to assassinate the Turkish president Turgut Ozel? Just who are these "Gray Wolves?" Is anyone interested in finding out?

We know that President Lincoln was shot in 1865, Pres. James A. Garfield in 1881, Pres. William McKinley in 1901, Sen. Huey Long, the heir apparent to the White House in 1934, Pres. John F. Kennedy and Robert Kennedy were shot in the '60s. The latter was shot by Sirhan Sirhan. Was this Sirhan Sirhan a Gray Wolf? Is there a connection? - a behind-the-scenes connection?

Lincoln Rockwell, the flamboyant Anti-Semitic speaker, was assassinated. His murderer is said to be living quietly on a farm in Maryland. If this is true, then, it would seem that someone with connections in the government is responsible and would have the answer to a lot of these questions.

Perhaps the most important assassination attempt in this century was the shooting of George Wallace. Wallace himself was a two-bit liberal who ran as a third party conservative. The establishment always selects its own opposition (Democrats oppose Republicans) to prevent facing a genuine opposition. George Wallace was allowed to run to give the appearance of a "free election." He was not expected to win. To the establishment's consternation, George Wallace's 3rd party movement snowballed. It brought together a genuine grassroots organization capable of taking over the country. To stop it - Wallace was shot. The movement collapsed. The establishment was safe.

Most modern states keep hired assassins on their payroll - creatures who will risk or even give their lives if the price is right. America's own CIA organized and directed the dreaded "Phoenix program" in Vietnam. William Colby, former director of the CIA, boasted of the fact that at least sixty thousand Vietnamese had been killed "in cold blood" by his American, Korean, Filipino, Taiwanese and Vietnamese agents.¹⁴ Then there were the government assassins sent out onto the backroads to ambush the Gordon Kahl party. After that, the Ruby Ridge and the Waco massacres. Why the unnecessary killings? Is there a Thuggee- Assassin type organization at work in the West whose object is to instill "terror" as a political tool?

The assassination scenario gives every appearance of becoming worse. The arrival on our shores of many different races and cultures will doubtless bring with them religious zealots to enforce the rules of their gods. No longer will there be just government assassins and Mafia hit men, there will also be Chinese "Tong-assassins," Mexican gang-killers, "Bloods," "Crips," Jamaican killers, Jewish Defense League types, and South American "enforcers" who have yet to receive a name.

Conclusion

There are two sides to every coin. The Christian West has borne the brunt of an undeclared war waged against her. FBI reports state that whites are victims in nine out of ten interracial attacks. White casualties are huge and over the world mount by the tens of thousands every month. When the day arrives that Christendom turns to its own God for salvation the following verse from God may cause the persecutors of Christendom to tremble!

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." John 15:13¹⁵

RKH: No one knows. Logically, the ultimate usurer is the ultimate Brahman. A Chinese is reputed to be the richest person in the world. India's Hindu priesthood is reputed to be the richest organization in the world. The Catholic Church's banking and politics is reputed to make it the most powerful organization in the world. The high visibility of international Jewry in banking, media, and world communism is said to make it the most powerful. The WORD says that ANYONE who violates the WORD is God's enemy - that includes our own. Could it be that the Brahmans who rule the world come from all sectors - all equally insane with the disease of Dharma?

CORRECTION: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: You make a mistake to believe that blacks can be Mohammedans. Each race has its own god and system of worship. The Blacks' system is voodoo. Any other religion they adopt eventually reverts to a form of voodooism. Blacks proclaim Islam for three reasons. First, as a rallying point to face the White man. Secondly, to disassociate themselves from a sordid and embarrassing history, and, lastly, to hustle their own kind. 'The greatest enemies of wolves are other wolves.' They eradicate competing drug dealers and establish their own. The 'Mr. Clean' image is only skin-deep. The Islamic group in the St. Louis area was recently accused of being involved in heroin and cocaine trafficking and murder. Black ways are always shifting, we can never know them." B. M. - Missouri

JDL: "Dear R. K. Hoskins: I just finished reading 'The Story of the Jewish Defense League' by Meir Kahane. On page #326 Kahane outlined a 13 point program. Number #5 being 'Organizing fundamentalist Bible churches into a powerful 'Christians for Zion.' I know first hand that the program is being carried out because my ex-pastor supports the program. Kahane was grossly uneducated in the truths of History, but he certain did know how to cause trouble for other Jews."

H. W. - New Jersey

MIXED ANCESTRY: "Dear Sir: My grandfather on my father's side was Indian. That would make me according Deu 23:2 not an Israelite. So, if I believe in God and Jesus, where do I fit in on Salvation. Am I lost as a sinner going to hell?"
K. J. - Illinois

RKH: No, indeed. This subject has been covered many times in HR. While the scriptures were written for Israel, and other peoples have their own, non-Israel may profit from obeying the Law. "Salvation" comes from the "willingness to obey" the WORD. The thief on the cross had no opportunity to "do good," but he was "willing." In the absence of opportunity - "willing" is sufficient. Non-Israel, wishing to benefit from obedience, may. However, this includes the "separation" required by Deu 23:2. II Enoch (Ethopic) 58:7 states that the souls of non-Israelites will be alive at the great judgment. Elsewhere scripture states that a heaven has been prepared for obedient non-Israel. God is just, and merciful. His solutions cannot be improved upon.

FOUNDING A CHURCH: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: We would like to organize a church here in prison to study Biblical Law. How should we go about it?" B. R. - Florida

RKH: Learn from the wolf. "Wise as a serpent and harmless as a dove." Appear as a lamb. Nothing controversial. No problems. No demands. Many smiles, many "yes sirs," "as you wish, sir." DeKlerk appeared as a sheep before baring his teeth and tearing the flock. You want a place to meet and teach God's Law. This is harmless enough. If the wolf wishes to attend - have a special message prepared for him to hear. A name like the "Presbyterian Fellowship," or "The Sunshine Bible Study Group." A ram by any other name is still a ram. A ram who learns from the wolf is exceptional. A ram who knows what God requires of him, has the appearance of a lamb, and who has learned from the wolf - is invincible. Christendom needs victories not martyrs. The indirect approach. Learn from our enemies.

Chapter 238

ASOKA To JESUS

Asoka - Father Of Dharma

King Asoka of India (d. 232 BC) was the St. Paul of Buddhism. He codified Buddhism and erected 10,000 great monuments carved with his edicts all over India. He also fashioned the invincible Hindu weapon of conquest - "Dharma!"

Asoka was the grandson of Chandragupta, the Indian king who successfully negotiated the purchase for 5000 elephants of the entire Indian empire that Alexander had conquered. Chandragupta's grandson, Asoka, ruled this extensive Indian kingdom. Asoka's vast empire adjoined another vast kingdom that had been handed down to successors that Alexander had appointed - that of the Greek-Syrians. Asoka inscribed on the Indian monuments his boast that he had conquered the mighty Greeks also. He had conquered them without armies.

He had conquered them with "Dharma."

Rulers Need Their Subjects Dharmatized

The great problem of conquerors is the extreme reluctance of the people they have conquered to accept other alien subjects of the conqueror. Attempts by the king to integrate them into one easily ruled homogeneous mass are often met

Alexander's Indian Conquests

Alexander's army stormed over the mountains into India conquering all before it. Meeting his last opponent Chandragupta, Alexander's army refused to fight. Alexander appointed a Greek governor and went home - taking with him "DHARMA".

with fierce resistance. Unruly and rebellious empires whose peoples refuse to accept each other's money, goods, services, and trade - produce poor tax- collections.

The Hindu-Buddhist priesthood of India removed this problem by devising a Hindu ecumenical system called "Dharma." !1 ☐ "System" is the word - "bringing-together." "Removing strife" is its purpose. Ecumenism is a religion without a god, unless "ecumenism" itself is a god. All Dharma-ecumenism does is to require everyone to worship his own god and at the same time tolerate other gods. In this way there can be no friction between gods, trade moves effortlessly, and tribute collections are maximized.

N.O.T. Dharma

Hindu-Dharma requires N.O.T:

"N" - "NON-VIOLENCE: Ahimsa - one must be non-violent to all other races and religions in both word and deed.

"O" - "OBEDIENCE:" One must be obedient to the statutes, and provide the needs of one's family, neighbors, workers, and one must be especially obedient to the ruler, which makes all else possible.

"T" - "TOLERANCE:" One is required to be "tolerant." Dharma directs that one may not discriminate because of race, religion, or national origin. Tolerance also means - "not to criticize." One must not criticize other gods or their practices, regardless of how much it offends. Hindus believe there is no reason not to be tolerant since their basic belief is that all gods are the same god, and each seeming difference is only a different manifestation of the existing Hindu gods - Siva and Vishnu - sons of Brahma the universal creator, or Brahman, the unknown world force. Thus, it is illogical to criticize

1 Ecumenism: "A movement seeking to achieve worldwide unity among religions through greater cooperation and improved understanding." American Heritage Dictionary someone else's god, for to do so is to criticize a different manifestation of your own god.²

Dharma-matras - The Enforcers

N.O.T. are not intangible ideals. They are required behavior dictated by Asoka's law. Asoka gave Dharma teeth. A special priesthood was created and funded by the state - Dharma-supervisors, Dharma-matras - the enforcers. The duties of the supervisors are (1) instruction, (2) punishment, (3) distribution of honors and gifts. (Asoka's Edict XV),³ Dharma was not optional - it was required.

Where properly enforced, Dharma produces one in 10 who is enthused over Dharma, one in ten who is in various stages of revolt, and 7 in 10 who refuse to express a negative opinion against anyone else's race, religion or politics. It makes no difference whether or not a subject is either for or against the ruler - as long as he does not become an active opponent the ruler can retain power indefinitely.

India proved that a country which accepts Dharma is an easy country to rule⁴. Hinduism, through its offshoot - Buddhism, quickly spread throughout Indonesia, China, and Japan - and the mid-east. Ecumenical-Dharma worked.

2 Dharma is a form of tolerance (N.O.T.) not approved by the WORD. Dharma requires the "tolerance" of things cursed by God. Dharma priests are Baal priests.

3 Dharma enforcement today is provided by government: (1) "Instruction" is provided by government schools and the media; (2) "Punishment" provided by government "civil rights" departments, ongoing censorship, never-ending "justice" department persecutions, and "anti-defamation" attacks by government and quasi-government organizations, and; (3) "Honors and gifts" are provided by "Nobel" type prizes, awards banquets, scholarship and achievement awards, foundation grants, and media recognition.

4 In India the Hindu priests rule. Government officials are their administrators whose success or failure may have little bearing on the successful rule of the Brahman priesthood.

Greeks Conquered By Dharma

In about 250 BC King Asoka carved on one of his monuments his boast:

"(King Asoka) considers ... (conquest by Dharma) the most important conquest. He has achieved this moral conquest repeatedly ... even as far away as 600 yojanas (about 3000 miles, where the yona (Greek) king Antiyoka rules, and even beyond Antiyoka in the realms of the four kings named Truamaya, Antikini, Maka, and Alikasudara ..."15

The footnote to the above quote states that the five kings mentioned have been identified as Antiochos II "God of Syria" (261-246 BC), Ptolemy II Philadelphos of Egypt (285-247 BC), Antigonos Gonatas of Macedonia (278-239 BC), Magas of Cyrene (300-258 BC), and Alexander of Epirus (272-258 BC).

"Hellenization" Is Greek Dharma

To tear aside the paper curtain that conceals the past one must carefully examine historical dates and event. By following dates it is often possible to expose a condition that once seen becomes obvious to everyone. Ecumenical-Dharma is such a condition. It is so explosive that it has the potential to cause discontent if widely exposed. Therefore, such things are often "forbidden knowledge." It is the kind of thing that establishment historians "overlook," and are rewarded for so

Asoka's Indian Empire c.250 BC

Asoka inherited his grandfather's Chandragupta's kingdom. Chandragupta's family had become rulers as result of a plot by Hindu priests. The kingdom grew into an empire with land purchased from the Greeks combined with Asoka's own conquests. Asoka is best known for his bloodless technique of conquest called "Dharma".

doing. If they insist on exposing the situation they may be punished.⁶

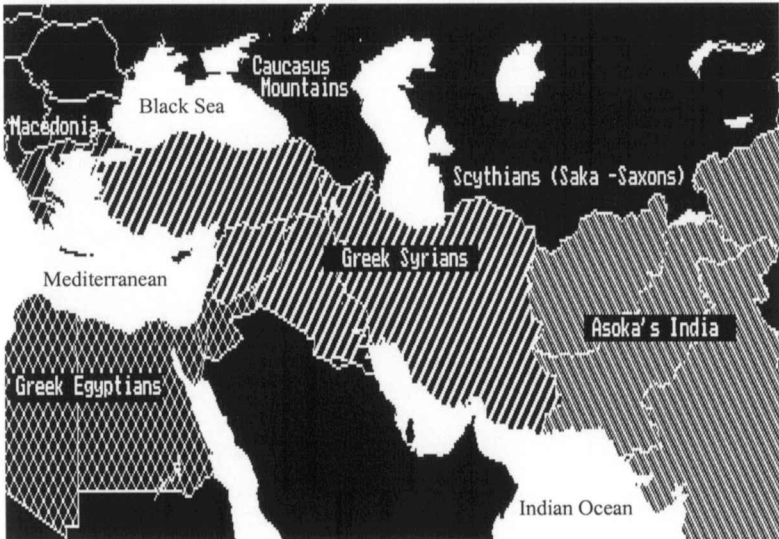

The chronological progression we wish to follow starts with Alexander.

- 323 BC: Alexander The Great. Greek conqueror, died age 33. King Chandragupta, Asoka's grandfather, bought his Indian empire for 5000 elephants.
- b.291- d.232 BC. King Asoka the Great.
- c. 250 BC: Asoka boasted that he had conquered the ⁶ The most widely published historian in the English language, David Irving, is presently being punished, ostracized, and shunned by the establishment media who once doted on him. His crime? He published his discovery that there were no gas chambers at Buchenval, no planned extermination of 6 million, no 6 million, and the entire thing is wartime propaganda that has outlived its time. Such a thing is made possible only because of the lack of challenge to today's media monopoly.

Greeks.

- 261-246 BC: Antiochos II "God of Syria." This is one of the four Greek kings Asoka boasted that he had conquered.⁷
- 223-187 BC: Antiochos III - Suppressed revolts in Media and Persia (220 BC).
- Seleucus IV - son of above. Ruled 187-175. Murdered.

Indian Hinduism Spreads Into Greek World

Revolts by nations conquered by the Greeks resulted in Greek enforcement of "Dharma-Hellenization". "Toleration" of other gods and races was required by Greek edict. The white arrows show Hinduism's spread. The attempt to enforce Hellenization on Judea's Israelites, who recognized only God the WORD, triggered the Maccabean Wars.

⁷ Once a king accepts ecumenical-Dharma as state policy to help him rule his people - it becomes STATE POLICY; the accepting king and his subjects are then reluctant to violate "Dharma" by denying a stranger's god, gods, the god's customs (homosexuality and usury are accepted by Indian gods), the god's people, or any other practices - even when the practices are forbidden by the WORD. Greece learned ecumenical-Dharma from India, Palestine and Rome learned from the Greeks. Historians state that "eastern religions" were a major factor in Rome's fall. The fact that "Dharma," as state policy - was the reason Eastern religious practices appeared in the West - is suppressed for obvious reasons.

"Hellenization" Forced On Israel

The Dharmatized Greeks attempted to passify their rebellious conquered subjects with Greek Dharma which they called "Hellenization."

- Antiochas IV - brother of above. Ruled 175-163 BC. In 168 BC declared obedience to the WORD illegal. Mattathias and his sons rose in revolt.

Israelites were stiff-necked, rebellious, and unbending. They preferred to be fried in frying pans rather than accept

Sadducee-Hellenism Spreads Hinduism In Judea

The Israelites returned from Babylonian captivity to rebuild the temple. They complained about Edomites living in Judea (Esau's Descendants mixed with Canaanites). Centuries later King Hyarcanus (134-104 BC) invaded Idumea and: (1) forced the accursed Idumeans to accept the WORD - a violation of the Law. This resulted in two kinds of Jews - Judean-Israelites" from Judea, and "Idumean-Jews" from Idumea who were proclaimed "Jews" by Hyarcanus. 2: Hyarcanus invaded Samaria, peopled with "Arabs" brought in 600 years before to replace Israelites taken into captivity. Palestine was a sandwich affair: Galilee-Israelite, Samaria-Arab, Judean-Israelite, and Esau-Idumean whose influence over the whole land though the Herod kings subverted everything the WORD stood for. By now only Christ himself could save Israel from Phariseeism - the result of Hindu Dharma-Hellenism-Sadduceeism imported to spread "toleration" - the "Hindu toleration" of things cursed by the WORD, which is God.

Indian- Greek gods and eating their pig sacrifices.⁸ Israel's God was the WORD. God the WORD ordered his people; "Take the prophets of Baal; let not one of them escape. And they took them ... and slew them." I Ki 18:40. Worse than killing baal priests was the fact that Israelites wouldn't trade with Greeks, God the Word forbade it: "If thou has stricken thy hand with a stranger (Heb: zwur - racial alien) thou art snared." Pr. 6:1, and they slighted the Greeks and those who sided with them; "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me. I Ki 4:21. They continued making disparaging remarks against the Greek king: "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15, and hindered his rule all they could.

In spite of the official ecumenical-Dharma proclaimed as law by the Greek king - the Judeans rejected it. This was the problem - if the Israelites of Judea were not broken - others would follow their example and revolt. Chaos would spread in the rest of the Greek empire. Antiochas III came down hard on these rebels. He declared the WORD that was GOD - illegal. His ruthless behavior brought on the Wars of the Maccabees (167-160 BC).

- 166 BC - Mattathias died: He had defied Antiochus IV of Syria which started the Maccabean Revolt in 166 BC.
- 166-160 BC: Judas the Maccabee - 3rd son of Mattathias became leader. Was killed.
- 163-162 BC: The Maccabees won. Antiochas V made peace with the Judeans.

⁸ See PIG, Hoskins Report, #233, Feb 1, 1994.

- 160-143 BC: Jonathan - youngest son of Mattathias succeeded Judas.
- 143-134 BC: Simon - 2nd son of Mattathias, succeeded Jonathan as leader. Was chosen civil governor and high priest 141 BC. Was murdered.

" Sadducees" - Hebrew Converts to Hellenism

SADDUCEES & PHARISEES: Israelites in Judea who were converted to Greek Dharma-Hellenism were known as "Sadducees." They gave lip service to the WORD that was God, but they also accepted the Greek gods and Greek customs. The Dharma-Hellenist was now called a "Sadducee."

Those Israelites who refused and demanded strict obedience to the WORD were known as "Pharisees."

- 134- 104 BC: John Hyracanus, son of Simon Extended his kingdom to include Samaria, Idumaea, and lands east of Jordan.

Religious Problem - Idumaea & Samaria

John Hyracanus was a military genius. He inherited the conquering tradition of the Maccabees. He conquered Idomea and Samaria, both formerly lands of the Israelites, and now both inhabited by alien peoples cursed by God. In spite of God's warning to Israel to have nothing to do with strangers, Hyracanus wanted to annex these two conquered states and their alien peoples into his own budding empire.

To be obedient to God the WORD required that his only Lawful choice was to (1) withdraw and abandon his conquests, or, (2) remove the alien populations so the lands could be re-settled by Israelites.⁹ This choice would provide the powerful Greek-Egyptian Empire in the south, and the powerful Greek-Syrian Empire in the north, an excuse to go to war against him. Or, (3) he could enforce Dharma-toleration on Israel to make his Israelite subjects accept the new tax-paying strangers recently conquered by their king.¹⁰

Hyracanus the Great became a Sadducee. It was his solution to force tolerance of that which was evil in the sight of God - the integration of Israel with strangers.¹¹ By edict, Hyracanus required the Idumean wolves be changed into sheep by swearing to obey the WORD and by being circumcised. In an instant he created a new kind of animal - a "wolf-sheep" Israelite. In numbers, Hyracanus Kingdom doubled and trebled almost overnight. It became filled with "instant Judeans." They all took the name "Jew" after the land. But, one people they were not. The rulers who succeeded Hyracanus continued his policies.

- 140-103 BC: Aristobulus I. Son of John. High priest and king of Judea. Was a Sadducee.
- 103-76 BC: Alexander Jannaeus - Brother of above. Assumed title of "priest-king." Continual intrigues, conflicts between Sadducees and Pharisees. He was a Sadducee.
- 76-67 BC: Alexandra - Wife and successor of above. Ruled. Switched her support from Sadducees to Pharisees.
- 67-63 BC: Hyracanus II - Son of above. Appointed by his mother as high priest. Was nominal ruler.

- 63-40 BC Aristobulus II, brother to above, actual ruler.
- 40-37 BC: Antigonus was son of Aristobulus II. His niece Mariamne was second wife of Herod the Great.
- 40-4 BC: Herod the Great, King of Judea 37-4BC. Son of Antipater of an Idumean family. Killed his 2nd wife Mariamne. Fled to Rome (40 BC) and there appointed king of Judea. Rebuilt Great Temple at Jerusalem. Supported any form of religious ecumenism that did not reject him because he was a stranger,¹² or the Romans gods since they had appointed him king. It was Herod who killed the Hebrew children. It was he who officiated over the corruption run rampant in Palestine. His soldiers hunted down "followers of the Way" deep into caves in the deserts. There they were given the choice of "Dharma or death." Most chose death and stepped off cliffs or received arrows from Herod's SWAAT Teams rather than live under Herod. Indian Hinduism - called at first "Dharma," then called Hellenism, Saduceeism, and at the last - Pharaceeism - had a strangle hold on the people of Palistine. Israel faced extinction but God remembered:.

"Thus sayeth the Lord, who giveth the sun...and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars ... who divideth the sea ... If those ordinances depart ... then the seed of Israel shall also cease from being a nation before me forever ... If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, I will also cast off all the seed of Israel for all they have done, sayeth the Lord." Jer. 31:35-37

12 GODS LAW: "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15, "Their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall precede from the midst of them." Jer 30:21

SOUTH AFRICA NOW by K.J.

Well, the day arrived when our proud nation, the nation that swore that it would never be ruled by strangers - is ruled by strangers - this in direct defiance of God's express command:

"Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15

"Their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall proceed from the midst of them." Jer 30:21

"Thou shalt reign over many nations, but they shall not reign over thee." Deu 15:6

White traitors made all the preparations so that Mandella, the newly elected black President, can fill every government office with his cut-throats. They are given such big pay packets that it leaves ordinary whites speechless. They do this and the economy is in tatters. They are changing town names from white to black.

The much vaunted ANC "peace force" ran amuck wherever they were sent. Should these characters be taken into the new SA Defense Force the same problems will continue. This morning the news said that Shell had problems when many of ANC's military wing turned up with their guns and demanded jobs. It does not take long for the first chickens to arrive.

As for my own feelings, I can only look with disgust at the Police and Defense Force. They would surely serve the Devil, too, if he turns up. When the black "peace force" fell flat during the election, they stepped in and showed no mercy tracking down patriots who showed in the least way that they do not like black rule.¹³

About the election. If it was not such a tragedy it would have been a comedy. Most white patriots did not vote. We simply stayed at home. Gen Constand Viljoen received good media coverage. He voted at the headquarters of the army. Just after parliament convened Constand Viljoen turned up to pledge his alliance to the new president, new constitution, new flag and all that goes with it. All the former generals closed ranks with him and did the same - which fulfilled the prophecy you made on page six of the April Hoskins Report.

Most who occupy parliament cabinet posts are all hardened communists. When one sees among those attending the inauguration the names of Hillary Clinton and Al Gore one realizes how firmly the Edomites have grasped the seat of power as they have done in America. We will have to see if Joe Slovo, head of the Communist Party, will press on for a complete marxist state, or will try to do it gradually. It seems that the whites tend to hang on "promises" until they are destroyed.

Word from Pretoria is that millions of blacks were turned back from the big occasion. They had to have tickets to enter 13 RKH: One feels "unease" when passing a steely eyed policeman. One feels the same unease when passing a federal judge, or an FBI or a ATF agent. This is natural. God appointed his people Israel kings and priests to enforce the Law. The authority any other enforcers have is authority first wrenched from God's kings and priests. In this way, little by little, we become serfs on our own land. Sorrowfully I say this - anyone who receives pay, pension, or reward cannot be free from his paymaster. The treason of the S. African generals and Defense Force proves it once again.

Pretoria. This is why so few were seen on the lawn in front of the Union building.

The HNP (far right white political party) quickly convened a main council meeting last Saturday. A meeting with white Conservative Party leaders brought no co-operation. The CP continue to accommodate those who broke away and joined Viljoen. Neither would they say where they stand with Viljoen.¹⁴

The Telegraph, a British newspaper, published several articles about how the organized Church played a major part in the downfall of the white race in South Africa. It is called "How the Afrikaners at prayer brought Mandella to power." Cute! In the days ahead we will see how these church traitors answer to God

After all these years people are once more turning back to the Bible. Those who have gone to establishment churches because it has been expected of them in order to keep their jobs will soon find that church attendance will no longer help. The church is hand in glove with the enemy. The inauguration of Mandela took place with every type of religion present plus a lot of Witch Doctors to top it off - a proper "new age" affair with Mandela talking about the "rainbow people" of this country.

Radio Pretoria closed down. It was the only way our people could communicate with each other in their own language. The South African Broadcasting Corp TV is for blacks and English only. It is alien to us. Commandant Ratte, the local militia leader and on the radio committee, was very much against the closing, realizing how much it will benefit the enemy.

14 HR believes that the establishment took over DeKlerk's National Party. They also selected the Conservative Party to be its "in house" opposition. This keeps the NP from facing the HNP - the voice of white reason. It's the same in the U.S. "In-house" Democratic and Republican Parties fight "a la Hollywood." A Democratic or Republican loss is never a loss - it is all "Hollywood" Only these two "in-house" parties receive media coverage. It is the same in S. Africa.

With your last Report in hand, we went there last Saturday. Looking for Ratte, I saw a group of men in army browns - an officer was talking. He allowed those who were against Ratte to go inside. I was told that liberal members of the radio committee wanted to remove Ratte from their radio committee. A speaker said that after a lengthy wait, a license for Radio Pretoria may be issued to allow it to continue as a "cultural station," but that's all. Many people voiced dissatisfaction and wanted Ratte to speak - but he was not allowed.

The motion was made that another committee be elected as the people want the station to continue. The chairman of the committee turned it down. It was very heated. When Ratte arose to speak he was prevented from using the loudspeaker system. Ratte spoke anyway. He said that the Pretoria commando, sponsors of Radio Pretoria who have done everything to keep the station open, are being persecuted for doing so. The little station had become a meeting place and messages were relayed from there all over South Africa.

To complicate matters, an agent of the establishment left a package at the station to be picked up the next day. The next day arrived and so did the police. They walked right over to the package and opened it. It contained explosives. The authorities are using this as an excuse to be heavy handed.

Whelm Ratte said that many of the commando members are jobless and need work. I stood nearly next to him and could see that his own uniform had seen better days. It was worn out. That made me really sad. Here we have a fine young man of intelligence, an excellent soldier, but he is not being used for the good of our people and is now discarded by unscrupulous men. Many of those at the meeting are near the poverty level. Their vehicles are in poor condition and they are poorly clad. It makes me think of those days just after 1902.

To me it is clear that those who were behind establishing Radio Pretoria had a different reason for doing so than helping our people - it was meant to help the generals. The station equipment is "army issue," although much else was contributed by patriots. The relay stations across the country were built with donations from our people.

It seems that the station was meant to broadcast propaganda to the Boers in favor of the generals. It worked. Radio Pretoria had a tremendous audience. With the election past the station has been shut down. The transfer of South Africa to world communism was accomplished without open revolt. The generals now have no reason to keep it on line and they want it shut down.

The police are persecuting members of the Pretoria commando and are now looking for Ratte. They have also taken several men captive who the police say belong to the AWB. These men are accused of planning to blow up Jan Smuts airport with a five ton bomb. Even I know that this is silly. There is no truck around here big enough to carry such heavy weight.

As far as I can see there are only poor people. Hundreds of poor white families pass by. Affirmative action has turned them out. They have no jobs, no food, no place to live. It seems that the police want to ingratiate themselves with the new regime by persecuting their own people and by putting as many patriots as they can in jail.

Rumor has it that there are plans to send the SADF men to Ruanda. I suppose it is a way to kill off our men as the English killed off the Scots they enlisted into their armies in years gone by.

All western Transvaal districts have been proclaimed "unrest areas" and movements by AWB members severely curtailed.

As much as I detest the thought, if things get worse, we, your kinsmen in distress may have to call on you for help provide food for our destitute children. There is no one else.

RED BECKMAN ATTACKED: "The government grabbed Red Beckman and his wife and removed them from their farm, Friday morning, May 20th about 6:30 AM. His friendly sheriff and SWAT team moved in with assault weapons, grabbed him, removed his wife and belongings and started bulldozing the buildings. Red Beckman and his wife are not in custody; however, they are without a home and are having to pay storage on their own belongings stored by the sheriff. Once again we see the total lack of any justice or due process left in this country. At this time the Beckman's do not have an address or phone number. Will keep you apprised." RKH: Red Beckman co-authored the book The Law That Never Was, The book proves that the 16th amendment to the Constitution, the income tax amendment, has never been properly ratified. I have never heard of someone having a tax-dispute in the courts having his house bulldozed.

RKH: The Beckwith Pardon Petition says it nicely: "After 31 years Mr. Beckwith has been denied a speedy trial, an impartial jury of his peers - by excluding jurors who were not minorities, in violation of the 6th Amendment and the Magna Carta; his retrial without credible new evidence against him was merely a rehashing of 31 year old testimony which was found to be insufficient by two previous juries. It was unfair and a violation of the 6th Amendment; his advanced age, ill-health and the climate of political persecution surrounding his case make a pardon an appropriate and compassionate remedy in the interests of justice."

BEST BIBLE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: What is the best Bible?" H. C. - Florida

RKH: Each type of Bible has good points. I even like the much meligned ones. Each contains The WORD. For that reason each should be treated with the care that The WORD deserves. When reading at Sunday school, I read from the King James. Others follow in at least 3 other kinds of Bibles. If there is a disagreement in meaning - we jump on it right then. It is a good way to learn.

Chapter 239

MARCION

Filling the Gap Between Jesus & Constantine

Geneva Bible: James 2:11 note 6 by Knox, Calvin et al: "The Lawmaker ... and the body of the Law cannot be divided." GOD'S KINGDOM BECOMES SATAN'S KINGDOM BY REMOVING THE LAW.

The Background

King Asoka of India boasted that the Greek-Syrians, specifically "King Antiochus, had been conquered by his "Dharma" - "Indian ecumenism that is today known as "Buddhism." King Antiochus imposed these new concepts on the peoples of his empire.

"In those days went there out of Israel wicked men who persuaded many, saying, Let us go and make a covenant with the heathen ... Then certain of the people ... went to the king, who gave them license to do after the ordinances of the heathen:

"Whereupon they ... joined themselves to the heathen, and were sold to do mischief. ... After 2 years ... the king sent his chief collector of tribute unto the cities of Juda, who came unto Jerusalem ... And spake peaceable words unto them, but all was deceit: for when they had given him credence ... And they put therein a sinful nation, wicked men ...

"Whereupon the city was made an habitation of strangers, and became strange to those that were born in her, and her own children left her ...

"King Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom, that all should be one people, And every one should leave his laws: ... Yea, many also of the Israelites consented to his religion, and sacrificed unto idols, and profaned the sabbath. For the king has sent letters ... that they should follow the strange laws of the land ... To the end they might forget the Law, and change all the ordinances. ... The king ... appointed overseers (surrogates) ... commanding the cities ... to sacrifice, city by city. Then many of the people were gathered unto them, to wit, every one that forsook the law: ... and ... they rent in pieces the books of the law which they found, they burnt them with fire.

"And whosoever was found with any the book of the testament, or if any consented to the law, the king's commandment was, that they should put him to death. ... Howbeit, many in Israel were confirmed in themselves not to eat any unclean thing. Wherefore they chose rather to die that they might not profane the holy covenant." I Maccabees 1: 11-63.

Israel's Law forbade Israelites to trade or deal with the Greek Syrians. The Greek Syrians attempted to remove the offending Law and fought the Maccabean wars with the Israelites. Israel won. The powerful empire of Syria was forced to recognize the small country of John Hyrcanus. The condition was that he consider himself subject to Syria and promise to help in Syrian military campaigns. Certain coastal cities annexed by the Jews were also to be relinquished. However, King Hyrcanus quickly re-conquered these cities and also added the land of Idumaea and its cursed peoples to Judean territory.

These conquests were the financial coup of the age. They captured an important section of the ancient spice trade routes that passed from east to west. Hyrcanus received lush tribute payments from the international traders for furnishing protection to this section of the trade route. But, while lucrative, it caused problems with the religiously oriented Jews. Along with the trade routes through Idumaea and the coastal cities came the people who operated these caravans and the counting houses connected with them - the cursed Idumeans.¹ To try and make palatable these annexations to his own Israelite people - Hyrcanus compelled the Idumeans to become circumcised and accept the Jewish faith. He then decreed that his fellow Israelites accept these aliens and treat them as they would their own Israelite people.²

The Maccabean struggle was long past and new rivalries had developed. The older Israelite Hellenists who wished to do away with the Law so that they could trade with the Greeks had been discredited, but their ideas of ecumenical-Dharma³ - doing away with the Law which prevented trade with the international spice trade and its peoples - were perpetuated in the party of the Sadducees. The orthodox of Maccabean times became the Pharisees of pre-Christian Judaism and the New Testament.

The children of King Hyrcanus had little sympathy with the traditional WORD of God. They came to look with disdain on the rigidly Law abiding Pharisees. The profits from the international spice trade from India that passed through Idumaea caused "these heirs of the Maccabees to become thoroughly Hellenized."⁴

When the Pharisees came into power about 10 years before Jesus they inherited rule over an adulterated religion that incorporated the Israelites⁵ whom God had blessed and the Edomites whom God had cursed.⁶ Many Pharisees remained honest and upright, but there were also the Edomites of whom Jesus said:

Rev 2:9; "I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee." Rev 3:9

The reason Jesus Christ came was to save his people from the Hindu-Buddhist "Dharma" that was destroying them. Israel was lost. The reason Israel was lost was that obedience to Dharma had displaced The WORD. The WORD was lost. The WORD that demands that Israel be separate from all others - including the cursed Edomites. Jesus made it quite clear: "I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me." John 17:9

That is - Jesus Christ made it plain to all - plain to all but those who follow the teachings of leaders like Antiochus and King Hyrcanus, and have themselves become Dharmatized (ecumenized). Jesus said:

"I was sent to the lost sheep of the house of Israel, and to them alone." Matt 15:24

"These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not unto the way of the Gentiles, and unto any city of the Samaritans enter ye not: But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Math 10:5,6.

When he sent his disciples forth he instructed them:

"As my Father hath sent me even so I send you." (the Father sent Him to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 15:24) John 20:21

"For thou didst separate them from all the people of the world to be thine inheritance." 1 Ki 8:51

The Christian Revolt Spreads

The Scriptures say that Israel was scattered into all the world after being taken into Babylonian and Assyrian captivity 721 years before Christ. To reach these scattered nations Jesus instructed his disciples to go into all the world after them. They did. Some went eastward, some went up the Danube and the Russian Rivers; others went to England⁷ and others went to Rome.

Synagogue Abandoned By Christians

Christian missionaries, sent by Jesus, reached their kinsmen in Rome. Their arrival was like a bombshell. They found Rome a moral cesspool. They found Israelites and Edomites worshiping together as they had in Palestine. Their mission was - restore the WORD, and the WORD commands:

(1) "Now it came to pass, when they had heard the law, that they separated from Israel all the mixed multitudes." Neh 13:3; (2) "For thou didst separate them from all the people of the world to be thine inheritance." 1 Ki 8:51; (3) "Come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord." 2 Cor 6:17; (3) "Separate yourselves from the people of the land, and from the strange wives." Ezra 10:11⁸

is from this era that Christian-Israel separated from and abandoned the Synagogue - leaving it to the Edomites and their converts.⁹

State Within A State

Always, when Christian revival takes place - changes occur. The WORD demands it. God's people gave their allegiance to the "King of Kings." Obediently, they separated and formed Christian communities which lived according to the WORD. The WORD criticized the emperor's land monopoly and demanded that the land be divided to give each his inheritance. It demanded freedom from taxes and insisted that Israel trade with their own kind. The WORD forbade marrying strangers and demanded divorce from the strangers that had been married - insisting that they give up mixed-breed offspring for adoption. Christians were creating a state within a state. The trade of the international merchant was being impacted.¹⁰

Roman Reaction

Rome was a business operation. Her rulers worshiped many gods because Rome had many gods. The gods of each conquered nation were added to the existing pantheon of 9 "Strictly speaking, it is incorrect to call an ancient Israelite a Jew, or to call a contemporary Jew an Israelite or Hebrew." 1980 Jewish Almanac p. 1. Identity Crisis. In the 8th century the Pharisee-Edomites abandoned in the synagogues reaped a bonanza with the conversion of almost the entire nation of Mongol Khazars living in S. Russia. These converts now account for more than 90% of world Jewry. It is their value system which is presently attracting notice in Christendom. See War Cycles / Peace Cycles, Va. Pub. Roman gods, and state funds were appropriated to build temples for them. Their numbers grew larger and larger. To manage them and keep the peace to ensure free trade, the Roman government enforced ecumenical Dharma copied from Greek Hellenism. The enforced religious toleration caused each god to be treated as a different manifestation of the same one true universal god. The different gods and their peoples tolerated each other - on pain of government displeasure. "Free trade" was the motto.

The separation demanded by The WORD destroyed this tranquility. The WORD proclaimed that it was the one and only true God and ruler of its people.¹¹ State policy could not allow this. The Christian sector of Rome was becoming a state within a state. It was becoming "off limits" to establishment trade - and establishment rule. Something had to be done.

Reinterpreting Religion

The international traders of the world have dealt with separatists before. The way they handle the problem is to insert the targeted religion with the non-religious teaching of ecumenical tolerance. Tolerance destroys the separatist tendencies. Hindu-Dharma priests join the offending religion, adopt its gods, manner, and traditions, and become its "hoorah section." They are more religious, more devout, and more dedicated than anyone else. In time, their devotion and generous contributions are rewarded and they become priests and even high priests.

In positions of authority they then teach doctrines, or omit doctrines, that offend. The Law is the thing that makes Christianity different from all other religions. Remove the Law and the heart and soul of militant Christianity crumbles.

The first realization that most targeted religions have that they have been Dharmatized is when they encounter a rush of imported goods, see shops taken over by strangers in every block, see strangers walking the streets around them, and no outcry of protest has been made by their own watchmen priests. "Dharmatized" - the Indian version of the Western "ecumenical movement."

Marcion Discovered

I once did volunteer work for a businessmen's organization whose mission was to distribute Bibles to school children. We spoke to local church congregations asking for contributions to buy the Bibles. Most congregations were enthusiastic.

One day, I visited several Episcopal Churches, all of which gave permission to speak to their parishioners. At day's end I visited one last church where three Episcopal priests were present. They were hostile. I was surprised. They were the first hostile ministers I had ever met. They refused permission but would not give a reason. They asked me questions instead.

One question was why the organization I worked for did not invite Catholics to join. I explained that the organization's rule was that members believe that only the Bible contained the WORD of God. Catholics believe that the Bible AND the Catholic Church - BOTH speak for God. When the Catholic Church speaks - it is the same as if God himself spoke.

The visit was a failure. In an attempt to try to salvage something I mentioned the name "Marcion." Instantly there was silence. The three exchanged glances. Quickly, one of them asked what I knew about "Marcion." I replied that I knew little. I asked them about Marcion - they changed the subject.

I left with a deep seated urge to learn about this Marcion the preachers would not discuss with me.

Note

The important thing about Marcion is his attempt to destroy the power of Christianity by denying the existence of The LAW. The rest of the "bells and whistles" of the Marcion movement are incidental.

Enter Marcion

To destroy the new separatist and militant Christianity and make it docile once again, it was necessary to remove the Law, just as Antiochus tried to do in Palestine. The author of the Roman effort - a sanitized Christianity minus the Law - was Marcion.

Marcion came from Pontus. He was in Rome in the late 130s AD. He knew well the teachings of Jesus Christ and the WORD. His father was the Christian Bishop of Sinope. "Bishop" indicates that Marcion's father was Marcion also, because the church established by Jesus Christ had no such exalted position as "bishop." "Previous orthodox Christians had possessed no monarchical episcopate, no new testament canon, and no creed."¹²

Episcopal Succession

Hindu trade-religion is of necessity an episcopal priesthood - it rules from the top down. So do its offshoots throughout the world. An episcopal religious hierarchy is absolutely necessary if kings are to rule their people in a tyrannical manner and avoid revolt. Kings appoint their own High Priests, or become High Priest themselves. In Judea, Hyrcanus was both King and High Priest. He ruled his kingdom and spoke for god through his "episcopal" church government, "from the top down," in which he had appointed his own priests to endorse his measures that profaned The WORD.

This type of church government was forever changed by our Savior: "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father." Rev 1:5-6. You and I are appointed "kings and priests." The government God gave us is "from the bottom up" and is called "presbyterian." We admit no ruler except God and His WORD as revealed in the Holy Scripture. Tyrants consider this "rebellion." They favor "episcopal" churches. Those they would oppress favor the "presbyterian" system.

Orthodox Christians in the days following Christ were "presbyterian" in church organization - the Marcion's were "episcopal."¹³

Enter Paul

After the crucifixion, there remained hundreds who had personally known Jesus, thousands who had heard him speak and seen his miracles, and tens of thousands who had known those who had known Jesus. Writings about Jesus proliferated.

There was an unknown devout believer of Jesus's teachings named Paul. He wasn't one of the 12, had not known Jesus personally, and had never seen him, but he had spoken to those who had, and he had a personal revelation while on a trip. He had written a series of letters. Marcion took the writings of this unknown and made them famous.

Paul's Letters

Paul's writings did not dwell on the Law. They were not meant to. They assume that the reader already knows the WORD. He proves it when he writes: "Paul, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated unto the gospel of God." Rom 1:1. Christians were expected to know that "The WORD was God," and that Jesus Christ was the "WORD made flesh." Paul called himself "a servant of Jesus Christ." The faithful instantly translate this into - a servant of "The WORD made flesh." However, the absence of direct quotes from the Law (except in one minor incidence dealing with divorce) was exactly what Marcion was looking for to build a substitute Christianity.

Marcion's Christianity

Marcion used Paul's letters as his basic literature. He then attached 3/4's of the book of Luke minus the first two chapters - this was the Marcion Canon. There was no Old Testament with traditional Law that judges one's conduct. "The first closed New Testament canon of which we have knowledge was made by Marcion. It consisted of 1 gospel and 10 Pauline Epistles,"¹⁴ vs. 27 now. "The orthodox contended that Christianity was 'as old as creation.' Marcion contended that Christianity started with Christ."¹⁵ "Marcion formed his Bible in declared opposition to the holy scriptures of the Church from which he had separated."¹⁶ Van Soden asserts that Marcion knew nothing of remorse for sin.¹⁷ The "absence of sin" is incidently the age-old hallmark of the Hindu.

The Marcion movement was so successful that orthodox Christians were forced to bring the four gospels together to rebut wild Marcion claims. "The 4-fold gospel was made in Rome between AD 150 and 175."¹⁸ Irenaeus in Adv. Haer. iii. 11 .7 tells us that the Ebionites use Matthew, the Marcionites Luke, the Docetae Mark, and the Valentinians John.¹⁹ This was done to prove to the world that Jesus faithfully followed the Law as did his disciples.

Marcion co-opted the name "Christian." He claimed that "his Christianity" (minus the Law) was the "true Christianity" - in the same way that today's "Judeo-Christians" (minus the Law) claim to be true Christianity.

Marcion Christians were required to believe this Canon - plus Marcion's own book - "The Antithesis" which was treated as holy scripture by his followers. Since the Law in the Books of the Old Testament was excluded - the "interpretation" was left to Marcion priests - and the priests practiced the ecumenism approved by the Roman authorities.

The lack of LAW produced some interesting results. The Marcions were taught that there was "no law" and therefore no judgment since there was no Law. One could not break the Law and win condemnation because there was no Law. "Judge not, and ye shall not be judged." Luk 6:37 meant to Marcions that the individual could not be judged.

If the state entered the picture - that was something different - and that is what Marcion Christianity was all about; giving God's power to the state. The following quotes, with no Law, gave the Roman state the authority to do anything they wanted to do.

"Obey in all things your masters ... And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily as to the Lord." Col 3:22,23; "Be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates." Tit 3:1

Statements like those following were unknown to Marcions - they were not in their canon:

"If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15; "We know him, if we keep his commandments." 1 Jno 2:3; "Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man." Eccles. 3:1; "Not everyone shall enter into the kingdom of heaven but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." Matt 7:21

Marcion taught that Paul was the only true apostle, to whom Christ committed his gospel. The other "apostles" were false and misled the church. Marcion's enemies were Justin Martyr, Irenaous, Tertullian, Epiphanius, the early teachers of the Christian Church, but, it appeared they were going to be overwhelmed by the Marcion steamroller. There was a period between 160-170 AD when the Marcion Church threatened to win more adherents than the Orthodox Church. Converts were drawn from the heathen, but at expense of the orthodox church.²⁰ In about the year 200 Tertullian reported that "Marcion's heresy has filled the whole world."²¹

Marcion's teachings had taken a militant separatist religion and opened it to everyone. There were no restrictions - nothing was excluded except those who caused dissent - the orthodox Christians. With no Law, one would think that the Marcion's would go hog wild - and they did in places, but such conduct was the exception rather than the rule. Marcions were known for their passive conduct and attitude.

There was great damage done to orthodox Christianity. Young Christians not founded in the WORD began to fall away from the Law and accept the Marcion interpretation of the story in Acts 10 of Cornelius the Roman centurion - as proof that there was no Law to separate Israel from the world. If the story is judged with the Law, it becomes evident that Cornelius was one of the Israelites who had been scattered in the dispersion. The story of Peter's vision (Acts 10:14) in which animals were let down in a sheet was proof to Marcions that all foods were acceptable.²²

Roman life style copied many of the corrupt Indian sexual customs. The phallic symbol is the symbol of the Indian god Siva. It is displayed wherever this god is worshiped. Pompeii excavations reveal the same phallic symbol. The hand of India reaches far. The Romans tolerated the gods of India and soon Roman morals mirrored those of India. They were corrupt in the extreme.

This generated a backlash among many Romans. The Marcions catered to this reaction. In spite of the lack of remorse for sin, the Marcions were considered "good" - and they were when compared with what was going on around them.

Marcion's Trinity

The "Marcion Trinity" consisted of Jesus in the center, Paul at his right hand and Marcion at his left. Marcion acknowledged a world Creator, almost precisely like the "world force" of the Hindu and Greeks, however, this god was distinguished from "the higher God as revealed in Christ. ... The revelation in Christ was intended not merely to supplement or 'fulfill' (The WORD) but to entirely displace it - the one had no connection with the other."²³ There was no Old Testament containing the do's and don'ts of the WORD.²⁴

Marcion's Dharma-ecumenical doctrine almost subdued orthodox Christianity. The spirit of The Word was replaced by Ritual. The Parables were taught without The LAW. Murder, rape, and kidnaping were no longer "capital crimes" punishable by death as prescribed by the WORD - they were only acts to be punished, forgiven, or forgotten according to the whims of the state's magistrate. The state once again relaxed and ruled supreme. Marcion's god, which he called

"christian," had neutralized The WORD.

Orthodox Christians Counterattack

The enemy to the orthodox church who was almost as great as Marcion was Paul. Paul without the Law was Marcion's prophet. But, as time passed, Christians got to know and like Paul. Controlled by the Law, Paul was thoroughly likable. Paul's teachings began to be used by Christians as illustrations of the Law in action.

In effect, the Orthodox Christians destroyed the effectiveness of Marcion's Christianity by adding Paul's writings to their own writings. The holy scriptures, in addition to the traditional scriptures which are known as the Old Testament, now included among 13 of its 27 writings those ascribed to Paul, and a 14th (Acts) which deals in large part with his career. The real strangeness of the fact does not at first strike us unless we understand the background.

"Paul was under suspicion in wide sections of the church at the middle of the second century. ...

"The choice here was so clear that it is probably false to call it a choice at all: they (the orthodox Christians) canonized the writings, but they did so by solely adding them to their traditional Scripture, not by substituting them for that Scripture... They undertook to break the force of their authorities by asorbing them into their own canon.

"We have all you have and more. We have the Old Testament and the New."²⁵

The Last Nail

There was one more reason that caused the demise of Marcionism - it was that Marcion required his converts to be celibate. Marriage was banned, and like Buddhist priests, they were celibate. The Marcion movement had almost died out by the end of the 4th century.²⁶ They ended the same way the Shaker movement of the last century in America ended - with a handful of members, and for the same reason - lack of recruits. The almost total collapse of the formidable Marcion movement within only a century or so has been given as the reason that the Catholic Church is so adamantly opposed to birth control.

The Christian religion was left stronger than it had been. It retained the Law and it had gained Paul - who was kept safely sandwiched between proponents of the Law - and Marcionism's demise resulted in a resurgence of the Christian revival that once again threatened the very fabric of the Roman Empire.

To fight resurgent Christianity - lions were used. When that failed, the Roman emperor dealt his ace card, one designed to bind the Law forever. "If you can't lick 'em - join em."

Post Script

The last time I visited the Episcopal Church mentioned earlier, the priest gave a fine talk - it was interesting. It dealt with "love," the type of "love" that has nothing to do with "If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15. I am convinced that to that priest - Marcion lives.

Arab-Turkic Unity

The age old dream of the Arab-Turkic peoples has been unity under a single leader, thereby realizing the incredible power that would result. This was the dream of Attila the Hun, it was the dream of the leader of the Mongols, Kubla Khan, who forsook the invasion of defenseless Europe to annex his kindred people living in Hungary. The latest peace treaty between the Arabs of Jordan and the Khazar-Turks of the Israeli state brings that age-old dream close to reality.

ALGERIA'S ISLAMIC SEPARATISTS: Two unveiled students, 18 and 19, were shot to death in Algeria enforcing last months vow that women who don't adhere to a strict Islamic dress code will be put to death. Twenty-nine women have been killed in the last two years because for supporting anti-Islamic causes or for associating with Western people. More than 3200 people have been killed since January 1992 when the Western supported Islamic establishment canceled an election in which Islamic-separatists won. The ruling Islamics headquartered in Paris are planning retaliations and have sworn to kill 30 veiled Islamic women for each unveiled woman killed. The anti-separatist group is called Rally for Culture and Democracy. (Story in Chicago Tribune 3-31-94)

TURKISH MUSLIM SEPARATISTS VICTORIES: The recent winning of "mayorships" of the Turkish cities of Ankara, Istanbul, and other top cities by anti-Western "Welfare Party" underlines the continued spread of "Islamic-separatism." The loser was the pro- Western "integration party" of the Prime Minister Tansu Ciller which had campaigned for RKH: God made us kings and priests. God ordered the land to be divided and never ever sold. He gave each of our fathers a piece of the land for a kingdom to rule as kings enforcing His Law as priests, and to pass it on to their sons. The land is HIS; it is never to be taxed. Taxed land can never be owned. A missed payment discloses the true owner. America has long been faithless. The WORD which is God - is now administering the medicine we need to be healed. Chapter 240

CONSTANTINE

The WORD is separatist. God wishes to separate his people from all others. Especially the cloying international integrationist - the Hindu who says that "I am god" because he is one with his universal Brahma. Hinduism is not anti-Christian. It loves Christianity, as it loves all religions. To the Hindu, Christ is another manifestation of Brahma. Brahma draws all to himself - in Brahma all are one.

King Asoka in 250 BC boasted that he had conquered the Greeks with Ecumenical-Dharma. The Greek Hellenism-Dharma attempted to conquer the Israelites. King Hyacanus and King Herod attempted to impose Sadducean-Dharma on the Israelite people. Jesus came to overcome Ecumenical-Dharma and restore The WORD. He sent his disciples into all the world to bring the rest of his people, Israel, back to The WORD. The result was a revolution.

In Rome

Rome was no longer a nation of honest independent farmers. It was an Empire. The international merchant had arrived, paid the Roman priests to bless them and allow them to trade, and paid a king to protect them. The king was now an emperor, but still was on the payroll of the international trade cartel. The Roman government was episcopal - rule from the top down.

Jesus, "the WORD made flesh," said that his people were "kings and priests," that they were to obey the WORD. The WORD was the supreme ruler - the "king of kings" - not the Roman emperor. The WORD said that each Israelite was a "king" and a "priest." The name of his people was "Israel." The word in Hebrew means to have God's "power-of-attorney." It was a great responsibility. It was Israel who were to rule. Since each man was equally a king, this meant equal rule, or rule from the bottom up. This type of rule is called "presbyterian." Episcopacy vs. Presbyterianism. It was revolutionary - people had seen nothing remotely like it since the early days of the republic.

The practical aspects of these beliefs came home fast. The Empire taxed its subjects heavily to pay the thousands in the army, the thousands of government officials, foreign aid, and internal improvements. Imperial statutes and decrees made everything "legal." In Palestine, the Scribes and Pharisees, surrogates of far away Caesar, tried to catch Jesus breaking a Roman statute by asking if it were lawful to pay tribute to Caesar. Jesus replied carefully; "Give unto caesar the things that are Caesar's and to God the things that are God's." Knowing only Roman statutes and not the Law of God, they thought this answer meant that Caesar should be obeyed.

Throughout the Roman empire, Caesar's agents found themselves increasingly excluded. People refused to deal with the international merchants or their surrogates. The silk trade through the Near East on which Imperial Rule depended for much of its income was severely impacted. People began to decline to buy the stranger's goods and refused to exercise the "toleration" necessary for trade with strangers.

Rise & Fall of Marcianism

A state within a state was emerging. The international merchant was hurting. His nemesis was, as always, The WORD. In an attempt to suppress it the Roman establishment supported a counterfeit Christianity created by Marcian. This was a religion the state could live with. Its canon was Luke and Paul and it excluded the Law.

Another plus was that it was an episcopacy - Marcian appointed his own bishops - episcopacies are easy to manipulate from the top. This substitute christianity told its followers that there was no sin because there was no Law. It told its followers to "love." Its definition of love was the huggy-huggy kissy-kissy kind vs. "If you love me obey my commandments." It commanded its followers to obey the state's statutes in all things. Only the things condemned by Marcian were considered "sin."

It was anti-separatist. Marcian meetings could be easily identified by the presence of strangers in their congregations. Its meetings accepted those excluded by The WORD.¹

After an initial surge of popularity, Marcian-christianity began to subside, partly because of its insistence on celibacy. This left the field free to the teaching of orthodox Christians. Christianity swept the empire and affected everything - trade, social transactions, everything. It was during this period that the state executed true Christians by the thousands. Still, The WORD was fast becoming the Law of the land. Caesar was losing control and his wolf-den empire threatened to disintegrate.

Constantine

Flavius Valerius Constantinus, better known as Constantine, was the first Roman emperor to adopt Christianity. Born at Naissus (modern Nis, Serbia) about 280 AD. He was the son of Constantius I, a Roman caesar, and was educated at

1 GOD'S LAW: "The stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." No 18:7, (2) "When the tabernacle is to be pitched ... the stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh shall be put to death." Numbers 1:51

the Roman court. His father died at York, England in 306 and Constantine was elected caesar in his father's place by his troops.

He was a fine soldier, and by adroit footwork he managed to become augustus-caesar of Rome, the supreme ruler.

Facts Of Life

All political rulers are surrogates of someone else and Constantine was no exception. Political rulers protect the merchant and his wares. Students do well to remember:

"In order for a wolf to eat sheep he must first enter the sheepfold. Unless properly introduced by the watchman, the rams will surround a wolf and kill him.

"First, the wolf must bribe the watchman, who then proclaims that the wolf has been magically transformed into a sheep. As a sheep he is entitled to enter into the sheepfold. Once in the sheepfold he hires rams to protect him while he kills and eats sheep."²

It makes no difference to the wolf how many strive to obtain the lucrative position of "protector." The wolf can work with one contender as easily as the next. The successful protector is given a generous share of the prey.

Constantine's military adventures cost a great deal and his income for protecting the silk-trade from the east was down drastically. Hostile Persia presented a barrier to the overland trade, and the Christian movement in Egypt adversely modified the Indian trade by sea.

Besides the arrival of the very occasional smuggled goods coming through the provinces of Asia and Palestine, the only route remaining open was the difficult caravan route north of the Caspian Sea whose terminal was the Black Sea. The Black Sea was also the terminal for the trade from the Russian Rivers. This rich, rich trade attracted pirates.

To protect this trade from the pirates infesting the countless Greek Islands, Constantine built a city seaport on the narrow waterway between the Black Sea and the Mediterranean Sea and named it after himself - Constanople.

Christianity - Empire Religion

After the pirates were suppressed, it was time to open the Roman markets. This meant the suppression of The WORD.

Force had been tried. It didn't work. Marcianism had been offered as one of the many religions to choose from. It had failed. The Christians of Rome would follow none other than The WORD. Constantine began to make friendly gestures to the Christian community. "(Constantine) between 323 and 324 ... gradually adopted the Christian God as his protector and on several occasions granted special privileges to individual churches and bishops."³ This set the stage.

In 324, Constantine embraced "Christianity" still more closely and became openly involved in the affairs of the church. He saw his real opportunity in the Christian dispute over Arianism. In 325, acting as Emperor, he commanded that the leaders of Christianity meet at a great council at Nicea to debate "Arianism." The leaders obeyed, thereby giving Constantine authority over them.

3 Academic Am. Ency: Constantine I

Constantine then proclaimed Christianity to be the official religion of the Roman Empire. This enthused many Christians who thought that the time had come when "God's will be done on earth."

Rome's religions had long been Dharmatized.⁴ Besides tolerating other gods, each of temple to each of the Roman gods also contained a stature of the Emperor who was also worshiped as a god. It took very little persuasion for the reigning emperor- god to convince the pagan Roman population that the Christian religion was the true and only religion (while this was in progress he still gave permission for pagan temples to worship him). The emperor had organized the Christian religion and was its head.

Asoka's Rituals - Asoka's Bequest

Statesmen, rulers, or soldiers seldom engage in untested theories and procedures - the rate of failure is too high. They usually copy a program that has a proven record of success. Hinduism, the "merchant's religion," is such a program. It almost always works.

Hinduism is Dharma and more. Dharma requires everyone to love everyone. It embraces all gods - all religions. To the Hindu, the Christian God was a new and welcomed manifestation of Brahma. Hindus gladly worshiped him too. Brahman priests quickly reinterpreted Christianity into a Christian-Hindu philosophy. It melded the flesh of Christianity onto the bones of "dharma" - the result looked like Christianity, talked like Christianity, but - with "dharma" as its basic form - it was the merchants' religion with a new face.

The great King Asoka of India was Buddhist. Buddhism consisted of the teachings of Buddha melded onto the bones of the Hindus' Dharma. Some of the rituals⁵ were as follows:

- | | |
|-------------------------|--------------------------|
| * processions | * rosaries |
| * parading relics | * integration |
| * body parts for relics | * tax exemption |
| * incense | * monasteries & convents |
| * shaven heads | * missionaries |
| * celibate priests | * holy water |
| * pointed hats | * male & female priests |
| * works for merit | * saints |
| * robes | * auricular confession |
| * idols | * pilgrimages |

King Asoka also endowed Buddhism with "Asoka's Bequest. A copy of the bequest follows:

"This earth enwrapped by the ocean in its glorious sapphire garment, this land whereof the face is adorned with many jewels and gems; this soil sustaining all creatures and Mount Madura ... all of this I bequeath to the Assembly of Saints. As a reward for this good deed I ask not for the privilege of dwelling in the palace of either Indra or Brahma, nor do I crave the felicity of kingship, which is fleeting, anyway, and is gone swifter than the running water. The reward I crave for the abiding faith prompting me to convey this gift is self-control, esteemed by saints

and exempted from change."⁶

Asoka's bequest gave India, its wealth, and its teeming masses to the "saints," or the Brahman priesthood. Asoka also endowed this gift with 1000 million pieces of gold so that it would be everlasting.

Constantine's Rituals & Donation

Some of the rituals of Constantine's new church were as follows:

- | | |
|-------------------------|--------------------------|
| * processions | * rosaries |
| * parading relics | * integration |
| * body parts for relics | * tax exemption |
| * incense | * monasteries & convents |
| * shaven heads | * missionaries |
| * celibate priests | * holy water |
| * pointed hats | * male & female priests |
| * works for merit | * saints |
| * robes | * auricular confession |
| * idols | * pilgrimages |

The traditional Holy Day which had been Saturday was changed by Constantine to Sunday - the same as the Hindu holy day,⁷

To make the Catholic priesthood an everlasting creation, Constantine endowed it the same way Asoka had done. The Encyclopedia Britannica 14th Ed, Vol #7, p.524 states:

6 The Edicts of Asoka, N.A. Nikam & Richard McKeon, Univ Chic Press, 1959, p. 136

7 E/B, 11th Ed., Vol 13, p. 493.

"Constantine, in gratitude for his conversion by Pope Silvester, to that pope and his successors forever, (gave) not only of spiritual supremacy over the other great patriarchates and over all matters of faith and worship, but also temporal dominion over Rome, Italy and 'the provinces, places and civitates of the western regions.'"⁸

This "Donation Of Constantine" was a deathbed affair because Constantine himself had not accepted the Catholic religion that he had forced on the Roman Empire until he was on his death bed. Pope Silvester accomplished a good day's work by helping Constantine's sinful soul along into purgatory, and the Catholic Church received the entire Roman Empire as payment for praying him out again.

Roman ecumenism, learned from the Greeks, who learned it from India, was now reinstated in a new format - Christian flesh hung on a Hindu-Dharma skeleton. To further the spirit of ecumenism - Buddha himself, Siddharta the son of Sudhodhana, was made a saint of the Catholic Church.⁹

Constantine, the father of the Roman Catholic Church, was much like his counterpart King Asoka of India. King Asoka killed 99 of his brothers in his rise to the throne of India. Constantine killed his father-in-law, his eldest son, and his wife.

8 From the 10th century on, this document was increasingly employed by popes to support their claims and became a powerful weapon to control temporal powers.

9 "Professor Max Muller ... first pointed out the strange fact - almost incredible, were it not for the completeness of the proof - that Gotama the Buddha, under the name of St. Josaphat, is now officially recognized and honored and worshipped throughout the whole of Catholic Christendom as a Christian saint!" The Travels of Marco-Polo, Yule- Cordier Ed., Vol 2, p. 323-326

"Adding To" ¹⁰

Constantine's new church was called Catholic - which means "universal." It encompassed all the various sects. This church declared that the Holy Scriptures AND the Catholic Church contained The WORD. In time, the death penalty was imposed on laymen who read the scriptures to discover what God commanded. Without the WORD to contradict, the WORD was then whatever the Church said it was. The WORD so eagerly embraced by the Roman Christians was made hateful. This was accomplished in the following manner.

The law against rape states: "The rapist shall surely be put to death." Deut 22:25-26. The Law is not the same for seduction. "If a man find a damsel that is a virgin ... not betrothed ... and lie with her ... then the man shall give 50 shekels of silver, and she shall be his wife." Deut 22:28-29.

Constantine's Law made the ancient Law of the WORD hateful simply by adding to it and mis-applying it. Gibbon's Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire, The Modern Library, N.Y., Vol 1, p. 375, relates the following story.

"The successful ravisher was punished with death; ... The virgin's declaration that she had been carried away with her own consent, instead of saving her lover, exposed her to share his fate. The duty of a public prosecution was entrusted to the parents of the guilty or unfortunate maid; and ...if the sentiments of nature prevailed on them to dissemble the injury, and to repair by a subsequent mar-

¹⁰ GOD'S LAW: (1) "Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish aught from it, that ye may keep the commandments of the Lord your God which I command you." Deut 4:2: (2) "Every word of God is pure ... Add thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar." Prov 30:5-6.

By calling the above "God's Law," and forbidden to study scripture to confirm the Church's claims for themselves, the people in time turned away from the Law. Trade with strangers again commenced, and the offending WORD - the people's salvation - was once again stripped from them and the people began their descent into the Dark Ages.

The New Rome

As the sole owner of the Roman world, Constantine's Church gave it ecclestial names. The Prefecture of Britain now became the Diocese of Britain. The Prefecture of Gaul became the Diocese of Gaul, then there was Diocese of Spain, D. of Italy, of Africa, of Egypt, etc. Wherever the Roman legionnaire had trod - that land was now claimed by the Catholic church, and that Church ruled Rome through its hired emperors and their legions. The rituals of the church were installed throughout the empire, and the Bishop became the most important officer in the distant provinces.

The Roman emperors were like schoolboys playing "king of the mountain." Whoever struggled to the top was acceptable to the trade-priests, became their "protector," and received an allowance that came from the empire's trade-profits. In time the emperor was replaced by a contender - and the victor in turn was put on the payroll. Emperors came and went - but the church held the title, kept the records, collected the rents, was of god, and continued on without end.

Feudalism

The Roman church introduced "feudalism" into Europe. India's caste system is composed of four basic castes. First - the Priest - the highest caste. Second - the soldier/ruler caste. Third - the farmer/merchants. Fourth - The workers. And those denied a caste - the untouchables and outlaws.

In India, pretenders from the ruler/soldier caste competed for the position of ruler. The victor was accepted and blessed by the priesthood caste as champion of the gods, and protector and servant of the priesthood. He also had a share of the income from the land and the international trade.

The ruler cemented his own followers to himself by grants of provinces, villages, and farms. Each of his nobles held "en fief" to his king conditioned on his loyal support and service in time of war. Each noble in turn granted a few farms to manage to each of his warriors. The system continued and remained intact until the ruling king was overthrown and a new ruler took his place and moved into his palace. Kings, nobles, and soldiers changed on a fairly regular basis, but the workers remained, and the priests who owned the land for the gods were never questioned.

Charles Martel

Charles Martel, the French conqueror of the Arabs at Tours in 732, is credited with instituting the feudal fief, although it had existed long before his time. Charles conquered a local rival. Deposing the rival and his followers, he replaced them with his own. The Encyclopedia Britannica, 14th Ed, Vol 5, p. 293. states:

"To attach his leudes Charles had to give them church lands as precarium ... It was from the precarium, or ecclesiastical benefice, that the feudal fief originated."

The encyclopedia insists on using 50¢ words when 5¢ words will do better. All the above says is that Charles paid his soldiers by letting them have a cut of the rents obtained from farmers who lived on church lands. This arrangement is in direct opposition to the WORD which requires that there be no monopolies¹¹ and that the land is to be divided and never ever sold.¹²

Charles supported the Catholic Church's mission of St. Boniface to Germany. St. Boniface was appointed Bishop by the Pope in 722. Charles Martel sent word to local Christian zealots not to touch him.

Under Charles protection, Boniface proceeded to talk to many of the German princes. The thrust of their talks was that 1) The Pope owned all the land, the businesses, and everything else on it. 2) If the local prince wanted a cut of the tithes, offerings, and rents, and would like to continue ruling the land, the Pope would appreciate it if the prince would be the protector of Church interests; which meant "riding shotgun" and occasionally twisting the arm of a recalcitrant farmer who refused to pay "protection" or "rent" money.

Princes who did not have a working agreement with the Church got virtually nothing from their stingy unappreciative subjects. To these, the Church offer sounded good. Overnight, entire countries accepted Catholicism. Priests and bishops were installed, the local princes got enough money to live in the style they would like to become accustomed to, the papacy got a larger share, and bishops like Boniface were appointed "arch-bishops." Lands produced an income that they had not

11 GOD'S LAW: "Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, and they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth." Isaiah 5:8

12 GOD'S LAW: (1) "The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... according to ... their fathers they shall inherit." Num 26:53-55; (2) "The land shall not be sold for ever: for the land is mine; Lev 25:23 done previously. The only people to suffer were the farmers and artisans who now paid between one third and two thirds of their income to God as did their counterparts in India. Almost overnight, freehold farmers, kings living on Biblical homesteads - equal in rights and privileges to greatest kings of the earth - became near slaves.

Constantine had done his work well - his creation, the Catholic Church, spread the feudal system of India throughout the West. The Law that kept Israel free was done away - once again.

LETTER FROM S. AFRICA - By K.J.

Siener van Rensburg's visions were not in consecutive order and many were fulfilled years later, some today and the rest in the last days. No dates were given in the books but I spoke to Rev. Pienaar this morning, he knew Gen de la Rey's daughter as a close friend and Siener told de la Rey the date and time of his death. It must have grieved him greatly as de la Rey was s true friend. "Rev. P" writes letters to leaders like de Klerk reminding them of Siener's visions and deKlerk's crime against his people. When one read his books and Revelations in the Bible together - it all comes together and makes sense.

A lady Daleen Joubert started a home for destitute white children on Rev. Pienaar's farm. The article on this appeared in the South African Patriot. This morning I phoned and old Rev. Pienaar answered. I found him most interesting, a Christian and true patriot. It seems that they are already inundated with children. I did not ask how many but it seems that they have problems housing all. How little do we know about our fellow men who are without work. He has been told that many live in the hills north of Pretoria under plastic. Many others in tents on farms of right-wingers and this winter is the coldest in 30 years. Black frost caused by icy winds killed crops right up to the Limpopo River.

Tomorrow the mother of our enemies, England, has a thanksgiving service in Westminster Abbey celebrating the return of S. Africa to the Commonwealth - about which we are no more pleased than in 1902. Instead of the promised peace, violence is ever increasing as well as strikes. Blacks have job strikes for no reason at all while affirmative action is applied ruthlessly to get rid of whites. We, however, see this and other events now taking place as the run up to the second revolution that will be totally communistic. Countries like New Zealand, Australia, Canada and others are all shopping in S. Africa for highly qualified young people for whose training they did not pay. I realize that it is a relief for these young people to get work but it is still very sad to see them leave their native land.

The 'state of emergency laws' are still in place in Western Transvaal and Kawa Zulu, and not one right-winger went free as was promised before the election. Instead we have Dullah Omar's Truth Commission coming up. Anyone who has ever stood for 'separation' will soon be in the docket.

Richard Goldstone became chief prosecutor for war criminals in Yugoslavia. How much truth will come out of it will be seen. Here he acted on the wildest assumptions without foundation and his Goldstone Commission did not clear up one case. Forty million people died in Russia and not one person is in the docket for their murders. That's where he should be holding his war crimes trials.

The HNP (right wing political party) held a special congress. We will have to see if people from the other political parties join us. Mr. Marias, the HNP leader, is busy with a booklet on Dimitrie Tsofendas who assassinated Dr. H.F. Verwoerd.

The resignation of Finance Derek Keys, one of the two Harry Oppenheimer proposed to Mandela, is getting more involved. The new Minister of finance Chris Liebenberg was the godfather of the entire Reconstruction and Development Program.

A general strike is looming. If it comes about it will be one of the visions of Siener van Rensburg.

I have received information that is quite unbelievable about the depth of treason by men we trusted. Right now it is just word-of-mouth, but I have heard it from different sources.

It seems that our Gen Viljoen had Military Intelligence approach people around the country who held right-wing views. They were told to get prepared and were given lists of people with the same views nearby. The date was set for one month prior to election when they were to take over local government, police stations, etc. These were mostly Farmers Crisis Action (FCA) men. The AWB (right wing militants) would bomb certain places and the Zulus would do their bit in Natal.

When the date of one month before election approached the FCA men were told that the plan would be delayed until one week prior to election. But, as that date approached, the people on the FCA lists found themselves severely harassed by security police to whom Viljoen had passed on their names.

The AWB was the only group to keep its promise and they did start setting off bombs. Viljoen knew the names of the AWB leaders and those were the 40 people taken in one swoop when they were quite legally at a meeting.

The Zulus did not keep their word. Oppenheimer saw to it that a carrot was held out to them. It seems the patriots of the South African Defense Force have been pushed out and those who mobilized when called-up during the election are seen as trustworthy by Mandella's Citizen Force.

Israel is in control of Armacor that used to produce most of the armament that we needed.

This information has been gathered from different people. I have no idea when it will become general knowledge with the court cases that are pending and the Truth Commission which is bringing charges against anyone they choose.

EAT: "Dear Richard: I know that it is forbidden for Christians to eat with strangers (Le 22:16; Lev 22:10-15), but did you know that Japanese will not eat with us? I work in an Alaskan Japanese fish processing plant (almost all Alaskan processing plants are Japanese owned). If we meet our quota we are rewarded by being taken to a local Japanese restaurant for a meal. Eight of us are directed to sit at the central table where we are served. The five Japanese sit on cushions with their backs against the wall and watch. They are served where they sit. They will not eat with whites." H. E. - Alaska

OBSERVATION: "Dear Richard: It is worth noting that President Clinton's last 52 appointments consisted of 38 Jews, 3 Hispanics, 8 Negroes, 3 race unknown, and 0 Saxons. This should tell us all we need to know." W. M. - West Virginia

BURNING HELL: "Dear Mr. Hoskins; Why is there no mention of a burning hell by today's televangelists?" H. D. - Virginia

RKH: The Hindu religion has no hell - only reincarnation. When one dies he is instantly reborn either in an improved state or a worse state depending on his actions in this life. This is called "karma." Hindus are not permitted to kill. This is the reason for the vegetarian craze and the reluctance of courts to pronounce the death sentence when prescribed by Christian Law. I doubt they will soon learn, "Fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell." Matt 10:28 Media owners allow TELEVANGELISTS to discuss only certain subjects. The topics they permit indicate that the media owners are Hindu.

PRISONER: "Dear Brother Richard: Note my new mailing address. Perhaps now my mail will not meet so many obstacles without having 'Siva the caseworker' and the 'anti-Christ chaplain' fighting over who will censor it first - being it is Christian mail. Please take care and note that only my address changes as I remain always, In service to our Lord." W. C. - Missouri

WHO? "Dear Brother Ram: Just who are they, say, the 50 worst enemies of Yahweh and His people? Where are they? Do they work together? Who is the leader of this pack of wolves?" H. W. - Arkansas

RKH: Whoever violates the WORD which is GOD is the enemy of God. The scriptures say who will judge them and who will administer punishment.

CHANGE: "Editor: If all our enemies dropped dead it would do no good. We are the ones who must change. A great shakeup is necessary; one to eliminate all those not willing to live by the WORD. The evils besetting the land presently is the medicine needed. It cannot be improved upon." H. W. - Arkansas

BOOK BURNING: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I've been writing to you in despair about the banning of the Hoskins Report. I thought you would like to know that the fight is over, and once again Israel overcomes. The authorities have agreed to look at each piece of mail on an individual basis. This may not sound like much, but Yahweh is on our side for getting us this far." T. R. Prisoner - Colorado

RKH: In America, infidels rule and allow their surrogates to censor what the Christian may read in order to control his mind.

CENSORSHIP: "Dear Sir: My interest remains strong, but the prison system does not permit 'privileges,' ie, my own personal religious beliefs. This facility has warned me of punitive actions to be brought against me if I accept mail from you. Since I am due for release soon, please cancel my subscription to Hoskins Report. Thank you so much for your newsletter and the books. I'm sorry, but there is nothing else I can do. I have learned a lot." L. D. - Colorado

ED: It's supposedly "illegal" to stop a prisoner's mail because of religious or political reasons. But, if a prisoner "voluntarily" chooses not to receive the mail - the establishment cannot be blamed. Prisons have ways to make prisoners voluntarily refuse to receive mail.

SERPENT: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I am convinced that this is the correct translation:

"And the great dragon (those who follow ecumenical-Dharma) was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him." Rev 12:9

"When the dragon (serpent) saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman (Israel) which brought forth the man child (WORD made flesh). Then to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle (Judah & Israel), that she might fly into the wilderness (Europe & Gr. Britain, America, Australia, N. Zealand, S. Africa), into her place, where she is nourished (fed and kept) for a time, and times and half a time (2500 years - the Dispora 721 BC & 580 BC), from the face of the serpent. And the serpent cast out of his mouth water (peoples) as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood. And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth (the peoples brought against her). And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ ("the WORD made flesh." UNFILTERED NEWS

WEAVERS SEEK $200 MILLION: Randy Weaver, his three daughters and Kevin Harris filed more than $200 million in claims against federal enforcement agencies. The suit seeks redress for the 1992 unlawful murders and woundings at the Weaver cabin on Ruby Ridge in Naples, Idaho in which Fed enforcers shot little 14 year old Sammy Weaver in the back, killing him, back-shot Kevin Harris severely wounded him, and shot the mother Vicki Weaver in the face killing her while she stood in the doorway of her cabin holding her 9 month old baby in her arms. The federal agencies have investigated themselves and have given themselves a clean bill of health.

The plaintiffs will also seek a court order requiring federal agencies to obey state laws. The attorneys said that this order is being sought because of arbitrary FBI rules that allowed agents to shoot adults seen outside the Weaver cabin regardless of whether they were threatening anyone's life. "The FBI ... cannot come into the state of Idaho and change the rules. We have laws here that apply to everybody ... including the FBI." Said Weaver's attorney, Chuck Peterson."

RKH: Unfeelingly, the feds named their camp at the foot of the mountain "Camp Vicki" for the mother they killed. The FBI sniper who actually shot Vicki Weaver was immediately sent to Waco where he drove one of the tanks that was responsible for burning the Waco congregation to death. There is a picture showing feds laughing, giving high fives, and whooping it up as Waco men, women, and children burn alive in the flaming inferno shown in the background. Those responsible for doing such things are not normal people and are a hazard to the rest of society.

DAVIDIANS SEEK $900 MILLION: Former attorney general Ramsay Clark, lead lawyer for the survivors of the Waco inferno, filed a claim Friday for Koresh's wife and mother and about 80 other people asking for $900 million.

The raids and the 51-day siege violated a number of federal rights, including freedom of religion, of movement, and "all kinds of restraints on police conduct."

Claims were filed with the Justice and Treasury departments in Washington and with the FBI and ATF in New Orleans where the legal research team is based. The government has 6 months to settle or the group will go to court.

WHICH SIX MILLION?: "Martin Glenn, the past Governor of New York, in a major speech in October 1919 in Albany, NY reported at length to a rapt audience on the 'extermination of six million Jews and the holocaust of European Jewry' during 'the Great War.' ... The full speech of Mr. Glenn was printed, among others, in the October 31, 1919 issue of the American Hebrew Magazine published for the American Jewish Committee." The Christian News p.18, 1-10-94

ANOTHER ABORTIONIST QUILTS: Dr. Michael Girtelschmid announced that he is quitting the abortion business. This makes a total of three abortionists who have quit in the Hampton Roads area following the shooting of abortionist Dr. David Gunn in Florida. This leaves only two abortionists still practicing in the Hampton Roads area. (Story discovered in the Lynchburg News, 9-1-94, buried on page B2.)

Chapter 241

THE PROMISED KINGDOM

The Farm

God's promised kingdom on earth is THE FARM.

The self-sufficient farm is ruled by the farmer who is its king, defender, and judge. The farm is the mother of "cottage-industry," the "mill" to help fabricate, and the "country store" to distribute its products.

Kings Are Forbidden

The WORD which is God¹ specifies exactly how the

¹ GOD' LAW: "In the beginning was the WORD, and the word was with God, and the WORD was God." John 1:1, and "The WORD was made flesh, and dwelt among us." John 1:14 sheepfold is to be constructed and maintained. God The WORD is to rule as "King of Kings" - and no one else. The WORD created "man" in the beginning.² He created him in

The WORD

The Sheepfold

The sheepfold looks like a circled waggon-train. The land within is divided among the sheep. Each sheep rules his portion as king and priest under God the WORD. The watchman warns of approaching danger. The kings and priests live on self-sufficient farms. The trading village is the largest habitation. Large cities and prisons are unknown in a sheepfold

God's image. He named his sheep "Israel," which means in Hebrew - "to have God's power of attorney." Again, God appointed each of us a king and a priest.³ Our assignment: to rule the earth in His name. We are to be severely punished if we don't.⁴ There is to be no king to rule us except Jesus. God warns against other kings. God says that the nation that

4 GOD'S LAW: "O children of Israel... You only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities." Am 3:1-2

Wolf-Den

chooses a king rejects Him:

"The elders of Israel ... came to Samuel ... make us a king to judge us like all the nations. ... And the Lord said ... the people ... they have not rejected thee, but they have rejected me, that I should not reign over them. ...

"This will be the manner of the king that shall reign over you: He will take your sons, and appoint them for himself, for his chariots, and to be his horsemen; ... And he will take your daughters ... And he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your oliveyards, even the best of them, and give them to his servants. And he will take the tenth of your seed, and of your vineyards, and give to his officers, and to his servants. ... He shall take the tenth of your sheep: and ye shall be his servants. And ye shall cry out in the day because of your king which ye shall have chosen you; and the Lord will not hear you in that day." I Sam 8:11-18 flesh." Each of us has been appointed "king and priest" by him, and he delegated us our authority when he named us "Israel."

Wolfpacks are the opposite. A wolfpack cannot exist without a leader - an alpha wolf. The rest of the pack stairsteps down from him in authority. Each wolf, even when living apart, must belong to a pack somewhere. It's the wolf's nature. The sheep know this and consequently look upon any group organized like a wolfpack (from the top down) as being a wolfpack or surrogates of the wolf.

The Sheepfold

An intact sheepfold is like a circle of wagons our forefathers used to defend against attack. This circle protects in all directions. It is called "The whole armor of God." The master of the sheepfold is The WORD - the trusted gatekeeper is the "watchman."

It is no profit to the international merchant to go to a far country to trade and not be able to trade because the god of that country will not let its people trade with strangers.⁵ Neither is there profit in entering the sheepfold only to be killed by sheep aroused by the watchman.⁶

To do business in a sheepfold the wolf must first bribe the watchman to allow him to enter. Once in the sheepfold he must find a ram who will protect him and his stolen goods. In

5 GOD'S LAW: (1) "Thou shalt make no covenant with them ... For they will turn away thy son from following me, that they may serve other gods." Deut 7:2,4; (2) "If thou hast stricken thy hand with a stranger (Heb: zūwr - racial alien), thou art snared...deliver thyself as a roe from the hand of the hunter." Pr 6:1,2

6 GOD'S LAW: "When the tabernacle is to be pitched ... the stranger (Heb: zūwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh shall be put to death." Numbers 1:51.

WOLF-DEN REPLACES SHEEPFOLD

The watchman blesses the wolf and issues him a safe conduct pass. The wolf freely enters the sheepfold and finances a surrogate sheep to become a powerful king of the sheep. Such a king is able to protect the wolf and suppress revolt. The wolf rules through his surrogates - the priest and the king. Since the wolf is Hindu - the priests become Christian-Hindu. The wolf is ferocious - his surrogate-king becomes like his master. The wolf-city is organized in a stairstep manner. The pecking order is determined by the money one makes. The money one makes determines his place on the latter.

payment for protecting the wolf the surrogate-ram is given a generous portion of the slaughtered sheep. Wolves seldom deal with sheep directly; they find it safer to leave this to their surrogates whom they have made into kings - well paid

Making A King

Wolf-gold, wolf-media, and wolf-strategy make ordinary sheep into the forbidden "kings." It is wolf-money that hires a king's army, and buys courts, judges, and lawyers used to conquer neighboring sheep and seize their lands. If the "watchman" remains dumb while wolves pass by - this is notice to the sheep that the watchman is also in the pay of the wolf.

Bribing A Watchman

Once a watchman has been bribed to pass wolves into the sheepfold, he must remain on the payroll to calm the sheep and see to it that they are not alerted to the wolf's transgressions. Corrupt watchmen refuse to see a stranger even when seating them in their choirs.⁷ The wolf's capital crimes of usury, murder, and kidnaping are unseen, unreported, and concealed with silence.⁸

False watchmen earn their tax-exemption by no longer reading, teaching, obeying, or following The WORD. They follow the ecumenical Hindu world force whom they rename - "Jesus." This is the very god the Hindu's call Brahma - the god of love. These Christian- Hindus tell their followers that Brahma is "Jesus." But, to these hirelings - all gods are one.

7 "The stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." No 18:7

8 GODS's LAW: (1) "If a false witness rise up ... Then shall ye do unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother." Deu 19:16-19; (2) "Not everyone that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." Matt 7:21

The only god who accepts all gods is Brahma. To these representatives of the wolf - The WORD and The WORD made flesh, and all His followers who remain steadfast - are a curse.

The Sheepfold

The hard nut to crack is the sheep's Biblical citadel within the sheepfold - the self-sufficient farm.⁹ Each "priest and king" rules his own God-mandated kingdom by The WORD. This kingdom is self-sufficient and produces practically everything it needs. It raises its own food, weaves clothing from wool taken from its own sheep, blacksmiths, makes shoes, and trades its surplus for those things it does not make. The sheep do not waste time building homes, they live in homes built generations ago on land which The WORD forbids the sheep to sell.¹⁰ Thomas Jefferson had a clear understanding of the sheepfold and in a letter to Dr. Currie (ii, p.219, 1787, The Jeffersonian Cyclopaedia, John P. Foley, Funk & Wagnall, NY 1900, described the Virginia farmer in the following manner:

"I know no condition happier than that of a Virginia farmer ... His estate supplies a good table, clothes himself and his family with their ordinary apparel, furnishes a small surplus to buy salt, sugar, coffee, and a little finery for his wife and daughters, enables him to receive and to visit his friends and furnishes him pleasing and healthy occupation. To secure all this, he needs the one act of 9 GOD's LAW: (1) "The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... To many thou shalt give the more ... to few thou shalt give the less ... the land shall be divided by lot: according to ... their fathers they shall inherit ..." Num 26:53-55.

10 GOD's LAW: "The land shall not be sold for ever: for the land is mine." Lev 25:13- 28 self-denial, to put off buying anything till he has the money to pay for it."

In a letter to William Duane, Ibid, v, 576. Ford Ed., ix, 312, Jefferson said:

"The truth is that farmers, as we all are, have no command of money. Our necessities are all supplied, either from our farms, or a neighboring store. Our produce, at the end of the year, is delivered to the merchant, and thus the business of the year is done by barter, without the intervention of scarcely a dollar; and, thus, also, we live with a plenty of everything except money."

Jefferson had a neighbor who bought and sold $20,000 worth of merchandise in a single year, and at the end of the year balanced his books by receiving just thirty-five dollars. Twenty thousand dollars in the early 1800s was a great deal of money. The interesting thing is that no actual money exchanged hands except at the very end of the year when $35 was received to balance his books. He might as well have received an equal amount of horse shoes or wheat. In other words, money is not necessary to do business in a sheepfold. I remember when farmers coming to Lynchburg on Saturday would give their children "twists" of tobacco in trade for candy. Merchants sold the "twists" as chewing tobacco. Farm boys with tobacco twists to trade had more candy than city boys with coins. I know.

Years ago I spent much time in the mountains of Virginia. Near the Priest and the Three Sisters in Nelson County I stumbled on an intact settlement which had been spared the rigors of war. Many of the inhabitants had not traveled the long twisting dirt road down the mountain to Lynchburg town in thirty years. They had no need nor desire to. Their hundred or so acres on top of the mountains provided everything they needed; a horse, a cow or two, sheep, and a garden. They could have planted more wheat or corn than they did - but they couldn't use it. Their usual crop was sufficient to last the winter with enough left over to trade with neighbors. Each family specialized in something different from his neighbors. Some quilted, others were house builders, furniture makers, blacksmiths, gunsmiths, mechanics, wagon makers, teachers and tutors, homeopathic doctors, and shoemakers. Some had gone to town to work and had returned when the city lost its charm. The children were mostly home schooled or had a tutor. I was told that since it was so far away from town no one bothered them with taxes. That was years ago.

There were no police, no preacher, and no jail. There was no crime. The WORD of God was enforced by the people themselves who took their jobs seriously. They took turns holding Sunday meetings in each other's houses. A house that burned accidentally was replaced by the whole community within a week. Most dwellings in these remote mountains were log cabins - but you should have seen the cabins! A few were hastily thrown up and were rough, but others were plastered, had shaped roof shingles, chair rails, ornate mantels, banister rails, Chippendale furniture, and good china.¹¹ The local tutor could teach Latin if you cared to learn it. Everyone seemed to know something different from his neighbor. Close kinsmen used first names. Others used the titles "Mister" and "Mrs." as befitted responsible "kings and priests" who ruled kingdoms. They were entitled to that mark of respect. I have never heard of a divorce in a farm family - either in mountain or lowland farms. Divorce was a city thing.

11 In Tidewater, many of the old houses in the 17th and 18th centuries were made of brick manufactured on the farm, or clapboard from trees grown on the place. The studding was all heart pine - one stud from one tree. Ask your builder friend about that!

The Country Store

My great grandfather, Maj. William Hoskins, late surgeon 59th Virginia, returned home and practiced medicine in King and Queen County. There was no money (Except two gold coins. That story is told in War Cycles/Peace Cycles).¹² People paid him in kind. In time Dr. William accumulated 62 pairs of shoes, 96 hoes, 4 muskrat traps, 416 pounds of tobacco, and a number of other things, so he opened a country store to dispose of them. In time, local cottage industries brought their products to his store to be displayed and sold. His store received one in ten of whatever it sold as payment. He later built Hoskins Mill at the Essex Mill Pond near Dunnsville to grind grain for neighbors; one bushel for each 10 bushels ground. The economy of the Virginia county was based on agriculture, and cottage industries were its by-products. Besides country stores, there were all sorts of water mills - grist, saw, pounding, etc. - There were also iron furnaces and shot towers. The farms within the sheep-fold produced an abundance of cottage industries as men found specialities which filled needs.

The Wife

The family spoke as one. Important business matters were entered into by either party - after prior agreement between the man and wife. The man was the legal head of the house, but the farm wife had a full say. Whatever affected the farm affected the future of her man, herself, their children, and their inheritance.

When the man was away at war, hunting, or dealing with matters concerning his cottage industry, the wife managed the farm - the whole thing. If her man was gone for a month - she managed. If he was gone to the wars for two years - she managed. When Southern men were away for four long years - she managed.

My ancestor, Capt. John Hoskins, son of Bartholomew the immigrant who landed at Jamestown in 1615, owned widely scattered land-grants that he had gotten in exchange for transporting colonists to Virginia. He also owned five or six ships used to transport these colonists. He maintained offices both at Jamestown and in Fleet Street in London. He spent half his time in Virginia and half in London. His affairs were tangled and involved. He managed the London part and his wife managed his Virginia operations. She knew more about them than he did. His son Thomas took part in Bacon's Rebellion against the Royal Governor. While Thomas was away on active duty his wife ran the plantation. Unfortunately, Bacon's Rebellion failed and Thomas was confiscated.¹³ The family was forced to live on the charity of kinsmen. Our women stuck with their men through good times and bad. I don't know about the women in the reader's part of the country, but our Virginia women are absolutely 13 Confiscating rebel's property violates God's command that landed property be "never sold." However, confiscation is natural when the alpha-wolf claims everything for himself and his subjects only own land "en fief." "Confiscation of rebels" is the 4th plank of the Communist Manifesto, the code which ruled the wolf-den long before Karl Marx.

The Militia

The old brick cottage with three dormers, "Woodville" near Miller's Tavern, was the manse of the Episcopal priest sent over by his Royal Majesty who was also head of the Church of England and God's representative on earth.

The preacher was paid and "Woodville" was maintained by Essex County and so the place was treated like public land. It was where one cavalry company of the Essex and the King and Queen militia met to drill. The spring down the hill in front of the house is where they watered their horses. The same big oaks a little beyond furnished the shade where they rested from their military exercises in the hot Virginia sun. Before the war Dr. Hoskins acted as surgeon for this company and tended their cuts and broken bones that came mostly from overzealous horseplay as neighbors met to practice the ancient peace-time social event called "soldiering."

This cavalry company was more than 200 years old by 1860. They had fought countless battles in numerous wars in Virginia's past, and their names weren't even listed on the the rolls in Richmond. There were no rolls. Virginia could only guess how many soldiers she had. The militia was volunteer and every man equipped himself at his own expense - uniform (if any), sword, rifle, pistol, tent, blankets, food, and horse. The youngster who aspired to be elected an officer went to the Virginia Military Institute for additional training - at his own expense.

People tend to forget, but in the 17th century the threat of an Indian raid could field eight thousand well mounted militia virtually overnight. The royal governor in Williamsburg only had 300 paid regulars, and the king back in England had just 10,000 professionals. Little Virginia had almost that many and they were volunteers that cost the colony nothing. The Indians who arrived in Virginia on foot from across the Blue Ridge mountains were lucky to leave Virginia alive. Every mountain pass was quickly sealed, and when located, the Indians war parties were chased down by mounted men trained to their work. They fought Indian style - no prisoners - except to take hostages to trade for captives in Indian hands. Every able bodied Virginian from the age of 16 to 60 was expected to participate in some way in Virginia's defense.

Law Enforcement

Most Virginia settlers were descended from persecuted Scottish Presbyterians, English Puritans, and French Huguenots who had refueged to Virginia. Their forebears had died for their God, and they had learned their religion from the Geneva Bible whose margin notes by John Calvin and John Knox condemned the King and his wolf-den.

The question then as now is - who enforces the Law? The King and his representatives answered - "the king." Virginia next asked - "who is the king?" The Royal Governor said "Charles!" But, it was the king who gave away the Northern Neck to his favorites in fulfillment of the prophecy in I Sam 8:11-18. God did not give him the right to do that! The king said that his insistence that black slaves be sold into the colony was his "divine right!" The Royal governor forbade Virginians to protect themselves from marauding Indians because he did not wish to disturb his fur trade with them. The scalps of Virginia's women and children were of less value than profits from Indian fur pelts.¹⁴ If the king and his representative refused to honor God's Law - what then were the people to do?

Virginians knew. They been brought up on the writings of Calvin. Writings such as:

"Obedience to man must not become disobedience to God. But in that obedience which we have shown to be due the authority of rulers, we are always to make this exception, indeed, to observe it as primary, that such obedience is never to lead us away from obedience to him, to whose will the desires of all kings ought to be subject, to whose decrees all their commands ought to yield, to whose majesty their scepters ought to be submitted. ... How absurd would it be that in satisfying men you should incur the displeasure of him for whose sake you obey men themselves! The Lord, therefore, is the King of Kings, who, when he has opened his sacred mouth, must alone be heard, before all and above all men; next to him we are subject to those men who are in authority over us, but only in him. If they command any thing against him, let it go un-esteemed. ..."¹⁵

"I know with what great and present peril this constancy is menaced, because kings bear defiance with the greatest displeasure, whose "wrath is a messenger of death" Prov 16:14, says Solomon. But since this edict has been proclaimed by the heavenly herald, Peter - "We must obey God rather than men," Acts 5:29 - let us comfort ourselves

14 GOD'S LAW: (1) "Thou shalt make no covenant with them." 1 Ki 4:21; (2) "Thou hast abandoned Thy people, the house of Jacob, Because ... they strike bargains with the children of foreigners." Isaiah 2:6 (New American); (3) "If thou hast stricken thy hand with a stranger (2114 zūwr), thou art snared." Pr 6:1

with the thought that we are rendering that obedience which the Lord requires when we suffer anything rather than turn aside from piety. (Book 4: ch 20, PP 1)

"Earthly princes lay aside their power when they rise up against God, and are unworthy to be reckoned among the number of mankind. We ought, rather, utterly to defy them than to obey them." Commentaries on Daniel (1561, Lecture 30, on Dan. 6:22. (GR 41.25)

John Knox backed this opinion by quoting The Magdeburg Statement which says that one has the duty of armed resistance to a ruler who violates the law of God. (History of Reformation, John Knox debate w/Lethington 1564 (contained in 4 ch20 v31 FN p. 1519.)

Without the lawless suffocating hand of the king and his wolf-den minions to distort and destroy - Virginians spread out over America taking with them the Calvin-Knox dream of Christian freedom in a Christian land. The wolves they left behind dared not follow into the wilderness and those in front were pushed aside. The commands of God were enforced. When Lawlessness appeared - it was judged and capital crimes were punished scripturally:

"The hands of the witnesses shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterward the hands of all the people." Deut 17:5-7

"If thy brother ... entice thee ... saying, let us go and serve other gods ... thou shall surely kill him; thine hand shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterwards the hand of all the people." Deut. 13:6-11

The enforcement of God's Law produced peace and abundance. Biblical self-sufficient farms were established and protected by those who feared to let evil go unpunished.¹⁶

WAR CREATES DEMAND

The King of England first demanded that native wolves be converted into sheep and accepted into the sheepfold. This resulted in a massacre. After this debacle, he demanded that slave wolves be taken into the sheepfold. Next, the Dutch King demanded that trade wolves be allowed to land in New York. The wolf found there was almost nothing that he could offer that was needed or wanted by the American farms and especially the self-sufficient Virginia farms. These farms themselves produced everything the wolf had for sale. What to the sheep was Camelot, was to the wolf a wasteland. To them, farms and farming are beneath contempt.¹⁷ Before farmers and their farms can be converted into profitable consumer and land developments - they must first be separated from each other. This can not be done as long as The WORD rules. The WORD says that land may not be taxed, sold, or even leased for more than 50 years.

In the North the farm system was destroyed by taxes and usury loans. Farmers borrowed to pay the tax. Wolf-usury lent the money and took the farms. The North and the North Central states were converted into a wolf-den. Former self-sufficient farms now raised livestock or were "developed." Towns became cities. Unused farmland was so plentiful that houses were built in the middle of lots rather than on the front edge to save every square foot in back for gardens. Sweatshops replaced cottage-industries. Giant power grids replaced water mills. Rolling mills and steel foundries replaced the water mill. Railroads transported thousands of tons of cheap manufactured goods and dumped them in giant stores - destroying millions of cottage industries.

Before the war the North produced almost nothing that the South needed. After Northern armies destroyed Southern farms the destitute refugees needed everything that they had produced for themselves before the war. Their conquerors moved south and built stores to distribute sweat-shop goods manufactured by northern wage-slaves. Destroying the Southern farm created Southern demand and made the South valuable to the king who now ruled both North and South.

Sherman burned the farms of Georgia, South Carolina, and North Carolina when there was no military reason to do so. Sheridan burned the farms of the Valley of Virginia. Missouri farms were put to the torch by Union Armies. It was no accident that the Union army seldom lost an opportunity to burn mills and farm buildings. President Lincoln stopped all prisoner exchange that would have saved the lives of thousands of farmer-soldiers - both Northern and Southern. The Southland, the land with almost no cities and few needs, once destroyed, experienced massive urban growth as burned out refugees arrived from ruined farms and begged to work for wolf corporations as wage-slaves in newly constructed textile and steel mills. The Southland was converted into a wolfden like the land of their brothers in the North.

SOUTH AFRICA: South Africa's farms were burned to the ground. From that time on practically everything the Boer produced before the war he now had to buy from the international merchant.

RUSSIA: The wolves stormed the Russian sheepfold in 1917 and immediately starved four million Ukrainian farmers to death and combined their independent farms into farm collectives. Survivors had to buy from the wolf things they earlier produced for themselves.

GERMANY: German farms in East Germany were given to the wolves to organize into collectives. The German farmers were driven from the land.

Taxes

Taxes imposed by kings have destroyed more farms than any other single thing.¹⁸

Cottage-Industries Destroyed By Dumping

Wolf corporations made wage-slaves out of dispossessed farmers and used their sweat-shops to mass-produce wares. Train loads of these wares were sent to Richmond and sold for 1/4 the price that Virginia's cottage industry could make and sell them for. Virginia's cottage textile industry was destroyed. Sweat-shop shoe companies dumped tens of thousands of shoes which were sold in the same manner. Once cottage-industries had been destroyed, the conquerors built textile mills and shoe factories in Southern towns to use the now unemployed cottage-industry textile and shoe makers. One by one Virginia's cottage industries died.

Separated from the protection of his farm - the farmer became valuable prey - a productive asset for the wolf. His farm is now incorporated into a collective, or sits idle awaiting development. In time, the company he works for as a wage-slave will be forced to close because cheap foreign imports are dumped here. Dispossessed, unemployed, with his family in want - the Saxon faces the greatest opportunity he has had in 2000 years.

To The Death!

- The wolf-city is big - the self-sufficient farm is small. Wolf-city needs fleets of 18 wheelers to feed itself and supply its warehouses and supermarkets. The farm needs inexpensive work and transportation machinery.
- The wolf-city's power needs are enormous - electric power-grids, gas pipelines, trainloads of coal, million ton oil tankers, and atomic energy. The farm needs a simple windmill or solar cell. Its cottage-industry can produce all the ethanol it needs.
- Wolf-city demands over 40% of one's income in taxes. The farm needs no taxes. Even its Burgesses paid their own way to Williamsburg.
- Wolf-city requires giant 747s and thousands of acres of macadamized runways. The farm requires ultra-lites or small 4-seaters with an unused pasture to land in.
- Wolf-city has crime, pollution, unemployment, race-problems, and moral degenerates. These problems do not exist for the farm.
- Wolf-city needs expensive mercenaries to enforce wolf-policy. The farm furnishes its own volunteer militia to enforce The WORD.
- Wolf-cities' "prison industry" requires billions of dollars to house its millions of inmates. The farm has no prisoners or prison industry. It exercises Biblical "restitution." If one commits a crime such as murder or rape for which there can be no restitution - the offender is put to death. Simple - and cheap.
- Wolf-city uses mass media and telecommunication systems to rule the sheep through "monopoly of communication" and "false-witness." In time the sheep will recognize what is being done to them, and when they return to obedience to The WORD the Law will be enforced and the sheep will be free. One day the sheep will be supplied with a "still to be invented" handheld phone that can dial any place in the world. The "county news" will once again reappear. Monopoly media will disappear.

- The Wolf-city requires that all property be corporate property. The sheep will demand at first that all corporations be turned into partnerships with the workers being the partners. At the last they will demand that corporate property taken by fraudulent usury and war be taken and divided so that new farms can be formed.

Conclusion

God created man in his own image. He gave them The WORD which is God. He made them "kings and priests," and gave them his "power- of-attorney." He warned against "kings" and "levites" who would mislead them.¹⁹ He commanded that the land be divided so that each man would have his own kingdom, and that kingdom was never ever to be sold. He commanded that there be no monopoly. He told them not to allow strangers in their midst "lest ye learn their ways."

Man tolerated false-watchmen and surrogate kings. As a consequence our sheepfold has been stormed by the enemy. Worldwide, watchmen and kings stand shoulder to shoulder with the wolf. The individual kingdoms given us by God have been stripped from us and as wage-slaves we have been driven to cities and stockpiled there until needed. The wealth which we took four centuries to accumulate has been taken and is being consumed in a feeding frenzy by strangers. Now, even the sweat-shops in which we labor are being closed one by one and we are to be left to starve.

¹⁹ "Moses commanded the Levites ... saying, Take this ... law and put it in the side of the ark ... that it may be there for a witness against thee. For I know thy rebellion ... behold, while I am yet alive ... ye have been rebellious against the Lord; and how much more after my death? ... For I know that after my death ye will ... turn aside from the way which I have commanded you." Deut 31: 24-29

Unless we wish to die we now have no option but to obey our God - The WORD.²⁰ The factories of today's wolfden cities are being disassembled and taken to alien lands. The cities are dying. Already entire sections lie abandoned and store fronts are boarded up. The unneeded sheep-workers will soon have no food, no safety, no work, no shelter. They will either wander around complaining until they fall dead - or they will again look across the Jordan at the promised land and begin to act like kings and priests and go to work to gain their self-sufficient farm-kingdoms where they can live as kings and priests are supposed to live.

One day the 18-wheelers, the trains, the 747's and the great smokestacks will all stand still in a dead wolfden that has been eaten out. Grass will grow on the great interstates and cattle will graze on deserted air-terminals. The circle of self-sufficient farms will close and the wolf will be excluded to howl outside and plot to re-enter still again. Once more, the farms of the West will sound to the laughter of children and wives will sing as they go about their work. Cottage industries will hum to the sound of industry and country stores will spring up to handle the overflow. The McCormicks will again invent their reapers and the Wright Brothers their flying machines.

The inventions with which God faithfully rewards his obedient children will send the younger sons to new kingdoms among the stars.²¹

SOUTH AFRICA by K.J.

General Constand Viljoen's treason is now general knowledge. His behavior is such that the ANC simply adore the man. His Volkstaat Council chairman has also revealed himself as an integrationist.

The Conservative Party's leader, Dr Hartzenberg, bypasses his party and does whatever he wants to do. He has been holding talks with Mandela against their wishes.²²

An intelligence person told us privately that the 33 AWB leaders who were arrested are innocent, but they act as White hostages and the legal expense of these court cases places the AWB under severe stress.

Economically we are definitely the tail end now. Our people, if they have jobs, earn less than blacks but are liable for all taxes - be it income tax, town taxes, electricity, water, telephone, TV license, etc. None are paid by Blacks and the White town councils are faced with these debts of Blacks in Black townships who have not paid for years. There are talks about the Blacks taxing our farm land and small holdings which will wipe out many Whites. I nearly forgot - Blacks have subsidized transport and cheaper petrol for minibuses, and subsidized health care. They do not pay school fees and grants to universities seem to be freely available to them from big companies. But, in spite of it all the Blacks are not satisfied. They see their leaders at the top who earn huge salaries and they want the same.

S. Africa must be the most lawless country in the world. Whites are murdered every day. Heidelberg, a small town, used to be a student town, but it has become so dangerous that people in the district do not travel except at certain times of the day. After the recent schoolbus shooting incident, many other incidents took place that never got into newspapers. The Blacks go on strike after strike.

Our language, Afrikaans, is being suppressed. The refusal of the license to Radio Dankerhoek is seen against this background.

Daleen Joubert has not been able to get a welfare number to shelter homeless White children as yet. I hope that it is not another case of discrimination.

Can the hatred that we experience from the dark Hindus, those called "untouchables," be because of the separateness we practiced in the past as required by our God? One of them, Fatima Meer is in a position of authority at the South African Broadcasting Corporation-TV. She seems to have a blind hatred for all things White - especially Afrikaans.²³ She is an Indian communist lawyer who defended the ANC. When the National Party came to power in 1948 they offered to pay the passage of those who wished to return to India. Few took advantage and the reason is now clear - they would have been unacceptable to other Indians, no matter how much money they have and many did get rich here. In their suburbs, three-story houses are plentiful.

23 To the dark colored Dravidians in southern India - "white" is the color of the devil - black is the color of Hindu gods. Many Indians hate Whites because of their color.

GOVERNMENT AGENTS: "Africa confidential, a publication by British Intelligence, brought to light that both General Constand Viljoen and Gen. Tienie Groenewald are allies of the new Mandela government. The greatest benefit which these generals achieved for the government, according to the publication, is to provide them with information that led to the arrest of 2 of the 33 AWB members involved in planting bombs just prior to the election. The publication makes allegations that both these generals furnished information on a regular basis, especially over movements in right-wing politics." Die Afrikaner, " 19-25 August 1994

TRAITOR: "Gen. Constant Viljoen, present freedom front leader, when Chief of the Army, conducted a sustained campaign to populate deserted farms in Northern Transvaal with White farmers. At the moment as ally of former terrorists he volunteers to assist the ANC minister of land affairs, Derek Honekom with redistribution of the farms now owned by Whites to Blacks. ... As another act of treason by Viljoen's Freedom Front, this party is now busily arranging that White farmers who lose land as a result of Viljoen's actions in parliament obtain land over the border in the Black nation of Mozambique to get the economy of that Communist state going." Die Afrikaner, 12-18 August 1994

IRREPRESSIBLE JAPP MARAIS: "The ANC state will topple over and the Afrikaner must utilize that day," says Jaap Marais, of the HNP political party.

"Nowhere in Africa and even Haiti did a Black state succeed. They failed though economic foolishness and corrupt management, every one. Nowhere did a Communist government succeed. Communism failed everywhere in spite of the millions of human lives that Communist terror methods claimed. ...

"Inflation is increasing and will get out of hand. Salaries of ministers and even Black ministerial typists, plus the distribution of millions to Black neighboring states show just one thing, and that is inflation! The civil service is an employment service for the ANC. The ANC will have to increase taxes which will slow down economic growth and they will finally have to create money through the printing machine. The rand will lose its value still faster than ever. Further losses will come from striking Black unions, and we have only seen the beginning.

"Car thefts, murders, burglaries, and murder of Policeman have reached unbelievable heights. Suicides among Police office is now problem, and it is difficult for Police to combat murder when they are ordered to treat criminals with kindness. ... The ANC state cannot last. Their priority is vengeance against the Afrikaner. The Truth Commission is the first move in revenge against Afrikaners who as members of the armed forces took action in the war conflict against the enemy. ... The Communists are now busy with ... the security forces who must be prepared to act against Afrikaners and perhaps Zulus.

"We must prepare ourselves for the time when all these affairs miscarry," Mr. Marais warned. "DeKlerk's National Party is useless. ... Salaried members of the Volkstaat council and other right-wing parties looking from reconciliation must also be excluded. ... Never was the HNP (Marais' political party) more necessary in the life of the Afrikaner people than now," Mr. Marais warned his enthusiastic audience." The HNP has the absolute right to change the outcome of the war against the Afrikaner. He has the absolute right to take back with peaceful means what has been taken away by fraud. The moral base of the HNP is unassailable." Mr. Marais said." Translated from Die Afrikaner 12-18 Aug 1994.

RAPE?

WHEN IS IT "RAPE"? "Clarence Thomas ... was in his younger years a member of the Black Panther Party. ... I saw only one mention of Thomas's former status as a Black Panther. It is hardly surprising that the media also neglected to mention that one of the requirements of becoming a Black Panther was that the prospect must rape a white woman. CIVIL RIGHTS - "DHARMA"

GERMANY: The government suspended Charlotte Hoehn, head of a population study institute after she said that scientists have the right to question whether or not Africans are as intelligent as other races. The German Interior Ministry said that the government is pursuing disciplinary action against her.

PHILADELPHIA - Four WHITES wielding baseball bats broke down the door of a house belonging to "Blacks" and beat a Black woman and her son "while shouting racial slurs." Three men and a woman were arrested and besides "assault," are alleged to to have made "terroristic threats," including "ethnic intimidation."

RKH: Across America in the same year, at the same day, on the same hour, the American monopoly media conspired together to stop identifying the race of criminals when they are strangers. When they are White it is another story. This latest item reveals a newly invented media-crime - "terroristic threats." This is crime committed by Whites. According to the wolf-media, thus far, Blacks have never made a "terroristic threat" against a White.

ISLAM

CONTROL: In Islam, as well as Christian nations, all government above the village level is controlled by surrogates of those engaged in international trade. Islam is far ahead of Christendom in their struggle to win freedom. The Islamic struggle has turned ugly.

ALGERIA: Sixteen civilians were beheaded by armed men. The violence was blamed on Muslim militants opposed to a political solution with the military-backed government. The militants want an Islamic nation and nothing else.

SAUDI ARABIA: In a crackdown on Muslim fundamentalists, Saudi Arabia arrested 110 people whom the government terms "agitators." They were accused of seeking to spread anarchy and sedition in a conspiracy with "suspect groups" abroad. One week earlier the government "detained" hundreds of fundamentalists who have been agitating for stricter Islamic law.

ALGERIA'S REVOLT WINS: Establishment government leaders in Algeria are making friendly overtures to Islamic fundamentalists by releasing the leaders of the Islamic Salvation Front. It is supposed that an agreement has been made to legalize the Front in exchange for a truce in the 2 1/2 year old rebellion that has left 10,000 people dead. The French government fears that the successes of the Algerian rebels may encourage the French right wing.

Chapter 242

ORPHANAGE FOR ABANDONED CHILDREN

October 8, 1994

"Dear Mr. Hoskins;

"Thank you so much for your letter and your interest in our children's care center. We women started this center because nothing was being done for our own children. Millions are being spent by the Black government for Black children and millions upon millions more is being sent from Christian ministries in America to care for Black children, but nothing for our own White children whose plight is truly desperate.

"Things are moving at a very disturbing pace in this country. I am traveling about addressing people in an attempt to shake them up a bit. It was quite unsettling to see how people have become negative and have lost their fighting spirit now that the election is over and after the closing of Radio Pretoria.

"After talking to people it was encouraging to see that people started coming to life again, taking an interest in our project and how they are beginning to work together once more.

"Seventeen thousand white school teachers have been notified that they are being retrenched (fired) at the end of November - white teachers only.¹ In Pretoria alone 4,000 teachers will be without jobs. At this stage we can accommodate only a few destitute families, but the need is indescribable! We are forced to start our own school on this farm with living quarters for students so that children can be sent to us from all over the country. We have built up large quantities of emergency stock - groceries, medical supplies, etc. Our vegetable garden is also coming on nicely and I am negotiating with the farmers for a better price for chickens to really build up a well established chicken stock. Also sheep and cows. We must be self maintained and ready to survive when the chaos hits this land!

"Now, to answer some of your questions. This organization is named after me. This was not my choice, but it was decided by the Management Board. We have a democratically elected board consisting of a chairman, vice-chairman, secretary, treasurer, and 20 additional members. We have various committees in full operation i.e. a fundraising committee, welfare and counseling, supplies, media, building, planning, etc. These people are working hard and they really put in a lot of effort to try and make this project work. I will send a newsletter to you as soon as possible. I will have to translate our constitution from Afrikaans into English for you.

"There is also a Trust being established in which the old minister bequeaths his land to the Children's Home. His children all signed this document, so when he dies, the land cannot be included in his estate. It will remain in the Trust and we can go on with our work.

"We will send you a formal receipt for any money that your readers can send to help us, and I will have a letter typed to enlighten your donors as to what we used the money for. I will most certainly send photos as well since I know that people love to see what the children look like whom they care for.

"You also asked about the "protective wall." That was not what we had in mind. It is more a security fence with an electronic gate and an intercom system so that we can keep the 'wolves' out. I have had people give us quotations to build the fence and it was so expensive I could not believe my ears. It will be at least R70,000 (seventy thousand rands) [about $17,500] to fence in the farm. We have to secure the whole farm as we have a problem with Black squatters on neighboring farms which endangers the children's lives. For the essential buildings to house approximately 250 children and fifty families (families housed separate from the children) will cost more than $100,000. So we are talking in the vicinity of $150,000 or more to get started.

their parents. The parents simply disappeared! You simply cannot imagine what it is like here. I couldn't have imagined it myself five years ago.

"When 'affirmative action' causes a White man to be fired he tries to find another job, but can't. He uses up his savings and is unable to make house payments. He is then evicted onto the street with his furniture. Leaving his furniture and taking his family and a few articles he drives to a relative who is in as bad a condition as he is. Unable to stay there he drives until he runs out of gas. On foot with his family he wanders the countryside looking for work and something to eat. When his family begins to starve, he becomes desperate. He leaves his children at what looks like a prosperous farm and goes on, hoping that the "prosperous farmer" will feed his children. Unknown to him the "prosperous" looking farmer is seldom prosperous nowadays. He is on the verge of losing the farm and is finding it hard to feed himself let alone someone else's children. The children go somewhere else and there is nowhere else to go! White children roam the countryside everywhere.

"This is what the economic situation is doing to our people. They cannot find work because they are white and because of the 'affirmative action' by the government. Affirmative action means Blacks get all the jobs now, no white person gets employment any longer. Can you see why I am desperate to help our own kind!!

"I heard of a case last week where Black women with a qualification of "Standard 3" (a White child of 11 years is normally in "Standard 3" in school! I don't know what grade that is in America) well, this woman is now placed in posts in government departments where these posts used to be occupied by White people with at least a university degree.

As long as you are Black the job is yours! We will soon be a third world country.

"You asked about General Joubert who was involved during the late South African unpleasantness with the British. Yes, he was a kinsman of my late husband. I am a duPlessis by birth. My grand- father fought in the Anglo-Boer War. My father's mother was a Wagenaar. Her great grand-father was one of the first governors in the Cape in the time of van Riebeeck. My late husband's mother was a sister of a late South African Prime Minister Advocate J. G. Strydom. Do you remember him? He was just before Dr. Verwoerd.

"The one most comforting thought that we have and which you emphasize in your book Wolves and Sheep,² is that Sheep have a Shepherd! We must learn from our past mistakes and keep the wolves out of our sheepfold.

"Kindest regards, Darleen Joubert,
Pres., Daleen Joubert Children's Home

Editor's Update

Mrs. Joubert's letter contains much interesting information that is omitted from our media. However, HR #243, that follows, reports a phone call from Mrs. Joubert to the effect that in spite of the trust being created to protect them, the Children's Home still lost its lease.

When the editor is informed of a more stable condition established for the care of the children he will pass on the information so that those who wish to help may do so.

 TWO GODS: "Church officials in Albuquerque estimate that over a 30-year period as many as 200 people were abused by 45 to 50 priests. The archdiocese currently is defending itself in 41 separate lawsuits. Another 20 people have said they have claims." Christian News, p. 2, 1/10/94 PUNISHMENT: Christendom has two punishments - reparations if possible, if not - death. Christian- Hindus are reluctant to put people to death because it interferes with "karma" and re-incarnation, so they imprison them. Prison punishments in America are now - Murder - 1.8 years, Rape - 60 days, Robbery - 23 days, Arson - 13 days, Assault - 7 days, Burglary - 6 days, Car Theft - 4 days, Theft - 2 days. (Statistics in Your Window Into The Future, p. 7, Aug 1994.

Africa

GUNS: The Black President of S. Africa, Nelson Mandela, expressed support for a nationwide campaign to reduce the number of handguns and assault weapons in South Africa. A church delegation lead by Bishop Peter Storey of the methodist Church presented the "Gun Free South Africa Plan" to Mr. Mandela. (Story in the S. A. Citizen, 9-3-94)

NELSON MANDELA: "'The savior of S. Africa,' is removing 30,000 White soldiers from the S. Africa military so that Blacks can run the Army. He is removing White teachers and replacing them with Blacks. He has established a 'Truth Commission' that will force Whites to 'Confess' to 'sins in the name of apartheid.' Mandela will force companies to pay Black managers 50% more than they pay White managers. He will tax Whites 50% of their income to pay for his new programs for Blacks. The major media know all this. They just won't report it to the American people." Washington Report, copied from Straight Talk, Oct 13, 1994.

Abortion

KANGAROO COURT: A federal judge denied the Rev Paul Hill the opportunity to make the Biblical defense of "justifiable homicide" in his shotgun slaying of an abortion doctor and his bodyguard. In effect, this ruling denied the supremacy and jurisdiction of God's Law under which Hill maintains that he committed his acts. The prosecution admitted that the abortion center was used to kill (terminate, execute, murder, annihilate, abort, butcher) unborn babies (over 13,000,000 thus far) but that a newly enacted federal abortion clinic access statute gave them the right to do so. Hill, acting as his own attorney, maintained that killing unborn children is murder⁶ and that murderers must be stopped. In effect, the judge's ruling denied Hill the opportunity to make any defense at all.⁷ This prevented him from cross-examining and questioning witnesses, and he was unable to present any evidence that the court would accept. His brief closing statement was: "This government is unjust because it does not protect innocent life. To the extent we take part in this evil, we must answer to God. May God help us all."

Rev. Paul Hill faces a separate trial in a Florida state court Jan 30 on murder charges and could get the death penalty.

RKH: Jewish zealots kill Palestinians and others for the sake of their god. Islamic zealots blow themselves up to fulfill the commands of Allah. It is silly to think that there are no Christians who love God The WORD as much. The Jews are forced to choose between obedience to their rulers and the words of their rabbis. The Arabs are forced to choose between obedience to their rulers and the words of Mohammed. Increasingly, Christians will be forced to choose between the demands of their rulers and the demands of their God: "No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon." Matt. 6:24.

cleared the way for Operation Rescue founder Randall Terry to go to jail because an anti-abortion demonstrator showed Bill Clinton a fetus during the 1992 Democratic National Convention. The Court let stand Terry's contempt-of-court conviction and 5 month jail sentence for disobeying a federal judge's injunction.

RKH: The American establishment is making the same mistake that the Arab establishment made. Heavy handed force will not do. Already, establishment thugs have broken arms, legs, noses, and ribs of little old ladies, and have caused pro-life protestors to have miscarriages. They have roughed up people who can not fight back. They are sowing the seeds of a whirlwind. Establishment judges and police in Islamic countries are now being judged by those they once judged.

Islam

GAZA STRIP: Yasar Arafat's 9,500 man police force cracked down on Hamas - the Arab fundamentalist organization. Hamas kidnapped a Jewish corporal to hold as hostage for the release of the Hamas leader, Sheik Ahmed Yassin, and 200 others who had been kidnapped by the Israelis. Hamas believes that Arafat has been bought by the American CIA and that the CIA is a surrogate of the Israeli state.

RKH: Increasingly, the leaders of all states are having trouble with their separatist countrymen who insist on following the laws of their ancient gods rather than the wishes of their politicians.

ALGERIA: Algeria: The husband of a feminist activist who resigned as government spokesman last month to protest official contacts with Muslim fundamentalist leaders was stabbed to death. Four men entered the office of the orthodontist husband and stabbed him. He died en route to a hospital.

ALGIERS: Seven Italian sailors had their throats slit in the night. A few days later five E. European technicians were forced out of a bus, forced to kneel, and were shot. A day later, two workers from the former Yugoslavia and two Algerians friends were shot down in a fashionable restaurant. Two leading Algerian education officials were also gunned down. The assailants are believed to be Muslim "fundamentalist" militants who last September declared foreigners to be targets. Already half the foreigners in Algeria have left. (Story in The News & Daily Advance, p. A2, 7- 12-95.

EGYPT: Nobel Prize-winning novelist Naguib Mahfouz was stabbed outside his Cairo home Friday. The Egyptian Organization for Human Rights called the stabbing "intellectual terrorism." The attack is believed to be part of the campaign of fundamentalists to install Islamic rule.

Japan

JAPAN BOUGHT: Retired intelligence officials and former diplomats said that the CIA gave money to the Liberal Democratic Party in the 1950s and '60s, according to the New York Times. The Liberal Demoratic Party ended its 38 year one-party rule last year after a series of corruption cases, many involving secret cash contributions.

RKH: Many believe that the world's merchants rule the world through America's CIA by corrupting the leaders of

Chapter 243

FARM SEIZURE

The Reason? - Making Serfs

After the wolf is in the sheepfold his first act is to begin a tax-program designed to seize land - the physical part of the sheepfold. The reason? The sheep who owns his own tax-free land is self- sufficient. He doesn't need the spice-merchant or his goods.

The empire building technique of removing land from freemen and reducing them to serfs is ancient. Douglas Read in his The Controversy of Zion, Noontide Press, Newport Beach, CA, 1985. p. 219, has this to say about it:

"Next, Karl Marx. The Protocols say, 'The aristocracy of the peoples, as a political force, is dead ... but as landed proprietors they can still be harmful to us from the fact that they are self-sufficient in the resources upon which they live. It is essential therefore for us at whatever cost to deprive them of their land ..."

"Karl Marx in his Communist Manifesto exactly followed this formula. True he declared that Communism might be summed up in one sentence, 'abolition of private property', but subsequently he qualified this dictum by restricting actual confiscation to land and implying that other types of private property were to remain intact. (In the later Marxist event, of course, all private property was confiscated, but I speak here of the strict parallel between the strategy laid down before the event alike by the Protocols and Marx.)"

The transfer of free people into slavery moves in lock-step with the transfer of the ownership of their land to their rulers who are agents of the international spice-merchant. But, before the transfer can take place, the ancient gods who oppose the transfer of land must be replaced with gods that approve the transfer. Only then can the transfer take place.

The Druids

As the invincible Roman armies advanced into Europe, they encountered fanatical opponents among the Celts and Saxons. If conquered, they rose again in revolt after revolt. The Romans questioned their captives and learned that this fanaticism was the result of the teachings of their Druid priesthood. In other words, for the Romans to secure peace over their conquests the Druids must be exterminated.

It was the policy of the Roman Church to destroy the records of religions that were defiant to Roman rule. Because of this, practically all records of Druid beliefs and teachings vanished and the vanished Druids became what their conquerors said they were. This allowed the establishment to create a picture of crazed hooded barbarians, who, in league with trolls and witches, engaged in human sacrifices at night on desolate moors. It has only been in the last hundred years that a more balanced picture has emerged. The following articles give a different view.

"The Druids may be described as an association of professional wise men, philosophers in the early Greek sense, claiming to be experts in all the higher branches of knowledge. They professed special knowledge of the gods, the other world, the future life, the form and measurement of the earth, the movements of the heavenly bodies, the history of men; and they were accepted as authorities in matters of religion and law."¹

The following sheds even more light:

"An ancient Greek manuscript translated by C. S. Sonnini, and printed in English in 1801 AD tells of St. Paul's visit to Britain. Verse 13 reads, 'And it came to pass that certain of the Druids came to Paul privately, and showed by their rites and ceremonies that they were descended from the Hebrews which escaped from bondage in the land of Egypt, and the Apostle believed these things and he gave them the kiss of peace.'

"Mr. Charles Hulbert, writing in 1825 AD says: 'So near is the resemblance between the Druidical religion of Britain and the Patriarchal religion of the Hebrews, that we hesitate not to pronounce their origin the same.'

"Cassell's 'History of England' says: 'The Druidical Rites and Ceremonies in Britain were almost identical with the Mosaic Ritual.'

"Crania Brittanica' records: '...the unearthing of a cist or

barrow at Stonehenge, in which were the remains of a Druid perfectly clad in his sacred garments, with a breast-plate on his breast, the facsimile of that worn by the Hebrew High Priest."

"The Ten Commandments of the Druids, were almost identical with those given by God to Moses. The Druids worshipped a Trinity, one of Whose Names was 'Yesu,' so when the early Christians preached Jesus as God they preached the most familiar Name of its own Deity to Druidism. In the ancient British tongue 'Jesus' has never assumed its Greek, Latin or Hebrew form, but remains the pure Druidic 'Yesu.'

"So it seems apparent that the Druids were Levites, and that they too must have arrived in the British Isles before the Israel Nation was established in Palestine. Possibly the 'seven thousand' whom God said had not bowed their knee to Baal were these Druids in the 'Appointed Place,' the Isles of the Sea, North and West of Palestine."²

The conquest of Ireland took place without the need for an armed invasion. It is a textbook case.

Saint Patrick was commissioned by the Roman Church to secure Ireland. He was an ideal selection. He knew the land and its people. He was a Briton who had been carried off as a slave to north-eastern Ulster. After laboring six years as a shepherd ³ he was released and made his way back to

2 Jer 31:10; Jer 3:12, 23:8

3 GOD'S LAW: "And if thy brother, a Hebrew man, or a Hebrew woman, be sold unto thee, and serve thee six years; then in the seventh year thou shalt let him go free from thee. ... thou shalt not let him go away empty: Thou shalt furnish him liberally out of thy flock, and out of thy floor." Deut 15:12-14

the Continent and spent 15 years studying in the Church of Auxerre. Receiving his instructions he was given the rank of first bishop of the Irish in 431 by Pope Celestine I, and set out for Ireland where he arrived in 438.

He could have gone to any one of a dozen nominal Irish kings, but he chose King Loiguire. The records say that he was vigorously opposed by local priests (Druids), but that King Loiguire, son of Niall, received him eagerly and proved to be an eager listener.⁴

Patrick explained to him the workings of the Catholic Church, how that it was God's representative on earth and its priestly administered "last rites" sent the faithful to heaven. It could also excommunicate and send people to hell. He told the Irish King that the Church was willing to publicly confirm him in his kingship over the lands he claimed, and punish any of his subjects who objected with excommunication. He explained that the parishioners would be required to pay tithes and taxes, and pay the church to pray their loved ones out of purgatory. All this should amount to a tidy sum which would be shared with the king in return for his protection, endorsement, and help in collection. All that was needed was his blessing and protection to set up operations.

King Loiguire was an ambitious man, and in the manner of ambitious men was perpetually short of cash. This offer was the best one that had come his way. He agreed.

Saint Patrick was jubilant. He had arrived in Ireland in 438, and in 439, the short space of a single year, with the king's help he was so successful in establishing the Roman Church that his patron Germius had to send three bishops to his assistance. Their names were Secundinus, Auxilius, and Iserminus. Patrick chose Armagh for his own "see" near the ancient Ulster capitol. These four bishops divided the country between them and Ireland was added to the empire without the usual expense of an invading army.

Observation

It is interesting to note that Patrick bypassed the obstacle of the Druid priesthood by first securing the protection and endorsement of a sympathetic king. Once the Catholic Church was installed, the Druids were suppressed. Then, the ancient laws of Ireland were replaced with laws of the Catholic Church making rule much easier. Slave ownership was abolished and the freed slaves turned into tithers and taxpayers. Feudalism was gradually introduced which reduced freemen to slaves. Monasteries were established to train priests to manage the new owner's wealth of land and money that flowed into church coffers.

Charlemagne 742 AD - 814

Priests open the gates and prepare the way, but, events move faster if there is a strong conqueror with whom proper arrangements have been made. Such a king will annex the people's land wholesale, punish those who object, and leave it to the Church to manage the property, make collections, and split the take. Charlemagne was such a king.

Charlemagne ruled most of Europe. On Christmas Day in 800, he was hired to protect the empire and the crown was placed on his head by Pope Leo III. He was given the title of Emperor of the Holy Roman Empire, and he was authorized to rule that empire as the Church's representative and protector.

Charlemagne inherited great wealth and a strong army which he used to double the size of his kingdom. In 772, he commenced a 30-year offensive against the Saxons aimed at converting them to Roman Catholicism and annexing their lands. He employed mass executions and deportations in his wars against the recalcitrant Saxons. In 782, 4,500 of them were executed in one day.

Building The Wolf-Den

Old Roman cities in France, whose populations had dwindled to almost nothing, were revitalized as hundreds of thousands of Saxon refugees, dispossessed from their own self-sufficient farms, poured in seeking food and shelter. These destitute new arrivals ensured profits to Church-owned industry by providing both a pool of cheap labor and also consumers in the need of everything.

Organizing Wolf City

These cities were organized like cities in India. A count was appointed by Charlemagne and a bishop was appointed by the Church. The count led the local army and the bishop managed Church property and kept records of rents and taxes. The count's jurisdiction was called "pagi" or "districts," and the overlapping administration of the church was called a "Diocese." The name for districts facing an enemy were "marks" or "marches."

Charlemagne conquered many different peoples and races. Each was allowed to keep his own customs and laws provided that they accept the Roman Catholic religion. The Roman Catholic religion provided the "Dharma" that made possible unrestricted trade throughout the empire. Dharma required obedience to the rulings of the Catholic Church whose rules were enforced by the king's strong arm. The Catholic Church provided ecumenical "Dharma," and the King provided the "Dharmatra-enforcers." The Academic American Encyclopedia "Charlemagne" states that in order to develop trade "he strongly encouraged the development of Jewish communities." The Jews operated the western terminal of the spice-trade that originated in India and China, and being non-Christian, they lent money at usury, but they did it under the close supervision of the Catholic Church.⁵ The article ends by saying; "The effect of his conquests was to spread Roman Christianity across central Europe."

Charlegmane's conquests brought to Europe the Roman Catholic religion, rents and taxes, and the feudal caste system. At the cost of countless lives, the independent farm system was destroyed and an integrated empire was installed in its place in which unrestricted trade could take place. The conquered peoples began their slide into serfdom working under taskmasters - all of which was blessed by a god who was what the priests said he was.

appreciate them. Somehow I could never bring myself to write about the dire need of many of our Afrikaners and some English. I kept many news articles but never sent them.

"The HNP Political Party is celebrating its 25th anniversary on Sat 29th. The effort of Jaap Marais and loyal party members are responsible for keeping our ideals alive. They refused financial aid from the state. To keep the aid coming is one reason the Conservative party is looking for positions in the ANC government.

ANC plans for the farmers are ominous. They confiscated young white farmers and then try to encourage them to settle in Zambia in the Zambezi valley. It has a terrible climate with unbearable heat and tropic diseases. We went through this area when we farmed 90 miles south of Lusaka. The land must be bought with a 99 year leasehold⁶ but I cannot remember anyone who stayed very long. A white would build up a place and for some reason he would be forced out just as they did in the Congo. The soil is good and rainfall high, but a black government⁷ and no infrastructure left or easy access to farm implements or parts, plus other needs such as doctors are real obstacles.

Our schools and universities are all threatened. To compensate, Christian National Identity Education private schools have been established - mostly in small towns. Even Pretoria has one. The number of these will have to be increased in order to survive as a Afrikaner nation.

6 Ed. note: This is feudalism at its worse. The land can never be owned but is leased only to revert to its true owner in time.

7 Ed. note: "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: racial alien) over thee who is not thy brother." Deut 17:15

Our Dutch Reformed Church finally went overboard. They had Mandela as guest speaker at their four-year general synod session. He told them how much damage their church did by applying "separateness" etc. and he asked their support for the government lottery program, and that they unite with the black and colored churches. They not only agreed to all this but sang a hymn pronouncing benediction on Mandela, an atheist and ancestor worshiper at best. They confessed their sin of separateness, but will have to convince their members at local level to accept integration. They see no sin in praying with Buddhists, Hindus, Moslems, Jews, etc. and they want to rejoin the World Council of Churches. A Dr. Beyers Naude, an active communist, was also welcomed back with a benediction. The Reformed Church that Paul Kruger belonged to is turning left, leaving dissatisfaction among members.⁸

I marvel at the evil Viljoen is doing. Perhaps he is hoping to receive a title from Her Majesty. His latest effort is cooperation between the Freedom Front, Conservative Party, and National Party, which he hopes will come together in early December to form one group. According to Vijean they aim to obtain a so called Volkstaat that will not exclude anybody because of race or color. Just another lie by Viljoen and the National Intelligence Service. It will be a money power group without nationalism.

The murder of whites continue daily and we are told that blacks are flooding the country from all over Africa.

Also, they must refrain from teaching the Christian Laws, Statutes, and Judgments, and refrain from condemnation of the Hindu "Dharma-integration" that makes the Spice Trade possible. The result is that today ALL seminary trained preachers are suspected of disloyalty to The WORD which is God.

CHURCH LEADER SHOT: The shooting of an integrationist white church leader branded "a traitor to his race" raised fears of more retaliation in South Africa. "Police refused to speculate on why Johan Heyns, former head of the Dutch Reformed Church, was killed Saturday night by a single shot to the head. President Nelson Mandela mourned Heyns as a 'soldier of peace.' Heyns died instantly after an unknown attacker using a large-caliber rifle shot him through a window of his home in Pretoria. He was hit in the back of the head." (Story in Atlanta Journal, Nov 7, 1994)

REFUSAL: "The SA Defense Force has admitted that on April 1 it refused an order from the ANC to invade Natal and arrest the KwaZulu government. According to a Frontline Fellowship press release, the military flatly refused to conduct this coup d'etat. Of a 500-man unit called up for this action, only 10 reported for duty." IMPACT, June/July 1994

GO TO ALL NATIONS: "In Rwanda, 500,000 people were killed in two months' time in tribal fights ... Those who commit such atrocities were previously considered good Christians. One Christian leader said, 'After 94 years of evangelization, these murders prove our defeat. 'Christians' vandalized the churches. The people never assimilated Christian values. ... (50% of Rwandans are baptized), but there is little change in their life.'" Richard Wurmbrand, Aug 1994, The Voice Of The Martyrs.

ED: Almost half the money raised by establishment churches go to foreign missions. It is used to convert Samaritan wolves into "Christian" sheep. As "sheep" they can then enter the sheepfold and hold the door open for the Silk Merchant. Billions upon billions are spent this way every year. Who really believes that false shepherds parading as "ministers of the Gospel" will shut the sheepfold gate on this kind of money? God has not repealed his Law - like breeds like. "I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me." John 17:9

ELECTION: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I'd appreciate your comment on the current national election results." C. C. - California

RKH: Gladly. "Two steps forward - one step back!" It is necessary to give America's sheep a breather. Too much too fast: Homosexuals, baby killing, the Ruby Ridge and Waco Massacres, the kangaroo trials and sentencing of the survivors, "Three Trial Beckwith," King's acquittal and the L.A. riots, murders, rapes, and robberies - wolves protecting wolves. America's abused serfs are beginning to long for their ancient Shepherd and his Law, and are forming militias for mutual protection. Defiance is in the air. To calm them, the establishment appears to be sacrificing a discredited Clinton. They hope this will satisfy the sheep. When things quiet - the wolf attacks will commense again.

America's political parties are elected by the establishment's media. They bless murder and chaos. The book Votescam reveals that elections not won honestly are stolen by electronic voting machines. The Democrats are fast poison - the Republicans slow poison. The International Merchant controls both the ruling party AND its opposition. Failure to control both may allow a true national party to slip into power and possibly destroy the Establishment.

The Democrats were for GATT - the world-wide agreement against trade tariffs. The leader of the newly-elected Republican majority is for GATT. One World Bolchievism marches on regardless who is elected.

In South Africa the opposition to DeKlerk's National Party has been the Conservative Party. The Conservative Party was hastily thrown together to keep the nationalistic HNP Party from power. The establishment media in SA favors both the National and Conservative parties with publicity so that they will remain the "very, very, loyal opposition." The HNP is unknown outside of S. Africa and to many people within.

God's people will learn to compare every establishment word and act to the requirements of God's LAW. They instinctively respect God's LAW. The wolf fears the day when the flock declares: "The reason such-and-such must be opposed is because it violates The WORD which is God!" This will mean that the wolf will have to exchange his silk glove for a steel gauntlet. Everyone will have to choose. No longer will men, women and children be burned alive with impunity. A new age will have arrived.

ORPHANAGE: "Dear Dick; The plight of our kinsmen in South Africa makes you want to weep. I'll contribute and spread the word to others. It seems hopeless to build, being defenseless in the enemies camp. But, what else can they do? Perhaps outside the fence will flow another Blood River." W. D. - Florida

RKH: Be sure to see the end article where the Darlene

PRISONER: "Mr. Hoskins: We've recently won a fight with the prison who tried to ban the Report. The Reports I've gotten from you are read by all the brothers and they are an invaluable source of info. I'm even using them to try and bring the Chaplain here to the truth." B. L. - Colorado

ABORTIONISTS LOGIC: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I don't understand how someone can't see that a baby five minutes before it is born is a person just as much as he is five minutes after he is born." O.B. - Virginia

RKH: You are talking about Christian logic. Hindus don't think that way. The E/B states:

"The theory of the transmigration of souls ... Where the passage of the soul ... with ideas of retribution for the sins or accidents of this life, the influence of Buddhism or Hinduism has probably been at work. ... and often with ideas as to a plurality of souls in a single individual ..."

E/B, 14th, #15, Metempsychosis, p. 336

"In Plato's view the number of souls was fixed; birth therefore is never the creation of a soul, but only a transmigration from one body to another." E/B 14th, #15, p. 337

I am told that many Hindus believe that the transfer of the soul from one who has recently died into a new born baby takes place at birth. If the baby has no soul because there has been no live birth, and, consequently, no transfer of the soul of a dead person into the baby, there can be no murder. "Hinduism" thinly concealed by calling it "Christian" is widespread in America.

PAUL HILL CAN NOW SPEAK: Paul Hill was denied his right to use "Justifiable Homicide" as a defense at his trial for shooting an abortionist. I wrote asking him if he had a copy of the argument he was prevented from using in court. He said would get someone to send me the arguments. When they arrived I found that they were copyrighted. I again wrote for written for permission to use them. Paul Hill made some interesting comments in his letter which are excerpted below:

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: Both civil servants and those who appoint them must equally submit to Christ's Law-Word. ... Some are elected to rule using the sword or the keys or the rod of discipline - but they are elected to serve under God's Word.

"If they turn from God's Word the responsibilities given them by the individuals immediately fall back on the individuals. i.e. in the abortion controversy, the magistrate no longer defends the unborn so the individuals responsibility to do so is increased.

"In summary. The monolithic unified government needs the individuals in it to constantly challenge it. The government suppresses the individuals when they deviated from The WORD and the individuals challenge the state when it deviates from The WORD. Both are equally ultimate. But those in power arise from the individuals and not vice-versa - Thus those in power must ultimately be subordinate to the many individuals when they turn from God's WORD. In His Service, Paul J. Hill," #SH2-1, PO Box 17789, Pensacola, FL 32522.

NORTH CAROLINA MASON: The North Carolina Mason, of March /April 1994, states, "All barriers for membership based on race have been removed from our code." To justify this position the paper used quotes from the Jewish Talmud, Shabbat, 31a, the Christian Bible, Matt 7:12, the Buddhist Udana- Varga 5,18, the Confucian Analects 15,23, and the Islamic Sunnah.

Ignored were the commands of Jesus: "Come out from among them, and be ye separate." 2 Cor 6:17, "For thou didst separate them from all the people of the world to be thine inheritance." 1 Ki 8:51, "When they had heard the law, they separated from Israel all the mixed multitudes." Neh 13:3, "Separate yourselves from the people of the land, and from the strange wives." Ezra 10:11

The only religion that accepts all religions and quotes all religions is the Hindu religion. Hinduism is a trade religion. Anyone with the price of admission, or anyone who promotes business, is honored - anything opposed is condemned. King Asoka, the great missionary prophet of the Hindus-Buddhists said, "One shall not condemn another religion or race by word or deed." This is the Hindu "Dharma" position. The North Carolina Masons statement is pure "Dharma". The paper quoted all religions to support their new position. "Ye shall know them by their fruits." Matt 7:16 Their words indicate that the N.C. Masons are just another tight Hindu business organization. By no stretch of the imagination do they fit the description of Christian, Islamic, or Jewish "Separatists" religions.

DESCENT: "Spanish & Portuguese historians - both Jewish and non- Jewish - have accepted the strong tradition that the Sephardim, or 'Spanish Jews' are Judahites. ... Ancestors of these Sephardim who migrated to the Peninsula during the period following the destruction of the first Temple; some of them possibly as early as the time of Solomon." (From Bible Research Handbook, copied from ACP.)

RKH: This argument is used to justify the inclusion of today's Jews into the modern day nation of Saxon-Israel. It is a false argument. It neglects to say "which" Jews are being discussed - the Edomite "Herod type" illegally brought into Palestine by King Hyracanus, or the Israelite adamite type of the rest of the nation represented by Jesus Christ and his followers. The Edomite type were mostly Sadducees who gave lip service to the WORD but obeyed the king. They were ecumenical and had no restrictions against "racial intermarriage" (or anything else) and quickly blasphemed. The scripture teaches "The WORD was God." John 1:1, and God said; "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." De 23:2 Spanish Jews have freely married with Ashkanazi Jews living in Russia. These Ashkanazi are Khazar Turks who have converted to Judaism in the relatively recent past. (Others converted to "Christianity"). Turks are mixed-breeds. This makes the Spanish Jews double mamêrs, and thereby excluded from Saxon-Israel by Deut 23:2.

GRAHAM CRACKERS: "The Rev. Billy Graham expanded this week on comments he made concerning interracial marriages in the November Life magazine. 'I don't see anything Biblically wrong with interracial marriage.' the evangelist told the Charlotte Observer. 'There is nothing in the Bible to forbid it.' Graham also reminisced about his friendship with Dr. Martin Luther King, recounting a conversation they had on the subject. 'I asked ... whether he would let one of his daughters marry a white man. He said: 'No, I would not. I have to think in terms of the children.' And I think that's my position." Atlanta Journal Nov 2, 1994

RKH: The Bible condemns racial intermarriage more than almost anything else. "Integration" is the opposite of "separation." Sheep must have separation to exist. "Integration" causes sheep to end up inside the wolf. When a wolf breeds with a sheep - the result is not half and half - the result is one more "wolf." "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord." Deut 23:2

TWO GODS: Hillary Rodham Clinton went to Jerusalem's Wailing Wall, built by King Herod the Edomite-Jew who murdered the Israelite children. She tucked a note into a crack in the wall in the ancient Jewish tradition. (Story In The Atlanta Constitution Oct 28, 1994)⁹

COURAGEOUS TEEN-AGERS: The real world of

teens is much brighter than the nightly news will ever tell. Last year's Who's Who Among American High School Students polled revealed 74% declaring themselves virgins. In the 1992 PRIDE National Drug Survey, 81% of students do NOT abuse alcohol. Cocaine abuse was below 1%. Over 3 million young people prayed around the flag poles last fall." Tall City Evangel 2/94, Midland, TX, Witness, Lubbock, TX 4/94.¹⁰ "Let the Hebrews marry ... virgins ... and no ... harlot, whose matrimonial oblations, arising from the prostitution of her body, God will not receive." Antiq 4:8:23 PUNISHMENT: Christendom has two principal punishments - reparations if possible, if not - death. Christian-Hindus are reluctant to put people to death because it interferes with "karma" and re- incarnation, so they imprison them. Prison punishments in America are now - Murder - 1.8 years, Rape - 60 days, Robbery - 23 days, Arson - 13 days, Assault - 7 days, Burglary - 6 days, Car Theft - 4 days, Theft - 2 days. (Statistics in Your Window Into The Future, p. 7, Aug. 1994.

MIDWEST INDIANS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I relate to pioneers such as Lew Wetzel. In W. Central Minnesota lies a historical marker detailing the account of the Sioux Uprising and the savagery displayed by the Indians. One marker states that in one family the women were raped and she and their children were killed. A mile away is a marker titled "The Scalp Dance" which occurred when Sioux savages brought captured settlers to a field and brutally murdered them - making them an offering to their god Okee. Today, there is a movement by anti-whites to take down the monument." A. G. - Minnesota

EUROPE

MAFIA: "The Mafia controls up to a fifth of all commercial activity in Italy and made a profit of about US$66 billion worldwide in 1993 in business activities ranging from jeans to corporate finance, a new study says, according to a Reuter report. ... The study ... said the Mafia was gaining a foothold in businesses across Europe and the former Soviet Union. The study ... said the Mafia also controlled up to half of the financial holding companies in Italy, one-fifth of the construction industry, and a quarter of the distribution of agricultural products. ... money-lending the Mafia's fastest growing business, ... The report warned that the Mafia had teamed up with its Russian counterpart in several business ventures that earned billions of dollars last year in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet republics." IMPACT, p. 10, June/July 1994

GERMAN CRIME: "Foreigners are estimated to constitute only 8% of the German population, their contribution to crime has been analyzed by Federal police agencies (for 1990) as follows: Pickpockets 79%; Cocaine smugglers 51%; gang rape 44%; mugging 41.5%;. In Frankfurt/Main foreign youth crime reached a high of 67.7% of all crime committed." IMPACT, p. 29, June/July 1994

YELTSIN A CIA AGENT: "Boris Yeltsin came to power with the help of the American Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). In payback for this, he has been obliged to shape his policies to the advantage of the USA.

"This sensational news was revealed by the CIA to the Atlantic Monthly. Yeltsin's association with the CIA goes back many years, and it was because of this that the CIA were able to decode the secret codes used by the generals during the attempted coup in 1991. On their part, the CIA enabled Yeltsin, using the same code, to talk to the rebel generals and persuade them to give up the whole idea. Yeltsin's bravery - when he stood in that square in front of the Russian parliament in the face of the generals' tanks sent to enforce their authority - now appears to have been pure play-acting.

"The decoding of the rebels' code allowed the CIA to listen in on the conversations between the chairman of the KGB, Vladimir Kruchkov and Minister of Defense Dmitri Yazov. This was the key from which they learned who supported who, and so Yeltsin was able to gain control.

"It is generally accepted that this sensitive information, divulged by Seymour Hersch in the Atlantic Monthly, will help to undermine Yeltsin's position further." IMPACT, p. 17, June/July 1994

Orient

JAPAN BOUGHT: Retired intelligence officials and former diplomats said that the CIA gave money to the Liberal Democratic Party in the 1950s and '60s, according to the New York Times. The Liberal Democratic Party ended its 38 year one-party rule last year after a series of corruption cases, many involving secret cash contributions.

RKH: Many believe that the world's merchants rule the world through America's CIA who corrupt the leaders of foreign nations. Practically every Arab and 3rd world leader is believed to be on the pay roll. This includes the Soviet leaders, Saddam - whom the media admits was put into power by the CIA, Peries - the Jewish chief of state, and the most recent - Mandela, who has already received millions, and DeKlerk who has a retirement home in Spain. Whatever can be made grist for the merchant's mill is subject to their attentions.¹¹

CHINA: Chinese authorities have arrested 60 people accusing them of producing pornography. This is part of a national campaign against illicit material.

ORPHANAGE LEASE LIFTED

I received a frantic phone call from Mrs. Darleen Joubert. She has lost the lease to her orphanage and is frantically looking for other facilities.

It appears that the lease on which the orphanage was located is invalid. We had been assured that it was a "done deal." The fact that the orphanage itself existed made it appear that it was so, but apparently that is not the case. The land is occupied by a preacher who does with it pretty much as he likes. He agreed to the orphanage plan. However, the land is really owned by an Evangelical Christian organization that employs him and whose charter only permits certain activities. Its use as an orphanage is apparently not one of them. It's a legal thing.

11 (1) "A merchant shall hardly keep himself from doing wrong." Ecclesiasticus 26:29
 (2) "And the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her; for no man buyeth their merchandise any more." Rev 18:11

This changes the situation drastically. A going concern that has a track record of being able to care for a few children stands an excellent chance of being expanded into one caring for many. On the other hand, starting a new operation from scratch is something entirely different. Many men dreamed of flight. Millions were invested in their dreams, but the Wright Brothers had a workable model. Money invested with them paid off. It was the ancestor of the giant 747. Thirty-three years working with Wall Street has taught me that what is not operational is a dream. Dreams are for dreamers - but a going concern is required before one puts up hard earned money.

I am sorry for Mrs. Joubert and those who are working with her, who through no fault of their own have been dealt this blow. Above all, I am sorry for the needy children who are the ones who will suffer most. However, the need for a "security fence" and cottages for children will still be needed when once again a viable orphanage is in operation. When that time comes, I am sure America's Christians will want to do all they can to help.

In the meantime, your checks will be returned to you. Your self- sacrifice and loyalty to your kinsmen in S. Africa is appreciated. Incidentally, it was a substantial amount of money.
