Chapter 400

EMPIRE RELIGION

Josephus

Josephus was a remarkable man. He was a priest, soldier, and historian. He was the one who recorded in detail the Roman War against the Judean Revolt in 87 AD, and the siege and storming of Jerusalem.

His description of his own nation's attempt to follow the Law of their God is interesting:

"Nor do we delight in merchandise, nor in such a mixture with other men as arises from it ... having a fruitful country for our habitation, we take pains in cultivating that only. Our principle care ... is ... to educate our children well; ... to observe the laws that have been given us ... Since ... there was no occasion offered us ... for intermixing among the Greeks, as they had had for mixing among the Egyptians, by their intercourse of exporting and importing their several goods; as they also mixed with the Phoenicians, who lived by the sea-side, by means of their love of lucre in trade and merchandise." (Flavius Josephus Against Apion, 1:12)

Books can be written about the above paragraph, but to continue;

Josephus was appointed general of the Galilean region of Judea to prepare for the expected Roman invasion and he found the Galileans were short of oil with which to cook and light their lamps. He recorded a request he sent to his superiors in Jerusalem:

"Now I (Josephus) was entrusted with the public affairs there (in Galilee) by the people of Jerusalem ... since they had not oil ... he would provide a sufficient quantity of such oil for them lest they should be forced to make use of oil that came from the Greeks, and thereby transgress their own laws." Life of Flavius Josephus v13, 4J

The WORD is strict about dealings with strangers:

"If thou has stricken thy hand with a stranger (zûwr - racial alien), thou art snared with the words of thy mouth. Pr. 6:1; "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21

Chauncey Spencer

Chauncey Spencer, an affable negro, lived in Lynchburg. He was one of the first black pilots trained by the U.S. government to fight our German kinsmen in WWII and is looked upon as a hero and authority on race by Lynchburg's non-white community and their allies. The following was written by James M. Elson in Lynch's Ferry, p.9, Fall/Winter, 2003/2004:

"Undoubtedly the most daring of the Lynchburg flappers were those 'fifteen or twenty white college girls from nearby women's colleges,' mentioned by the late Chauncey Spencer in his autobiography, who 'participated in many excursions across the color line.' In view of the prevailing societal attitudes towards black men with white women, it was a good thing that these adventures went undetected."

Blacks brag about having "snow-bunnies" to impress other blacks, but I grew up here and I never heard of "flappers" crossing the color-line in Lynchburg. Everyone knew that racial adultery was risky because the WORD was universally known. Zealots were everywhere.

A stroll through 18th and 19th century cemeteries frequently reveal gravestones bearing the first name of Phinehas.

It was a matter of pride to name a son Phinehas in recognition that man's first duty was the enforcement of God's Law. "It is better to obey God rather than men." Acts

5:29. The Phinehas story is prominent in Biblical writings and has only relatively recently been banned by the national media and its ecclesiastical fellow-travelers. The rulers of the American empire do not allow the Laws of its captive Saxon nations to be publicized - especially if they conflict with their own edicts.

Following is the story of Jacob-Israel enforcing "prevailing societal attitudes" referred to in the Spencer story:

"Israel abode in Shittim, and the people began to commit harlotry with the daughters of Moab. And they ... bowed down to their gods. ... and the anger of the Lord was kindled against Israel. ...

"And behold, one of the children of Israel came and brought unto his brethren a Midianitish woman to the sight of Moses ... And when Phinehas ... saw it, he ... took a javelin in his hand; And he went after the man of Israel into the tent, and thrust both of them through ... So the plague was stayed from the children of Israel. And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying, Phinehas ... hath turned my wrath away from the children of Israel ... Wherefore ... I give unto him my covenant of peace; And he shall have it, and his seed after him, even the covenant of an everlasting priesthood, because he was zealous for his God, and made an atonement for the children of Israel." Num 25:1- 13

Phinehas enforced the Law of Jacob-Israel. Their God also declared who else is required to do the same:

"The hands of the witnesses shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterward the hands of all the people." Deut 17:5-7

According to this now-banned Law of the WORD, if a Christian-Israelite were to see an act of lawlessness, and did not personally step in to enforce God's Law, the failure was severely punished.

"Because thou hast let go out of thy hand a man whom I appointed to utter destruction, therefore thy life shall go for his life, and thy people for his people. I Ki 20:42

Blackwater Snake

About 70 years ago I was walking beside the Blackwater Creek and I saw a snake under the water lying on the bottom. It looked dead. I knelt down to see better and my "throwing hatchet" slipped out of my belt into the water. I reached down and took my hatchet by the handle and brought it up; the snake was wrapped around the head. It was about a foot and a half long. I looked closer. It wasn't a snake - it was part of someone's intestine.

I was told that the hospital, high on the bluffs, about 500 yards upstream long ago disposed of body parts removed during operations by flushing them into the sewer which led to the creek.

Now Legal

Doctors back then considered abortion to be the most hideous act a doctor could perform. There was jail, scorn, and ostracism awaiting the offender. Abortions weren't performed in hospitals because abortions weren't allowed in hospitals. If they had been, I believe it would be safe to say that the fetus that would have been removed would have been flushed into the Blackwater Creek along with other debris from the operating room. Instead of bringing up a piece of someone's intestine on my hatchet I might possibly have brought up the body of an unborn infant.

Today, empire edicts have replaced God's Law. Abortions are now legal. They also burn the body parts removed during operations.

Deja Vu

The present act of burning an aborted child as an offering to one's god is in no way different from the very same act condemned by the God of Israel in ancient days:

"Thou shalt not let any of thy seed pass through the fire to Molech." Lev 28:21; "Thou has taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast born unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed ... thou hast slain my children ... to cause them to pass through the fire." Ezek 16:20,21¹

Law vs Edict

A few years ago there was a Presbyterian minister named Paul Hill who used every platform he could find to speak against turning unborn children into "burnt offerings". Incensed with people's indifference, he slew an abortionist and his assistant.

He then waited for the state's law enforcement officers to arrive. Put on trial for murder he attempted to use the WORD as a defense. The judge would not allow it, and he was condemned, convicted, and executed in record time.

¹ "I will bring evil upon this place ... because they ... burn their sons with fire for burnt offerings." Jer 19:3-5; "They sacrificed their sons and their daughters ... whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan." Ps 61:37,38

Thus far some 50,000,000 children have become "burnt offerings" to the Gods of the land. This triggers another Law;

"If thou wilt not ... do all the words of the law ... ye will be left few in number ... ye shall be plucked from off the land." Deut 58:66

Already the American birthrate is down to 1.7 children per couple, where 2.1 are required to maintain the status quo, and this includes the swarm of children produced by the armies of aliens being assembled in our land.

Remember, it was with the approval of empire-religious leaders that black slaves were sold into the South and South Africa. It was under the approving eye of empire-religious leaders that the great slaughter of WWI and WW2 took place.

It was the shrill cry of empire-priests that urged the West to boycott S. Africa and place its whites under the rule of blacks. Because of their backing, 1 million Afrikaners are today destitute, unemployable and homeless.

The Sep 8, 2007 Rapport newspaper writes: "South Africa's 3 million Afrikaners are being forced back into the stone-age by the current ANC-regime's laws which bar such 'whites' from the labour market."

"It is no longer unusual to see whites begging, and according to the latest official statistics from 2006, there are 900,000 unemployed 'white' people in South Africa now - all living in total destitution. 380,000 are men and 610,000 are women - who are not only unemployed, but permanently unemployable due to the ANC-regime's blacks-only hiring laws for the entire labour market. South Africa has 4.5m whites of whom 3 million are Afrikaners."²

The handful of religious teachers who opposed these blasphemies were almost entirely non-empire and non "wannabe" priests who remain true to the God of their fathers.

"If any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel." I Tim 5:8

Fixing The Blame

To fix the blame for the evils that have befallen our nation we must avoid the words of those who profit from our ills. We must walk the narrow path of the WORD that leads to the truth.

The WORD declares "The love of money is the root of all evil." I Ti 6:10. $10 @ 10% For 100 Years yr 1	$10.00

20	61.16
30	158.63
40	411.45
50	1067.19
60	2768.01
70	7179.52
80	18621.82
90	48300.21
100	$125,278.29

Usury increase provides a perpetual reservoir of money which is used to buy the media, kings, priests, and millions of willing followers.³

Jesus, "the WORD made flesh", returned the WORD to his people, who had long been without it. The WORD immediately clashed with the edicts of the Roman Empire. Empires can't exist when the WORD rules. To prevent being overthrown, kings hire priests to re-interpret God's Laws to agree with the king's laws. It is natural that Jesus would be condemned to death.

² Source <http://africancrisis.co.za/Article.php?ID=175228>

³ USURY: A contract fraudulent in its conception - where a victim is persuaded to repay 11 items when only 10 items exists. Repayment can only be made by negotiating a new contract where an 11th item is borrowed and more collateral is required. A capitol crime under Biblical law. (Ezek 18:13)

Today it is natural to see pictures of Jesus nailed to a cross. There are still those who don't understand that it is the "WORD made flesh" - God's Law - that is nailed to the cross.

The WORD tells us who condemned Jesus:

"When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him (The WORD made flesh), they cried out, saying Crucify him, crucify him." John 19:6; "Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, We have no king but Caesar." Joh 19:15⁴

Catch that again;

"The chief priests answered, We have no king but Caesar." Joh 19:15

The king had done his job well. Those the king had approved to be "chief priests", the ones who taught the people a modified Law which tolerated the foibles of the king, were the ones who proclaimed "We have no king but Caesar."

It is the same today. Today's priests do as their predecessors did. They modify the WORD to please the king and teach the people to accept the king's Lawlessness.

Today, those priests having the most success in getting people to accept the king's lawlessness are rewarded with TV access.

The approved priest can stand on a stage before millions, quote a parable minus the Law that would have given it meaning, read "this-week's" canned sermon from teleprompters, spice it with a canned joke or two, ad-lib a few comments, and wait for the money to pour in to help the starving Eskimos

4 "The charge on which Jesus was finally condemned was of political sedition (Lk 23:2) ... He did often speak about the 'kingdom of God' as the object of his mission, and such language ... was open to nationalistic interpretation." New Bible Dictionary, 2nd Ed, Tyndale, "Jesus Christ, Life & Teaching Of:"

at the North Pole. The sermon will contain no criticism of State Law.

New Jersey can ban the death penalty and there is no outcry from the king's pulpit.⁵

A stranger can run for president of America, and there is no cry of indignation from the king's pulpit.⁶

A Vanishing World

State-priests who are good at their craft, obtain TV exposure and are multi-millionaires. "Wanna-be" state priests who haven't the skill to make it are a poor lot.

Here in Lynchburg, I can show you a half a dozen century old churches which once held hundreds, even thousands, which today have less than fifty attending. People who are searching for truth in the WORD find nothing there to help them. They are now leaving state-churches everywhere.

Where do they go? Some go to "circus-churches" for fun - but then leave. The turnover is enormous since ritual, show, music, and antics are what a jazzed-up state-church offers, and that provides no direction for the difficult days ahead.

Others set up home churches, just as their forebears did more than three centuries ago.

5 "Whoso killeth any person, the murderer shall be put to death." Num. 35:29-30 (premeditated murder), "If a man lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death." Lev 20:13; "He that stealeth a man, and selleth him ... he shall surely be put to death." Ex 21:16

6 LAW: "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15; "Their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall precede from the midst of them." Jer 30:21

Conclusion

State-churches exist to modify The WORD so that it does not conflict with the king's edicts.

The WORD has pronounced judgment on state-priests:

"Thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing that thou hast forgotten the law of thy God." Hosea 4:6; "To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not, to him it is sin." Jas 4:17; "Shouldest thou help the ungodly, and love them that hate the LORD? therefore [is] wrath upon thee from before the LORD." 2 Ch 19:2

The WORD also declared just who it is that God appointed to be his priests; "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; Rev 1:5- 6

That's YOU!

Resolving The Conflict

Taxes are unLawful. The Scripture says that taxes were demanded of Jesus. Jesus obtained tax money, paid them, and continued teaching.

Paul Hill knew the Law. He knew that people were breaking the Law by killing unborn children. He stepped in to correct matters. and the king quickly killed him to stop rebellion to his edicts.

Personally, I choose to obey the king in-so-far as I possibly can. I pay my taxes to asvoid the king's wrath. When people ask what to do about this or that, I quote the WORD:

"The wrath of a king [is as] messengers of death: a wise man will pacify it." Pr 16:14

However, that said, we also remember that the WORD also promises that a new day is coming. Already there are tens of millions of our people who have rejected the king's gods and long for their nation's return to the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. History records what happened once before when our people refused to be led along the road to their destruction.

*"So they joined their forces and smote sinful men ...
So they recovered the Law out of the hand of the Gentiles

LETTERS

LAMSA: "Dear Mr. Hoskins; In HR #399 you quoted the fate of Gog: "And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto Gog a place there of graves in Israel." Eze 39:11. The Lamsas' Translation says the same but reads better."
M.A. - Kansas

"Son of man, set your face against China, and against the land of Mongolia, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him and say, Thus say the Lord God: Behold I am against you, O China, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal: I will gather your people together and put a bridle in your jaws and I will bring you forth out of your country, both you and all your army ... Persians, Ethiopians, and Lybians with them ... Gomar and all her army, the house of Togarmah, and the uttermost parts of the north with all their hosts, and many other people who are with you.

"Son of man ... say to China, Thus says the Lord God: On that day when my people Israel shall dwell in tranquillity, ... you shall come up against my people Israel, like a cloud to cover the land; it shall be in the latter days, ... my anger shall be consumed in my fury and zeal ...

"... I will give to China a place there for burial in the land of Israel ... and there they shall bury China and all his army." Ezekiel 38 & 39⁷

UNFILTERED NEWS

MORGAN STANLEY: Morgan Stanley, the No. 2 U.S. investment bank, reported a $9.4 billion writedown on Wednesday from bad bets on mortgage-related debt, leading it to take a $5 billion infusion from an arm of the Chinese government. China's Investment Corporation will hold almost 10% percent of the investment bank shares once its investment converts to common shares in 2010.

RKH: "The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low. He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him: he shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail." Deut 28:43-44

INTEREST FREE: Western banks have been working increasingly with Muslim clerics to create a new range of financial products designed for devout Muslims. Under sharia law, Muslims are not allowed to receive interest or go into debt. (WEEKEND, (Financial Times))

RKH: Watch out, Islam, usury banks are noted for finding ways to make usury look like cotton candy, and finding preachers to bless the creation! Usury is also forbidden in the West - and look at what is going on - all blessed by Christian clerics.

KENNEWICK MAN: Members of Congress are trying to pass a bill to turn the 9,300 year old skeleton of a white man over to American Indians for re-burial before research can be completed. The remains were found in 1996 near Kennewick, Washington and are presently on display at Columbia Basin College in Richland, Wash. Houston Chronicle

INTERESTING: Four of the five Roman Catholics on the Supreme Court came to worship at the Cathedral of St. Matthew the Apostle in DC. (News & Advance)

RKH: The remaining justices consist of two Jews, an Anglican, and a "protestant".

SELF-PROTECTION: A man by the name of Matthew Murray armed with a semi-automatic rifle, two handguns and 1000 rounds of ammo entered the New Life Church in Colorado Springs, Colorado. He had already killed four people: two at a missionary training center miles away, and two in the church parking lot. There were thousands of people inside the church.

A church member, Jeanne Assam, drew her 9mm pistol and shot him, undoubtedly saving a great number of lives. The media dropped the story when they discovered that a lawfully armed citizen prevented a massacre by using her own pistol.

Most people are probably not aware of the fact that American citizens use a firearm to defend themselves more than 2.4 million times every year. Firearms are used 60 times more often to protect the lives of honest citizens than to take lives. 192,000 self-defense cases are by women defending themselves against sexual assault. In the vast majority of cases (92%), the mere presence of a firearm helps avert a major crime from occurring. The number of defensive uses is four times the number of crimes reported committed with guns.

In spite of Virginia's "concealed-carry" law, VPI forbade firearms on its campus. An armed student or professor might have prevented the VPI slaughter. "He that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one." Luke 22:36.

HISTORY: In South African history textbooks, there are only four lines about the Anglo-Boer War. It has been wiped away like it never happened. Citizen Mar 26, 2007

AMERICAN INDIAN DNA: Anthropologists agree that new DNA evidence has settled the issue that American Indians originally migrated to the Americas from Asia. All the Indians on the North and South American continents have the same genetic mutation, indicating that they are descendants of a single group of Asians. Univ of Michigan researchers came to this conclusion after finding that the mutations occurs only in Asians who live in Siberia and in 29 native groups in Canada, U.S., Central America and S. America. This genetic marker cannot be found in any other part of the world. Further DNA analysis found that the American Indians and Siberians diverged 12,000 years ago. (THE WEEK, p.26, Dec 14, 2007)

BLACK MURDER: Half of all murder victims are black, even though they make up just 12% of the population. Of the 7,421 African-Americans murdered last year, 92% were killed by other blacks. The Miami Herald

AIDS: The Toronto Sun states that the U.N. has admitted inflating the numbers on AIDS - to raise money more easily.

In Rwanda, for example, the portion of the population infected with HIV is not 11% but 3%.

RKH: So, waiting for AIDS to solve the racial problem is not going to work after all. But, the story worked.

IMUS: As predicted, Imus is back again after being fired for describing the Rutgers Univ women's basketball team as "nappy-headed hos." On bended knees and proving that he is sorry for his conduct, Imus brought with him two black side-kicks.

America is beginning to realize that Esau owns the media. Its talking heads are either Esau with six coats of make-up or are his servants.

ANOTHER NAIL: Rite Aid has begun to sell home DNA paternity tests for $29.99.

RKH: "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; Rev 1:5-6; "(A priest) shall take a virgin of his own people to wife." Lev 21:14; "Let the Hebrews marry... virgins... and no... harlot, whose... prostitution of her body, God will not receive... If any one has been espoused... to a virgin, and does not afterward find her so to be, let him... accuse her... if the damsel be convicted, as having been corrupted... let her be stoned, because she did not preserve her virginity till she were lawfully married." Antiquities 4:8:23

EUROPE'S INVADERS: Aliens rioted in Paris, rampaging, breaking windows, burning cars, and injuring almost 100 policemen. Muslims poured into the streets, throwing Molotov cocktails and attacking police as they did in 2005 when they rioted for weeks. This time demonstrators used firearms and shot several police officers.

RKH: Expect the spread of Iraq-type violence into Europe. The media-elected European governments are secretly allied with the anti-white invaders.

ICELAND: - was named the most desirable country to live in by the UN Human Development Index. The tiny island nation, frozen and dark most of the year, edged out Norway due to its long life expectancy, high educational levels and comfortable per capita income. The WEEK

RKH: No fair! We would run them a close race - except for the aliens in our midst.

BIG BUCKS: The median pay of college presidents has grown 37% in the past 5-years, to $528,105. Johns Hopkins pays its president almost $2 million in salary and benefits. Financial Times

SODOMY LEGALIZED: The House passed land- mark legislation banning employment discrimination against homosexuals. The Employment Non-discrimination Act, passed on a 235-184 vote.

WAR COSTS: The actual cost of the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan is $1.6 trillion, about double the administration's funding requests. ... The price tag works out to $20,900 per American family ... The White House dismissed the report as "partisan and political." THE WEEK

WEALTH TRANSFER: Swiss banking giant UBS AG said Monday it will write off a further $10 billion on losses in the U.S. subprime lending market and will raise capital by selling substantial stakes to Singapore and an unnamed investor in the Middle East. Google, 12-11-07

PRISON POPULATION: Statistics for U.S. prison rate show that 68% of prison and jail inmates were members of racial or ethnic minorities. ..." (Final Call, 734 W. 79th St, Chicago, Il 60620- 2424.)

RKH: If aliens were judged by their own laws in their own lands most wouldn't be in prison.

LOERIES

Dear HR Kinsmen,

The Loeries had an amazing year at the Loerie Home. We couldn't wish for more!

The generosity of our friends from America has allowed us to accomplish many of our goals - giving the Loeries a real home and a loving family to whom they can always refer to as their own.

THE LOERIES - All Of Them

The following has been accomplished:

* The girl's two bathrooms have been rebuilt into one large bathroom, with two individual showers, a new bath, two wash basins and three separate toilets.

* The boy' bathroom was also upgraded with four individual showers, fitted with benches, towel hooks and four toilets and four basins.

* The interior walls of the entire home were repainted, ceiling bedroom fans fitted (as the children really suffered during our hot summer nights) and new roof lights placed where needed.

NEW LOERIE ARRIVALS

Riaan Myer, Mari Williams, Leigh-Ann De Bruyn, Sean Oberholzer.

We are saying goodbye to four of our Grade 12 students who have successfully completed their school education and now have to take on a new life. It is very hard to let them go. They are true survivors and we know they will do us proud.

Their empty beds will now be filled with children who are also in great need of a home.

The very busy 2007 ended on a high note and school reports reflect the children's determination. We had quite a few achievers, and Loeries did well on the sports field as well.

God continue to bless you all,
Willie Hoffmann, Loerie Youth Centre Trust

UN ON RACE

The lead article of the January 2008 *The New Covenant Messenger*¹ states that the UN Treaty and all other treaties are included in the Constitution of the United States.

As proof, they quote Article VI, paragraph 2, of the United States Constitution:

"This Constitution, and the Laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof; and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land, and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution of laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding."

The article continues:

"In 1954, a Senate Report verified the UN Treaty was the Supreme Law of the Land ... The United Nations Treaty the Supreme Law of the United States! 'The charter of the United Nations has become the supreme law of the land and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution, or laws of any state notwithstanding.' Senate Document #87, page 287; 'The Review of the Charter of the United Nations,' January 7, 1954."

Realization

Saxon-America is being shaken out of its complacency. Un-Constitutional acts are now commonplace because the Constitution gives equal status to treaties and private contracts made before the Constitution was ratified (see HR #398).

Once again, prior private contracts and treaties between nations have superseded the Constitution of the United States and are now the law of the land.

In obedience to the above, President Eisenhower ordered the soldiers of the 101st Airborne to Little Rock where they bayoneted white parents protesting the integration of their schools.

On Nov 1, 1991, Hoskins Report #206 carried the following article dealing with the UN requirements dealing with race which, since it is a treaty which has been ratified by Congress, is the law of the land - notwithstanding anything in the Constitution to the contrary.

Chapter 206

U.N. DECLARATION

ON

RACIAL DISCRIMINATION

The U.S. Constitution states that both the Constitution of the United States AND international treaties shall be the law of the land.

The U.S. Government ratified the U.N. charter giving both the UN charter and UN proclamations the power of international treaties - and thus of law.

The UN proclamation on race published by the U.N. Office of Public Information, OPI151-63-27884, in January 1964, outlines what the UN requires of its members.

Text

"Considering that ... all human beings are ... entitled to all the rights ... without distinction ... as to race, colour or national origin.

RKH: Different peoples are entitled to THEIR own rights - not the rights of others. This text is certain to violate basic Christian teachings.

"Considering that ... all are equal before the law

RKH: Each nation has its own laws. Christian Law pertains to Christians. Different law systems of different nations if enforced at the same time would result in chaos.

"Considering ... the U.N. has condemned ... segregation and discrimination ...

"Considering that any doctrine of racial differentiation ... is scientifically false, morally condemnable, socially unjust and dangerous, and that there is no justification for racial discrimination either in theory or in practice.

RKH: Children can observe racial differences. Evidence establishing racial differences has resulted from scientific experiments. Scientific evidence condemns integration. Discord, disaster, and chaos is the history of societies that integrate.

"Taking into account the other resolutions ... of discrimination.

"Taking into account ... discrimination based on race ... continues to give cause for serious concern.

"Alarmed by the manifestations of racial discrimination ... in the form of ... separation ... as well as by ... dissemination of doctrines of racial superiority

RKH: Proofs of racial differences are so convincing that establishment suppression is needed to prevent them from becoming common knowledge - which would threaten the establishment's very existence.

"Convinced that ... policies based on the prejudice of ... racial hatred ... jeopardizes ... international peace and security

"Convinced ... that racial discrimination harms ... those who practice it.

"Convinced further that the building of a world society free from ... racial segregation ... is one of the fundamental objectives of the U.N..

"1. Solemnly affirms ... speedily eliminating racial discrimination throughout the world ...

"2. Solemnly affirms the necessity of adopting national and international measures to that end ...

"3. Proclaims this Declaration:

Article 1

"Discrimination ... on the grounds of race ... shall be condemned ... as an obstacle to ... peaceful relations ... and as a fact capable of disturbing peace and security among peoples.

Article 2

"1. No State ... group or individual shall make any discrimination whatsoever ... on the grounds of race ...²

"2. No State shall ... lend its support, through police action ... to any discrimination based on race ...³

"3. Special concrete measures shall be taken in appropriate circumstances ... to secure ... rights for different racial groups.⁴

Article 3

"1. Particular efforts shall be made to prevent discrimination based on race ... in the fields of ... religion⁵

"2. Everyone shall have equal access to any place ... without distinction as to race ...⁶

2 There is an overwhelming amount of scripture forbidding association with, living with, doing business with, and having intermarriage with strangers.

3 "The Word", the "Word made flesh", and "Israel" are indivisible to Christians and their God. This article requires toleration of "evil". Israel's God has said he will destroy his people for tolerating evil.

4 "Affirmative action," anti-white media, anti-white legislation, Fort Smith Sedition Trials, aid international support to S. Africa's black Communists.

5 "God the Word" of the Christians is the God that forbids racial integration. Gen 24:3,4, Deut 7:3, Joshua 23:12-13, Hosea 5:7, Neh 13:3, Neh 9:2, Ex 33:16, Lev 20:24, Ezra 10:3, Ex 23:28,33, Deut 28:43, Jubilees 30:6-13, etc. Article 3 is aimed solely against Christians who follow the Laws of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

6 "When the tabernacle is to be pitched ... the stranger (Heb: zûvr -racial alien) that cometh nigh shall be put to death." Numbers 1:51. "Come out from among them and be ye separate." II Cor 5:14

Article 4

"All States shall take effective measures ... to rescind laws and regulations which have the effect of ... perpetuating racial discrimination ... ⁷

Article 5

"An end shall be put without delay to ... policies of apartheid

Article 6

"No discrimination by reason of race ... shall be admitted in the enjoyment ... of ... citizenship rights ... ⁸

Article 7

"1. Everyone has the right ... to protection by the State ..."

2. Everyone shall have the right to ... protection against any discrimination ... ⁹

⁷ This is believed by many to be the reason for the Canadian, Swedish, French, British, Australian, and German anti-White "anti-hate" laws.

⁹ "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deut 17:15. "Their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall precede from the midst of them." Jer 30:21. "Thou shalt reign over many nations, but they shall not reign over thee." Deut 15:4

"All effective steps shall be taken immediately in the fields of teaching, education and information, with a view to eliminating racial discrimination ...¹⁰

Article 9

"1. All propaganda and organizations ... promoting racial discrimination ... shall be severely condemned.¹¹

"2. All incitement to or acts ... against any race ... shall be ... punishable under law.¹²

"3. ... all states shall take immediate ... legislative and other measures to ... outlaw organizations which promote ... racial discrimination ...¹³

Article 10

"The U.N. ... shall ... by combining legal and other practical measures, will make possible the abolition of all forms of racial discrimination ...¹⁴

10 This could be the compelling reason for "Black studies", "Politically Correct" studies. "Read this law before all Israel ... and thy stranger (Heb: gêr - visiting racial kinsman) ... that they may ... do all the words of this law." Deut 31:11-12

11 This article is the reason for the censorship present now in Canada, Britain, Sweden, France, and Germany. Now, lawsuits and harassment of Christians and Christian groups is taking place all over the West.

12 "We must obey God rather than men." Acts 5:29. "If ye love me obey my commandments. John 14:15. "Not everyone shall enter into the kingdom of heaven but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." Matt 7:21. Reading the Word must be banned to comply with this statute.

13 Christian gatherings obeying the Word must be banned to comply with this statute.

14 The "policing map" of the U.S. and other lands by troops foreign to them has already been published and is available from patriotic groups.

Article 11

"Every State shall promote ... fundamental freedoms in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations."¹⁵

LEGISLATION

To enforce Article 9, Section 2 of the above, which is by treaty "the law of the land", Congress recently passed "anti-terrorist" legislation criminalizing writings that may incite terrorist activities. The bill has been sent to the Senate for confirmation - which is expected shortly.

When enacted into law - Christians can expect to be forbidden to copy from the WORD such things as "Hate those that hate thee ... with a perfect hatred", and, by law we will be forced to tolerate those who blaspheme against God.

Apocrypha

All these things have been done in the past and are recorded in the Apocrypha - a collection of books banished from the KJ Bible in the 1830s, as near as I can learn; the same time that those who are not Isreal began using their media monopoly to proclaim that they are Israel.

The banished Apocrypha is Israel's history from the time of Israel's captivity until the return of the WORD made flesh. Without the Apocrypha, one remains ignorant of the great victories Israel won over their oppressors and the methods they used to do so after their return from captivity.¹⁶

The Apocrypha also tells how our fathers went from captivity into a far land where we became known as Isaac's sons, Saccsons - Saxons, while others returned to Judea. The book of the "Maccabees" contained in the Apocrypha, in my opinion, is the age we are now entering.

Conclusion

During the days of the Maccabees, the Greek generals ruled the land, burned the scriptures, and punished those who would not worship the new Gods.

Most of today's priests no longer teach the Laws, Statutes and Judgments of the WORD. In the place of the 10 Commandments of the Covenant they teach "civil religion" - the religion of those who worship the state. These false watchmen find no fault with the capital crime of "usury" - which multiplies debt - which Esau uses to buy the media which they use to enslave minds. These enslaved minds are then taught to elect Esau's agents to be their kings - kings who open our borders to more aliens.

We've read the UN Declaration and we've read The WORD.

The heathen have raged before. But, there is but one God!

OPINION

The Democrats appear to have selected two candidates. The WORD is Our guide:

"As for my people, children are their oppressors, and women rule over them." Isaiah 3:12

For the other the WORD says;

"Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deut 17:15

The WORD is clear:

"Enter ye in at the strait gate, for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be that go in thereat." Matt 7:13

LETTER FROM S. AFRICA

Dear Mr. & Mrs Hoskins: A big "thank-you" for the wonderful donation from your subscribers who care for our poor white children. Betzy was delighted and deeply thankful.

Five students wrote their matric and three little ones came in - two brothers 6 and 7 and a girl of 10. It will take a lot to adapt. Betzy has the experience and one look at their happy faces tells the story. They are not in an institution but individuals - each with his own needs.

On the other side of town is a black home to whom the Hollanders send millions. It's chaos. They hardly attend school, learn no manners or study anything useful. They were recently on TV.

The term of President Mbeki is nearing its end and there is much infighting. The new black leader is Jacob Zuma, a Zulu. He must have good speech writers as he only attended grade four out of 12. There are not many Xhosas, but lots of Zulus. In 1994, a number of Zulu chiefs were killed - and Zulus have long memories. We suspect that Zuma may be anti-Xhosa in addition to being anti-white. Regardless, he is an out and out communist.

A Catholic order called Jesuits is being accused of involvement in southern Africa politics. Machel, the leader of Zambia and Mugabe, the leader of Zimbabwe are both Catholics. A photo on the front page of the Argus showed Mandela receiving communion from the Roman Catholic Archbishop, Lawrence Henry. So, I suppose he is one also. In any event, the blacks have reduced Zimbabwe so that it looks like the ancient Zimbabwe ruins and all the blacks are outspoken in their hatred of whites. Often, when murders of young whites take place, nothing is taken; they are just taken out and shot.

It is difficult for the world to understand our plight since the media has blacked out our existence. Whites are used to having their own farms. White traitors among us, aided by outsiders, saw their chance to get rich. They helped black rebels overthrow our government, and in return for large bribes the new black rulers are selling our industry and land for next to nothing to these same traitors and foreign countries. We are being reduced to being penniless serfs in our own land. As we see things, the time is not far away that to survive we will need every hand and without God there is no chance.

Willie Marias, the HNP leader (Heritage National Party), died on the 27th Dec from a heart attack. In spite of my disagreeing with the liberal direction he was taking the paper, I continued to subscribe to die Afrikaner since it is one of the few Afrikaner papers still being printed.

Koos Venter was the young man chosen last year as chairman of the small group that broke away from the HNP for the same reasons. I hope we will hear more of him.

We are going through a huge mess. Remember how they closed all the power stations and sold them as scrap to China? The Chinese must be enjoying the present situation - we are having daily electrical brown-outs and black-outs. The effect on factories and businesses is terrible. Electrical shortages have caused many gold mines to stop operation except for using their water pumps. This has caused a gold shortage and the world price of gold to rise to new highs.

In spite of the electrical shortages here, S. Africa still supplies Zimbabwe with electricity which Mugabe re-sells to South West Africa.

China is moving into Africa. They own the copper mines in Zambia. The black workers wanted to strike and were firmly told to go back to work.

Basic commodities are not available - like bread which forms the staple diet for many. Gas, stoves, fridges and lamps are most expensive.

The Pretoria trains could not run so the blacks burnt the lot. Who will ever understand a black's mind.

The last few days we have had large amounts of rain. The dams are filling up, but I don't know how it will affect the crops. Milk is still in short supply.

With our best wishes, K.J.

LYNCHBURG' MAYOR SENTENCED

On December 8, 2005, The News & Advance announced that Lynchburg's black Mayor Carl Hutcherson, pastor of Trinity United Methodist Church and owner of a funeral home business, was indicted by a grand jury on charges of social security fraud - receiving a disabled person's SS payments and using the money to buy himself a TV and stereo, make payment to another, and purchase life insurance on the disabled person - payable to himself; Another count of SS fraud where he received a second person's SS and used it for himself, to pay for a fundraising dinner, make contributions to his church, to buy postage stamps for himself and pay for cable TV for himself; That he stole money from his church's Trinity New Life Development Corp. and used it to pay the IRS; That he submitted forged documents to the Centra

Health Foundation soliciting money; That as a member of the Board of Directors of Bank of the James provided a fraudulent letter to the bank; that he made a false statement in January 2005 in an FBI investigation; that he provided the federal grand jury with fraudulent minutes of a directors' meeting and cash receipts, and, obstruction of justice. If convicted on all seven counts, Hutcherson could expect up to 105 years in prison and $2.5 million in fines.

Hoskins Report expressed skepticism that the establishment would punish one of their own in such a manner. The 2005 indictment was made with a quarter page picture of Hutcherson and reams of copy.

The final sentence was reported in January 2008, three years later. There was a very small front page picture, a couple of inches of copy, followed by a few more inches of copy buried on p.A5. In the brief article it was revealed that U.S. District Court Judge James Turk sentenced Hutcherson to six months house arrest, three years probation, 200 hours of community service and $15,000 in fines and restitution.

Now that Hutcherson will have soon paid his debt to society, including having his wrist slapped, and learned his lesson, it is not unreasonable to assume that the Democratic/Republican Party might run him for mayor once again.

The pulpits were silent when Hutcherson was indicted. They remain silent.

Non-Genetically Modified SEEDS

Henry Kissinger said that a country is controlled by controlling its food.

America is now fed with genetically modified seeds. The seeds used today produce a bountiful crop but they don't reproduce. The seeds that come from genetically-modified plants are sterile.

If people should suddenly have to reactivate farms or plant WWII type "victory gardens" - most would starve. They have no seed to plant.

In 1988, HR asked readers to send the names of companies where seeds might be purchased. A list of about 20 names resulted which were passed on to you. Today, HR repeats the request - we need the names and addresses of companies that sell seeds that are NOT genetically modified.

Food is a weapon. Non-genetically-modified seeds in the hands of patriots may turn out to be their salvation.

LETTERS FROM - 1988

1988 HR - SOVIET INTENTIONS: The Communists killed millions in the Soviet Union. They murdered the entire upper and middle classes of the nation - millions! Every family in the USSR has a martyred member.

A free Russia should be eager to bring to trial the thousands of murderers who are responsible and still walk the streets. When Russia's new government tries and executes these criminals wholesale - then one can believe that the present new government isn't the old communist government with a new name and a smiling face.

1988 - FRANCE BETRAYED "Dear Mr. Hoskins: I am a White French Algerian colonial refugee living in France. My people colonized vacant N. African land, planted orchards, and made the land bloom. DeGaulle gave our land to the Arabs. This land, neglected by the Arabs, is again returning to the desert.

"After reading your VC I understand why. DeGaulle was like your J. Lindsay Almond of Virginia, Smith of Rhodesia, deKlerk of S. Africa, Reagan or Bush of America.

Eisenhower, an American Lt. Col. with no combat experience, was appointed by your Roosevelt over 40 senior officers to command the Allied forces in Europe. In turn he chose and gave recognition to DeGaulle. This American recognition made DeGaulle France's leader. In return, DeGaulle gave away French Indo-China and North Africa. He did what he was chosen to do. Eisenhower was chosen to give away E. Europe to the Soviets, which is why he stopped the American armies. The Establishment chooses obedient servants.

Strangers have flooded into France. The enemy, once in Algeria and Indo-China, now occupy the streets of Paris. There are more Moslem births in France than French-Christian births. Traitors have cast down our defenses. France, the home of the Crusaders, has been invaded and occupied by its foes." A. Y. - France

"Dear Mr. Hoskins: The Scottish Regiments of the British army touring the U.S. no longer include the Black Watch. Why?" D. McD. - N. Carolina

ED: The Black Watch was originally recruited from Scots loyal to the English government ("German George" married to a Scot) who opposed Bonnie Prince Charlie. The regiment was used to oppress other Scots who wished to secede. Today's Scots are nationalistic, and refuse to serve in that regiment. It is now recruited in England and is manned almost entirely by Englishmen. I was told that the last time they were in Virginia the hotel where the Black Watch and Seaforths were staying was forced to call the police on several occasions to break up fighting between the two regiments. They fought in the restaurant, hotel corridors, and stairwells, on the streets and before and after public appearances. The Queen is even said to have issued a personal appeal for harmony. Evidently it wasn't enough. Frankly, can you imagine a fiery-eyed Scottish mother wanting her son to serve in the Black Watch?

ED: To be fair, if an electronic ministry came out against racial intermarriage, how long do you think they would stay on prime time? Of course, if the reason their media masters allow them prime time is to dispense this nonsense, they run the risk of God's curse: "Woe to them ... that justify the wicked for reward." Isaiah 5:22-23 obscene rites involving the use of human blood, preferably that of a white child, were considered features of this religion."

In the past, my family has had painful and expensive dealings with practitioners of Voodoo. I would advise approaching practitioners with utmost care. Law officers who value their lives: do not enter a room recently vacated by a priest without wearing a gas mask. It may be a question of life and death. Do not treat Voodoo practices casually. Stay away, or view them from a safe(?) distance. Blacks are very susceptible, and I believe that any Black, educated or ignorant, can be made to do the will of a Voodoo priest. Either that or forfeit his life.

JACOB'S CHILDREN In ESAU'S EMPIRE

Goths

"When Athanaric was negotiating a peace settlement with Valens in 369 AD, the emperor addressed him as king. To this the Gothic prince replied that he preferred the title judge, since the judge embodied wisdom, the king only power. ... monarchic kingship did not exist among the Goths." History of the Goths, Herwig Wolf-ram, p. 94, Univ Cal Press, Berkley, ©1988¹

The Saxon has known both the Self-Sufficient-Farm - and the opposite extreme - the Empire. The Empire always brings death. There is a reason.

The Self-Sufficient Farm

I was fortunate to have lived at the end of America's Self-Sufficient-Farm era (SSF) and can compare its life with life today. A Self-Sufficient-Farm is a business that gives employment and sustenance to its owner and others under his protection.

In its ideal state, it produces everything it needs. It has the freedom to make good decisions that benefit, or bad decisions that harm. This is a freedom unknown today. The freedom was such that not even the "state", the Empire incubator, could put a road across a SSF without its owner's permission - a permission often denied.

The Empire

Empires grow from the desire of a few to take tribute from the many.

"The love of money is the root of all evil." I Tim 6:10

A land of self-sufficient-farms, by its nature, has many rulers; an empire has one. This one ruler, with his supporters, form the ruling clique. This ruling clique creates a government apparatus to keep themselves in power and to ensure that the flow of tribute is not interrupted.

The Emperor's enemies are "separatists" - religious, political or economic - those who wish to pull away from Empire control. His greatest enemy is the Self-Sufficient-Farm - whose owner is independent since he can feed himself, arm himself, and has all the powers of an emperor except they are confined to the land he cultivates. The one superior power he recognizes is the Law system given him by his God. But, as long as the SSF exists the emperor can never be sure that it won't become the focal point of rebellion against himself.

Before an Empire can exercise its full power and feel safe, the independent farm system must be merged with others and placed under control of the agencies of the state or a state-approved corporation controlled by an ally. Former owners of these mini-empire farms are now state subjects and provide tribute to the state.

History books list many Empires - and with the exception of the one existing today - all have self-destructed.

My Father

My father's grandfather was a doctor who lived on a Self-Sufficient-Farm. Reconstruction taxes forced him to sell. The Chesapeake Corporation now owns his land.

Since farms had become unprofitable, his son operated several country stores. Chain stores opened in nearby towns and undersold country stores. Empty country stores dot the countryside.

My father used the last of the family money and went to school and became a doctor. It distressed him to see a patient with a condition that he could not help. He went back to medical school to learn new things. In time he accumulated four specialities; "Eye-Ear- Nose-Throat", "Internal Medicine"; "Surgery"; and "Urology". He practiced all four specialities at the same time - something not done today. Other doctors sent their patients to him to be diagnosed. I suppose you might say that he was a one-man clinic. He always felt that there was much more to learn.

SSF Life

Going back to medical school took time. Dad would go to school in Baltimore with mother for a year or two, and my two sisters and I lived with my Mother's parents on the Kelly farm near Culpeper.

It was during the depression. Lots of people lived in the Kelly's big white frame house on the other side of Mountain Run. Kinsmen and hard-up friends were welcomed, given a bed, a place at the table, and assigned a job. Money was scarce, but there was work for everyone. Even I was important, and I was seven years old.

An Important 7-Year Old

My job was to be first up in the morning. I dressed and went down to the kitchen and stirred up the coals in the big iron stove and threw in kindling. When it caught I threw coal on top. Then, I lit a "spill" from the fire and took it to the hot-water heater; cut on the gas and "WHOOOMP!" - fire blazed up in the middle of the water coils. It was scary.²

With both the stove and hot-water heater burning, the kitchen quickly warmed and I had to leave while the women came down where it was warm to dress. Or, they could take turns taking a bath in my hot water.

Next, Aunt Lucy fixed me something to eat. Behind the barn was the water pump. Richard pumped water for the cows in the morning, and I had to do it after school. I hated pumping water. One thirsty cow could drink all the water and I had to keep pumping and pumping. Woe unto me if the cows found an empty water trough and complained loudly enough for Granddaddy to hear.

I also fed the chickens and took them water, collected the eggs, and helped Richard slop the pigs in the afternoon. I brought in kindling for the sitting-room fireplace.

School was two miles away and I took the short-cut across the meadow - keeping an eye out for the bull. I crossed Mountain Run on the state-built wire foot-bridge.

School was hard. I could spell "Dick" fine, but they made me learn "Richard", and that had too many letters. One day for "show and tell" I brought a moccasin in a jar. I had holes in the top so it could breath. The teacher took the jar out of the bag, screamed, dropped and broke the jar, and the whole school was in an uproar. A snake was loose! Everybody was running around. I put the snake back in the bag and turned him loose in the yard of a lady across the street. I thought she wouldn't mind. They eat mice and things. She did mind. But, that's another story. Try explaining all this to your Grandmother when you get home. She knew all about it. Culpeper was a small place.

Then, there was hog killing time. It took all day grinding sausage and cutting, seasoning and wrapping hams. Then I helped milk the cows when Richard was sick. I could help harness and handle horses and I could drive them when standing behind on a sod-buster. I helped gather corn and I played inside the corn-stacks, and in the barn and storage sheds with my buddies who lived on the next hill. I could ride a mean pony bareback; and Richard let me drive the truck when Granddaddy wasn't around. Life was great!

There was almost no market for farm produce and taxes had to be paid. Granddaddy also found it hard to make a living on the farm so he opened a furniture store in town. He also bought and sold houses and land. Grandmother sewed things. She also supervised the house and raised chickens. She bought hundreds of baby chicks, raised them; the hens produced eggs, the roosters provided meals. She sold some of them and always had money when you needed it. When I had done a hard job especially well she gave me a rooster. I took it to Triplet's Mill and sold it for 50¢. A movie cost 10¢ and popcorn 5¢ and I had 35¢ left over for the rest of the month.

My great-uncle Roy Hume was old. He had been in the gold-rush out West. He was in charge of the vegetable garden and got me to help hoe the weeds when he could catch me. We had more than enough food to feed the family, their spouses, all the children and all their friends, visiting kinsmen, overnight guests and hard-up friends.

Aunt Lucy was in charge of meals. Uncle Gordon, Aunt Maude's husband, died. She taught school and helped with linens and coached the children with their lessons when she got home; Uncle Thompson ran an appliance business in town and helped Richard the hired hand when he came home. Uncle Alex ran Granddaddy's furniture store with granddaddy. At least 15 sat down to the supper table just any time and sometimes twice that many. Everyone had "news" so everyone wanted to be at the table to hear it and no one wanted to leave.

Real often the table topic was "Reconstruction" which was the start of hard-times - when "Yankees" came. They were around a long time and did whatever they liked - sometimes they burned people's houses down. Whenever Mosby derailed a train, they burned houses for ten miles around. As late as the 1930s there were places where you could go for miles and there were no houses, barns or anything.

The grownups were always talking about taxes. People couldn't raise enough on their farms to pay the taxes needed to pay the debt accumulated during Reconstruction when the black legislature was put in power in Richmond. The blacks paid themselves humongous salaries, bought houses, had lavish parties, and paid double for railroads that went nowhere. A lot of our people moved out West. Things were bad there, too. Their letters were read at the supper table.

Granddaddy was quiet - but everyone knew Dick Kelly. Local people came to the house for him to judge their disputes. They sat quietly in rocking chairs talking on the front porch. Dick Kelly's decision settled the matter. This was the same Dick Kelly, who with his brother Alex, had that run-in with the Texas Rangers in Tyler, Texas that I told you about.

The Kelly house seemed typical, at least it was the same as the other farms I visited. There were some that had more activities and more people and some less. I learned words and meanings that don't even exist today. I learned what a "grass widow" was - a woman whose husband had "turned her out to graze". I didn't know what that meant. But, then again I never heard of an actual case of divorce, not in the entire county. I knew what "suicide" was. A boy of 18 hanged himself 60 years before in a red shed behind a white house in town. I walked past that shed every day going to school. I told other boys that I was going to look inside one day, but I never did.

I'm telling you all this so that you will have an idea what it must have been like living in the last of the Self-Sufficient-Farm system. Everyone took care of everyone else and there was plenty to eat. Those who had anything at all seemed to have more than enough. There was a lot of work, but no one complained. Everyone worked. That's what people did.

Ongoing War

I was a kid and didn't know, but the entire country was being changed from the Self-Sufficient-Farm-System into an Empire.

To prepare the way, America's Empire builders engaged in wholesale slaughter. James Webb, author of Born Fighting is quoted by Thomas DiLorenzo in Lincoln Unmasked, p.174 as saying:

"It is impossible to believe that (Southern) men would have continued to fight against unnatural odds and take casualties beyond the level of virtually any other modern army (70% casualties with 25% dead) - Something deep was motivating them."

One of these casualties had been one of Mosby's men. He came into Granddaddy's store and asked to borrow a knife. He rolled up his pant leg and there was a big knot in his knee. He made a quick cut and a .36 cal pistol ball popped out onto the desk. He had been shot in the side during the War and it had worked down to his knee. It stayed in the cash register drawer for a long time. I don't know what happened to it.

Black Reconstruction government introduced more debt than the war had cost. This debt caused ongoing taxes to be so high they couldn't have been paid even in good times before The War.

Carpetbagger Corporations bought millions of acres of deserted farmland at tax sales for almost nothing. A lot of what they bought was privatized to helpful politicians and others.³

Destroying the SSF

When Daddy came back home to Lynchburg from school I left Granddaddy's farm. It wasn't long after that Granddaddy shut down his farm operation. It was too expensive. Everyone else seemed to be doing the same. The chickens were gone, cows gone, corn fields gone, workshops and barns - all gone. Deserted country churches dotted the hillsides. People moved to nearby towns and got better paying jobs working in factories owned by cartel corporations.

This started the time when people began watching what they said or did if they were going to keep their jobs and feed their families. Empire results in "dumbing down" people who aren't really dumb.

This background is the reason I tried to learn why my country has been turned into a land of deserted farms and deserted country churches into mushrooming cities where people live from paycheck to paycheck.

How was it possible that in the 1850s the North was in the grips of an economic depression starting with the failure of the Life Insurance Company of Pennsylvania - people were going hungry - while Virginia was in one of its greatest periods of prosperity. It was in the midst of a building boom, there was little indebtedness and practically everyone had plenty to eat. It wasn't until April 28, 1965 that I discovered The WORD. From the WORD I discovered The LAW: From the LAW I discovered what had happened to my people.

3 Empires fight wars so that the loser's wealth can be "privatized".

Old History

The law says:

"The borrower is slave to the lender." Prov. 22:7

America's Southland was virtually debt-free but became borrowers and slaves overnight. We look back and see that our people have gone through the same sort of thing before - and survived.

The Goth nation was split into two parts - Visigoths and Ostrogoths. The Goths were settled and farming north of the Black Sea when suddenly half of them were overrun by a massive invasion of Huns. The captives were allowed to live provided they paid tribute to the Huns and serve in their armies (same as today). These slave Goths were "Ostrogoths".

The other half fled. They learned the Hun method of war and became a nation on the move - their self-sufficient farms faded into the past. These Goths were known as Visigoths. With the Huns behind them, they were pushed into the Roman Empire. Without a king but with excellent leaders, they destroyed the Roman army sent to expel them, killing the emperor and most of his men.

While the Ostrogoths served the Huns until Attila was killed by a captive daughter of a German chief, the Visigoths continued on and conquered and settled France, Italy and Spain. Once there, they again divided the land and established their Self-Sufficient-Farms like those that they had abandoned in the Crimea. Each man was again king with his own land to rule.⁴

Fate Of Rome

A man having a Self-Sufficient-Farm may destroy himself and his family inadvertently - and it will scarcely be noticed by the rest of the nation.

With an Empire it is different; the emperor, the final arbiter of right and wrong for everyone in his empire, in time will make a fatal mistake. When he does, not IF, but when - his empire will come crashing down.

Babylon left a water-gate undefended, the enemy entered its "impregnable" defenses and Babylon fell.

Rome died a bit at a time. Its emperor granted a food monopoly based in Egypt. Pirates destroyed the grain ships - much of Rome starved. Rome taxed its citizens. Romans saved money for taxes and stopped having children. Rome's water came by aqueduct from distant mountains. German warriors broke the aqueducts and the population of the City of Rome dropped from 1 million to 10,000 in one year.

Today

Esau has stealthily invaded our lands. "Esau's Cloak" blinds our eyes and minds. His agents in pulpit, political office, and business have collaborated to make us accept the debt of country, states, and cities. Our homes and possessions are collateral. Bankruptcy and prison await non-payment or defiance. Esau has arranged things so the Law is not taught. Without knowledge there can be no obedience. Without

⁴ "All the earth is mine." Ex 19:5; "As the LORD commanded Moses, so the children of Israel did, and they divided the land." Jos 14:5; "Joshua divided the whole land by lots to Israel for an inheritance, as the Lord had commanded him." Jasher 90:19; "The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... the land shall be divided by lot." Num 26:53- 55 obedience there can be no hope. Esau knows the law. He knows:

"The borrower is slave to the lender." Prov. 22:7

He has attached "usury" to this debt, and made us responsible for both. He can do this with impunity since his collaborators will not teach that indebtedness is slavery and "usury" is a capital crime.⁵

While this is taking place, we are awakening to find tens of millions of hostile strangers in our land. Our taxes are no longer enough. Esau's fraudulent money system is fractured - which in time may place food beyond reach. In brief, Jacob's debts could vanish overnight when Esau's usury system self-destructs.⁶

Picture a day when the sons of Goths and Vikings stand naked, hungry, having nothing more to lose, they will realize what Esau and his collaborators have done to them and they are angry - very angry; And having the LAW in their hearts and nothing more to lose they will know exactly what to do to bring God's Kingdom to earth.

⁵ "Hath given forth upon usury ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13

⁶ USURY: Usury is lending 10 units when only 10 units of the thing lent is in existence - while requiring the repayment of 11 of those units, or forfeiture of assets. Given time, Usury logically results in ALL property in time falling into the hands of one usurer with all other usurers being his agents. Ezek 18:13; Deu 23:20

SEEDS

Climate, political, and monetary changes point to an increasing possibility of food shortages. In 1988, I asked for the names of Seed Companies and received more than I could print. I asked HR readers to share their lists of companies selling non-genetically modified seed and received the following:

Abundant Life Seeds

Food As A Weapon

Russian armies retreating before Napoleon burned their own farmlands. French soldiers went hungry and then starved.

During the War Between the States, Lincoln stopped prisoner exchange so that the South would have to feed tens of thousands of Union prisoners. Areas of the South were burned to punish the inhabitants. Some farms were even sown with salt. Rail fences that kept livestock from ruining gardens were burned. Union armies often lived off the land. The economy was ruined and post-war taxes passed by occupation governments forced cheap land sales.

In the Boer War, British armies invaded S. Africa and burned Boer farms, slaughtered livestock, and imprisoned women and children in concentration camps where tens of thousands died from disease and starvation. The economy was ruined. Much later, black occupation governments passed high taxes forcing cheap land sales.

During WWI, the allies blockaded Germany. The blockade was continued after the war to force Germany to agree to the Versailles Peace Treaty. Hundreds of thousands died. Post war Allied supported governments passed high taxes, printed money and ruined the economy - forcing cheap asset sales to foreigners.

The National Socialists came to power in Germany after WWI. They required that houses being built have garden plots. During WWII, the allies again blockaded Germany and again kept the blockade in place after the war. Hundreds of thousands of Germans again starved to death. It would have been far worse without the small individual garden patches. I have met Germans whose families had members who starved to death during this period. Allied installed occupation government taxed a ruined economy and forced its sale to foreigners. Saxons of America, South Africa and Germany own very little in their countries.

Don't think that those responsible for Ruby Ridge, Waco, Oklahoma City and the Towers will hesitate to punish American dissenters. Think what would happen if the 18-wheelers stopped running or the aqueducts shut down. Stalin starved ten million of his own people. The Soviet revolution was financed from America - its revolutionists came from New York's east side.

Get non-hybrid seed and start your own garden.

RON PAUL: Dear Mr. Hoskins: The reason for Ron Paul's poor showing has to be the hammerlock Esau has on the media. There is also the probability of fraud with the voting machines. For all the money Paul raised, I did not see a single Ron Paul campaign ad, even on Election Eve. Perhaps, "The Cloak Of Esau" needs to be exposed anew." E. Z. - Arizona

ED: I have heard nice things about all the people running for office. I'm almost 80 years old and I can't tell you how many times I've been snookered with the same talk. My rule is this: wait until the latest "white hope" burns a bridge.

Ron Paul could have announced that he intended to audit the Federal Reserve or deport aliens. That would have burned a bridge. Or, he could have said that he would shut down usury banking, or, enforce the Law against racial intermarriage, or, he could have chosen any one of a hundred other Laws that would have burned a bridge.

Never take someone's word that he is the "white-hope" and the real McCoy. Let him burn a bridge. Ron Paul is a nice guy, they all are. One of them might even be another George Washington, but George crossed the Delaware at night in the snow and ice and fought a battle. That's the hard way to burn a bridge.

It's over, and everyone still likes Ron; he remains a member of the establishment in good standing. Lending his name to lead the fox-hounds to chase their tails cost him nothing. Right-wing separatists will be told that they were trounced again. In my opinion, they weren't even in the race. Burn a bridge or shut-up.

HOPE: "Dear Hoskins Family: Enclosed are $2.00 in stamps to help. I hope my brothers who walk out of this jungle gym stay in contact and help spread the message. Many have no remorse! I hope to rise above my anger until my King cast the first stone. In the meantime I mean to reach those who can be reached." D.E. - prisoner Texas

DOING SOMETHING: "Dear Dick: I mailed your three flyers to every one of the hundreds I have on my mailing list. I'm doing what I can to awaken our people." G.J. - Pennsylvania

Chapter 403

MASSACRES Of 1622 & 1644

16th Century

In the 16th century, the children of Jacob-Israel living in Europe had had enough of the corruption of church and kings.

Kings and priests grew fat and rich on the people's labor. Land, taken from the people, sat unused while the people starved. Everything had its price. The church even sold documents giving permission to commit a sin. The king would give a "favorite" 10,000 people to rule.

Enough was enough! Revolt broke out all over Europe - the rebels included both peasants and nobles. They used Biblical Law to justify their seizing and dividing the land claimed by the kings and church. Many groups set up their own states.¹

Deposed rulers fought back. Kings calling themselves "Protestant" and other kings appointed by the Catholic Church together hanged protesting rebels by the tens of thousands to retrieve the lands. Then, the "Protestant" kings and the Catholic kings fought each other to see who was to rule the land retrieved from the people.

To appear Lawful, Protestant kings appointed their own Protestant bishops to bless what they were doing. The Pope blessed the slaughter committed by the Catholic kings he had appointed. Millions had died. In places, Germany lost 90% of her population.

The Reformation reform was dead - except for scattered islands of survivors who fled from place to place keeping the flame alive.

Puritans & Covenanters

Scotland had suffered long from the invasions and misrule of Episcopal invaders from England. John Calvin brought a message. "Earthly princes deprive themselves of all authority when they rise up against God - We ought rather to spit in their faces than to obey them". John Knox taught "It is better to obey God than man". In 1596, the firebrand Presbyterian Andrew Melville stood in King James' face and said, "I mon tell yow, thair is twa Kings and twa Kingdoms the Kirk, whase subject King James the Saxt is, and of whase kingdome nocht a king nor a lord nor a heid, bot a member." Brave talk.

¹ LAW: "As the LORD commanded Moses, so the children of Israel did, and they divided the land." Jos 14:5; "Joshua divided the whole land by lots to Israel for an inheritance, as the Lord had commanded him." Jasher 90:19; "Thus shall (evil men) do in strongholds with a strange god ... he shall divide the land for gain." Daniel 11:39; "The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... the land shall be divided by lot: according to ... their fathers they shall inherit." Num 26:53-55; "Ye shall not offer unto the Lord ... an offering thereof in your land." Lev 22:24 (Geneva Bible)

The Scot backbone stiffened, and they came together in what they called a Covenant based on the WORD.²

To the south, England's people had also had enough. There, followers of the WORD were called "non-conformists" or "Puritans". Many were burned at the stake - first by Catholic kings and then by Protestant kings. Persecution bred opposition.

In an age of long hair, rebels cut theirs short to conform to the Scripture - thereby earning the name "round-heads". Short hair was a flag of rebellion.³

Catholicism was largely suppressed and England was Protestant in name. However, there was an ocean of difference between the religious beliefs of England's puritan Protestant Parliament and the religious beliefs of the Protestant king and his Protestant "Established Church".

The Puritans used Scripture. The king's church used Scripture - but omitted teaching the prohibitions of "kings", "taxes", "usury" and "monopoly" among other things. Inevitably, the two different law systems collided and conflict broke out between the puritan Protestant Parliament and the Protestant King.

2 The ancient covenant of between "Saxon-man" and his God are the "10-Commandments". The "New Covenant" is the same "10-Commandments" placed in their hearts.

3 LAW: "Neither shall they shave their heads nor suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only poll their heads." EZ 44:22; "Doth not even nature itself teach you, that if man have long hair, it is a shame with him." 1 Cor 11:4

Oliver Cromwell

Parliament selected Oliver Cromwell to lead their forces. Like today's conservatives, he "talked the talk" and seemingly "walked the walk".

Unschoolled in military matters, Cromwell revealed himself a military genius. Making things better, Scottish Covenanters came down from the north and joined forces with the English Puritans to fight the Episcopal king. United, they crushed the king's Episcopal armies.⁴

Parliament thanked Cromwell and told him to disband Parliament's Puritan army and go home. Cromwell refused, and instead, dismissed Parliament and beheaded the captured king.

The Puritans in Cromwell's army revolted against him. Cromwell crushed the revolt. He then reorganized his army with those loyal to him and invaded Scotland and crushed his former Scottish Covenanter allies. Cromwell killed two of this writer's Scottish ancestors at Dunbar.

Catholic Ireland revolted and massacred Irish Protestants. "Protestant" Cromwell invaded Ireland and devastated the Catholics from one end of the island to the other.

Returning home, he dispossessed the Puritan owners of lands given them by the former Puritan Parliament and turned them over to his own "Cromwellians" who had proved their loyalty to him. He called himself "Lord Protector", fooling noone. He was king. A king is a king by whatever name he chooses to be called. He had fooled everyone.

⁴ Royalist refugees fled to America by the thousands. Many are our ancestors.

A Quick Recap

A king rules an episcopacy with himself as the head, or, a self-sufficient people rule themselves. Both call on Gods to bless their efforts. Ours is God-the-WORD.⁵ A king's god is a god the king creates to bless his Lawlessness.

The WORD frowns on kings and other Gods.

"This will be the manner of the king ... he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your oliveyards, even the best of them, and give them to his servants (stealing). And he will take the tenth of your seed, and of your vineyards, and give to his officers, and to his servants (taxes). ... He shall take the tenth of your sheep (taxes): and ye shall be his servants." (Deut 17:16-17). "And ye shall cry out in the day because of your king which ye shall have chosen you; and the Lord will not hear you in that day." I Sam 8:11-18

One who is chosen to be a leader to deal with a crisis is not a king. Neither is one who calls himself a "protestant" necessarily a follower of the WORD, nor a "catholic" a Christian.

"By their acts ye shall know them." Matt 7:20

Puppet Rulers

Kings and great churchmen, surrounded by followers, processions and pomp, are easy to see, and their excesses are easy to condemn. Neglected is the realization that both represent the merchant. Their job is to police and bless the merchants' trade monopolies.⁶

⁵ "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father;" Rev 1:5-6

Visible political and religious episcopacies are front men for the rulers of the world who stand behind them.

Virginia

The old king appointed a Royal governor to rule Virginia. This governor represented the king's law system. Many of Virginia's 1607 colonists were Puritan in belief. Many of Virginia's Puritan settlers insisted on the Law-of-the-WORD while the governor insisted on obedience to the King's law.

Pocahontas

Today's media tell the story of how an Indian princess, Pocahontas, married a young Saxon lad named John Rolfe, and the two lived happily ever after. The point being - interracial adultery is all right.

This isn't the whole story.

Law Collision

A king is a creation of the "merchant". He enforces the merchant's wishes. A basic belief of the merchant is Anyone who walks through the merchant's door is welcome - he may be a customer. Happy interracial marriages encourage a larger market area.

John Esten Cooke wrote the true account of the Pocahontas affair in his Virginia, A History of the People, p.95, ©1883.

"The only hesitation seems to have been on his (John Rolph's) part; and his scruples, which were of a religious character, were set forth in full in the letter delivered to Sir Thomas. Rolfe lays bare his whole heart - 'the passions of his troubled soul.' What is he to do? he asks Sir Thomas, that man of good conscience and great knowledge in divinity. The Scriptures forbade marrying 'strange wives,' and Pocahontas belonged to 'a generation accursed' ...

⁶ The Jews had been banished from England for centuries. Oliver Cromwell allowed them to return to England. This started the story that he was a secret Catholic since Jews had long been used as Vatican bankers as well as acting as the civil-service of the international merchant's trade cartel. Mostly, they manage the never-ending flood of usury money that pours into the world's giant corporation holding-companies.

"Sir Thomas Dale at once advised that the marriage should take place. ... The scene was the church at Jamestown, and the time the month of April (1613)."

Sir Thomas represented the King's Government and the God of his Established Church. Rolfe represented the teachings of the revolutionary Puritan movement in England based on the WORD.

Royal Rule

The Royal Government sent explicit instructions that the colonists were to be friends with the Indians. They went in and out of the houses. The whites visited them at their scattered villages and traded with them. The Indians were sold firearms and became excellent shots.

Massacre Of 1622

Powhatan, father of Pocahontas, died in 1618. He was succeeded by his brother, Opitchapan, who was quickly deposed by Opechancanough. The Indian tradition was that he was neither Powhatan's brother, nor a Virginian at all, but a mysterious stranger from Mexico. But he became the Indian ruler and immediately set about planning the extermination of the Saxon colony.

For four years he nurtured his scheme, bringing tribe after tribe into the plot; and during all this time not one Indian betrayed him.

In early 1622, all was ready. On the very morning of the outbreak, the Indians came to the various plantations with presents of game, and breakfasted with the English in the friendliest manner.

Then, the blow fell at the same hour of the same day from Richmond's fall line to the Bay.⁷ At the last minute one or two colonists were alerted by friendly Indians but the rest knew nothing. Half the colony died in what was called "wholesale butchery".

Bitter rage engulfed the survivors and instilled them with a fixed resolve to "exterminate these wild beasts".⁸

The surviving colonists drove the Indians away. But, after Saxon indignation had subsided, the King's governor again demanded a universal reconciliation with the savages. The door to interracial trade was to be reopened.

Massacre Of 1644

To repeat a violation of God's Law is to risk a repeat of God's punishment. The result of the Governor's continued unLawful unification policy was a repeat of the earlier massacre:

"More than 20 years after the massacre of 1622, they resolved a repeat ... their leader was the same Opechan-canough."

7 "Fall-line": Ships sail up the Virginia rivers until they encounter rapids stopping their progress.

8 LAW: "Thou shall make no covenant with them, nor with their gods. They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:32- 33

This strange warrior from a far-off land, whose kinsmen are flooding the country today (and inflicting barbarous unreported injuries on Saxons), was more than 100 years old. This time, however, his effort was far less successful; the colonists trusted neither the Indians nor their own governor, and his effort to exterminate the white man was reduced to killing several hundred victims.⁹ The colonists were learning that their lives depended on obedience to the WORD and not the promises of the king's appointed governor.¹⁰

Bacon's Rebellion - 1676

Jamestown's governor issued a law as to conformity and uniformity in church worship; the whole colony of Virginia was instructed to conform "both in canons and constitution, to the Church of England," (1624-32) "lest the Roundhead people overthrow the Church and King."

Passengers on arriving ships were required to take the oath of supremacy and allegiance. Those not present at prayers, are to be fined one shilling; if they do not attend later, they are to pay two shillings and six-pence; and if they appear not at all, they are to be "fined by the whole bodie of the Assembly" (1632).

In 1675, Indians around Richmond massacred scattered Saxon families. A young 28 year old Englishman named Nathaniel Bacon organized the local militia and requested permission from Governor Berkley to engage in hostilities. Berkley operated a fur-monopoly with the Indians that he did not wish disturbed and so he denied Bacon's several requests. Saxons continued to be murdered.

⁹ LAW: "Little by little I will drive them out from before thee, until thou be increased, and inherit the land." Ex 23:29-30

In violation of orders, Bacon's militia retaliated against the Indians and defeated them. Berkley declared Bacon's actions to be an act of "rebellion" and war between the two commenced.

Bacon died either from disease or poison and Berkley proceeded to hang his followers and confiscate their estates - thereby reopening the Indian fur-trade that had been closed by Bacon.¹¹

Question

Today's merchant kings and merchant priests seek customers for their masters and have once again thrown the country's doors open to strangers - most having almost identical DNA to those who massacred our ancestors in 1622, 1644, 1676, etc. These invaders are inflicting beatings, robberies and wholesale murders on the Saxon population and have flooded prisons with their members. Unreported by the merchant's-media, armed alien gangs at this moment are organizing in city after city and creating a fearful existence for their inhabitants.

The Question

If, in time, a kinsman of Opechancanough, having the same lust for Saxon blood, leads one or more of these alien groups to commit a truly horrifying 1622 or 1644 type massacre, and the Saxons respond by aggressively defending themselves against their attackers as they did in 1622, 1644 and 1676 - would you expect the king to attack and drive the aliens beyond our borders, or, would you expect the king to attack the Saxons who defended themselves against the wild savages?

Merchant

The God of the Merchant kings and merchant priests considers anyone who walks in the door to be a potential customer. The more who walk in - the more potential customers.

Anyone who prevents a potential customer from walking in the front door is automatically the merchant's enemy.¹²

Merchant kings and merchant priests are selected by the great merchants to police their corporations. Their God is not God The WORD.

Lesson From The Past

Two millennia ago, a traveler commented on the absence of aliens and their trade among the Israelites. The following was the explanation:

"Nor do we delight in merchandise, nor in such a mixture with other men as arises from it ... having a fruitful country for our habitation, we take pains in cultivating that only. Our principle care ... is ... to educate our children well; ... to observe the laws that have been given us ... Since ... there was no occasion offered us ... for intermixing among the Greeks, as they had had for mixing among the Egyptians, by their intercourse of exporting and importing their several goods; as they also mixed with the Phoenicians, who lived by the sea-side, by means of their love of lucre in trade and merchandise." Flavius Josephus Against Apion 1:12

Rules Of War

The Indian Massacre of 1622 set the rules for future warfare between Saxons and Indians. The ritual remains the same. "Treaty", "friendship", "disarming conduct", "exchange of gifts", "massacre".

Whether peace or war, Saxons have continued to lose isolated families and travelers who are put to death by Indian war parties and their kinsmen in the most horrid manner.

The Indians made the rules. Virginians learned to follow them. Saxons commenced their own massacre raids. Three times a year Virginia would call up her mounted militia who would then scour the no-man's-land between Saxon settlements and Indians. Indians found in the forbidden zone were put death in the same manner the Indians put Saxons to death. It was the kind of war practiced by Indians against each other over hundreds of years and was thoroughly understood by both sides. My family has many members who were massacred by Indians.

Texas

The bloody Aztec-Indian Empire to the south would capture the entire army of an opponent and put them all to death, one by one, in a ritual sacrifice that would leave mountains of bodies and torrents of blood.

This was the people conquered and ruled by a Spanish-Saxon aristocracy. They imposed a veneer of Western civilization over the land. In violation of the LAW - the Spanish aristocracy mixed their race with the Indians creating a mixed-breed called "mestizos". These mixed-breed Mestizos breed faster than Saxons and in time this reduced the Mexican-Saxons to a minority.

Mexican Texas was largely unsettled. By 1835, thousands of Americans, mostly from the Southern states, had settled in this land. The clash of LAWs soon changed the initial welcome to hostility, so the Saxons set up their own government.

"Remember The Alamo"

A large Mexican army moved to suppress these Texas separatists and quickly defeated small Texan forces. After capture, they massacred their Saxon captives. Next, was The Alamo. We are familiar with "Remember The Alamo" and the fate of the garrison.

Goliad Massacre

Flushed with success, the Mexican army defeated a number of other small Texas units and captured their members - who were slaughtered after they surrendered. At Goliad, 342 men of Col. Fannin's command were captured. At 8 AM on Palm Sunday, March 27, 1836, the Mexicans marched their prisoners out and shot, clubbed and stabbed them to death. Those found wounded in a Goliad hospital met the same fate.

Three known survivors escaped to Sam Houston's army with the news. In the following Battle of San Jacinto the Saxons were overwhelmingly victorious.

Instead of following the Indian rules of war - the Texans spared the lives of surrendered Mexican Gen Santa Anna and his soldiers.

Border Massacre

I spent a number of years as a Gideon. Our job was to distribute New Testaments at schools and Bibles in hotels. One old timer had served on the Mexican border under General Black Jack Pershing before WWI. He told an interesting story.

His command was ordered to pursue Mexican bandits. They crossed over into Mexico and passed through several towns. In the streets lay the bodies of entire families - men, women and children - bodies having blond hair and blue eyes. The Mexicans were killing their own Mexicans who were Saxons. This scene met his eyes in village after village.

Today, Mexico is virtually devoid of its founding Saxons. The Indian children of Esau destroyed them.

Conclusion

We Saxon children of the Covenant are still here because we remember the LAW of our Father:

"I am the Lord your God, which have separated you from other peoples." Le 20:24

Hispanics and Indians share the same DNA. The things they did before is in their blood. Esau has placed the same type of governors to rule us as he did before. These rulers promote interracial trade regardless of consequences to Saxon-Israel. They see our kinsmen being slaughtered daily and consider it of no importance.

Esau and his appointees tell us that things are different now, that there can be no repeat of Opechancanough's Plan.

Still, we remember 1622, 1644, 1676, the Indian wars that followed every 20 years, the Alamo and Giliad massacres, and the tens of thousands of ambushes on backroads, farms and streets, and the rape and slaughter of our women and children - constantly increasing in tempo and intensity and ignored by pulpit, politician, and media; and we remember especially - the ones who are responsible for allowing this to happen.

"The angels of punishment ... preparing for the kings and the powerful ones of the earth." Enoch I 52:3,5.

Chapter 404

ALL ARE GUILTY

A government paper came into my possession in 1987 entitled "A Staff Study, Prepared For The Use Of The Joint Economic Committee, Congress Of The United States, dated May 10, 1986." It is 44 pages long.

It was excerpted to fit HR #149.

The paper confesses that our own government knows that the acts of the banking cartel shuts down US farmers. They have done this to make room for foreign farm exports from other lands. This increased foreign production gives foreigners money to pay interest they owe to the international banks. The consequences were known, but were still implemented to the detriment of our own American farmers.

"A STAFF STUDY"

A Staff Study, was written in 1986 - more than 20 years ago. It's tough reading, but you'll learn something. It will be worth your time.

"Latin American debtor nations had a total external debt of... $318 billion, with yearly interest payment totaling $38.5 billion. Their trade surplus... was only $8.5 billion, or $30 billion less than that needed to pay interest. ...

"Debtor nations generate a large portion of the dollars they need to pay interest by increasing their exports and cutting their imports;

"... to comply with this strategy, Latin American debtors... reduced their imports from almost $100 billion in 1981 to approximately $60 billion today (1986). ... Argentina, Brazil, and Mexico, ... account for 2/3s... (they) increased the volume of their exports by 47%, 56%, and 62%...

"Injury To The US Farm Economy

"...policies ... implemented have permitted US banks to... increase their profitability. But... those policies have... injured the economic well-being of sectors of the US... agriculture and manufacturing in particular....

"Little attention... has been paid to the relationship between the international debt crisis and the financial difficulties of US farmers.

"Declining Farm Exports

"In 1981 ... the US Department of Agriculture reported:

"Developing countries continue to be the major growth area for US farm exports... over 1/2 of US wheat and soybean oil and 4/5s of US rice exports went to developing countries

"... US farm exports hit an all-time high in 1981... Between 1980 & 1981, the Latin American market absorbed almost 1/2 the total growth of US farm exports.

"When the debt crisis emerged in Aug. 1982 ... L. American markets contracted precipitously. ... to obtain dollars to pay interest on their external debt, debtor nations began reducing their purchases of all US exports... this had dire consequences down on the farm.

"... agricultural exports to L. America tumbled 1/3 below ...their 1981 level. ...

Falling Commodity Prices

"... to pay interest, debtor nations must increase their exports as well as reduce their imports ... they must ... produce more and compete more fiercely with US producers for a share of world export markets....

"This additional production ...places downward pressure on virtually all major commodity prices. Falling commodity prices ... pushes many (farmers) into bankruptcy. ...falling commodity prices also make it more difficult for L. American debtors to continue servicing their debt.... as ...debt ...difficulties mount, they are pressed to produce and export still more which ...generates additional price declines and increases the financial strains on US farmers....

"Between October 1980 and Oct. 1982, prices for all non-petroleum commodity exports declined 40%. ...

Global Overproduction

"Many Americans are under the impression that the current farm crisis is due primarily to domestic overproduction. ... export statistics tell a different story.

"... while US wheat production was increasing by 6 million metric tons (6 MMT) between 1981 and 1985, global wheat production was increasing ... nearly 12 times as much...

"Rising world production ... spark the dramatic decline in US farm exports. ...

Increased L. American Grain Exports

"... While US production and exports have been declining, debtor nations ...Argentina & Brazil in particular, have greatly expanded production and, as statistics concerning the increasing incidence of malnutrition in both countries indicate, they have increased their exports even more rapidly than production. ... their success in boosting exports has come at the expense of US farm exports.

(ED: These countries, desperate to pay their debts, took their own citizens' food to sell to pay interest to the international banks.)

"Manufacturing businesses and their employees are also victims ...more than one million US jobs have been lost because the debt crisis has forced debtor nations to reduce their consumption of US products and increase their exports of competing products to the US...

Solvency Or Profitability?

"...Without new bank loans, debtor nations would have difficulty making ...interest payments. ... if debtors failed ... bank profits would fall. ...

"From the earliest days ...banks increased their spreads - (additional interest charges) ... These higher profit margins ... quickly translated into higher profits at the money center banks. During 1985, ... after-tax profits rose by 12% at Citicorp, 39% at Chase Manhattan, 16% at Manufacturers Hanover, 31% at Morgan Guaranty, 15% at Chemical, 21% at Bankers Trust, & 96% at 1st Chicago. Continental Illinois converted a $1 billion loss in 1984 into a $134 million profit in 1985. ... Bank profits have grown steadily since the onset of the debt crisis....

"Not surprisingly, bank stock prices and dividends increased along with profits ... In addition to ... higher dividends, shareholders also profited from a substantial increase in stock prices...

Growth Or Interest Payments

"... except for the Dominican Republic, all the major L. American debtor nations are generating large trade surpluses. In Argentina, Brazil, and Venezuela, exports were at least twice as large as imports. ... In dollar terms, the total trade surplus of these 10 L. American debtors is $35.6 billion. ... a large part of that trade surplus was generated by reducing their purchases of US products. ...

"However, because of their debt service expenses (interest), debtor nations cannot afford to increase their imports. ... With the exception of Ecuador and Venezuela, interest payments exceed the trade surplus in every Latin American nation ...

"... In other words, after all expenses are taken into account, debtor nations were still not generating enough export earnings to operate on a pay-as-you-go basis ...

Impact On US Farm Economy

"... there is a significant chance that it will lead to further declines in international commodity prices and US farm exports.

"... Argentina is getting its $350 million World Bank loan on condition that it ... expand the amount of land devoted to wheat and soybean production ... The World Bank recognizes ... boosting food exports reduces world market prices...

"The World Bank analysis leaves 2 important questions unanswered. Who will purchase Argentina's additional agricultural exports? And ... which country's exports will decline so that Argentina's exports may increase? (ED: We know the answer to that one!)

"... the recent decline of the dollar against the yen will not give the US farmers a competitive advantage of L. American farmers. ... both Argentina and Brazil devalued their currencies and then pegged them to the dollar. Consequently, both... will always remain below the dollar in value (ED: So has China) ... Argentina and Brazil will appropriate ... the benefits that US farmers hoped to reap from a falling dollar.

"A final set of candidates for purchasing the additional Argentine farm exports are Brazil & Mexico ... In effect, all three debtor nations will have more dollars to pay the banks because they would all be purchasing less from the United States." (Editor's italics)

Rocky Road

The above report reveals that more than 20 years ago the American government knew about the problems being caused by usury-banking and the harm done to the American farmers - and did nothing.

The LAW decrees:

*"You are servants to whomever you obey" Rom 6:16:
"No man can serve two masters." Matt 6:24*

The Game

When I was a youngster, neither the national Republican or Democratic Parties were conservative. Virginia was nominally Democratic but relied on its own leader, Senator Harry Byrd.

When the US Government attempted to take over Virginia's schools, Byrd proclaimed "Massive Resistance." Virginians believed him. I was a young officer in the 186th Combat Team, the old Richmond Light Infantry Blues. When government officers invaded Virginia soil and began taking over its schools, our regiment went on alert. Virginia has been invaded many times before and we know exactly what to do. We sat by our telephones expecting to be called to our regiments to repel invasion.

Instead, nothing happened. No call came. "States rights" talk about the 10th Amendment stopped. The Richmond Times Dispatch changed the subject. Senator Byrd had nothing more to say.

When Byrd died, his estate consisted of extensive orchards, a newspaper that covered much of Virginia, and an impressive portfolio of stocks. All on government pay.

More

When times turn bad, a third party candidate appears so that we can have someone to vote for. There was Senator Goldwater, the Jewish conservative. I remember standing in the rain at a stoplight handing out his election brochures. He wasn't conservative. Those calling themselves conservatives told me he was a Conservative.

Then, George Wallace and his 3rd party arrived. Overnight the Wallace Phenomenon mushroomed into a national steam-roller that promised to swamp both major parties and sweep him into office. To stop the unexpected juggernaut he was shot and his 3rd party disintegrated. In a wheelchair, Wallace confessed that he had been a liberal all along. Great!

Ross Perot was another who boasted that he was a conservative. America's disenchanted flocked to his standard. His strength grew so great that his bloc of voters became the balance of power. Whomever he endorsed would be the next president. All sorts of favorable deals can be made under these conditions. America's cheers turned into cries of disbelief when Perot withdrew from the race. This crushed the conservative spirit for years.

Somewhere in here stood Strom Thurmond who talked one way and practiced miscegenation when out of sight.

Then there was Pat Buchanan, the voice of conservatism. He showed his true colors when, in violation of the Law, he chose a stranger for a running mate.

Now we have Ron Paul. People have been beating his drum for a long time. If by some miracle he is elected president - what will we have? Pete Peters wrote an article in Dragon Slayer, p.5, Election Sermon 2008, giving his opinion:

Ron Paul

"You can tell a lot about a man by who his heroes are.

"Mr. Paul's hero is Martin Luther King. ... Mr. King was a Communist trained, whore-mongering womanizer, a race-mixer and a plagiarizer ... Consider the following news item:

‘... Ron Paul today issued the following statement ...
‘It is especially fitting that we take time to reflect on one man’s struggles to defend our Constitutional freedoms during this primary election season. Jan. 15 was the birthday of the great freedom fighter, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and on Monday, we honor him nationwide for his sacrifice and love for liberty for all people. To me, the timing is more than a coincidence. The American people, regardless of color or creed, have the opportunity to choose a candidate who will uplift the ideals for which Dr. King fought-and died.’”

"If you think Ron Paul is a better choice than Jesus Christ, vote for him. As for me, I'm going to write in 'Jesus Christ'."

Writing in Jesus Christ is better than anything presently available, but this I know - America's political system is in the hands of its enemies. To discover exactly who the guilty ones are it might be informative to examine the South African betrayal.

South Africa

The US and Great Britain forced the white South African government to abdicate. S. African politicians were forced to vote on a key piece of legislation to implement the abdication. It was called, "One Man, One Vote".

Since S. Africa was overwhelmingly black - passing the "one man, one vote" law was sufficient to turn the country over to a black government. Knowing that such a thing would destroy their country, the vote was taken. Only four members of the ruling party voted against it - FOUR!

P.J. Pretorius, who had insider contacts, wrote a history of the event. He called his book Volksvarrad "Betrayal". His conclusion was "they were ALL guilty of treason - ALL of them". The generals, the preachers, the politicians - all of them.

America's Janissaries

America is the same. Those in power have been placed there by the money-powers. It's simple. Media-access is denied those who follow the Law. Those who find a way to speak - whose dangerous ideas might disturb the status-quo and whose ideas may be accepted - risk #19 of Esau's 36-Strategies, (HR 365)

19 - If unable to answer problems or ideas - remove or discredit the author or authors of the problems.

Simply, it is a rare politician who is elected to a local city council, state legislature, or Congress who was not selected because he is willing to co-operate with the Cartel. A non-cooperative person is denied media recognition, and without media recognition the average voter would not even know his name.

The banking cartel controls the media who controls the government who controls the people. It's nothing new. Andrew Jackson complained of this very thing back in the 1830s.

Priests are controlled by the same cartel. Priests of wealthy churches are paid by wealthy parishioners who receive their pay by working for the cartel or one of its corporations. In my life-time I have heard many preachers but never have I ever heard the Laws, Statutes, and Judgments taught in a big church. The result is that without the Law of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, there is a new religion in the land. Texe Marrs summed it up when he wrote in his Power Of Prophecy, May 2008

"Today's evangelical Christian has no principles and is neither evangelical nor Christian."

Back To Basics

The Law states:

*"Hath given forth upon usury ... he shall surely die."
Ezek 18:13*

Usury is lending 10 units when only 10 units of the thing lent is in existence - while requiring the repayment of 11 of those units, or forfeiture of assets. This is a contract impossible to fulfill.

Priests tell people that "usury" means too much interest. Something like - 5% interest is good, but 15% is bad - which is nonsense.

Owing $1.05 with only $1 in existence is as unpayable as is owing $1.15 with $1 in existence. ALL interest is usury and usury is against God's Law. The usury contract is crooked from the instant a person signs his name. It's simple logic. ALL property falls into the hands of the usurer in time. Usury is the primary cause of wars and famines, and usury troubles will continue as long as usury continues.

Josiah Stamp's Confession

Some people won't accept simple logic. They won't accept the WORD. Often, these same people will take the word of someone they consider more important.

The opinion of one of usury's top men, Sir Josiah Stamp, might convince them. He was the President of the Bank of England in the 1920s and the 2nd richest man in Great Britain.

Sir Josiah Stamp
(1880-1941)

President of the Bank of England

"The modern banking system manufactures money out of nothing. The process is perhaps the most astounding piece of sleight-of-hand that was ever invented. Banking was conceived in inequity and born in sin. ... But if you want to continue to be slaves of the bankers and pay the cost of your own slavery, then let the bankers continue to create money and control credit."

This is the thing that Esau's media and our Lawless preachers and politicians are paid to conceal and tell us that all is all right. This is witchcraft, the art of making money out of nothing.

Josiah Stamp said something else profound:

"It is easy to dodge our responsibilities, but we cannot dodge the consequences of dodging our responsibilities."

Conclusion

In time, a genuine leader will arrive. In the meantime, who is our friend and who is our enemy? The WORD instructs us:

By their acts ye shall know them.

LETTER FROM S. AFRICA

The ANC Communists held a big conference in Northern Transvaal early this year. In their monthly letter, Jeremy Cronin, the Jewish head of the Communist Party, made some of their aims clear; he stated, 'We can't go on like this - together. Let's make sure things change.' The message was an open letter and clear. Trouble broke out soon afterwards. Murders and rapes increased and the blacks provoke whites everywhere. Zuma the Zulu, follower of Mbeki, is a true communist. In his songs he sings about his machine gun and killing the Boere.

As I mentioned before, S. Africa is having electrical problems. When a grocery shop is out of electricity for 3 days, the frozen food is thrown out. Firms cannot work and businesses close their doors because a dark shop is ideal for theft.

The mixing of races in university dormitories is a disaster. Some time back the daughter of a friend of ours, who had been a liberal, told us what it was like. Dirt everywhere; washbasins full of their hair. She had to shower with her sandals on because the tubs were too filthy to touch with one's bare skin; loud African music, 'boom, boom', at all hours.

Most of the food and farm supplies are in the hands of Jews. The implements and fertilizer they sell are very expensive. Smaller markets, started by small farmers, are beginning to appear everywhere. They sell their produce and goods without paying the heavy government taxes.

With a revolution coming, we seem so ill prepared. As it is, the outcome will rest with our God and Gideon's few men. Die Afrikaner warns that we must stay alert when Mugabe goes. Hatred toward us is growing here, and many whites have been killed.

Please pray earnestly for us at this time, as the dark clouds are gathering. Yours faithfully. K.J.

Charlton Heston (1924-2008)

Known for impersonating heroic historic personages as well as his strong defense of the right to bear arms - Heston was elected president of the NRA and roared that gun control advocates would have to wrest a weapon "from my cold, dead hands!"

In 1964, he backed presidential candidate Barry Goldwater who ran for office as a conservative. Following that he became president of the ultra-liberal Screen Actors Guild for a record 5 years from 1966-1971. When Senate Democrats blocked confirmation of the black, Robert Bork, to the Supreme Court in 1987 he switched from Democrat to Republican. He called Martin Luther King Jr "a 20th-century Moses for his people," and actively supported the anti- white civil rights movement. He even joined King's march on Washington in 1963. In Hollywood he played parts in interracial love scenes - kissing and fondling alien partners.

Heston followed other Hollywood actors; Ronald Reagan - whose first marriage was outside his race - acted the part of a fiscal conservative while he was US president while his budget broke records; Hollywood's "terminator" is presently acting as governor of California where he supports the sodomite movement and other anti-white legislation.

History often teaches lessons: the Romans despised the professions of actors and gladiators above all others. One tells lies for a living, while volunteer-gladiators amused audiences in the arena for pay and applause at the risk of their lives.

The one that you can trust least is one who pretends to be one of your own while looking on aliens as their heroes.

"So long," Charlton Heston; you were good at what you did.

UNFILTERED NEWS

HEROES: The Cloak Of Esau covers the land. We are supposed to select heroes to be our leaders. Perhaps someone like "Hackworth" - if we had known of his existence. His obituary was in HR-2005.

"HACKWORTH: David Hackworth (1931-2005) is dead. Who was David Hackworth? He was America's most decorated Vietnam veteran. In Korea in one ferocious firefight he killed more than 100 enemy soldiers, and that is only one of his stories. Why haven't you heard of David Hackworth? Esau's government has no intention of giving captive Saxons a hero who might become their leader - especially a military leader. Esau's Hollywood actors are substituted to play statesmen and soldiers.

The WORD tells us to select leaders from Phineas types who follow the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

SIX-MILLION: Prof. Richard Lynn writes the following observation:

"I've checked out Churchill's Second World War & the statement is quite correct - not a single mention of Nazi "gas chambers," a "genocide" of the Jews, or of "six million" Jewish victims of the war. This is astonishing. How can it be explained?

"Eisenhower's Crusade in Europe is a book of 559 pages; the six volumes of Churchill's Second World War total 4,448 pages; and de Gaulle's three-volume Memoirs de guerre is 2,054 pages. In this mass of writing, which altogether totals 7,061 pages (not including the introductory parts), published from 1948 to 1959, one will find no mention either of Nazi "gas chambers," a "genocide" of the Jews, or of "six million" Jewish victims of the war." Chapter 405

SUPERCLASS

Today, most of our lands and businesses have been taken from us and we survive by serving Esau's corporations.

There are some fortunate few who inherit wealth from their forebears while others create wealth by their own efforts.

Increasingly, there are others who seem to attract wealth in ways having no satisfactory explanation and some of them spend this wealth in ways hurtful to our people. These deserve closer attention.

Thomas Fortune Ryan (1851-1928)

Our family often drove to visit Mother's family in Culpeper. Sometimes we would take a side trip and drive through "Oak Ridge". Oak Ridge was near Lovingsston and belonged to Thomas Fortune Ryan.

Oak Ridge included a large part of Nelson County. We would enter Oak Ridge and drive for miles and miles over county roads and still be on the Oak Ridge estate. Everything was interesting. There were tenant houses, great barns, fields with high grass that needed cutting, but no horses, cows or people. It was like a ghost country. We could see the big homeplace up on a hill - deserted. We passed an occasional car. Besides that - nothing.

The Story

Thomas Fortune Ryan was a local boy who made it big. He was born at nearby Lovingsston. His father was a tailor. He took the train to Baltimore to seek his fortune. Raised a Protestant, he was converted to Catholicism while on the train.

He had the midas touch. Everything he touched turned to gold. He joined a brokerage firm that was extremely successful. He moved to New York. He was the major player with New York's public transportation and owned most of its streetcars. He owned coal mines, banks, public utilities, railroads, tobacco companies. He owned over 30 corporations and was active in politics - behind the scenes. He built The Cathedral of the Sacred Heart in Richmond and built dormitories and buildings for Jesuit colleges. His wealth was beyond counting.

He went back to Nelson County and bought thousands upon thousands of acres and built Oak Ridge - one of the finest houses in America. In poverty-stricken Virginia, he offered jobs to hundreds of unemployed to work for him on his estate. Oak Ridge was a garden of Eden in Virginia's post-war "Reconstruction" devastation. Ryan was seen as a demi-god dropped from heaven.

Abruptly, it ended. This is the story I was told.

His chauffeur was driving him along a county road on his estate when a deputy sheriff pulled them over for speeding and gave him a ticket. Ryan flew into a rage. After all he had done for Nelson County! It was inconceivable that a deputy sheriff would have the audacity to give him a speeding ticket!

He went home, packed, fired the hundreds of people working for Oak Ridge, gave orders to dispose of the livestock, slammed the front door and left never to return, and that was years and years ago before I was born.

It was spooky driving over the roads of Oak Ridge passing deserted tenant houses and barns - seeing the deserted Oak Ridge mansion on the hill. All this had belonged to Thomas Fortune Ryan, and he had left. It reminds one of the Chetiar mansions in Southern India (HR 379-2006). They, too, just stand there deserted.

Swannanoa

Just above Waynesboro stands Swannanoa. It is a marble palace that was disassembled in Italy and transported across the Atlantic, up the rivers, and hauled the rest of the way by wagons to the top of Afton Mountain on the edge of The Valley - a long way from anywhere. It stands like a white jewel that can be seen from miles away.

It was just off the main road going over Afton Mountain, and in the 1940s there were no signs showing how you could get to it. Visitors were few. You could drive there if someone told you how. The lawns needed cutting, but you could just walk right up the marble steps into the house. There was nobody there. Your steps echoed in the great marble hall and when walking up the fine staircase.

The story I was told is that a young Confederate soldier made a great fortune and erected this Italian villa for his bride. He was supposed to have made his money in railroads. I never could find out what else he did or in what way he interacted with his neighbors. A palace standing on a mountain top, transported from one continent to another at incredible cost - worth millions - standing deserted.

Strange story.

Defenders

Mr. Bob Crawford of Farmville hired me to help organize The Defenders. I was maybe 25 or 26. The Defenders were made up of Virginians fighting the takeover of its schools by the government.

The timing was right and I had phenomenal success. Membership was $10 a year. That was a lot of money in the '50s. We had over 10,000 dues-paying members organized into county, city and congressional chapters. We had our own newsletter. It seemed that everyone belonged. Politicians listened to us. My salary was $2,600 a year. I furnished my own car. If I could have afforded it, I would have worked for nothing.

The Defenders needed money and weren't above passing the hat at meetings. Members gladly put in a dollar or two. It added up. I visited lots of people. Driving down the road I would see a big house and drive up the driveway and knock on the door. I would introduce myself and the owner almost always invited me in. We would talk George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and "states-rights". Everyone knew who The Defenders were. That's how I learned a fact of life. The bigger the house and the richer the individual I talked to - the greater the reluctance to join and the smaller the donation. Real Virginians contributed what they could besides the $10 membership fee. But, the three largest contributions I ever got from "rich folks" were two $40 contributions and one for $35. It would seem that they would be the ones with the most to lose. Maybe I had a lot to learn.

Constitution Party

Virginia was betrayed. The traitors pretended to be patriots but were mirror images of Janissaries.¹ Government surrogates seized Virginia schools and quickly converted them into institutions teaching antisaxonite propaganda.

Except for a few "bitter-enders" the Defenders folded. A few of us got together in Richmond and organized The Constitution Party. In a short time, hundreds gathered at meetings.

A multi-millionaire from Arlington was elected president - because he was a multi-millionaire. People thought he would do great things for Virginia. His election was the last meeting Virginia's Constitution Party ever held.

I began to see a pattern.

Vigilantes Of Christendom

In 1991, Southern newspapers attacked me for writing Vigilantes Of Christendom, the history of the Phineas Priesthood. Shortly thereafter I received a visitor - a personable sort who asked all sorts of questions.

He hadn't read my book and apparently there was no purpose to the meeting except to meet me.

Strange. I made inquiries.

People living near him in the county east of Lynchburg said that he was a retired wealthy recluse. He would disappear several times a year and then reappear at meetings of conservatives and talk to those attending. He declined to hold office and made no contributions.

Scholarships

I wrote Our Nordic Race in 1958. Soon after that, a reader sent me a scholarship booklet that had come into his possession that he said would interest me. It did.

A certain foundation offered journalism scholarships to selected individuals who met their criteria - a matter which was to be discussed privately. Those approved received an initial grant of $200,000 with the same amount following at two year intervals to total $1,000,000.

In 1960, $1,000,000 was a lot of money - a whole lot of money. Exactly what did a promising journalism student have to agree to to receive that kind of money?

Then again, how many prominent Saxon-Israelite writers do you know about? How many anti Saxon-Israelite writers do you know about?

College Professors

When I was in college in the '40s I had conservative Saxon-Christian professors. When I returned from the Korean War things had changed. A former liberal upperclassman was the new president. Foundation money was pouring in, buildings were going up and new professors were being hired.

These new professors were anti-white liberals with one single exception. The college had changed from right to left in the few years I was absent in service and foundations now influenced the selection of the board of directors.

My Rich Friend

I have a rich "friend" who calls me, or runs into me, four times a year. The reason I know he's rich is because he told me so. He never has worked during all the years we have been acquainted. The common denominator is that we knew the same people in Richmond 50 years ago - at least he named some Richmond names I recognized.

Each time we meet he tells me how great I am and how much my books and ideas have meant to him over the years. He says the same things practically verbatim each time we meet. In spite of the kudos, my head remains normal size. My wife sees to that.

He has a law degree but has never practiced law. He knows little things about me that no one else knows - things like the names of certain foreign newspapers who reprint excerpts from HR newsletters.

How many people would you expect to know that?

Years ago he would show up at Christian meetings where I would be one of the speakers. Organizers of these meetings know who contributes to the meeting's expenses and who doesn't. They told me that this individual attended many times and never made a contribution or helped in any meaningful way.

Actors

Sixty years ago I attended "Little Theatre" and college plays in Lynchburg. The actors were local talent whose remuneration was the applause they received for their performances. Often, the performances were as good as anything I saw in New York when I worked there.

In Lynchburg, an actor's private life was above reproach. A hint of impropriety could cause an individual to be replaced in an instant to prevent the reputation of the rest of the cast members from suffering.

I've been informed that today's Hollywood and Broadway actors and actresses, some of whom are not as talented, receive millions for their work. Widely advertised "awards ceremonies" are held for those who do what was once standard fare at the nation's "Little Theatres". Knowledgeable people have told me that it seems as if one must be a whore or a whoremonger to be employed by Hollywood. The media portrays them as rich, beautiful, and "cool" - the perfect hero types for our children to copy.

Money Moguls & Basic Facts

A corporation is a management organization that never dies. Once, only the sovereign had corporations. The sovereign's corporations managed the sovereign's wealth. These corporations owned other corporations which owned still more corporations.

Corporations managed countries, religions, peoples, manufacturing, trading, banking, public relations, public information, etc.

Today, small entrepreneurs are allowed to organize corporations. When their enterprises reach a certain size worth a respectable amount, they are surrounded by potential buyers and offers are made that they can't refuse - without something going wrong businesswise.

Paying The Superclass

Corporations require supervisors. Great Corporations have super-supervisors. Some in this rarified group are paid a half a billion dollars a year. Some are even given billions and told to speculate in the currencies of various countries.

The possession of "billions" creates a "Superclass". There are few things or people that a few million dollars can't buy. We didn't elect this superclass. We can't throw them out, and they are getting more powerful every day. They number several thousand scattered throughout the world.

Some well known multi-billionaires oversee managers who manage multi-corporations. Others supervise vast real-estate holdings; still others dispense largesse to "deserving" institutions and individuals from tax-free foundations that they manage.

Self-made billionaires, or billionaires who inherited wealth and the cartel consider potentially dangerous, are stripped of their wealth - even when laws have to be revised to accomplish the job. The destruction of Bunker Hunt of Texas is a classic example.

The One Responsible

My wife used to work in a bank. The bank made home loans. Before the sun set the new loan would be sold to a major bank or insurance company in Chicago or New York. Where it went from there, I don't know. In any event, the local borrower was completely ignorant of the fact that the local bank was not the owner of his mortgage - and that the local bank was only an agent of a bigger bank..

We have long known about the "usury-scam" - the scam that results in an "ultimate lender". We pay careful attention to the ultimate lender since he is also the ruler of countries. We know this because the WORD says;

"Money answereth all things." Ecc10:19

One borrows money into existence when he takes out a mortgage. This reduces the borrower to a condition of slavery. We know this because the WORD says:

"The rich ruleth over the poor, and the borrower is slave to the lender." Prov. 22:7

For millennia this lender, the dispenser of wealth and poverty, has been hidden behind layer upon layer of corporations - banks, religions and governments . His power, and the power of his agents, is such that the governments of the world and their armies spring into action when he, or his agents, snap their fingers.

Manipulating Countries

HR #404 contained excerpts from a US government document showing how world trade is manipulated so that countries owing money to international banks can be made to pay interest on their debt. India and South American countries increase the export of food even when it makes their own people face famine.

It was noted in the document that the American government was aware that the American farmer would be adversely affected as foreign food exports replaced American food exports. However, they raised no objection. The fact that this story was in a US government document shows that the American government is an accomplice to acts detrimental to its own people. It would not be unrealistic to conclude that these acts make the government a bank agent.

World Debt Meltdown

Recent newspaper articles discuss the melt-down of world debt. They estimate this debt to be somewhere between 50-trillion and 750- trillion dollars. While impressive, the amount is immaterial. It is "debt" itself that triggers the Law: "The borrower is slave to the lender." Prov 22:7

Remember the "Unfiltered News" item in HR404:

USURY: A woman whose ancestor lent $299.58 to the City of Tampa during the Civil War wants the debt repaid, plus $22.7 million interest compounded over 148 years. (THE WEEK, P.6, Mar 28, 2008)

This woman wants repayment of $22.7 million for the loan of $299.58. Unpaid debts compound tremendously over time.

Investing Trillions

For simplicity sake, let's assume that the world debt owed the international banks is 100-trillion and the interest rate is 10%. The result is easy to compute. This generates 10-trillion in interest. This 10-trillion interest is expected to be paid every year - year in and year out.

Bank policy requires that this flood of interest money be invested where it cannot be taken away from the bank if a debtor should repudiate his debt - like Germany did in the 1930s - which required WWII to force Germany to again start paying her debts to the international banks.

Money managers are needed to invest the yearly incoming $10-trillion. Individuals might be given $20-billion or even $100-billion to manage. Someone with $20-billion to manage is called "a billionaire". This is the way most multi-billionaires are created - and the money keeps coming in.

Lawlessness Causes Death

India was in the center of the silk trade and practiced usury banking almost before recorded history.

We assume that with certain exceptions, interest from their loans would be kept "in-house". In other words, placed in the hands of fellow Sons-of-Esau. This is not always the case. The Turks found that their racial kinsmen were so greedy and deceptive that they were better off to entrust both their government and banking to white Janissaries.

We know that their rules are not our rules. We know that their father Esau swore to kill our father Jacob. The power of a person wielding $100-billion is simply enormous. He can buy governments, religions, and people's minds. History has shown us that Esau uses every opportunity to fulfill his oath to destroy Jacob.

Esau's money managers know that the easiest way to destroy Jacob is to make Jacob disobey his God.

Jacob's God commanded:

"If ye will not ... do these commandments... I will... bring the land into desolation." Lev 26:14-35; "If ye will not... do all these commandments... I will... cast your carcasses upon the carcasses of your idols." Lev 26:14-35; "Mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring them hither, and slay them before me." Luke 19:27.

This is why Scripture counsels:

"We must obey God rather than men." Acts 5:29

Obedience brings life - disobedience brings death and destruction. The sons-of- Jacob are reluctant to violate God's Law and be destroyed by their own God.

However, Esau can force Jacob to disobey God's Law and be destroyed. The result of stepping off a cliff is the same whether done willingly or unwillingly. The following is a case in point.

Example

The South was forced into a war. It was devastated and blacks were placed over them to be their rulers² These strang-

2 "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zūwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15

3 "If thou wilt not ... do all the words of the law ... ye will be left few in number ... ye shall be plucked from off the land." Deut 58:66

ers installed high taxes⁴ forcing whites to sell their lands to Esau's land companies. This forced formerly self-sufficient farmers to go to the newly built cities that Esau built for them, work for Esau's companies, pay rent to live in company houses, and borrow from company stores to buy groceries to feed their families.

Esau and Esau's hired help forced Jacob to break one LAW after another - the penalty being the destruction of the land and its people would grow few in number - which was Esau's plan from the beginning.⁵

Another Curse

Esau's corporations, having forced Jacob to be his servant-workers, is also able to steal the products of Jacob's mind.

God said:

"God is a ... revealer of secrets." Daniel 2:47; "The Lord possessed me (wisdom) in the beginning." Prov 8:22; "I (wisdom of God) find out knowledge of witty inventions." Pr 8:12; "Give not that which is holy (that which is of God) unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they ... turn again and rend you." Matt 7:6; "Thou shall no stranger eat of the holy thing." Lev 22:10

The God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob chose Jacob-Israel and gave him a Law that made him the envy of the rest of the

4 "And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this [fellow] perverting the nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Caesar." Lu 23:2; "Of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. ... Then are the children free." Matt 17:25-26.; "Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them ... thou shall find a piece of money. That take, and give unto them for me and thee." Matt 17:27

5 "If thou wilt not ... do all the words of the law ... ye will be left few in number ... ye shall be plucked from off the land." Deut 58:66

world. Obedience to this LAW makes possible "witty inventions". Our God warns against casting pearls given to us before swine - lest they turn again and rend you.

Esau destroyed Jacob's farm and partnership system to force him to work for Esau's corporations. Because he works for Esau's corporations, Esau owns the ideas, inventions, and secrets God gave Jacob

It is little wonder that the world of Esau is bursting into growth - he has found a way to steal the secrets and inventions that God gave his own children and thereby cause Jacob to violate the the law "Neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they ... turn again and rend you." Matt 7:6

The Informers

To continue to rule, Esau must prevent Jacob from uniting to protest. To defend themselves, they have hired informers who will betray their own kind in exchange for the privileges and position that money can buy. Once alerted, Esau is then able to use the apparatus of the state to suppress all who rebel against their rule.

This is why Esau's media, more often than not, tends to choose morally deficient types to rule Saxon government, religions, and businesses. Moral degenerates see no wrong in leading people away from the WORD which is their God and into the merchant's "money-worshipping" society.

Esau's World

Esau has used his usury-wealth to convert the Saxon world into his world - a world of merchants, traders, rulers and elites - a world in which Esau sucks Jacob's blood causing Esau to thrive - while Jacob slowly dies because Esau has forced him to separate from his God.

Esau's surrogates are today's wealthy. They are the ones who gave $35 and $40 to the Defenders when they could have given thousands, even millions. These are the ones who today obediently give millions to Esau's poor throughout the world and turn their backs on their own kinsmen in Esau's prisons or to alleviate the suffering of white orphans under black rule in South Africa.⁶

The WORD says;

"The love of money is the root of all evil." I Ti 6:10

We should not be surprised that the rich are luke-warm to anything that might endanger the flow of Esau's money into their pockets - even if it means betraying their God and their nation.

Jesus, the WORD made flesh, proclaimed:

"A rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven." Mt 19:23

"And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God." Mt 19:24

And still again:

"How hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God! Mt 10:24

⁶ "If any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel." I Tim 5:8

Conclusion

The God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob remains the same through the ages.

Esau and his hired help have taught our people to ignore the God of their fathers; ignore the ancient writings; and cease their fear of doing evil since they are told that Esau's "God-of-the-land" will protect them.

The "Cloak of Esau" weaves deception into truth and creates money from nothing - money that one day will return from whence it came.

Esau's world is a world where whores and whoremongers are enshrined as gods and goddesses, where mere possession of money is commendable and is worshiped above righteousness, where priests teach a "christ" that is unknown to the WORD.

The WORD also speaks of "the day of the Lord"; this is the day when Jacob will reclaim what is his..

"And it shall be as the chased roe, and as a sheep that no man taketh up: they shall flee every man to his own land. Every one that is found shall be thrust through;

The rest should be of special interest to those who have betrayed their God and their nation, who lick the spit of our enemies, and drink the blood of their kinsmen;

"And every one that is joined unto them shall fall by the sword." Isaiah 13:14-15

Oh, yes - a new age is coming.

BARBARA WALTERS had an affair in the 1970s with a married US senator, Edward Brooke, a Massachusetts Republican who was the first black senator since Reconstruction. THE WEEK, May 16, 2007

RKH: Walters is Jewish. Jews have many sects that permit racial-adultery.

COURT: Catholics occupy five of the nine seats on the US Supreme Court and constitute more than a quarter of the U.S. Congress. Hispanic immigrations is causing Catholic numbers to hold steady at about a quarter of the US population, but native-born Catholics - especially those under 30 are fleeing the church by the millions. USA Today

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS: More than 1,300 Catholic schools in the US have closed since 1990. Catholic school enrollment now stands at 2.3 million, down from the 1960s peak of 5.2 million. USA Today

BLACK JEWS: Ha'aretz announced that the Israeli state will no longer accept black immigrants from Ethopia that claim Jewish roots.

FOOD CRISIS: The UN Secretary-General Ban-Ki Moon announced that rising food prices has caused "a rapidly escalating crisis of food availability" which could lead to widespread starvation and topple governments. He cited the growing appetite of India's and China's standard of living and the diversion of US corn crops to ethanol production. The biggest culprit is the "international biofuels stampede," said Canada's National Post. As a result, prices for grains have risen 80% since 2005.

HOME SCHOOLING: Federal Judge Walter Croskey ruled last week that home-schooled children in California must be taught by certified teachers.

PUPPET PAY: German chancellor Gerhard Schroder, having smoothed the way for Russia's Nord Stream gas pipeline under the Baltic sea while in office, is now chairman of the pipeline consortium. (New Beginnings)

Chapter 406

The COMING STORM

Tim Russett, the TV political analyst, died of a heart attack at the age of 59. Tributes are pouring in. He is receiving the same homage presidents get when they die.

Those seeking establishment endorsement presented themselves before him. The way he conducted the interview captured men's minds. In essence, Russett was a political Guru. The public trusted him. He selected their leaders.¹

Solzhenitsyn

Alexander Solzhenitsyn, one of the great thinkers of the 20th century, wrote:

"Such as it is, the press has become the greatest power within the Western World, more powerful than the legislature, the executive and judiciary. One would like to ask; by whom has it been elected and to whom is it responsible?"

Added to this observation is the unguarded comment of Walter Cronkite:

"My job is not to tell the truth, I am an opinion molder." (Crusade for Christ, Special Message For 2002. Col Jack Mohr.)

He, too, was a media guru - He captured men's minds.

Alan Berg

Then there was the case of Alan Berg, the Denver radio announcer. He was married and divorced, lived both with a white woman and a black. His radio program was a monologue.

"... on the joys and danger of oral sex ... merciless diatribes on the flaws of the Christian religion, ... and how white women fantasized about sleeping with black men."²

1 * GURU: "In Hinduism, Guru means God Himself." Am I A Hindu (The Hinduism Primer), p.2, Halo Books, 1992, POB 2529, San Francisco, CA 94126

2 Talked To Death, Stephen Singular, Beech Tree Books, William Morrow, NY 1987, p.86

It ended when Berg was shot to death in his driveway. The interesting thing is that the ruling authorities in Denver considered the shooting of a media mind-control artist important enough to assign 60 Denver police officers to the case - not counting the FBI. All this for one smut-talking radio personality.³

Berg was extremely important to someone. He poured filth into Denver's collective mind. When it stopped, it was as if a great army had been destroyed.

Capturing Minds

Capturing minds is essential to prepare separatist peoples to be annexed into empires, starved, or killed. Empires do not tolerate separatist peoples. Jesus Christ was a separatist.

Rome

Rome killed peoples opposed to its rule; it starved states into submission; destroyed their habitat; mixed divergent populations to encourage loss of identity through interbreeding; and captured their minds by accepting all religions - but insisting that the emperor was the ultimate law-maker - the "God of the land".

The Southland

The American South was composed mostly of independent self-sufficient-farms. They were allied by kinship, repelling invasions, aiding each other in times of disaster, and Sunday social-religious meetings.

³ Vigilantes Of Christendom, p. 383, VPC, POB 997, Ly'bg, VA 24505, $18

Each farm was essentially a small state whose owner was its king. The State of Virginia could not put a road across a farmer's land without his permission - which accounts for Virginia's back country being full of dog-leg roads that go around the land of stubborn farmers.

Their law system was basically "The WORD", The Law of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Combined, the farms of the Southland produced 3/4s of the United States exports and furnished most of its import taxes - most of which was spent to benefit the industrial North.

Slaves

Indians and Blacks were not wanted by America's Saxon settlers because they were un-LAWFUL; "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:33

British empire law was different. The WORD had been reinterpreted under the "Divine Right Of Kings" doctrine to conform to the king's wishes. With few exceptions, the king priests treated the king's wishes as God's laws. These revised Biblical teachings were taught to the people by the king's "Anglican Church" of which he was its supreme head. The King's decrees were enforced by his courts, governors, and armed forces.

Britain won the slave-trade franchise in a war with France, so Britain forced America to receive slaves - like it or not.⁴

⁴ "The Treaty of Utrecht (1713), which closed the war (King William's War (1689-1697 - French & Indians vs England in America), ceded to England the Hudson Bay region, Newfoundland and Nova Scotia, and allowed to it the monopoly of the slave trade in the colonies." The World Book, W.F. Quarrie & Co, Chicago 1927, p.2329

The king's edicts were proclaimed every Sunday in the King's establishment church, which occupied the place of today's newspapers. All colonists were required to attend service or be severely punished. In spite of this, many colonists remained religious dissenters who did not want alien-slaves in their midst.

The collision of divergent Law systems brought about America's Revolutionary War in which the American slogan was "No King but King Jesus". This translated to - "No law system but the Law System of Abraham, Isaac & Jacob."

After they obtained their independence, Americans took steps to deport the blacks. The former colonists organized the "African Colonization Society." Everyone who was anyone belonged. Slave owning Thomas Jefferson belonged. My ancestor John Payne Kelly belonged. He owned more than 100 slaves and was an abolitionist. Most slave owners were abolitionists.

The Society's plan was to buy slaves from their owners, teach them to farm, furnish them with implements and seed, settle them on their own farms in Liberia and protect them from outside enemies until they could protect themselves. Males were to be bought and transported on reaching age 21; females at age 18. Those older would be allowed to remain in America and die of old age. The money received from purchasing slaves was to go to importing white replacement workers from Europe. Thousands of blacks were returned to Africa.

The Corporation

With few exceptions, political rule in America's industrial North fell into the hands of its wealthy international Corporations. Values changed. Formerly, the ideal was to produce one's own wealth on one's own self-sufficient-farm. A salary branded one as being a servant of another. This changed.

Media corporations established municipal newspapers. This replaced mass news-dissemination formerly done by establishment churches.

The South, living largely on self-sufficient-farms, remained quietly separatist - and prosperous. The corporation's imperative to expand required the annexation of the South.

The American Empire

To create incidents and inflame sectional disputes, American industrialists (The Secret Six) financed a crazed maniac named John Brown to attack isolated homes of slave owners killing some and maiming others by severing their arms and leaving them alive. The corporate media began a drum-fire demonization of Southern separatists. They replaced the African Colonization plan with "radical abolition" which demanded instant freedom of farm slave labor, no repatriation back to Africa for the freed slaves, and no compensation for the farm owners so that they could hire replacement white laborers from Europe.

Abolitionist mind-control propaganda had interesting spokesmen:

"If I had the power I would arm ... every Negro in the South, and every devil in Hell, clothe them in the uniform of the Federal Army and turn them loose on the Rebels of the South and exterminate every man, woman and child south of Mason and Dixon's Line. I would like to see Negro troops, under the command of (U. S. General Benjamin F.) Butler, crowd every Rebel into the Gulf of Mexico and drown them." Rev. William G. Brownlow. Occupation Governor of Tennessee.⁵

Today's media tells us that Brownlow was an exception. The media tells us that if an atrocity actually happened, it was unintentional and it happened without the knowledge of Mr. Lincoln.

When I was a boy sitting by the living-room fire listening to the grownups talk, I heard how President Lincoln stood in front of our house at Kelly's Ford and watched his soldiers loot and devastate Kellyville, kill the livestock, burn barns and houses, and steal whatever they wanted. He was there. He saw it, and did nothing to stop it. He knew.

Forty-Eighters

Mr. Lincoln had help. For years Esau planned the conquest of Europe. Karl Marx outlined their intent when he published the 10-planks of the Communist Manifesto - now part of the law system of the U.S.

In 1848, the revolution broke out all over Europe. In most of the larger cities the fighting was bloody. Governments were deposed, business came to a standstill, the Pope ran for his life. Thousands died.

Gradually the revolt was suppressed. The hunt for the guilty began. Four thousand Communist leaders fled to America where they became top government officials and high ranking officers in the Union Army. August Willich, a member of the Communist League along with Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels, became a major general in the Union Army;

⁵ "The Black Death" (unpublished manuscript), The Southern National Party, P. O. Box 18214, Memphis, Tennessee 38181. $20 copy.

Gen Lewis Blenker, whose men inspired the term "Blenkered" because of their atrocities - and the list continues.

Lincoln commanded an army, many of whose leaders were criminals. These include Custer, of "Little Big Horn" fame - who shot captured Confederates; Sheridan - who burned the Valley leaving thousands of women and children in the snow without shoes, clothing or food; "Butcher" Grant the drunk, whose bungling slaughtered his men by the tens of thousands in battle after battle and who left their bodies to rot on battlefields; "the monster" Sherman who burned cities, towns, entire countrysides. This and much more can be found in a recent book Red Republicans: Marxism in the Civil War Lincoln Marxists, iUniverse, Lincoln, Nebraska, 2007. 1-800-288-4677. It's worth a call.

Newspapers - Capturing Minds

As the Union Army advanced and captured Southern cities it also captured local newspapers. New editors presented the radical union agenda and began the process of capturing the minds of the conquered. The radical concept of racial inter-marriage was introduced. North and South, people were incensed when they heard this - they refused to entertain the concept. This would take "gradualism". Gradualism picked up speed as small newspapers foundered. Esau's wealthy corporations subsidized its own newspapers with lucrative advertising - opposition papers received nothing and failed even when they had many more subscribers. Most towns and cities were reduced to having one establishment newspaper - one point of view.

Over time, careful mind-indoctrination permitted the US rulers to pass laws requiring racial integration in neighborhoods, work, and schools. The purpose - to destroy Saxon separatism and the Saxon through racial interbreeding. Referendums have been carefully avoided.

United State

Lincoln's War killed one quarter of the Southern soldiers with most survivors suffering wounds - many severe. Their asset-producing farms had been burned and newly installed high tariffs deprived them of their former foreign markets. Defeated, they were denied the vote. Blacks were given the vote and placed in power to rule over whites. Black rulers taxed farms. Destitute farmers borrowed money for taxes. When unable to repay the loans, their farms were defaulted. Foreclosed farms were auctioned everywhere and millions of acres passed into the hands of Esau's corporations. Survivors went to Southern cities that had been newly built to receive them. There they worked for starvation wages to feed their families. Hunger kept survivors submissive.

Their habitat - the Southern self-sufficient-farm system - was destroyed.

Farm Crisis

In the midst of the 1980s massive nationwide anti-farm demonization media blitz, I attended the 1986 Nebraska Farm Rally. The media told the rest of the country to expect terror attacks from vicious, vindictive farmer terrorists.

The surviving American farmers had borrowed from banks to stay in business. They had to pay interest on loans which was often as high as 20% or more. This put an end to America's self-sufficient-farm system. What remains today is the pitiful remains of what once was.

South Africa

In 1616, the Dutch East India Company established a letter drop and watering station on the southern tip of Africa to service ships plying the trade route from England to India.

In 1652, Jan van Riebeck landed with settlers to plant vegetable gardens to supply passing ships. The population was augmented by French Huguenots fleeing the massacres of protestants by Louis XIV. A sprinkling of German settlers also arrived.

Starting in 1707 and continuing for over a century, whites settlers were barred to force South African Boers (farmers) to buy black slave-workers from the East India Company.⁶

In 1795, South Africa was invaded by England who by then owned the slave-trade monopoly seized from France. They continued the S. African slave-trade commenced by the Dutch.

The English governor, Lord Charles Somerset, arrived with English colonists. He ruled with an iron hand. Heavy taxes were imposed on the Boer farmers. Foreclosures and tax sales transferred land to corporation land-companies. Dutch Bible Law and the King's Episcopal law collided as it had earlier in America.

Driven by British persecution, Boers abandoned their remaining holdings to the English and trekked north into the unknown. They were called Voortrekkers.

Difagane

In 1836, the Boers arrived in what is now the Free State and Transvaal. This was the period after the Difagane. The

⁶ "During the reign of William IV, David de Pinto was the chief stockholder of the East India Company." Universal Jewish Encyclopedia, Holland, p.432

Zulus had attacked neighboring tribes and these tribes in turn attacked their neighbors and drove them away. The slaughter continued until blacks were nearly exterminated.

In the Free State and Transvaal, the Voortrekkers found only burned out kraal (villages) and skeletons left from black internecine conflict that had turned the land into a lifeless desert. It was a clean, vacant, open world. The Boers divided the land and prospered in their own separatist self-sufficient farm society.

Gold

In 1886, gold was discovered. Over Boer protests, British companies imported tens of thousands of black workers. New discoveries were made - each requiring more and more black workers. A single great mine could employ 14,000 workers and there were many mines. This started the black tidal wave into S. Africa.

In 1899, the British provoked a war with the Boers. Using more soldiers than there were Boer men, women and children, the British Empire vanquished the Boers. Their farms were burned, livestock exterminated and their women and children were herded into concentration camps where they died like flies.

White labor was cheap after the war, so the International Trade Cartel moved industry to S. Africa. Destitute farmers moved to factory centers, and cities were built to house them. Survival was possible only by working for the Cartel.

Following WWII, Hendrik Frensch Verwoerd (1901-1966) was editor of a newspaper "Die Transvaler". It was small but effective. Patriotic Boers read it. It persuaded S. Africa to declare independence from Great Britain.

On Sept 6, 1966, Verwoerd was stabbed to death in the House of Assembly by Dimitres Tsafendas, a half-breed assassin. Like others of his type, he escaped the death penalty by pleading insanity.

After disposing of Verwoerd, agents selected by the Cartel media took over the government and S. Africa was betrayed. Cartel monopoly media hammered "one man one vote" and bewildered whites obediently voted their own destruction. The biggest betrayal was by the so-called "Christian" ministers, who refused to teach the LAW - "Thou shalt not have a stranger to rule over thee".

The result was predicted in 1994 by the well-known intellectual, Paul Johnson, in the following terms:

"South Africa under Mr. F. W. de Klerk has made a leap into universal suffrage. Within ten years the country ... will develop into an industrial rubble heap, beastly, bloody and bankrupt". (J.S. Marais, Leader of the HNP, 6 Jan 1999)

Russia

The children of Jacob-Israel escaped Babylonian captivity almost a thousand years before Christ. They traveled up the Black Sea rivers into Europe and the Baltic leaving colonies on the Russian Rivers.

Many Slavic nomad bands which roamed the Russian plains sought the safety of these colonies and put themselves under their protection.

In time, the widely spread Russian lands were united under Saxon-Russ rulers who claimed all the land and ruled it for their financial backers - which is standard procedure.

Rulers divided the land and appointed nobles to help manage. These nobles reduced the restless Slavs to peasant workers to keep them from walking away and taking up their former nomad life.

Russia was invaded by Mongols who ruled for centuries. It was a bloody traumatic experience. When driven away at last, they left Mongol colonies as captives. One of these consisted of a people called Khazars. They had converted to Judaism in the 8th century.

State Religion

The Roman church split into Roman Catholic and Eastern Orthodox. In time, the Russian Tzar ruled the Eastern Orthodox.

To permit tribute-paying strangers to live in his empire, the Tzar instructed his priests to re-interpret the Eastern Orthodox religion to allow him to do so, and they did.⁷ This allowed the alien Khazars along with other aliens to live under Russian rule.⁸

A quote from the late 19th century Konstantin Pogbedonostsev, a conservative lawyer and Tsarist adviser, illustrates the result of having the Tzar's holy law override the unchanging Law of God:

"There is no just case which cannot be lost nor is there any illegal case which cannot be won, for there are no firm principles according to which the legal can be distinguished from the illegal." (FT Weekend, March 18/ March 19, 2000)

7 Catholic means "universal". The name can describe any universal religion - protestant, Roman, Orthodox, Buddhist or Hindu.

8 "Thou shall make no covenant with them ... they shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21-24

Injustice was general and Russian discontent among both Russian Saxons and their subject peoples was deep. Revolt lurked in the hearts of injured peoples.

Matters came to a head. The Tzar was deeply in debt to the international bankers. They wished to foreclose. Their collateral was the land of Russia.

WWI was the trigger. Heavy losses sustained in fighting the Central Powers sparked a revolt. Russia retired from the war, the Tzar abdicated and a rebel government was established.

The international bankers poured both money and Jewish revolutionaries from America into Russia to take over the bankrupt state from its revolutionary government. They overthrew them and set up a communist state under Nicolai Lenin.

After two generations of denial and accusers being branded 'anti-semitic', the Jerusalem Post of 1-26-92 casually admitted that Lenin was Jewish. One of his first acts was to have the Tzar and his family shot.

"Among Radzinsky's discoveries: Despite official denials for decades, it was Lenin who ordered the murders. ... And as a historian, he believes it is vital for the Russian people to realize that the Lenin-ordered murder of the Romanovs foreshadowed the murder of millions more under Stalin. 'Stalin,' Radzinsky says, 'was Lenin's best disciple.'" USA Today, D19, July 30, 1992.

Foreclosing Land Owners

There is a reason for everything. The following was written by Douglas Read;⁹

"Next, Karl Marx. The Protocols say, 'The aristocracy of the peoples, as a political force, is dead ... but as landed proprietors they can still be harmful to us from the fact that they are self-sufficing in the resources upon which they live. It is essential therefore for us at whatever cost to deprive them of their land ...'"

To destroy Russia's Self-Sufficient-Farms, the Soviets confiscated farmer's food supplies; 5 million starved. Some 30,000,000 more Russians died in Soviet death camps - most of them Saxon.

Today, the land is still ruled by cartel managers. To increase efficiency, Russian wealth was recently divided among a handful of Cartel managers - most believed to be agents for the same international banks who had foreclosed the Tzar's holdings. Eastern Orthodox Church priests are state employees.

In spite of new slogans, name changes and new leaders, Soviet Russia is basically the same. This is proved by the fact that none of those responsible for the murder of 30,000,000+ Russians have been brought to trial.

Germany

The Roman Pope crowned Charlemagne - Holy Roman Emperor.¹⁰ Charlemagne invited more than 500 German Saxon chiefs to a conference where he killed them. Roman Catholicism then became the established religion. The people were reduced to serfs on estates whose managers were appointed by the king, who in turn was appointed by the Roman Catholic Pope.

In time, the people discovered that The WORD required that the land be divided.

"All the earth is mine." Ex 19:5; "As the LORD commanded Moses, so the children of Israel did, and they divided the land." Jos 14:5¹¹

General revolt broke out as peasants and many of the nobles united to divide lands seized from Kings and Church. In time the Kings and Church regrouped and attacked the land-holding peasants. Tens of thousands were slaughtered. Then, in a 30-year war, Protestant and Catholic kings battled over who was to rule the re-conquered land. Germany lost up to 90% of her population.

Protestant kings appointed protestant bishops and the Roman Church appointed Catholic bishops. Information controlling the minds of the people came from Sunday pulpits. Catholic and Protestant kings were heavily in debt to church banks run by Jews.¹²

WWI was fought to foreclose European property that had been pledged as collateral for loans. It made little difference which side won - the winner foreclosed the loser - and war caused both sides to sink deeper into debt.

The Nationalist Socialist Workers Party came to power in 1933. It posted its platform which included the following:

¹¹ "Joshua divided the whole land by lots to Israel for an inheritance, as the Lord had commanded him." Jasher 90:19; "The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... the land shall be divided by lot." Num 26:53- 55; "The land shall not be sold for ever: for the land is mine; ... If thy brother be waxen poor, and hath sold away some of his possession ... in the jubilee ... he shall return unto his possession." Lev 25:23, 28..

Germany was separating from the International Trade Cartel. This platform caused consternation. It revived the mind-set of Germany's great Peasant Revolt.

Civil Service

The Jewish caste is the worldwide Civil Service of the International Trade Cartel. The NSWP platform removed Jews from their job of managing Germany. Within 30 days of the NSWP being elected to power, Jewish organizations met and declared war on Germany.¹³ WWII started in 1933, not 1939.

WWII was fought to restore Germany to the cartel.¹⁴ The German revolt was harshly suppressed. Her men, women and children were incinerated by the hundreds of thousands in firebombings. The Allied blockade of Germany continued after war ceased causing millions more to die from starvation. Her leaders were condemned to death by kangaroo courts. One million German soldiers died in POW camps after the war ended from starvation and exposure. Corporations, state lands and foreign trusts were recovered by her enemies along with her banking system. Remaining farming lands not taken in WWI were taken in WWII and given to Poland - a traditional enemy.

Today, Germans are at the mercy of her enemies for food. The Allied-installed puppet government censors what Germans are allowed to learn in media and schools. WWI "six-million" and "death-camp" propaganda was resurrected after WWII to install a guilt-complex and capture the minds of the people.

Conclusion

Saxon-Israel has suffered one disaster after another. Their governments, priests, businesses and armed forces serve Esau. Jacob-Israel is a slave.

The reason: Saxon-Israel doesn't know God's LAW. Those commanded to teach the LAW refuse to:

"Read this law before all Israel ... that they may ... do all the words of this law." Deut 31:11-12; "Teach the children of Israel all the statutes which the LORD hath spoken unto them by the hand of Moses." Lev 10:11. ! 15

If Saxon-Israel isn't taught - people can't learn. We step inside today's churches and look around. We see "strangers". Our ancestors branded this "blasphemy!"

¹⁵ "Now therefore hearken, O Israel, unto the statutes and unto the judgments, which I teach you, for to do them, that ye may live, and go in and possess the land which the LORD God of your fathers giveth you." De 4:1; "Ezra had prepared his heart to seek the law of the LORD, and to do it, and to teach in Israel statutes and judgments." Eze 7:10; "Gather me the people together, and I will make them hear my words, ... that they may teach their children." Deu 4:10; .

"We are confounded, because we have heard reproach: shame hath covered our faces: for strangers (2114 - foreigner, strange, profane, - commit adultery) are come into the sanctuaries of the Lord's house." Jer 51:51¹⁶

Today, false teachers teach a false Christ and cause Saxon-Israel to be "... mingled among the heathen and learn their works." Ps 106:35

BUT, something is happening. For the first time in my nearly 80 years - people quote the LAW of Moses as their authority. Saxons are learning that they are both God's temple and Israel:¹⁷

"The most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands." Acts 7: 48; "Your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost." 1 Co 6:19; "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests." Rev 1:5,6; "Ye are the temple of the living God ... God hath said, I will dwell in them and walk in them." II Cor 6:16

Before the American Revolutionary War, people spoke their grievances to like-minded people, and claimed God's WORD to lead them. Their motto was "No King but King Jesus". King George's preachers worshiped the word of King George and couldn't answer The WORD.

Our people have again discovered their God. The days of the likes of Tim Russett, Walter Cronkite and Alan Berg are coming to an end.

¹⁷ Israel Heb: "He will rule as God." Strong's Concordance. The same as "one who has been given God's power of attorney."

The WORD has begun to capture Saxon minds. Like bolts of lightning, The WORD can strike a thousand places. We have been promised that our God will protect the lands of Jacob-Israel. It will seem like a giant prairie fire cleansing the land.

"The eternal God ... shall thrust out the enemy from before thee; and shall say, Destroy them. Israel then shall dwell in safety alone: the fountain of Jacob shall be upon a land of corn and wine; also his heavens shall drop down dew." De 33:27-28

And Israel will dwell alone.

Chapter 407

HISTORY CHARTS

My Opinion

The purpose of a chart is to show a lot of information in a small space. People ask about the economy and the stock market. The answer takes a lot of space, so I'm using charts as a short-cut.

Reading a chart can be compared to tracking an unknown in the forest. Clues are the faint track where he jumped the creek, the bruised fur on the underside of a fern, and the broken dead branch that shouldn't be broken. The stock market is the same.

We know some basic things: the markets are Esau's creation and Esau prizes deception. This allows us to understand the adage, "Good news is bad news and bad news is good news, but the best news is no news."

You might not understand the facts you see on a chart, but they are better than a newspaper or TV opinion. The information is there - we try to make sense out of what is revealed.

We have learned to expect the stock market to bottom every 4th year (2002b) and to peak in election year (2004t) two years later. It hasn't been doing that. The flood of money generated by the Iraqi War has played havoc with this indicator.

We try something else. We draw trendline (B-E). This is the line drawn under the bottoms from 2002-2008. If the stock market stays above the line - all is well.

We expected the stock market to peak in 2008. Instead, it peaked in 2007 - it came down and hit the trend line (B-E), and instead of bouncing up again into 2008 it crashed through the B-E trend line. Something is wrong. Broken up-trends can be serious. Now, the big guess;

If the Dow is going to go down - how low will the Dow go?

One-Third / Two-Thirds

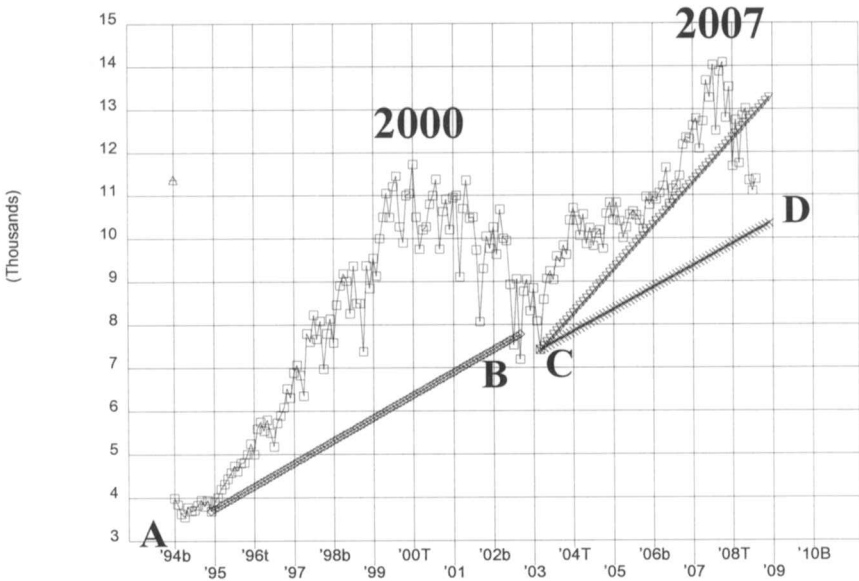

Old-timers introduced me to the "1/3 - 2/3 Speed Resistance Line" when I worked on Wall Street 50 years ago.

I won't get into the mechanics other than to say it works more often than not. I think the real reason it works is that the big money managers need a reason to buy into a declining market when everyone is scared to death. If the moneymangers all buy at the same time - the market is going to stop declining and start up.

Note that the 2000 stock market declined to its 1/3 Speed Resistance Level (A-B) in 2002. The big boys bought in when everyone else was selling. The stock market started up.

As noted before, the stock market was supposed to peak in 2008, but peaked in 2007 and went down and broke its up-trend. It is now in a down-trend.

DOW

If the 1/3 speed indicator is right - the accompanying chart says that the market will decline to the 1/3 Line at point "D" which is presently around 10,300 on the Dow. If this is true, it means that the Dow has 1000 points more to go to the downside - after it performs its usual up and down gyrations..

The Big Exception - 1929

People who know their history can read the consequences of men's actions in these charts. Take the case of Germany after WWI.

Fighting stopped based on the Wilson Plan that belligerents would return behind their own borders and that there would be no winners or losers.

When this news became public, German communists started another 1848 type revolt. German armies returned to Germany to suppress the revolt. The Allies found the German armies fronts gone, so they moved up to the German borders and crossed over and occupied Germany. They then imposed a draconian peace treaty called the Versailles Peace Treaty.

The treaty deprived the Central Powers of their colonies, many of their own provinces, and required them to pay horrendous reparations.

The only way Germany could pay was to borrow money from the international banks - billions upon billions. All this money floating around found its way into the world's stock markets.

This picture shows what happened. The stock market started up during the 1920s and zoomed up in 1928 and 1929 in a critical 3rd degree rise. Germany was drained. Having no more money - or credit - she stopped payments.

DOW

Deprived of German repatriation payments, the stock market collapsed in 1929 and in one month reached its rising 1/3 Speed Indicator line. There it bounced up again.

However, there was nothing to support the rising stock market and it collapsed again and continued on down until 1932.

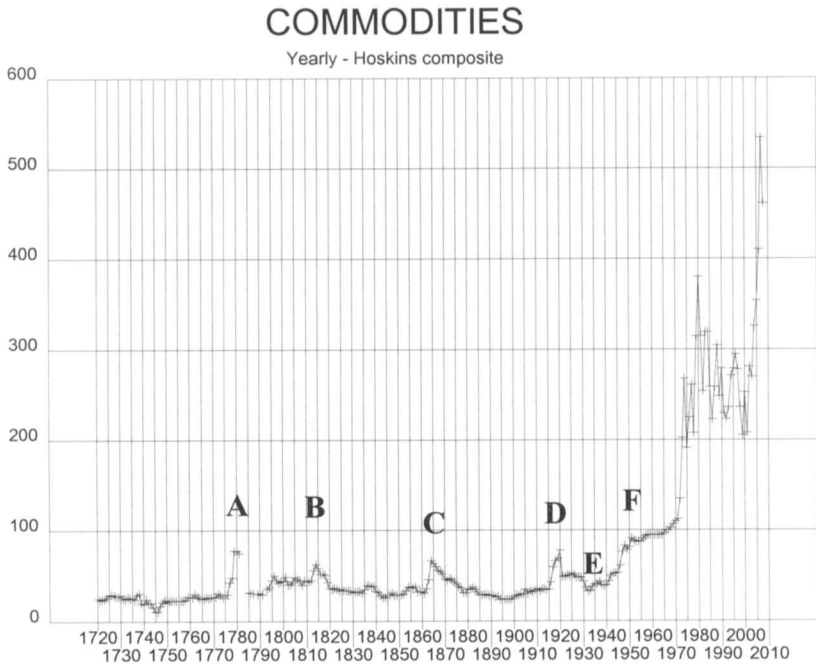

Germans owned almost nothing in Germany. Everything had been bought by the international bankers: businesses, buildings and land. There was no work and people were starving. Germany rebelled and confiscated everything the international corporations had seized. Germany then began to create its own money, repudiated its debts, and withdrew from the International Trade Cartel.

It required WWII to subdue her and repossess her industries and lands. It's all there in the stock picture.

Commodities

The history of America is written in the price of commodities. I had to work a long time getting info and putting it together. The chart starts in 1720. The Revolutionary War inflation peaked in the 1780s (A) with "Continental" nearly worthless. It's all there.

(B) In 1815, the Napoleonic Wars ended with a final burst of inflation. After that, commodity prices hit the skids. It got so bad that Thomas Jefferson went bankrupt. Uriah P. Levy bought his home "Monticello" in 1836 for $2,700.

(C) The War For Southern Independence took the North out of a commodity depression in the 1860s. Family land at Kelly's Ford that sold for $800 an acre in 1858 sold for 50¢ an acre in 1900.

(D) In the early 1900s, the Boer War and WWI demand took commodities up to a peak in 1920.

(E) Commodities then declined until 1932.

(F) In 1933, Jewish organizations met and declared war on Germany (HR 406) and preparations for WWII caused commodities to start to recover. The process worked so well that there has been one war after another until the present day.

The need for war is basic - people are reluctant to go into debt and borrow money into existence unless they are threatened by war. It's the politicians' job to get wars started so that good times will continue rolling by.

Banks 1780 - 1970

People ask if there will be bank failures in the days ahead? Look at the chart above.

Before 1778 America had no banks. In 1780 we had one. Then a few more after 1810. Then, banks began growing like cancer cells, especially in the South following the War Between The States. The number of banks zoomed in number to almost 32,000 by 1920.

1 Levy's nephew, Jefferson Monroe Levy, inherited it and sold it to the Jefferson Foundation for $500,000 in 1923.

2 In Hazard, Kentucky my father lost his hospital when the price of coal dropped nearly 50% and the miners couldn't pay their bills. This made it impossible for my father to pay his bills.

In 1920, the commodity collapse hit. Banks by the thousands folded until 1930 when the number leveled off at about

NUMBER OF BANKS IN U.S.

14,000 - where they have stayed year after year. A bit strange - don't you think?

When I used to travel around Virginia there were deserted bank buildings just about everywhere. But, what happens to the mortgages that had been owned by the bank? They were merely transferred to another bank. People in debt remained as much in debt after a bank folded as they had been before.

War Cycles / Peace Cycles predicted that the number of banks would decrease to perhaps 8,000 or fewer in time. Fewer banks are easier to manage than many banks. Practically speaking, bank owners only have a franchise from the big bank cartel. Franchises can be terminated whenever the Cartel changes its rules. After all, they will keep the failed banks' mortgages; the only ones being hurt are those who own the bank's stock.

What do you think? Will we have fewer banks in the days ahead or not?

Oil - cut back

It is logical to assume that if people pay a high price for oil products - they can't spend that same money on something else. In other words, money is drained out of circulation when the oil price rises. When the oil price goes down it allows money to be spent on other things. It is perhaps the only way to quickly regulate the world's floating money supply.

The worrisome thing has to do with our leaders telling us not to worry. Why are they telling us not to worry if there's nothing to worry about?

Conclusion

It might be wise to see if the stock market declines to its 1/3 Speed Indicator Level that we saw on page two. If it does, then it might be safer to nibble a bit on the market - never for a moment forgetting that someone else might have plans besides the international bankers. Interesting times may be just around the corner.

Letter From S. Africa

Dear Mr. Hoskins: Mugabe seems completely insane. Last night over the radio it was reported that he said that he is getting rid of 5 million who voted against him.

His soldiers chopped the hands and feet off a woman and burnt her house - and she is only one of many. It is reported that Mugabe, who is said to be a Jesuit, intends to stay in power until he dies. For safety sake, many are leaving as fast as they can to the nearest safe country.

Thousands upon thousands chose S. Africa. South Africa is not able to care for all these new people. They take both food and jobs from local blacks.

The xenophobic violence against these invading blacks started in the Alexandra black township. It is an area always volatile with many idle people around. The inhabitants blame foreigners for taking their jobs, getting the houses that they had planned on getting. Or, one tribe killing another, fighting about some ancient grievance.

Sometimes they fight for fun, like binding an auto tyre to a Mozambican and burning him alive. Newspaper pictures show three black school girls walking past unconcerned.

Zimbabwean refugees may be trying to escape their ruler Mugabe, but they are cruel and they steal large amounts of money from cash in transit-vans and blow up MTMs with dynamite. Since there is no work, they steal.

When violence broke out, the government did nothing. At last, three countries sent buses to take their citizens home: Lesotho, Malawi and Mozambique. But, there are still thousands more waiting. The S. African government then changed its mind and let a large group of refugees stay, without considering that it has no surplus food and shelter to care for them.

The amazing thing is that the rulers of England and America who caused these problems in Africa now stand by doing nothing. Its as if they planned these things from the first.

Two strange incidents happened in Potgietersrus and Benoni. At Potgietersrus, they closed the road into town and placed large rocks on the roads keeping people from going home. At Benoni, the same thing happened. Police turned up when the mobs kept people from getting petrol and threatened to set fire to the depot.

We read about your New Orleans disaster where pillage, rape and murder were the order of the day, and the blacks fired on relief helicopters, soldiers, and relief workers sent to help them. Whites must be increasingly prepared.

In July, a law came into effect where private property will belong to the government, exactly the same as in the Soviet Union.

The Whites have worked hard from the day Jan van Rieberck landed at the Cape, building, planting, developing. The blacks don't build - they burn down their own schools - schools that Whites built for them.

Mbeki is now president. Zuma the Zulu who hates Whites is next. Soon you will have Obama.

God help us, K.H.

Chapter 408

THE MONGOL A Short History

"(God) will destroy ... the covering cast over all people, and the veil that is spread over all nations." Isaiah 25:7

"Neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you." Matt 7:6

The Sons of Jacob see only two races in the world; "Jacob" and "Esau". The Sons of Jacob were appointed kings and priests. Esau was cursed and branded a murderer and deceiver.

Esau sent his merchants to Jacob who traded his pearls for Esau's pretty ge-gaws in violation of God's Law.¹ The merchants returned to Esau with Jacob's pearls. Seeing Jacob's pearls he wanted more.

Esau united and in a generation conquered an empire; built a nearly invincible army; and built a fleet that destroyed the fleet of a world-renowned European power in a day.

Following is history that is now hid from view but should be pondered as Jacob continues his Lawless affair with Esau.

The Mongols

In the beginning of the 13th century there was a young Mongol ruler named Genghis Khan who, with a few followers, rode ponies across the Mongolian Desert. A few short years later his Empire stretched from China in the east to the Danube River in the West. The armies of Genghis Khan and his successors were seen as invincible.

His forces were almost exclusively cavalry organized into divisions, regiments, battalions and companies. There were two kinds of cavalry. The heavy cavalry wore padded leather armor and were armed with heavy bows and arrows as well as light bows and arrows. The heavy bows and arrows were to fight heavily armored opponents. The light bows were for rapid fire once a battle had turned into a melee. They also carried swords and spears. The light cavalry were armed with light bows, little armor, and light javelins.

In combat, the heavy cavalry would form up in three lines and the light cavalry would charge through the heavy cavalry to attack the enemy with a barrage of arrows. They would keep up this attack on a selected portion of the enemy line until their opponents showed signs of disorder. This would be the signal for the heavy cavalry to charge and finish the job with spear and sword.

If attacked, the whole Mongol force would retreat - both light cavalry and heavy cavalry. When the enemy tired of the chase, the Mongols turned and recommenced their attack in the same way they had done at the beginning. The difference being that by this time their enemy was scattered and disorganized from the chase.

Recruits

Relatively few in number, the Mongols demanded support from the enemies they conquered. Loyalty was guaranteed by hostages. Hostages were a tried and true method of compelling obedience from new "allies".

There were seven nations of Mongols. Genghis Khan subdued them one by one. Each furnished its quota of warriors. The growing army went on to conquer surrounding nations, each adding its own quota of warriors.

Even the vaunted Teutonic knights - man for man the best fighters in the world - were twice beaten by these barbarian armies from the deserts of Mongolia, and the vaunted Saxon-Hungarian army, larger and better armed than that of the Mongols, was exterminated.

Signals

Veterans who fought the Mongols noted a strange phenomenon - the silence! The silence of Mongol armies. Unlike Western armies where there was a din of orders, war cries, and trumpets, no sound came from the Mongol hordes. There were no couriers dashing up and down the lines carrying orders. There was only the deathly silence.

Seemingly without orders, battalions and regiments wheeled out of line and galloped to a flank. At other times, their entire line would suddenly retreat, or the light cavalry would suddenly burst through the heavy cavalry and blacken the sky with their arrows - all without a spoken order being given.

The secret was their signal flags. These signals were understood and instantly obeyed by everyone in sight of the signals, who then relayed messages to distant units out of sight. Superior communications allowed the Mongols to move faster and concentrate overwhelming forces at enemy weak points before they could be reinforced. Communication was the key to the success of the Mongol armies.

General Communications

The Mongols ruled the most powerful empire on earth at the time. It included China, Korea, and countless other nations and countries including most of Russia. In Russia, the Mongols gave vent to their true nature:

"Batu himself, the leader of the great Tartar invasion of Europe (1240-1242) ... At Moscow he ordered a general massacre, and 270,000 right ears are said to have been laid before him in testimony to its accomplishment." Marco Polo Vol II, p. 493, Dover Pub, NY 1993.

Nothing changes. Khazar Turks were part of the Mongolian Horde. When the Tzar's government was overthrown by the Jewish/Slav alliance - 20 to 30 million people were put to death - most being Sons of Jacob. Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn (1918-2008), was feted and quoted by the American Press until he disclosed that most of the Soviet work camps' commandants were Khazar-Turk Jews. Joseph Stalin was a Georgian-Turk. Nothing changes.

These sons of Esau are often known as "Tartars", "Mongols", "Turks" or "Arabs". In the East they often had an oriental cast - in the West many were virtually indistinguishable from Westerners. I have read that many of the Khans had blue eyes and red hair.

The ruling Khan carefully selected his underlings, gave them general instructions and dictatorial powers, then left the execution of his orders strictly to them. Months might pass without orders from Genghis Khan to his subordinates - but his universal spy system informed him of their activities.

Mongol rulers made good use of captive peoples - often placing their intelligent members in very responsible positions in their own government. This was true for most government positions except finance - which was reserved for Mongols.²

Other Intelligence

Mongol military and political adventures were planned far in advance based on information obtained from merchants operating or traveling through targeted lands. Information also came from diplomats, paid agents, and informants. Mongol Hordes didn't burst in from nowhere - their operation had been planned far in advance. Their actual appearance on the battlefield was almost an afterthought.

Sometimes, information alone made it unnecessary to launch an invasion by armed force. This was the Mongols' preferred method of conquest. Information from merchant agents and virtually unlimited wealth available for bribes allowed the Mongols to often install puppet kings in foreign countries without the bother of military conquest.

Wealth

India, positioned midway between the East and the West, has long been known as the home of the merchant and Esau's treasurer.

Merchants collect wealth. Unless properly protected this wealth can be subject to unwelcome attention from others:

"Gold, according to the Masdlak-al-Absdr, had been flowing into India for 3000 years, and had never been exported. Firishta speaks of the enormous spoils carried off by Malik Kafur, every soldier's share amounting to 25 lbs of gold! Some years later Mohammed Tughlak loads 200 elephants and several thousand bullocks with the precious spoil of a single temple." Marco Polo Vol II, p 348, fn.6.

Religions

The Mongol leaders adopted varied religions. A single family might have members who were "Christian", "Muslim", and "Idolater" (Hindu). Many of the great leaders declared themselves to be "Idolaters" (Hindus) as being the most versatile for the political necessities of the moment. Their merchants often adopted the same practice. In India they might be "Buddhist", in Egypt - "Muslim", and in the West - "Christian" - all within a few weeks.

In general, Mongols were tolerant of each other's religion. Obedience to one's leader was the important thing - not the religion he professed at the moment.

Reminder

Unlike the children of Jacob who are appointed "kings"³, the reader is reminded that Esau has the character of a wolf, including the never-ending urge to fight among themselves to determine who is to be pack leader. These endless struggles tend to keep Esau occupied with each other rather than being a constant threat to Jacob.

History also shows that time after time a leader rises who is able to prevail over contenders and is able to unite Esau. United Esau is then dangerous. He is focused. In a single generation he is able to rise from being a camel rider to a leader of chemical warfare experts, and from herding cattle to a leader of computer experts. Presently, he has achieved world-wide economic supremacy and has overthrown every nation and state who has opposed him. Unlimited wealth also allows him to rule countries through puppet leaders and use captive nations to administer discipline to rebels.

Attila The Hun

Centuries before the Mongols knocked on the doors of Europe, a Hun by the name of Attila (A.D. 406?-453) successfully invaded the Roman Empire.⁴ He and his Huns executed their long planned invasion westward and stormed out of the desert to devastate the Goths settled around the Black Sea. These are the same Goths who are our ancestors. He overran the Ostrogoths while the Visigoths escaped to the West. He took hostages of captive Ostrogoths and incorporated their warriors into his army - causing the Hun army to grow larger. He did the same with small German tribes he overwhelmed along the way and his army grew to three-quarters of a million.

³ "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings & priests unto God and his Father." Rev 1:5-6

Some of Europe's greatest cities were sacked and put to the torch: Rheims, Mainz, Strasbourg, Cologne, Worms and Trier. The overpowering smell of death prevented survivors from re-entering their own cities long after the Huns had left.

Attila was defeated by a combined Roman and Gothic army at the battle of the Catalonian Fields in France where half their number were lost in that battle. Germans in the Roman Army were allied with Visigoths; they faced Huns and their allies who also included Germans and Goths. Kinsman faced kinsman and in places where they fought bodies were stacked twenty and thirty feet deep.⁵

Attila The Statesman

Attila periodically brought his chiefs together to teach them the Hunnic art of statescraft. In such meetings he elaborated on the following subjects:⁶

* LOYALTY: Huns and their agents must be loyal.

⁵ Jacob has learned that when confronting a kinsman in Esau's service one must treat him as he would treat you.

⁶ Leadership Secrets of Attila the Hun, Wess Roberts, Peregrine Pub. Co., P.O. Box 2742, Rohnert Park, CA 94928, 1985

Anyone who encourages acts counter to the good of the tribe is disloyal and will be quickly removed. In our day, accidents that happen to the rich and famous are often not accidents.

- * REWARDS: Reward successes lest others will make their own attractive offers.

With reason Congress is known as the millionaires' club.

- * RUMOR: A rumor can make possible great victories.

Rumors can redirect a captive population's attention from disagreeable subjects.

- * ACT THE PART - Preparing to meet Roman negotiators;

Attila instructed his Chiefs to select the most ferocious looking warriors from his army, dress them in rough furs and leather, and to eat raw meat. They were instructed to select 20 or 30 prisoners and inflict the most horrible tortures on them - impalement, dismemberment, and the like. Then, tables were placed in the midst of this collection of screaming, dying wretches. Interspersed were Huns who unconcernly sat eating raw meat, with blood dripping from the sides of their mouths. Roman-Hun negotiations then commenced that gained the Huns all that they wanted.

- * INTEGRATION: Attila taught that a nation of one ancestry and one race is weak. He taught that integration is desired.

Following Esau's recent conquest of Europe - millions of Jacob's sons were starved, died of exposure and disease, and their leaders executed. Puppet governments severely punish those who talk of separating Jacob from others. Tens of thousands are presently incarcerated because of these laws. Esau has not changed.

* DECEPTION: Attila taught never to neglect the opportunity to deceive an enemy, to make him think that you are a friend. To let him think that you are weak when you are strong. To try to make him act before he is ready to act. And, most important, "never tell him everything."

Catalonian Fields Post-mortem

Wes Roberts states that "By nightfall, the fields of Catalaunian were heaped with over 300,000 slain bodies of the horde. The E/B states only that the carnage was terrible. Whatever the total casualties were they were sufficient to cause Attila to withdraw the following day.

Attila's End

Attila's battle losses in France were heavy. Withdrawing across the Rhein River, he returned to his Pannonian home.

In 453, he took the daughter of a Germanic chief whom he had executed for treason. Attila indulged himself with her and the morning after his marriage he was found dead in a pool of blood. The story was passed about that he had burst a blood vessel. The other story was that Ildico, to revenge her shame of being taken by a stranger, killed him as Judith slew the tormentor of her people.⁷ If so, Ildico did what the combined armies of the West could not do.

When word was received that Attila was dead, his followers fought among themselves to determine his successor. The coalition of Germanic tribes conquered by the Huns used this time to revolt. After a succession of battles, they defeated the Huns in Pannonia at The Battle at the Nedao River in which 30,000 Huns were slain including Attila's oldest son.

The German tribes revolted against Hunnic overlords, as did the Ostrogoths, thereby reducing the Huns to just another despised warring tribe of strangers.

The empire of the Huns evaporated almost as quickly as it had been created.

The Birth Of Islam

Once there was an Arabian prophet named Mohammed. The local ruler was jealous of his growing influence so he fled to an oasis far out in the desert where spice-route caravans stopped for water.

Mohammed and his followers stopped the caravans for over a year causing anguish to the merchants and to the Arabian king who had been paid to protect the caravans.

At last a single rider appeared from the east. His message was brief - Mohammed would be the new ruler.

Mohammed soon spread his teachings among nearby tribes and united them in a great crusade against "unbelievers", the worst of whom were Christians. His armies conquered the Near East, Turkey, Egypt, the entire North African coast, Sicily, Southern Italy, and Spain. The Mediterranean became an Islamic lake. Most of this took place in a single generation.

⁷ "Thou shalt not take a wife ... of the Canaanites ... but thou shall go ... to my kindred, and take a wife." Gen 24:3,4. "So shall we be separated, I and all of Thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth." Ex 33:16. "I am the Lord your God, which have separated you from other people." Lev 20:24

Signature Cities

In the past, leaders have appeared leading ignorant nomads who were able to build empires in twenty years. Warfare has changed.

Today, Esau's weapon of usury-banking has created a world empire. It has conquered both countries and nations. It can order one country to discipline another. Its hallmarks are cities - cities of shining glass and steel skyscrapers. Some even have Rolls Royces for its inhabitants - and its all done in a lifetime.

This is power!

Jews

The world has long blamed the Jews for its problems, still, the Jews remain after all this time. This would be impossible without protection from the kings Esau has appointed to rule.

Look into the background of people who ceaselessly blame the Jews and you will find that they almost never use the WORD to address matters the WORD considers more important.

Trade Religions

Every nation has two religions - its national religion and its international religion. A national religion is for the nation's people - puppets of Esau's international merchants created the other.

Esau's merchants cannot rule if banned by national religions. To remove the religious obstacle, Esau creates, finances, and substitutes an international religion. His international religion re-interprets the local national religion to allow allow Esau's merchants the freedom to do as they please.

National religions are oppressed by the merchant's substitute international-religion. Every nation has this problem - Jewish, Arab, Indian, Hindu and Christian. Esau's internationalism is the enemy of all. But since Esau is the world's paymaster - most people give lip service to his trade religion to earn their daily bread.

But, at times, it is possible for national religions, otherwise hostile to each other, to work together for their mutual benefit. We must remember that German Zionist Jews peacefully rounded up German Jews who were then sent by German Christians to Palestine. Both Zionist Jews and the Germans benefited.⁸

All nations wish to be separated from all other nations. To separate they must oppose Esau's internationalist trade religions. Integration brings strife. Separation brings peace. Hostile nations can work together for their mutual benefit. They've done it before.

Saladin's Propaganda

Egypt had a ruler named Saladin: 1137?-1193. He was the son of a Kurdish soldier. He united the Arab world to fight the Christian Crusaders.

Saladin had been left a strong army by his father, but his key to uniting all the various Turkic-Arab tribes lay elsewhere.

One of the first things he did upon coming to power was to create a media for the Arab world. He employed hundreds of scribes and provided them writing materials and special quarters for the purpose. Their job was to correspond with important people in each Arab nation giving special attention to the Arab world and of the Crusaders preparations to invade Islam.

Liberally interspersed in the letters were Mohammed's commands to fight against "unbelievers". When at last Saladin moved his army against the Crusaders, each Arab ruler was compelled by his own subjects, made fanatical by Saladin's propaganda, to join Saladin's army. Saladin's army became enormous.

Hammer Meets Anvil

The invincible Mongols moved West. The invincible Armies of Islam based in Egypt met them near the Mediterranean Sea and nearly exterminated them.

Jacob has been saved many times because of the nature of wolves to fight each other.

Conclusion

Esau controls the world's wealth. With this wealth he bought the media. With the media he set up kings and has taken them down. With his wealth he endows colleges and seminaries. With teachers trained by him, he creates trade-religions to capture people's minds.

Esau has done these things before - and as God promised - Jacob still remains. Not only does Jacob remain but God has armed him with an invincible weapon.

"Behold, I will make thee a new sharp threshing instrument having teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat [them] small, and shalt make the hills as chaff." Isa 41:15

We know that weapon. Those who don't will feel its teeth. The time of Jacob's troubles will soon end.

From The Loeries

Dear Hoskins Report Subscribers; The Loerie Home is growing stronger by the day.

Safety precautions have been arranged to give us more peace of mind when we go to bed at night. The alarm system is in full operation and working well.

The influx of illegal immigrants from Zimbabwe, Mapukto, Zambia, Kenya and neighboring African countries is flooding through our borders seeking food and a better life. This causes great upheaval and tensions and a higher crime rate.

This forces us to constantly sharpen our safety measures. Loerie Home is situated adjacent to a main highway which makes it more open and exposed to crime. Electrical wiring has been erected on top of the steel palisade fencing surrounding Loerie Home's premises.

We have 29 children in our Home. Our 3 newest additions are Richard 6, Jacques 8, and Mariska 10. All three of these children have learning disabilities. They receive therapy on a weekly basis. We have already seen improvement in their abilities concerning conversing and willingness to progress.

Mrs. Magda Voges, who assisted Betzy when the Loerie Youth Center was first established, had to leave because of financial difficulties. The good news is that she is back again and works full time as Betzy's assistant.

The generosity and support of Hoskins Report Subscribers has allowed much to be accomplished. The youngsters are our future.

God Bless You All,

Letter From S. Africa

Dear Mr. Hoskins: At last a vehicle is being provided to withstand the constant attacks from robbers. They are called "Ratels". They were used in the Border War with great success and America bought some to use in Iraq.

Apart from "Die Afrikaner", the other S. African newspapers hardly mention whites. It's as if we do not exist.

The regime still expropriates big pieces of our most fertile land. Under black management the land slowly ceases to produce and after two years often ceases to be productive. This is certain to lead to more food problems in the future. My brother had to sell his farm that has been in the family since 1850.

Health problems abound and the lack of professional help makes matters worse. One waits up to two years for certain dental procedures.

We visited the Loeries and everything seems fine. Magda fits in well and gets on well with the children.

Our Best, H.K

CHINAMAN: Dear Mr. Hoskins: You've heard about the "Canadian Chinaman" that sliced off the head of a young man on the Greyhound bus. Appears the Chinaman had been bothering a woman and the white fellow had stepped in and put a stop to it. When the white guy put his earplugs in to listen to some music and sleep, the Chinese "Canadian" stabbed him repeatedly, decapitated him, and began eating parts of his body. No doubt this fine addition to Canadian society will be found "not responsible", spend time in a mental hospital, and in time be released again into society.

Meanwhile, the four Indian reserves north of us are trying to cut back on drive-by shootings by having an amnesty. After another killing Saturday night the elders suggested that they should kick war-parties off the reserves. This would force them to move to neighboring towns and that would wake up some docile whites.

We are continuing to prepare for uncertain times by storing food, kerosene, etc. Sincerely , H.K - Canada

USURY: My area of New York has been economically depressed for quite some time and it only gets worse. There are many lawless strangers in position of power and confusion of face abounds. I hear the same from Kinsmen in other states, and it seems to me the economic suffering caused by usury is making people extremely unhappy in various and sundry places. It shouldn't be much longer before Saxons do what The WORD requires of them." L.R. - New York

Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn

1918-2008

Solzhenitsyn won the 1970 Nobel Prize in literature. He joined the Red Army in 1941 and fought throughout WWII; was arrested in 1945 for his anti-Stalinist views and sentenced to 8 years in labor camps. One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich was published in the USSR in 1962. In 1964 authorities confiscated his writings. He managed to smuggle The Gulag Archipelago to the West where it was enthusiastically received. In 1974 he was again arrested and exiled from the USSR. Settling in the US, he continued to write against the USSR, but also commented that detente was a "sham" and "viewed the US and the West in general as flacid, morally weak, and cravenly materialistic." Still, he continued to be feted and quoted by the American Press until he disclosed that most of the Soviet work camps' commandants were Jewish, at which time he became a non-person and disappeared from the pages of America's cartel press.

Chapter 409

FALSE PRIESTS Cause Market Meltdown

Two Gods

Christendom has two Gods.

There is the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob - and there is the other God - the God of the International Merchant whose followers were once called "Pharisees". They worked with the lawyers of the day who were called "Scribes".

We've got the same thing today - followers of the WORD and those who follow the Merchant's God.

Similarities

The followers of these two Gods call themselves "Christians" and they call their Gods "Jesus". The baptism and the Lord's Supper rituals are the same for both. Both teach their followers not to lie, cheat or steal.

One is genuine - the other is an anti-christ fraud.

Which is which? The answer; "By their acts ye shall know them." Matt 7:20

Fear

Followers of God the WORD fear their God. Followers of the anti-christ don't.

As a child, when we lied or stole, our parents took a switch and wore us out. We learned early that it was not only wrong to lie or steal; it was painful.

Fear of pain, and respect for the one who administered the pain was a constant reminder not to lie or steal. We feared the punishment, and we feared the father who administered the punishment. We learned the deeper reasons later.

Rules

God the WORD, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob instructs his children the same way.

First, he gave rules written in stone - and then said;

"If ye love me obey my commandments. John 14:15¹

One can obey or disobey - you can't do both. "No man can serve two masters." Matt 6:24

If one obeys the WORD - this is the result: "If you walk in my statutes, and keep my commandments, and do them ... I will give you peace." Lev 26:3-9

Disobey and this happens; "But if ye will not... do all these commandments... I will... cast your carcasses upon the carcasses of your idols ... And I will bring the land into desolation." Lev 26:14-35.

This is the whipping - utter destruction - obliteration.

We are given another warning; "Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man." Eccles. 3:1

The hardheaded who are thus far not impressed with what has been said should really pay attention when it is said still again;

"Mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring them hither, and slay them before me." Luke 19:27²

Josephus summed up how the obedient react when they hear The WORD;

"Moses called the people together, with the women and children ... that they might engage themselves to the observation of these laws. ... that in case any one of their own blood, or any city, should attempt to confound or ¹ "And this is love, that we walk after his commandments. 2 Jno 6

² "If any man obey not our word ... note that man and have no company with him." II Thes 3:14; "Not everyone shall enter into the kingdom of heaven but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." Matt 7:21; "We must obey God rather than men." Acts 5:29 dissolve their constitution of government (the WORD), they should take vengeance upon them, both all in general, and each person in particular ... but that if they were not able to take such vengeance, they should still demonstrate that what was done was contrary to their wills. So the multitude bound themselves by oath so to do." Antiquities 4:8:45

Lack Of Fear

In Christendom, men are trained to be priests and teachers. They are sent to special schools to learn God's Laws, Statutes and Judgments.

In time, agents of the anti-christ were admitted and began to practice the forbidden rite of usury. Rivers of usury-profits were channeled into "corporations". Wealthy corporations richly endowed the very seminaries where our young people were being sent to be trained as priests and teachers. The one new condition was added to their studies - that they learn "dharma".³

DHARMAMATRAS: "In the past there were no officers charged with spreading Dharma. I created these posts in the 13th year of my reign. These officers are commissioned to work with all sects in establishing and promoting Dharma." The Edicts of Asoka, Rock Edict V, p.58, Edicts Of Asoka, Trans. by N.A. Nikam & Richard Mckeon, Univ. Chicago, 1959. (Asoka - prophet of Buddha - missionary arm of Hinduism.)

After having absorbed the WORD that had been filtered through Dharma, these new priests and teachers concluded that the WORD is a mish-mash of myths and gobbledy-gook about a none-existent God now replaced by a new more loving, understanding God - a God of the new One World Age - a God who does not "condemn another religion or race by word or deed".

These priests and teachers no longer fear the WORD. They scoff at the The WORD's promise to punish those who know the WORD and refuse to tell others.⁴

There we have it. For whatever reason - if a man ignores and forgets the LAW of God - if he does not minister or teach the WORD - if he follows another God - he cannot hide:

"By their acts ye shall know them." Matt 7:20

Market Meltdown

Newspaper headlines say that a crash is imminent; the world's financial system is broken and is in danger of a meltdown.

So, what's new? Today's economic system is designed to periodically break down and bankrupt people. It is based on "usury". It's how the usurers get the borrowers' property. The WORD forbids usury and calls it a capital crime. Followers of the WORD know this, and the dire consequences that follow, and they warn those who will listen. No usury - no market meltdown. In the 1850s before the WAR, because there was virtually no usury, those living on self-sufficient farms in the South were not even aware that a market crash was devastating the North.

⁴ "Thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing that thou hast forgotten the law of thy God." Hosea 4:6"

Priests and teachers of the other God know the effects of usury but refuse to teach the LAW. This is the reason for today's "meltdown".⁶

Kings & Priests

"The WORD made flesh" appointed man to be kings and priests.⁷ Kings and priest have kingdoms and rule and teach their people according to The WORD.

Land

To allow us to flourish as kings and priests, in the beginning God gave us land to develop our kingdoms. "As the LORD commanded Moses, so the children of Israel did, and they divided the land." Jos 14:5.

If someone was deprived of his land, still, the land was to be returned to its owner in due time; "The land shall not be sold for ever: for the land is mine; ... If thy brother be waxen poor, and hath sold away some of his possession ... in the Jubilee (50 years) ... he shall return unto his possession." Lev 25:23, 28

These land-kingdoms given us by God produce wealth, give employment, provide abundant leisure to create "witty inventions", allow cottage industries, and permit joint ventures with neighbors - and most of all - the land's increase provides sustenance, wealth, and "peace of mind".

Teachers and preachers who have not told the sons of Jacob-Israel that they have been robbed of their land and ⁶ USURY: If there are only 10 items in existence and they are lent to a borrower who agrees to repay 11 - and he puts up his house or business as collateral - he has agreed to the impossible. 11 items cannot be repaid if there are only 10 of the items in existence. The contract is fraudulent from conception.

⁷ "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; Rev 1:5-6" kingdoms given them by God the WORD will certainly be punished by God the WORD.

Strangers In Our Midst

The WORD forbids us to have strangers in our midst:

"Thou shall drive them out before thee. Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their gods. They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:31- 33

The preachers and teachers of the other God have organized together and consciously cursed us with their silence so that we have been "... mingled among the heathen and learned their works." Ps 106:35⁸

The Merchant's God teaches our people "sex" and "death" with the media bought with the flood of money that comes from our "usury" payments. This media are managed by aliens and their agents who have crept in - shielded by the silence of Priests and teachers who disguise themselves as "Christians".

Offshore

Usurers and their corporations have been allowed into our land. This has opened the door to Strangers who have come in a flood. Our farm-kingdoms have been taken from us by deceptions, and we work for the strangers' corporations. In 1900, 90% of the people worked for corporations, or, lived by doing business with them. By 2000, almost 100% of our people work for them, or, survive by doing business with them. Ours has become a nation of slaves to Edomite corporations since people fear to bite the hand that feeds them. Esau is now "off-shoring" corporation-jobs and our people are on their knees - and still - we hear no protest from the pulpits.

⁸ "Thou shall make no covenant with them ... they shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21-24

Racial Adultery

"When two races live together with no barriers between them, they intermarry."⁹ The WORD forbids racial- adultery;

*"When they heard the Law, they excluded from Israel all the mixed multitude." Neh:13:3.*¹⁰

Anti-christ preachers teach the Buddhist "love" and "diversity" instead of the LAW.

Rule Over

The WORD commands:

"Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15;
"Their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall precede from the midst of them." Jer 30:21

The WORD does not permit alien-corporations to rule his people; it does not permit strangers to rule us as governors, congressmen, senators, or judges. It is unLAWful for them to serve on juries to judge our people. To have a stranger become leader of the country and rule our people blasphemes God the WORD!

Note those who support the violation of God's LAW.

⁹ Our Nordic Race, Hoskins, VPC, POB 997, Lynchburg, VA 24505, $8.

¹⁰ "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord." De 23: 2

The Flood

Millions of aliens flood our land and have taken up residence; alien CEOs of corporations suddenly appear and lay off hundreds of thousands of our people;

Priests who are followers of the alien God hide the WORD and remain silent about matters of life and death. They talk of being "raptured" or "getting saved"; followers of God the WORD cry out to make ready; "When the enemy comes in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord will lift up a standard against him." Isaiah 59:19

Hindu Gods Include Allah, Buddha & Jesus

This Other God

Priests who follow God the WORD teach and obey his LAWS.

Priests who fight against the WORD follow the God of the International Merchant. This God has many names, among them - "Allah", "Buddha" and, "Jesus" - a false Jesus to be sure. This false God speaks the words of a prophet named Asoka who proclaimed "One shall not condemn another religion or race by word or deed" - a commandment his followers strictly obey.

Quick Determination

To quickly determine if a gathering worships God the WORD or the God of Esau-Edom is to enter a house of worship and look around. If you see a stranger - leave quickly. The WORD says;

"The stranger (Heb: zûwr - foreigner, strange, profane, adulterous) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." Num 18:7, No 1:51.

That congregation has judged themselves: "By their acts ye shall know them." Matt 7:20. They have no fear of God The WORD. If you join them you will partake of their soon to come judgment.

Who's Guilty

Today's priests teach our people to tolerate disobedience to the WORD. Pretending to be "watchmen" they ignore the LAW and look away while Edomites and their agents flood our land. These strangers and their usury practice have eaten up our sustenance. Our land-kingdoms now belong to them. Usury's horrendous debt is causing the present market melt-down. Jobs are off-shored, strangers command our armies, sit as judges, and serve on juries; Priests have taught our people to tolerate sodomy, and racial adultery.

We can blame the Jews but if they were gone the problems would remain. Why go further than the Scriptures?

The priests in Jesus' day were responsible for nailing "the WORD made flesh" to the cross. There is no difference in nailing "the WORD made flesh" to the cross and today's priests nailing His WORD to the cross.

Evil can be banished only when man knows the LAW. As in Jesus' day - evil flourishes because the priests are silent.

The Parable

All Christendom knows of "The Lord's Supper".

In the spiritual interpretation, the bread is the WORD and the wine is the spirit. The bread of the WORD can do nothing without the vitality of the Spirit. Together the two make one.

In spite of the silence, misdirection, and heresy of today's priests, those other priests appointed by God to be his true kings and priests are alive and well. Also, they remember the injuries done them and who is responsible. They also remember their instructions:

"Thy kingdom come,

"thy will be done

"On earth!"

God's kingdom will rule here on earth; God's LAWS will be enforced here on earth.

Those who have tolerated evil and have made us slaves of God's enemies should "fear". You have been replaced and will be judged.

"I have set watchmen ... which shall never hold their peace." Isaiah 62:6

Letter From S. Africa

The Karoo, a semi-desert area, has had no rain for four years but always got support from the white government in hard times. Not so the blacks. Mbeki says everything is fine while sending millions of bushels of corn to Zimbabwe. Mugabe and his cronies get their food, fuel etc. free from here.

The weather is bad worldwide. We had huge storms in the Cape with 20 ft. high waves. Three provinces have had huge veld fires, killing everything in front of them.

A white woman died in her burning house, Hans saw the old farm burn down. They had made no fire break. I loved the trees, plants and animals, but all are lost.

The days are getting warmer and the rains will be so welcome. The vegetables are beginning to come on.

Whites are still leaving for safe countries.

'Till next time, Yours faithfully, K.J.

THE KING'S ENGLISH: "Mr. Hoskins: I spoke to an English gentleman the other day. He added something to the story that I haven't seen in your newsletter. He said that the Boers and Afrikaners did a very good job of keeping themselves separate from the stranger, as the WORD commands.

In fact, he said that their exclusivity even included Englishmen and white Europeans of every sort. This elderly gentleman said they were very arrogant, and did not treat outsiders, including white Adamic outsiders, very well at all. Scripture has much to say about this." W. T. - Canada

RKH: White South Africa was settled basically by waves of Dutch Reformed, German Lutherans and French Huguenots. Many if not most were fleeing persecution in their native lands. From the beginning the private Dutch East India Company treated the white Dutch population harshly - forbidding the immigration of white workers to force locals to buy slaves from the company. The increase of the white population was by natural increase.

Next came the English occupation during the Napoleonic Wars whose rule was so draconian that most Afrikaners left their possessions and moved inland to set up new farming states to the north. Their persecution complex didn't improve when gold was discovered in their new homes and gold-rush invaders climaxed their invasion with a British led coup-attempt.

Next came a British invasion that was fought to a standstill.

Then came another, the Boer War (1899-1903), in which the British obeyed their ruler rather than the King of kings and acted like barbarians - rounding up women and children and putting them in concentration camps and starving them by the tens of thousands - slaughtering livestock, burning fields and homes, and leaving the country a wasteland. Most of the English settlers living in S. Africa either did nothing, or aided the British subjugation efforts. Most liberals were and still are English.

Now, I speak as a Virginian of English-Scottish-Irish descent. My people came from England to Virginia in 1615. They were what you would call "Puritans" - Virginia was ruled by an episcopal royal governor. Law was whatever the King proclaimed to be law. Church attendance was compulsory and it taught religious doctrine which included the king's latest decrees.

The King's government took the Indians' side against their own white settlers, resulting in the "Massacre of 1622" where we lost half the Virginia colony and again in the "Massacre of 1644".

Continued royal misrule resulted in Bacon's Rebellion of 1675, whose failure resulted in confiscations of my family and others and widespread hangings.

In 1680, English Irish affairs brought the first O'Kelly here who became "Kelly". Then, Scottish POWs were dumped into Virginia by the thousands from the failed "Rising of 1715". This is where my Scottish line comes from. The "Rising of 1745" caused thousands more to be sold here. The Scots of the period were the poorest but best educated of any people in the world. They became Virginia's schoolmasters and taught George Washington, Patrick Henry and Thomas Jefferson Latin, Greek, Hebrew, French, reading, writing, and to hate the English. This resulted in the "Revolution of 1776" where the British ravished the Southland and Virginia - but we won at Yorktown.

At the beginning of the 19th century a handful of French refugees arrived from Haiti who had been abandoned by both French and English to be slaughtered by blacks.

In 1812, Virginia was again invaded by Great Britain. British landing parties went up and down our Northern Neck slaughtering livestock, burning houses, and capturing slaves for resale in the West Indies. Time and again we were attacked by Indian War Parties led by the English. Oh, need I mention that England owned the slave- trading franchise she had won from France, and before the Revolution, the King had twice received petitions from Virginia to stop the slave trade, and had sharply reprimanded Virginia for doing so.

Next, Andy Jackson bankrupted the 2nd Bank of the US in the 1840s. This uncovered the fact that its stockholders lived in Great Britain. In other words, Great Britain ruled the United States through usury-banking more than half a century after the revolution.

Following this is the English type land appropriation and distribution into land-corporations accomplished by the war with Mexico, the War Between the States, the War with Spain, WWI and WWII.

Ah, Yes. South African arrogance. Afrikaners blame the English. We understand that the English are merely the horse ridden by the International Trade Cartel - the same cartel that now uses America to do what England once did. Have you heard what people think of America and Americans recently? I'm one of those they are talking about. Not only that, I'm a Virginia rebel and fly a Confederate Battle Flag of Robert E. Lee's Army Of Northern Virginia in front of my house!

In short, nothing will change until we take back our God. Next, we are to obey our God. This means that there will be rough days ahead for the enemies of the WORD! And, who can do it better? We are sons of our fathers. Scratch a Saxon and what do you get ?- a Viking!

Chapter 410

KALI'S PRIESTS

Shaking Hands

My grandfather, Dick Kelly, meeting someone, would not shake his hand. He was friendly but would ignore the outstretched hand in front of him.

Many years before his best friend wanted to buy the old Culpeper Hotel across the street from the house where the gallant Maj John Pelham died; Robert E. Lee and Ulysses S.

Grant stayed in that hotel when they passed through town with their armies. Granddaddy's friend asked him to go on his note so that he could borrow money to buy it. They shook hands. Everyone knew that Dick Kelly's word was good.

Soon thereafter the friend went bankrupt and the bank came after Granddaddy to pay the debt. For years this indebtedness caused the Kelly family suffering. Granddaddy developed strong ideas about going on notes - anyone's notes. Even notes of his own children. All this was in the Bible - but no one had told him.¹

Under Law

We are a nation under Law:

*"He showed his word... his statutes and his judgments unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them."
Ps 147:19-20*

Josephus recorded in Antiquities this comment by the Romans who compared their gods with the God Of Israel,

"Our Gods are common to all men, and yours ... belong to nobody else but yourselves". Anti 4:6:8

Jesus Christ, the WORD made flesh, confirmed this;

"I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 15:24.²

1 "Be not one of them that strike hands (handshake, guaranteeing performance, make trade agreement), or one of them that are sureties (give pledges) for debt." Pr 22:26

2 "These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not unto the way of the Gentiles, and unto any city of the Samaritans enter ye not: But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 10:5,6

Add and Take Away

The WORD is set in concrete. It never changes. To add to its words or take away from them is absolutely forbidden; "What thing soever I command you, observe to do it: thou shalt not add thereto, nor diminish from it." Deut 12:32³

Another Don't

Jesus Christ said to not go to strangers. He repeated this time after time - for a reason.

"Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you." Matt 7:6; Lev 22:10

Jesus was just reminding Israel of the old story.

Rebuilding With Strangers

When Israel and Judah were taken into captivity many years before, Edomites moved into their vacated lands and were taught to worship the God of Israel. In time, Judah returned from captivity to rebuild the temple.

"The enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin ... perceived that they of the captivity did build the temple unto the Lord God of Israel. So they went ... and said unto them, We will build together with you. For we likewise, as ye, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the days of Azbarezeth the king of the Assyrians, who brought us hither. Then ... the chief of the families of Israel said unto them, It is not for us and you to build together an house unto the Lord our God. We ourselves alone will build unto the Lord of Israel." I Esdras 6:66-71

³ "And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book." Re 22:19; "Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish aught from it, that ye may keep the commandments of the Lord your God which I command you." Deut 4:2; "Add thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee." Prov 30:5-6.

It isn't enough that a stranger believes in our God. The WORD says that we are to accept only our own kind into our congregation. "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of Israel." Deut 23:2

Why? "Lest they turn again and rend you."

Rome

The Roman Empire was a giant trade empire encompassing many lands, races and their gods. Its government was episcopal - rule from the top down. The "Roman Peace" was the peace of death. Rebels died.

The WORD brought by Jesus Christ was looked upon as a new revolutionary law system. At first there was murderous suppression. People were crucified and fed to lions. This failed. The Roman Government next made Christianity a state religion and appointed its religious leaders. This worked. Christianity was then what the rulers said it was. Rebels were then accused of rebelling against God as well as the Empire. The punishment remained the same.

The International Trade Cartel

Those who study Scripture find that paths of deceit lead to India.

Historically, India is the center of world trade. Its spice trade goes east to China and west to Europe. Its symbol is the serpent. The serpent represents "deception".

India's people are both rich and poor. The super-rich exist in the midst of tens of thousands of starving people. Mind control teaches all of them to accept their place in life and few make any effort to change. They are taught that their present condition is the result of acts committed in earlier lives.

Buddha

There was a holy man in India called Buddha.⁴ His teachings are considered by many to be closest to those of Jesus Christ - with an important exception - Buddhism has no laws - only proverbs..

Buddha was discovered by a powerful ruler named Asoka The Great,⁵ a powerful ruler who adopted his teachings and made them a state religion.

It is often the case that men with modest means become rulers when advanced money which they use to hire and equip armies to enforce their will over others. This happened to Asoka's grandfather. In essence, Asoka and his empire resulted from the actions of wealthy "Brahmans" who stood unseen in the shadows. Both Asoka and Buddha were placed centerstage as their tools.

Buddhism was chosen because it teaches people to be "tolerant". Asoka was selected and made powerful because he could then force people to be tolerant. Peoples who accept Buddhism are required to be tolerant of strangers who move into their lands to buy and sell and take up residence. Its basic teaching - or motto - is called "Dharma". Its mantra is;

4 Buddha: Originally Siddhartha Gautama. 563?-483? B.C.. Indian mystic and founder of Buddhism. He began preaching after achieving supreme enlightenment at the age of 35. (American Heritage Dict)

5 Asoka: Known as the Great. Died 232 B.C. King of Magadha (273-232) Amer Heritage Dict

"One shall not condemn another religion or race by word or deed." King Asoka. 304 B.C.-232 B.C.

The Times

India had been a land roiled by racial strife. There were whites in the north and blacks in the south. Wherever the races met there was strife. Dharma ended racial strife and the merchant was able to go about his business.

When a race is destroyed, or changed into something else, the religious objections of their God to race-mixing cease. The land and people are then considered to be conquered by "Dharma". The multi-national; the "mixed breed", the "mulatto" are all the result of "Dharma". He has become a "One World Citizen".

Greece conquered India and in turn was unknowingly conquered by India.

Dharma Works

Asoka, India's ruler, bragged of his conquest of the Greeks;

"King Priyarsi (Asoka) considers moral conquest (that is, conquest by Dharma), the most important conquest. He has achieved this moral conquest repeatedly both here and among the peoples living beyond the borders of his kingdom, even as far away as six hundred (yojanas) (about 3000 miles), where the yona (Greek) king Antiyoka rules, and even beyond Antiyoka in the realms of the four kings named Turamaya, Antikini, Maka, and Alikasudara, and to the south among the Cholas and Pandyas (in the southern tip of the Indian peninsula) as far as Ceylon." The Edicts of Asoka, N.A. Nikam & Richard McKeon, Univ Chic Press, Chicago 1959, p29⁶

Asoka's psychological warfare conquered Alexander's Empire - and by extension, the Roman Empire that absorbed the Greek Empire.

King Asoka went on to tell how he did it:

"King Priyadarsi (Asoka) says: My officers charged with the spread of Dharma are occupied with various kinds of services beneficial to ascetics and householders, and they are empowered to concern themselves with all sects. ... Different officials are thus assigned specifically to the affairs of different religions, but my officers for spreading Dharma are occupied with all sects." The Edicts of Asoka, N.A. Nikam & Richard McKeon, Univ Chic Press, Chicago 1959, p34

Dharmamatras

The government officers responsible were called "Dharmamatras", or, today - "missionaries". Perhaps "thought police" would better describe them. These were talented people who were trained for as long as 15 years to learn about the land, language, people and religion of the country where they were to be sent.

With this training, and backed by unlimited wealth, they had little difficulty making contacts among the religious leaders of targeted countries as well as their political leaders and merchants. Dharmamatras carried Dharma to all of Asia and caused Buddhism to become its basic belief - except for lands converted to Islam.

Dharma was also carried to the West where it thrives. Asoka ordered that Dharmamatra enforcement was to be a state function and that "Army personnel" and "Prisoners" were primary subjects. He also instructed that his Dharmamatras were to work with charity functions and like organizations that provide "Medical Treatment" for both men and animals. They were also to have "Road Waysides" with water, shade, and medicines.

The Way Of Government

In India, King Asoka had large carved stones placed at major crossroads throughout his Empire teaching basic Dharma;⁶

* Prohibition of religious intolerance and discrimination.

* (Open housing) People of all religions live anywhere they choose.

* Honor all faiths

* Concord alone commendable.

* Message To Unconquered peoples - trust Asoka and learn Dharma.

Exceptions

Dharma prohibitions do not include the following:

"Alone among the major world religions, Buddhism does not condemn homosexuality or premarital sex. ... Rape and adultery are considered misconduct, but an individual is free to engage in consenting sexual acts that do not violate marital monastic commitments." Church Policies on Gay Concerns, pp 234- 239.

The Result

In the West they created a counterfeit version of the WORD. The counterfeit version approves the following acts that the WORD forbids. Those obedient to the WORD are

⁶ The Edicts of Asoka, N.A. Nikam & Richard McKeon, Univ Chic Press, Chicago 1959

Christians - those who disobey are followers of the merchants' religion, or, anti-Christ.

God Is Black

Counterfeit Christianity approves of most of these things forbidden by God the WORD.

There is something else that identifies the anti-Christ religion; its constant pre-occupation with the color of its God.

BLACK KALI - STANDING ON A WHITE DEVIL

Lolling tongue, severed head in one hand, sword in another; necklace of heads about her neck; belt of severed hands about her waist; flanked by helpers eating body parts and drinking their blood. The One World aura surrounds her head. God of the age of slaughter and destruction - the age of One World - Kaliyuga.

The following story comes from the ancient book of II Adam & Eve 4:1-4;

"The Word of God came to the serpent and said unto it ... be thou dumb; and speak no more, thou and thy race, because ... the ruin of my creatures happened through thee ... And a wind came to blow from heaven by command of God that carried away the serpent from Adam and Eve, threw it on the shore, and it landed in India." I Adam & Eve 18:7-9 (Lost Books)

There's more;

"God ordered Satan to show himself to Adam ... And God said to Adam, 'Look at this devil ... and look O Adam, at him who said that he is God! Can God be black? Would God take the form of a woman?" II Adam & Eve 4:1-4 (Lost Books)

Think now; what God is a woman, is black, and bears the serpent of deception on her person?

Kali

Her name is KALI - Goddess of death, sex, and destruction - the most feared and most worshipped God of India - and worldwide under other names. What is the name of the age in which we live - the age in which millions upon millions have been butchered and starved? Kali-yuga; What is the color of the saints worshiped by her followers? Black!

In India, streets are named for black saints, national holidays are named for black saints, buildings are named for black saints, statues and idols are erected to black saints.

It is the same wherever Kali is worshiped - by whatever name she is called. Black saints are worshiped in the West.

There's still more:

Who is it that Kali is standing upon? A white man - a white man whom Kali worshipers call "white devil".

Media, rulers, and merchants world wide do the same. They stand on the "white devil" and praise their black God and his black saints.

Double Proof

Long ago, God the WORD knew that his enemies would use religion to try and destroy his people. He gave Moses special instructions to give the priests;

"Moses commanded the Levites, which have the ark of the Covenant of the Lord, saying, Take this book of the Law, and put it in the side of the Ark of the Covenant of Lord your God, that it may be there for a witness against thee." Deut 31: 25,26

The faithful have removed the book of the LAW from the Ark and examined its contents. We follow the WORD that is a witness against those who call themselves "Christian" but defile the land with disobedience.

The Way

Our ancestors refused to rebuild the temple with Edomites who claimed to follow the WORD. Jesus said not to go to any city of the Samaritans. The WORD forbids taking the WORD to strangers lest they turn and do you harm.

In violation of the WORD and ignoring the consequences of what would happen if this commandment were violated - the WORD has been taught to the likes of Le'Oveture, Marx, Stalin, King, Mandela and the imported hordes of strangers now in our midst who yearly destroy and wound almost as many of our people as are killed in all our wars put together. Kali-priests smile tolorently.

The sons-of-Jacob know the Commandments of Jesus - the WORD made flesh - and obey. Those who are against the words of Christ are anti- Christ.⁸

The Briar Hedge

Once I walked across a wide field. In front of me was an impenetrable 200-year old briar boundary hedge. A rabbit would have trouble passing through. The closer I got the more formidable the hedge. When only yards away a path became visible that allowed me to pass through.

Today a briar hedge looms in front of us - the work of anti-christs in our midst. They have revealed themselves. We know who they are and what they do.

Armed with this knowledge, we will continue to walk and a path will open that will allow us to pass through. It is a promise.

"Thus saith the Lord which giveth the sun ... and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars ... If those ordinances depart ... then the seed of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before Me." Jeremiah 31:35-36.

Letter From South Africa

Hello; It is amazing how HR subscribers keep supporting the Loeries month after month in spite of world finances becoming a nightmare. The value of our money here seems to fall from hour to hour. Some say that it is a planned depression.

The government continues doing what they have done since coming to power. They print more and more money and spend it on themselves, or give it to the unions for work that is never done. The same is true for other companies having government contracts - they demand money already paid to them long ago, but no records were kept.

The Zuma group got rid of Mbeki who only had a few months left in office. An interim president rules now, but he talks of what he will do in ten years. It make one wonder.

Summer is near and we are getting welcome rains. The downside is that the rain-water fills the road potholes making driving dangerous.

A major problem is our water supply. The water is filthy resulting from the lack of maintenance plus millions of black immigrants. Farmers can no longer use water from the polluted rivers and dams for their animals and must use bore holes. Whites buy water filters.

More blacks are pouring across the borders into South Africa. Food is now in short supply as a result of the government confiscating white farms and giving them to black owners who produce nothing.

During the past few weeks a number of people have gotten sick and some have died from mysterious diseases believed to be carried by rats. It makes one think of the black death. Unfortunately, the isolation hospitals were closed when the blacks took over the government.

The newspapers say that the United States will soon elect a black president. Good luck!

Yours faithfully, K.J.

ABOMINATIONS

Pits

I was running the Pits at the Camp Picket range in 1948. We stood in a deep trench and pulled the targets up and down. When the targets were up - the shooters fired; we marked the hits, signaled the score, patched the target and ran them back up.

A young private was working target No. 8. A bullet hit the ground between us and threw dirt on us both. Panic swept the boy's face. He looked like he might run - and there was no safe place to run.

Not knowing what to do, I laughed, I laughed as if it were a big joke. He saw me laugh, his eyes lost that wild look, and he laughed.

The bullet? I have no idea where it came from. I surmised that it hit a rock on the edge of the pits and glanced down through a thin layer of dirt. Maybe not. Anyway, it worked. In this case, the thing that controlled the mind was laughter.

In my life I have seen cowards made brave, brave men made cowards, smart men made stupid and stupid men made smart and even enemies turned into friends. The power to control men's minds is great power.

"As a man thinketh so is he." Pr 23:7

The Time That Is

This is an historical period. Several subjects need to be discussed.

A Stranger Rules

The land is in trouble and people have selected a stranger to rule them and make matters right. The violation of God's LAWS continues.

"Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deut 17:15;
"Their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall precede from the midst of them." Jer 30:21

Priests of the Christian "Spiritual Church" knew the LAW - and stood mute. They followed another God - the "God of the Land" - rather than the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. So did the elected officials. They too stood mute. They stood mute because they think the LAW applies to someone else.

Many don't know who "Israel" is; they don't know who Isaac is; they don't know who "Adam" is. They don't know who THEY are or to whom the WORD is speaking. Then there are those who know and choose to remain silent. They've sat on my back porch and told me so to my face.

"If we sin willfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins." Heb 10:26

The Age

The God of the international merchant, called the "God of the Land" in ancient days, proclaimed this age to be the "age of annihilation and deception". It is the age of Kali-yuga. Its color is black; its heroes are black; its God is black; its followers idolize and build monuments to blacks who have a history of violence and death.¹ Its motto - "One shall not condemn another religion or race by word or deed." King Asoka. 304 B.C.- 232 B.C.

The Merchants' Way

Great Merchants tend to welcome integration because integration brings more customers. Five customers are better than three. "The love of money is the root of all evil." I Ti 6:10.

In my life I have known many wealthy people - but I have known few who were followers of the WORD.²

Why did John McCain lose?

From the beginning, McCain allied himself with Bush. Bush has been called the most hated president in American history. It is said that his approval rating was 25% going into Election Day.

Two-thirds of the country thought that the war McCain championed was a mistake, and 80-90% thought the country was on the wrong course. McCain had little in the way of charisma or communications skills. He was vastly outspent, and his political organization appeared inept. It is a wonder he did as well as he did. Yet, thanks to Sarah Palin, at one point he came from eight points behind to take the lead.

Then we had the collapse of Lehman Brothers, the bailout of AIG, and McCain announced that the economy was fundamentally sound. Suddenly, McCain was down 10 points as the press went after him in a mad-dog attack. He never recovered.

Asia's Collapse

A few years ago one of Esau's "instant multi-billionaires" took several hundred billions (trillions?) and sold and shorted the exchanges of Asia. The effect was spectacular. Country after country collapsed - devastated - their economies in ruins. Asian writers described conditions as being worse than the damage inflicted by WWII or the American War in Vietnam.

After the economies of Asia reached rock-bottom with unemployment rampant and starvation raising its ugly head, those responsible for the devastation stepped in and bought Asia's industries and lands for almost nothing. Their profits were beyond belief. Today they own the assets of the East.

Economic Integration

There has been much talk about uniting the world's economies - its banking and monetary exchanges. This is just talk. The fact is, the world has the dollar, euro, and yen, but when the economic meltdown started, it started everywhere at the same time. Practically speaking, the world already has a single currency and a single market system that operates under the same universal admiralty law. How else could everything collapse together.

Lightning Strikes Twice

Could the same people responsible for the Asian economic disaster be the same ones selling and shorting our own markets and causing the present world-wide economic chaos? They've done it before.

The most interesting thing is that the media will not talk about this possibility.

"Blame-game" players usually investigate a smoking gun first. However, if the same one who devastated Asia also owns the media - disloyal writers will be walking the streets without a job the next day. Let's look at what might have been.

The Set-Up

McCain must have had a reason for not using the cards handed him on a silver tray. Any of the following could have decided the election:

McCain could have come out against off-shoring American jobs; or

He could have demanded a high tariff to force the rebuilding of America's manufacturing at home; or

He could have demanded that America follow Eisenhower's example and mass deport Hispanics. Eisenhower deported tens of thousands of Mexicans in less than two weeks - creating thousands of jobs for Americans.

McCain made no believable issue about protecting American borders against the continuing alien invasion that is taking more and more American jobs.

McCain didn't touch America's sodomite problem that social conservatives were using to make giant strides elsewhere in the country.

In California, a liberal judiciary had ordered the state to recognize homosexual marriages. Voters slapped the judges and ordered the ban re-imposed and placed the ban in the California constitution. Arizona and Florida also voted by landslides to outlaw sodomite marriage. Where was McCain?

The New York Times deplored the "ugly outcome" of these three referenda and said voters were "enshrining bigotry," thus calling the majority of Californians, Arizonians and Floridians bigots and their Bible-rooted Christian beliefs bigotry. Yet, McCain, who might have led these moral and cultural issues didn't, and lost the very same Florida and California by a landslide.

In Missouri, where McCain eked out a victory, a proposal to make English the official state language carried six to one. Where was McCain?

In Nebraska, a proposal to ban affirmative action won. Where was McCain?

Had McCain made an issue of his opponent's support for a Freedom of Choice Act that would eliminate all state restrictions on abortion, he could have forced Obama to defend what yet remains a radical and extreme view in America.

A black locked up black America; McCain brushed-off the white working class. McCain could have had a heyday with his opponent's "most liberal voting record in the Senate" and his long association with the likes of Jeremiah Wright and '60s bomber William Ayers - but he didn't.

Economic insecurity is traceable to NAFTA-GATT globalization, under which it makes economic sense for U.S. companies to close factories here, build plants in China and export back to the United States. McCain had nothing to say.

Manufacturing now accounts for less than 10% of all U.S. jobs. This trend could be reversed with a stonewall tariff. McCain seemed not to notice.

Massive crime rates, bursting prisons, and social insecurity are traceable to massive alien immigration which is altering the character of communities and competing with U.S. workers by offering their services for less pay. McCain didn't notice.

In Politics, things don't happen by accident. Conservatives generally agree that the selection of George Bush for president was no accident. Neither was the choice of McCain. McCain's selection guaranteed that his opponent - in this case a black - would be the next president of the United States.

Huckabee & Ron Paul

The president-elect didn't make an issue of the above items. Neither did the "conservatives" who promised to lead America out of its woes. Smooth talking Huckabee and Ron Paul are two. Ron Paul was on television denouncing white activists for their "racial collectivism". Both were supporters of honors for the radical, city burning, plagiarizing whore-monger Martin Luther King. Sometimes I don't know who are worse, outright enemies, or those who say that they are our friends!

There is someone else who must be taken with a grain of salt; It is the "conservative" writer who constantly mistakes a flaming liberal for a conservative. They make the same mistake election after election. In time, people must realize that that's why they are there doing what they are doing - their job is to mislead Jacob into chasing his tail. It's no accident.

Executive Orders - Same Old

A front page story in the The News & Advance Nov 10, 2008, announced that the president-elect intends plans to use "executive orders" to make an immediate impact when he takes office. He is now in the process of selecting one of the most potentially radical anti-white cabinets ever seen in America.

Southerners are no strangers to presidential "executive orders". In 1861, a radical president issued an "executive order" sending armies pouring into the South - looting, raping, and devastating the land. This is what you can do with an executive order. Rule by executive order is called "a dictatorship". A lot can be done in the name of "executive orders" when backed by armed force.

Money

The election is now water over the dam. At some point in time, this present monetary affair will have to be dealt with. What do we do while waiting?

Scrip - The Lifesaver

We are told that the market meltdown is due to derivative IOUs coming due and debtors scrambling about to find money to pay them.

Debtors try to sell real estate to get cash - or stocks. Banks are said to be illiquid. We are told that corporations can't get money to pay suppliers and are being forced to shut down - which is causing unemployment to go through the roof. I know I have ordered things over the internet that were supposed to be shipped in three days and already it has been two months. Some merchants can't get loans to buy merchandise.

This type of thing has happened many times in the past, and still, people found a way to pay the police and fire departments. They paid them with scrip. Lynchburg issued scrip many times in the past to survive conditions similar to those today.

Paper scrip has been issued in all sorts of denominations to pay municipal employees and then taxed out of circulation with property taxes, utility taxes, tolls, and what have you. It's all in War Cycles / Peace Cycles. The only thing new is that YOU are probably the only one in your community who knows what to do. Pick up your phone and call your city councilman. I have.

The International Trade Cartel (ITC) would like for people to forget that the South fought a war with nothing but scrip and almost won. Usury bankers hate people talking about it. We used scrip for four long years - not counting the many other times we've used it.

Islam's No-Interest Banks

Something else. Islamic countries have been jerked around for a long time by usury-banking. Many of them have adopted "no-interest" banking as a safeguard. Have you heard of any of them bankrupting? I haven't.

This may be the right time to dump the present usury-system and re-institute Amsterdam type no-interest banking (See WC/PC, p.52). It would save us a lot of suffering, depressions, joblessness, hunger and war.

Let's review this usury business one more time:

New Reader Catch-Up

If there is only $10 in the world, and if you borrow that $10 and pay $1 a year interest - in 10 years the $10 you borrowed will have all been paid back to the one who lent it to you and there will be no more money left to pay the next year's interest. You will then be forced to bankrupt. You lose your house or business you used for collateral for the loan.³

Step Two

As you can see, borrowing puts money in circulation - paying interest takes money out of circulation.

To keep the game going, bankers lend make-believe paper dollars to almost anyone. They even import debt-free Hispanics so that they can borrow money into existence. They lend to Chinese, Japanese and Indians and teach them to build skyscrapers, super-highways and bridges so that they will borrow more money into existence so that interest will continue to be paid.

³ "Hath given forth upon usury ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13

But, at some point in time people have enough skyscrapers, bridges, houses, cars, clothes, and plastic toys. Borrowing slows; business slows; people begin being laid off their jobs - but the lender still wants his interest payments.

A shortage of dollars to pay maturing IOUs develops and becomes critical.

Step Three

Cash becomes so hard to get that borrowers begin selling anything they have to raise money to pay debts. They dump assets on the market and prices plunge. People lose homes and jobs and begin to go hungry. Most try to keep the little money they have left. Business grinds slower and slower and prices reach rock bottom.

Then the usury-bankers step back in and buy. A banker in Farmville told me that in the '30s the bank owned almost every house in town. They were begging people to stay in them rent-free to keep vandals away.

The Last Step - War

Now is the time to put dollars back in circulation. People must be forced to borrow money into existence so prices will rise. We need to start a war.

War allows governments to borrow money into existence. People are afraid of debt, but governments tell us that we must borrow money to defend our freedom against some new enemy or terrorist who means to destroy us with weapons of mass destruction, We must buy guns, tanks, ships and planes to defend our liberties - and put people to work.

And the cycle starts over once again.

Modern War

War is different now. It has gotten dangerous. Many countries really do have weapons of mass destruction. If these countries were really to fight - not only will young men die, but those who start the wars and make the money will also die.

Unable to fight a good old-fashioned war - people must be "persuaded" to do something else - they must support massive government borrowing and spending to save us from a "banking-freeze".

Seven hundred billion dollars is a good start. It's more than most of our past wars have cost and it gets money back in circulation the same way an ordinary war does.

Unless someone can think of something else, its as good as anything else, short of a shooting war, to jump-start the economy.

Still, spending money and going into debt upsets people. This drive to borrow money to save banks and GM might still develop into a tough sell.

Revolt

Let's face it - it's time to start ruling ourselves.

We can start by putting LAW-abiding Christians in public office

We need to do away with usury-banking and re-introduce interest-free banking. We've had "no-interest" banking before. My book on the subject made the establishment mad fifteen years ago. In case you didn't read it, the name of the book is War Cycles / Peace Cycles. It tells the story of usury and what to do about it.⁴

Interest on national debt, state debt, corporate debt, personal debt - all kinds of debt can be handled in a no-interest banking system. We've done it before. The details were worked out long ago. All that is needed is the will to do it. If Esau can do it - so can we.

Scrip can tide us over while we make the necessary changes. The alternative is to allow the usury bankers to continue doing to us what they have been doing.

"As a man thinketh so is he." Pr 23:7

LETTER FROM SOUTH AFRICA

We went down to Bronkhorstspuit, but with Betzy running between the Kindergarten and high school students, we saw her for only a short time. I gave her your message to expect that the downturn in the American economy will cause things to get even tighter for S. Africa.

They are hard at work improving the place. For children who come from homes lacking everything what they provide must seem wonderful.

Magda seems to find things overwhelming. I must say that I find 30 youngsters a handful. It takes a special person since every child is different. The school gave Betzy a framed certificate of appreciation for all she is doing.

The two rightist book shops in Pretoria who sell our type of books have sold out of "Sellout", or in Afrikaans, Verraad by Adv Pretorius. When people realized they were betrayed, they bought the entire edition of this book to learn the truth and the guilty parties behind it. It's hard to find.

The government seems to be grinding to a standstill. Submarines sit in dry-docks, ships are idle; the only weapon they seem to be able manage is the AK47. They never have to clean it - only pull the trigger. I found the 47 a little heavy so Hans got me a Ruger.

A tour leader picked up a tropical disease. She was flown here where she died along with her medic and a few others. They are guessing that it might be Cholera.

We now have a new black party opposed to Zuma. Perhaps this is the beginning of the inevitable black in-fighting.

Derby Lewis was found guilty at the time Chris Hani the black leader was shot. Since he knew some of those involved he was sentenced to death and served 6 years on death-row. He has since spent another 15 years in prison. No appeal helped because the ANC saw Hani as an icon, and it is almost impossible for a white to get bail. We got to know him and his wife Gaye well. He was a Member of Parliament for the Conservative Party in the then- white government and is still in prison.

With best wishes, K.J.

LETTERS

ROBERT E LEE: "Dear Mr. Hoskins; Thank you very much for the book about Robert E. Lee. He is an inspiration for me. I have 10 typed pages, highlights from one of the books I have read about him. I have likely read and re-read these pages a thousand times each, literally. I never tire of examples of his military methods. May God bless and keep you and yours. God, race & truth, Bruce C. Pierce - The Order

INDIANS: "Dear Mr. Hoskins: My mother said that she had an Indian grandma. I have been researching my family history and found that this just was not so. Our line goes back to the Western Isles of Scotland. I noted with interest that the census takers were careful to note whether a person was white, negro, mulatto, Indian, mixed race or unknown race. I confronted my mother about this and she confessed that she found it 'romantic' to think of her grandmother being related to an Indian chief." O.S. - Virginia

RKH: "As a man thinketh so is he." Pr 23:7. Jacob is bound by Law. Esau isn't. It is easier for Esau to persuade Jacob's sons that they are really lawless sons-of-Esau than to have to station armed guards on every street corner to prevent Jacob from enforcing God's Laws.

When I was a boy, Esau had convinced us that the English, Scottish, Irish, and Germans were all different races who had freely mixed and therefore there would be no harm in mixing with Blacks and Indians. My genealogical research couldn't find a Black or Indian in any neighborhood families. It had all been a lie to separate us from our God. We've come a long way.

UNFILTERED NEWS

CONFEDERATE: In Richmond, the Sons Of Confederate Veterans had a statue built of President Jefferson Davis, along with his wife, son and a half-breed orphan that the Davis family cared for when his parents abandoned him.

However, visitors see only "integration". Races must either separate or integrate and become a mongrel race. "I will deliver the inhabitants of the land into your hand; and thou shall drive them out before thee." Ex 23:31 "A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." De 23:2

HOUSING: The number of houses sitting vacant in the U.S. has hit 18.6 million, the highest number since the government started tracking vacancies in the 1960s. Los Angeles Times

COFFEE: Pregnant women who allow themselves just one cup of coffee a day could be harming their babies. The average cup of coffee can significantly increase the chances that a baby will be born underweight. Underweight babies are more likely to develop health problem such as high blood pressure, diabetes and heart problems. British Medical Journal

SODOMITE: More than 100 retired generals and admirals called for the repeal of the military's "don't ask, don't tell" policy on sodomites so they can serve openly. AP

CENSUS: Whites will no longer make up a majority of Americans by 2042, according to new government projections. That's eight years sooner than previous estimates made in 2004. News & Advance

BLACK NAVY: The Citizen of Sept 26, 2008 reported that the S. African navy was increasingly unable to perform even the most basic maintenance and poorly trained crews were in danger of damaging ships' systems. One submarine has been in dry dock for months - apparently undergoing major repairs after it was damaged because of routine maintenance. A fiberoptic test set, which is used to check the function of equipment on board, has gone missing and it is reported that it is suspected that it was stolen.

OWNERSHIP: Jaguar and Land Rover were bought from GM by India's Tata Motors.

MURDOCH: Rupert Murdoch's Star television is becoming a leading broadcaster across India broadcasting in Kannada, Telugu and Malayalam languages with the fastest growth coming from southern India.

SELF CRITIQUE: "We've just witnessed 'the end of journalism,' said Victor Davis Hanson in National Review On-line. The mainstream Media's concerted campaign to elect Barack Obama may have succeeded, but at the cost of what was left of its credibility." THE WEEK

RUSSIA: Far-right activist and neo-Nazis clashed with police in Moscow as they protested alien immigration. Nationalists in many countries are discovering that the "Nazism" (National Socialism) of the much maligned Nazi area is nothing more than taking ill-gotten assets from internationalists and their corporations and returning them to themselves.

SODOMY: Florida, Arizona and California voters approved laws banning same-sex marriage. Esau's media blame California's large black turnout for its passage. This makes blacks the moral banner bearers of the cause. But, of course,. if history has taught us anything - it is that whatever Esau's Media say about ANYTHING is tainted.

ANTICHRIST: The black Archbishop Desmond Tutu of the Anglican Church was ordained as an Anglican minister under the guidance of the integrationist activist Archbishop Trevor Huddleston in the 1970s. An article in Financial Times, May 17-18, 2008, (L&A p3,) quotes him as saying "Almost every day you see mixed couples walking hand in hand or they are in a clinch - you wouldn't get a rake between them. I saw on one occasion a large group of black male students at Pretoria University and just one white girl walking with them, and she was in a clinch with one of the boys."

RKH: Esau, to the great grief of his parents, married two Canaanitish maidens. (Gen. 26:34-35). Then he married his mixed-breed cousin Mahalath, the daughter of Ishmael (Gen. 28:8-9) (father of the Arabs). God said, "Jacob have I loved but Esau have I hated." Romans 9:13

God hates integrationists. They commit "adultery" - "racial-adultery". The Law punishing adultery is severe.

ANTICHRIST: Richmond - For the first time in its 106-year history, one of the nation's oldest Presbyterian Church (USA) seminaries will be led by a black. Supporters of Brian Blount, head of Richmond's Union Theological Seminary hope his appointment will inspire more black students to attend the shrinking 2.3- million member denomination which is 92% white. (News/Advance, C1, May 24, 2008)

GUNS: The sale of firearms has jumped 8% to 10% in recent months. Industry analysts blame the burst of purchases on worsening economic conditions and fears that Democrats will enact gun control measures. The Washington Post

SEX-ED: The British government has announced that all pupils, from kindergarten through high school, are to be force-fed a curriculum of sex education. No schools may opt out - not even Catholic schools. "They wish to destroy childhood innocence and smash the remaining influence of religion." said Peter Hitchens in the London Mail on Sunday

PEDOPHILES: The FBI arrested 600 people in a child-prostitution sting. Arrested were 73 alleged pimps and 518 adult prostitutes. Rescued were 47 children age 13 to 17. Ten were listed on a database of missing children. Oakland is a hub for human trafficking and child prostitution. Agents say they broke up at least a dozen child-prostitution rings run out of casinos, truck stops, and illicit websites. THE WEEK

BIG BUCKS: Five biggest Wall Street's firms - Bear Sterns, Goldman Sachs, Lehman Brothers, Merrill Lynch and Morgan Stanley - paid out $39 billion in employee bonuses as their shareholders lost $74 Billion over the same period. (ABCnews.com)

MADONNA: Madonna's divorce from Guy Ritchie is getting ugly because her Kabbalah advisors are angry he rejected their religion.
