Chapter 328

REPLACING THE ZIONIST

Anomalies

Five years ago it was observed that certain world business interests were building expensive houses in Australia, but had no immediate plans to move into them.

For the last two or three years Indian nationals appear regularly on national business TV in the position of corporate Chief Executive Officers - positions taking many years for others to achieve.

For the past ten years hotel-motel chains in America have been taken over by the Indian Patal Hindu caste almost to the exclusion of others.

For the past several years Indian nationals have begun to make a noticeable appearance in international banking.

Today, two or three international companies in Lynchburg now employ so many Indian engineers and managers that they are able to field soccer leagues whose teams play each other.

It is said that in business, politics, and religion nothing happens by accident. Let us see if we can uncover the answer to these seemingly disjointed anomalies.

Let's start with basics.

Gods

God's have Laws. The WORD is the Law of Christians. The WORD insists that its followers follow its Laws.

Like Gods, kings have laws. Kings insist on obedience to their laws.

One follows the WORD and risks the king's displeasure; or, follows the king's law to gain his blessing - thereby risking God's displeasure.

Christian followers of the WORD believe, "It is better to obey God than men." Acts 5:29.

Those who call themselves "Christian" but follow the king's laws believe that God the WORD has done away with his Commandments, which leaves the laws of the king supreme.

Christians have two very different Gods - the WORD, or, the king. They are different Gods.

Islam

Islam has two Gods.

One Islam God is separatist and radical. It severely impacts the trade of the international merchant.

The other Islam God really isn't Islam at all. It is Islam-Hindu - a merchant's religion that is relatively inoffensive, loving, universal, accepts everyone, and is warm and fuzzy.

Teaching The Cartel Religion

The International Trade Cartel (ITC) invests great sums of money and donates a great deal of media time proselyting their market areas with their Hindu trade religion. The essence of their teaching is that their customers must learn to "love everyone without regard to race, creed, or national origin". Customers who love everyone also love the international merchant. Then, the "loved" merchant can safely come and go and buy and sell in safety. Acceptance of the merchant's religion changes hostile local religions into universal, integrationist, loving, warm-and- fuzzy look-alikes of the Hindu.

There are two Islams; one is separatist and radical, a danger to the international Trade Cartel (ITC); the other is warm and fuzzy and welcomes the ITC with open arms. One represents Allah; the other calls itself "Islam" also, but is a different God who represents the International merchant.

Radical Islam Reborn

Before WWI, the Arab world absorbed numerous Turkic invaders. Most converted to Islam and in time most of the Near East learned to live under venal, corrupt rulers in a loosely defined conglomeration called the Ottoman Empire. A sleepy corrupt Muslim empire whose Islamic God was part Hindu.

WWI changed everything. Islamic Turks awoke to find that the lands of the former Ottoman Empire had been seized and carved into new trade areas called "countries" and whose appointed rulers were Western puppets.

A shocked Islam began to awake. This Islam wasn't the warm sleepy fuzzy Islam whose rulers and religious leaders were bought and paid for by the International merchant, it was the wild-eyed crazy Islam that Christian mothers at one time used to scare their children into obedience.

Revolts began to take place. The International merchant supplied money so that its appointed "warm and fuzzy" rulers could hire larger armies to keep the natives in line. Warm sleepy establishment Mullahs found themselves suddenly abandoned. Instead, crowds gathered around wild-eyed crazy Koran-spouting religious fanatics teaching the Koran on street corners.

This wild-eyed radical Islam affected trade. It had to be destroyed before it could dislocate the grip the "warm and fuzzy" religion of the International Trade Cartel had on the world of Islam.

Jujitsu

There is a school of martial arts called "jujitsu". Jujitsu teaches one to help an opponent to do what he is going to do anyway. When he lunges at you you seize his arm and pull him toward you while stepping aside. If he is tripped and falls he is then relatively defenseless.

Radical militant Islam was stirring. It needed someone to fight.

RABBIS MARCH

This AP photo shows a march of Rabbis in the Israeli state that highlights the division in Jewry over Zionism. Zionism is "separation" - those who wish to gather their people together in a reconstituted nation-state of their own. Zionist separation presents the same problems to the Cartel that other separatist movements do - but more so since international Jewry provides the manpower for the International Trade Cartel's "civil service." Who will the Cartel find to replace its departing Zionists?

Before WWII "Zionist separatists" in National Socialist Germany were trained by the German SS to become farmers to enable them to survive living in Palestinian kabuts. During WWII the leader of the Zionist Stern Gang attempted to unite by treaty the German and Zionist separatist causes against international British Cartel interests. Jews and Christians have irreconcilable differences but history shows that it is possible for them to work together to separate since it serves a common interest. The Cartel launched the "6-million" story years after WWII to try to break up this alliance.

Judaism

There are two kinds of Judaism.

One Judaism is nationalist, separatist, wild-eyed and radical.

The other Judaism is another Hindu look-alike of the International merchant's religion. Its supporters say that it is inoffensive, loving, universal and warm-and-fuzzy. This "Judaism" is the religion of choice of most Jews whose primary job is to act as the ITC's "civil service".

The world is presented with two kinds of Judaism: one is apparently separatist and radical; the other is apparently warm and fuzzy.

Radical Judaism

Many believe that radical Judaism was born when the Jewish rabbis from Byzantium converted the Khazarian nation in the 8th century.

The irreconcilable differences that exist between Babylonian Judaism and other religions were minor compared to the mountain of differences that resulted from Judaism passing through the Khazar filter. The nature of the Khazar Turk is not "warm-and- fuzzy" - neither is their religion.

Khazarian Nationalism

The Khazarian-Jews are causing trouble on the world stage and are using Talmudic Judaism to justify their excesses committed in the name of Khazarian nationalism¹. Their desire to reconstitute their ancient Khazarian state and punish those responsible for its destruction burns white-hot.

Far too many of them are using their hereditary caste job as the Cartel's civil service to advance the fortunes of Kazaria- Israel instead of quietly keeping Cartel trade flowing smoothly.

If the goals of Zionist Jews and the Jews of the International Trade Cartel conflict - one of the two must step down.

¹ In the Israeli state the Chief Rabbi is appointed by the state to bless the state and he does. This largely removes Judaism from Cartel hands.

Long-Term Planning

World trade is a cartel operation jealously guarded. If any of their world's market areas separate themselves from cooperating with this cartel - the problem must be corrected.

Radical Islamic separatists insist on having Islamic law rather than obeying the laws of their puppet kings. This is a problem.

The Radical Christendom of Christian patriots has been an ongoing problem.

Zionist nationalists appointed their own chief rabbi, selected their own radical rulers, and are using their clout as the Cartel's civil service to advance their own agenda rather than tending to Cartel business. Separatism from whatever quarter is always a problem.

Separatist nationalism based on religion cannot be reasoned with. In such cases the traditional Hindu solution is to create problems between separatists having irreconcilable differences and then let them destroy each other.

Leading To Destruction

It is a truism, "People are going to do what people are going to do." Kazarian nationalists long ago decided to recreate their ancient empire. Since this dream could not be stopped - it is my belief that the Cartel helped the Zionist effort in exchange for Kazarian nationalists' commitment to build their Zionist state right in the most illogical, unsafe place in the world - the middle of the lands of radical Islam.

Radical Judaism placed shoulder to shoulder with radical Islam seems to be a plan of which Machiavelli would have been proud. Zionist Jews invading Arab Palestine would drive Islam into a frenzy; add judicious Jewish abuse of Arabs and sooner or later Islam would burst forth against its tormentor - or tormentors. Then is the time for "jujitsu".

Islam's rage has landed her on the mat and her separatists are getting the stuffing kicked out of them by Cartel surrogates. As soon as radical Muslim separatism is eradicated - it will be time for radical Zionism. We may be watching the unfolding of a hundred-year-old plan.

Cutting The Lifeline

Rebellious Kazarian separatists, the Zionists, are now in the most exposed position one can imagine. Millions of rebellious nationalist Jews have been led by their cartel-appointed leaders into a little enclave in the midst of tens of millions of an equally nationalist Islamic enemy. Living in this cul-de-sac they exist on money, arms, armament, and reinforcements extorted from captive sheep governments.

If the Cartel really intends to dispose of the Zionist-separatist problem it would seem that very soon would be as good a time as any to cut the lifeline. But first -

Bad Press

It is Cartel policy to propagandize coming events before doing them.

At present, the Cartel media monopoly is not giving American Kazarian-Zionists "good press." The usual favorable headlines are followed by stories that can only be described as "bad press". Such things happen in a monopoly only when they are planned to happen.

In spite of what many may think, it is not an accident that every Christian patriot knows the true story of Gorden Kahl, Ruby Ridge, and the Branch Dividians. It is no accident that they know the real story of Kuwait, Iraq, Iran and Serbia. Who do they blame? Zionists!

The Towers is the latest. The Cartel press has allowed enough unanswered questions to slip under the curtain for this also to be added to the fire. We have been allowed to discover:

- * That the Mossad knew about the Towers attack before it took place.

- * That option traders made a killing by buying options before the event.

- * That almost everyone in the world knew that destruction was on the way - except our own government.

- * Christian patriots question "why so few casualties".

- * They question tearing separatist Afghanistan to pieces in searching for a bin Laden strawman. People now speculate on which country the US government will claim bin Laden escaped to as their excuse to demolish that separatist country also.

- * Noone in the Christian-Patriot movement is surprised to learn that "Silverstein Properties" had the Towers insured for $7.2 Billion.

- * Neither are they surprised that the comic strip Irv Rubin of the JDL was arrested for plotting to blow up a mosque.

- * The recent story of 100 to 150 Israeli spies arrested in America in the biggest spy bust in American history is pointed to as one more example of Zionist duplicity.

- * Then there are the recent pictures of Zionist atrocities - a Zionist shooting the little Arab boy while his father tries to cover him with his own body. These things have a cumulative effect and there was really no reason for the release of that picture.

* How about the recent (AP) story about attorneys suing "Menorah Gardens & Funeral Chapels" in West Palm Beach for digging up bodies and dumping them in the woods behind the cemetery to make way for new bodies. Pictures show Jewish burial shrouds and a Star of David (Zionist) next to finger bones. Not good.

* And then, the Village Voice has its say. This is anything but a conservative paper and they recently wrote a story on Jewish terrorists. According to them - the Arabs are just late learners. It talks about the Stern Gang, and the Irgun; about blowing up the King David Hotel leaving piles of British dead. It talks about almost all the Israeli leaders being former terrorists and what they did to win the title. It talks about the leader of the Stern Gang attempting to make a treaty with Germany to fight the British. Hey, this is the Village Voice!

Because of press releases, guess who may soon get the blame for all of today's problems? Guess who may well receive the blame for causing both the "Towers" and the resulting "Afghanistan"? One can safely say that the Cartel has not given the Zionists a good press recently.

The Unthinkable

If the Cartel plan is to solve Islamic and Zionist separatist problems by mutual destruction - the stage is set.

Time to cut the lifeline, anyone?

Kazaria's Own Plans

Setting enemies to destroy each other is an ancient ploy. It's traditional, and frankly - obvious. If amateurs can work it out, rest assured - others can, too.

As a life preserver, riverboat gamblers used to carry a derringer up their sleeve. The Israeli state is a gambling state. It too has a derringer. It's their biological, chemical and atomic arsenal - and from what we hear - it may be equal in quality and diversity to that of the United States.

Summary

Separatist Islam needs to be supplied with anti-tank and anti- aircraft weapons to become an overnight power capable of doing to the Israelis the same thing that the Afghanistan "freedom- fighters" did to the Russians. A cartel "go-ahead" is needed and these items will be supplied.

What about the Zionist state. Will she sit still and wait to be destroyed? I wouldn't count on it.

Five years ago it was observed that certain world business interests were building expensive houses in Australia, but had no immediate plans to move into them. That was five years ago. Was someone preparing a safe haven?

For the last two or three years Indian nationals appear regularly on national business TV as corporate Chief Executive Officers - a position that usually takes many years for others to achieve. Is someone looking for replacements for their departing "civil service"?

For the past ten years, hotel-motel chains in America have been taken over by the Indian Patal Hindu caste almost to the exclusion of all others. For the past several years Indian nationals have become noticeable in international banking. In Lynchburg, two or three of its international companies now employ so many Indian engineers and supervisors that they are able to field soccer leagues whose teams play each other.

Could it be that some of the Cartel's former employees became so nationalist and difficult that they are to be purged?

If Zionist, Islamic, and Christian separatists disappear from the face of the earth - the International Trade Cartel and those who work for it will remain and continue to do what they are doing.

If it is correct that in business, politics, and religion nothing happens by accident - then interesting days lie ahead.

LETTERS

SALADIN: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Saladin, According to Harper's Encyclopedia, was "a Turko-Egyptian general/ruler, son of a Kurdish soldier." Calling him a 'Turko-Egyptian' does not change his Caucasian genetic make-up."
G. A. - California

RKH: True, Saladin was a Caucasian, but not of Jacob. The Scriptures say; "O children of Israel ... you only have I known of all the families of the earth." Amos 3:1-2; "There are many nations ... all are his, and over all has he appointed spirits (Gods) to rule ... but over Israel ... he alone is their ruler." Jubilees 15:23; "He showed his WORD ... his statues and his judgments unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them." Ps 147:19-20.

I admire Saladin immensely, but he was not one of us.

Unfiltered News From The Mid East

ISRAELI PRIVATISING: Merrill Lynch said it received inquiries from Israeli and foreign investors about buying the government's 50.01% stake in Pezeq Israel Telecom phone company.

RKH: The Cartel-appointed rulers of the Israeli state treats its citizens the same as other Cartel-appointed governments treat theirs. Zionists had better get their heads on straight. True, Jews man the Cartel's civil service, but besides this, the Cartel looks on Jews like they look on everyone else - just labor, cannon fodder and human fertilizer.

RIGHT WING TERRORIST: Separatists from different nations have irreconcilable differences, but the Financial Times of Nov 9, 2001, p.4 made the connection in an article which stated that both Islam and "right-wing extremists" are linked with "Holocaust Denial". "Terrorist" is the Cartel euphemism for "separatist".

INFIDEL: The Cartel media accused Osama bin Laden of using a "dirty word" to describe Cartel-selected leaders of Arab nations - "infidels". "Christians" who work for the same Cartel and who refuse to accept the WORD as the final arbiter are also "Infidels". Each is a traitor to his own God.

ALGERIA BACKS U.S.: Algeria's appointed Cartel government supports the U.S. "anti-terror" campaign. Algeria's president asked the U.S. for military hardware, including night vision and light mobile equipment and possibly training to help the military-backed Algerian regime in its bloody decade-long campaign against its own Islamist separatists.

FRANCE: The French defense ministry revealed that its spies have been inside Afghanistan helping the anti-Taliban Northern Alliance since mid-1990s. The French have also kept track of Islamists coming from France who attended al-Qaeda training camps. Financial Times

RKH: This means that US intelligence also has known about the movements of Islamic religious nationalists and of France's 6 yr surrogate war against them in Afghanistan.

ISRAELI BOMB: A car bomb exploding in an Israeli suburb that caused no casualties was used as the excuse for Israeli negotiators to renege on Arab land hand-back promises. In spite of an official Israeli statement that the bomb was set by Arab terrorists, the question remains - who benefited?

GREEK ORTHODOX: Activists charge that the leader of Jerusalem's Greek Orthodox Church (GOC) has been selling and leasing hundreds of millions of dollars of church lands in Palestine to the Israelis. The land on which the Israeli parliament is built as well as surrounding neighborhoods is built on this leased land. It is charged that the church has not published accounts of its land transactions since 1967. The GOC in Jerusalem is governed under laws dating back to the Ottoman Empire. Under the status quo agreements, Israel as the power having control of Jerusalem, also has the power to approve or veto the accession as patriarch. The GOC claims that its right to lease this land is ancient.

RKH: It is important to note that the Queen, as head of the Anglican Church, owns most of Britain and leases land on which corporations and individuals build. In other parts of Europe the Catholic Church does the same. In India - the same. It is the writer's belief that episcopal churches, of whatever belief, are basically covers for business operations.

ZIMBABWE TARGETS OPPENHEIMERS: Blacks want Oppenheimers to give up 65,000 hectares of farmland.

RKH: After The War Between the States, Cartel land companies bought up millions of acres at bankruptcy sales to sell to European immigrants for top dollar. Blacks who ruled the occupied South wanted the South to become a Black Republic and they refused to allow white immigration. These separatist acts caused a major rift between the Cartel and the black rulers. The Cartel then backed the white effort to free themselves from black domination in exchange being allowed to keep the land they had gotten. Black Zimbabwean demands for Cartel land could be the start of another such rift. Take white farms - but don't take Cartel land.²

S. AFRICA IMMIGRATION: "The land of S. Africa was once White Saxon land that in time became a black land because of immigration. Whites were there 150 years before the blacks invaded from the north. In time for every white 5 blacks were born. Once the race ratio was 1 white for no blacks. Then 10 whites to one black. Then 3 whites to one black; then 3 blacks to 1 white, and now 10 blacks to 1 white. It was the Whites' fault. Cheap workers are a boon if you are a 'Spiritual-Canaanite.'" (CIM, PO Box 146, Cardwell QLD, AUSTRALIA 4849

S. AFRICA'S AIDS: "At least 52% of severely injured patients brought to the trauma/casualty section of the Johannesburg Hospital are HIV positive compared to the 1990 figure of 1/2 of 1%. Citizen, Aug 16, 2001

² Story In Vigilantes, POB 997, Lynchburg, VA 24505

STRIKE: South Africa's Black union, COSATU, vowed to start a two- day national strike against Privatization.

RKH: The ITC, finding it difficult to crack solid White private ownership, once again used natural Black anti-White enmity. They turned SA over to its Black inhabitants. Blacks were expected to be more agreeable to the transfer of public wealth to ITC coffers. The ITC mis-judged Black nationalism before when it bought up Southern plantations at post-war bargain prices and tried to import European buyers and sell them the land at top dollar. The American Southland's Black rulers would have no part of it. They wanted ALL Whites deported and the South turned into Black Republics. The ITC was forced to allow Southern Whites to return to power in exchange for their being allowed to keep their bargain land purchases. (See Vigilantes)

CHINA: The West's religious leaders quietly agreed to spread information about contraceptives to the Chinese. This has resulted in a 1995 census showing that never-married Chinese men outnumber their female counterparts nearly 2-to-1. Between the ages of 25 and 39, the ratio rises to 4-to-1. In raw figures, that translates into a surplus of 26 million single males 20 to 44 in China. The problem is expected to grow worse because of China's one-child policy that became effective in 1979 has resulted in selective abortion. Chapter 329

THE EMPIRE Educates Its Subjects Part I

My First Yankee

I was seven years old when I saw my first Yankee. I already knew about Yankees. They had been here and had left their mark before I was born. Someone on the playground told me that a Yankee was in school and I went to look. He was a Yankee - you could tell by the way he talked.

Coaches

Growing up near Culpeperwe played "Yankees and Rebels" the same way boys elsewhere played "Cowboys and

Dick Hoskins - Age 7

Indians." Nobody wanted to be a Yankee. We tried to get the one at school to come play being a Yankee, but he wouldn't. So we drew straws. Everyone took turns being Yankees. We played in the barn and the outbuildings behind Granddaddy's house. Mostly we played in the coaches.

The coaches came from Granddaddy's livery stable. Granddaddy ran several businesses.

He had to support seven children. One of the businesses was a livery stable. When the automobile appeared, people paid granddaddy to take their family coaches so they could make room for the new automobiles in the garages.

Granddaddy took the coaches and parked them behind his barn. There were a lot of them. Some were 200 years old and had brass lamps. Some had windows you rolled up and down and seats that folded out of sight in the floor. The walls and ceiling of some were red and green velvet. Others were crafted leather. There were compartments that held bottles and glasses. Some just held empty boxes that I guess once held lunches or papers. There were trap doors in the roof you could climb through and trunks in back just like cars today - but these had secret doors to get into the inside. They were great.

We played "Stuart's cavalry" and "Mosby's Rangers". We captured Yankee wagon trains every chance we got - after chores, that is. I rode my pony Dolly bareback, shooting under her neck like Indians did in the 10¢ cowboy movie on Saturday. Dolly let me ride her but she threw everyone else. She even threw my Uncle Thompson, and he was a big man - reared up and tried to fall on top of him. Everybody was afraid of Dolly. I don't like to say it because Dolly was my friend, but she was mean. She'd bite you. She bit me in the rear-end once when I was ready to jump up on her back.

We would attack the wagon train, dismount, and the battle was on as we fought from coach to coach. We played the same game over and over. In time the coaches looked the worse for wear, but no one cared. Nobody used them and they weren't good for anything. "Yankees and Rebels" was the game we played.

Variations

"Burning the bridge" was a variation. The Yankees burned the covered bridge over Mountain Run at the bottom of the hill. We went down there and pretended to fight the bridge burners. Sometime we would go to the "ruins" on out the Sperryville Turnpike and fight houseburners. We would catch Yankees burning a house and kill them. That was neat because there were basements where houses used to be and icehouses and covered springs to hide in. Great for ambush.

We played "Custer". This is the same Custer later killed by the Indians. The Custer we knew captured Southern soldiers and hanged them. He didn't stop until Col. Mosby hanged his men in return. This got rough so we stopped playing this game.

Five hundred yards up the turnpike was the cemetery. We fought among the gravestones, just like soldiers did during the War - the same gravestones, the same graveyard. Some said you could see places where bullets nicked the grave markers, but I never could find them.

Hundreds of Rebels were buried in a mass grave under a mound toward the back. The Yankees were buried in a government cemetery on the other side of the railroad tracks in town. Nobody ever went over there. That was the same cemetery where, not too long ago, Commander Lincoln Rockwell's friends tried to have him buried, but the government wouldn't let them, even though he was a decorated veteran and entitled to be buried there.

Beyond the Sperryville Turnpike cemetery were trenches and field artillery emplacements that were never actually used in battle. The artillery emplacements were no good for forts to play in because they were too far apart and open in back so guns could be rolled in and out. A good fort didn't have one side open.

Uncle Alex, Uncle Thompson and Russell King took me bass fishing at Snakecastle below Kelly's Ford where our family used to live. We drove through Kellyville to cross the ford. Kellyville was just a name, it wasn't really there. The houses were gone. They had all been shot to pieces in the battles fought at the ford, or burned down by the Yankees later. It wasn't even a ghost town. Just a lot of empty basements. And graves - lots of graves.

Uncle Thompson told me about the time the Yankees came and dug open the burial trenches to take dead Yankees away to Arlington and Culpeper. There were hundreds of bodies, head to foot, layer on layer. Some buried at the bottom still had their hair and mustaches and you could see what they looked like.

Uncle Thompson told me how Maj. John Pelham, commanding Stuart's Horse Artillery, had been mortally wounded near the Ford in a cavalry charge. I always pictured him charging down the hill above the Ford, but last year some friends took me to a place near a stone wall a half mile up the river where he was wounded. They took him to Culpeper and he died in a house across the street from Granddaddy's furniture store. I used to look up at the room he died in on the way to school.

And there was the nice captain from S. Carolina who visited our family. He had been shot in the groin and died three agonizing days later in the Church-hospital at the top of the hill on the other side of the river.

On a little knoll to the east a colored fellow had his arm cut off. His cross cut saw bit into the fuse of an unexploded shell and it went off. The saw whipped back and cut his arm off just below the elbow. In the same field, a plow turned up a silver candlestick that had been buried to hide it from the Yankees.

While a cadet at Fishburne Military School I went to a dance at Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg. After the dance I hitchhiked back to school and my ride dropped me off in the middle of the Wilderness in the middle of the night.

The Wilderness is that vast stretch of woods where the battle was fought. No cars or lights for miles and miles. Pitch dark and cold. Thousands of men died in the Wilderness. You could almost hear them talking in the wind that moaned through the trees. Somewhere in there lies the unburied body of my uncle, Captain Charles Booker. He was 20.

I didn't catch a ride until morning.

In my livingroom today I have my Uncle Cap Thompson's war chest which he used to carry spare pistols, ammunition, shaving equipment, a spare shirt and socks. In my dining room I've got the table from Chestnut Lawn where my two Payne uncles, members of the Fauquier Black Horse, were sitting eating when the Yankees broke down the front door. One of the patched holes in the table is supposed to have come from a bullet fired in the fight as my uncles hastily climbed out the back window.

Lynchburg

Daddy was a doctor. He moved to Lynchburg to practice with Uncle Pres. In Lynchburg it was just like Culpeper as far as the War was concerned. We played in the trenches in the woods at Monkeyville where Seven Pines now stands.

The road we live on today runs into Old Forest Road. A battle was fought at the junction not far from the house when Hunter tried to flank the Lynchburg defenses. Lots of men died there, but there are so many places like that around that no one has bothered to put up another marker. We found a live Parrot shell in our back yard. We buried it again to keep the same thing that happened to the colored fellow at Kelly's Ford from happening to some child around here who might want to play with it.

Down the road about 400 yards from McDonalds is Locust Thicket. The living room floor is scorched. Hunter's men piled kindling in a corner and set it on fire. General Early's men arrived just in time, killed them, and threw the burning brands out the window and saved the house. But the floor is scorched.

I went to Garland-Rodes school named for two of Lynchburg's boy generals killed in the war. In a display case next to the principal's office was the bullet that killed General Garland. He is buried in the Presbyterian Cemetery with scores and scores of others of our boys - 2nd Virginia Cavalry, 10th Virginia Infantry, Latham's Battery - Lynchburg's militias.

His gravestone reads;

"He was an only son and his mother was a widow."

The three thousand Southern boys buried in the Lynchburg City Cemetery have markers bought with the pennies given by the Daughters of the Confederacy. The stones list their initials (they couldn't afford the entire name), regiment, and state each was from. Many came a long way to die.

Walking downtown from E.C.Glass High School I passed the house where the boy from Texas died. He was 16. He had been wounded and sent to a Lynchburg hospital to recover.

He was walking down the street when his wound opened. A young lady was playing the piano and the French window to the parlor where she was playing was open - the tall windows that go from ceiling to floor. He walked in, sat down while she was playing, and died listening to her play. Finished, the young girl turned and discovered his body.

Invironment

What to me was normal interest in my everyday surroundings was interpreted by the new Yankee teachers hired by Lynchburg's school system as "obsession". Everytime they would teach something that I knew wasn't so, I'd raise my hand. They didn't like being corrected by a kid.

They said that the South was wrong, General Lee was wrong, the South got what it deserved, and that the reason the South was so poor was because we wouldn't get out and work. They told us that the way we spoke was wrong.

My mother said that the teacher was wrong. Our speech was the King's English. It was good enough for George Washington and General Lee and should be good enough for the rest of us. Parents at my school would punish their kids for coming home talking like Yankees.

Senseless

The time came when the excitement of reading and studying the War grew stale. I sickened of killing. The slaughterpens of Gettysburg, Sharpsburg, Malvern Hill. In every battle it seems I lost family members.

It was all senseless.

Renewed Interest

Time passed. The Korean War, law school, Wall Street, and the Berlin call-up - each new experience furnished me with information that caused me to doubt my conclusion that the War Between the States was senseless. If what I was being taught was true - war is not an end in itself, but a means to an end.

It began to dawn that the ghosts I had grown up with - the cold, brutal Sheridan, Sherman, Custer, Grant, Lincoln, and Stanton - these devils out of the past - knew exactly what they were doing and were doing exactly what they were told to do.

If this was so, it was also true that Roosevelt, Bush Sr., Clinton, Bush Jr. and his man Rumsfeld all know exactly what they are doing and are doing exactly what they are told to do.

War and its "collateral damage" is not senseless. It is a well thought out plan the cartel uses to transfer wealth from its victims to itself.

Letter From S. Africa by H.J.

Dear Mr. Hoskins: The Chief Secretary of our HNP political party had to appear before the S.A. Human Rights Commission. A colored reporter of the ANC complained that his rights were violated when he was not allowed to attend the HNP yearly congress. All these years the media ignored us. This reporter only wanted to cause trouble. The HNP stands by the "right of free association", and this reporter is not an Afrikaner.

The National Party joined the ANC, leaving only the Jewish Democratic Party. There is no one else left to defend our heritage. We long for the day when we will be a free nation again.

Town complexes are built to protect our people - wall, wire, and guards. The black guard at the gate is the one who is accused of killing Marike, the former wife of F.W. de Klerk. She was murdered in the most gruesome way in the penthouse of a "safe" complex in the Cape. The gate guard confessed, but we feel that there is more to it than robbery. As the divorced former wife of the president, the one who betrayed S. Africa, she must have known many things!

There is hardly any corn or wheat. The latter disappeared after heavy rains and hail in the Free State. All the black states around us are already complaining about a food shortage.

Robert Mugabe of Zimbabwe's crackdown on "terrorists" is a crackdown on anyone who did not vote for him in the last election. He had all the leaders of the opposition imprisoned and intimidated the rest. This is African democracy. Blacks have one ruler and that ruler can do just as he pleases. They never allow opposition parties and only their own tribe counts. That is one reason why they will never have any peace.

Siener van Rensburg, the 1900 mystic, saw them fighting against each other towards the end. This might be the Zulus and Xhosas. At the moment they are great friends. Wonder how long that will last. It never lasted long in the past.

We had a bad storm last week that knocked out our alarm system. We engaged a black security agency, "Mapago", to protect our place. When they go after a thief they go right into black areas where no white will go, and without notifying the police, they find the thief they are looking for and give him a good hiding. Blacks really fear them.

The thing that upsets me the most are the morals of whites. In my wildest dreams I never thought that so many whites would lose respect for right and wrong in such a short time, and mostly they are not the poor people.

The Bible says that the falling away of Churches must first come. As far as I can see except for only two small groups, that is what is happening here. I almost feel sorry for those souls who still faithfully support the church of their fathers in spite of what those churches are doing to our people and our country. I suppose it is soothing just to hear about "love" - although the love they hear about is not love for fellow whites.

One black headman sold a whole forest of yellow-wood trees. These trees are so expensive that formerly only a few were cut each year and sold at very high prices. R15,000 is all he got for the lot.

The value of the S. African rand lost half its value in the last four months.

The rapes continue and black babies only a few months old are primary victims - although no one is safe. Blacks believe that sex with children prevents AIDS.

LETTERS

COOPERATION: "Dear Dick; HR 328 brought to mind the appearance of numerous Hindu appearing people in high corporate positions. The late Ivor Benson in 1991 mentioned a comment from an Islamic newspaper by a prominent Islamic intellectual, suggesting that a solution the the ITC situation could only come through some sort of alliance or understanding between separatist Christians and Muslims to defeat a common enemy." K.T. - Pennsylvania

RKH: First, the Saxon must learn that the common enemy is the "integrationist" - the Hindu! For eons the Hindu has instigated separatist wars in order to sell to both sides, and buy the assets of the defeated at bargain prices.

BUSH SCOLDS: "Dear Richard: President Bush missed a good bet by just scolding Palestinians for trying to smuggle in a boat load of arms. Today, the US gives $2 billion a year to the Israelis to buy attack helicopters, fighter planes and tanks. If the US were also to give $2 billion a year to Arabs to buy anti-aircraft missiles, anti-tank rockets and anti-tank guns from our defense industry, we could keep the Israeli-Arab war going indefinitely. The Israelis would get their attack weapons, the Arabs would get their defense weapons, and we would manufacture and sell to both sides. Everyone would be happy. The Jews and Arabs will busily fight for peace, and defense industry would boom, keeping America's economy healthy for much of the century." R.R. - N. Dakota

DECLARATION OF WAR

giance to the Zionist flag. Regardless of intent - that is the perception. In politics, these things are seldom accidental. In my opinion the picture was posed and purposely sent to the world of Islam.

Muslims, world wide, will doubtless perceive the message as a "Declaration of War" - an ongoing, everlasting "Christian" Crusade against Islam. It is almost certain to be looked upon as a notice that the US is the protector of the Israeli state regardless of what it has done, is doing, or might do in the future.

The Universal-Hindu Merchant has long pitted separatists against each other. Another hundred-year war between Islam and Christendom would grind both down and the Hindu would inherit the remainder.

UNFILTERED NEWS

PROFILING: "The Society of Professional Journalists seems determined to prove that bias and political correctness aren't dead yet. The new guidelines for covering the war (spi.org/diversity_profiling.asp) tell journalists that 'When writing about terrorism, remember to include white supremacists, radical anti-abortionists and other groups with a history of such activity.' No need to mention terrorists environmentalists like the Unabomber or Earth First, or terrorist leftist groups like the Weathermen, however." (Dave Kopel can be reached at (davekopel@opinion.RockyMountainNews.com)

FARMERS: Don't forget that in the '80s, the Cartel media branded America's farmers - "terrorists". The cartel wanted their land. They now brand Christian Patriots "terrorists" because they believe Christians should follow the WORD even if it means disobeying Caesar.

"FINAL CALL", the black newspaper, expresses concern that black separatist leaders will be the ultimate target of the present administration. They used the example of the black leader, Marcus Garvey.

The FBI went after Marcus Garvey at the height of his power. Garvey pledged to take blacks back to Africa. Millions of dues-paying blacks joined his organization. A black tent city grew at Newport News awaiting transportation. Garvey bought surplus WWI Liberty Ships to transport them. Government agents raided one of the ships and "discovered" a case of contraband liquor. This was the excuse used to put Garvey in prison and destroy his organization - which prevented cheap black labor from leaving America.

NOTRE DAME named Tyrone Willingham as its first African-American football coach. God the WORD, which is our Law, rules, "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deut 17:15. A football coach definitely rules over his players. Notre Dame is a religious school. Religions are either universalist-integrationist or separatist-Lawful. One or the other. "By their acts ye shall know them."

JURY STACKING: Lemrick Newlson Jr, 27, and Charles Price, 47 were found guilty of civil rights violations in stabbing to death a Hasidic Jew during the '91 Crown Heights riots in NY City. A federal appeals court discarded the convictions of the two blacks ruling that the federal judge in the original trial had influenced the jury make-up to include more Jews.

Byron de la Beckwith, and many other kinsmen, were railroaded by stacking juries with strangers who have no Law concept. "He showed his word... his statutes and his judgments unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them." Ps 147:19-20

NEXT STEP: According to Long Island Univ criminologist Harvey Kushner, lone wolves "could be ... domestic terrorists such as political extremists and racists." Leonard Weinberg of the Univ of Nevada points to Eric Rudolph, "He has a coherent, right-wing agenda." Other lone wolves "have anti-Semitic and racial agendas." (Story in Investors Business Daily p.7, Jan 10, 2002.)

RKH: Christians are separatists because their God ordered them to be separatists. They did not choose their God, their God chose them: "The Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto Himself, above all the people that are upon the face of the earth." Deut 7:6. "Ye have not chosen me but I have chosen you." John 15:16. He also told them, "If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15.

MILOSEVIC ON TRIAL: "Milosevic stood tall before the kangaroo court in The Hague. Last week Mr. Milosevic accused the prosecutor of bias and asked that NATO stooge Carla DelPonte disqualify herself. Tiring of the incessant reading of poorly drawn up documents, the former president told his tormentors: 'Don't bother me and make me listen for hours on end to the reading of texts written at the intellectual level of a 7-year old child - rather, I correct myself - a retarded 7-year old child.' All who fight the globalist menace should be encouraged by Milosevic's one man battle. They can kill and imprison people, but they can't kill the power of the ideas of nationalism and national self-determination." NY Third Positionist, Kenneth J. Schmidt. Dec 2001.

AIDS IN INDIANA: In Indiana, the rate of AIDS infection per 100,000 population is as follows: White 80.3; Black 438.6; Hispanic 132.4. (Indianapolis Star, Nov 1, 2001, p.13)

RKH: Sodomites and integrationists are potential "disease factories".

DNA ANTHRAX: Mayo Clinic officials unveiled a test for anthrax that uses DNA testing to reveal exposure within an hour, instead of days. (Financial Times, Nov 6, 2001, p.2)

RKH: It should take no longer than this for a DNA test to identify aliens in Saxon disguise.

CLINTON BARRED: The Supreme Court suspended former President Clinton from practicing law in cases that come before that court.

COVER-UP?: We hear about "Foot & Mouth" disease in cattle, but "Para-T"? Irish researchers computed that 40% of dairy cattle kept in confinement have Para-T. Para-T is passed on to milk drinkers. When this grows in the human host Crohn's Disease can result. If Para-T can be linked with irritable bowel syndrome, then the 40 million Americans with this syndrome and/or Crohn's seems a high price to pay for the inhumane maintenance of dairy animals whose cure seems to be fresh grass. (Story In Acres USA, Sept 2001, p. 31, POB 91299, Austin, Texas 78709, 512-892-4400, $27/yr)

MIDEAST: "An investigation by Time magazine reveals that Israel's rules of engagement permit soldiers regularly to shoot at children, even those armed only with stones. Medical officials estimate that 40% of the Palestinian dead in Gaza in the latest violence were under 18. The Zionist-controlled media likes to emphasize that the Israeli soldiers use harmless rubber bullets. Not so. They are metal balls about a half inch in diameter and as heavy as a wristwatch in a thin coat of rubber. They easily penetrate the skull and kill as easily as any other bullet. (Time, 12/18/00. Copied from The WITNESS.)

CLINTON'S MIDEAST PLAN: The 3.6 million stateless Palestinians found that Clinton's plan for them to give up all "right of return to their homes in Israeli occupied "Palestine" in exchange for a Palestinian state on former Jordanian soil too high a price to pay. The Israelis suggested that the Arabs who did not want to take part in the solution could immigrate to Saxon lands in the west.

PEARLS: A German consortium is developing a magnetic levitation railway and has won a contract to build a high-speed link between Shanghai airport and the city center. The Transrapid "maglev" technology uses a friction-free magnetic field to allow trains to travel at up to 450km an hour. (Financial Times, Jan 22, 01, p.16)

RKH: "God is a ... revealer of secrets." Daniel 2:47; "The Lord possessed me (wisdom) in the beginning." Prov 8:22; "I (wisdom of God) find out knowledge of witty inventions." Pr 8:12; "Give not that which is holy (that which is of God) unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they ... turn again and rend you." Matt 7:6; "Thou shall no stranger eat of the holy thing." Lev 22:10

PARKS: One of Clinton's last acts as president is to federalize more than 1 million acres from private owners into 6 national monuments. Nationalists assume that this is being done in preparation to privatising the land to cartel interests at a future date along with other national parks and military bases.

MEXICAN FRIENDS: On March 14, 2000, two Mexican army troop carriers carrying about 16 armed soldiers drove across the U.S. border into Santa Teresa, New Mexico, and pursued a well-marked Border Patrol vehicle. The lead Mexican army vehicle was eventually apprehended by other Border Patrol units. The other troop-carrier pursued a Border Patrol agent on horseback and shot at him. The Mexican soldiers then dismounted from their vehicle, fired on another Border Patrol agent and chased still another before fleeing back to Mexico.

The incident is but one of hundreds of reported incursions in recent years. The escalating friction between Mexico and the U.S. attracted little media attention. (National Liberty Journal, Feb 1, 2001)

Chapter 330

THE EMPIRE Educates Its Subjects Part II

CONDUCTING WAR

Growing up in the ruins left by the War Between The States was different. Non-Southerners don't understand because cartel history has been sanitized and the shocking, unprintable events censored, but desktop printing and internet are changing that. What happened to the South is a cookie-cutter example of what happened later to the Afrikaaner Republics, Russia and Germany. Change the locale and the victims and you find that the cartel, with minor variations, does business in the same way.

War is business. When the cartel cannot get what it wants by its usury banking system they will take it by war. If one understands the Southern experience he will understand the Boer War, the recent DeKlerk-Ian Smith Betrayal, the Russian Revolution, and the German WWI and WWII experiences. The South was merely today's first.

The understanding of what the enemy has done, is doing, and intends to do allows one to build defenses. After we are able to defend ourselves we will then be able to do to those the things they have done to us - double.¹

War Is Business

The first lesson to be learned is that terror, looting, destruction, starvation, summary executions, and atrocities against civilians are how the Cartel does business - and it's a business run by plan. The Union army was its hammer used to crush the Southland. Destroying self-sufficient (SSF) farms allowed hundreds of thousands of formerly independent farms to be gathered into the corporation empire.

To digest the wealth of the South required that the South first be destroyed. This is why the Union armies marched under clouds of smoke. They were like locusts descending on a farmer's fields. Houses, barns, mills, and villages went up in smoke. Personal belongings, household furnishings, portable wealth such as tobacco, cotton, and livestock were carted off in endless trains of wagons. Cattle, sheep and horses were gathered into vast herds and driven to markets, or had their throats slashed and left to rot. No one recalls of hearing of perpetrators being punished for their actions. Instead, the generals responsible for the holocaust received honor after honor. It was business.

Immediate profit came from the gargantuan load of loot swept from the occupied countryside. Wealth that had been gathered for over 250 years poured into Washington's auction houses which were open 24 hours a day. They disposed of the never ended wagon trains arriving overland from the Virginia countryside and the shipload after shipload of booty that arrived from all over the South to be offloaded onto Potomac docks. Ship's cargo and wagon loads were auctioned uninspected and sight-unseen as fast they arrived as supply overwhelmed demand and room had to be made for more - and still more.

The demand for "things" built up during the great 1850s depression in the North was satisfied overnight with Southern belongings. War contracts supplied the rest. The cartel in the end took the "big haul" which was land, foreign trade agreements, tax-tribute and slaves.

The carnage left a Southern desert, but Cartel merchants thought it worth the cost - as they always do.

Lynchburg Before The War

Lynchburg had a winter social-season population of about 9,000. This number dropped to half that when the planters and their families moved back to their farms for the spring growing season.

For years, Lynchburg had been the largest dark leaf tobacco market in the world. Farmers brought their tobacco from miles around, had it inspected, and sold it in the warehouses where it was sent by canal boat and train to final destinations. Tobacco was a primary reason for Lynchburg's existence, and it was a profitable one.

Surviving The War

Lynchburg's continued existence was a near thing. General Early arrived at the last minute to save the city from being burned. Hunter had started his assault on Lynchburg's defenses manned by the boy soldier-cadets from VMI and the walking wounded from Lynchburg's hospitals. Actually, some weren't walking wounded - they had to be carried to the trenches in wagons and on stretchers. They couldn't walk, but they could shoot.

The Sandusky Party

Hunter delayed his assault on Lynchburg two or three hours at the critical moment. It wasn't an accident. One of our Virginia belles learned that Lynchburg needed a couple of hours to prepare for Hunter's attack. To gain the time she gave a party for the conquering Union heroes at "Sandusky" her home just outside of town.

While the party was in progress, Hunter's chief of artillery, Col. DuPont,² unlimbered his guns on the driveway to the house, now called Sandusky Drive where my wife's mother used to live, and commenced shelling the town. The crash of cannon lent a martial air to the gaiety and laughter of the party.

While Hunter and his staff were at the party, Lynchburg's civilian population located an old locomotive whistle. They blew it just like locomotives do and people stood on tops of buildings and on hilltops and cheered just like they would be expected to do if they were welcoming Gen. Early and his men who were expected to arrive by canal boat and train momentarily. Until he arrived, Lynchburg's fate hung in the balance.

Hunter's scouts heard the train whistle, again and again, and the cheering that following the whistle. They reported to their general that train after train of Rebel reinforcements had arrived in town.

Hunter became cautious. His window of opportunity had closed at the Sandusky party. That party undoubtedly saved the Sandusky house as well as Lynchburg. I don't know of many old houses besides Sandusky, Locust Thicket, and Thomas Jefferson's Poplar Forest that Hunter didn't burn on his march to Lynchburg. He burned everything he could including part of Lexington, Liberty City, the Valley and just about everything else he could get his hands on.

After a day of indecisive fighting Hunter retired through the blackened countryside - a retreat that turned into a rout once Jubal Early actually arrived and got after him.

Because of a train whistle, hospital walking wounded, a handful of VMI cadets, a patriotic Virginia belle, and everyone working together - Lynchburg survived the war. It was a near thing. Richmond, Atlanta, Charleston and countless other places weren't so fortunate.

Emancipation-Proclamation

Lincoln's freeing the slaves is today looked upon as the best thing since cotton-candy. It wasn't always looked on that way.

Repatriation-Abolition was supported in the North as well as the South. Free the slaves, train them, set them up on farms in Africa. That was the plan. When Lincoln freed the slaves, he kept them here because he had other plans for them after the war.

I have read that because of his proclamation, over 50,000 Union soldiers deserted. Many went home in disgust and many came South and joined the Southern army. "Big-Yankee-Ames" from the 5th New York Cavalry was one of them. He gave Lincoln's Emancipation-Proclamation as the reason. He joined Mosby's Rangers in Northern Virginia and raised cain with the very outfit that he once fought with.³ I remember sitting by the fire on cold winter nights as the family talked about his exploits.

Copperheads

When I was growing up I really thought that Yankees were devils - just as many S. Africans still think that their British conquerors are devils and many Germans think that their ³ Keeping "cheap labor" is the usual reason given for Lincoln preventing blacks from returning to Africa, but there was a bigger reason which we will discuss in the next HR.

American - British - Russian conquerors are devils. War does that. My opinion of Yankees began to change when my Aunt Harriet married one. I didn't understand it. If they were so bad why was she marrying one. I went to their wedding when I was six or seven. Uncle Howard was a banker. He lived in Brownsville, Pennsylvania. His family had been "Copperheads".

A copperhead was a Northerner who didn't like Lincoln waging an undeclared war on the South and his trampling of the Constitution. They were called Copperheads because they cut the figure of "Liberty" from a copper penny and wore it on their lapels. There were lots of them. Copperheads weren't necessarily friends of the South - they just didn't like Lincoln and what he was doing. Actual battles between Copperhead militias and Lincoln forces took place in every Northern state. A lot of people sympathized with the Copperheads. While we were fighting Lincoln's army down South, Copperheads were fighting them too. I hadn't heard about that. I was told that there were many more Yankee Copperheads than Black Republicans in many places but the Black Republicans had the army behind them.

So, all Yankees weren't devils. If Copperheads didn't like Lincoln, and Uncle Howard's family were Copperheads - Copperhead Yankees must be OK, or Aunt Harriet wouldn't have married Uncle Howard.

My feeling of magnanimity grew when I heard stories about the times Yankee soldiers actually helped us. One of the stories was about Mr. Miller.

Mr. Miller

Mr. Miller was old and he was rich. He made his money in the stockmarket. He was the first person I ever heard of who made a lot of money in the stock market and he did this before the War. He took the money he made and built the Miller Home for Foundlings and he bought the "Fair Grounds" - renamed it "Miller Park" - and gave it to the Citizens of Lynchburg. Miller Park was where the 2nd Virginia mobilized to ride off to War in '61. He built a school for young boys near Charlottesville, and he did a lot of other things. He was known as a crotchety old geezer but he did a lot for the people of Lynchburg.

Like most others, he didn't trust banks or bankers and he kept his money hidden at home. Northern newspapers told their readers stories about how all Southerners had gotten rich from whipping and abusing slaves and they deserved to have their riches taken from them. This encouraged young men who didn't know better to enlist and go South. All a soldier had to do was to make a Southern farmer tell his captor where his money was hidden and he might become rich for life.

As a result of this media campaign, many a Virginia family-member lost fingers or had broken hands, arms, and heads, or were disfigured from branding irons. If you are into this sort of thing - some of the methods used to make farmers talk were ingenious - like turning them over a slow fire like a pig. Woe be the one who could not produce enough wealth to satisfy his captors.

While at Lynchburg, Union soldiers were tipped off that old man Miller had money, so they went to his house. Miller was not only crotchety but he was also hardheaded. When his inquisitors tired of using physical persuasion, one of them said he was going to blow his head off if he wouldn't tell where he had hidden his money.

Old man Miller told them, "go to hell!" He said he wasn't about to tell them where his money was hidden, that his money was worth a whole lot more than his life and to "go ahead and shoot!"

With that, the frustrated Yankee soldier raised his pistol and pulled the trigger, but a companion knocked his arm up and the pistol ball went into the ceiling. You used to be able to see the bullet hole.

If a Yankee had not saved old man Miller's life, he would have been murdered right there. Miller's savior wasn't a Copperhead, but we still remember his good deed.

Honorable Officers From Libby Prison

Saxons assume that other Saxons go by God's Commandments. God's Commandments are in the Bible. Many of these Commandments are elaborated upon by Josephus. Josephus was widely read back then. We carry his book in our catalog because our ancestors thought his writings were important enough to read. Josephus was a Bible scholar. His extensive knowledge of the Law is still quoted as an authority. This was especially true in the 19th century. In writing about Prisoners of War of one's own kind he wrote:

"Obed ... a prophet ... complained that they ... make captives out of their kinsmen ... to let them go home without doing them any harm ... So the ... men took the captives and let them go, and took care of them, and gave them provisions, and sent them away to their own country, without doing them any harm." Antiq 9:7:2

Parole was policy of both Union and Confederate armies - parole prisoners immediately after capture to avoid exposing them to the rigors of prison life. It was done in obedience to the WORD.

After the capture of Harper's Ferry, General Jackson paroled thousands of Yankee prisoners and sent them home. Arriving columns of Confederate troops passed columns of captured and paroled Federal troops departing for home. There were no guards. Both waved to each other in passing. That's the way you did things.

Lincoln stopped parole. This forced the South to establish prisons at Richmond. Belle Island was for enlisted men and Libby Prison for officers. Prison-life hardships were felt immediately and the mortality rate grew when medicines were declared contraband. Southern officials said that they would allow medicines to be sent directly to Yankee prisoners, but this offer was refused.

Union officers asked for and were given permission to go to President Lincoln to try to persuade him to reinstate parole. Failing that, to allow medicines to be sent to them. Lincoln turned down both requests.

Here's what I was leading up to: In obedience to their word- of-honor they had given their captors, they returned to prison and its hardships and the ever present possibility of death from sickness. Those Union officers were gentlemen. Lincoln was something else.

The Knapsack

Readers of Vigilantes Of Christendom are familiar with the knapsack story - how over 130 members of our family refuged to Kelly's Ford. While there the Yankees came and killed the flocks of chickens and turkeys and killed the livestock. They took what food they wanted and poured salt and molasses over the rest to make it inedible. They then marched off laughing and singing The Battle Hymn Of The Republic. That song irritates me to this day.⁴

One Yankee soldier remained behind. I've forgotten his name. He filled his knapsack with as much food as it would hold and left it for the family. It wasn't much for that many people, but it was the best he could do. It was a Christian act. We appreciated it. Still do. Most of you have read the rest of the story in Vigilantes, about what happened to him when he was captured and sent to Richmond, so I won't repeat it.

The Media Makes People That Way

A hard thing I had to learn was that Yankees are like everyone else - there are good ones and bad ones. It appears that most of the ones who came down here acted badly, really bad. What made them that way? It was the newspapers.

The Cartel owned the newspapers in all Northern population centers. Information that people needed to make decisions was first censored before it was reported in Cartel newspapers. People can only reason with information they have. Since censored news was all that people received, those who censored the news controlled the people who read and believed what they wrote.

If the invading soldiers believed that Southerners were as bad as the media said they were - it would explain their conduct. Yankee soldiers had no other information on which to base their opinions other than newspaper reports.

⁴ This song made me stop going to Thomas Road Baptist Church. I'll tell you that story one day. Actually, it was both this song and usury, but the song did it.

I learned about the importance of newspapers from the War Between the States. This is so important that I want to take a little time with that subject later

Lynchburg Was Rich After The War

After the War Lynchburg had more rich people per capita than any other "city" in the country. It's an interesting story.

The Union army had burned out many untaxed self-sufficient farms surrounding Lynchburg. As long as these farms were in existence they produced almost everything their inhabitants needed. SSF production shut out Cartel products. People would not buy from the Cartel things that they made themselves - or could get cheaply from a neighbor. The Self-Sufficient Farm was the Cartel's competition. Remove the SSF and the Cartel had a new market.

Destroy the SSF economy! Create a new market! This is why farms, mills and villages were burned. Once gone, the people had to buy from the Cartel things they once produced themselves. Our people needed clothes, tools, iron and grain products that had once come from the farm cottage industry and countless mills standing on every Virginia creek, river and run. But now, many were gone. War torn smoking Virginia was the land of opportunity - for the victor!

Lynchburg Town Becomes A City

Textile mills shut down in New England, throwing New England workers out of jobs, and rebuilt in Lynchburg. Near starving war-widows and their children poured in from the Virginia countryside to work 12 hour days for starvation wages in the mills, but at least they worked.

These workers bought their food at the company store, moved into company housing built for them on "Cotton Hill", and paid their rent to the company. The textile business boomed. Lynchburg had a near monopoly on textiles where earlier there had been shut-out competition from self-sufficient farms. Textile mill owners in Lynchburg got rich.

Steel mills and iron smelters opened to supply the demand once met by local smelters. Their owners got rich, too. Paper mills opened. Narrow gauge railroads were built into the sides of "No Business" and "Lock's Mountain" and the rest of the Blue Ridge. Centuries old virgin forests were stripped from the mountains wholesale and shipped to the mills, all over America and abroad. What earlier owners used only as needed, conquerors used up in a moment. The owners, living in Lynchburg and New York, got rich.

Cities

In a land where cities were unknown - cities mushroomed overnight. Sleepy trading towns become bustling manufacturing cities. Free men from self-sufficient farms who had traveled to town to trade and then go home now came to cities to live - to work and become wage-slaves. Their farms were deserted or were bought up by the Cartel.

Cities fabricate things - they are permanent establishments. They stockpile both raw materials and finished products. They provide housing for wage slaves who have none.

It had long been known that manganese ore was up the James at the village of Glasgow. Cartel interests bought the old mine and land around, laid off a town complete with lamplight, several impressive brick buildings, and a great hotel sitting on a hillside. With this done they sold lots advertised up North as building and business opportunities.

They did the same for Waynesboro and Big Lick which they renamed Roanoke. Both Glasgow and Waynesboro failed. Glasgow's mine ran out of ore and Waynesboro was in the middle of nowhere. But Roanoke investors got rich. From Big Lick with its three buildings to Roanoke with railroad terminals, repair shops and hundreds of thousands of support workers transformed pastures into a city overnight. It was quite amazing.

I remember exploring the old deserted hotel that sat on a hilltop overlooking Glasgow and seeing street lamps and imposing brick buildings all located in cow pastures. Glasgow had been by-passed, but the Cartel will come back when it finds something to harvest. Waynesboro, which died on the vine has now taken on new life with the discovery of relatively cheap labor. Unemployed farmers find work in New England's plants that relocated there - and New England workers go on the dole since their own farms have long since been taken by the Cartel.

Banks

In Lynchburg, those having collateral could build their own houses. The 1st National Bank was established in 1865 - says so right on front. Anyone who needed anything was welcome to come in and borrow - if they had collateral.⁵

Lynchburg had arrived. It was now the "City Of Lynchburg" presided over by a new class of millionaire managers - practically all of whom were Cartel servants.

⁵ "The borrower is slave to the lender." Prov. 22:7

Lynchburg had more millionaires than most any other city its size in the country. It was all the result of the War.

War is a money-maker!

Letter From S. Africa from KJ

In Zimbabwe, Mugabe is getting worse by the day. He kills members of the other party and does just what he wants. The white farmers must be out on the 6th or 7th of this month. All England does is to warn him every time he does something bad, and that does not scare him at all.

The shop shelves in Zimbabwe are about empty and every bit of food is very expensive. I see that the UN is flying food in, but Mugabe wants the food under his control so that those who vote for him might get some of it.

So far this year there is no sign of peace. Blacks in the Northern Province strip the white farmer's fields of produce. If you protect your land in court - you are accused of something. Black police just let criminals go and they lie, just as they did on the Cape border in those early years before the Great Trek. The judges believe every word the black police say.

We hope the situation is much better where you are.

Our best wishes. KJ

RKH: Jews are divided into nationalist Khazarean Jews who call themselves "Zionists", and caste Jews who work for the Cartel's civil service and call themselves by the name of their religion. All religions have two faces. The first is the true religion. The second is the same religion "re- interpreted" by Hindu theologians.

The first benefits the people whose religion it is. The second benefits the international merchant whose business must be conducted under the protection of a docile religion.

Jews have militant Talmud-Zionism and they also have their ITC world religion called Judaism. Christians have the WORD and mainstream Christianity, and there is true Islam and there is trade-Islam proclaimed by Cartel approved mullahs.

CHURCH SCANDAL: A Boston Globe investigation revealed that as many as 80 priests in Boston alone may be involved in sex-abuse scandals that could result in a massive wave of lawsuits. The financial exposure is enormous following as it does on the heels of a NM diocese that was nearly bankrupted by sex abuse suits.

Under attack is Cardinal Law who is accused of reassigning accused priests to new parishes after learning of accusations made against them.

Many Catholics now question Church rules. Pedophilia is prohibited, but, practiced by the priesthood and seemingly little is done to prevent it. For that matter canon law forbids usury but the Catholic Church owns usury banks.

The unthinkable is now thinkable; the Catholic Church, and most other mainstream churches, in fact have NO rules, everything is policy, policy that can be changed by the whim of their leaders. This is rebellion against the WORD which says;

Chapter 331

LAND & SLAVES

Bringing Order From War Chaos

The conquering process and managing the assets conquered in war is the job for surrogates. These surrogates have many titles but the conquest, managing the conquest, and collecting tribute after the conquest is ancient and has been reduced to a routine.

Freeman To Slave

"Freemen" forced to pay tribute are in reality slaves. A freeman in debt is a slave.

"The borrower is slave to the lender." Prov. 22:7

Freemen in prison are slaves.

"The children of Israel are men, and your brothers; you shall not reduce them to slavery." Leviticus 25:44-46 (Ferrar Fenton)

Rarely do slaves think as freemen once they become accustomed to slavery. The master of the slave gives him rewards and punishments - thereby becoming as a god. The master jealously guards this image. The rules of the freeman's old God are replaced with the rules of the slave's master.

The North Descends Into Slavery

After the Revolutionary War, fought to free themselves from Britain, the Northern U.S. was quickly transformed back into a cartel dominion as immigrants from Europe arrived and borrowed money from newly-established banks to buy land. These immigrants foolishly thought that having land whose title was held by banks made them freemen.

"The Rothschilds were one of the largest factors in the American real estate boom of the 1830s."¹ They were also the Vatican bankers and operated in London. This relationship allowed the Catholic and Anglican Churches to indirectly practice usury without being blamed.

Looking back, it is easy to see the easy transfer of the Old World debt-slavery to the New World's debt-slavery. It was also an easy transition from being a bankrupted farmer to becoming a landless debt-ridden worker housed in a "city" manufacturing center.

Media Organized Episcopacy

Cartel newspapers were established in all major population centers to condition and help manage these workers. These workers, who didn't know their next-door neighbors, were told to choose a ruler from a group of political candidates that they had never heard of.

To help them with this task, the newspapers publicized agents of the newspaper owner. These agents were the only ones the newspaper publicized. The worker voted for the best man he knew but the only ones he knew were those publicized by the newspapers. This "sleight-of-hand" is called a "democratic election". It is make-believe since an agent of the media owner agents is elected regardless who got the most votes. When the media publicizes a 3rd party political candidate, which is a rare event, one must assume that this candidate is also an agent of the media-owner. In Cartel ruled societies, there is no such thing as "free-elections". Whoever owns the paper owns the city. The sale of a newspaper transfers a city and its population from one Cartel franchise holder to another.

The Southern Lesson

The American South was independent and rich. Even poor dirt farmers were rich compared to urban industrial workers. The absence of tribute allowed wealth to accumulate generation after generation. The South's wealth excited Cartel greed and its dream of a Camelot here on earth excited the dreams of Saxons the world over.

The Media Prepares War

From the early 1800s, Cartel media drummed into the former independent farmers now living in Northern cities that Southern farmers were blackguards, brutes, thieves and murderers.

Books like Uncle Tom's Cabin were given top billing and fiction was paraded as fact. Given no second opinion many believed the media ranting. When one reads the newspapers of that period one can see that media-fomented "hate" was so thick one could almost cut it with a knife.

The media elected the Cartel's agent - Lincoln. With Lincoln at the helm the stage was set. Lincoln manufactured his "Pearl Harbor" to start the war.

Fort Sumter

Firing on Fort Sumter was paraded as proof that Southern farmers were all the media said they were. When Charleston Harbor was invaded by a Federal fleet sent by Lincoln - Southern Rebels defended themselves. The media said that they "fired on the American Flag!" To avenge this insult, Lincoln launched an invasion of the South without the nicety of declaring war - and the fight was on.

The independent Northern newspapers which protested this travesty were shut down by Lincoln, and their editors were thrown in prison.

The Cartel media started the war and were responsible for the unfortunate incidents that the war produced.

Evelynton & Edmund Ruffin

"Edmund Ruffin acquired Evelynton Plantation in 1847 and brought the worn-out land to a new state of prosperity ... A fervent secessionist, Ruffin sailed to Charleston, South Carolina, to fire the shot at Fort Sumter that began the Civil War.

"During the peninsular campaign in 1862, Union troops devastated Ruffin's plantation, burning every building, girdling the trees, and salting the fields. Three years later, after Lee's surrender at Appomattox, Ruffin shot himself, wrapped in the folds of the Confederate flag. (Virginia Plantations & Homes, David K. Gleason 1989)

Sherman

The International Trade Cartel (ITC) operates through agents selected from local populations. These usually appear as loyal members of the society they betray² and often come from families who have proved their loyalty to the Cartel in the past. One of these was William Tecumseh Sherman.³

1820. B. Lancaster, Ohio - son of Judge Charles R. Sherman, Judge office Supreme Ct. who died 1829. Adopted by 1829 Thomas Ewing - Father's friend and U.S. Senator, member national cabinet.

1864 - Commander - military div Miss. & Gen Army of TN.

1866 - Lt. Gen - later full Gen when Grant became pres. Retired 1884. Died NY Jan 14 1891. Statue DC & NY.

This was Sherman. Born to an establishment family, groomed for the job, quickly advanced to high rank to help in the conquest of the South. His war comments are interesting and are taken from George F. Will's Return of the Confederates.

Sherman's Words

"I fear the world will jump to the wrong conclusion that because I am in Atlanta the work is done. Far from it. We must kill three hundred thousand I have told you of so often, and the further they run the harder for us to get them."

- Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman, 1864

Understanding Sherman's Words

Southern volunteers on active duty were volunteering to keep out the wolves. Gatekeepers in the army - they would be gatekeepers when returned to civilian life. It would in no way profit the cartel to spare the lives of war-time trouble-making soldiers and allow them to return home to become peace-time trouble-making civilians.

Kill 'em All

I dislike upsetting new readers, but this is the real world that we live in and facts are facts. One such fact is that it is cartel policy to kill rebels who fall into its hands. It prevents later problems.

This is the reasoning behind the outlawing and summary execution of Boer commandos during the Boer War - rounding up their families and transporting them to British concentration death-camps - stopping exchange of Boers for British prisoners; summary execution of SS volunteers during WWII - starving 1,000,000 German PWs after WWII ended and millions more in the great repatriation. It explains the government execution of Gordon Kahl and imprisoning his son Yory who had done no wrong, shooting the mother holding her baby on Ruby Ridge and the Waco slaughter of the innocents. It is Cartel policy to kill rebels - separatist rebels who fall into its hands.

Killing rebels prevents subsequent rebellion. "Kill 300,000 of them". Kill a million - ten million! Do whatever is necessary to kill them; war, starvation, prison - whatever necessary - kill them!

There is one more benefit that comes from killing rebels - land! Whoever owns land is king.

Land - The Second Reason

Picket's charge at Gettysburg was glorious. Bugles sounding, banners streaming, cannon, rattle of musketry - the smell of gunsmoke that excites the soldier! Home and country!

Independence and freedom!

Then, reality - the sick feeling in the stomach of every man who sees blue uniforms waiting behind the stone wall far across the field - cannon quietly lined up wheel to wheel across the top of the ridge, waiting. But the soldier steps out on the order.

Shells begin to explode, men fall in little bunches - horribly mangled - fear, anger, the adrenalin kicks in - the ordered march becomes a trot, and the trot turns into a run - fear and anger merge into a desire to "get" the enemy - kill him! It wells up into the most beautiful music ever heard by human ear - the "rebel yell" rising from ten thousand throats!!

I've heard that music twice in my life. The martial voice of the South. It crystallized the ideal, making you one with your comrades.

It was the ideal that made me volunteer the day the Korean War broke out. I stood long hours in a line stretching out the building and down the block. Thousands volunteered.

Reality Check

Every time a Yankee sharpshooter lined is sights on a Johnny Reb running toward him and his shot dropped him - the 100-200 acres of land that the dead man owned came on the market. Land became cheap because lots and lots of land was being thrown on the market at Gettysburg. With no one to plow the fields and pay the bills, except a widow and her children, land was thrown on the market for what it would fetch. (It is amazing how many widows managed to sacrifice and hang on to the farm and pass it on to their children - our fathers and grandfathers.)

The story the establishment historians leave out is that every rifleman's bullet that hit home, every discharge of canister from a Yankee cannon that tore into the ranks of the rebels -put 25 more farms on the market. Every point-blank volley from a Yankee regiment added 50 to 100 more. The ground at Gettysburg was covered - thousands of dead - thousands of farms on the market. Hundreds of thousands and millions of acres looking for new owners.

Lincoln

We learned about Lincoln at my great-grandfather's farm at Kelly's Ford. It was not the history-book Lincoln. The Lincoln we knew saw the looting and destruction being done by his soldiers before his very eyes - it was pointed out to him by my great- grandfather. He stared, ignored my great-grandfather, and turned to discuss other matters with someone else. His face was unmoved. No feeling. Cold. Calloused. He saw and he knew - and didn't care.

Beyond the slaughter of 620,000 men in a "total war" conducted by his army commanders he appointed - whom he invariably commended and promoted for war crimes and atrocities against civilians, property, and Confederate prisoners - were other dark forces.

Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels were Lincoln partisans. Marx wrote a column for Horace Greeley's New York Tribune. James McPherson states in his Abraham Lincoln and the Second American Revolution, "Lincoln championed the leaders of the European revolutions of 1848; in turn, a man who knew something about those revolutions - Karl Marx - praised Lincoln in 1865 as 'the single-minded son of the working class' who led his 'country through the matchless struggle for

Horace Greeley - Media Man

Greeley's New York Tribune would have nothing to do with peaceful "repatriation abolition". Greeley wanted "radical abolition" - free slaves without compensating owners and depriving the freed slaves of their own farms in Africa.

Condemned for falsehoods that helped cause the war, its vicious execution and ghastly aftermath, Greeley helped raise bond to free President Davis in an attempt to retrieve his reputation.

the rescue of an enchained race and the reconstruction of a social world."

Russian revolutionary, Alexander Herzen called the South's President Jefferson Davis, "the greatest political criminal of our time." Michael Bakunin wrote, "In the struggle between the Northern and Southern United States ... the North ... has all my sympathies."

Lincoln's administration enacted into law three planks of the "Communist Manifesto." 1. A national banking act; 2. The Internal Revenue Service. 3. Public education at Land Grant Colleges.

Help arrived from these revolutionaries to build the Union army. Veterans of the failed Communist Revolution of 1848 flocked to American shores.⁴ William L. Burton's Melting Pot Soldiers, 1988, lists some who served as general officers. The list includes Joseph Weydemeyer, Carl Schurz, Franz Sigel, Thomas Francis Meagher (of the Irish Brigade), Peter Joseph Osterhouse, August von Willich, Friedrich Salomon, ⁴ The similarity to the 1930s Spanish Civil War when Communists worldwide flocked to Spain is inescapable.

Alexander Schimmelfinnig, E.S. Solomon, Albin Schoepf, Julius Stahel, Max Weber and Frederick Hecker.

The Cartel episcopacy arrived cloaking the reason for their presence with talk of "economic reform", "abolition", and "democracy". The real reason - imposing Cartel rule over the South. This required killing. The American dead that resulted were among the first of 140,000,000 others who have been sacrificed to build the Tower.

This is the legacy of the Lincoln we knew, whose own sons of military age were safely kept in Washington far away from the dangers of war. This was the Lincoln who refused the plea made by Yankee prisoners who traveled from Richmond's Libby Prison to Washington to ask that prisoner exchange be reinstated - or at the very least to allow medicines to be sent through the lines to prisoners in Richmond. He refused both requests. Why?

It's The Land, Stupid!

Dead Johnny Rebs not only removed them from being problems then and later - their deaths freed up thousands of acres of land. What was true for one was true for the other.

The ranks of most Yankee regiments also contained farmers. Every time Johnny Reb shot one of them in turn it also added 100-200 acres to the land-glut coming to market. Land was cheap because there were about 270,000 dead rebels and nearly 350,000 dead Yankees. Lincoln was the cartel butcher - just as America's present presidents are surrogate butchers. Count the slaughtered over the last ten years!

What difference does it make whether soldiers die in battle or in prison from sickness? What does the wolf care which flock a sheep comes from or whether he is blue or grey? Once dead his land comes on the market, or can be made to come to market because the dead owner is not around to defend its title.

Lincoln appointed Grant and Sherman to be his executioners. Sherman, long groomed for his job, announced his desire to kill 300,000 rebels. Grant was cut from the same cloth. At Spotsylvania Court House's Bloody Angle, in a maneuver devoid of any military merit, reason, or precedent that I can find, he put 20,000 of his men in a great square and marched that square straight into General Lee's cannon. Trees were reduced to matchsticks and bodies to hamburger. It was a slaughter pen.

My wife's great-grandfather, Capt. Charles Raine, was there. He survived only because Yankee bodies were heaped ten deep on top of him in the trench he had been defending. He was pulled out out at night and thrown on top of a Yankee dead wagon, unconscious and half dead. Thousands upon thousands of Yankees died there. Grant showed the same disregard for life at Cold Harbor - 7,000 men in 15 minutes - against our prepared defenses. We had even moved our cannon double-shotted with canister right into the front lines. Before the attack

Capt Charles Raine - CSA

Fought in the 33rd Virginia with Stonewall through all the Valley campaigns. Was overrun by Grant's "human wave" at Spotsylvania's "Bloody Angle" and pulled half dead from under a trenchfull of bodies.

The above picture was taken when he was only 50 years old - already an old man.

Yankee soldiers wrote their names on pieces of paper and pinned them on their uniforms for the burial parties - for all the good it did. Grant left their bodies to rot on the field - his own men!

Grant's job was killing. If tens of thousands of Yankee's were killed - tens of thousands of farms in New York, Ohio, and Indiana were thrown on the market - just as thousands of farms in Virginia, Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia were thrown on the market when thousands of Rebels were killed!

In western Missouri, practically everyone was killed or driven away. Nobody was left - the country was deserted. No cows, horses, dogs, people, nothing. Farmland was swept wholesale into Cartel corporations. A handful of refugees trickled back after the war to find nothing standing. A few with nothing to lose moved onto deserted farms and in 15 years became their legal owners through adverse possession. There were no other claimants. Most everybody else was dead.

More than two hundred thousand Southern farms came on the market. Hundreds of thousands of Northern farms came on the market. The War was fought for land and slaves - black and white. Both now belonged to the Cartel. It was a tremendously successful and profitable war.

With variations, the same thing happened in S. Africa - and for the the same reasons. Kill the owners and take the land that gave them independence and insolence. Germans were killed in fire- bombing, post-war prisons, post-war starvation and repatriation to achieve the same end. Kill them and Germany can be bought for a song.

Appomattox

All wars end. The War against the South ended, officially. Lee surrendered the 20,000 remnant left of his army to the 200,000 conquering federals at Appomattox. Enlisted men stacked their rifles. Officers were allowed to keep their sidearms. My great-grandfather, Dr. William Hoskins, surgeon 59th Virginia, left with his cousin to ride back home to King & Queen County on the other side of Richmond.

Maj William Hoskins,
Surgeon 59th Virginia - CSA

They rode through the smoke and rubble of Richmond into the countryside beyond. In passing a house hidden in trees behind a hedge they heard women screaming followed by raucous laughter. My great-grandfather and his cousin spurred their horses, jumped the hedge and found Union stragglers abusing the women of the house. Dr. William shot two and his cousin shot the other one. I have his pistol - a .44 Starr, made in England. The same kind carried by General Lee.

Puppet Government

Post-war elections were held and the South sent her representatives back to Washington just like before the War. They voted against "anti-South" legislation. The Cartel needed anti-South legislation to legally enable them to sack the South, so, the Black Republican victors disqualified southern office holders and sent them home.

They then passed legislation banning any Southerner who had borne arms against the invasion of the South from voting or holding office. This disfranchised all voting white Southerners. They then passed legislation giving blacks the vote.

"Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15; "Their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall proceed from the midst of them." Jer 30:21

Southern governments changed from white to black overnight. As the only voters, the blacks voted themselves into office and a Union occupation army saw to it that they weren't removed. Cartel carpetbaggers were assigned to Southern state and county governments to direct the voting of the new black legislatures.

The Cartel manipulation of these black puppet governments extorted the last drop of blood from a conquered people. The name given to this period is "Reconstruction". In Germany, S. Africa, and Russia the process was virtually the same. It is still going on. In the Southland there is anti-white "affirmative-action", federal schools, federal voting restrictions, minority grants, and loss of freedom-of-association. The list is endless. It is the same wherever Jacob is conquered by Esau.

Reconstruction

Victors want Unconditional Surrender. "Unconditional Surrender" allows the victor to do whatever he chooses to do to the vanquished - unhindered by legal niceties. The establishment honored Gen Grant by naming him "Unconditional Surrender Grant". He was rewarded again by being made president - one of the most corrupt the country has ever seen

The post-war period meant good times for the Cartel victor - - it always does. The stock market went to new highs.

It was hell for the vanquished.

Treating Captured Rebels

My great-grandfather, Granville James Kelly was arrested as a war criminal and imprisoned at Point Lookout. He was charged with refusing to give oath of allegiance to the United States. President Jefferson Davis was arrested as a war criminal and thrown into a cell dug into the side of a wet embankment at Fortress Monroe, Virginia where he was mistreated by his guards and almost died. They even planned to try General Robert E. Lee for treason before a "war-crimes" tribunal.

The media demonized the South with "Andersonville" to prevent discussion of the deaths of tens of thousands of Southern prisoners held in open-air U.S. prisons. They died from exposure, starvation, and the savagery of black guards placed over them.

In post-war S. Africa the Boer leaders were banished and Cape Boer commandos were imprisoned. Germany's leaders were "legally" executed, their soldiers were also allowed to die by the hundreds of thousands in open air prison camps, and additional hundreds of thousands of civilians were allowed to die of starvation while food from other nations was prevented from being given to them. Like "Andersonville", the media invented an "Auschwitz" to breath life into the First World War "6- million" story that had been discredited 30 years before. This was done to prevent discussion of WWII post-war atrocities against Germany. Now, fifty years later, they still aren't discussed; 100 years later discussing the atrocities committed against S. Africa's Boers is banned; 130 years later discussion of the atrocities committed against the South is banned. Hollywood's "Globe" and "Oscar" awards are truly merited. The Cartel's media does a magnificent job doing what they do.

Terror And Sherman's Wisdom

It does no good to terrorize a conquered province during a war only to allow its people to recover and throw off its chains.

The terror caused by the War in the South was followed by peacetime terror. Protected by occupation Union Troops, gangs of ex-slaves roved the countryside committing unspeakable atrocities. Attempts by locals to suppress these outlaws were attacked by the media which used the same adjectives they use today every time the subject of alien crime arises.

As a consequence, few Southern voices were raised in protest. General D. H. Hill answered a letter from General Jubal Early:

"Why has the South become so toadyish and sycophantic? I think it is because the best and noblest were killed off during the war."

Sherman wisdom to kill 300,000 rebels paid off. Dead men don't plot rebellion and those who live don't complain - if they expect their conquerors to allow them to eat.

Re-education

Conquered peoples are denied heros. In Lynchburg Robert E. Lee Jr. High has been renamed Robert S. Payne. Garland Rhodes, named after Lynchburg's boy generals killed in the War has been changed. The Confederate flag that flew at Miller Park where the 2nd Virginia Cavalry organized and rode away to defend Virginia has been hauled down. The cannon commemorating the exploits of Latham's Battery have been taken away. The Confederate flag has been banned from Fort Early and the Cemetery where 3,000 Confederate soldiers are buried. The "Old Fort" has been bulldozed and "Fort McCausland" has been bulldozed to make room for a Synagogue. Lynchburg's children grow up not knowing "Dixie". It too has been banned.

The city stadium has been renamed for a black. The library has a Martin Luther King section - but no Saxon patriot

Governor declines to issue Confederate proclamation

RICHMOND (AP) — Gov. Mark R. Warner met Thursday with a group of Southern heritage enthusiasts and later announced that he will not issue a proclamation designating April as Confederate History and Heritage Month.

"Over the past few years, the issuance of a Confederate history month proclamation has been a lightning rod," Warner said in a written statement. "My belief is that signing such a proclamation would not advance the healing process."

Two years ago, the Virginia chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People threatened to organize protests, including a possible tourism boycott, if the proclamations did not end.

Warner's predecessor, Jim Gilmore, responded the next year by issuing a proclamation recognizing the sacrifices of all Virginians who fought in the Civil War, whether for the Confederacy or the Union. That angered the Sons of Confederate Veterans, the group that had asked for the history month proclamation.

five light would recognize the contributions of Southerners, Virginians and Confederate history." Warner was not specific about what he might do, Bowling said.

Warner spokeswoman Ellen Qualls said the governor's plans have not been finalized.

"He has already expressed a desire to make appearances around the state that recognize important historical figures, including those important to the Confederacy," she said.

Warner said he would not issue a Confederate proclamation. Leaders of the SCV and other Confederate history buffs were unable to change Warner's mind during a meeting in the governor's office.

"We certainly didn't go in with any false hopes," said Brig Bowling, first lieutenant commander of the Virginia Division of the SCV. "But in my opinion, the meeting was most positive."

He said Warner "left us with the impression that while he may not issue a proclamation this year, he would do other things that in a posi-

Among those who met with Warner, Bowling said, were former state Republican Party chairman Patrick McSweeney; Ben Jones, the former "Dukes of Hazard" actor and Democratic candidate for the 7th District congressional seat; and representatives of the Heritage Preservation Association and the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Bowling said the SCV and other groups will celebrate Confederate History and Heritage Month without benefit of a gubernatorial proclamation.

section, school children are denied the right of free association; local colleges give preference to non-whites - or lose corporate grants. Corporations hire non-whites under anti-Saxon affirmative action mandates or lose government contracts; There is a Black History Month but no White History Month. Virginia's puppet governor declines to issue a "Confederate Proclamation".

Worst of all the flag of the "Sovereign" state of Virginia has been removed from its own flagpole and now flies under the Federal flag - the universal sign of a conquered people.

It is the fate of the conquered.

Internal-External Tariffs

Virginia traded with England for almost two centuries before joining the union of states. Trade ties between British merchants and Southern farmers were generations old. After the Southern defeat, tariffs forced Southern farmers to trade with the North at considerably higher prices, just when they were least able to afford it.

Nothing is said about the "internal tariffs" that were imposed. It cost more to ship goods from Richmond to New York than from New York to Richmond. I have been told that this differential was not changed until after WWII.

Tribute-Taxes

Black legislatures ruling the South were instructed to tax land. Farmers found it impossible to pay the steep rates and sold out. Radical emancipation left the great plantations without workers and no income to pay either workers or the high taxes. These plantations were also put on the market.

I previously told the story of Mr. Milner Noble of Aerofin whose family sold 12,000 acres of land near Richmond after WWII for $6,000. They thought they had gotten a bargain.

Bonds

Black legislatures issued multi-millions of bonded debt for public improvements, railroads, etc. Perhaps 10¢ on the dollar was used for the stated reasons with the rest going into the pockets of legislators and Cartel favorites. After the blacks were driven from office - the debt remained - and not paid until the mid '50s.

Forests

The great primeval Virginia forests that had been so carefully tended that one could effortlessly gallop a horse through without being hit by branches. These were acquired for practically nothing and harvested. The lumber was shipped worldwide. Today, nothing remains of Virginia's magnificent forests except stumps and second and third growth.

Mines

The mineral resources of Virginia were taken by great corporations and their output maximized. Industrial wastes now contaminate the water table of large areas of Virginia's highlands.

Fisheries

Corporate fishing has depleted Virginia's rivers and bay. Fish filled waters of my youth are now barren. Nothing is there. Not even baby crabs in inlets. A twelve inch oyster hasn't been seen in 50 years. Cartel corporations take everything and return nothing.

The Migration

Living in a society governed by blacks, and daily confronted with armed Negroes whose acts were backed by the Army of the United States, tens of thousands of Southern families packed their belongings and wagon trains began the long trek west. After two and a half centuries - the South was being abandoned to blacks.

General Lee's Pronouncement

The following is from a letter from Gen Lee to Governor Stockdale of Texas after the War.

"Governor Stockdale ... Those people hold me as a representative Southerner; hence, I know they watch my words, and if I should speak unadvisedly, what I say would be caught up by their speakers and newspapers, and magnified into a pretext for adding to the load of oppression they have placed upon our poor people; and God knows, Governor, that load is heavy enough now; ...

"Governor, if I had foreseen the use those people designed to make of their victory, there would have been no surrender at Appomattox Courthouse; no sir, not by me. Had I foreseen these results of subjugation, I would have preferred to die at Appomattox with my brave men, my sword in this right hand." (Life & Letters of Robert Lewis Dabney Thomas C. Chapter 332

DOUBLE-CROSS And "Jim Crow"

"You can get your soft drink here but you have to drink it somewhere else!"

This is what I was told when I stopped for a cold soft drink at a Colored drug store on a hot summer day. I was a white boy and the Colored drug store enforced a "carry-out" policy.

I was walking from old E.C. Glass where I went to summer school, down 5th Street to Main Street to catch a bus home.

"Fifth Street" was the colored business district. It was big, crowded, noisy - money flowed. It took several minutes to wait for people to move when driving through. Last week I drove down 5th Street and saw 4 blacks crossing the street to a church. They were the only blacks in sight. "5th Street" as I knew it doesn't exist anymore. The Cartel put an end to it.

A Basic Fact

The Empire teaches that blacks can't do without whites. This is hammered day after day regardless of facts to the contrary. The public is constantly being told that blacks need whites to tell them what to do; advise them, help them, console them, counsel them, pat their backs and encourage them. But, in spite of this the fact is - blacks really prefer blacks.

Blacks may like the cars and TVs provided by white technology; they may like to have their pictures in the media, and like the acclaim and money that white society showers on them - but blacks prefer blacks.

At times blacks may fear other blacks and seek white protection. My uncle, Judge Deane Hundley, of Dunnsville, told me about the times blacks came to his home seeking protection from other blacks who were on drunken rampages and had sworn to kill them. Two days later these same enemies were walking down the street together laughing. In spite of disputes, given a choice, blacks prefer their own black society.

The black desire to live in their own black society is well known and has been used to control them.

The Second Basic Fact

The world is organized as an episcopacy - rule from the top down. The inner circle of the cartel's episcopacy are few in number. Their immense power is derived from their incredible wealth accumulated over the centuries by usury banking, trade, and war.

This International Trade Cartel (ITC) doesn't need large numbers. It hires agents. It appoints kings to rule, great merchants to manage, and selects priests it needs to teach "universalism" to all Cartel subjects and to justify and bless Cartel's acts.

Post War

In the Southland after the War Between The States, there were three opposing interest groups. These were the blacks, the whites, and the Federal Government - run by the Republican Party and representing Cartel business interests.

The Cartel's media divided the whites into opposing factions - Northern Saxon vs Southern Saxons. They divided the blacks into opposing factions - Cartel blacks vs Nationalist blacks.

Contending factions were continuously agitated. Northern Saxons vs Southern Saxon; Cartel blacks vs black nationalists, and the entire white bloc vs the entire black bloc. This constant agitation prevented the nationalist groups from working together to solve their common problems and allowed the government to manipulate them to achieve Cartel objectives.

Understanding Contracts & Policy

To avoid signed documents that might be used to upset their vaunted "rule by law" - the Cartel substituted "policy".

An example: People once knew that crime was a near-monopoly of the alien. Newspapers reporting crimes included the race of the criminal. Most criminals were aliens - it said so right there in the paper. This was important information - to the nationalist.

Terminology Review - Castes

We must keep our terms straight. The Cartel has three ruling castes.

When the Cartel's Priestly Caste ruled - the biggest buildings in town were churches and the message was "universalism". Everyone was welcome to accept the rule of the priest. Those who didn't were treated as outcasts. When kings ruled the biggest buildings were government buildings and everyone was welcome (or required) to become the king's subjects and tax payers. When the merchant rules the greatest buildings are trade office buildings. Everyone is welcome to do business with the Cartel. Everyone.

Nationalism

Nationalism forms among peoples with similar interests. Almost all agrarian societies are nationalist. There are religious groups that are nationalistic - Shintoists, Voodooist, Muslim, and Catholic, Episcopal, Lutheran, etc.

The most nationalistic of them all are racial nationalisms. Those of the same race can distinguish a fellow from all others at a glance. Most races share a common religion and common aspirations. Anyone of whatever race tends to sympathize with those of his own kind. He can do nothing else. Black, white, yellow or brown - those with similar racial backgrounds tend to be just what the Cartel propagandists call them - racist!. He can't help being what he is. Denial is laughable.

The greatest enemy of the Cartel merchant is the Nationalist. He tends to want to deal with his own kind and exclude the Cartel and his agents. The next worst Cartel enemy is the racial-nationalists. The absolute insufferable enemy is the religious-racial-nationalists. If you wonder why you are the focal point of abuse by the Cartel media - stop wondering. It makes you appear ignorant.

Mixed Breed

The least difficult to rule and to manipulate is the mixed-breed. He has no common race to use as a rallying point to oppose Cartel rule since he is torn between many races. Therefore, the subject most desired by Cartel "kings", "priests", and "merchants" is the mixed-breed. This is why "universalism" or "integration" is an integral part of Cartel rule.

Solving The Perception Problem

It is difficult to promote the integration needed to develop mixed-race Cartel subjects when Saxons perceive aliens as being either criminals or potential criminals.

This problem was solved when the Cartel instructed its media to stop reporting the criminal's race. When the criminal's race is unknown - the criminal is whomever the media says it is. One day, all across the Saxon world, newspapers stopped reporting that most criminals were aliens.

Today, if 100 crimes are committed and 97 are committed by aliens and three by Saxons - the Saxon's crime is reported and lawlessness by aliens is ignored.

This media censorship tends to mold opinion to believe that Saxons commit most violent crimes and those crimes are "hate" crimes. I have never seen a written Cartel document confirming this policy, but I know the policy exists. "Policy" is unofficial - an agreement less visible - but no less binding.

Necessary Force

The self-sufficient farm system of the South had little need for anything the Cartel offered. It produced its own wealth and attended to its own wants and needs. The only way the Cartel could obtain Southern wealth was to use force. John Brown and instigated slave revolts provided the preliminaries. "The Secret Six", by Otto Scott exposed the identity of the Cartel merchants who financed John Brown, and newspaper files carry story after story of the type of propaganda used to incite blacks to revolt against their white masters - as it had done earlier in Haiti.

Slave Revolt Fails

Instigation of a slave revolt was remarkably unsuccessful. Except for a few Nat Turner type incidents, black slaves were loyal to their masters. They had nothing to gain by being disloyal. The South had promised them freedom and ownership of their own farms in Liberia. "Wenches" to be transported on reaching the age 18 and "Bucks" at 21. Those over those ages would live and die in America. In time, repatriation would solve the black/white problem. That was the plan.

The Cartel counter-offer to the blacks was that their freedom would be granted immediately and once free they were to have their own black Republics right here in America. However, blacks had seen tens of thousands of their fellows leave for their farms in Africa. Repatriation was real - Radical abolition and black Republics were only "pie in the sky".

Black Vote

In 1850, the Cartel launched the Republican Party. It was a minority party. It then engineered a three-way election to split the white vote and put Lincoln in office. Once in office Lincoln became a dictator. Bypassing Congress he used executive orders to initiate and wage a successful war against the South.

To continue ruling after the War, the Republican Party could no longer count on a 3-way split among white voters. They desperately needed more voters to form a majority. To gain this majority they disfranchised anti-Republican Southern whites and franchised the former black slaves.

With this realignment - the vote taken from Southern whites and given to the blacks - the Republican Party then had the numbers, the votes, and a lock on government. It had a "shooting license" and could do anything it wanted to do.

Black Government Policy

Cartel carpetbaggers were sent South to direct the vote of their new black legislators.

Blacks were shown how to elect themselves to office and were instructed to vote land taxes. Hard pressed white Southern land owners had no way to pay them. Blacks were shown how to vote themselves lavish salaries. This required higher taxes. They were shown how to vote for public works. This necessitated even higher taxes.

Protected by Federal occupation troops and guided by Cartel carpetbaggers - the blacks commenced a reign of terror against the disarmed and defenseless whites - similar to the one now being waged against defenseless white South Africans.

As far as the Cartel was concerned - the "terror" was a continuation of the softening process needed to appropriate prime Southern farmland; As far as the blacks were concerned - the "terror" was to realize the black Republics that they had been promised. Before they could have their black Republics the rest of the Southern whites had to be driven from the land. "Black Republics" was part of the understanding. It was "policy".

Whites by the thousands fled the black terror. Wagon trains headed west from the Southland. My own Kelly ancestors fled first to Missouri and then to Texas for safety. This is why my mother was born in Tyler, Texas. The Southland was being emptied of whites and was becoming a black wasteland ruled by blacks who intended turning it into black Republics.

The Land Double-Cross

At the very time black rulers were driving whites from the land under protection of Union bayonets, the Cartel advertised in Europe for immigrants to move onto Southern farms and plantations now owned by Cartel land companies. The potential for profit was enormous. Prime plantation land bought at tax sales for $1 an acre was offered at half pre-war price which had been as high as $400 to $800 an acre. It was a real bargain for the European buyer and a bonanza for the Cartel merchant.

However, this plan violated the unwritten long-standing black/Cartel understanding. Southern black legislators were outraged. In retaliation they passed laws preventing foreign white immigrants from entering the South. There was talk about seizing the millions of acres of Cartel-held farmland.

The Alliance Double-Cross

Having welshed on their agreement to turn the South into black Republics, the Cartel now double-crossed their former black allies again. This is why:

The threat by black Legislatures to seize Cartel land caused Cartel leaders to re-assess their alliances. The blacks were now considered unmanageable and the Cartel had to protect its investments.

Cartel representatives sat down with the disfranchised and despised white leaders and hammered out a new white/Cartel "policy". They were to join their forces to remove black rule.

The New Cartel/White Policy

In exchange for helping Southern whites regain political rule from the blacks - the Cartel agreed to change Northern white opinion from "anti" to "pro-South" - a necessary condition for the change to take place.

In return, the South must guarantee Cartel land ownership and not try to reclaim it.

There were other conditions. Southerners must refrain from calling out and killing obnoxious Cartel newspaper editors in duels. Dueling had been the former Southern way of dealing with lying newspaper editors. The entire agreement was spelled out in Pike's The Prostrate State.

True to its word, the Cartel had the new agreement incorporated in a book written exposing the excesses of black rule in the South. This was The Prostrate State by Pike. This book was widely advertised by the Cartel media and thousands of copies were sold which reversed Northern opinion of the South in less than a year. The last newspaper editor was shot in Richmond in the 1870s.

The result: Southern whites regained political power minus their wealth; the Cartel kept the Southern wealth they had seized; and the blacks were forced to negotiate with Southern whites to salvage what they could in search of the ever illusive "black society" they had been seeking.

The Triple Double-Cross

Given a free hand Southern whites, by hook and by crook, stopped blacks from voting. This stopped their rule over whites. Former Northern allies now gave them a cold shoulder and they had nowhere to go. Except for a few skilled artisans, blacks could work either as domestics or as laborers.

Black nationalists and Southern white nationalists sat down and hammered out their own black/white policy. In exchange for peacefully relinquishing political rule, whites guaranteed blacks their own black-ruled society and a guaranteed way to make a living. A tall order for a bankrupt people.

Building A Black Society

Blacks sold me a soft drink on my walk downtown- and then told me I couldn't drink it there. Look! The important thing to the universalists is that I couldn't drink a soft-drink in the drugstore. The important thing to the nationalists is that blacks had their own drugstore! There was more to it than that.

Creating this black society was a hardship to Southern whites, but they did the best they could - which was pretty good. Blacks, notoriously poor farmers, were still given "40 acres and a mule". "40-acres and a mule" was an opportunity for many blacks to wing it on their own - if they could.

Blacks wanted their own businesses. However, black businesses couldn't compete with better stocked and managed white businesses.

To enable blacks to engage in business, laws were passed preventing white merchants from selling to blacks if a black business offered the same items. Protected by this law, black businesses sprang up overnight. That drug store - black hotels and motels were common; black restaurants, clothing stores, department stores, movie theatres, shoe shops, and hardware stores - protected black businesses sprang up everywhere.

Certain white merchants were accused of selling items to blacks that black merchants carried. Black merchants didn't like it - this crossover trading - neither did the white population. Legal action was often taken to stop it.

Leggett's

When I was young, the best department store in Lynchburg was Millner's. Next was Guggenheimers, then came "Leggett's" - owned by Harold Leggett, a Lynchburg man. Bringing up the tail end was a much smaller black-owned department store up on 5th Street.

I was told that Harold Leggett did everything he could to attract the Negro trade, even breaking the "separation law". People who worked for him told me that he favored blacks over whites every chance he got and looked on them as an untapped gold mine.

The big merchants in Lynchburg did all they could to have separation laws struck down. Harold Leggett was among these leaders. In time they were successful and almost instantly white competition drove independent blacks out of business. This caused an influx of black shoppers into white owned stores like Leggett's Department Store. Leggett's has since merged with Belk and is now Belk-Leggett, part of a national chain.

The former leaders, Millner's and Guggenheimer's went out of business, and ALL black businesses formerly protected by separation laws were put out of business. Black hotels and motels stood empty. Stores formerly occupied by black businesses up on 5th Street black business district stood empty. Most have been torn down. Even the black movie theatre is gone. Black parents complain that today's Dunbar school doesn't enforce discipline or teach its students nearly as well as was done when Dunbar was black and had black teachers and a black principal like Mr. Seay.

Abe Schewel

Various parties had fingers in the Southern pie. One of the parties were the Jews. The Jews have long operated as the Cartel's "civil service". Lynchburg had had little experience with them before the War and up until about 1880. At that time individual Jewish merchants began to arrive supplied with enough operating capital to begin whatever they wanted to do. They had money when no one else did.

I went to Saturday cowboy movies at the old Trenton Theater. It was across the street from the Schewel's Furniture Store. I always arrived early so as not to miss anything, and developed the habit of visiting old Mr. Abe Schewel, the Store's owner. He was a nice old man.

Mr. Schewel sat in his rocking chair in the corner of his store in the middle of his rug department looking out the corner show windows. He was as much on display as were his rugs. I would sit on a rolled up rug in front of him and listen to his stories. He was a good story teller.

He told me what it was like when his family came to Lynchburg in the 1880s. They came from Odessa in Southern Russia. We talked about the horses and wagons loaded with tobacco on Main Street. Tobacco was the big business then.

At that time, Lynchburg's newspapers were involved with a heated discussion about sending Jews to the colored schools since they were a colored race. That didn't bother old Mr. Schewel. He had his own agenda.

He told me how he had provided money to organize Lynchburg's NAACP. He said "the Negroes love me for it", and "one day I will have all their business". He was right.

In time, the Cartel's Jewish financed and Jewish led NAACP whose long time national leaders were the Spingarn brothers, brought suit against separate E.C. Glass High School and colored "take- out" eating policy at Patterson's Drug Store across the street from Mr. Schewel's store, and won all the legal cases. Universalism overwhelmed Separation. Mr. Schewel won battles sitting quietly rocking in the show window of his store talking to little boys.

Mr. Schewel's NAACP was the Trojan Horse that destroyed black business and white separatism while telling the world that they were advancing Negro rights. The other furniture stores that catered exclusively to whites went out of business. Schewel's chain of furniture stores prospered mightily and has spread all across the state.

Repatriation Double-Cross

One of the saddest things I believe I ever saw were the comments of blacks after Col. Cox's talk to the Virginia legislature in Richmond.

I heard his talk. It was given standing ovations in Virginia's House of Delegates. Everyone was enthusiastic. I thought that financing would instantly be voted and the race problem was as good as solved. Blacks would go back to Africa where they had a standing open invitation, and we would have our own land to ourselves. Boy, did I have a lot to learn!

Col Earnest Sevier Cox, a descendent of Col. Sevier of Revolutionary War fame, was the first white man to walk from the tip of S. Africa to the Mediterranean Sea. He knew about race first hand. He, along with many thousands of blacks who looked to him for leadership, believed that the only way the race problem would ever be solved was to separate them.

Col. Cox

I remember my surprise and delight when I discovered Col. Cox's books and found that I was only one among many who was a Saxon nationalist. Col. Cox lived in Richmond, only 50 miles away. I hitchhiked from Williamsburg where I was going to school to see him. "Teutonic Unity" and "White America" were his classics. I discovered that "everyone" had read them.

"Teutonic Unity" dealt with black Colonization. Col. Cox was president of the African Colonization Movement. Virginia's legislature gave him a pat on the back and then dropped the subject. Virginia's politicians were in the Cartel pocket and had no intention of allowing cheap black labor to leave America.

Virginia's refusal to help the blacks with their Repatriation Movement - coming on top of the Marcus Garvey disaster - his arrest by Feds after his monumental effort to buy ships and feed the black tent city of 50,000 at Newport News 30 years before, destroyed black/white co-operation. Black nationalists didn't trust white politicians. It took me, a white nationalist, a long time to learn what blacks already knew - there were other parties who didn't want blacks and whites to cooperate on separation.

Conclusion

There are two kinds of blacks - Cartel blacks and Nationalist blacks. There are two kinds of jews - Cartel jews and Nationalist jews (Zionists). There are two kinds of whites - Cartel whites and Saxon Nationalists.

The Cartel incites nationalists to fight each other so that its empire can rule forever as policeman-peacemaker. Nationalists want to separate from each other and live in peace. There is NO WAY that Cartel workers and supporters are going to help the various nationalists to separate from each other. This makes the following inevitable:

In time, the world's nationalists will destroy the Tower of Babel, or the Tower will destroy them - just like they destroyed Lynchburg's "5th Street" and Lynchburg's school system.

The Cartel's greatest fear is that one day feuding nationalists will unite to achieve this common goal.

S. African Children

"Dear Dick Hoskins: I think I need hardly tell you that, since the US/UK were kind enough to deliver this country to black Marxist rule, we have gone the way the rest of Africa. The collapse of the country's infrastructure is now so widespread, the economy in such poor shape, that the bulk of the population is suffering greater privation probably than at any time since the SA War (also arranged for us by the British money powers).

"Among the worst sufferers are the unfortunate Afrikaners, not least because of affirmative action which is based on American legislation. As a direct result of this, there are tens of thousands of poverty-stricken whites living in pretty desperate circumstances. My concern is about the children of these people. At Bronkhorstspuit we run a children's refuge, to accommodate abused or abandoned kiddies, though to be truthful most of them these days are the children of unemployed parents who can no longer feed them.

"Elsewhere, we try to help care for unemployed families living in squatter camps. When I visited the settlement at Vanderbijlpark before I got sick some weeks ago, it was to find numbers of small children suffering severe ulcers on their faces and little bodies, this the result of diet deficiency.

"This is hardly surprising. They have pap (a maize-based gruel) for breakfast, lunch and supper. Just before I went up, I had heard of a new fortified maize-based food, enriched with minerals and vitamins, which had been specially produced to increase the immunity systems of HIV-AIDS victims.

"I managed to trace the manufacturer, and said if it would help AIDS patients, it must also help child deficiency victims? He said they hadn't been in production long enough to look at that, but I was probably right. We bought 1,000 kilos and sent it up. I later spoke to the woman who runs the camp and she told me the kiddies had already improved sharply.

"If you can help us, it would be God's blessing. There are so many of these families, with more and more whites being thrown on the streets all the time. It is a gigantic problem."

Letter From S. Africa by H.K.

Enclosed is a picture of a faithful little dog lying next to his dead master. It was seen all over Europe. I don't know if American censors allowed it to be seen in America.

Famine is raging as a result of driving white farmers from Zimbabwe. Mugabe now tells his "new farmers" to plant corn, which they can't because the planting season is past. Anyway, the blacks in Zimbabwe know nothing about farming.

England is responsible for this lamentable debacle. Her conduct is nothing to be proud of. They foist Mugabe on the population after a boycott lasting many years. It isn't that they did not know. After Ian Smith stepped down, England would not even let English born passport-holders back into England. Its as if they wanted to destroy their own. Two elderly ladies come to mind when they were refused the right of return to which they were entitled.

Saamboubank is under liquidation. To satisfy the black government they made loans to blacks who don't pay.

Mylstroom is now called by blacks - "The Place Where The Fore- fathers Spirits Dance." A senseless name. The name changing in the Northern Province of Transvaal has removed most Voortrekker town names, but we shall see how far they get. That is one region where the black administration is in chaos. The black police are arrogant and openly show their hatred towards whites. Government/white relations are bad - and it is the whites who are the taxpayers. There is talk of a white tax-strike. You just wouldn't believe what goes on when blacks try to govern.

Aida Parker and those who help her are doing a great job for poor Afrikaners. If only there was work available. Former premier Hans Strydom did much for those who fought in the Anglo-Boer War and lost everything. Their descendants are wealthy farmers today. We of the HNP party, bought the Strydom town house for a museum. We hear of some Zimbabwean farmers who moved to Angola. They build, but the blacks take everything they build.

I told you about the great falling away from the churches. On Sunday morning in the short service, a professor said that God is a dog; he keeps licking you until you do his bidding. Monsanto, the American company, sponsors this short service during the week. I keep wondering how long this sort of thing will continue unpunished.

We have just learned of the New Reformation that we are supposed to accept. Robert Funk and Jack Spong have a list of what must be removed from our old beliefs and what must be inserted. God must be removed. Also, The Creation, Original Sin, all Miracles, the power of Evil, the Virgin Birth, the Meaning of the Cross, the Resurrection, the Second Coming of Christ, Prayer and general valid ethical norms.

Instead of prayer we must meditate and give attention to the needs of our fellow blacks. Instead of placing our trust in God, we must trust the "order of creation" and "the inherent goodness of our fellowman". We must further "enjoy life" and we must "forgive others" if we want them to forgive us. The "new" Afrikaan's Bible has been written with the help of several Rabbis.

The married woman who is head of the female church ministers has had an open affair with another professor who is also married. The termites are busy!

There is no letup in black bad behavior. We have had no telephone for the last 12 days. The telephone wire was stolen and sold. That happens to someone every week now - but we are still required to pay for phone service. To substitute cell phone for telephones is very expensive.

The European mission overseeing the Zimbabwe election was ordered to leave the country. They were not sympathetic towards Mugabe.

Our HNP leader, Mr. Willie Marais, told our members to get rid of debt. This will not be easy. Everything is expensive and for young people just starting nearly impossible. School fees are a great problem for parents.

Mainland Chinese are coming in again - to our disgust. They eat dogs and if one eats dogs he is perfectly capable of eating people. They want land but say nothing about payment. They want to take building sand and stone from our farm and leave us with their mess as they quarry near our underground water supply. This is something we have tried to prevent through the years.

There was an interesting incident in my father's family. A young man from Holland wanted to marry my grandmother (several generations ago). But, not knowing his background he had to go back to Holland to get his genealogy and references. This he did but was shipwrecked off the west coast of S. Africa. He swam ashore with the letters well wrapped and turned up to marry the girl.

I enjoyed the Book of Jubilees very much and have started the Book of Enoch.

Blacks expect whites to respect black graves, but when it comes to white graves, they desecrate them at every opportunity. They never go near the Jewish cemetery.

The price of food and everything else is soaring. Especially petrol which is produced here but sold over the border to black countries for much less. We also supply Mugabe with free electricity - and free electricity to S. African blacks. How long the few white taxpayers will last remains to be seen. They hate us and will kill whites without feeling, but still want everything from us. "You must" and "we demand" are their favorite expressions.

The latest is dog poisoning. They throw poisoned meat over fences and the animals die in minutes. Now they poison water the cattle drink. They buy poison for R5 a packet from minitaxi drivers. It is always something else. As usual the police say they can do nothing.

Best wishes and thank you for the books. K.J.

CORPORATIONS & KINGS

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: Explain the relationship between corporations and kings." D.B. - Kentucky

RKH: Read the following:

1624 - May 24: England's King James I dissolved the Virginia Company of London and declared Virginia a royal colony. The king instructed Sir Francis Wyatt, the colonial governor, to manage the colony with the help of a new Council and not with a House of Bur-gesses. (Virginia p. 12, Spring 2002.)

King James was the public figurehead - the hereditary chairman the board of a corporation called the Crown. Like today, the Crown permitted individuals and groups to risk their own capitol to undertake new risky business ventures. If they turned out successful the corporation would take it over and compensate the previous owners.

Today, inheritance taxes and the like force the sale of successful companies to great corporations who, as a consequence, get bigger still. The slave trade was profitable which is why the Crown became a major partner and why it so vehemently refused when Virginia twice asked the Crown to stop it. Nothing's changed - just names and means of compensation.

VIRGINIA & SC HISTORY: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Several years ago I visited a family who lived in my area whose ancestors were early settlers in Virginia. The wife gave me a book of family history to read. Chapter 333

NEW NUCLEAR WORLD POWER

Reducing Nuclear Arsenals

The three leading nuclear powers in the world today are:

- 1) US
- 2) Russia
- 3) Israel

Tomorrow's line-up may be different. The US and Russia have agreed to reduce their nuclear arsenals by 2/3rds. This 2/3rds reduction by the US and Russia may catapult the Israeli state into becoming the world's greatest nuclear power.

No one knows the size of the Israeli arsenal. They refuse to allow inspections. According to a Mossad defector - it's big.

Before we can assess the importance of the above information, other facts must be added to the equation.

The Merchant

The Israeli state is a nation of merchants. Today's society holds the merchant to be the pinnacle of success. The WORD, which is our God and our Law, says the opposite:

"[He is] a merchant, the balances of deceit [are] in his hand: he loveth to oppress." Ho 12:7

"A merchant shall hardly keep himself from doing wrong; and a huckster shall not be freed from sin." Ecclesiasticus 26:29

"Woe to the bloody city! it is all full of lies and robbery ... there is a multitude of slain, and a great number of carcasses; and there is none end of their corpses; they stumble upon their corpses ... 16 Thou has multiplied thy merchants above the stars of heaven ..." Nahum 3:1-2,16

"(King Antiochus determined) ... that he should send an army against ... Israel ... And that he should place strangers in all their quarters and divide the land by lot. ... And the merchants of the country ... took silver and gold ... and came into the camp to buy the children of Israel for slaves." I Maccabees 3:35-41

The Farm

Polar opposite to the merchant is the farmer. God's promised Kingdom on earth is THE FARM. The self-sufficient farm (SSF) is ruled by the farmer who is its king, priest, defender, and judge. The farm is the mother of "cottage-industry," the "mill" to help fabricate, and the "country store" to exchange its products.

To the merchant, the SSF and its owner are both just unprocessed merchandise.

Today We Are All Merchants

The "great merchant" is an obscenity to Saxons. The WORD says, "Jesus Christ... hath made us kings and priests." Rev 1:5-6. It says that we are to divide the land and rule over it. We are not to allow strangers into the land lest we learn their ways. Our self-sufficient farms once produced all we needed and provided a surplus with which we could trade for the few things we didn't have the time to produce. We violated God's WORD and allowed strangers into the land. Their usury, taxes, and trade took our farms and forced us to work in factories located in their manufacturing centers called "cities". Today we work for merchants, sell for merchants, in some way service the merchant system, or are merchants ourselves. We do this to eat.

Double-Minded

The WORD that is our God says:

"A doubled-minded man is unstable in all his ways." James 1:8

Saxon son's-of-Jacob are made in the image of the WORD. The strongest rebukes are levied against those who will not take a stand on questions of right or wrong. This rebuke is for sons of Jacob - the "Isaacson", the Saxon. "Right" or "wrong" has little meaning to the sons of Esau. Their people are different and their system is different.

Esau's Sons - Double-Minded

Esau's son's are "double-minded". These peoples are descended from Turk invaders of the mid-east. Turks were and are merchants. They are also warriors when the things they covet can't be gotten by trade.¹ Merchants tend to welcome with open arms all who enter their doors - in spite of taboos that others may have to the contrary.

For instance: Talmudic Law of the Jewish-Turks may teach a certain opinion on a matter. The footnotes accompanying the opinion often give an opposing opinion rendered by another respected Rabbi. A Jewish-Turk can choose either opinion in good conscience. Conflicts arising from two equally legitimate but opposing clashing opinions are taken to the local Rabbi to be adjudicated - and life goes on.

Since the ultimate decision of what is right and what is wrong does not rest in the Talmud, but in the Rabbi, it really makes no difference what a Jew says, thinks, or does about anything. Conflicts, when they occur, are taken to a higher authority and their rulings are final; unless of course, they are overruled by a still higher authority.

I have seen Jews jump from one opinion to the opposing opinion without blinking an eye or making an apology - just because of a changed opinion from a higher authority. Most opinions by individual Jews on anything have the validity of "smoke" or of a "falling leaf". In the final analysis, the opinion of their "higher authority" will be their opinion. I find the Jewish world "double-minded" and incomprehensible. They find my world full of illogical obstacles that to them are foolish.

Sen. Diane Feinstein recently said on TV that the Taliban produced drugs to finance world terrorism and that the US stopped the trade. This statement was the exact opposite of the truth. The Taliban stopped the drug trade and the US installed puppet government is again replanting the poppy fields to re-start the drug trade. Diane Feinstein didn't bat an eye when telling this whopper. It served her purpose to say the opposite of what was the truth.

The Arab-Turk World

The Arab-Turk world of Esau is the same. Endless dos and don'ts from the Koran are constantly violated because their ruler decided to do this or that instead. For years many Islamic rulers practiced usury and drank alcohol in violation of the Koran. In certain Islamic countries today usury and drinking alcohol are still countenanced by their rulers. In other Islamic lands they aren't. In one Islamic country you act one way - in another you act the opposite. Either way is acceptable to the average Muslim and his mullah if it's agreeable with the ruler who is the final authority. Again, "Double mindedness."

Turks - Long Time Enminty

Saxon's enminty with Turks - Islamic, Jewish, Muslim, Hindu and Christian Turks - is ancient. It did not come about unannounced recently. The WORD says this about Esau, the ancestor of today's Turks:

"Esau was a designing and deceitful man, one who hunted after the hearts of man and inveigled them." Jasher 28:20²

"Esau hated Jacob ... and Esau said ... I (will) slay my brother Jacob." Ge 27:41

God the WORD curses Esau:

"Isaac have I loved but Esau have I hated." Romans 9:13

Because of Turk double-mindedness, the Saxon must draw close to the WORD to discover what is truth. The WORD says that the accursed Esau whom God hates is father of the Edomites.

"Esau the father of the Edomites." Gen 36:8,9

When talking to each other, Esau's children more often than not speak truthfully to avoid complete chaos. For instance they say things like the following;

"Edom is in modern Jewry." Universal Jewish Encyclopedia, 1925 edition, vol 5, p 41.

Esau's King

The Sons-of-Esau have constantly fought the Sons-of-Jacob through the ages. Time after time they were close to victory but were defeated because of their own treachery toward each other - they often betray their own people. After one particularly humiliating debacle they met and agreed to the following:

"The sons of Esau swore, saying, from that day forward they would not choose a king from their brethren, but one from a strange land until this day." Jasher 57:40

This is why the DNA of the leaders of one particularly strong Turk group is different from the rank and file of the rest of the group (see HR #329).

Jewish-Turks are often blamed for the world's ills and crusades are raised against them - but nothing ever comes of the crusades. They continue doing what they have always done. How can this be? Simply because as the "civil service" of the International Trade Cartel they enjoy universal protection. Their rulers are from another nation.

The Turk is a merchant. It's what he does. Merchants trade for money. To him - "Money answereth all things." Ec 10:19.

Arab-Turk Invasions

There have been many invasions of Saxon lands by the merchant-warriors of Esau. Among the first to feel their wrath were our Gothic ancestors.

Goths

Our grandfathers were called Saxon and Scythian. Another of their names was "Goth" - God's people.³ They were the descendants of Jacob- Israel deported from the Mid-East almost a thousand years before Christ. The Russian and European rivers were their highways of frequent travel between their colonies scattered from the Baltic in the north to their prosperous farming communities on the shores of the Black and Caspian Seas.

³ "The names Saxon, Scythian and Goth are used interchangeably." History Of The Anglo Saxon, Sharon Turner, London, 1852.

Attila The Hun

One day, without warning, the eastern part of the Black Sea Gothic nation was overrun by Huns who suddenly poured out of the wilderness and deserts. There was no warning. The atrocities committed against our people were shocking. The eastern Goths were made captive and became tributaries.

The conquered Goths were required to obey Hunnic edicts. The conquered ones were called "Ostrogoths" - "East Goths". The part of the Gothic nation that escaped westward were called "Visigoths". The Huns forced the Goths they had conscripted into their armies to fight their escaping kinsmen. Goths fighting Goths.

The Hun Advance

In pursuit of the Visigoths, the Huns sacked outlying Roman Provinces (the Romans were also Gothic kinsmen), selling the loot to merchants of their own kind who had been permitted to enter the Roman Empire and renegade Roman merchants. Some believe that this was done with the approval of the all-seeing Roman Church.⁴

Many Romans settlements and German tribes stood in the way of the Hunnic advance across Europe. These were overrun one at a time by the Huns. They too were forced to furnish soldiers for the Hunnic juggernaut.

At last, the Hun invasion reached France. With their backs to the wall, the Goths joined their former Roman enemies to face the common Hun enemy. Together they had more than half a million men. The Huns had more than half a million - mostly Goth, German, and Roman. They fought and the total dead were more than half a million. The Hun horde lost over 300,000, but it is said that the Huns themselves actually lost only a few thousand. The majority of their casualties were suffered by their captive auxiliaries - Goths and Germans.

Attila was later killed by a lone German princess who objected to being taken to Attila's bed. Attila's death shattered the Hunnic alliance. The Huns themselves scattered. The largest contingent settled in Hungary - which bears their name. The captive Goths and German nations they had ruled escaped, vowing never to be enslaved again.

Genhgis Khan

Genhgis Khan ordered one of his lieutenants to take a contingent of Mongols west. It is said that they numbered only about 5,000. Following the example of their earlier Hunnic kinsmen, they gathered soldiers from the tribes they conquered and arrived in the West with armies of auxiliaries numbering in the hundreds of thousands. They conquered all before them.

Arriving in the Near East they found the land occupied by "Turks", a kindred people who had taken the land from "Arabs", still another kindred people - different names but the same basic people.

"Genhgis Khan first set about uniting the various Turkic and Mongol tribes of central Asia under his authority." p235 (The Crusades Through Arab Eyes, Amin Maalouf, Schocken Books, NY c1984)

Genhgis Khan's armies arrived from the north and east at the same time the Crusader armies arrived from the west. Fortunately for the Crusaders, Genhgis Khan died which caused a recall of the Mongols while a new leader was chosen.

It is important to note the importance of "leaders" to Esau's children. Deprived of leaders, the children of Esau mill about and in time disperse. This happened when Attila died and when Genghis Khan died. This is one reason that today, Esau has learned to carefully conceal the identity of his leader. The result is;

"The unknown enemy is the unopposed enemy."

Saladin

Saladin was the son of a Kurdish soldier who became the Turk- Egyptian-general-ruler of Islam. This son of Esau, by diplomacy and war, united the Arab-Turk world to oppose the Crusaders. He set a new standard. He accomplished more with diplomacy and deception than with force.

A predecessor of today's media propagandists, he kept rooms full of scribes busy writing propaganda letters to powerful Arabic and Turkic leaders and merchants throughout Islam. These letters won most readers to Saladin (a preview of today's Turkic media). This forced local rulers to ally themselves with Saladin or risk a revolt by their own subjects.

Saladin's skillful use of propaganda and force united all Islam which presented an impenetrable obstacle to Crusader ambitions.

Saladin's death caused the region to disintegrate into bickering squabbling groups - until the next leader came along.

Esau Is Now Worldwide

The Children of Esau invaded India several times and spread their blood throughout the land. Some became Hindu, others followed Islam. Arab traders spread their blood to Africa. Some became Moslem, others practiced Voodoo, and some became Christian.

United and inflamed by the teachings of Mohammad, Esau descendants swept over Syria, Egypt, Turkey, the Mid-East, North Africa, Southern Italy, and Southern Spain. Spanish mixed-breed soldiers spread their blood into Central and S. America. China absorbed Turkic invaders and joined the world of Turks.

Today, Esau's media cloak covers the world with lies and misrepresentations. "Truth" is what Esau says it is. Esau's usury-banks rule the world's commerce. Esau's "Dharma" has become the cornerstone of Western religion and is now considered normal.⁵ Buddhist technique of pacifying divergent populations to expedite trade. "Dharmitized" - to be subdued by Dharma. "Dharmamatra" - government enforcer of Dharma.

Esau controls puppet governments, puppet religions, and puppet world commerce. Esau's children have invaded the Saxon world en masse - they challenge Isaac's-sons when they walk their own streets in their own lands.

Just as was done by Attila, Genghis Khan, and Saladin - Esau uses Saxon puppets to fight other Saxon nations. He uses Saxon puppet kings to fight Slavic Serbia. Esau uses puppet

⁵ Hindu: "Dharma" - non-violence, obedience, tolerance of other peoples and their gods without regard to "race, creed, or nationality" - to which has been added "sexual preference" or "gender".

Saxon kings to fight separatists wherever they are found so that they won't one day become a problem.

Turk In-Fighting

At the present time Esau is fighting Esau in an ongoing Mideast civil war. This sort of warfare has been the salvation of Jacob- Israel in the past and may be its salvation once again. In the bloodlust against Palestinian-Turks who occupy land the Khazar- Turks covet, the Khazar-Turk controlled media have unleashed an unprecedented attack on the Islamic religion. They have allowed their media a field-day to nit-pick and bisect and dissect the teachings of the Koran for all to see.

Islam's God

The Khazar-Turk media has rapidly taught the Saxon world about Islam and the belief system of those who follow the Koran. It is basic to successful warfare to know such things about your enemy since most of what people think comes from their religion.

The West has discovered that Islam is not a religion of "peace". In essence, it teaches that the world consists of two groups: "Muslims" (adherents to Islam) and "infidels" (those who don't accept Islam).

Both the Koran, Islam's most sacred writing, and the Hadith, second to the Koran, call for killing of all infidels (see Koran, Surah 8:60; 9:14; 8:12- 17). Its founder, Mohammed, taught that next to believing in Allah, participating in Jihad (holy war) for Allah's cause is the greatest deed for Muslims (see Hadith, Al Burkhari, vol. 1:25).

Islam teaches peace to deceive until strong enough for war. Islam's God is a god of WAR! The infidel is the target.

The Zionist God

The Zionist-Turks opened the door by discussing Islam. This opens the door to discuss their own "Talmudism", since they are the ones fighting Islam. This Talmudism is also an interesting God.

While both Palestinian Turks and Khazar Turks follow the same war god - the Khazar-Turks consider the "war God" a secondary God. The primary God is the "God of Deception". Even the motto of the Israeli secret service mirrors this philosophy, "Make war by way of Deception".

To the Jew, "Deception" is not a vague ideal, it is central to their religion - their way of life. It is their primary God. Every year they worship this God with their Kol Nidre Prayer which is sung at evening service on the Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur):

"All vows, obligations, oaths, anathemas... which we may vow, or swear, or pledge, or whereby we may be bound, from this day of atonement unto the next... we do repent. May they be deemed absolved, forgiven, annulled, and void and made of no effect: They shall not bind us nor have power over us. The vows shall not be reckoned vows; the obligations shall not be obligatory; nor the oaths be oaths." Jewish Encyclopedia, Vol VIII, p. 539.

This prayer is the thing that makes the Jewish merchant "double minded" - which to the Jew is an asset, not something bad. Kol Nidre is the merchant's code that carries over into their other activities. The Kol Nidre prayer nullifies promises in advance.⁶

Kol Nidre makes the word, contract, promise, or any kind of agreement made with those following the precepts of the Kol Nidre suspect.

Esau is as the prophets of God the WORD said - "deceptive and given to violence".

Conclusion

The study of the Turk and his religions reveal that violence is inherent in his nature. We learn that Turks who follow Islam will remain at war against infidels as long as infidels live - regardless of what they say.

We learn that the Talmudism of the Khazar-Turk is also violent, but it is different in that its central part is deception. We know that using "deception" makes it possible to persuade people to believe whatever it is that you want them to believe. We know that Deception must often be accompanied with "truth suppression", or censorship. This is necessary to prevent the deception from being uncovered.

We know that the NY Fire Department protested the removal of the Trade Towers wreckage without allowing it to undergo the customary inspection - this indicates a "deception" coverup.

We know that the Oklahoma City wreckage was disposed of without allowing it to be inspected - this indicates a "deception" coverup.

⁶ I must say that in business transactions I have been flim-flammed by more "Judeo-Christian" preachers than I have by Jews. At least the Jews involved were obeying their God. The way men handle money reveals their commitment to their religion.

We know that the Waco wreckage was disposed of without being inspected - this indicating a "deception" coverup.

We have learned to suspect that every time the Turk media says anything or reports anything - deception is likely involved. We read that the U.S. and Russia are to reduce their arsenals by 2/3rds to achieve "peace". This report comes from the same people whose religion teaches "deception". Such a nuclear reduction could make the Israeli nation the most powerful nuclear country in the world.

If a union of all the world's Turkic nations is achieved with help from puppet American armies - the unrealized dream of ancient Turk rulers of a union of Turk peoples will have been realized. Add to that a virtual nuclear monopoly and something else is possible:

Our God the WORD warned:

"Esau said ... I (will) slay my brother Jacob." Ge 27:41 We know that we are that Jacob whom Esau hated, and we know that our God said:

"Isaac have I loved but Esau have I hated." Romans 9:13

He also said:

"The house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble ... and there shall not be any remaining of the house of Esau." Obadiah 18

The Queen Mother

The recent death of the Queen Mother brought back memories of half a century ago.

I was a law student at William & Mary in Williamsburg when the Queen Mother visited what was once the Crown's capitol of Virginia. Most of us had never seen a queen before. The student body crowded both sides of the walkway as she approached on the way to the Wren Building. The buzz of voices gradually became silent the closer she came.

Every few yards the Queen stopped to speak to this student or that. She stopped right in front of me, and there she was. I looked down on her from my 6 feet to her 5'4" or thereabouts, but I didn't feel like I was looking down on her.

She was 50 years younger than the accompanying picture - and she was pretty. She was dressed in blue. She had a blue hat, a blue veil, a blue dress, a blue pocketbook, blue stockings, blue shoes, and the bluest blue eyes you ever saw - and those eyes had a smile in them. There was absolutely, positively not one single ounce of doubt about it - this was the Queen! And she was standing still right in front of me - and she was speaking, she was speaking - to me!

She said: "And how do you like it here?"

This was my chance.

I had lots of things I would like to discuss with her. How my family and her's had been allies back in Scotland. Perhaps we could find out what in the devil made her daughter and son-in-law so rude when they visited Virginia. You don't waste this kind of chance - the chance of a lifetime.

I answered; "Jes' fine, ma'am".

She smiled and walked on.

Chapter 334

FANGS Of The SERPENT

Mohammed

Mohammed lived in Mecca. He developed both a new religion and a loyal following which grew larger each year. This attracted the unwanted attention of the local ruler - something not conducive to long life in that region - so Mohammed and his following fled to an oasis in the desert called Medina.

Medina was a watering stop for the camel trains plying the spice route from India. Mohammed stopped the camel caravans.

Stopping the passage of the camel trains was drastic. The trains numbered from 500 to 20,000 animals and each carried enough wealth to make an Arab rich for life if he could steal but one of them. In the meantime camels eat and their drivers must be paid - and there they sat.

It was the job of the local king to protect the spice route and keep this sort of thing from happening. The ruler immediately gathered an army and went to Medina to unseat Mohammed. Unfortunately, Medina was far away in the middle of the desert and the ruler's army had to carry water for both man and beast. Since it took several days to reach Medina and several days to return - only a brief time was left for fighting, and Mohammad's forces could not be dislodged in the short time they were there.

For an entire year Mohammed held up the camel trains of the spice- route. Then, a lone camel rider came from the east. He paused long enough to water his camel and deliver a message. Mohammed was appointed the new ruler. He then rode on to Mecca and delivered the same message to the current ruler who meekly stepped down.

As we know, Mohammed's new religion, Islam, quickly swept the Arab world. Its war cry was "Allah is Great", and its symbol was the green flag. In later years the symbol of the crescent and star would be recognized everywhere:

To the Arab-Turk the crescent and star means "Islam", or, the teachings of Mohammed. There is another Islamic symbol very much in the consciousness of today's Mohammedans. It is the same crescent and star, but with an invisible circle around it. To the initiates, it means "captive-Islam" - a slave collar. A force strangling true Islam. There are two Islams - one with the collar and one without. This story is loaded with meaning. We will come back to it.

Burned Books

Early Christianity devastated the trade of the Roman Empire. Its teachings of "separatism" spilled over into trade and was ruinous to vested interests.

To protect itself, the Roman empire pre-empted Christianity by taking it over, turning it into a state religion, and appointing its leaders. These leaders dictated what the people were to be taught about God and his commandments and what was not to be taught.

Many 1st century books disagreed with these edicts. These books were "burned" by the newly formed universalist church because they contained "separatist" views that had caused all the trouble with the "universalist" view needed by the Roman Empire to survive as an empire. In short, these books were a problem to Rome. One of these books was *Adam & Eve*¹. This book carries the following story:

"When the accursed serpent saw Adam and Eve it ... made straight for Eve, and ran after her ... Then the Word of God came to the serpent, and ... a wind came to blow from heaven by command of God that carried away the serpent from Adam and Eve, threw it on the sea shore, and it landed in India." I Adam & Eve 18:1-9

This verse is one of the reasons for the belief that India is the original home of the anti-christ known today as the New World Order or the International Trade Cartel (ITC).

More About Adam & Eve

There is another story which adds to our understanding. It comes from I A&E 69:9-11.

"Adam and Eve returned from the mountain ... and went down ...to the place where their corn was, but when there a multitude of beasts came all round them. It was Satan's doing ... in order to wage war against Adam through marriage."

The above is the first mention of beasts vs. man that I've found, and the first mention of beasts "marrying" Adam-man. "Beasts" as we think of them today don't marry - therefore the "man and beast" of the Scriptures must include non-man in its definition of "beasts". Man, made in the image of the WORD - Lawful vs. non-man -one who is not made in the image of the WORD - lawless.

Lawlessness in non-man is an observable fact. The "satan" referred to is the same serpent thrown from the Garden. "Mountain" usually represents a great nation or place - in this story - the "Garden". "The place where their corn was" is where they made their living. "The beast came all around ... in order to wage war" is simply today's "open borders" or "integration". It is the age-old method the serpent uses to wage war against his arch enemy - Adam-man.²

² "Nor are you to permit beasts of different kinds to gender together, for there is reason to fear that this unnatural abuse may extend from beasts of different kinds to men." Antiquities 4:8:20; "Neither shalt thou lie with any beast to defile thyself therewith: neither shall any woman stand before a beast to lie down thereto: it is confusion." Lev 18:23; "If a man (120) lie with a beast, he shall surely be put to death: and ye shall slay the beast. And if a woman ... lie down thereto, thou shalt kill the woman and the beast." Lev 20:15-16; "Whosoever lieth with a beast shall surely be put to death." Ex 22:19

Serpent's Den

One of India's gods is Hari-Hara. Hari-Hara is a mixed breed - half White and half Black. To understand Hari-Hara one must understand the background.

Blacks were India's original inhabitants. White invaders occupied the northern part pushing the Blacks to the south. This presented the Hindu priests with a problem since the natural tendency is for individuals to put their own kind before anyone who would rule over them.

The solution? Intermarriage. Few mixed-breeds have an allegiance to the rules of a White god or for the rules of a Black god. He is the ideal subject to be ruled by a priesthood.

Hari-Hara is a combination of Vishnu and Siva. Hari-Hara is the God of integration. Integration solves the problem of "racial pride" - and separateness. Integration is basic Hindu policy.

Hari-Hara

Half white - half black, mixed breed God of integration.

India's Gods

All people follow Gods. The people of India follow their Gods. India has many gods but is ruled by three principal ones.

"Brahma" is the creator. Brahma is represented by the circle - "The FORCE" that encompasses the world and to which all living things are part.

The FORCE has a name, the pronunciation is simple - "Om". "Om" is the humming sound made by Yoga practitioners when meditating.

This is how they call on Brahma the creator - the FORCE. "Om" is Brahma's name. Brahma is The FORCE. When written it looks like this:

Brahma's son, "Vishnu" the conservator, is god of everyday affairs. He is pictured resting on a giant five headed serpent. He is worshiped by merchants, workers, housewives and gamblers.

Vishnu

Vishnu is white.

The other son pictured with him is "Siva". Siva is the god of sex and death. His symbol is the male penis or "linga". The tops of his temples and their copycats in other lands are "linga" shaped. Siva is usually pictured dancing with a serpent in his hand. Siva is black. Originally, Vishnu was for whites, Siva for blacks, and Hari-Hara for the mixed-breeds.

As Hinduism begins to flex its muscles, it throws off its age old disguises and flaunts its symbols for all to see. Earrings of the circle type, once rarely seen, are now common. They put their wearer in touch with "The Force" in much the same manner as a radio antenna. The "Circle" surrounding the Gods is the WORLD FORCE, the creator, the God of Gods, the same "force" referred to in Star Wars.

Preoccupation with "sex" reveals "Siva" the dancing god. Just 60 years ago, only one song in ten was a "love" song. Music today is an exercise in sex-worship. Siva has a drum in one hand as he dances. Harri-Hara (the god who is a combination of the two) has a stringed instrument in one hand and castanets in another.

"Gambling" in a society whose God forbids gambling reveals Vishnu. Toleration of murder, abortion and senseless wartime killing advertises Kali worship; Kali - Goddess of death. Kali and Siva are specially favored by Blacks in Southern India who also believe that devils are "white".

Government

Symbols for "government" have an ancient history. In ancient Egypt the symbol for the Pharaoh was the falcon.

As Egypt expanded and conquered other peoples whose gods had differing rules for their peoples to follow - a problem arose. Which god's laws would prevail?

The decision was left to Pharaoh and his ministers who used the compromise technique. A compromise between two radically different laws is not a "compromise" - it is a NEW law. It is Pharaoh's law. Thus, Pharaoh's law superseded the law of either contending god and was greater than either.

This is important: Since the word of Pharaoh was greater than the word of the Gods - Pharaoh was himself greater than the gods he judged. Therefore - Pharaoh was a god.

The falcon that had formerly represented only Pharaoh, now became a holy symbol representing both a man and a god - a God-man. The falcon became a symbol of the holy divine Pharaoh himself - and was worshiped as such.

This concept carried over to Rome whose symbol was the eagle. Julius Caesar's word was greater than the word of the gods he judged - therefore Caesar was greater than the gods and was a god himself. This is why a bust of the emperor was placed in the temples of each of Rome's many gods; an American flag with an eagle at staff top is placed in each of America's churches for the same reason.

To the Roman and those in their power - Caesar was God. The Roman legions worshiped the Roman eagle they carried before them in battle - it represented Caesar. Napoleon's armies worshiped their eagles. America's armies worship their eagle - and the multicolored flag that flies on the same pole beneath it. It represents their king whose word is greater than the word of the Gods they judge and whose word itself is Law - and disobedience is punishable in whatever way Caesar decrees.

Court Decision

Recently a California court ruled that the pledge to flag was unconstitutional. Think on it.

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands, one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

I have taken this pledge times without number along with everyone else without having the least understanding of what I was saying.

Look at it from the King's standpoint: Does not the King rule Gods? Look at the figure to the right. Does not the eagle stand above religions and their laws - ALL religions? Is not the King's law greater than the law of any of the Gods? Why confuse the people with the fiction that there IS another God other than the King - whose symbol is the eagle, the flag, and the pledge? Why not ban prayer - or a pledge of allegiance to the WORD as King of Kings, or to any other God's law system? Only the King's law is supreme! It makes sense.

Caesar's flag with an eagle is in every temple and the WORD of God which is the God of Adam-man is not taught lest the priest offend the flag and the eagle. Hail Caesar!

This censorship is not confined to our great God fearing American republic, but an order has been issued to censor the WORD altogether. Read the following:

LONDON: (CWNews.com) - A top European Union judge warned on Wednesday that the distribution of the Bible could become illegal under a proposed European anti-racism law.

British Law Lord Scott of Foscote said the proposed law was meant to normalize member state laws against racism. "The offense in question would almost certainly cover the distribution of Biggles (novels about a fictional WWII pilot). It would probably cover the distribution of the Old Testament as well," he said.

Scott outlined the European Commission's draft definition of racism and xenophobia as involving "the belief in race, color, descent, religion, or belief, national or ethnic region, as a factor determining aversion to individuals or groups." The proposed offense would include "public dissemination or distribution of tracts, pictures, or other material containing expressions of racism or xenophobia."

He added, "So distribution of, for example, literature containing expressions of belief in race, color, national origins, etc. as a factor determining aversion to individuals or groups would be a criminal offense."

The above report simply means that Europe's king is talking about banning the WORD which is our Law.

Hindu History

Followers of the WORD realize that what is happening worldwide is planned. It has a history.

Hindu priests and their Gods ruled India before history began. In those days India was home to many races who were organized into their own states and principalities. These states were in constant conflict - making trade all but impossible.

By deception, in the 4th century B.C., the priesthood overthrew the principal Indian ruler and placed their own king on the throne. This king of theirs conquered much of India. His grandson, King Asoka, conquered the rest and introduced Buddhism, the "Laws of Asoka", and Dharma.

Hindu Dharma

"Dharma", represented by Hari-Hara, was promoted by the priesthood to stop the incessant bickering between India's many hodge-podge inhabitants. Dharma simply states that you must "love everyone without regard to race, creed, or national origin." Those who submit to Dharma can't refuse the trader. Hari-Hara is the integration Dharma god.

King Asoka set up a civil rights department to enforce Hari-Hara's Dharma. Separatists who resisted integration were punished.

Dharma laws replaced older racial laws prohibiting integration. This broke down trade barriers among India's countless principalities. It also destroyed separate races. Trade flourished. It worked so well that Hari-Hara's Dharma was exported to neighboring countries by Hindu missionaries - opening those countries to the Hindu merchant.

Basic Understanding

Any religion plus Dharma is a Hindu religion. This is basic. Islam plus dharma is not Islam - it is Hindu-Islam - the OTHER Islam.

Since Islam is already a racially mixed people, the black-white division reveals that part is Islam and part Hindu. A true Muslim is an Islamic-separatist - not half Islam and half Hindu. A Hindu-Muslim is merely Hari-Hara with the crescent emblazoned on his chest and held in his hand. On page

1, the crescent held captive within the circle means the same - the "Force". It tells the same story of "the other Islam".

The Serpent's Power

The Hindu priesthood is incredibly wealthy. The wealth came from King Asoka who got it from the people. When he died he left one thousand million pieces of gold to the Hindu priesthood. This was more money than existed in the rest of the world together.

The Serpent could BUY anything in the world having a pricetag.³ Hari-Hari's "dharma-love" opened the door for the merchant and his bag of money.

He also brought the "Usury Contract". A usury contract is a contract fraudulent from its conception. It is a contract where a victim promises to repay 11 when only 10 exists.

A dollar borrowed at 10% requires the repayment of $1.10 the first year and $11 the tenth year. All this when only one dollar exists. Usury is a capital crime under Biblical law. (Ezek 18:13).

The WORD says;

"The love of money is the root of all evil." I Ti 6:10

The Serpent had more money than all the rest of the world combined, and, the Serpent had something else - the Cloak of Esau.

³ The South, South Africa, and NS Germany had no price tag - which is the reason wars of extermination were waged against them.

Cloak Of Esau

This story of the Cloak comes from the Book of Jasher. Jasher was well known to 1st Century Christians.

"Cush the son of Ham, the son of Noah, took a wife ... and she bare him a son, and they called his name Nimrod ... And the garments of skin which God made for Adam ... were given to Cush. For after the death of Adam ... the garments were given to Enoch ... Enoch ... gave them to Methuselah ... and Noah took them and brought them to the ark ... And in their going out, Ham stole those garments from Noah his father ... And when Ham begat his first born Cush, he gave him the garments in secret.. And Cush ... begot Nimrod and gave him those garments through his love for him, and Nimrod grew up, and when he was 20 years old he put on those garments. And Nimrod became strong when he put on the garments." Jasher 7:23-30

The world obeyed Nimrod because of his cloak:

"And Nimrod ... fought the battles of his brethren against all their enemies round about. ... And when Nimrod had joyfully returned from battle, after having conquered his enemies, all his brethren ... assembled to make him king over them ... And he set over his subjects and people, princes, judges and rulers, as is the custom amongst kings. ...

"After having conquered all his enemies around, he advised with his counselors to build a city ... and Nimrod called the name of the city that he built Shinar ... and his kingdom became very great. And all nations and tongues ... gathered themselves to him ... and they brought him offerings, and he became their lord and king, and they all dwelt with him in the city of Shinar, and Nimrod reigned in the earth over all the sons of Noah, and they were all under his power and counsel.. and he taught all his subjects and the people of the earth his wicked ways." Jasher 7:23-46

Esau takes Nimrod's cloak:

"And Nimrod ... came ... (and) Esau started suddenly from his lurking place, and drew his sword, and hastened and ran to Nimrod and cut off his head ... and Esau took the valuable garments of Nimrod, which Nimrod's father had bequeathed to Nimrod, and with which Nimrod prevailed over the whole land." Jasher 17:7,10

This is how this most valuable cloak ended up with Esau. Esau killed Nimrod who had dreamed of building a Tower of Babel to reach heaven and there to do combat with God. This cloak was now Esau's, and Esau took it with him to India during his many invasions of that sub-continent. The cloak then rested securely with the Serpent where it has remained ever since.

Media-Cloak

Esau took Nimrod's Cloak by force. This was why the Union Army, when it came South, confiscated Southern newspapers and reopened them under new management. The Serpent considers the media that important.

Otto Scott writes in his Compass May 1, 1997 Vol 7 Issue 81.,

"Germany ... sent Lenin & Co. home in a sealed train with a credit of 50 million gold marks. This enabled Lenin and Trotsky to first buy 47 newspapers ... and then to mount a coup d'etat."

Newspapers are that important. A person can only do what he knows and if his only source of information is the newspaper, then, the newspaper owner is king - or "king maker".

Esau's Cloak has evolved. It now consists of the newspaper-magazine industry, radio, TV, Hollywood, and book publishing. It also includes public and private education. Whoever controls these information outlets controls the minds of the people of a country and the country itself.

The Serpent was given Esau's Cloak and with Asoka's wealth was able to buy the scattered parts he did not have. This gave him the weapons he needed to rule the world. "Money" and the Media.

The media's colossal power is quickly admitted by those who work for the media.

"If you control information, you can control a large part of the debate." Anders Gyllenhaal, Ex ed News & Observer, Raleigh, NC. As reported in News & Advance, p F1, March 3, 2002.

Walter Cronkite let the entire cat out of the bag when he said;

"My job is not to tell the truth, I am an opinion molder." Crusade for Christ, Special Message For 2002. Col Mohr

The media speaks with one voice. This indicates single ownership or control. On April 16, 1996, Morris Dees of the SPLC instructed the National Press Club in Washington D.C. to go after Identity Leaders.

In obedience to these instructions, the press monopoly commenced their world-wide attack on "Identity Christianity" beginning with an attack on War Cycles/Peace Cycles, a book on usury banking by Richard Kelly Hoskins.

Media Insider Confesses

There may be some new readers who are not familiar with the statement by John Swinton, the former chief of staff of the New York Times, called by his peers "the Dean of his profession." He was asked in 1953 to give a toast before the New York Press Club. This was his statement:

"There is no such thing, at this date of the world's history, in America, as an independent press. You know it and I know it. There is not one of you who dares to write your honest opinions, and if you did, you know beforehand that it would never appear in print. I am paid weekly for keeping my honest opinions out of the paper I am connected with. Others of you are paid similar salaries for similar things, and any of you who would be so foolish as to write honest opinions would be out on the streets looking for another job. If I allowed my honest opinions to appear in one issue of my paper, before twenty-four hours, my occupation would be gone.

"The business of the journalist is to destroy truth; to lie outright; to pervert; to vilify; to fawn at the feet of mammon, and to sell his country and his race for his daily bread. You know it and I know it, and what folly is this toasting an independent press. We are the jumping jacks: they pull the strings, and we dance. Our talents, our possibilities, and our lives are all the property of other men. We are intellectual prostitutes."

Does this not sound like the Cloak of Esau?

Impact, April-May, p.11, carried the story of how the Media justified the slaughter of Serb civilians by U.S. led forces:

"A BBC reporter/photographer admitted last year that the photograph that had helped to trigger public outrage against Serbs during the Bosnia-Herzegovina crisis had been a fake. The photograph showed some rather thin young men without shirts standing behind a barbed wire fence, and the caption described them as inmates of a concentration camp. She admitted that the picture was actually taken at a food depot surrounded by barbed wire. She had asked the men to take off their shirts to show their leanness, and made them stand on the other side of the fence, to give the impression that they were prisoners.

Then there was Media incitement to kill Iraqis:

"People might remember the 'news' that Iraqi soldiers invading Kuwait had entered a maternity hospital and had bayoneted babies thrown out of their cribs. "The daughter of the Kuwait ambassador to the USA later boasted that it was she who had originated this false report.

Citing two cases of faking of documentary films, the London Mail on Sunday (Feb 7,'99) wrote:

"Deception, lies and cheating are obviously widespread amongst television producers ... What it is that makes television so vulnerable to programme makers prepared to lie, cheat and deceive their viewers? ... So far as television documentaries are concerned, seeing is certainly not believing."

Also cited was this:

"One of the earliest examples of false news on film was the British 'documentary' made during the Anglo-Boer War, purporting to be an actual event captured on camera. It showed a dastardly Boer throwing a bomb into a Red Cross tent filled with injured soldiers. Later research revealed the entire film to be a total fabrication.

Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn, the once idealized but now-censored Slavic separatist, was the most profound of all when he said:

"The press has become the greatest power within the Western World, more powerful than the legislature, the executive and judiciary. One would like to ask; by whom has it been elected and to whom is it responsible?"

The reason that so much space has been allotted to the Media is that, along with money, Esau's Cloak is the most important weapon of the Serpent.

The Learning Curve - Media

We learned that banks own the media by the death of Robert Maxwell. The media said that Maxwell was the richest person in the world. When he died the Swiss Banks descended on his estate to get back the media that he had been managing for them. Maxwell's media consisted of hundreds of newspapers, radio and TV stations. The media that Maxwell managed made kings and pulled them down. He was undisputedly the most powerful person in Europe. But, he did not own the media he managed - he only managed this media. He managed it for Swiss banks.

Neither did the Swiss banks own the media that Maxwell managed. Banks are set up by others to manage money. That's what they do. The media that Maxwell was managing was just a part of the wealth that the banks were managing for someone else.

Another way we know that the media speaks with one voice is that one viewpoint of events is released at the same time worldwide. It happens all the time.

When the ITC blacklisted my book War Cycles / Peace Cycles, because of its stand on "usury", the media releases read almost exactly the same worldwide. I sent press releases to many of the newspapers correcting misstatements they had made, but there was not one correction made to the establishment story. They did not print a single word from my press releases. This indicates a single managing genius.⁴

The Learning Curve - Banks

Long concealed secrets of the centuries are coming together. Andy Jackson knew. He caused the bankruptcy of the 2nd Bank of the US. The bankruptcy revealed that the bank stockholders resided in England.

⁴ In spite of WC/PC being a best seller - to this very day not one single cartel newspaper in the country will review the book for its readers. This is an overt form of censorship.

Let's run that by again. The central bank of the United States was owned by British subjects - the same Britain we fought for our independence. What does that say about our founding fathers' ability to look after the nation's interests?

We learned still more when a group of Swiss banks failed in the early '70s. It turned out that they were owned by the Catholic Church - the word "Catholic" means "universal". Other bankrupted banks were discovered to be owned by the Crown - the head of which is the head of the Anglican Protestant Church.

We are told that such things can't happen because the Christian religion forbids usury - but facts are facts. We have learned a lot.

Banking In Short

Since the days of Asoka, the wealth and holdings of the universal Hindu priesthood encompasses the world.

Bank credit was issued in such quantity that gold fell into short supply and was replaced by paper money and book entry credit and debt. Banks creating this credit proliferated until in the US they reached the astounding total of 32,000.

Unmanageable, these banks were reorganized into less than half that number and regulated under a Central Bank. In America this Central Bank is called the Federal Reserve.

Each country has a Central Bank managing the credit-debt in that country. All of these central banks belong to the Serpent - the same Serpent who was thrown from the garden and landed on the shores of India. The accompanying medalion is made up of the logos of several of them. In spite of the infighting and recriminations so characteristic of Esau - they are all one.

Medalians Of Some Of The World's Central Banks

The Serpent Teeth

Usury Banking and the Media are the teeth of the Serpent.

The first originated with Asoka's gold. This wealth accumulated over the centuries allows the Serpent to prey on man's "love of money". This gold can buy anything that has a price tag, or, it can buy the force necessary to destroy those who will not sell.

The other source of the Serpent's power is its media monopoly purchased with its gold. The voice of the Serpent through its media monopoly transforms people's perception of events into whatever the Serpent wishes them to believe.

Today, everything is play-acting. Everything is "Hollywood" - wars, politics, politicians, history, and even man's perception of his God. Deprived of the bedrock of the WORD

- man's world has become a confusing place filled with smoke and mirrors.

Usury-banking and the Media-monopoly are the Serpent's teeth. They poison, paralyze, and destroy.

Man is discovering the corruptions of a priesthood educated by Serpent endowed seminaries. At long last man is again learning that God appointed THEM to be his kings and priests. One of their jobs is to inform those who serve the Serpent of the consequences of their actions:

To the Media:

"If a false witness rise up ... Then shall ye do unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother." Deu 19:16-19

"Woe to you who write down the word of falsehood, and the word of the wicked ... To them there shall be no peace." I Enoch 96:24-25

"Woe unto them that justify the wicked for reward." Isaiah 5:23

To the Usurer:

"Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13

In due time God's Kingdom will come. In that day:

"Thine eye shall not pity; [but] life [shall go] for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot." De 19:21

We must warn those who chain men with usury or who hide the Serpent's evil with Esau's Cloak. Whores and thieves will certainly come into the kingdom before they. Today they scoff - tomorrow they will see face to face:

"It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God." Heb 10:31

Conclusion

Media and banking should be servants of man. As monopolies of the Serpent they are fearsome masters.

Chapter 335

THE THIRD EYE

Enron

Enron is in the papers daily. Everyone is being blamed for the demise of this great company, that is, everyone except those responsible.

I have in my hand a copy of the Financial Times dated May 21, 2001 - almost a year ago. On page 12 is the story that Enron is being forced to abandon its $3 billion dollar Indian power project because of unpaid bills.

Contracts were signed, construction took place, power plants were built, bills were sent out, and the Indian government refused to pay. India now has the power plants that cost them nothing, Enron went broke, and the media blames Enron.

This sounds strange when one thinks about it. There are other things that don't sound right either. In Virginia, newspapers, radio, and TV stations don't pay sales taxes for items they buy in stores. Odd, don't you think? The Federal Reserve in Richmond is not listed under "government offices". This is odd too. The Feds took over the Virginia highlands to build their Skyline Drive. To clear the way they drove out thousands of families and burned their homes. You could see and smell the smoke all the way to Lynchburg.

Let's see if we can bring these puzzles together.

Cloak Of Esau

We have discussed the "Teeth of the Serpent". These are the Cloak of Esau and Asoka's Bequest; The first is being used as a "deception" monopoly, and the last is the "money" monopoly. With these two properly used - world conquest is not only possible but inevitable.

The Cloak of Esau was the cloak given by God to Adam. Adam gave it to his heirs until it was stolen by Ham. It then passed into the hands of Nimrod and from there it was taken by Esau where it remains today.

As used by the children of Esau, of whom the Indians are part through intermarriage, the Cloak represents information, disinformation, propaganda - today's "media-messenger." In India, the serpent represents the messenger - a messenger of the Gods. He speaks words received from the Gods and is worshiped as a very God himself by those who listen to him. Indian Gods are pictured as having serpents in their hands, around their necks, about their waists, or reclining on them. The accompanying picture of the Goddess has a serpent about her neck. The serpent "gives knowledge to those deserving of knowledge and withholds knowledge to those un-deserving" (which is why I can no longer get certain Hindu books to sell). They receive special revelations from their Gods through circular earrings which act as spiritual receivers, or from the serpent who whispers in their ear, and then they spiritually dispense this wisdom from the 3rd eye.

Practically speaking, until fairly recent years, most news and government proclamations were dispensed by priests at scheduled religious gatherings. This indoctrination was considered so important that subjects of the king were fined for missing religious services.¹

Asoka

It was by using deceptive divine wisdom that the Hindu priests were able to put their own man on India's throne.

Arms Of Maurya Dyansty Showing The Three Major Hindu Gods

¹ Today's media has replaced yesterday's religious services as the establishment's dispenser of "propaganda-information".

The reigning king at that time was Dhana Nanda. He would not cooperate nor be controlled by the Brahmins. One of them, a priest, found a boy of royal blood living in poverty whose name was Chandragupta Maurya. With the backing of the Brahman priesthood he led a successful revolt by claiming he was the true ruler. The revolt succeeded in 321 B.C. when India's tax resisters joined him.

His grandson's name was "Asoka the Great", the discoverer of the teachings of Buddha and known to more people in the world than Jesus Christ.

The Brahmins of the Hindu priesthood created the office that Asoka held. He was their man - their agent. As their agent he taxed the people of their wealth (not fellow Brahmins) and reduced them to grinding poverty where they remain today. At his death he left one thousand million pieces of gold to the same Hindu priesthood who had created the office that he occupied. This is called "Asoka's Bequest". It is important to realize that the office of king is a created office.²

Buddha's Middle Way

The people of India were fractious. The white Brahman invaders had bred with the native Blacks and this had resulted in mulattoes of many different degrees of White and Black who were always fighting each other. Asoka was king. To bring peace to India he brought ² Kings, in whatever land they rule, are Brahman agents. They compel the weak to surrender their assets to him. He then transfers what is now a "public asset" into the hands of his master in a transaction called "privatization".

"Buddhism, "Dharma, and modern government. Following is the story of Buddhism:

Sitting under a Bo tree in India, Siddhatta Gautma had a revelation that later won him the title of Buddha, "the enlightened one."

Born in the 6th Century B.C. to wealth and luxury, Gautma had the means and the time to indulge his every whim - women, drink, and conquest. In time, he woke to the human misery around him and so he left his wives and home to join the "wise men" in the mountains. There he sought knowledge through fasting, asceticism and self-torment. His self-torments brought him to the verge of death so he decided that they, too, had missed the road to truth.

He went away and wandered aimlessly until one day he sat beside a river under the Bo tree and received the revelation of life's meaning - "The Middle Way".

"The Middle Way" was simply "moderation" - neither indulgence nor asceticism. While not a religion, it kept the Hindu concept of transmigration, with reward or punishment possible in several existences. "Dharma" is the centerpiece of Buddhism and was Asoka's contribution.

Dharma

The many races that Asoka ruled had many Gods. Their incessant squabbling impacted trade. To facilitate commerce he proclaimed an edict:

"One shall not condemn another religion or race by word or deed." King Asoka

That's it! This was not just a nice sentiment, it was Asoka's Edict - it was law. Violators risked royal displeasure. This ancient "anti-hate" legislation had teeth. It was enforced by "Dharmamatra" - government "civil- rights" officials who were given extraordinary powers to carry out the task of making certain that the edict was obeyed throughout the land. The office of Dharmamatra was made a permanent department of the ITC government. It still is.

Hindu Government

India's ruling clique were, and are, few in number - the pinnacle of the 64 degrees of the ruling Brahman caste. While India with its racial, religious, political, job, and caste systems is chaotic in its complexity, the Brahman monopoly of The Cloak (information, disinformation, intelligence, propaganda) and of Asoka's Bequest (gold, banking, usury, loans) made it simple to organize this unwieldy mass. All that is necessary is to pay someone to do it. And, this is exactly what they did. This was the ancient organization in India.

First: the Serpent represents the ruling Brahman caste. "Serpent Policy" is disseminated worldwide by use of Cloak and Asoka's Bequest which is in their hands. Banking plus media control generates power almost beyond the ability of the mind to comprehend. The use of unlimited wealth plus the media to control minds allowed them to appoint:

The Hindu Priesthood: an episcopacy, represented by the skull pyramid ruled by Dharma. These are priests who "see no evil", "hear no evil" and "speak no evil". Dharma guarantees that they will tolerate all evils - which is the way of death.

The King - "government" - represented by the falcon.

The Great Hindu Merchant - the one who manages Asoka's Bequest through international corporations which invest in the world's markets. The Great Merchant also manages the physical plant used by the media and banking - while policy of both is set by the Serpent.

This system of government, Priesthood, King, and Great Merchant is duplicated, with cosmetic changes, in every country of the world.

The Lawful

It is now time to briefly discuss OUR relationship to this worldwide octopus which is today called The New World Order.

Scripture says, "This is the book of the generations of Adam." Gen 5:1. Scripture says, "The WORD was God." John 1:1. Scripture says, "God created man in his own image." Gen 1:27.

The WORD is best known by its Laws. Adam-Man is created in the image of these Laws which is the WORD. Created in that image, it is assumed that man instinctively knows right from wrong.³

The Lawless

The story of Adam and Eve is known universally - how the Serpent deceived Eve causing Adam-man (Adam and Eve) to be banished from the Garden. To avoid a repeat of the incident the WORD ordered;

³ This is why it is stated, "Ignorance of the law is no excuse." The courts of unLawful men now interpret it to include the 100,000 inane, confusing statutes enacted by Brahman hirelings in government.

"They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me: for if thou serve their gods, it will surely be a snare unto thee." Ex 23:33

The "They" refers to those not made in the image of the WORD - the descendants of the Serpent.

All that is not Man (Heb: Adam 119 - "to show blood (in the face), ie: to flush or turn rosy: - be (dyed, made) red (ruddy). Strong's Concordance is non-man - or "hued-man" (human).

The American colonists called the ravishing Indians "red-devils", the rampaging blacks - "black-devils", the marauding Turks and Arabs - "Islamic-devils".

The Serpent's descendants have traditionally been called "devils" and are prohibited from entering the land. The WORD says, "They shall not dwell in thy land,", it also says specifically, "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Adam-Man- Israel)." De 23:2. Violation of these commandments reveals the work of the Serpent, the devil, the anti-Christ.

To remain Lawful, those made in the image of the WORD are to associate with others who are Lawful. This presents a problem to the unLawful.

If the WORD which is the Saxon's Law were enforced in the lands of the Lawless - the Lawless would soon be in prison, punished in another way, or executed. This is drastic and explains the affinity of Blacks, Jews, and other non-Saxons for each other - they look on their collaboration as a way to protect themselves from man's Law. To them, the Lawful are cops on the corner waiting for an excuse to persecute them.

This is why the Lawless have no law like the WORD. If they did, everyone would be in violation all the time. They could not build all the jails needed to house their criminals.

The Hindu solution to Lawlessness is to have no law like the WORD. If you have no law - no law can be broken.⁴ In non-Saxon lands people do anything they can get away with - providing that they respect the rules their own ruling king chooses to enforce. Each new king has his own set of rules which everyone quickly learns, but other than that - it is a daily "dog eat dog" existence.⁵

Buddhism's "middle way" is supported by kings the world over because it leads people away from extremes such as revolution against authoritarian rule. The use of Dharma, which is the soul of Buddhism, has produced interesting results through the years.

Dharmatized (Brainwashed) Janissaries

Turks are the greatest problem of Turkish kings. In the lands of Esau everyone is made in the image of his own Gods - which to us appear Lawless. They rob, lie, cheat, and murder, which to them is normal.

In the days of the Ottoman Empire, the Turkish Sultan ruled Arab Turks, Seljuk Turks, Ottoman Turks, Khazar Turks, Kurds, and various other non-Saxons who went by one name or another. Each had his own problems and each had problems with other Turks. When ordered to mobilize to go

4 This is why some "Dharmatized" western "Christian" cults maintain that God's Law is done away. No Law - no sin and no guilt!

5 What appears to be law in the land of the Lawless are general "rules of conduct" with little in the way of "teeth". Mostly its only "ritual" and Dharma. Ritual entertains the people and Dharma helps the king rule. Actual enforcement depends on the king and his relationship to his masters and to his subordinates.

Janissaries

Christians kidnaped as children and raised as Muslims. The most fanatical of all of Islam's warriors. Because of inborn Lawfulness, were used as governors and tax-collectors instead of native born Turks.

to war, the king would find them fighting among themselves. He would have to delay until he got the dispute worked out before he could start a campaign, then he would have to wait again when another fight broke out. At all times some of his followers were off invading a neighbor, or squabbling about the division of loot or something else.

Turks are great warriors, but, getting them to the war and getting the war started wrecked the dreams of many a Turkish ruler. The solution was found - found in the least expected place - in the Saxons.

Saxons have many of the qualifications necessary to be "super-warriors." They are by breeding naturally trusting, single-minded, and dedicated, and when given a Turk teacher to "brainwash" them into the belief that Saxon-Christianity is "wrong" and Turkish-Islam is "right" - and when trained to war, their new understanding of "Islam" caused them to become as vicious as any Turk. Unlike most Turks, they will fight to the last drop of their blood for a cause they believe is right. This is the sort of building material a Turkish ruler craves. An elite storm-troop, single minded, loyal to him alone, and when compared to Turks - honest!

The sultan-king recruited a force made up of Saxons indoctrinated in this manner. He sent his agents to take young

Saxons by force. He bought others from child-stealers and kidnapers. He paid top dollar and took good care of his young "guests." They were slaves, but were never called "slaves." Even slaves object to being called slaves. They were called

The White Horse - Sign Of The Saxon

"I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat on him ... doth judge and make war ... and his name is called The WORD of God" Rev 19:11-13

"And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean. And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword and with it he should smite the nations." Rev 19:14-15

The symbol of the Saxon is the white horse. You will find white horses painted on the barns of Pennsylvania and Germany and outlined in the hillsides of Britain exposing the white chalk beneath.

"Janissaries."

The sultan fed his young guests well, clothed them in the finest apparel, and had them converted to Islam. They were then trained to be warriors.

The "Janissary" that we know was a Saxon with a devil's heart. They were the most fanatical group of warriors Islam has ever known. They had the "discipline" and "obedience" inherited from generations of selective breeding, and in their hearts had been placed the "jihad," the "holy-war" of Esau.

This force numbered 20,000 to 40,000. These disciplined, well trained warriors formed the spear-point of the Ottoman invasions of Europe, and they were almost invincible. The first wild-eyed sword-swinging heathen trying to separate the Christian's head from his shoulders often had blond hair and blue eyes. His hate-filled eyes and heart were filled with the lore of Islam. The Turks honored them - they were their elite.

Janissaries not only faithfully fought Islam's wars, but their hereditary make-up of "fairness" made them remarkably good governors and administrators - far better than their own native rapacious Turks. In time they furnished the personnel for the police, and provided relatively honest tax collectors.

In Egypt, the Janissaries were called "Mamelukes." They were the power within the Turk empire and furnished 56 consecutive sultans. These fierce warriors decimated the Crusaders and chewed up the vaunted invading armies of the Mongols. In answer to the inevitable question, "What happened to yesterday's janissaries?" The answer is simple, and typically Turk. One morning a Turk prince decided that they had too much power and told the Turks to kill all Janissaries, kill them all! And they did.

Today's Jannisary

Today, Esau needs the Saxon-Jannissary more than ever before. He needs them to fight his wars, rule his people, manage his wealth. He needs Saxons to destroy Esau's Turkish enemies, he also needs the Saxons to destroy Esau's hereditary Saxon enemies.

Let us glance at a newspaper article I clipped a while back:

"We need to forcefully engage in... an action that is intolerant of intolerance... It is an action that sets company, church, synagogue, mosque and organizational policy to remove from employment or membership any who practice racial, religious or other prejudice. Giving bias, bigotry and racism no quarter and treating discrimination and prejudice the way we treat harassment will send a message to all..." Jeffery B. Spence, E. Dir., Nat Conf Christ & Jews, p. F5, Dec 10 1995. (Story in News & Advance, Article says that he lives in Richmond).

I really don't know that Mr. Jeffery B. Spence is really a Saxon because the children of Esau change their names frequently. But, for the sake of this article let us assume that he is in fact a Saxon. The next question is - how did a Saxon arrive in such a mental condition - the mental condition suffered by yesterday's Turk Janissaries?

I really doubt that the Turks kidnaped him when he was young and trained him from youth to manhood. That's ancient history! There's a better way.

Making A Liberal-Jannissary

Dhamamatra-missionaries were sent to the West many years ago with a bag of gold to spread the "Dharma" message. They found corrupt priests eager to teach Dharma to those that God had placed in their care in exchange for gold or merchandise. They also found educators desperately eager to accept a Dharma-teacher in his educational institution in exchange for a substantial donation from a wealthy Cartel corporation to build a new building on campus.

The result was as predictable as night following day. When children go to church to learn religion and are taught their religion plus Dharma - they become Dharmatized. When they go to a school to become educated and are taught liberal arts plus Dharma - they become "Dharmatized".

Someone who is Dharmatized is a carbon copy of yesterday's "Janissary". They just call them by a different name. The name today is Liberal, Traitor, Apostate! This Spence chap who signed the above most un-liberal letter to the editor probably was himself Dharmatized by a Dharmatized educational system.

The Turk no longer has to "steal" children and Dharmatize them to get their Janissaries. Dharmatized Saxons march off the educational assembly lines every year. They march forth by the hundreds of thousands and millions - fanatical, filled with hate for their own people, their own civilization, and their own God the WORD.

Using Both Jew & Saxon

We discussed the "Jew" in HR #324, #325, #326. We learned that Jewish bloodlines and Talmudic philosophy are traced to India while another part of their bloodline comes from the Turkish- Mongol Khazars of southern Russia.

This means that since they are one of Esau's children, they are Lawless by Christian standards. They tend to do things that Indians normally do, meaning that they will do anything - including lending at usury. Saxons who understand the workings of "usury" often have deep reservations about the practice. There are even Dharmatized Saxons working as Janissaries who are often revolted by the likes of Jerry Springer, Howard Stern, and the virtual Jewish monopoly of pornography, prostitution, and abortion. Combined with continuous media lies and banking deception, it's enough to occasionally cause a Dharmatized Saxon to "get religion" and "go straight" - which can be disastrous.⁶

Sharing Rule

So, we have the Serpent's agents managing the two most important assets the Serpent has - banking and media. They manage these two assets because they will do things that most Saxons are reluctant to do.

But, to ensure that the profits from banking and the advantages that accrue to a media monopoly are not siphoned off into the pockets of the Serpent's servants - Janissaries are utilized to see that the Serpent's servants don't run off with the shop. One of the major jobs of today's Jannissaries is to act as agent- owner and oversee the banking and media operation.

This is why banking and media are operated by Jews, but the "agent-owners" are Saxon Jannissaries.

S. Africa's Orphans

"Dear Dick: Thank your subscribers for the $300 that you sent in their name. When translated into our grossly devalued currency it translates into R3,000. Believe me, we can do a lot with that - and it is necessary.

Yesterday I had a visit from Mrs. H.K. From her I learned about your association with another lady here in SA. We had supported that woman's home for children for sometime before I had the "pleasure" of meeting her. Throughout we have made it a rule never to give money, only food, clothes, medicine and blankets. But, this woman demanded money. This made me suspicious.

About that time I started working with the White Mine Workers Union. We were each supporting the same causes and it seemed more sensible to coordinate our efforts. I then asked them what they thought about how the children's home was being managed.

They expressed reservations, so it was decided we would call in auditors and a lawyer. We soon found out she had taken R50,000 of trust money and was spending it at the local casino. Frankly, we did our best to put her in jail, but the police refused to move. But we did remove 24 of the children, taking them to Bronkhorstspuit. Soon afterwards the trustees of the fund and the Afrikaans churches who had been supporting the orphanage, called in the police. They found she had stolen R500,000, had three identity documents, and had already served time for fraud. I am truly sorry she caught you.

To send money for the children and the needy I do not advise electronic bank transfer. The costs are so great that we are lucky to get 50% of the sum involved.

I agree that my box and house address are not the safest. I am not exactly a pin-up with the ANC/SACP, and police friends tell me I am under pretty regular surveillance. It doesn't worry me unduly - the old National Party did the same, and as far as I know, my activities are law abiding. This does not make me an admirer of the Marxist monsters. Quite the reverse, as they know very well.

With the money you sent we will buy 2,000 kg of special fortified food for the White unemployed up at Vanderbijl

Park. If you would be so kind as to mention us in your excellent newsletter, I would be deeply grateful. We need all the help we can get ... there are so many White unemployed now in SA because of affirmative action, and so many of the churches and almost all charity organizations divert all their activities towards the Blacks. I know many of their people, too, are having a grim time, but my belief is that each community should care for its own, and from the start we have helped Whites only.

I agree with you that our common enemy is by no means the Chosen, although they help. But there are much bigger forces than the Hebraics at work - and they are, from their lights, doing a great job. Our Christian civilization is crumbling on all sides, far faster than I ever believed possible.

With all best wishes, and gratitude on my own behalf and that of our little ones.

God Bless, Aida Parker⁷

RKH: The former manager of the Children's Orphanage didn't catch us. Your S. African correspondent, H.K., went to see her and was also dissatisfied with what she found. She warned us in time and we returned the money that we had collected for the orphanage to our contributors.

HR readers who wish to use their tithes to help the S.A. children, the affirmative action unemployed, and our other SA kinsmen in need, can take their chances and send money to Aida Parker at the above address. REVIVAL: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: A year ago I started a Sunday school class in our church with 4 members. I use your books and newsletters and those of Mr. Eimhouser. The class has grown to over 40 and people are coming in from other churches. The class members want to extend the class to two hours - some want to bring their lunches and continue into the afternoon. The members are incensed that the preachers haven't told them the truth about the Bible. Some say that they have learned more in SS in a few weeks than they have by listening to preachers for 30 years. I thought that you'd like to know that it looks like our people are waking up." S. VOLUNTEER: "Dear Richard: Many months ago you admonished us to volunteer to speak on subjects to any group to which we might belong in order to plant seeds. I took your advice to heart and phoned the head of a woman's organization to which I belong and offered to give a program on the Scottish Declaration of Independence - in the event they needed a program sometime. I soon found myself lined up to speak to the group - all claiming Scottish and Irish ancestry - and a very interested group they were. They listened with much interest and were quite animated and sincere in their applause.

The next thing I knew another woman's organization heard about my talk and wanted me to speak to their group. Then, lo and behold, still another group asked me to speak.

I used Ray Capt's material and beefed up my talk so there could be no question as to the identity of the Israelites from whom the Scottish king, Chancellor and noblemen claimed descent. This poor speaker has now been asked to speak to still another club next winter.

I want to thank you, Richard, for encouraging me to plant seeds to the many who have been deceived by Judeo-Christianity. It has been a real privilege. G.F. - Texas

Chapter 336

SNAKES

Where They Come From

Snakes

Dad was discharged from the army after WWI and bought a medical practice in Hazard, Kentucky. Some of his patients lived only four miles away, but they lived on the other side of the mountain.

That presented a problem. The mountains around Hazard are not only tall, they are great long mountains. By road you sometimes have to drive 50 miles to reach a mountain pass, cross over to the other side, and 50 miles back on the other side of the mountain to reach a patient who lived only 4 miles away. A 200 mile round trip. It was easier and quicker to saddle a horse and ride the 4 miles over the mountain than drive 200 miles.

Practicing Medicine In

Dad had made the trip over the mountain many times and had seen only an occasional snake. One day he rode over the mountain and while calling on a patient there came a cloudburst - a real gully-washer lasting several hours. At last the rain stopped and Dad started to ride back over the mountain.

When he was halfway back he noticed snakes. Only a few at first, but then hundreds and then thousands. They were everywhere. He was afraid that they would bite his horse. Fortunately, they didn't. But all those snakes made a lasting impression on him. The snakes had been there all the time, but it took a cloudburst to bring them out of their dens and into the open.

Serpent's Fangs

There is a close resemblance between the snakes that Dad saw on the mountain in Kentucky, the Serpent that caused

Cross Section Of The Serpent's Fangs

The right fang uses its money monopoly to buy kings to conquer and rule subject states, priests to teach them Dharma, and managers to manage its corporations.

Adam to be banished from the Garden, and the ones all around us today.

Serpents have hollow fangs that channel poison into its victim. If today, we took this serpent, extracted its fangs and cut them in half, and placed them under a microscope so that we could look into them - we could clearly see the poison.

The poison in one fang is the Serpent's "unlimited money." The poison in the other fang is the Serpent's "Cloak of Esau" represented by today's "media". The Serpent only needs these two fangs to rule the world.

Poisoned Money

The world of Esau is the merchant's world. In this world everything is measured by "gold" - or its equivalent.

From earliest times Esau's "merchant-bankers" have been sent into new markets and have offered to lend gold to customers who wanted to buy their precious goods. Initially, the merchants would only accept gold in payment. Customers might borrow 10 pieces of gold from merchant bankers at 10% interest. In ten years the borrower would owe 23.58 pieces of gold. This is the way interest works.¹ This practice is a capital crime punishable by death.

"Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13²;

Usury makes slaves:

A Major Discovery

When we discovered that banks can and do print their own money we learned something important. There is nothing to keep the bankers from printing an extra $1, or

All The World's Central Banks Are Cartel Owned

² "Unto a stranger thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury." Deu 23:20

$1,000,000,000, or $1,000,000,000,000. This last figure is "one trillion". It seems unfair that we have to go to work every day and sweat and slave eight hours and come home, collapse, eat, go to bed - and get up the next morning and do it all over again. BANKS can print money for themselves and they can do whatever they want with the money they create.

Peter Cook, expert on the Federal Reserve states:

"The breakup of Eastern Europe into countless separate political subdivisions will change little as long as they keep their present banking system. If the earth were entirely owned by the banks, and everything was stripped from them, but leaving them the power to create money, the banks can soon create enough credit to buy it all up again."³

Please don't treat the above quote casually. Peter Cook has forgotten more about banking and the Federal Reserve than the next half dozen experts together know. "The banks can soon create enough credit to buy it all up again."

"Credit" creation (money printing) is a Cartel monopoly. To keep it that way a corporation was set up to regulate and police the chaotic credit system that usury had brought into existence - and also put competitors out of business. Similar regulatory agencies were set up in each Cartel market. They used the police power of the state to enforce their edicts. In the US this organization is called the Federal Reserve.

Each country has its own "Federal Reserve". Although called by different names they are all Cartel agents and controlled by it.

The Poisoned Media

Unlimited bank credit allowed the Cartel to buy up the media.

In the middle ages, Catholic priests announced the world view of the Catholic State. There was only one view - that of the Catholic State.

Kings disliked sharing tribute extorted from the people with the Catholic State. They nationalized the Catholic Church and made it a department of their own state. Under new management they called this revised creation the "Protestant Church". This "Protestant Church" then announced the King's "world view". It was a department of state - the king's state.

By the 1830s, unlimited bank-credit allowed the Cartel banks to buy up all the major media in all the countries of the world. Cartel money in the right places kept the kings of the world quiet while this was going on. The Cartel's world view was now the view spread by the media.

The Expanded Media

Since then the Cartel media has expanded to include even the small county newspapers. It also includes book publishers, TV, Radio, and Hollywood. The Cartel media speaks the same in New York, San Francisco, London, Berlin, Moscow, Beijing, and Singapore. In the world today there is one world view - that of the International Trade Cartel.

Little protest publishers like Virginia Publishing Company, and Hoskins Report are tolerated, and are even necessary, since they act as a pressure valve. They help let off pressure that would otherwise become explosive.

Manning The Media Juggernaut

Manning the world's media colossus are hundreds of thousands of individuals who have been carefully culled from the great masses of mankind. A most extraordinary lot they are - alike as peas in a pod. Each was chosen and is rewarded by his willingness to exaggerate, fabricate, deceive, hoax, concoct, equivocate, falsify, perjure, and tell outright lies.

I really dislike condemning an entire profession because it is certain that somewhere out there there is an honest, truthful, reporter somewhere, but other than the ones I knew many years ago before their papers were taken over by the Cartel, I haven't found one - and I have met a great many reporters.

As regards the TV, Peter Jennings damned it when he said that his job was not to report the news but to "form opinions". Really! I thought that our basic opinions were formed by the rules we follow. Mr. Jennings' rule maker is the one who signs his paychecks.

The Hollywood media, in many respects, surpasses the news media as the epitome of deceit. They actually present awards to each other to recognize those actors who deceive the best. Well-known Hollywood personalities - admitted whores and whoremongers - pretend to be plaster saints on the silver screen and recognize each other for their deceit. How sick. They pretend that sodomy, miscegenation, murder and adultery are actually virtues. Is there one of my readers who actually believes that there is a virgin in Hollywood? Or a chaste actor of either sex? Logic says that there must be, but as soon as one is chosen he confesses his transgressions to the Hollywood tabloids.

The ability to gather such a menagerie of moral cripples in one place is an achievement that matches the building of the Golden Gate Bridge or putting a man on the moon. It is almost beyond belief.

Disguising The Poison

Usury is a trick. One borrows 10 and is forced to repay 20. In the usury system, borrowers are always short of money and are being forced to give up their farms, businesses, and homes. Usury is like yesteryear's Coco-Cola. I am told that in the old days Coke actually contained "coke". This made Coco-Cola addictive. It made for a loyal following. Usury banking is the same. Once a borrower, it is extremely difficult to get out of debt.

The banking system is a monopoly. It gives loans to those it chooses and denies them to those it chooses. Its ability to "create money" has allowed it to buy up the world's media. This has resurrected and given real meaning to "Esau's Cloak".

This is how the ITC has gained everything it has. First the world's "usury banking" monopoly. This monopoly allowed the banks to gain the world's "media monopoly". The result is that the ITC has both a money monopoly and a media monopoly.

Spreading The Poison

With both money and media monopoly the Cartel serpent has the power to rule the world.

It sent its missionaries armed with 15 years of intensive training and a blank check into the market area where the Serpent wished to operate. His job - organization.

He first hired a local war chief to protect cartel interests. He became its "king". His symbol is the "eagle". Most kings are of the same moral persuasion as those who operate the Cartel banks and media.

Next, local religious leaders were hired to attach Dharma to their own religion so that their God will not order his followers to kill the merchant.⁴ Dharma is the Hindu merchant's secret weapon successfully used from ancient times. It is the foundation of their mission effort often called Buddhist-Yoga. "Dharma" is based on the 2nd Century BC edict of India's King Asoka which states:

*"One shall not condemn another religion or race by word or deed."
King Asoka.*

Once "Dharma" has been inserted into a local religion, the followers of that religion cannot prohibit entry to the international merchant or his agents.

Christian priests today "see no evil, hear no evil, and speak no evil". Most are of the same moral persuasion as Cartel kings. Such creatures see the evil of usury, that it is a capital crime, but refuse to warn the people. The priests are the reason that usury flourishes and our people are enslaved. They see the false-witness of the media - but do nothing to stop it. Because the priests did not warn the people, their self-sufficient farms have been destroyed, depriving our people of their individual kingdoms which they were to rule forever."⁶

Because they refuse to tell the people that we are not to have kings to rule over us - we now have Cartel kings ruling over us - agents of the Serpent.⁷

With the Cartel king providing protection, Cartel priests to neutralize the people's religious objections to the Cartel merchants - the Cartel merchant arrived safely with bags of gold to buy and sell, make usury loans - and take the wealth of the people and make them slaves.

Janissary

Providing personnel for the governing castes the Cartel uses existing institutions - public school and higher education.

Trusted individuals were added to college "boards-of-visitors" in exchange for handouts and bequests from Cartel corporations. These appointees introduced liberal professors. While "Christian" seminaries died on the vine from lack of money, liberal seminaries flourish. Today, most colleges and seminaries' graduates are as fanatical in support of their alien masters as their Janissary forebears were in years past.

The following comes from a recent letter:

6 "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests unto God." Rev 1:5,6; "The land shall be divided by lot: according to the names of the tribes of their fathers they shall inherit." Nu 26:55; "The land shall not be sold forever: for the land is mine." Lev 25:23

7 "The elders of Israel... came to Samuel... make us a king And the Lord said... the people... have rejected me, that I should not reign over them.... (The king you choose) shall take the tenth of your sheep; and ye shall be his servants. And ye shall cry out in the day because of your king which ye shall have chosen you; and the Lord will not hear you in that day." 1 Sam 8:11-18

"Dear Mr. Hoskins; The reason for this letter is to comment on the condition of the so-called institutions of higher learning in this country. I am a student in a major university in Indiana. I had been told how difficult it is to live a Christian life in today's institutions of higher learning, but never did I expect to encounter such blatant anti-Saxon/anti-Christian indoctrination as I have encountered within this university.

Sir, I will continue to work towards my degree, but my opinions concerning university curriculum has forever changed." B.G. - Indiana

Basic Cartel Government

The basic organization that rules world markets is the Cartel created taxable entity called "country". These countries are organized with a king, priesthood, and corporate-managers.

With cosmetic differences, every country-market in the world is organized in the same manner. They look the same because they basically are the same.

Snakes, Snakes, Everywhere

The result of the Cartel choosing Kings who are like themselves, and training people to serve him - who are like themselves - is that, with few exceptions, they are snakes!

Cartel Priests graduate from Cartel seminaries. They too are like him - more snakes!

Cartel Corporations recruit managers from Cartel universities - still more snakes!

It is with good reason that when we look at Government politicians we see snakes; when we look at the pulpit we see snakes; and when we look at the titans of commerce we see snakes. Snakes, snakes, snakes everywhere. Cartel snakes!!

The good part is this - at long last - WE SEE THEM. The bountiful downpour of knowledge we were promised in these later days has flushed them out. We see them. They are crawling all around us. Like my father crossing the mountains of Kentucky on horseback so many years ago - the snakes are there. They have been there all along. But, NOW we see them - and because we see them we can do something about them.

LETTERS

DRINKING: "Dear Mr. Hoskins; Jesus made wine. Why are you against people drinking wine?" S.C. - California

RKH: Jesus drank wine - the "spirit" of the WORD. Everyone should drink this wine. I'm not against people drinking the other kind. In fact, it is one of my major indicators. If they drink I neither seek nor trust their counsel.

The WORD teaches: "It is not for kings to drink wine, nor princes strong drink: lest they drink and forget the law, and prevent the judgment of the afflicted. Pr 31:4-5

If they drink - even in so-called "moderation" or "socially" - it tells me all I need to know about them.

I've got six children. Two of my daughters drink. I love them dearly and will do anything in the world I can for them, but I neither seek nor trust their judgment. If someone hasn't learned to discipline themselves, why should I accept risks based on their judgment. In both politics and in the army, I never placed a drinker in a position of trust that required clear thinking and judgment.

I don't mind people drinking. It instantly tells me what I need to know about the one with whom I am dealing.

LONG HAIR: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: What's wrong with men having long hair or shaving their heads?" C.S. - Alabama

RKH: The WORD teaches: "Neither shall they shave their heads nor suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only poll (moderately cut) their heads." EZ 44:22; "Doth not even nature itself teach you, that if man have long hair, it is a shame with him." 1 Cor 11:4

Hindu holy men have long hair. Egyptian priests shaved their entire bodies including their heads. Moderate hair cuts are a "Christian" thing.

HOW GOES S. AFRICA? - Aida Parker

Dear Richard; I am often asked by people overseas: "How goes it under the rule by the Noble Savage?" If you place extremely heavy emphasis on the word "savage" but very little on the preceding "noble," then perhaps you have some idea. What on earth persuaded our good friends in the US that the Black majority would fare better under Black rule, I simply cannot imagine. This week's Sunday Times spelt out the story. Its main lead detailed the fact that 75% of all S. Africans today go to bed hungry. And, just below that, it stated that Thabo Mbeki's (Mandella's successor) new, ultra-luxury presidential jet, costing R580 million, would be delivered this week.

That tells it all. The Big Men of the ANC/SACP live, and parade round the world, like monarchs of old, squandering the national treasure with prodigious lack of care for their own people ... this while the unhappy Black majority live in ever-increasing hunger and squalor, dying like flies from often preventable diseases such as TB, malaria and even abdominal worms. It seems a cast iron rule in Africa that all "Big Men" should steal their countries blind, Mbeki, Mandela & Co certainly being no exceptions.

In the old days, quite a number of ANC supporters came quite regularly to see me, to tell me of the glory days to come. Well, under the ghastly F. W. deKlerk, they duly got their dream. And, for quite a while, they duly stayed away. More recently, they have begun to return, with woeful faces and to tell me, in great bitterness, that "life was better under the Whites." "We all had jobs, houses, no one starved, our children behaved, the hospitals, schools, police ... all worked. Now nothing works." They are right, of course. For reasons I cannot explain, nowhere in Africa has the Black man proved a good administrator, capable of running a country competently and well, to the benefit of all its people.

All too frequently, under Black rule, the nation collapses into a muddle of corruption, incompetence, greed, regression and ruin. It is noticeable that, since Black takeover, a huge group of people who did much for this country for many centuries has virtually disappeared. These are the scholastic and medical missionaries. Some have been murdered, others left or otherwise disappeared. A great tragedy, as these were utterly dedicated people who gave their lives to the upliftment of the Blacks, with little or no reward.

Now - and this, needless to say - is deliberate ANC/SACP policy - there are very few purely missionary schools left. And Black parents are right to resent the change. Our so-called Minister of Education, Kader Asmal, former chairman, Irish Communist Party, is not so much interested in education as such as social transformation. OBE is not dedicated to teaching children the three Rs, but to developing their "inner strengths," whatever that might mean. They are taught that Christianity is a lot of old horse manure, devised by the White man as a useful technique for controlling the Black man. This new generation recognizes no rules, of morality, of discipline, of personal responsibility. They are among the most undisciplined and unmanageable SA has ever known. God alone know what sort of country they will make of SA.

Forgive this rambling effort. I am at such sixes and sevens here. I really don't know what I am doing: I think I have written to you to thank your readers for all they are doing for us but am not sure. I am so busy preparing a document of indictment against Robert Mugabe to go to the International Criminal Court that this engages all my attention. Please be patient with me and please give us your prayers. You cannot imagine how bad things are. Though you probably can. God Bless, & with every good wish,

Aida Parker

S. Africa Update - Aida Parker

In the last few weeks, millions of distressed S. Africans, Black and White, unemployed, ill-clad, semi-starving, must have felt that God's hand was truly turned against them, as the country was hit by some of the most extreme and bitter weather experienced in more than 50 years. ...

The plight of those in the vast, unspeakable squatter camps that have spread like a great cancer across the country since the ANC came to power must have been pure purgatory. Together with the Mine Workers Union (Solidarity) we on Mission Rescue did our small best to distribute food, blankets and warm clothing. Here we must say a huge thank you to all those kind folk who rushed warm clothing to us. Five huge packing cases came up from Cape Town and we were grateful to Estelle's son for picking these up at a depot near the airport, and paying all the freight and handling changes.

But it was an impossible task. At the peak of the disaster we heard about a new squatter camp set up by 80 unemployed White miners and their families under tents and dilapidated caravans in the old mining centre. The families include 22 children who, thank God, are being fed by a kindly lady at an informal soup kitchen she established. Can you imagine how cold these people have been? And the only work available to the men is car washing at the nearest town, Westonaria.

The emergency is nationwide. What is happening in much of the farming areas and towns of the Eastern Cape and northern Natal simply doesn't bear thinking about. So deep is the blanket of snow that for days on end not even rescue helicopters could get in. Many have died and there have been huge stock losses from the extreme cold with sheep and cattle unable to get at the grazing.

Oh, well. That's Africa for you. You may gauge how cold it was when I tell you the South Africans now living in Canada phoned with advice on how to keep warm! Spare a prayer for us - and the poor Zimbabweans. God Bless. Aida Parker Newsletter, July, South Africa

S. Africa by H.K.

Dear Mr. Hoskins; The White Mine Workers has been helping with the White orphans. We may have a problem. Flip Buys, secretary of the MWU is the son-in-law of one of the generals involved in the "peaceful" transfer of power to blacks. He was also the secretary of Constand Viljoen. They are the types who will drive past begging white children and stop to give something to a black one. Once bitten - twice shy. To be on the safe side we must keep careful watch and make lists of traitors like my grandmother did after the Anglo-Boer War. We will continue to keep a close watch on developments.⁸ I believe Aida Parker is solid.

⁸ Thank you. You saved us last time. This month we sent $500 from subscribers to help our needy kinsmen. Another $200 just arrived.

In Zimbabwe, although the white farmers have been told to get out, 60% still remain on their farms, but they are not allowed to farm, harvest, or even feed domestic animals. Mugabe's henchmen got the best farms. He apparently owes Gadaffi so much for fuel that a great many of the white farms will go to him for payment.

The Human Rights Commission is making false accusations against white farmers. The same thing happened in the early 1800s. Any story by blacks and coloreds, however farfetched, is taken as the truth by the courts. That was one of the big reasons why the "Great Trek" took place. It was mostly the missionaries who saw to it that farmers were dragged before courts with fictitious complaints against them. This is one of the reasons we dislike missionaries to this day.

Best Wishes, H.K.

UNFILTERED NEWS

KENNEWICK MAN: Portland, Ore. A federal judge has ordered the government to allow scientists study the bones of Kennewick Man. The ancient skeleton was discovered on the banks of the Columbia River in 1996. It is believed to be that of a 9,300 year old Caucasian male. Confirmation would change the American Indian's "native American" designation back to Indian again. The government attempted to turn the bones over to local Indians to be buried before they could be inspected. Kennewick man

AIDS IN CHINA: The New York Times says that places in China are beginning to suffer from the AIDS plague that leaves villages destitute of parents and with an over-abundance of orphaned children.

PRIESTS FIGHT BACK: The Vatican has left their priests and bishops to handle the avalanche of sodomy/pedophilia charges themselves. They are handling the matter by accusing those filing the charges with "slander". This will certainly put a damper on future accusations.

RESPONSIBLE?: A mass grave of hundreds of captured Taliban fighters has been discovered. They were suffocated in shipping containers last year. The puppet army of the US, the Northern Alliance, former allies of the Soviets, are believed to be responsible.

LAWLESSNESS: The American Bar Association picked a black former big-city politician to break a 125-year string of white presidents. Dennis Archer, a past Michigan Supreme Court justice and two-term mayor of Detroit was elevated to president-elect of the 408,000-member association. He pledged to emphasize diversity.

RKH: The ABA represents the king. God's law says "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15

MORE LAWLESSNESS: Andrew Williams, 16 was sentenced to 50 years to life in prison for a 2001 shooting rampage in his high school that killed two and wounded 13.

RKH: This twice violates the Law: Hinduism requires someone violent to be restrained (prison). The WORD which is our God requires, "Whoso killeth any person, the murderer shall be put to death." Num. 35:29-30

Second: To wait a year to sentence someone is also unlawful; "Because the sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of man is fully set to do evil." Eccl 8:11

GREENSPAN KNIGHTED: Queen Elizabeth II knighted the head of the U.S. Federal Reserve. Americans receiving such titles may use the letters KBE after their names. Other recipients include Presidents Reagan and George H. W. Bush.

RKH: Question: Why does the British crown honor certain Americans? Therein lies a story.

ARCHBISHOP: Rowan Williams, 52, Welsh archbishop, appointed Britain's 104th Archbishop of Canterbury, leader of the Anglican church; by Prime Minister Tony Blair in London. Williams favors ordination of sodomites.

RKH: I remember the Episcopal service in the Lincoln Cathedral in the early '80s. A magnificent edifice in wonderful repair, at least two priests, 50 or more paid choir members, and SIX worshipers sitting in a place designed for 2,000. The Anglican Church is another state church having access to virtually unlimited wealth. I visited the church of an Anglican rector that had NO parishioners. He spent his time managing church assets. Of course, over the Archbishop is the Queen. She was listed as an owner of the defunct Barings Bank - Barings "usury" Bank.

Chapter 337

THE DEVIL And The ANTI-CHRIST

Where The Devil Lived

I knew where the devil lived when I was a boy . He lived on Boonsboro Road on a slow rise just before reaching the deserted log cabin. He lived on the right-hand side in a big mass of honeysuckle. It was dark in there. It was always dark - even in the daytime - and the dirt smelled funny.

Colored people didn't like to walk out Boonsboro Road by themselves during the day. They positively would not walk out that road at night. I didn't like to walk out there day or night.

The cabin is gone now and James River Day School has been built just beyond the rise, but on that rise is where the devil lived.

When I was grown an old tobacco farmer told me how the story got started. He said that his father told him that long time ago Indians killed and scalped a man there. Indians were devils. They broke the Laws.

Words

We use certain words to describe an entire concept that would otherwise require hundreds or even thousands of words. A single word in the place of thousands. It's a short-cut way of thinking. The more words you know the faster you think.

There are three words that we should have in our vocabulary and know their meaning: Christ, Anti-Christ and Devil.

DEVIL: "(One in) rebellion against God; ... the implacable enemy ... A very wicked person." Am Dict Of The Eng Lang, 1828

CHRIST: (Gr: anointed ... Christ. Messiah: (Heb - "anointed") Strong's Concordance. Christ is the "Word made flesh".

ANTI-CHRIST: "Adversary of Christ ... extends to any persons who deny Christ or oppose the fundamental doctrines of Christianity." Am Dict Of The Eng Lang, 1828

We consider anyone or anything who opposes the anointed - "WORD made flesh" - "Jesus the "Christ"" - as being a devil.

Now, with these three words in our quiver of arrows - its time to use them.

Christianity - Two Kinds

There are two kinds of Christinity; "Kingdom Christianity" and "Slave Christianity" also known as universalism. These are two entirely different religious beliefs having little in common except "bells and whistles" terminology.

Kingdom Christianity

"Kingdom Christianity" is the effort by man to obey The WORD which is man's God.

"Man" was created by The WORD. "The WORD" appointed Adam-man "kings and priests" and ordered him to rule the world.

To accomplish this, The WORD dictated rules. They are simple. Everything is permitted that is not forbidden. Some things forbidden are:

- * usury
- * false witnesses
- * taxes
- * strangers
- * kings
- * monopolies
- * undivided land

Obedience to The WORD is Lawfulness. Lawfulness allows The WORD to freely reign so that it can produce prosperity and health. The gift to adam-man of God's Laws allows him to fly in the air, live under the sea, travel to the planets, feed the masses, and cure diseases. The WORD has given all this to adam-man.

Adam-man's ancient enemies, the sons of Cain, now called the Sons-of-Esau and various other names, have stolen the fruit of The WORD for themselves. They have done this using the Cloak of Esau (false-witness media) and Asoka's Bequest (usury-banking).

Using usury-banking and media monopoly, Esau spread his domains setting up puppet governments as he went to rule his trade areas called "countries". He appointed "kings" who kept the peace, "managers" to manage foreclosed assets, and "priests" to bless Esau's agents and their operation.

Slave Christianity

Priests appointed by Esau are those;

"Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof." 2 Tim 3:1-5

They have to have a form of "godliness" so the people will respect them. Only then can they bless the things Esau's kings and merchants are doing. They have "a form of godliness but deny the power thereof."

Let us briefly trace their history.

The Son-of-man came to return The WORD to his people. He said;

"Think not that I am come to destroy the law of the prophets: I am not come to destroy but to fulfill." Matt 5:17

This meant that the Law that was in the beginning was still in force. But, the Law included the absolute ban of; * usury * false witnesses * taxes * strangers * kings * monopolies * undivided land.

Empire's can't exist when The WORD is enforced. The Roman Empire was a vast "monopoly". It was an Empire whose emperor appointed "kings" to rule its provinces. The province/country of these king's were "taxed". Most of the land was "undivided" and in the hands of "usury-bankers", and every second person one met was a "stranger" who supplied cheap labor and who would do things that Adam-man would not do.

The Law that Jesus came to fulfill meant a revolution. Jesus the Christ was a revolutionary. He still is. The revolution that he brought spread and nearly brought the Roman Empire to its knees.

Suppression

The Empires attempt at suppression included prison, whippings, lions, and mass crucifixions. Nothing worked. Then, the oriental covert method was tried;

The Empire "pre-empted" Christianity - it took it over. Christianity became "state Christianity". The Empire appointed the bishops and priests. They became "state priests".. Some of the books used by the 1st century Christians were compiled into a holy book called the Bible, but the people were not allowed to read it. A state religion manned by state priests had been created. This made possible all those things The WORD prohibited.

The Empire's new religion converted the troublesome WORD into a compliant censored, universalist, episcopal, state religion.

Reform

Deprived of The WORD, the Empire sank into the "dark ages." Religious reformers at times arose and gathered masses of followers who shook the State with reform ideas. The religious state patiently waited until the reformer died and used their episcopal authority to appoint his successor. Soon, all was as it had been before and the "reform" died on the vine.

Reformation

Appointing successors worked until the Reformation. This time things were different. Reformers were given protection by rebellious "kings" and when the reformers died other reformers took up their mantle. Soon there were Lutherans, Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians, and a host of other groups. Something had to be done.

Trojan Horse Seminaries

The Cartel's solution worked. The Cartel ordered its merchants and their corporations to donate money to build seminaries to train preachers for the reformed religions.

These Cartel-financed seminaries graduated Baptists insistent on "water baptism", Methodists insistent on Bible "methodology", and Presbyterians insistent on belief in "pre-destination" - and all of them had been taught to ignore The WORD's condemnation of "usury", "false witnesses", "taxes", "strangers", "kings", "monopolies", and "undivided land". Except for "bells and whistles" it has become almost impossible to distinguish the graduate of one seminary from the graduate of another. Almost all are "universalists". The Cartel got to them with its Trojan Horse.

Painting With A Paint Brush

Readers, please don't condemn all preachers. Not ALL priests who graduate from Cartel seminaries are evil. There are seminary-educated preachers who are the salt of the earth - who hold up The WORD with their every breath.

Distinguishing between those who are seminary educated to be "evil" and those who are "saints" is easy. Use The WORD.

"By their acts ye shall know them." Matt 7:20

Don't believe people when they say that "this one" or "that one" is the exception. Go see and hear for yourself. If you enter a religious building and see "strangers" preaching from the pulpit or seated in the congregation; don't you judge - let God's Law judge:

"The stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." Num 18:7, (Num 1:51).

"A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." De 23:2

Is it a sin to tolerate strangers? What did the WORD say? The WORD says it's a sin. What does The WORD say about those who tolerate sin?

"He that committeth sin is of the Devil." 1 John 3:8.

The WORD judges the one who allows the violation to take place, or who refuses to speak out against it, to be guilty. The WORD says that he is "of the devil". He is against The WORD, The WORD which is our "anointed savior" our "christ". Being against our "christ" makes him "anti-christ".

God fearing priests teach that "taxes" are evil;

"Of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers." (Gr: allotrios - foreign, not akin.) ... Then are the children free." Matt 17:25-26.¹

God-fearing priests teach that "kings", and those acting as kings, ruling us is evil.

"Then all the elders of Israel... came to Samuel... make us a king ... And the Lord said... the people... they have not rejected thee, but they have rejected me, that I should not reign over them." I Sam 8:11-18

Men of God teach that "monopoly" is evil.

"Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, and they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth." Isaih 5:8

¹ "Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them ... find a piece of money. That take, and give unto them." Matt 17:27

God-fearing priest teach that "the land is to be divided" so that every man can have his own kingdom to rule.

"Joshua divided the whole land by lots to Israel for an inheritance, as the Lord had commanded him." Jasher 90:19; "The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... To many thou shalt give the more ... to few thou shalt give the less ... the land shall be divided by lot: according to ... their fathers they shall inherit ..." Num 26:53-55 GB "Ye shall not offer unto the Lord ... an offering thereof in your land." Lev 22:24

God-fearing priests teach that "usury" is a curse, an evil that makes slaves of borrowers.

"Hath given forth upon usury ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13.. ! 2

Conclusion

The WORD says;

"For if we sin willfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins. But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation ... He that despised Moses' law died without mercy ... Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God ('The Word made flesh'). ... For we know him that ² The usury contract is simply lending 10 of anything when only 10 exists and demanding repayment of 11. Usurers know that this type of contract is impossible to fulfill from the moment it is conceived. (USURY: nâshak, "to strike with a sting as a serpent; to oppress with interest on a loan: - bite, lend upon usury." (Strongs Concordance) hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord." Deut 32:27-35³

This is the punishment set for those who have abandoned their trust to teach The WORD.

This handfull of evils listed above allows the Cartel Empire to make slaves of the peoples of the the world. Those evils are permitted by universalists who have crept into our pulpits whom The WORD condemns as devils and anti-christs.

Once again,

"For if we sin willfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins." Deut 32:27

Those priests who teach The WORD are to be praised and supported.

PREACHERS WHO KNOW BUT REFUSE TO TELL THE FAITHFUL

The ones damned by The WORD are those who refuse to teach The WORD and instead conceal The WORD that would pull down the International Trade Cartel. According to Scripture, they are "devils" and "anti-christs".

³ "The Lord shall judge his people." Deut 32:36; It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God." Heb 10:26-31

When I was a boy the devil lived on the rise on Boonsboro Road just before reaching the deserted logcabin. Now, I am grown and have learned that a lot of the devils live here in town. They live in big buildings that have tall steeples. We know that they are devils because they know The WORD and they conceal it from others who desperately need it to save their lives.

They are evil. They are "devils" and "anti-christs" and well deserve the reward that God has planned for them.

Letter From S. Africa by H.K.

Dear Mr. Hoskins: We received more information of Zimbabwe. Under tribal custom, Mbeki, President of S. Africa, and Mugabe, President of Zimbabwe, are family. Mugabe's second wife is Mbeki's cousin and tribes look after their own. It also seems that Mbeki has exactly the same aim as Mugabe. They both want to get rid of whites, especially Africaners. The media is used here to vilify and degrade them every way possible.

Mbeki's renegade white police make it their task to stop any white revolt before it starts. To do this they make use of agent- provocateurs. These people encourage fellow whites to plan resistance and then they report it to the police. The media and the agent-provocateurs are groups who are very well paid.

We feel sorry for the whites who are accused of high treason. I heard a name Friday and remembered a certain individual who used to keep on saying that something must be done about the deplorable conditions. He was able to get some fellow whites to plan something and then turned them in and was a state witness against them. He now lives in a safe house.

Aida Parker had a stroke two weeks ago and was taken to the hospital with a bleeding clot on her brain. Estelle Lombard, her friend, told us that Aida had been busy working on the August Newsletter, which a friend will finish. But, if she does not improve - it will be the last issue.

At least two of the blacks who received amnesty from Mbeki are back in the news. One murdered a white businessman and the other was involved in a money transit robbery. The money transit robber was one of the murderers in the St. James Church affair where they sprayed the congregation with machine gun fire. Eleven people died.

We had the World Summit meeting. Gadaffi and Mugabe turned up. The latter gave a speech this afternoon about his great victory getting rid of white farmers and his black opposition.

It has been a harsh winter and it is incredible how much groceries prices have increased. I must get to work and plant vegetable seed as soon as the ground warms up.

A few younger members of the Mandela family died from Aids. He feels it should not be kept secret.

With best wishes, K.J.

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: What really happened to the Bucannon campaign for president? I was expecting much more than was delivered." C.C. - Virginia

RKH: Mr. Bucannon made a fatal mistake. The Law says, "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee." Deu 17:15. When he selected a black for his running mate his supporters left him.

Sodom On The James

Nationally known sodomite, Rev. Mel White, and his partner Gary Nixon, have come to town and rented a house across the street from Rev. Jerry Falwell's Thomas Road Baptist Church where they will attend services. Rev. Falwell is quoted as saying, "they will not be turned away."

The News & Advance quotes White as saying that he hopes to influence all of Lynchburg, not just the Thomas Road community. He said that he plans to meet with other pastors. "They've already welcomed us and I'm having lunch with ministers around the city one at a time.

Rev Mel White
Christian Church in 1999

All the churches are in various stages of acceptance. If I can help any of the pastors here to help their congregations, we're just as interested in the other churches as in Jerry".

On his last visit to Lynchburg, The Reverend Mel White and his entourage held services in The Reverend Zimmerman's Rivermont Avenue 1st Christian Church. Now, Thomas Road Baptist, the church the media calls "extreme right wing", is allowing him to attend worship service there. If both the left wing and the right wing Lynchburg churches accept sodomites, many Lynchburgers will believe that it MUST be all right for ALL to accept sodomites.

Bishop Jack Spong

Last year at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Bishop Spong spoke approvingly of the sodomite priests in his diocese.

We are quite sure that since Lynchburg's ministers are in effect sponsoring the attending sodomites, they must be exceptions, and except for minor aberrations that can be overlooked, they are like all other law-abiding citizens.

However, as Lynchburg's Sodomite Coalition comes together, a few things should be remembered. God's Commandment still states:

"If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination." Le 20:13

Accepting sodomites is to sponsor them. That is fighting God.

There are other things.

"According to an Associated Press article the 5 leading serial killers in the U.S. are sodomites. They are: 1) Donald Harvey (37 murders); John Wayne Gacy (33 murders); 3) Patrick Wayne Kearney (32 murders); 4) Dean Corll, Elmer Wayne Henley, and David Owen Brooks (27 Murders; and 5) Juan Corona (25 murders). These statistics are from the NY Times, which mentions additional homosexual serial killers not mentioned in the AP article. These are Bruce Davis (28 Murders), and Stephen Kraft (16 murders). (Christian News 7/23/01)

"Homosexuals make up less than 3% of the American population yet they have perpetuated about 68% of all serial killings in the last 20 years." (The WITNESS, Aug 2001, Curtis Dickinson, Ed, POB 292663, Lewisville, TX 75029)

Lynchburg's News & Advance of Sept 27, 2002, A2 says;

"An increase in syphilis infections among gay and bisexual men in New York and elsewhere indicates they may be letting their guard down against sexually transmitted diseases ... 93% of those cases were among men; of those, 79% reported having male sexual partners"

In view of the above, it may behoove the City of Lynchburg's Health and Police Departments to closely monitor Lynchburg's churches that accept sodomites. An increase in either sexually transmitted diseases or homicides may indicate that sodomites are making converts of its members. If this should prove to be the case, the advisability of shutting down the offending churches as health and/or safety hazards to the rest of Lynchburg's citizens should be considered.

UNIVERSALISM: SAN FRANCISCO - The superior court has adopted a policy prohibiting judges from associating with organizations that "discriminate" against sodomites.

RKH: Empires are universalist or they aren't empires. Their rulers, judges, state priests and great merchants must also be universalist. One who accepts all religions, customs, and races is by Hindu definition a Hindu. Hindus do not have to practice other religions - he must merely tolerate them. Buddhism is a tolerant Hindu religion that tolerates all religions - except "separatist" religions.

The Alyson Almanac, Church Policies on Gay Concerns, pp 234-239, states; "Alone among the major world religions, Buddhism does not condemn homosexuality or premarital sex. The emphasis on Buddhism is on achieving a state of enlightenment, but the religion provides only guidelines, not strict commandments, as to how individuals should strive for this. Rape and adultery are considered misconduct, but an individual is free to engage in consenting sexual acts that do not violate marital monastic commitments."

The fact that many calling themselves "Christian" tolerate sodomy and premarital sex proves that they follow another God.

UNIVERSALISM: The 4th US Circuit Court of Appeals judge upheld the Univ N.C. mandatory study of Islam. Opponents say that the stated goal was "not to convert them but to coerce them into believing a positive view of the religion."

SICKLE CELL

"Though widely viewed as a 'black disease,' sickle cell anemia is not a function of race. In Africa, the Mediterranean and South America, some people are born with a mutation that makes them immune to malaria. This 'benefit' if balanced against the probability that two parents with the mutation will produce children with sickle cell disease. It strikes Arabs, Turks, Greeks, Egyptians, Iranians, Italians, Latin Americans and people from India. The World Health Organization estimates that 250,000 children are born with the disease each year. In the United States, most victims are black; their condition can be traced through slave migrations. The Muskegon Chronicle.

Chapter 338

DOGS, HATERS, RACISTS, FAGOT FEST

Dogs

Dogs and people are what their masters train them to be.

As far as my dogs are concerned, they are obedient. Obedient dogs can be trusted. Trusted dogs can be given a great deal of freedom.

Joshua, Sarah, and Little Kate have more freedom than most dogs. In our yard they may roam as far as they like as long as they remain within the yard. The property line is the boundary. "Over-the-line" belongs to someone else and is off limits.

When outside the yard, they may go as far as they like - as long as they remain in sight. Of course, that depends on whether we are in the country or in town.

When in our yard, they may chase squirrels and deer. The chase ends at the line. When in the woods, they may chase deer and squirrels wherever they like. They cannot chase them in the neighborhoods we walk through; those deer and squirrels belong to someone else, and besides, it's upsetting to some people to see a little black dog chasing two big Rotweillers through their yards - at least that's what appears to be happening.

My dogs are forbidden to fight other dogs or chase cats. They may socialize if their owners agree.

When approaching people on the sidewalk, they "heel"; Joshua next to me, then Sarah, with Little Kate on the outside. People frightened by dogs are reassured to see them at "heel". They seldom notice that most times they are not "on-leash".

After they pass I say "OK" and the dogs are again free to do as they like - except to go into the road. Going into the road and getting killed is forbidden.

When going into a bank or restaurant, they sit outside until I come out. Roaming around is forbidden; it could be dangerous.

Oftentimes when I come back to the car I find that the dogs have attracted friends.

Neither are they allowed to jump up on people when playing. No exceptions. Jumping up on someone could knock them down and break bones. This could result in difficulties. When I leave the car to go into a store, they sit in the car until I get back. They do not have permission to jump out - a passing car might kill them.

They must be nice.

They must stop when I tell them to stop. They must stop at that very moment! This has saved their lives more than once when another step would have put them under the wheels of a speeding car. My dogs have no fear of cars. Cars are fun to ride in. My dogs don't understand that these same wonderful cars can kill them.

I am not concerned that my dogs don't know why they are ordered to do certain things and forbidden to do other things, I am content to know that obedience keeps them as safe as I can possibly keep them.

We see other dogs locked in cars with their windows rolled up almost to the top, confined in pens, or kept on chains and leashes and don't even know that they are abused. Compared to these unfortunate animals, my dogs are as free as birds.

Obedience is the price of freedom.

Across The River

Across the James from Lynchburg in Madison Heights lived a man who owned three St. Bernards. Beautiful dogs they were. The owner didn't train them and they grew up lawless and had to be restrained in pens. It has been my experience that untrained dogs restrained in pens with little guidance become aggressive over time. These dogs became aggressive and had that reputation among their neighbors.

One day these dogs got out and tore two young girls to pieces. The dogs were shot and their owner jailed.

The Lesson

The lesson is simple. It is the same for man and beast:
OBEY - and live;

"Come unto me ... and ye shall eat the fat of the land." Gen 45:18

OR - Disobey and die;

"Mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring them hither, and slay them before me." Luke 19:27

HATE!

Our enemies have robbed, starved, enslaved, tortured and butchered our people by the millions. They are wonderful teachers. They have taught us to hate.

The WORD of God tells us to hate!

"I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee ... I hate them with a perfect hatred." Ps 139:21-22

We are not better than the WORD. If hating is good enough for the WORD it certainly is good enough for us! Whom do we hate? We hate those who hate the WORD - the Laws, statutes, and judgments. We hate them because the WORD requires us to hate those who hate God.

Jesus, "the WORD made flesh" said;

"He that hateth me (the WORD made flesh) hateth my Father also." John 15:23

Some say that "God loves the sinner and hates the sin." This is Hindu talk. What does the WORD say about this:

"The ungodly and his ungodliness are both alike hateful unto God." Wisdom of Solomon 14:9

It doesn't stop there:

"Shouldest thou help the un-Godly, and love them that hate the Lord? therefore is the wrath upon thee from before the Lord." II Cron 19:2

We are to hate those that hate the WORD and love those who love the WORD - period.

It is the Law. Those who violate the WORD hate God:

"I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee ... I hate them with a perfect hatred." Ps 139:21-22

The WORD tells us to hate and tells us WHOM to hate.

RACIST

God the WORD is racist.

To start off - He gave us racist names:

MAN¹ and ISRAEL.² God made Adam-Man different from all others. That's racist.

The first Commandment he gave "man" is:

"Thou shalt have no other gods before me." Ex 20:3

If someone follows a rule that opposes the Commandments of the WORD - that person has another god. Our God says:

"O children of Israel ... you only have I known of all the families of the earth." Amos 3:1-2

That's racist. How about this:

"I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matthew 5:24

There's more:

"The LORD thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto Himself, above all the people that are upon the face of the earth." Deut 7:6

That's racist, too. How about this:

"The house of Israel, are my people ... And ye my flock ... are men (Heb: adam - those that blush rosy), and I am your God." Ezek 34:30-31

1 : Heb: Adam 119 - "to show blood(in the face), ie: to flush or turn rosy: - be (dyed, made) red(ruddy). Strong's Concordance

2 Heb: Yisrâ'el - "He will rule as God ... also his posterity." Strong's Concordance. In addition to the many Biblical proofs, there is the Scottish Declaration of Independence and Queen Elizabeth's genealogy - all prove our descent.

The mere fact that the WORD made you to blush rosy making you easily identifiable from all other people in the world is racist. The WORD leaves one in no doubt:

"For in the division of the nations of the whole earth he set a ruler over every people; but Israel is the Lord's portion." Ecclesiasticus 17:17

Or this:

"Among all the multitudes of people thou hast gotten thee one people: and unto this people, whom thou lovest, thou gavest a law that is approved of all." II Esdras 5:27

Or, the thing the universalist dread above all else:

"Israel then shall dwell in safety alone." Deut 33:28

If Israel is to dwell in safety alone it means that non-Israel will have to live somewhere else. When that happens the wolf will have no sheep to kill.

God the WORD warns the wolf:

"He that toucheth Israel toucheth the apple of His eye." Zech 2:8

Scripture is full of one racist quote after another, all racist.

"Withdraw from among the Gentiles and do not eat with them, and do not according to their actions, and be not their companion, for their actions are unclean and all their ways are defiled." Jubilees 22:17³

We are not even allowed to have a mixed-breed enter our nation - even if his mother or his father are of Israel:

³ Saxons took these quotes literally and demanded separate eating establishments.

"A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." Deut 23:2.

God even forbids us to admit a stranger who proclaims belief in our God:

"(The aliens) ... came to ... the chief of the fathers, and said unto them ... we seek your God, as ye do... But ... the fathers of Israel, said unto them, Ye have nothing to do with us to build a house unto our God; but we ourselves together will build unto the Lord God of Israel." Ezra 4:1-3

God forbids strangers to approach where we study the WORD:

"The stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." Num 18:7, Num 1:51

God the WORD is racist. He requires his followers to be racists as he is.

As for those who know⁴ these things but still deny the WORD:

"I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee ... I hate them with a perfect hatred." Ps 139:21-22

The WORD that is God says that we are commanded to hate. We are to be racists.

Because we don't hate as God hates, and are not racist as God is racist - we are being punished for our disobedience. Because of our present ongoing punishment our enemies say that our God has abandoned us. BUT, like all else they say, this too is a lie.

⁴ "To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not, to him it is sin." Jas 4:17

The WORD says:

"Thus sayeth the Lord, who giveth the sun ... and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars ... who divideth the sea ... If those ordinances depart ... then the seed of Israel shall also cease from being a nation before me forever ... If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, I will also cast off all the seed of Israel for all they have done, sayeth the Lord." Jer. 31:35-37

Did you notice the moon and the stars last night? Absolutely beautiful! and what a story they tell; The WORD which is our God unceasingly watches over us.

THE STRAWMAN FAGOT FEST

Soulforce's Fagot Fest was designed to be a media event - to help publicize the sodomite agenda and to gain a foothold in Lynchburg in Lynchburg churches.

The wholehearted support of the Lynchburg News & Advance gave it all the publicity it needed. On Oct 22, the N & A gave Mel White and his group a glowing front-page write-up (one of four such write-ups). One of its captions stated that Soulforce was;

"A group dedicated to helping gays find acceptance in churches."

The Rev. Roger Zimmerman of First Christian Church allowed arriving sodomites to use his church in which to meet, organize, and host some of their events.⁵

⁵ Earlier this year he officiated in the marriage of his daughter to a Jew.

For the newspaper, Zimmerman said, "On behalf of the religious community of Lynchburg, I want to welcome all the Soulforce members." The last time they were in town he allowed the sodomites to hold services in First Christian sanctuary.

Soulforce arrival caused First Christian Church to draw protesters. They carried signs; "FIRST SODOMITE CHURCH", Repent", "Homosexuals", "Repent or Perish." People drove by and blew their horns in approval, calling out their support. One shouted "Right on!"

There were no end of policemen in sight. It was the same way when the Southern Poverty Law Center's Morris Dees was invited to speak at Lynchburg College. There were police all over the place, then, too.

This picture shows a small group of police in front of the church the protesters call "First Sodomite."

The officer with the sun glasses is Lynchburg's police chief, Chuck Bennett.

When the N & A went after me three years ago for writing "War Cycles / Peace Cycles", a book on Christian economics which was alleged to have been found at the scene of a crime in California, he offered no help when crowds of reporters milled about in front of my house and threats were hurled about, and he ignored my request to have a patrol car drive by the house occasionally. While all this was going on my phone was ringing with private detective agencies offering to provide protection.

After several phone calls, he agreed to assign a policeman to whom I could give the license numbers of cars who were following me. But, I soon discovered that was a one-way street. I gave the police the license numbers but they would never tell me who was following me. I was able to find out, anyway.

At the Fagot Fest⁶ I did have fun with the police. I would walk up to a group of policemen and with a serious expression on my face ask them if they "volunteered" for sodomite duty or were they "assigned". Without exception, the group would answer as one man, "Assigned!" I laughed, and they laughed.

NOTE: The occasional policeman with a Napoleon complex give the rest a black eye, but most police officers are regular guys. However, they work for the City. This means their FIRST priority is property protection. If individuals are mugged or killed, they will investigate, but they are never around to prevent a crime. That's not their job. You must protect yourself.

It's the system and the police do the best they can to deal with it.

Balloons

The Soulforce group made impressive displays with balloons. They had evidently done this in other places before.

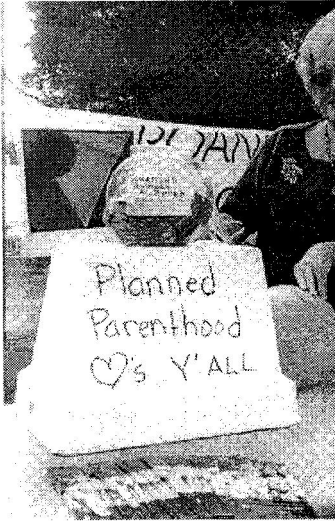

Speakers

On the steps of the park pavilion their speakers held forth and their singers made fun of Jerry Falwell - which was obviously a poke at a strawman. The Sodomites were here to make Lynchburg Churches accept them. Zimmerman's First Christian and Jerry Falwell's "Thomas Road Baptist Church" have both thrown their doors open to them.

The so-called "confrontation" at Thomas Road was no confrontation - they were already in. Just a line-up to get headlines from an approving media.

Counter Demonstration

On the next page are protesters carrying signs. In a city with countless preachers - there were only three that I could see to protest the sodomite crusade: Rev Emmitt Horsley of Zion Hill Baptist Church in Forest, Rev Richard Knodel of Grace Presbyterian - who is using a bull horn in disputing with the sodomite, and a Rev Bruce Murch from Campbell Co. The rest of Lynchburg's preachers were noticable by their absence.

Billy Sunday

Lynchburg, "City of Steeples", is said to have had more warehouses, bars, and gambling parlors than any place for its size east of the Mississippi River. They co-existed peacefully with most of the church crowd just as the sodomites do today.

This state of affairs concerned some Lynchburgers and they invited an evangelist named Billy Sunday to hold a crusade here.

I was told that when Billy Sunday saw Lynchburg, he was shocked and said that he would come and stay until the town changed or he was dead.

He started his crusade under a tent at the old fairgrounds near where Timberlake Road and the Airport Road fork. Rain or shine, he held forth. I was told that sometimes he held services when only three or four people were huddled in the cold to hear him.

Gradually, Lynchburgers began to come to hear him. They filled the tent and the overflow stood outside.

That's when he began holding services in one of Lynchburg's great warehouses. The warehouses are mostly all gone now, but the larger Lynchburg tobacco warehouses were great big things. To fill one one them like you see in this picture would take a good part of Lynchburg's population.

Lynchburg had a lot of bad actors. As they repented and stopped going to the whorehouses, bars and gambling halls, most closed down from lack of customers. In time Billy Sunday felt his job was done here and he went elsewhere. But, I remember some of the changed men he left behind. There was nothing limp-wristed about them; they would look you in the eye. These were the kind of men who repented under his ministry.

I knew them when they were as old as I am today, and they never stopped talking about the man who told them what the WORD required of them.

LETTERS

LOVE SINNERS - HATE SIN: "Dear Mr. Hoskins; Is it true that the Bible teaches, 'God loves the sinner but hates the sin?'" I.M. - Florida

RKH: I can't find it. The closest that I find is; "For the ungodly and his ungodliness are both alike hateful unto God." Wisdom of Solomon 14:9

AIDA PARKER: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: We have suffered a major tragedy. Aida had a severe stroke which left her paralyzed on her left side. Her long-term memory is intact. She is receiving the best possible care. The cards and letters she receives give her great pleasure. Her children's charity MISSION RESCUE will continue as before. Please keep her in your prayers. Thank you." Estelle Lombard

RKH: We will help Mission Rescue to continue. See p.8 of NL for addresses. Those children are our flesh and blood and need our help.

 BARNES REVIEW: "Dear Mr. Hoskins; Why did you cancel your scheduled talk at Barnes Review?" H.R. - Kansas

RKH: About 15 people have asked. Barnes Review invited me to speak. It's a prestigious revisionist meeting attended by people from around the world. I was given 40 minutes. As meeting time approached I was cut to 30 minutes; then 20 minutes, then 15 minutes and at last 10 minutes. I withdrew.

A friend attended the meeting and asked them why? He said he was told it was because I was "anti-Catholic". He responded that I was anti those who were against the WORD. He received no reply.

My observation: There are irons in the fire that we are just learning about. Beware conservatives who refuse to reveal the rule system they live by. You might not like the truth.

 POLITICAL SUPPORT: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: Who should we support politically?" - R. S. - Washington

RKH: Let the candidate tell us. A political candidate need take just 3 simple stands. 1) Abolish usury. 2) Root sodomists from the land. 3) Outlaw racial adultery.

Such a stand will burn bridges.

 USURY: "Dear Richard; You talk against interest but work in the stock market. Isn't that the same?" N.D. - California

RKH: Investing in stock is like owning shares in a business. Usury is lending 10 for 11. You are allowed to lend at interest to your enemy to destroy him - not your kinsman.

Scripture says, "Hath given forth upon usury ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13. Scripture also says, "Unto a stranger thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury." Deut 23:20 You can buy corporate bonds from companies owned by strangers. You cannot buy church bonds owned by kinsmen.

LETTERS FROM THE PAST

MEDIA: "Dr. Walter Jones: Dear Sir: "I deplore, with you, the putrid state into which our newspapers have passed, and the malignity, the vulgarity, and mendacious spirit of those who write for them; and I enclose you a recent same ... as a proof of the abyss of degradation into which we are fallen ..." Thomas Jefferson, Monticello, January 2, 1814.

RKH: After 1780, the ITC began buying newspapers and establishing others. When Andy Jackson arrived on the scene he could scarcely get his message to the people and the media twisted everything he said. By Lincoln's time everything had become a lie and this state of affairs existing today.

ISRAEL IN AMERICA: "To Dr. Walter Jones; Dear Sir: ... General Washington ... His mind was great and powerful ... I felt on his death, with my countrymen, that 'verily a great man hath fallen this day in Israel.'" Thomas Jefferson, Monticello, Jan 2, 1814."

RKH: Scottish, English, French and German dissenters understood that they were Israel. Thomas Jefferson knew also.

Chapter 339

BLACK SNIPER

The authorities recently arrested two blacks who terrified the entire east coast. They drove from Mississippi to Maryland randomly shooting people. Fourteen, I believe, was the last count.

It seems to have been a low cost operation. They paid $250 for a car, slept in it and robbed convenience stores to finance their operation. They knocked out the trunk lock and used the hole as a gunport. When ready, they would remove the back seat so that the shooter could lie down and shoot through the improvised gunport at unsuspecting targets.

Who would have thought that that innocent looking car parked on a street was in reality a sniper post. No shooter could be seen and rumors ran rampant. Newspapers and magazines ran cut-away diagrams showing how they were able to do what they did.

The shooting part was clever. Their ransom demand of $10 million seems to have been an afterthought. If the blacks involved had any political beliefs, the media isn't telling. Apparently, the killing was for sport - or perhaps to gain a reputation. They shot anyone they could get their sights on - black, white or mulatto - a real equal-opportunity operation - and, a part of the black make-up seldom explored but often exploited.

Media Conditioning

Esau's media is using this senseless shooting spree to connect terms like "expert rifle shot" with blacks in general. It is part of the Cartel's ongoing Saxon conditioning program. They are building a myth of "super-black", the invincible black,¹ who has a natural right to rule whites because he IS superior.

The media uses every excuse to psych our people to make them flee with no thought given to resistance. Blacks are being psyched to be the hunters and the Saxons are being psyched into becoming the game. Esau's media has succeeded to the point that now black on white killings are common. For sport, blacks sometimes strip their victims, make them kneel, and shoot them in the back of their heads and whites obediently do what they are told to do - and die.

The Hunters

There are many hunters, but the most visible ones are the ones who have taken over our cities - the cities we must enter to transact business. These urban denizens are being made radical not only by the media, but in prisons. William Bryon Sorens, an inmate at the Huntsville prison, reports:

"Americans have no idea of the degree and depth of hatred formed behind these walls and bars... To it we must now add the jihad of radical Islamic prisoners, almost all of whom will someday be paroled or released on discharge." (World 6/29/02) Christian News 10/14/02)

Another Texas prisoner observes:

"The media have failed to report that variants of radical Islamic religions are the most popular and fastest growing beliefs and associations inside these walls. In many of Texas' approximately 150 state prisons and state jails, Muslims have either replaced or have co-opted and now rule over the Mandingo Warriors, Bloods, and Crips as the premier prison gang. ... Their hate-filled literature circulates freely, unlike the Aryan and Latino versions, which are prohibited as being from Security Threat Groups." (Straws In The Wind, 10/02/02)

Who else hates us?

The following is excerpted from the David Duke Report:²

"The jewish supremacists hate European-Americans ... they hate us as much as they hate the Palestinian people. They want to wipe us out just as much as they want to ... ethnically cleanse the West Bank and Gaza. Let me quote to you from the leading Israeli commentator on the biggest website in Israel. His name is Emmanuel Winston and he openly advocates the genocide of all people of European descent. ...

"Europeans are really a low, immoral people who would sell their mother ... and then deliver. ... How easily any sense of humanity of civilization slips away from their face, leaving only the beast. This beast has many faces and names. Sometimes they are called Germans, Poles, Croats, Ukrainians ... While at other times they become the Church, the Red Cross, or Prime Ministers, Kings, Fuhrer. Then in a quick change we see some Americans, French, English and finally ... it doesn't really matter, this name or that. Underneath there is a strand, a bond that society teaches children to hate ... These are people of ultimate evil as the beast stays just below the surface, ready to savage, ready to kill the jew. The planet would be well rid of the European predator. Perhaps we will be fortunate to live ... to see the decline and disappearance of the graveyard called Europe...."

"Let me repeat, this is the top web site in Israel, supported by major jewish political figures such as Benjamin Netanyahu. And let me tell you, Jewish supremacy in Europe is leading directly to European genocide. They are overwhelming us with massive 3rd World immigration the same way they overwhelmed the Palestinians with Jewish immigration and the same way they continue to flood into the West Bank and build more settlements."

Destroy The White Race

The following comes from "Genocide With Harvard's Patina" by Paul Craig Roberts, Middle American News, Oct 2002, p. 21)

Harvard educated Noel Ignatiev is the founder of a journal Race Traitor. Its motto, "Treason to whiteness is loyalty to humanity".

"Ignatiev intends cultural and psychological genocide for whites. A statement by the editors on the website says that the new subscribers "do not limit themselves to socially acceptable means of protest but reject in advance no means of attaining their goal."

"Ignatiev writes, "The goal of abolishing the white race is on its face so desirable that some may find it hard to believe that it could incur any opposition other than from committed white supremacists."

"According to Ignatiev, 'The key to solving the social problems of our age is to abolish the white race. Make no mistake about it," he says, "we intend to keep bashing the dead white males and the live ones and the females, too, until the social construct known as 'the white race' is destroyed - not deconstructed, but destroyed.'

"The Washington Times reports that Ignatiev is Jewish. Yet, he believes that it is self-evident that whites in their homelands should be abolished. Where did he get this view? His only education was at Harvard. Is Harvard embarrassed? No. Ignatiev is showcased in the current issue of Harvard Magazine. Getting rid of whiteness is not controversial at Harvard because it is the business of American universities."

It has always been the intention of Esau to exterminate the children of Jacob.³ It is easier to have strangers force us to break God's Law so that Jacob's God will destroy us as he promised.⁴ Having the Saxon God destroy his own people is easier than to have to destroy them in open warfare. It is also easier to prevent people from defending themselves if they fear those who attack them. Making blacks "super- blacks" and "expert" shooters is one way to do that.

Black Shooters & The Hunt

I learned to shoot in the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains. I fired on the Air Force pistol team at the Nationals in 1952. Ten years after that I was called up on active duty and was assigned to the 100th Airborne Division. I fired on the 100th Division's pistol team.

At one of our first matches I was assigned a shooting post next to a black shooter who was on the 4th Army pistol team. He was a far better shot than I was. In fact, he was one of the best pistol shots I ever saw.

Having said that, let me go on and say this; this black pistolman is the ONLY black I have ever seen before or since

³ "And Esau hated Jacob ... and Esau said in his heart ... I will slay my brother Jacob." Ge 27:41

⁴ "If you ... gain a victory over them (the Israelites), ... persuade them to leave off their obedience to their own laws and the word of that God who established them ... for by this means God will be angry at them (and will destroy them)." Antiquities 4:6:6-13 who could hit a barn while standing inside it. The only one! and I've seen lots and lots of shooters, white and black.

Blacks can hit at point blank ranges, who can't? but seldom a target at any distance.

I ran a pistol, carbine, and submachine gun range at Camp Seven Mile outside of Spokane. Thousands of shooters fired on my ranges. I taught hundreds to shoot. I sought out those who shot well and knew who didn't. In all that time I never EVER saw a good black marksman with either a pistol, carbine, or submachine gun - with the single exception already mentioned.

The carbines used then are not not that much different from the carbine used by "the sniper". With a .45 pistol it takes a fair amount of skill to shoot a person at 100 yards, but, with a carbine - a child of 8 years old and younger can hit their mark - if they have been taught. I've seen them do it - lots of times.

In my experience, most blacks are friendly, nice, helpful, and can be compassionate and generous. I have scores of black friends. But I have sense enough to know that they are a different breed of cat. One of the first things an intelligent white learns is that the last person who talks to a black is right - and a white man won't be the last one who talks to him.

A basic rule to a relatively peaceful co-existence is - don't socialize with blacks. Be friendly, but don't socialize. Socializing means one thing to you, another to them.

Another rule: Don't allow yourself to be isolated in a group of blacks. They follow the leader and the leader of that group might not be your friend. Why take the chance?

Another rule; don't be around them when they've been drinking. They can turn ugly on a dime, and, using the flimsiest excuse can become enraged and burn an entire town

- murdering, assaulting and raping its inhabitants - and then blame their victims for what they have done. It's their nature.

Here in Lynchburg, two black brothers had a party. They got drunk and one killed the other. The dead brother was dragged to the side of the room while the party was in progress and left there. The party continued until dawn. Their mother, who was in the house the entire time, told police, who arrived the next day, "They never did get along."

By our standards, blacks are lawless. The rules of their gods are different from the WORD which is our God. To us, almost everything they do seems either odd, different or extreme.

Killing is not as serious with them as with us. In their rage or fear they use firearms and knives at close range where they can't miss. In their society a killer is not really a criminal, he is "Mr. Important" - someone who has won his spurs. I've been told that some blacks commit crimes so that they can build rap-sheets and get prison records in order to win status in their community. A black without status is a "ho-hum" nobody.

The Conditioning

Blacks have long been used as Cartel pawns. The British king, ruler of Virginia and head of the then dominant protestant episcopal church, insisted that Virginia accept black slaves in spite of the WORD which says:

"When they heard the Law, they excluded from Israel all who were of foreign descent." Neh: 13:3

This proved that that head of this episcopal organization followed a different God from the WORD - his god permitted such things.⁵

After the Revolution, when we got Britain's "admiralty law" off our backs, American whites, North and South, reached an agreement with blacks to repatriate them back to Africa and replace their labor with white immigration from Europe. This was agreeable to both parties. It was not agreeable to the trade Cartel. Repatriation would allow blacks to escape the universal episcopal slavery planned for everyone - black and white. The Cartel media countered repatriation abolition with radical abolition which was designed to free blacks without compensating their white owners and at the same time keep the blacks from leaving America.

Exploiting black cupidity and gullibility, the Cartel has used blacks against whites on numerous occasions. They are doing it now. It can get nasty. Because of this it is important to know black strengths as well as their weaknesses.

The Crater

Saxons are forbidden to use strangers in its armed forces when fighting their own kind. The reason is that if these strangers were to prevail over white foes they should happen to defeat they would rule them and thus violate the Law.⁶ This was the great complaint made against Britain's use of blacks and Indians against American Colonists during the Revolutionary War.

5 Their god also permits sodomy, usury, monopoly, kings, etc.

6 "Thou mayest not set a stranger over thee." De 17:15

The Petersburg Tunnels

Fifty years ago one of the workers at Phillip Morris told me that a truck loaded with bricks had caved in what looked like a tunnel. My wife and I investigated and found water filled Confederate tunnels running all over the place.

This me pushing into a tunnel. Some tunnels sloped down and vanished under water. They branched off in all directions.

20,000 Confederate boys are buried in Richmond's Hollywood Cemetery. 30,000 at Petersburg. Most died because of the incessant and deadly artillery fire. Lee only had 20,000 left to surrender at Appomattox. These tunnels are probably the route taken by Southern defenders to reach and defend the breached line at the Crater.

During the War Between the States, the Lincoln government enlisted blacks by the hundreds of thousands. The Lincolnites set them to guard Southern POWs, and they were used in combat - usually with disastrous results.

At Petersburg, Lee's army was stretched paper thin. A breakthrough anywhere could prove decisive. Pennsylvania miners tunneled under a major Confederate fort, set explosives, and detonated them. The result atomized the fort, killed its defenders, and left a great crater and wide gap in the lines as Confederate soldiers drew back from this new unknown weapon.

To create a media coup, blacks were used as storm troops to exploit the breakthrough. They were thrown into the gaping hole in the Confederate lines. There were no live defenders in front of them and several hundred dead ones.

Ann Pushes Past A Partial Cave-In

Several thousand blacks rushed across the undefended no-man's land, crowded into the crater and surrounding trenches, sat down, talked, joked, and played cards. A handful of Confederate riflemen from other parts of the line were rushed to the danger point to seal off the impending breakthrough.⁷ When there, they established a new line behind the Crater and opened fire at anyone who raised his head above crater rim. There were so few Confederate defenders that there was no way they could have held back a determined assault - if the blacks could have been prevailed upon to move. By the time the blacks were pried loose from their cover, Confederate sharpshooters made it dangerous.

Wading Out Of One Tunnel Into Another

Later, Confederate mortars were brought up and their shells arced over and fell into the masses sitting in the crater and outlying occupied trenches. It made hamburger out of them. The chance to end the war a year earlier than it ended was botched. It was a black operation organized for the press by the Lincoln government.

The lesson, blacks often lose interest once a job becomes dangerous.

WW I

My father was in WW I. He told me what he knew about black soldiers in that war.

Blacks were landed in Ireland for training. They rioted, raped and burned, and Ireland became incensed and hostile.

They were loaded on transports and sent to France to finish their training. After training, they were put into the line. The Germans threw over a few artillery shells as harassing fire.

The result was unexpected and spectacular. The black division bolted as one man (there may have been two divisions - I've forgotten) leaving a gap miles wide in the Allied lines. If the Germans had had extra divisions that could have been thrown into that gaping hole in the lines, the war might have ended there and then. As it was, the Allied generals frantically searched for replacements to plug the gap in the line caused by the fleeing blacks. From that time, blacks were only used in quartermaster supply and labor battalions, and never again used in combat during WW I.

The lesson: unanticipated black panic at times can result in unfortunate results.

General Mark Clark

General Mark Clark is the only American general who commanded large numbers of negro troops during WW II. In Life magazine in the '40s or '50s he said; "The conduct of Negroes in combat is the most disgraceful in the annals of American history."

Confronted with a long, drawn-out miserable campaign in rain and snow, blacks became unreliable.

My Own Experience

General Rash, commander of the 100th Division called me in and said;

"What in the world have you done? You injured and maimed more soldiers in one night than the entire division has done in a year! And they are all black!"

It was all an accident. I started to explain ... but let me back up and start again. I had been called up on active duty with the 100th Division. They gave me three jobs. I was * Aide to General Rash, commander of the 100th; * Head of Visitors

Hoskins, Escort Officer For Sec Army Starr

Bureau which welcomes visiting VIPs; and * Escape & Evasion.

On Thursday nights I took my dog Thor, a shepherd that I had brought with me from civilian life, and we would hunt recruits on the escape and evasion course as part of their training.

Thor was a scout dog - not an attack dog. He was trained to track people. He was good. A man is entitled to a good dog and a good woman once in his life. I've still got that good woman and have been blessed with a raft of good dogs. But,

Thor and I had something special between us.

I bought him as a pup in northern Bedford County, trained him myself to track, and brought him with me from Lynchburg. The 100th needed tracking dogs to train troops. The U.S. Army didn't have any extra dogs. The 100th asked to use Thor. I didn't want strangers handling my dog so I volunteered to use him on the Thursday night "Escape & Evasion" course. Thor was great - and received a 100th Division commendation for his work (see next page).

The escape and evasion course was 7 miles long and ran through a valley. It was filled with ambushes, trip wires, aggressors, POW camps - you name it. Everything needed to make a recruit's life miserable - and there was "Thor".

There is something that many people may not know. When given an option, soldiers who have been forcibly integrated quickly segregate themselves. In mess-halls blacks sit with blacks, whites with whites. It was the same on the escape and evasion course. Hundreds of recruits were marched to the starting point. At 8:00 p.m. they were released and

SUBJECT: Letter of Appreciation

TO: 1st Lt. Richard K. Hoskins
H/H Company
100th Division (Tng)
Fort Chaffee, Arkansas

1. One of the most important and large scale operations of this committee as part of its work in teaching infantry tactics to advanced individual level has been the Survival Escape and Evasion class. This is a difficult class to teach, administer and control.
2. Probably the single most important, useful and desirable element of the Escape class has been the use of the scout dog. This one element has attracted interest and attention, contributed greatly to the problem and has caused the minimum problems. Although there has been some question about the use of the dog, there has been no question but that you and your outstandingly trained dog have made an unusual and unique contribution to the work of this committee. This was one part of the problem about which it was never necessary to be concerned, it was thoroughly reliable and trustworthy.
3. The undersigned extends his appreciation to you (and your dog) for your special and unique contributions to the efforts of this committee and to the success of the Escape and Evasion class.

Thor's Letter Of Appreciation

Thor was not regularly enlisted in the United States Army and so was not entitled to an official "Letter of Comendation" or a file in which it could be placed. Thor was a "Militia Dog". He was a civilian who volunteered to fill a gap. But, in the process he was respected by a magnificent group of men, the 100th Airborne Division, whose respect is better than gold.

told to get started. They immediately segregated themselves and disappeared into the dark with their fellows.

The Rim Road

The word trickled down to the recruits that if they once climbed the ridge out of the valley where the exercise was taking place, they could walk along the ridge road paralleling the exercise taking place in the valley below and would in this way save themselves the misery of going through the course.

The ridge was steep and hard to get up. But once up, a recruit could peacefully walk along the road to the end of the exercise and return to comforts of their barracks. The authorities frowned on this.

One particular Thursday night, I was ordered to take Thor and patrol the ridge to keep recruits from using the road - either that or use 50 men to do the same job.

Thor and I had walked up the road less than 15 minutes when his ears went up and the hair on his back bristled. It was his alarm system. I stopped and he slowly walked to the end of his leash and began to growl.

I couldn't see or hear anything. After a bit, I figured that Thor had a false scent. Just in case I was wrong, I gave Thor some slack in his leash and shouted "Get 'em! Thor began to bark!

With this - a black bolted from under a nearby bush and screamed at the top of his lungs, "They've got dogs! They've got dogs! Run! Run!"

Panic took over as hundreds of black recruits broke from cover and rushed frantically to the edge of the bluff and on over. Down they went, head over teacup. It sounded like a rock slide with hundreds of bodies tumbling down the steep incline. Then, a silence soon broken by cries of pain.

"Meat-wagons" arrived from all over the base and began carting soldiers off to the hospital. Most were treated and released, but many had sprained backs and broken arms and legs. It was a disaster. The injured were all black.

Try to explain this to a general who the day before had the best safety record training recruits in the entire United States Army. From the top of the safety ratings to the bottom in one day. A record!

It has been my personal experience that blacks are subject to panic when confronted with the unexpected. It is also my opinion that in spite of their "spit and polish" and media hype, they aren't very good soldiers. This is important to know. Their native and favorite war strategy is to strike fear into their opponents and when they flee - kill them.

The lesson we learned in the South after the War, and the lesson that they are now learning on S. African farms is - whatever you do, don't panic. When attacked, return their fire if you possibly can. And, don't surrender! Not ever!! To do so is almost as bad as surrendering to the American Indians.

There is something else important to know. In spite of their drawbacks as conventional soldiers - blacks often win their wars. Most of their success is because of their alliances. Their present "black-jewish" alliance is becoming unraveled. Their style of fighting is guerrilla warfare and they fight this kind of war very well. Guerrilla warfare is most usually successfully fought by counter-guerrilla warfare.

There were no blacks in Haiti when whites first settled there. Now they have the entire island. There were no blacks in S. Africa when whites arrived - now they rule S. Africa. Most were imported by jewish mine managers.

Esau's media is now inciting them against the whites. The guerrilla war has already started and appears to be expanding. This is type of war that no one wants, but the media will see to it that it comes. When it does come - stand your ground. Something might happen to change the order of battle - or to spook them. Remember, they don't like the dark, fighting in the cold and rain, and they don't react well to surprises.

And remember this, in spite of the savage hate that some blacks have for whites, you can talk to their leaders if you have something to offer that is to their advantage - and if you watch your back. My dealings with the Nation of Islam have always been quite proper. (I wish I could say the same for some of our own). Remember, it was because the Cartel reneged on their promise to turn the Southland into a black republic that we in the South were able to make an alliance with them in 1873 against the Cartel - our common enemy. Our agreement was to institute "segregation" to protect black businesses from white competition.⁸

The WORD which is our God has promised us victory. Let us try to work for a peaceful solution agreeable to the WORD, but at the same time obey Jesus - the WORD made flesh:

"He said unto them ... he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one ... And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords, And he said unto them, It is enough." Luke 22:36-38

The first sword spoken of above is the one you wield with your hands to protect your family and your neighbors. Beware the one who will not own a sword to protect his family and neighbors. He is not a follower of the WORD which is our God.

Having the first sword in reserve, the second sword is the one we use for now:

"The word of God is quick, and sharper than any 2-edged sword." Heb 4:12⁹

We for whom the WORD is our God, demand to be allowed to live under the Laws of God the WORD. Our enemies know that. They also know that the WORD orders his followers:

"But these enemies of mine, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me." Luke 19:27

But, Barabas's sword is not ours for now. Ours is the other sword - the two-edged sword of the WORD that cuts to the bone. Let's use our heads, be fair, be obedient, and perhaps our enemies may discover things that will cause them to fight each other. They've done it before.

If not, the first sword is ready.

LETTER FROM S. AFRICA BY K.J.

Much is going on here.

We went to our family doctor to get a prescription and while we were waiting a middle aged lady was brought in by her husband. She looked as if she had been in a car accident and her face had gone through the windscreen. The doctor told us that she was attacked and raped at home.

Our doctor was forbidden to certify that the rape took place. They had to wait for the black district surgeon, as a white doctor's word is not legal in court because he might be biased.

This woman had to go through three ordeals; the attack, being examined by a black, and the appearance in court before a black magistrate. No wonder that white farmers' wives simply do not report these things to the black police. According to our doctor the rape of white women takes place all the time.

He also saw an elderly couple from Zimbabwe early yesterday morning whose children are his patients. The old man of 87 was very badly beaten up and his wife was unable to speak.

We had a spate of bombings and we think the police are responsible. The police accused one man because they found fertilizer on his farm and fertilizer can be used to make bombs. It can also be used to grow crops. Another, whose photo appeared in most newspapers died some years ago. Then the newspapers are using such expressions as KKK and Phineas Priests, clearly names they got from America. It looks like the whole thing is orchestrated to give the black regime an excuse to move against the whites.

If people do not look to God to defend them against the forces of darkness in these days and do his will and reject the false priests, few will survive.

The huge influx of foreign blacks is causing water shortages and monetary problems. Water and electricity are supplied free of charge to them and their ever growing squatter camps.

AIDS is a major factor. So many blacks are dying they are now forced to bury three adults in one grave with little ceremony.

The destruction of S. Africa continues. Town centres have become slums. Once beautiful parks are dirty and full of sleeping blacks. Shops are no longer full of merchandise. With the weak Rand they cannot import, and the demands of black unions ruin local manufacturers. Mines are being privatized to black politicians. Radebe's wife, Bridgette, now a chairwoman of Mmakau Mining and her brother, Patrice Matsepe, is chairman of African Rainbow Minerals.

Die Groote Schuur hospital, where the first heart transplant was done, is barely in operation, and that goes for most provincial hospitals. No more matriculation exams.

I telephoned Aida Parker's office. It is her birthday today and they hoped to bring her home for the day but could not get permission. Her left side is paralyzed and they are doubtful if she will walk again. Her long term memory is very good, but not the short term, although she knows them all. We can only hope and pray that Aida regains her health. They continue to collect money for needy white children.

The Dutch Reformed Church actually proposes to give the black government guidelines on taking white land. They remind me of the Russian Orthodox Church under Communist rule. Then, there is their usual, "We must ask the black's forgiveness for stealing their land." blacks weren't even here when our forefathers arrived. How low can Christian Churches go? One wonders.

With Best Wishes, K.J.
