Chapter 436

MAIN STREET MURDER

A few weeks ago a student at Liberty University here in Lynchburg had a wedding reception. It was held at one of Lynchburg's downtown hotels. Her grandfather, 81 years old, traveled from Arizona to attend.

About midnight, festivities were going strong. Downtown was mostly deserted, and the grandfather grew restless and walked up to 12th and Main street to look in store windows. Along came a group of black teenagers. A couple of them proceeded to knock the old man down and stomp him to death as the rest watched.

They were apprehended by the police. When asked why they killed the old man, the leader of the teenage party said that he didn't know, that he had just told the rest of his party that he would kill the next person that his party met, and he did. This made sense to the black teenagers in his party and they didn't seem overly concerned.

Reality

Some people don't realize that races are different. Some are bigger; others are more athletic or smarter. Some are better workers. Regardless, all follow the laws of their own gods.

The God of the Saxon has a special place for his people;

"The LORD had a delight in thy fathers to love them, and he chose their seed after them, even you above all people, as it is this day." Deut 10:15<sup>1</sup>

He protected them with his WORD - the Laws, Statutes and Judgments of Abraham which were handed down from generation to generation to ensure our survival. We have been told many times that we must "Obey its Laws and live, or, disobey and die". One of the laws that God applied to all races is this;

"All people will walk every one in the name of his god." Micah 4:5

This verse means what it says; each race will obey the will of his god regardless of the god they pretend to follow. The entire verse reads;

"All people will walk every one in the name of his god and we will walk in the name of the Lord our God for ever and ever." Micah 4:5

<sup>1</sup> "There are many nations ... all are his, and over all has he appointed spirits to rule ... but over Israel ... he alone is their ruler." Jubilees 15:23

When those blacks walked down the street in their usual loud and boisterous manner, attacked an old white man, and saw nothing particularly wrong with it, they were doing what their god permitted - as they do in Haiti and in Africa today. They were walking in the name of their god. This is why 90% of the prison population is made up of strangers. They walk in the name of their gods and in the process violate the Laws of our God, and see nothing particularly wrong with it.

Our Bible is full of stories of such occurrences.

Samaritans

The story we best remember is the story of the Samaritans.

When Israel was taken into captivity in 721 B.C. the land was left vacant. There was no one to tend to the cattle and sheep and do the farming.

A vacant land produces no wealth for its master. So, the King of Assyria brought in settlers to occupy the lands left vacant by the Israelites who had been taken into captivity. Today we would call these settlers Arab-Turks (II Ki 17:6),

These "Arab-Turks" asked the king to send them someone to teach them the religion of the departed Israelites so that they would have good luck. So, the King of Assyria commanded:

"Carry thither one of the priest whom ye brought from thence ... and let him teach them the manner of the god of the land ... howbeit every nation made Gods of their own ... unto this day ... they fear not the Lord, neither do they after their statutes ... which the Lord commanded the children of ... Israel ... As did their fathers so do they unto this day. II Ki 17:24-41

In spite of being taught the religion of Abraham with its Laws, Statutes and Judgments, these strangers persisted in following the law of their ancient gods. This was the natural result:

"I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria (mix-breeds); they prophesied in Baal, ... and caused my people Israel to err." Jer 23:13

This, in spite of being taught the WORD and claiming to follow the WORD, the Samaritans followed their old ways. The question now is how does one deal with strangers who claim to worship the God of Abraham? To prevent confusion, the answer was given long ago.

Israelites Return

When Judah and Benjamin came back from Babylon captivity to reoccupy Jerusalem and rebuild the temple, they were met by these Samaritans that they had been warned about. The Scriptures say:

"Now when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that the children of the captivity builded the temple unto the Lord God of Israel; Then they came to ... the chief of the fathers, and said unto them. Let us build with you: for we seek your God, as ye do; and we do sacrifice unto him since the days of Esarhaddon king of Assur, which brought us up thither. But ... the fathers of Israel, said unto them, Ye have nothing to do with us to build a house unto our God; but we ourselves together will build unto the Lord God of Israel ..." Ezra 4:1-3

This is the reason that churches who follow the WORD do not allow children of Esau entry into Israel's houses of worship to this day:

"The stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." Num 18:7, No 1:51.

Churches who admit strangers tend also to accept the folly that these strangers bring with them. By violating the WORD in such a manner they reveal themselves to have become Baal worshipers.

Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ confirmed this in his orders to his disciples:

"These 12 Jesus sent forth, and commanded them saying, Go ye not into the way of the gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not; But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 10:5,6

The wisdom of these instructions is proved by the fact that Magabe of Zimbabwe and Mandella of S. Africa - were both trained in so-called Christian schools.

Good Samaritan

Of course, every stranger that accepts and is obedient to the Laws, Statutes and Judgments like the "Good Samaritan", will be blessed. If, however, this same "Good Samaritan" should come near the tabernacle, or marry an Israelite, or do business with them, he will pay the penalty prescribed by Law. While the "Good Samaritan" means to obey the WORD he will also tend to obey the law of his own god in whose image he was made.

We help strangers, but first we help our own:

"It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs." Matt 15:24. "Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and cast it unto the dogs." Mark 7:27

German WWI African Warfare

During WWI the British sent 50,000 troops to German East Africa in an attempt to subdue German resistance. The resistance was provided by a retired German Col. Von Lettow-Vorbeck who commanded 3,000 men. These 3,000 men had been sailors who had been the crew of a damaged and beached German cruiser. He was joined by a number of other German settler volunteers, and 10,000 blacks who served in many different capacities. The British were never successful in their effort to subdue the German-led resistance and it continued from 1914 until 1919 when the news of the Armistice at last reached the combatants.

In addition to the Germans and their black helpers, there was a large contingent of Arabs, each Arab having a boy helper. In time Lettow-Vorbeck learned that these boys provided sexual services for their masters, and ordered the boys sent home. When he did this, the entire Arab contingent deserted en masse reducing the German African army to half its former size.

These Arabs were by-and-large migrant traders who came mostly from Saudi-Arabia and North Africa and were of the usual trader/raider type. With a few exceptions they were much like the Arab/Turks found throughout the mideast, North Africa, Europe and America today. In spite of their various religious teachings, sodomy is solidly ingrained in their culture.

This story is mentioned since the media, Hollywood, banking and most corporate business is in the hands of the same descendants of Esau. They can slant news as they like and furnish funds to advance the political, economic, and social causes they choose. Recently, sodomy has been loosed in the US armed services, while mention of the WORD has been banned in court houses and schools. Esau has the power to do this. "By their acts ye shall know them."

Cloak Of Esau

Our ancestors often spoke in parables to prevent retribution from enemies who might take exception to their conversations.

One topic was the composition of rulers placed over them by their conquerors. The following is an example while they were captive in Egypt:

"(Pharaoh) placed officers over them from amongst the children of Israel, and over these officers he placed taskmasters from amongst his servants." Jasher 77:10

Using the above as a guide we may assume that today's system is the same - that the political leaders of own people have been selected by Pharaoh to do Pharaoh's will. Over these he placed taskmasters from his own servants.

Pharaoh's taskmasters might be identified as Esau's multi-billionaires who seem to appear from nowhere armed with unlimited amounts of money and the unlimited power that money bestows. Also, aiding these taskmasters is Esau's media that speaks the words of Pharaoh and directs the mind of captive Israel.

Pharaoh

Who is Pharaoh? I consider Pharaoh to be the one hidden behind the Cloak Of Esau.<sup>2</sup> Suffice it to say that in this day and age the impenetrable Cloak might be considered the

"Corporation". While most Corporations have stock, most stock is managed through bank trust departments and bank trust departments are often managed by other bank trust departments who may well be managed by an off-shore bank trust department.

In other words, no one knows who really owns and directs the activities of most Corporations. The ownership might be compared to the invisible Cloak of Esau spoken of in ancient days that rules the minds of men.

The best known Corporation in the West has been the king. Most kings have been put on their thrones by merchants who furnished money to hire powerful armies. With the power of the army behind him the king claims the land and levies tribute. Since kings are forbidden by God, we may expect kings to enforce the law of those who put them on their throne. Following is an example:

Frauds

History teaches us about frauds. When the Spanish re-conquered Spain they took prisoner many Muslims and Jews who had lived there almost half a millinium. Like Hyacanas before them, the Spaniards made the Jews and Muslims accept the Christian religion at which time they were then accepted as Christian Spaniards.

However, the Law says "All people will walk every one in the name of his god." Micah 4:5

In time the Spanish conquerors discovered that both the Jews and Muslims who had confessed Christ as agreed upon, still walked in the name of their true gods and practiced their own religion in private meetings. The Spanish called the Jews "Maranos" and the Muslims "Morescoes".

The Jews were expelled. Most went to Holland and Brazil and a bloody war waged against the Morescoes caused many to leave Spain for North Africa where they still worship their real god. All people will walk everyone in the name of his god."

The Media

America's media usually portrays judges, police chiefs, army officers and powerful politicians in their productions as black. This is unusual since the owners of Hollywood and the Media identify themselves as Jewish.

However, only the ignorant take this claim seriously since Jewish historians have written countless books stating that the people calling themselves Jews in reality are Khazar-Turks who converted to Judaism in the 7th century.

One way to understand the constant use of blacks as powerful figures in Jewish movie and TV productions is by using the Law:

"By their acts ye shall know them." Matt 7:16

We know that Hindu merchants are active in most countries of the world while pretending to worship the gods of those lands, or by acting as if they are atheists, Jewish, Christian, or something else. The pretense will not stop them from walking in the name of their true god.

A basic Hindu belief is that this is the age of Kaliyuga - the age of destruction and death. The god of the age is the powerful black god Siva who is also god of sex and death. The evil devil with which Siva contends is white. Things fall into place when one realizes that most media productions use blacks and women since most Hindu gods are black women and the theme of their productions is almost always a combination of sex and death. Also, most Hindus find no fault in sodomy and integration.

"All people will walk every one in the name of his god." Micah 4:5

God's Representative by TKC

The following comes from "TKC", Vol 13, No 3, POB 1478, Ferndale, WA 98248

"The current movement in Britain to re-write the Coronation Ceremony for Prince Charles could perpetrate a crisis of epic proportion.

"The former Bishop of Durham, Right Rev. David Jenkins, has been spearheading such a move for about three years. Dr. David Hope, Archbishop of York, number two in the Church of England hierarchy, has thrown his support towards changes that will result in a secular multifaith 'installation ceremony'

"The group of reformers wants a role for the Roman Catholic and Methodist Churches, the Chief Rabbi and a representative of Islam instead of the exclusive leadership of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

"It is proposed that the eucharist be removed from the ceremony.

"Such reforms would throw into question the establishment of the Church of England and the monarch's role as Defender of the Faith and Supreme Governor of the Church of England. The monarch is Supreme Governor by virtue of being sovereign. ...

"With a population of 60 million, only 1.4 million are members of the Church of England with 1.1 million attending church regularly (2 million at Christmas and Easter). The Roman Catholic Church has around 5.6 million members. Methodists 1/2 million. In addition there are 1.5 million Muslims, 400,000 Sikhs, 350,000 Hindus and 300,000 Jews. The Anglican Church Worldwide has 70 million members ..."

The supporters of the "Defender Of The Faith" have by such announcements shown their allegiance to other faiths and their laws.

Many have been amazed by the "Crown's" worldwide ownership of businesses and corporations. They are also amazed that they find no problem working with leaders of some of the world's great corporations whose leaders are sons' of Esau.

The sons of Jacob who desert the teachings of the WORD to follow the religious beliefs of Esau's universal Hindu religion are proof that Brahman Dharmamatras have been more successful in their missionary work than previously realized.

What is also obvious is that aliens have the law of their own god in their hearts and in time will ignore their superficial respect for the WORD and force their law on the sons of Jacob.

But, before that day comes, the WORD has told us that Jacob will raise the banner of rebellion and return their lands and their peoples to the God who made them in the beginning and whose children they are. The time is near when we shall see:

*"Behold a white horse; and he that sat upon him ...
His name is called The WORD Of God." Rev 19:11,13*

SHARPEVILLE MASSACRE: Old timers remember reading about the South African "Sharpeville Massacre". Shortly before Sharpeville, nine young policemen on regular patrol searching for illegal liquor breweries were ambushed and murdered. ITALY was invaded 64 years ago and is still occupied by the Americans. There are 113 American military bases in Italy. More than half a century after the close of the Korean war, US troops continue to occupy Korea, as they do Germany more than six decades after the end of WWII. IMPACT

RKH: When the American Empire annexes a state - they never leave. The American South was invaded, conquered, and occupied in 1865. Banks and newspapers were established, the country was looted and to prevent revolt bases were built for the occupation armies. These bases are still here along with many more built since. America is the iron fist of the International Trade Cartel. Once Saxon-Israel obeys the WORD and banishes usury - the evil tower will collapse from its own weight.

ZIMBABWE: Mugabe's principal backer is "British" Nicholas van Hoogstrten, the largest foreign landowner in Zimbabwe, whose properties were never seized by Mugabe. He was the strongest supporter of Mugabe and expressed contempt for the "white Rhodesian farmers". He made regular large donations to Mugabe's Zanu-PF.

In July 2005, he became the majority shareholder in Zimbabwe's leading coal producing company, Wankie Colliery, and has a controlling stake in the National Merchant Bank.

Another white businessman whose properties were spared during the land-grab is Charles Davy, whose HHK Safaris has cornered the big-game hunting market there with 15 camps spread over 4 million acres. According to conservationists, between 10,000 and 25,000 animals are killed annually on Davy's property.

It was global plutocracy that brought white rule to an end in Rhodesia originally. "Tiny" Roland of the Lonhro Corporation was up to his neck in subverting white rule in S. Africa including Mozambique. A revealing 1989 obituary shows what lay behind the de-colonization of Sub-Saharan Africa concealed behind the facade of "majority rule". After he was elected, Mandella awarded Rowland the country's highest honour.

Rowland was one of the first businessmen to befriend the emerging black nationalist movement in Africa and disparage white rule. It was widely assumed that he owed his success to this willingness to bribe the newly elected post-colonial governments. He played a key role in brokering the Lancaster House talks of 1979, which settled the political future of Rhodesia. Leading New Zealand anti-apartheid activist John Minto lamented that with the demolition of apartheid South African's economy had been opened up to privatization and globalisation.

Other plutocrats who pursued de-colonization, so as to impose their own neo-colonialism, were the Oppenheimers. The 1979 Lancaster House negotiations for ending white rule in Rhodesia were conducted by British Foreign Minister Lord Carrington, as chief British negotiator. It made it plain that the British government did not accept the "kith and kin" outlook of white Rhodesians. (Excerpts from supplement to Restoration, New Zealand)

Henry Kissinger played a pivotal role in getting an unprincipled South African governing elite to turn its back on white Rhodesia. (Impact)

NOTE: Looking over HR, Unfiltered News, Feb 1988, I ran across the following:

US DEMANDS: "‘No form of reform in South Africa would be acceptable to the United States, short of handing over to a Black government, the leader of the Opposition,’ (said Dr. Andries Treurnicht’ on Sept 15, 1987.) ... ‘The Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs, Dr. Chester Crocker, had already stated that he was in favor of Black majority rule in South Africa.’" SA Observer, PO Box 2401, Pretoria, South Africa

It would be interesting to find out if Chester Crocker, in addition to betraying The WORD, profited monetarily from betraying our Saxon nation in South Africa.

THE NEWS

There are no newspapers in Virginia printed by the same original interests. The oldest date is from the 1865 military occupation of Virginia when under martial law the old papers were closed, then reopened with new owners who appointed local people to act as editors and reporters.<sup>3</sup>

The new newspaper owners got financing when no one else in Virginia could and they used their newspapers to inform voters of the sterling qualities of the federal government and of certain people running for public office - often themselves. Not knowing most candidates running for office, voters tended to cast their vote for those persons advertised by the newspapers.

Letters To The Editor

Watching Lynchburg's newspapers control Lynchburg through its city council was a learning experience. The key is "name identification". As stated before, people tend to vote for those whose names they recognize.

For years the Lynchburg papers carried my letters to the editor. Then, after the national media attacked my book on "usury", my "letters to the editor" went into the trash. Since 1991, the name "Richard Kelly Hoskins" vanished. as if he had never existed.

Another Example

One election impressed me particularly. A city council election was eminent and there were two vacancies and a half-dozen candidates. About 6 months before the election letters from a certain liberal doctor began appearing in the newspaper almost every week. The letters were prominently placed so that anyone looking at the editorial page would immediately see them. The editor would comment on their "wisdom". This doctor was not known for writing letters to the newspaper or having the newspaper seek his opinion. There was also a liberal retiree from B&W who also started writing letters about this time. These two were given prominent coverage.

The election was held and these two were elected. Conservative Lynchburg had a 100% liberal city council. Lynchburg newspapers ruled Lynchburg..

Politicians & Their Papers

Some Virginians had their own newspapers. Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia's Byrd machine fame had his Winchester newspaper, and Senator Carter Glass of Lynchburg had both the morning News and the afternoon Advance.

I grew up under Glass's News & Advance newspaper regime. Locals considered the Glass newspapers "left leaning" - but they were "even handed" about most things.

I carried newspapers from the time I was nine until I was 16. When I was 17, I would go down to the newspaper and argue with Philip Scruggs the editor. He enjoyed matching wits with a youngster still wet behind the ears. He was smart and tied my arguments in knots. I would go home and think about what he said, and realize that it was just some more liberal gibberish that I hadn't heard before that said the same thing "in other words". I would then collect my arguments and go back to say what I wished I had said the first time - if I had been smart enough - and he did it to me again.

Reporters

As mentioned before, as a teen-ager I talked many times with Philip Scruggs, Editor of the Lynchburg News and when he retired, with his replacement, Jim Murdock. While in Richmond I talked many times with Jack Kilpatrick of the Richmond Times Dispatch. Back then you could do that.

However, my real experience with the news cartel and its reporters seemed to come all at once. A fellow from Tennessee named Delmar Dennis wrote an anti-South book and told the Southern newspapers that an organization called the Phineas Priesthood was after him because of his anti-Christian writings and that someone named Richard Kelly Hoskins living in Lynchburg, Virginia had written a book about the Phineas Priesthood that was threatening him.

A week later this same Dennis person denied that anyone was after him and said he told that story just to stimulate the interest of potential buyers in his new book.

In spite of his denial, Southern cartel newspapers went after a non-existent Phineas Priesthood. They kept up the witchhunt for weeks after Dennis denied the truthfulness of his report. During the entire time not a single newspaper reporter contacted me questioning the truthfulness of the story, not a single newspaper bought one of my books to verify the truth of the article, although I wrote countless letters to the offending newspapers attempting to correct their story, all to no avail.

Christian Identity

I became a Christian in 1965. Since I was a stockbroker and portfolio manager, Christian groups often invited me to speak on the subject of Christian economics.

At the time I was going to Jerry Falwell's Thomas Road Baptist Church. They taught that the LAW was done away. When one wanted to learn right from wrong he had to ask a preacher. When I argued with the preacher and quoted the Bible as my authority I was told to go and talk to a local Jewish rabbi, that Jews went by the Law and used the same Old Testament that was in my Bible. Remember, these preachers had spent years studying Scripture while I was new at the business. I believed them.

I accepted this solution to my theological questions until I ran across other Biblical writings;

"Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: (but) he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also." 1 Jo 2:23; "Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son." 1 Jo 2:22

Jews deny Christ which makes them "antichrist". The question then was how can a person be a Christian and an "antichrist" at the same time? Thomas Road had sent me to an antichrist to teach me the Christian WORD.

Then, I ran into still more:

"If those ordinances depart from before me, saith the LORD, then the seed of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before me for ever." Jer 31:36

I was a Gideon and visited most of the churches in Lynchburg and many in other parts of Virginia soliciting money to buy Bibles. The churches I visited all taught Biblical stories, practiced Christian rituals, and told everyone how to be nice, but very very few taught the Biblical Laws, Statutes and Judgments. Neither did the newspapers use them in their arguments, and neither did the politicians.

But the WORD was emphatic;

"And he shall reign over the House of Jacob forever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end." Luke 1:33<sup>4</sup>

Old timers told me that that is why we were called "Sons-of-Isaac", "Isaac-sons" - Saxons. Just as God promised, we are still here. There are tens of thousands of us who believe the Laws, Statutes and Judgments of the WORD. Those who practice Christianity without God's Law are practicing an alien religion that is completely acceptable to the international merchant's religion called Christian-Hinduism. Hinduism has no law but that of the king and the Hindu religion accepts all religions as a part of Hinduism.

It was then I understood why the cartel media ignored the Law of the WORD and viciously attacked anyone who did quote the WORD. Obedience to one is disobedience to the other. Hindus and their converts going under other names served a different master who had different Laws.

The San Antonio Incident

I was a lifeguard at Virginia Beach when North Korea invaded South Korea. I quit my job at the beach and left for home right away. First thing Monday morning I stood in a line of Virginia boys volunteering into the service. I wanted to fly. So did a lot of others. Flying training facilities were packed and there was a long waiting list. To hold a place on the waiting list one had to enlist and go through basic training at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio while waiting.

After basic training there were still no openings in the flying schools so we were assigned maintenance jobs around the base to keep us busy. One day I was sweeping floors at the base newspaper when I overheard some of the writers discussing a VIP the politicians were sending to work at the paper so that he wouldn't have to go into the army. They said it was someone from Lynchburg, Virginia. My ears perked up and I asked who it was. They said it was someone named "Tommy" Glass.

"Tommy Glass"? He was no VIP! We had gone to Robert E. Lee Junior High together and were boyhood friends. I knew his family. He was just another "Glass" and Lynchburg had lots of them. Of course, once you thought about it, he was a grandson of Senator Carter Glass, co-author of the Federal Reserve Act.

Time Marches On

After the Korean War, the morning News informed Lynchburgers that Thomas Glass was the ideal candidate for Virginia's House Of Delegates. The afternoon Advance agreed. Tommy was elected hands-down. Both papers were owned by his family.

Later, when I was lobbying for the Defenders<sup>5</sup> I frequently met Tommy at the state capitol. He had changed. We used to be able to talk. No more. I never could pin the new "Tommy" down on matters critical to Virginia. He would vote pro-Virginia one time and as often vote the opposite way. He wasn't listening to Virginia - he was listening to another voice.

The world that I thought existed really didn't. I had believed that while Virginians might have differences we were all basically one big family and could almost always talk things through. Reality descended like an anvil. I learned that in spite of appearances some were rulers and others were ruled. Later on I learned something else - those I thought were rulers were actually ruled in turn by those above them. It took longer to learn this.

The Corporation

A few months ago HR #431 carried the story of how the Israelites in Egypt were ruled. The story was taken from Scripture that was written to teach us things we need to know to survive. Since that time I have spoken to readers who appear not to have learned the story. Let's go over it again.

"(Pharaoh) placed officers over them (captive Israel) from amongst the children of Israel (collaborators), and over these officers he placed taskmasters from amongst his servants." Jasher 77:10

Again: Pharaoh placed officers over captive Israel selected from Israelite people. Riding herd over these officers Pharaoh placed taskmasters appointed from his own people (children of Esau). Pharaoh ruled them all from the shadows.

Today, it appears that people have forgotten their history. It is all hidden by what used to be called the "Cloak of Esau".

The thing that can conceal Esau and his operations from eyes of Isaac as if they were hidden behind an invisible cloak is the corporation!

There are only a few who know what goes on behind the cloak of a corporation. The common stock of more than 50% of most large corporations is held in trust by banks. Banks vote this stock. Who owns the large banks? Other banks! Who owns the other banks? Still other banks!! The trail becomes confusing and is lost as it bounces from one corporation to another - all hidden by the "Cloak of Esau".

Once again: Pharaoh has placed officers over captive Israel selected from their own people. Riding herd over these are officers placed as taskmasters who were selected from Pharaoh's own people. Pharaoh rules everyone from the shadows. Yesterday's Cloak of Esau is today's "corporation".

Corporation Newspapers

The Cartel has been buying up independent newspapers and adding them to their newspaper corporations. The result is that there were 3400 independent newspapers in 1950 and 300 in 2010, and most of the papers print the same carefully censored information gotten from the same sources because there is no other readily available source. In other words, news is censored before the public can read it.

The upside is that people have grown suspicious of newspaper news and are seeking other sources.

The Internet News

To compensate for the lack of truth in newspaper news, people have turned to newsletters and the internet. In the last several years, the internet has taken on a life of its own. People seek out those with kindred views - even those who live in other lands - and pass on news events in their lands to kinsmen in other lands.

A prime example is the shooting that took place in Arizona that killed five and wounded six. The media have blamed it on "anti-semitism" "right-wing rebellion", and the lack of "anti-gun laws".

None of this makes any sense when we learn from a recent story in the WEEK that Congresswoman Gifford is a Jewess. Then the Texe Marris newsletter reported that not only is Congresswoman Gifford a Jewess, but Jared Lee Loughner, the shooter, is also a Jew. Not only that, but Marris reports that both belong to the same Synagogue. People are incensed that these tidbits have received no mention in the mainstream news.

Questions are beginning to spring up. Why has the Cartel media censored this information? What else are they keeping secret. This Jew vs Jew affair not only trashes the "rebellion" story, the "gun-control" story, and destroys media credibility, but gives rise to talk of Jews assassinating Jews - an interesting concept that leads to speculation of a possible implosion of Jewish political power - not an unreasonable assumption considering that Jews seldom get along with each other for any length of time.

Today's News & Advance

As mentioned before, Lynchburg's Glass family owned the paper (Carter Glass of Federal Reserve fame). When one of them - a holder of the controlling newspaper stock - died without enough money to pay inheritance taxes, the paper went on the block. The purchaser was a newspaper chain based in Richmond.

They took over and within days fired the old editorial writers and installed their young Janissaries.<sup>6</sup> Since then Lynchburg has lived under its whip. You do what is PC or "the paper will get you"! I can vouch for the truth of that statement. The Newspaper got me fired from my job because I wrote a book on the evils of "usury".<sup>7</sup>

As one would expect from one of Esau's publications, its feature stories carry more pictures and more copy dealing with Lynchburg's 25% minorities than with its white population. Whenever the opportunity presents, it carries articles denigrating whites. It endlessly gloats over anything that

Comprised Turkish civil service and private army of Turkish rulers. Called Janissary. Considered "traitor" and "renegade" by their Western kinsmen. Today, many regard the public school as a system to re-train Saxons into Hindu-Janissaries. Any anti-white turncoat can be referred to as a Janissary smacks of a Saxon downfall, retreat, or defeat; its hero is "Martin Luther King".

Martin Luther King

The paper is currently running a series of articles looking back on the Civil Rights era and glorifying those who waged war against the separation of races. Almost every day or two a front page "how we got whitey" article is published.

Martin Luther King has been made into one of Esau's heroes. If the stories about this person are true, he was a plagiarist and adulterer who traveled from city to city inciting blacks to riot - riots costing millions that left cities in smoking ruins.

Lynchburg's newspaper-elected city council has named one of its main streets after this son of Esau. It has named a reading room in the local library after him, and the newspaper sings his praises almost every day as it has for years.

White Bashing

The WORD forbids strangers from living in our midst, lest we learn their ways.<sup>8</sup> In obedience to the WORD the "African Colonization Movement" was started by Christians to rid the land of black slaves brought here by England's slave monopoly. Thomas Jefferson was one of its main supporters. The idea was to buy the slaves, train them, supply them with necessary tools and equipment, and resettle them on their own farms in Africa.

Tens of thousands were sent back in this manner. This, however, threatened to deplete the American surplus labor pool putting upward pressure on white workers' wages. Wages are the most expensive part of manufacturing.

Cartel corporations used their newspapers to demonize the South which held a large pool of black labor. They paid a John Brown to commit atrocities against slave holders in Kansas to incite sectional feelings, and they chose and elected a Bolshevik corporation lawyer to be president of the United States who waged a merciless war against the South. The result was that the black labor pool was dissolved. Freeing slaves to work in the American labor pool put a damper on white workers' wages for many years.

The looting and tax sale land-grabs were the gravy motivating those who helped the process. The establishment policy - understood by everyone - was that black workers were not to be allowed to return to their homes in Africa.

In the 1920s, Marcus Garvey was the black president of the back-to-Africa African Colonization Movement which had over 2,000,000 dues paying black members in South, Central, and North America. They bought surplus Liberty ships and 50,000 blacks went to live in tents at Newports News waiting for one of these ships to take them home to Africa. When one of their ships arrived, they tried to board it. US authorities arrested Garvey and threw him in jail. The establishment will not tolerate cheap labor leaving the country. Note the 20,000,000 debt-free illegals in our midst today. Note also that no effort is being made by the corporate political puppets to repatriate them to give jobs to unemployed Saxons. Then, too, twenty million debt-free illegals can also borrow trillions of dollars into existence.

Newspapers were established in the South after the War as the carrot and stick to control the minds of the conquered. The Self- Sufficient Farm System gave way to the empire-city. Free men became wage-slaves. Reintroduced "feudalism" was called "free-enterprise".

Reintroduction Of The Balak Plan

The establishment policy of disenfranchising whites and placing them under the rule of blacks was enforced by Federal bayonets.

The next best thing to honor God's Law against having strangers in one's midst so that their ways would not be learned is to separate the races as best as can be done under the circumstances. Unknown to those putting the "separation policy" into effect was the unstated establishment policy to destroy the white race by amalgamation with strangers. Thus, the "separate but equal" policy of separation that had been agreed upon by the conquerors and the conquered was no sooner in place than the conquerors immediately went to work again to integrate the races.

One by one the separation acts fell before rulings made by judges appointed by a President chosen for election by the cartel media. The one-voice media monopoly acclimated the affected populations by trumpeting anti-Christ slogans and propaganda such as this front page headline:

"Walter Johnson Fought Jim Crow With Tennis"

The N&A tells the story of Walter Johnson, a black MD, who trained both Arthur Ashe and Althea Gibson here in Lynchburg. Lynchburg's white liberals encouraged these blacks to play with white children as became "good sportsmen". After all, tennis is just a game!

These two beat them all and later went on to win at Wimbledon. Arthur Ashe now has a statue on Monument Avenue in Richmond along with Lee, Jackson, Stuart, and

Davis. The newspaper chortled over how Johnson pulled the wool over whitey's eyes. "Ashe and Althea Gibson beat ALL the whites!" Incidentally, Ashe later died of AIDS.<sup>9</sup>

The WORD requires:

"Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother."
Deut 17:15

Because of God's LAW Christians do not participate in sports with strangers lest the stranger should prevail causing the Saxon-Christian to violate God's LAW by allowing a stranger to rule over them. This is the reason for the traditional "no integration in sports". In Lawful nations, teams of different races do not play together. Mixed-race teams do not play with Saxons. It was a simple rule understood by all - North and South.

If strangers had not been allowed in the land, or, once here if they had been allowed to peacefully depart, the problem would not have arisen. But, the fact is that strangers were initially forced into the land by royal decree and are today kept here by bayonets. This is the situation that must be dealt with. "Racial Separation" is the attempt to deal with "what is". The attempt must still be made to prevent the amalgamation of the holy seed, "When they heard the Law, they excluded from Israel all who were of foreign descent." Neh: 13:3, which brings God's destruction. God said that he would destroy the nation who disobeyed his Commandments (willingly or unwillingly), and there still remain many who believe God rather than man.

<sup>9</sup> "Their corruption is in them, and blemishes be in them: they shall not be accepted for you." Lev 22:25

"When (Israel) departed from the way which God appointed them, they were destroyed." Judith 5:18

Results Of Separation Policy

There were two societies in Virginia, one black and one white. As a result, black-owned 5th Street business grew in Lynchburg. Blacks owned clothing stores and department stores. There were black dentists and doctors. The black schools had black teachers and black principals. There was NO disobedience and disorder in the black taught classrooms. There were black owned barbershops, feed and hardware stores. There were black owned motels, hotels, and magazines. There was a black society, a yearly black debutante dance, black newspapers. Whites asking for food service at black restaurants could only get orders "to go". They could not "sit and socialize".

Some businesses were black "monopolies". Trash collecting in Lynchburg was reserved for blacks and was paid "by the job", not the hour. It was a plum. There was a line waiting for someone to retire or die. You have never seen blacks work so fast. I was told that Lynchburg's garbage was collected in a quarter the time of any other city of comparable size. After the job was done the blacks could go home. This gave them time to take other jobs or go fishing. Whites were never given anything like that.

Certain white merchants despised this setup which deprived them of black customers. They were among the first to try to shut it down and close black 5th Street. They succeeded at last, and 5th Street is now almost completely vacant and full of empty stores. Black trade now goes to white-owned stores. Black businesses in this once flourishing black business district succumbed to competition from white merchants. This is how it was done.

Patterson's Drug Store

The LAW is:

"Thou shall no stranger eat of the holy thing."

Lev 22:10

Blessed food is holy.<sup>10</sup> Lynchburg's News & Advance ran a front-page story gloating over the fall of the city's separate eating facilities and how it occurred. Their version of the story isn't how I remember it. I know something about this. I used to work the cash register at Patterson's Drug Store on Main Street when I was a youngster. Patterson's was the usual sort of drug store that along with filling prescriptions also sold tobacco and candy and had a lunch counter where businessmen and shoppers met for lunch. The blacks had the same sort of drugstore on 5th Street.

Liberal professors at Lynchburg's local colleges put some of their students up to protesting downtown Lynchburg's separate eating facilities. They got a few ignorant out-of-staters to come down with signs and picket.

Local people were incensed and when passing through the picket line would quote Bible Scripture regarding eating with strangers. The pickets got red in the face and could say nothing because when they opened their mouth they ended up arguing with God's LAW which is clear on the subject.

<sup>10</sup> "They shall not profane the holy things of the children of Israel, which they offer unto the Lord. Le 22:15. Or, suffer them to bear the iniquity of the trespass, when they eat their holy things: for I the Lord do sanctify them." Le 22:16; "Withdraw from among the Gentiles and do not eat with them, and do not according to their actions, and be not their companion, for their actions are unclean and all their ways are defiled." Jubilees 22:17

They were Satan's helpers fighting God. They knew it. The establishment also knew it and rejoiced. God's LAW regarding eating with strangers was one more LAW that was being replaced by the merchant's integration law.<sup>11</sup>

Conclusion

Once upon a time outside of America's metropolises there were independent newspapers staffed by local people which were part of the local communities. Then came Esau's corporations and gobbled them up.

A new era arrived. The newspapers censored the news of Jacob and his God and replaced it with the news of Esau and his gods.

In the early days when I wrote my books, I accepted interviews by nice, friendly reporters representing Esau's news corporations. Many of these reporters sat in my living-room, admired the pictures of my wife and children, and asked me questions about my childhood, family, school, and writings. They then said their farewells. After that their articles would appear in newspapers that did not contain a word of our conversations. One newspaper report was almost identical to others written earlier. What happened to the voluminous notes they took, the pictures they took, and the information I gave them?

I now have an idea.

A number of years ago I attended a farm rally in the midwest. My talk was about "scrip" and how doing away with <sup>11</sup> Hundreds of eating establishments closed in Virginia as a result of court cases. I remember one restaurant in particular in Charlottesville that had a prime location. It did a million dollar business when a million dollars amounted to something. The owner shut it down and walked away - sacrificing a lifetime's work to be obedient to God's Commandment.

usury could help those farmers who were at that time paying the banks 15%-20% interest on their loans. The farmers were disorganized and I was disorganized and so nothing was done other having our pictures taken and being lambasted by the local news and an organization called Bnai-Brith. In those the days, the newspapers called American farmers "terrorists".

Years later the subject of "scrip" came up again and overnight a picture of me at that farm meeting and a brief of my talk appeared in print. It was on file.

Then I knew. Today's news media is Esau's intelligence gatherer.

I have little doubt that there are volumes and volumes of information resting either in local newspaper files or in central corporate newspaper files in another town or city on virtually every organization and individual whom Esau considers a potential enemy. Today's corporate news media gives every indication of being Esau's intelligence gathering network.

In contrast, there are numerous books, newsletters, and E-mail sites presenting our side of events who are now reaching tens of thousands of our people for the first time, news that does not condone abortion, taxation, miscegenation and sodomy.

"The kingdom of heaven is like a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind (#1085 genos, from #1096 "kin", "posterity", offspring): Which, when it was full they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away. So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels (messengers) shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just." Matt 13:47-49

In a few Veraniging schools the teachers did not strike. About a hundred young black savages stormed these schools where tests were written and did a lot of damage plus they threatened to burn them down. Parents had to rush to the schools to get their children to safety. In old Jan Smuts day he would have called in the army and in any way necessary restored law and order, even if he needed to shoot the little savages. They want only a fake certificate, not going going to school to learn something, and in classes they seldom pay attention but constantly interrupt the teacher.

Our biggest problem stems from the Jewish Gold Mine Lords who left unprofitable mine sections without sealing them. Water got in and the horrible mixture of cyanide and water rose to the top, polluting streams, rivers, and dams. It has a reddish colour. Huge buildings in Johannesburg will collapse in time. Pollution is everywhere where a mine has spoiled the country.

In 1980, we met a sheep farmer and his wife. They urged us to come and live in the countryside. Many young people did, but things had not completely gone bad here. Trains still worked, roads had tarred surfaces and not repaired with a bucket of sand. Hospitals were "state of the art" - neat and well run - most of our doctors were well trained. Today, I am sorry we did not go, but it is too late.

Today, businesses want young well-trained whites. Even Maria is too old although she has several degrees. She is on leave sick. The woman Indian auditor makes her work on two departments till 2 in the morning. K. J.

Chapter 438

THE COMING WAR

Roman Conquest

Rome was a city of gods. Each time Rome conquered a new land they captured the god of that land, put it on a float with many wheels and pulled it through the streets of Rome.

Rome then built a temple for this newly-captured god and added it to Rome's galaxy of gods to show the world that Rome was a united empire of nations and gods. To keep order among the gods, the Emperor of Rome was himself made a god. He refereed the occasional spats between the gods.

Conquest of Jerusalem

Rome's conquest of Jerusalem was especially interesting. When the Roman armies surrounded Jerusalem, the city contained three separate groups of peoples. First there were the native born. Next were the converted sons of Esau, and last were those who had made pilgrimages to the holy city from near and far and who were now trapped in the city surrounded by the Roman army.

Provisions were in short supply. The three groups spent more time fighting each other for food than fighting the Romans, and in the process, killed more of themselves than did the Roman soldiers.

When Jerusalem was finally conquered, certain of the nobles of Jerusalem were taken as prizes and shown in the Roman victory parade.

The lack of a likeness of the Judean god presented a problem. After much discussion, it was decided to take the holy books found in the temple, put them on a dais, and use them as a substitute for the usual statue of the conquered god. After the parade, a temple was built for these books and priests were installed to care for them. The noble prisoners became slaves and put to work elsewhere.

Man

The holy writings of the Judeans were ancient. It is said that they went back almost to the beginning of the world. They had been given by their God to his people to whom it was said "His name is called the WORD of God." Rev 19:13. Or, to be more exact; "In the beginning was the WORD, and the WORD was with God and the WORD was God." John 1:1.

This is why there was no likeness of Man's God, and is also the reason that "Man" spent much of his time studying and memorizing the ancient writings. Their God was the WORD.

The WORD called the people he had made - "Adam-man"; the definition of which is the ability to blush red<sup>12</sup>

The holy writings said that the writings were Man's history book. "This is the book of the generations of Adam." Gen 5:1

These writings said that "God created (Adam) man in his own image." Gen 1:27 This being so, a man's body is not his own; "Before I formed you in the womb, I knew you; and before you came forth from the womb, I sanctified you, and I ordained you." Jer. 1:5. A Man's spirit is in existence before he is born, and his body is on loan from his creator for a short number of years. Then, his spirit returns to God and the body returns to the earth from which it is made.

It is because man is made in God's image that the Scriptures say, "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; Rev 1:5,6

Adam-man was created for a special purpose; "God said, Let us make man in our image ... and let them have dominion over ... all the earth." Gen 1:26;

Adam-man's job is to rule the earth - justly.

"There are many nations ... all are his, and over all has he appointed spirits (gods) to rule ... but over Israel ... he alone is their ruler." Jubilees 15:23;

God the WORD gave Saxon-man one special commandment;

"Ye shall not go after other gods, of the gods of the people which are round you: lest the anger of the Lord thy God be kindled against thee, and destroy thee from off the face of the earth." Deut 6:14-15

<sup>12</sup> MAN: Heb: Adam 119,120 - "to show blood(in the face), ie: to flush or turn rosy: - be (dyed, made) red (ruddy). NEW Strong's Concordance

Many times God has destroyed Adam-man when he defiled himself by following the ways of the children of Esau.

This is why God forbids strangers from entering the congregation of Israel.

"A bastard (Heb: mamzêr - mixed breed, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord (Israel)." Deut 23:2; "The stranger (Heb: 2111 zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." No 1:51; No 3:10; 16:40

Mixing Man with non-man produces chaos. When Jacob is obedient to his God his lands are peaceful and productive. The lands that Esau rules are full of the worship of sex and murder. If the two mix, without exception, God destroys Adam-man and waits until another group of his people prove themselves obedient. He has not forgotten his promise:

"The LORD thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto Himself, above all the people that are upon the face of the earth." Deut 7:6

Jesus Christ said, "I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Matt 15:24

God the WORD is a racist and Adam-man is made in His image.

Racist

The children of Esau and their followers call the children of Jacob "racist" because their God the WORD is racist. If an Adam-man is not racist, he worships Esau's gods, or, is either knowingly or unknowingly an agent of Esau - a renegade - one who will certainly bring destruction on his nation.

"If you walk in my statutes, and keep my commandments, and do them... I will give you peace..." Lev 26:3-9... "But if ye will not... do all these commandments... I will... bring the land into desolation..." Lev 26:14-35.

No Other Gods

We have heard that in foreign missions Christianity doesn't outlive the missionary. When the missionary leaves, the aliens return to the ways of their gods.

The reason this is so is that God the WORD made all the races in the world in the image of their gods.

"For all people will walk everyone in the name of his god, and we will walk in the name of our God forever." Micah 4:5

Most all religions teach "Kindness", "compassion", "wisdom", "education", "peace" and "meditation". These are basic teachings needed to avoid chaos, and are the centerpiece of the Buddhist Hindu merchant. Attach a name to these teachings such as "Buddhist", "Muslim", "Christian" or what have you and the Hindu can pretend to be anything he wishes to be for the moment. Most listeners will take him at his word. It makes no difference what name a Buddhist chooses to call himself and his gods, all nations will conform to the law of their god.

Its natural when racial aliens come to Saxon lands they give lip service to the laws of the land - but almost immediately set up their own governments.

Who has not heard of the "Russian Mafia", the "Sicilian Mafia", "Islamic sharia" law, "Chinese Tongs", "Black Gangs", "Mexican Liberation Movements", the laws of "American Indians", as well as the laws of "Khazar Jews".

These various groups give lip service to The WORD but obey the ancient laws of their own gods and are almost as antagonistic toward each other as they are to the Saxon Nation on whom they look as a common enemy.

Merchants

The sons of Esau are the world's international merchants. They are mostly mixed breeds worshipping the "God Of This World" while calling themselves by the name of the god of the nation with whom they are doing business. In the West they often call themselves Christians, or something else relatively inoffensive, but that doesn't change for an instant who they are and the god in whose image they are made. The high crime rate and the racial composition of American prisons reveal the lawless ones.

God Of This World

"The God of This World" is a combination of all Gods - a Unitarian god. In India he is manifested as Brahma but is also manifested as other gods such as Siva - the god of "sex-integration-brotherhood and death". In countries in which he does business, he entertains his customers as inoffensive comedians and actors. They entertain on a ready stage of TVs and movies in which his actors are bleached, painted, given surgical implants to make them look like the people of the land but whose actions conform to the laws of the "God of This World" which as stated before are primarily "sex, integration, and death." With this in mind, note the plot of the next TV detective, cowboy, mystery thriller or comedy show you watch.

Kings

God forbids kings. A king can do anything he wants, and his army can make his subjects do the same. Scriptures tells us the following story:

"The elders of Israel ... came to Samuel ... and said ... Give us a king to judge us ... And the Lord said ... they have rejected me, that I should not reign over them. ... show them the manner of the king that shall reign over them. ... He will take your sons (for his army). And he will take your daughters ... And he will take your fields ... and give them to his servants. He will (tax you) and ye shall be his servants. " I Sam 8:1-20

In spite of this warning, Jacob-man, like the children of Esau, chose kings to rule them and there was chaos, suffering and anguish as the kings took their sons as soldiers, daughters for their services, land for their servants, and taxes for themselves. The WORD was what the king said it was.

Scripture tells us that on occasion Jacob-Israel wrested the office of king from the infidels:

"So they joined their forces and smote sinful men ... So they recovered the Law out of the hand of the Gentiles and out of the hand of kings." I Macc 2:44,48

The WORD made Flesh

Into this chaotic world God "the WORD made flesh" came in the form of a man named Jesus. He taught the Commandments of God the WORD and taught that Adam-man was appointed to be a "king and priest" (Rev 1:5-6).

Jacob-Israel - living under many names - believed Jesus and the WORD quickly spread among the children of Jacob-Israel who had been taken into captivity and scattered over the world seven centuries before the birth of Christ.

The Merchant & His Rulers

When the merchant takes over a new market he surveys and marks its boundaries, and selects a king to rule for them from its native population. To this king they advance money so that he can hire an army to keep the "merchant's peace".

And, lastly, the merchant furnishes money to educate a local priesthood to teach Dharma; tolerance and love for all without regard to "race, creed, or national origin", and the universal Buddhist "kindness", "compassion", "wisdom", "education", "peace" and "meditation".

In Christian lands ruled by Buddhist merchants and their agents, Christian priests are allowed to teach the 1/3 of their Bible that deals with the individual while ignoring the 2/3s that deals with Christian government. This oversight allows alien merchants to enter markets formerly closed to them by the laws of God the WORD.

Lion Food

As noted before, Rome appropriated the gods of the lands they conquered and lived with them in comparative peace. This was not true with the captured God The WORD.

The children of Jacob-Israel living in the Roman Empire took the WORD seriously - starting with the first Commandment - "Thou shalt have no other gods before thee." This meant that sodomy, sexual license, usury, and land monopoly, among other things, were anathema and the punishments proscribed by the WORD were enforced where possible.

Rome could not tolerate this. If the 15 or so families that now owned most of Rome's land and trade were deprived of their monopolies - the Roman Empire as constituted would cease being an empire. Out of all of Rome's gods, the Christian God -The WORD - could not be reasoned with or made to tone down its Commandments. The Roman solution was to kill the rebellious Christians. Thousands were crucified or taken to the arena and fed to the lions.

When this failed, Rome pre-empted the Christian religion, kept its rituals, replaced its Commandments with its own basic religion, and called the new creation "Christianity". Its priests were installed and reading the WORD was forbidden. This new religious creation permitted caesars, monopolies, and usury to continue to exist. Rome operated the same as before, but now its old religion was practiced under a different name.

Peasant Revolts 1381

Reformers arose in England and told the people that the WORD forbade taxes, sodomy and immorality among the priesthood, and that the land was to be divided. John Wycliffe and his Lollard followers taught the WORD in England. For their audacity, they were hunted, harried and hanged. In Bohemia, Jan Huss did the same. He was burned. In Florence, Savonarola taught with success. He was arrested, tortured and executed.

England's king and nobility lived off the earnings of the peasants. Each year the king wanted just a bit more and his nobles wanted just a bit more. At last, the king passed another very small tax that broke the camel's back. The peasants could hardly feed their families and, under the leadership of Wat Tyler, 100,000 rose under their manorial militias and marched on London, hanging judges, lawyers, evil priests, and unjust manor owners on the way. The gates of London were thrown open for them and they were in the process of setting up a new government when Wat Tyler was assassinated and those loyal to the king went after the rebels hanging and killing hundreds and thousands.

Peasant Revolts 1524

In 1524, an evangelist named Martin Luther began teaching the WORD that he had long studied. He taught young apprentices who went into the countryside teaching the peasants that the land, which was the monopoly of nobles and the church, was to be taken and justly divided. There were to be no taxes or immoral priests.

The movement was surprisingly smooth. Many cities and manor lords joined in and much of the land in Southern and Central Germany was divided and a surprising number of nobles joined in. The great Zwingli approved. The great German nobles and the Church were quiet until they discovered that revenues were falling off. Upon this discovery, they balked and demanded their land returned. Martin Luther, who had been in favor of the land division, was on the horns of a dilemma. If he kept with the peasant revolt, the Catholic church would catch and burn him at the stake and his Lutheran Reformation would be finished. If he turned against the peasants, he would retain the protection of the nobles against the Catholic Church. He chose to stay with the nobles against the peasants. The nobles marshalled their armies and slaughtered over 100,000 of the peasants. From that time, the great nobles appointed their own bishops for the Lutheran Church and the peasant revolts died. The peasants returned to the land as serfs.

Conditions Today

With a few differences, conditions today are much the same as they have been in the past.

The International Merchant has played his ace "The love of money is the root of all evil." I Ti 6:10

He marked off boundaries of trade areas and has set up kings and nobles to rule them. He has used his kings and nobles to set up private usury banks whose rulers are hidden behind impenetrable corporate shields. He has used these banks to create trade monopolies where rulers hide their identities behind corporations.

The kings of the international trade cartel have manipulated land holdings so that they are theirs. Land that rested in hands of the same families for hundreds of years now belongs to them through usury and taxes. Great expanses lay fallow. Our men are recruits in their armies enforcing an American Empire that does not belong to America. The wealth of the corporate businesses go to corporate strangers while the businesses go to alien lands for cheap labor and increased profits. Unemployed Saxons stand waiting for the economic miracle to come again and give them jobs so they can feed their families.

Strangers walk the land and tens of millions of Esau's children wait to take the first jobs available and in due time will furnish borrowers for banks who can find no others who are debt-free.

While the WORD commands, "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deut 17:15; "Their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall precede from the midst of them." Jer 30:21, almost the entire land violates the WORD by working for corporations, not knowing that the corporations belong to Esau.

Conclusion

In 1381, a slight tax increase set off a nationwide explosion. In 1425, obedience to the WORD's command to divide the land narrowly missed succeeding.

Today Saxon-Israel land is overrun with aliens whom the priests, politicians, and corporate managers cannot see because they are paid by them. The college educators teach from Esau's book because their college endowments come from Esau's corporations and their promotions and salary increases come from obedience to Esau.

Because these people are blind to the WORD - they are seen by their fellow Saxons as being Esau's agents.

As in the past, many of our people are unemployed. They stand having nothing to do and nothing to lose. Taxes take the last bit of money and the king either works for Esau or is a son-of-Esau. His acts prove him to be anti-Saxon.

In the midst of this dry kindling floats a spark that even now is touching here and there. The spark lights a message that for thousands of years has been called The WORD. The WORD is again calling for Saxon-man to obey the Commands of their God.

Oh yes, a great day lies ahead.

HERMANN

Saxon Nation

Hermann (17 BC - AD 21) is the name of one of the greatest heroes of the Saxon Nation, but the name is seldom mentioned in lands governed by Esau. He was known as "Hermann" by Saxons and Arminius by Romans.

Esau has seen to it that a surprising number of Saxons not only don't know who Hermann is, they don't know who they are, their history, or why they are named "Saxon" or "Saxon-Israel".

We are an ancient race. In the front of our Bible is written; "This is the book of the generations of Adam." Gen 5:1.<sup>13</sup> The

<sup>13</sup> MAN: Heb: Adam 119 - "to show blood(in the face), ie: to flush or turn rosy: - be (dyed, made) red(ruddy). Strong's Concordance

Bible contains God-given Laws called The WORD, and stories and parables of how obedience to these Laws brings peace while disobedience brings punishment and misery. Adam-man was disobedient and consequently was conquered by his enemies and was taken into captivity in 721 B.C., nearly a thousand years before Jesus was born.

Quoting TKC, according to the great author Sharon Turner this is how the Saxons got their name:

"Sharon Turner, the most painstaking Saxon historian says: "The Saxons were a Scythian nation, and were called Saca, Sachi, Sach-sen. The migrating Scythians crossed the Araxes, passed out of Asia, and suddenly appeared in Europe in the sixth century B.C. ESDRAS in the Apocrypha tells us that the Ten Tribes left their exile and moved away across the Euphrates to a place called Arareth (City of Hill of Sareth) (II Esdras 13:39-45). To the north-west of the Black Sea is a river called Sareth to this day." (TKC, Mar 2003)

Another name given us is "God's people", or "Goths".

Sharon Turner further records:

"The names Saxon, Scythian and Goth are used interchangeably." History Of The Anglo Saxon, Sharon Turner, London, 1852.

As a young boy growing up on a farm in Culpeper County I was told that the reason we are called Anglo-Saxons is because of what is written in scripture; "They shall no more be remembered by their name." Hos 2:17; "The Lord God shall ... call his servants by another name." Isaiah 65:15; "In Isaac shall thy name be called." Romans 9:7, ("sons of Isaac", "Isaacsons", "Saacsons", or "Saxons").

The Bible is our history book. There are several ways one can arrive at the name "Saxon". Regardless of whether we are

Scottish, English, Irish, German, Scandinavian, S. African, Dutch or Australian we are one people belonging to one Saxon Nation. The reason many of us are called "Anglo-Saxons" is because many of our Saxon ancestors came from England.<sup>14</sup>

Rome

The Roman Empire was a gigantic trading operation. It was early taken over and governed by the Hindu merchant and his agents.

Rulers were selected for its senate and its purpose was to add neighboring lands and people to be exploited. It reduced its conquered neighbors to serfdom through taxation, and added their wealth and businesses to its own operations.

Roman Conquest

Rome maintained a highly trained professional army to police its empire whose term of enlistment was 20 years. It was the most highly trained and equipped army to be seen for centuries. It was virtually invincible. Its conquest of Greece is a typical example of how they waged war.

Roman diplomats made friends with the rulers of certain Greek city-states and became their ally against other Greek states. When their common enemy was defeated, the wealth and persons of the defeated state became the property of Rome. The defeated remnant was heavily taxed.

After the floating supply of money was transferred to Rome and the conquered lands were unable to pay the continuing heavy taxes - they were lent money at high interest by

<sup>14</sup> Best pay attention to these old explanations. Esau's media has censored everything relating to the subject. We must learn from our fathers and teach each other.

Roman bankers to pay their taxes. In time, they were unable to repay these loans and the remaining debtors were foreclosed and became slaves as had been their neighbors earlier. Many were sent to Rome.

As time went on, the rest of the formerly friendly Greek states were also reduced to slavery, and those who fought against the Roman armies were crucified and their towns and cities burned. Rome and Romans were feared by all.

In time, a few wealthy Romans had a virtual monopoly of land and trade in lands surrounding the Mediterranean Sea. The Roman citizens were given many advantages, but as time went on, many of their poorer classes were also treated roughly, which forced them to migrate to other lands. Each newly-born child was taxed, causing Roman birthrates to drop to levels not seen until recent years. The time came when female babies were often left exposed to the elements to die to avoid the Roman head tax.

By the time of Christ, the Roman population of Rome had declined to the point where there were more people having Greek names being buried in Roman graveyards than those having Roman names. Rome was well on the way to self-destruction. Half the people living in Rome were foreign slaves and the countryside was deserted.

Gaul

Just to the north of Rome was a land we call France today. This land was settled by Goths. Disagreements between Gothic tribes gave Rome the opportunity to help one side or the other. Roman strategy was the same as it had been in Greece. She made friends with one and became its ally against their common enemy.

Roman treatment of those who dared fight against them was atrocious. Confiscations and crucifixions were common. Roman administrators, merchants and landowners quickly made an appearance and the entire land became another Roman province.

Germany

After the conquest of Gaul the northern border of the Roman Empire extended to the Rhine River. The land on the other side was Germanica. It was heavily wooded and sparsely settled.

In time the Romans launched a massive invasion of this land. The result was the capture of several small tribes and the customary imposition of high taxes and rough treatment of rebels. In addition, the Romans began to uproot the old German customs, and by so doing consolidated the tribes against them. The harsh behavior of Roman tax collectors was resented. The Romans took hostages to guarantee the good behavior of those she had conquered.

One of these hostages was named Hermann, or Arminius by the Romans. He was the son of a local German ruler. He was taken to Rome. Once there, he was given the best education in the Roman manner to make him a lasting friend of Rome when he was returned home to his own people. He was also trained in the Roman army and his skill in learning Roman tactics caused him to rise rapidly in rank.

In time, he returned to Germany as a trusted advisor to the Roman administrator, Quintilius Varus. Varus' name and deeds were well known because of his ruthlessness and crucifixion of rebels. The people in his power, or likely to fall into his power, feared his arrival.

Hermann's friendship to Rome vanished when he actually saw the outrages against his people resulting from Varus' wanton cruelty to the conquered Germans. Hermann used his visits to them as Vasus' emissary to secretly unite them against Rome.

Teutoburger Forest

Because of the vast Roman military superiority, subterfuge was necessary. When Varus returned from summer military maneuvers, he was given reports by Hermann of a local rebellion. Varus believed this report since he still looked on Hermann as his loyal vassal.

Hermann then left Varus under the pretext of drumming up Germanic militias to support the Roman campaign, but instead he led the allied Germans, who must have been waiting in the vicinity, in attacks on surrounding Roman garrisons. It is said that the total number of German warriors was ten to twelve thousand.

Varus gathered his forces which included the XVII, XVIII, and IXX legions plus six cohorts of auxiliary troops and three squadrons of cavalry. They were accompanied by a large number of camp-followers. Their numbers were said to have totaled nearly thirty thousand.

The deeper Varus' army penetrated into Germany the thicker the forest and narrower the road became, causing the Romans to abandon their usual marching combat formations. Their column, interspersed with camp-followers, stretched for nine miles. A violent storm had arisen - the day was dark and dreary and the road was narrow and muddy - which thousands of feet churned into a quagmire.

Suddenly, the Roman column was attacked along its entire length by German warriors using swords and javelins. The rain had soaked the Roman bow strings making them slack when wet, and there was no room to set up and use their heavy catapults. The heavy Roman squares considered invulnerable in open country, were virtually useless on the narrow muddy road and thick underbrush.

Hermann understood Roman tactics well and massed his men first against one weak place and then another. The Romans struggled on until nightfall when they then stopped, and as was their custom, threw up fortifications for the the night.

The next morning the Romans found themselves surrounded by their German opponents. Lack of food prevented them from staying where they were. They burned their wagon trains to lighten the column, and then attempted to break through the surrounding besiegers, which cost them heavy casualties.

They continued their march which went alongside a swamp where, unknown to the Romans, the Germans had thrown up mile after mile of earthworks just out of sight inside the woods that ran parallel to the road. Thus, unknowingly, the Romans were trapped between the hidden German field fortifications and the swamp. The Germans then stormed the Roman column and slaughtered the disintegrating Roman forces.

Varus committed suicide by falling on his sword, as did many of the leaders of his legions. It is estimated that 20,000 Roman soldiers died. German casualties were limited to five or six hundred.

Results

The remnant of the three Roman legions made a last stand on a hill in the Teutoburger Forest where they were exterminated.

The battle ended triumphant Roman expansion. The year was 9 AD. Rome was in shock. Such a thing had never happened to a Roman army before.

In 15 AD, the Romans fielded a massive army of 50,000 to 75,000 men and again attempted the subjugation of greater Germany on the north side of the Rhine. There was no way the smaller German armies could stop their advance. They burned the small German villages and slaughtered men, women and children who fell into their hands. On their march they reached the scene of the Teutoburger Wald massacre where they found heaps of bleached bones, which they buried.

At last, the Romans realized that the expense of keeping a large army supplied in the tractless forests of Germany returned little profit to Roman coffers, and they left Germany and retreated to the Gallic side of the Rhine, saving the Saxon-Germans from the contamination that was enveloping the Roman Empire. The repercussions on civilization cannot be exaggerated, for they are felt to-day in the differences between the Latin and Saxon worldview.

Final Results

Almost a thousand years before, Jacob-Israel had sinned against the WORD and had been taken captive from their lands in Judea and Samaria and from there they spread over the world. Through the intervening years many lived isolated in northern Europe - until the Romans invaders came. With Hermann to lead them, they had a leader who helped save their people.

Rome's Fate

The invading Romans had been undefeated and believed themselves to be invincible. In fact, they were having fewer and fewer children and the walls around Roman cities became reduced in length as the population of the cities became smaller. At the same time, the many breeds brought to Rome as slaves became the new Romans.

The merchants' religion of Hinduism concentrating on sex and death became widespread.

Gold and silver were shipped from Rome to India in exchange for expensive trade goods and Rome became poor. The time came when Rome no longer had the money to hire mercenaries for her armies and the Roman citizens didn't have the money to pay the taxes levied against them.

At the same time, the German nation across the Rhine grew larger and larger. In time, its warriors spilled across the Rhine into Gaul and poured across the land sweeping the Roman settlers and what was left of their legions before them. The captive Gallic population of France and Italy joined the Teutonic wave and Rome was swept almost bare of her mixed-breed population. The remnants of early Saxon settlers, along with the new Germanic invaders, once again resettled their lands in Britain, France and Italy.

Most important, a few years before Hermann fought the battle of the Teutoburger Forest that saved Saxon-Germany from the Romans, a prophet was born in Jerusalem, who returned the WORD to Jacob-Israel. The Saxon nation again had the WORD to lead them - the same WORD that they were bound to obey before they would be allowed to fulfill their mission that was the reason for their creation.<sup>15</sup>

Today

Today we find the same evils besetting us that threatened our ancestors in the lands beyond the Rhine in the days of Hermann. Having no place to hide, we face the enemy - an enemy hidden within organizations known as "corporations" who know how to force us to exchange their money for our daily bread; "The love of money is the root of all evil." I Ti 6:10

We also are learning the only defense against those who use this weapon; "If you love me obey my commandments." John 14:15.

When?

When will be the time for us to overthrow the children of Esau who have used our disobedience to enslave us? That answer was given long ago.

Remember the story of Barabbas, the one who Pilate freed at the request of the people instead of Jesus? The people preferred Barabbas because he and his followers had shown a warlike spirit against Rome.

This is what Barabbas replied when accused of deserting Jesus:

"Now Barabbas spake with something of austerity ... Therefore I asked him again where he had been of late, and why he had forsaken the disciples. But he answered with still more of passion than before, "Because I am wearry of these idle wanderings about Galilee, which bring forth no fruit. Not to sit on stools at the feet of a Scribe did I and my friends join ourselves to Jesus of Nazareth. Why tarrieth he so long idle? Why is his hand so backward to smite the oppressor?" But I bade him be of good cheer, for the hour was not yet come, and Jesus would know better than we the season fit for our uprising." Philochristus Chapter 13:pp24 p129

Conclusion

Nothing has changed. Esau fears the teaching of the WORD. He has banned its teaching from schools and courts. So-called Christian Churches' "Love of money" has stopped most of them from teaching its Lawful requirements. Many of Esau's prisons ban Christian literature when the teachings of other religions are allowed.

Still, I talk to you, you talk to me, and we talk to others. Every day more and more Saxons rejoin their nation and agree to turn their lives over to Jesus Christ, the WORD made flesh. Once a Saxon does this he then learns:

"If ye love me obey my commandments." John 14:15

In 1857, a great monument to Hermann was completed. This stands on the Grotenburg mountain near Detmould in Germany. There is another such monument in the United States.

In God's own time he will send another leader who will find an army waiting to be led - a great army that each of us has helped recruit and train.

Chapter 440

SERPENT

Black vs White

English writers in the 1800s were quite interested in India's Hinduism since India was a British possession. They learned about its more popular Gods; namely Brahma, Vishnu and Siva, and noted that most Hindu Gods were black while most Hindu devils were white. The Hindus called their devils "white- devils".

HR mentioned this in past reports which brought interesting responses from certain individuals. Following is an example;

"You are right Siva is black but you are so blind you can't see the destruction that your white race has caused since it came near to this planet. It is obvious that all people that aren't hurt by the sun's rays belong here and those that can't take it don't belong here. You are an alien race. The white race is doomed. White people cannot travel the world like before because they risk being beheaded by non whites. Your time is near!!!! Your reign is over. and believe me there will be retribution. OM NAMA SHIVAYA!!!!!!!"

That sort of reaction was interesting. There were others like this. These letters weren't mailed from abroad but from this country. Some were written in such a manner that I believed them to be a code that I was supposed to know. Of course, I had no idea what they were talking about and there was no way I could answer. All this stirred my curiosity.

I redoubled my efforts to discover the reason for these letters and read a number of books on the subject. I learned that not only are Hindu-Buddhist devils white, but they call all white people "white-devils". My question then was why this information is hushed by our media and education systems?

Parts Of The Game Plan

We know that "Malcolm X" called whites "White-devils". We also know that other Muslims call whites, "White-devils"; Chinese and Japanese also call whites, "White-devils"; as do Mexicans, American Indians, and Blacks - all call Whites "White-devils".

"Kali" - the Hindu God of death stands on the dead body of a "white-devil" holding a severed head in one hand, a bloody sword in another, with serpents rising up from the body of the white-devil. "White-devil" seems to be the universal name for whites in every land and every people except by Saxon-whites themselves.

Written Instructions

Educated people have heard of "The Protocols", alleged to be a Jewish plan for world conquest; also Machiavelli's "The Prince" - instructions that tell rulers how to rule their subjects; and of course, the ubiquitous "36-Steps For Making War" - used by orientals to make war against each other and the rest of the world. Since all three are just different versions of the same subject, there must be a common connection.

Discovery Of The Serpent

The WORD says; "Be ye therefore wise as serpents." Matt 10:16. How does one become wise as a serpent? It helps to know what a serpent is.

In reading other books written before or about the time of Christ, I ran across the following:

"The Word of God came to the serpent and said unto it ... be thou dumb; and speak no more, thou and thy race, because ... the ruin of my creatures happened through thee ... And a wind came to blow from heaven by command of God that carried away the serpent from Adam and Eve, threw it on the shore, and it landed in India." I Adam & Eve 18:7-9, (Lost Books)

The Serpent Arrives In India

India! This was the first time I had run across a connection between the "Garden Of Eden serpent" and the serpents of India.

I next discovered that India has 400,000,000 gods and countless sects. A guru is a teacher. He is one who studies its many religions and puts together his version. If you like the guru and his version you become his follower and in essence the guru becomes your God. After all, with so many gods no one can say that this or that guru's version is wrong. However, there is something these India gods have in common - each has a serpent about him.

Black Kali Standing On A

Selling Hinduism

I discovered two more things. Hinduism is more of an organization system while Buddhism is a belief system that teaches people to be "nice" and "obey their rulers".

Some modern writers say that Buddhism is next to Christianity in its requirement that people be nice. If a Buddhist claims to be a "Christian" it is difficult to distinguish his version of "Christian" from true "Christianity" except when one notes that he does not speak of the Law of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. And, many Buddhist sects teach kung fu, a combat exercise.

The key Buddhist word is "tolerance". Buddhists say they tolerate other religions and many acts such as sodomy which the Christian Law forbids. Also, in lands of the Hindu there is this thing called "reincarnation". When a person dies he is immediately reborn in a higher state such as a ruler or a rich man if he has been good in this life, or, reborn in a lower state such as a bug or a beggar if he has been bad. In essence, a person rewards or punishes himself by his own acts in this life. Most acts that we consider "crimes" are looked upon by Indians as simple "misconduct". Murderers are almost never executed because they might redeem themselves by good deeds if allowed to live. It is no accident that Europe has outlawed the death penalty and the United States sentences criminals to prison who would have been put to death in earlier days.

The Serpent Of Deception That Surrounds The World

Asoka

Asoka of India is known by more people than Jesus Christ. He ruled India and made Buddhism a state- religion. When Alexander the Great conquered northern India and returned home, Asoka boasted that he had conquered the states near the Mediterranean Sea area with his Buddhist missionary effort called Dharma. He trained his missionaries for 15 years in the culture, religion, and language of a state selected for conquest, gave them limitless amounts of money to bribe its rulers, called his missionaries "dharmamatras", and sent them to lands he had selected.

Since India is the merchant's trade center between east and west - its widely scattered corporate trade centers have long collected trade profits and returned them to India, which is why many believe that India to this day contains the greatest stockpile of gold and silver in the world.

Extinction

The Hindu-Buddhist religion teaches that we are in the final stages of Kali-yuga - the 20,000 year old age of evil noted for starvation, disease, theft, murder, etc. It will end only when life on earth is extinct. The thing that has kept this age from ending is the white-devil. Every time Kali-yuga approaches the end of its 20,000 year life the white-devil interrupts the process and the evil age with its miseries continues.

When Kali removes the last of the white-devils the next "good age" will arrive. When one understands this, one understands the mind-set of the Kamikaze and the terrorist who blows himself up along with others. The worst that can happen is that by giving his life he will be reincarnated in a higher state by extinguishing life and thus helping to bring the evil "Kaliyuga" age to an end.

The Devil Serpent

Recently, there have been claims that there are no such thing as the Devil and Satan.

The WORD speaks of the, "Old serpent called the devil, and Satan." Rev 20:12; Rev 12:9;<sup>16</sup>

The Indian serpent is deception. The person doing the deception, or the deception itself, is called the Devil or Satan - that's what Indian gods and holy men were called in the last century by European writers - "devils". The Gods of India each has his own serpent which represents the deception that he practices. The prime enemy of these serpents and the prime target of their enmity is their ancient enemy - the "white devil".<sup>17</sup>

Devils Come West

For thousands of years the Children of Esau have waged war against the Children of Jacob. His primary weapon - "the serpent of deception". Esau means to destroy Jacob from the face of the earth so that a "good age" can be born and he can rule the world alone.

Esau's missionaries, his "Dharmamatras", have used education and money in western society to destroy Western people with false doctrines.

We must remember this when reading in the WORD the story of the Garden of Eden where the serpent convinced Eve that the forbidden fruit of a certain tree would make both her and Adam as Gods. This serpent is the first of the devils among us. Esau has many more.

Serpent Kings

For example, followers of the WORD are not allowed to have kings because they already have the WORD who is the King of Kings. (I Sam 8:1-20).

When they do have a king (by whatever name he is called) one may be assured that he was made king by use of Esau's money and is Esau's agent. With Esau's king comes Esau's state-religion. A state-religion is the opposite of a "religious state". A king can decree that his opinion is to be treated as if it were the word of God - or face the consequences.

The Parable

Esau's kings cannot exist and nurture Esau's serpents if his Saxon-Israel people follow the WORD. Therefore he imprisons or kills followers of the WORD who insist on following the WORD.

To protect themselves, followers of the WORD used parables. Jesus Christ used parables, and it is important that his followers understand them.

An example: Peter (the rock) walked on water. When he began to doubt he started to sink. He called to Jesus who lifted him out of the water and led him to safety.

Heathen look on this as a harmless fairy tale. Every year some ignorant fellow goes down to the end of Wall Street accompanied by media cameras and tries to show his faith by walking on water - and is pulled out by the coast-guard half drowned. Jesus Christ, the God who created the earth, can certainly do anything if he chooses - but the rest of mankind violate God's law of gravity when they try to walk on water.

Peter (the rock) represents the man with the WORD. He walks on water ("water" represents "peoples") without sinking into the mixed masses of the Roman world and becoming part of them. If he begins to "doubt" and starts to sink he calls on the WORD, which lifts him out of the waters (peoples) and takes him to safety. This is a parable. Romans look on it as a harmless tale while believers who understand its meaning are saved from being crucified by the Romans.

Neither do Followers of the WORD drink strong drink:

"Ye have not ... drunk wine or strong drink: that ye might know that I am the Lord." Deu 29:6

Most certainly Christian rulers are not allowed to drink strong drink.

"It is not for rulers to drink wine, nor princes strong drink: lest they drink and forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any of the afflicted. Pr 31:4-6

One way people judge a man's fitness to lead is by watching to see if he drinks strong drink.

When partaking of the Lord's supper of bread and wine, believers know that the bread represents the WORD and the wine represents the spirit that activates the WORD. Unbelievers have no idea what is going on. Hostile kings can find no fault in the ritual.<sup>18</sup>

Unleavened Bread

Parables save the chosen from the agents of Esau who would destroy them if they understood what was being said.

Christians are told to eat unleavened bread at certain times. Unleavened bread is bread made without yeast - it does not rise but remains flat. The bread represents the WORD. One must not study or accept the WORD that has been contaminated with the yeast of the serpent's additions. One must study the WORD that has no additions - or yeast (leaven) added. It's a parable.

"And Moses said unto the people ... there shall no leavened bread be eaten." Ex 13:3

The Corporate Serpent

We are not allowed to have strangers in our midst nor do business with them lest we learn their ways. "Thou shall make no covenant with them, nor with their gods. They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:32-33

There was a time when it was against the law for anyone except the king to own a corporation since Esau uses corporations to conceal his presence if he can. With a corporation the king could own property and allow it to be used as Esau wished and no one was the wiser. In other words, he could break God's Law without arousing the people's ire.

As time went on, the kings who displeased Esau were replaced with different kings who made corporate ownership open to virtually everyone. Today, onlookers have no idea who controls big corporations. Most corporate stock is voted by bank trust departments. Large banks are usually owned by other banks which are owned by holding companies in this country and overseas. It is virtually impossible to trace control of large corporations.

Large corporations control most of the property and monetary wealth of the world. Media corporations in the West control Jacob's minds while other corporations provide Jacob with jobs which put food on his table. Pleasing conduct results in job advancement and increased wealth. Conduct that displeases Esau's corporations results in demotion and loss of jobs and income.

In religion, manufacturing, and politics; the sons-of-Jacob who are obedient to Esau receive promotion and advancement. Where once most were obedient to the Law of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob - the "love of money", now forces them to be obedient to Esau's lawlessness and to keep their mouths shut if they see the evil done and wish to tell others.<sup>19</sup>

Works Of The Serpent

Esau swore that he would kill his brother Jacob. Esau's Dharmamatras have hired serpents to spread the poison of integration causing Jacob's children to mix with people-of-the land and disappear - or to be massacred in their entirety.

For many years I belonged to the Gideons. We had a number of old-timers, some who had interesting experiences. One of them served under Gen. Pershing on the Mexican border in 1914 when the Mexican rebels carried their warfare into Texas border towns and killed white families.

He told me that on several occasions American soldiers followed the raiders back into northern Mexico. In some of the towns he passed through he saw red headed and blond headed Mexican families lying dead in the streets - men, women and children.

People shouldn't wonder about what happened to the early Gothic Spaniards who settled Mexico. Those who didn't interbreed with Indians and Negro slaves as was encouraged by their Spanish religion and political leaders were massacred. Today, Mexicans who are white are largely descendants of recent immigrants. Most of the old descendants of the original sons-of-Jacob immigrants have been killed or absorbed into the mass of Esau.

Thus far, sons-of-man have disappeared from northwestern China. They have disappeared from Babylon, northern India, Israel, Egypt, Greece, Southern Italy, Sicily, North Africa, Southern Spain, most of South and Central America, most of South Africa, much of North America and Eastern Europe.

Esau Seizes American Land

Esau's media-serpent has taught Americans the nonsense that the War Between the States was fought over slavery.

The King of England, acting for his Esau merchant masters, owned the slave trade monopoly. He decreed that black slaves be sent to America to provide cheap labor to grow cheap tobacco and cotton that were required to be sold to England at rock bottom prices. He forbade us to stop the slave trade or return the blacks to Africa.

The reason for the war was land ownership. The WORD is emphatic on the subject:

"All the earth is mine." Ex 19:5; "As the LORD commanded Moses, so the children of Israel did, and they divided the land." Jos 14:5; "Joshua divided the whole land by lots to Israel for an inheritance, as the Lord had commanded him." Jasher 90:19; "The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... the land shall be divided by lot." Num 26:53- 55; "The land shall not be sold for ever: for the land is mine; ... If thy brother be waxen poor, and hath sold away some of his possession ... in the jubilee ... he shall return unto his possession." Lev 25:23, 28.

That should be clear enough. Then we have Karl Marx speaking for Esau:

"Next, Karl Marx. The Protocols say, 'The aristocracy of the peoples, as a political force, is dead ... but as landed proprietors they can still be harmful to us from the fact that they are self-sufficing in the resources upon which they live. It is essential therefore for us at whatever cost to deprive them of their land ... The Controversy of Zion by Douglas Read, Noontide Press, Newport Beach, CA, 1985. p. 219

The South was devastated, conquered, and occupied. Men were stripped of the vote which was given to Blacks. "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deu 17:15; "Their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall precede from the midst of them." Jer 30:21

Under the watchful eyes of Federal troops, "Esau's agents" instructed the Black rulers to tax white land. The white owners had no money and no markets since during the war their tobacco trade had gone to Turkey and the cotton trade to India. It would take years to re-establish the trade. Revolt was unthinkable since heavily armed occupation soldiers were everywhere and our masters in Washington were eager to loot, burn and destroy what was left of the South.

The serpents of usury banks were established in every Southern town that in prior years had almost no banks. Whites went to these banks to borrow money to pay land-taxes that they had never paid before. They found that they had no way to repay the loans and their land that had often been in their families for more than 200 years was auctioned to Esau's agents for almost nothing. Former land owners took their families and moved to cities to work for starvation wages in Esau's newly built factories and millions upon millions of acres of their formerly self-sufficient-farms fell into the hands of Esau's corporations. The same thing had already happened in the North in the 1830s & '40s and finished happening in the West in the 1980s.

Conclusion

The serpent that once lived in the Garden of Eden is in the midst of us. Its deception is everywhere.

The media bans the WORD. Every program on TV has some Law violation. Most follow Siva's promotion of illicit sex, Kali's promotion of violent death, and Hari-Hari's promotion of racial-integration. This is what is being taught to Jacob's children.

So-called preachers dare not mention the Commandments of the WORD since wealthy law-violators sitting in his church may take offense and take their business and dollars to another church.

Esau's manufacturing business is gradually being sent to the lands of Esau leaving Jacob's children destitute. Esau's politician-agents refuse to deport the tens of millions of aliens in our midst who send billions of untaxed dollars back to their own countries thereby destroying Jacobs' monetary system.

Neither will Esau's politicians install 100% tariffs which will require the return or the rebuilding of our lost industry which will give our people work.

But, we are learning. The serpent is showing himself. Politicians and preachers seeking our friendship today were Esau's agents yesterday. We are expected to believe that they have changed overnight. We have learned about them: We've read, Protocol #12 - "Among the media attacking us will be our own media."

We've also read, Number #22 in Esau's "36-Ways To Fight War" which tells why Esau's media suddenly began attacking their former friends - they do so in the expectation that this will make Jacob accept them as their new friends and leaders: #22 - "Denounce friends to establish believable "bona fides"".

We Are Learning

I know a preacher who claims to be conservative and our friend, who has been married five times, who smokes three packs of cigarettes a day, and who drinks like a fish. There are doubtless many like him.

Mark my words; I also know of hundreds of Son's-of-Jacob who sincerely know and believe the WORD. It is these who will lead us to freedom in the coming apocalypse.

We are learning to identify a serpent when we see one. The days of Esau and his friends are numbered.

Dear Dick & Ann; One week before Betzy and the kids left on our trip to the coast, the Loerie-bus left them stranded once again. The Bus is old and although it has given us a lot of pleasure, we have to battle to keep it on the road.

We are now in the process of getting a 36-seater Volkswagen Bus with safety belts for all the children.

The Loeries were once again treated to a holiday at the seaside. A group of Donors in Johannesburg, sponsored them on a 10-day holiday with free lodging in a church hostel in a small town not far from Durban on the Natal Coast. They had the time of their lives. Six of our new Loeries had not seen the sea ever and you can imagine the overwhelming sight when they arrived there during the late afternoon. Betzy had a hard time getting them back into the bus with the promise that they would return to the beach as early as possible the next morning.

You remember, that with your help, we had electrical wiring installed around the Loerie-Home as well as cameras and alarm system outside the house two years ago.

Crime is thriving in South Africa and we were burgled twice. The criminals broke through the panels of our concrete wall at an exact spot where the alarm does not have a sensor light and exactly between two wiring cables. We could not believe our eyes as we were all in the house at that time! Just after we had the police notified to investigate, and the damage fixed, they attacked again and stole our brand new lawn mower, a vacuum cleaner, and six bicycles - exactly the same way. We are now up in arms. More beam lights are being installed to cover all of the outside area.

The final examination results were better than we had expected! All four seniors passed with flying colours. Jean and Sunet have been successfully enrolled at the University of Potchefstroom and they both are settled and doing fine! They are privileged to study under the care of the Trustees who have founded a special fund to support Loeries who want to improve themselves. The Trustees are monitoring their well-being.

We are unable to show our appreciation for the generous contribution your readers send each month. They supported us enormously during the previous years and we are indebted to them. Through their kindness and generosity, the Loeries have learnt about genuine, unconditional love! You will always have a special place in our hearts!

Thank You, Trustees, Personnel and Loeries.

UNITING ESAU TUNNEL WARFARE

Esau's occupation government in Washington DC publicly announced that U.S. forces under their command invaded the sovereign nation of Pakistan and shot the unarmed Arab nationalist leader, Bin Ladin, along with some of his followers. They also shot and wounded one of his wives in the process.

The announcement was met with wild celebration in the United States since the same Bin Ladin is accused of masterminding the 9/11 attack on the Trade Towers in New York. It was also met first with disbelief and then with bellicose warnings by Pakistan's government against a repeat of such an operation inside its borders and that retaliatory actions would be taken if such should occur again.

Details

As is usual with operations decided upon and directed by a few persons in high places who have not thoroughly thought the matter through, the details released were contradictory.

The first jubilant announcement stated that those with Bin Ladin fought ferociously, with Bin Ladin dying with his weapon in his hand. It was then decided that this picture would please his warlike followers, so the report was changed to state that he was unarmed and died in a cowardly manner after pulling one of his wives in front of him to protect him. This picture did not sit well with Western readers who objected to shooting unarmed prisoners, "terrorist" or not, so the subject was changed entirely.

The story was turned upside down with the appearance of an old newspaper report that Bin Ladin had died in 2001 of intestinal problems. If that was so, who was the person shot by American assassination forces pretending to be the feared Bin Ladin terrorist for the last ten or so years?

One explanation to this story was that Osama was an American or Islamic look-alike agent. If American, he was used to justify the repeated invasions of Arab lands to seize their oil, bring democracy, or whatever. If Islamic, he was being used to keep alive the anti-Western bias that has been growing worldwide.

It was also claimed that the Islamic states were invaded to stop their non-usury banking systems that were competing with Western usury systems.

The next story was that it was time for the the mid-east Wars to come to an end; that they were costing too much and were becoming unpopular with the voters.

This could only be done by first disposing of the person claiming to be Bin Ladin, if in fact he was actually alive and well or, if not, disposing of his "stand-in". A testing of the DNA of the executed one would determine whether or not he was the real "Bin Ladin".

This presented a problem if the body was a "stand-in". The DNA would be nothing like that of the real Bin Ladin.

The U.S. said that neither Bin Ladin's family nor friends wanted his body, so within hours of his shooting, the body was slipped into the waters of the Mediterranean Sea at an unknown location. That settled the DNA problem. Now, no one will know for sure.

Coincidences

Disposing of evidence is nothing new to the government that rules the United States.

Remember the Towers? They were hit by planes and fell straight down in the manner of planned demolitions. Thousands of victims were never found but papers said to belong to one of those in the plane survived the crash, flames, and explosion. Government agents said that these papers told who the terrorists were and where they came from. Incidentally, private investigation revealed that most came from our ally Saudi Arabia, and that most were still very much alive after being killed in the crashes..

Curious engineers wanted to test the debris for explosive residue to see if demolition explosives were used to bring down the building. They were kept from examining the debris which was quickly collected and disposed of.

Then there was the massacre at Waco. Newspaper articles said that telescopes detected signs hung from the windows by the besieged begged for help. Instead, tanks moved in and burned the buildings along with their occupants. The debris was carted away before it could be examined.

Then there was Oklahoma City, a repeat of the Towers. The explosion and the way the debris fell again led observers to demand to be allowed to test the debris for demolition residue, which was also refused. The debris was again disposed of. So much for verifying government statements.

More Coincidences

During WWII, the U.S. fire-bombed Japanese cities killing unknown numbers of men, women and children, defeated her armies and held war-crimes trials and executed her leaders.

Japan surrendered. But in oriental style the plan was to continue the war by other means according to the "36-Methods Of War". Japan became and remains anti-Western.

Sen Joseph McCarthy wrote two books. The second book contained a story about the fall of Chiang Kai-shek, leader of nationalist China's war against Communist takeover. The U.S. had long furnished him with supplies. McCarthy's book reveals that a U.S. supply fleet left India loaded with military supplies bound for China. These military supplies were dumped into the Indian Ocean and never reached Chiang Kai-shek. The nationalist Chinese ran out of supplies and surrendered. The nationalist soldiers were forced to place their necks on railroad tracks and trains decapitated them. China then became communist, land-owners were executed, and the country remains anti-Western.

The U.S. fought a war in Vietnam and killed 2,000,000 of her people. Vietnam became anti-Western.

The U.S. invaded Panama which became anti-Western. U.S. usury-banking has made South America anti-America.

Plans Within Plans

Following WWII, American merchant ships carrying humanitarian aid visited the lands of Islam, Africa, and the far East. I talked to a number of the merchant seamen and they told me that the peoples of the lands visited were our fast friends, that they personally were very well treated.

This was especially true during the Cold War. Most of the mid-eastern Islamic states kept their distance from the Communist Monster from the north and remained loyal to America.

American foreign policy converted the pro-American Islamic states to anti-American states by simply furnishing the Jewish military with American weapons. Hundreds of thousands of Arab men, women and children were killed by bullets, bombs and aircraft made in America. Then, to aggravate the situation, Islamic states were invaded one after another by American forces which destroyed cities and towns, killing millions of Islamic men, women and children in the process.

The Master Plan

When looked at in a dispassionate manner, what appears to be senseless indiscriminate worldwide American instigated mayhem, destruction and slaughter may be nothing of the sort. It could be the execution of a well thought out plan.

The mid-east lands of Esau are known for their perpetual civil wars, but now they are doing something that has not been done for five hundred years. They are studying and obeying the commands of their Gods and are uniting against a common enemy. From Asia to the mideast, Africa, South America, and Mexico in North America, all are coming together united by their common hatred of the White-Devil.

"Esau hated Jacob ... and Esau said ... I (will) slay my brother Jacob." Ge 27:41

Chinese Five-Methods

HR#362 America Through Chinese Eyes listed the 5 major techniques of future war as seen by Chinese intelligence agents.

They started their summation with the first of the traditional 36 Methods of War;

"The ultimate success is victory gained without fighting."

They listed #1 as "Economic War" such as was being waged by George Soros. The success of this war technique is that America's manufacturing has been transferred to other lands to the extent that she does not produce even the weapons of war that she is using to invade and conquer other lands - while Turk-Mongols are invading Europe by the millions to the extent that many Saxon lands have already lost the sense of identity and will be worthless to repel annexation by her quiet invaders - while those willing to fight will not have the means or weapons to do so.

Chinese intelligence then speaks of #2 "Terror" as typified by Bin Ladin. Constant "terror" makes Saxon people willing to obey their leaders and be subject to their commands.

Number 3 was listed as "Drugs". Having had drugs forced on them by European powers in the 19th century, China well knows their debilitating power. It is interesting that after all these years the US government has not been able to contain their importation and distribution.

Number 4 was listed as "Aum Shinrikyo" - the desire to end life on earth so that a new and better age can be born. At the present time, there are numerous groups worldwide working toward that end.

Number 5 was "Internet Hacking". Already Western governments are complaining that their most secret government files are being opened and closed by unauthorized persons almost at will. The implications are enormous.

In essence, in spite of her fleets of aircraft carriers and armies occupying foreign nations all over the world, Saxon America is becoming defenseless. Her industry has been stripped from her and taken to build up the lands of her enemies, and companies that remain are owned by her enemies. Her weapons of war are mostly made by foreign countries; alien agents in her government ignore every suggestion to protect the nation, her jobs and her finances; and her Christian religion now teaches almost everything forbidden by the Law of the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

Tactics

As a rule I ignore visions of those who predict the future, but it is easy to see that the United States is being disarmed.. Foreigners produce a large part of its weaponry, ship it to the U.S where it is assembled. When its present arsenal is used up the foreign nations who produce these weapons will have the option to either replenish the arsenal or not. If not, the U.S. will have a problem.

Something happened many years ago still lingers in the back of my memory. I used to walk the five miles to work before daylight, sit in my chair in the corner room of my office building and watch the sun come up. This one day I turned in my chair and saw the most unusual thing; storm clouds that resembled an irresistible alien army coming over the Blue Ridge mountains.

Maybe so, maybe not. Virginia has had armies sweep over her many times in the past, murdering, raping, stealing - and we're still here. Still, those storm clouds looked sinister.

One night, long ago, I remember the grownups talking next to the fireplace in the living room. They were talking about the times that invading armies had swept over the land and what our ancestors did to survive. If you could evade the first wave the chances of survival were much greater. Many hid in the woods or hiked up into the mountains. Others didn't have the chance. They went into tunnels that their grandparents had prepared for such emergencies many years before. Others have done the same.

The Vietnamese brought tunnel warfare to a science in the 20th century.. The following is excerpted from 1987, HR #151.

TUNNELS

Many years ago, brave men feared to face a Roman line of battle. Valor stood little chance against Roman skill, arms, and training.

To avoid such a meeting the defenders at the Siege of Jerusalem dug tunnels that continued beyond the walls. After the Roman battle line had marched over them, the defenders quickly dug to the surface and attacked the Romans from the rear.

European Tunnels

In the 30 Years War, Germany was devastated. Many survivors lived underground. I was told about them by WW II veterans who had visited old tunnels that connected distant German towns. Some were wide enough to drive wagons and livestock through.

American Tunnels

In Virginia during the Indian Wars many plantation owners built emergency escape tunnels.

Later, colonists, taking an active part in the Revolution, often used the old Indian Wars escape tunnels to evade the British or dug new ones.

During the Texas War for Independence certain Texas farmers escaped invading Mexicans by hiding in underground shelters.

Civilian Shelters

In most places, Federal armies were unrestrained by their military commanders. Many Southerners living in occupied areas, abandoned homes and possessions rather than chance the tender mercies of lawless soldiery. Of those who remained, many concealed themselves underground at the approach of the enemy. Quite often their shelters were simply a camouflaged icehouse or springhouse with a hidden entrance. At the alarm, the inhabitants would slip out of their homes and disappear underground until the enemy left.

Petersburg Tunnels

When I was a young man courting my wife, I took her to Petersburg to see the Confederate tunnels.

Following a friend's directions, we walked to the far corner of a wide field and discovered a small opening made by the rear wheel of a heavily laden truck crashing through a tunnel roof.

Slipping down into the dark recess we found ourselves at a tunnel junction. This junction was the reason the tunnel roof was weak at that point. Two tunnels were open and two were closed from the cave-in caused by the heavily loaded truck.

The tunnels that were open kept us busy that afternoon. Mostly, they were 5 1/2 feet high, cool and dry. In other places, they were wet. Sometimes we waded waist-deep in water following tunnels that gradually disappeared under water. The blue sky was visible through periodic air vents above our heads.

During the war Confederate military intelligence pinpointed threatened points. The tunnels allowed General Lee to move his army to threatened points unseen by Federal observation balloons and observation posts.

Until the last days of the war every Federal attack was quickly broken by General Lee moving men, unseen, rapidly, and quietly, through his Petersburg tunnels.

Vietnamese Tunnels

The Viet Cong<sup>20</sup>, possessing slender resources, were unable to meet the technology of the West on the field of battle.

From the beginning the VC dug underground caches for food, for defense against raiding parties, and for shelter from air attacks. In time, these caches were connected by tunnels to neighboring tunnels in their village. From there, escape tunnels were dug leading to the open countryside, often a quarter to half a mile or more away.

Standard Construction Techniques

"Protection" was the initial force motivating the building of the first tunnels. Soon, the concept of tunnels to support fighting forces became the goal.

A triangle was paced out 50 yards or more to a side. At each point of the triangle a concealed trapdoor led down. Each trapdoor entrance was in view of the other two entrances. A rifleman at one tunnel entrance could defend the other two entrances. Each combat triangle was manned by two VC. One acted as observer, and the other as the fighter.

The construction of the trapdoor was unique. It was made of two layers of planks about 3/4 inch thick laid crosswise, about 1 yard square. Watertight plastic or rubber sheeting was placed between. Every crack was filled with waterproofed material.

Trapdoors were concealed so that an enemy might actually stand on one without knowing of its existence. A great number of the tunnels were used only when combat demanded. Consequently, most times they stood deserted. Grass and foliage grew naturally. The entrances were almost impossible to detect.

Five men were required in tunnel construction. One dug, one moved dirt to the shaft. One pulled the dirt to the surface, and two disposed of the dirt elsewhere.

An initial shaft was dug 3 to 9 yards deep. Ten yards away another shaft was sunk. At the bottom of these shafts diggers tunneled toward each other by sound. When completed, the vertical excavation shafts were filled in. Other shafts were dug until the tunnel complex was completed.

Triangles were often dug two or three levels deep. Level #1 might run 30 feet or so and make a dog-leg turn. The dog-leg would act as a blast and bullet deflector, or hiding place for a defender. Behind this dog-leg would be a water proof, blast proof, and gas proof trapdoor leading down to Level #2. Level #2 would zig-zag and in time rise again to connect to Level #1 near another triangle tunnel entrance.

Larger tunnels were often 3 levels deep containing rooms with sleeping quarters, large storage bins, communication centers, arsenals, command posts, machine shops, and hospital facilities.

The VC relate stories of large 105mm howitzers being kept disassembled deep in 3rd Level rooms. They were brought to the surface at night, reassembled, fired, disassembled once more and taken below ground at daybreak. They were almost never located by Americans.

Complexes

Planners, acting as engineers, laid off the overall defensive position and assigned areas in which individuals were to dig. Each triangle was planned to cover other triangles. In time, the network of tunnel triangle complexes grew large. Some occupied many square miles.

Most combat triangles within a complex came within a foot or two underground from other triangles but did not tie in unless there was an emergency. American "Tunnel Rats", fighting the VC underground, might discover a triangle in the middle of a large complex and think it was a single isolated triangle because they could not find a way into the other tunnels.

There are countless instances of strong American battle groups sweeping over areas containing thousands of enemy soldiers deep in tunnel complexes and having to report that few if any enemy troops had been seen.

Tunnel Combat

If the Viet Cong desired to engage an enemy, they would wait until the targeted group got near the geographic center of a tunnel complex and then they would man their tunnel fighting posts. It was very easy to get into a complex. Once in, it was difficult to get out alive.

The Americans developed an elite group called the "Tunnel Rats" whose job was to enter the tunnels and fight the VC underground. They were the most successful. Underground combat by others was often disappointing.

The VC would often purposely allow Americans to see one of their fighters disappear into a tunnel. This might cause green soldiers to crowd around the newly discovered entrance. This grouping presented an opportunity for a VC observer at another tunnel entrance to explode a hidden mine electronically, sometimes wounding or killing the entire group.

A VC observer would watch a developing American attack on a newly discovered tunnel. Explosives, gas, and water inserted into the tunnel were contained to a single tunnel level by the remarkable underground trapdoors. If attackers descended into the tunnels they would usually first drop in a grenade and descend after the explosion.

The grenade explosion was the signal for a VC fighter to ascend through a trapdoor from Level #2 to Level #1 and post himself behind a tunnel zig-zag to wait for the attacker.

According to the VC, the Americans would usually approach with flashlights in hand. The defender would point his weapon around the bend of the dog-leg, fire, and disappear down into Level #2.

If the Americans retired from the tunnel with their wounded comrade, the VC would quickly re-enter the vacated tunnel and place a booby trap near the entrance used by the Americans.

If the attackers remained in the tunnel, the VC dropped down into Level #2 below the trapdoor and waited. When he heard someone above moving across the trap door he would fire through the trapdoor at the intruder and rapidly retire to the other end of the tunnel triangle and ascend to Level #1 and again wait.

When an attacker was heard below, the VC raised the trapdoor, dropped in a grenade, closed the trapdoor and placed sandbags upon it.

VC Tunnel Warfare - Summary

In Vietnam, the use of explosives, gas, and water by the French and Americans against the tunnel defenders was almost always contained to a single level by underground tunnel trapdoors.

VC defense against tunnel invaders consisted of ambush aboveground, and booby traps and a series of tunnel ambushes underground. The technology of the West was neutralized and warfare reduced to a primitive "one on one" contest with an unseen defender waiting in ambush. As is usual in such cases, the defender holds an advantage.

Conclusion

Today, the Soviet and Chinese civilian populations have been provided with massive underground shelters by their governments. In many cities and towns there are tunnel shelter entrances in every block. Chinese tunnels, paved with brick and concrete, contain clothing stores, food, sanitary facilities,<sup>21</sup> and escape routes that emerge miles outside the cities.<sup>22</sup>

America's present leftist government has shown that it has no intention of providing the same protection for the American people. Americans are defenseless in event of a nuclear attack, an organized racial war, or a combination of various kinds of warfare accompanied by an invasion by alien armies. In short, if Americans want shelter, they will have to build them themselves.

If a long-awaited drought actually comes we may expect a national food shortage. We may also expect the denizens of the large cities to pour out into the suburbs and countryside seeking the food that remains.

21 Straight Talk, PO Box 60, Pigeon Forge, Tenn. 37863. p. 3, Feb 19, 1987. $24/yr.

22 "Fighting Chance", 10 Feet to Survival", Arthur Robinson & Gary North. OISM, PO Box 1279, Cave Junction, Oregon 97523.

Judging by past actions, we may also expect the present government in Washington to aid the denizens of the cities rather than native Saxons.

It might be wise for Saxons living in the country and suburbs to again consider constructing and stocking shelters on their property with a distant exit - depending on political winds of the time.

If "the bomb" comes, if the drought and food shortages come, if lawless sons-of-Esau from the cities flood your neighborhood, if the united armies of Esau form a dark cloud to envelop the land, Americans can once more go to ground for shelter and emerge after danger has passed.

Suppose

Suppose these bad things just don't happen. Suppose, just suppose, that some sort of "Tea Party" can install politicians who refuse to accept the standard tens of thousands of dollars when appointed to the board of directors of Esau's corporations. Suppose they admit that there are tens of millions of aliens in the country and pass "alien colonization laws" to rid the land of their presence like Eisenhower did.

Suppose these politicians ban Esau's goods and force American industry to re-start their idle steel mills, build their own ships and airplanes, and revive textile plants to supply America and furnish Saxons jobs. Suppose farmland is again divided and farmed, and suppose there is a religious revival where the Saxon nation enforces the Law of the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

Such things may happen.

In the meantime, let's study what our ancestors did in the past to survive and devise plans should our Saxon nation need them to survive once again.

Because, if there is a major war with Esau in America, regardless of the odds, we know how the war will end.

"And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto Gog a place there of graves in Israel." Eze 39:11

Greetings: I have received the books you sent as well as the handouts. A tremendous amount of information is in the religious books written before and at the time of Christ. They reinforce everything written in the Bible. The handouts have brought about a great deal of conversation and searching of the Scriptures. They are wonderful works. As I've told you, I am a history buff. Thank your subscribers for making these reading/study materials available.

I have a question. The books on CD, do you have them in printed form. There are some very interesting titles that I would love to explore. CDs aren't allowed here. W.D. - prisoner Florida

RKH: Others have mentioned the same subject. Thus far both time and money have kept them from being produced in book form.

Chapter 442

SLAVERY

Hindu Missionaries

The Hindu merchants of the world send missionaries before them to neutralize religious and political opposition so the people of their selected trade areas will accept them.

Hindu missionaries are called "Dharmamatras" and pose as members of local religions and by bribery and strategic donations influence the leaders of their potential enemies to become friendly integrationists.

Example

Christianity was a nationalist religion whose Laws hindered Roman trade. The Roman Emperor Constantine preempted Christianity and made it a state religion, a religion that forbade the reading of the Bible. He, himself, didn't accept his own creation until he was on his death bed - if he ever did..

Heaven

Most Christian churches today seldom speak of heaven. "Heaven" clashes with the international Hindu religion which doesn't have a heaven. People who die are instantly reincarnated. If the one who dies was good, he may be reborn as a rich man or a king. If bad, he may be reborn as a bug or some kind of animal. A person rewards or punishes himself in his lifetime by his own acts.

Hinduism has no law. Of course, his religion teaches one to "be nice". As stated before, if he is not nice he punishes himself when he is reborn. It is interesting to note that with the advance of international trade, Christian churches progressively abandon the Law of Moses. They are great on ritual, tradition, missions, helping others, but in typical Hindu fashion, laws are left to legislators. In fact, it is a rare Western country claiming to be Christian that executes murderers. Today, most honor sodomy.

Two Kinds Of Slavery

There are two kinds of slavery. One is forbidden while the other is permitted under certain conditions.

"Borrowing" and its resulting indebtedness is equated with bondage and slavery.

"The borrower is servant (5650 'ebed: bondage, enslave) to the lender." Pr:22:7

When one borrows he becomes a bonded servant to another, and that tends to nullify the purpose of our creation,

"Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; Rev 1:5,6

To prevent his creation from becoming slaves God ordered the land to be divided and never sold so that every man could create wealth and provide sustenance for himself from his own landed kingdom without becoming another's servant.

"All the earth is mine." Ex 19:5; "As the LORD commanded Moses, so the children of Israel did, and they divided the land." Jos 14:5; "Joshua divided the whole land by lots to Israel for an inheritance, as the Lord had commanded him." Jasher 90:19; "The land shall be divided for an inheritance ... the land shall be divided by lot." Num 26:53- 55; "The land shall not be sold for ever: for the land is mine; ... If thy brother be waxen poor, and hath sold away some of his possession ... in the jubilee ... he shall return unto his possession." Lev 25:23, 28.

Hindu agents are famous for using fragments of Scripture to prove a point that they want to make - a point that is often opposite to the true one. The listener can get himself into trouble listening to "anti-Christ's" posing as Christians, and neglecting to study the Scriptures himself.

Woman in Adultery

I once attended a Bible discussion group - the subject was the woman accused of adultery. The Scripture being discussed "The man that comitteth adultery with another man's wife ... the adulterer and the adulteress shall die the death." Deut 22:22 Part of the class said that the woman should be stoned. The counter argument being used was the one where a woman accused of adultery was brought before Jesus who said, "He that is without sin cast the first stone." Then he told the woman accused of adultery to go home and sin no more.

The discussion got hot. One side argued that the Law of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob had been done away and that we were supposed to forgive and forget.

At last a little old lady in the back of the class asked a question. "Who accused the woman? Aren't witnesses required if a person is accused of a capital crime? No witnesses had come forward to accuse this woman. Jesus sent her home with the admonishment to "sin no more", it was what the LAW required.

That was the end of the discussion. This little old lady was the only one in that whole class who had searched the Scriptures and knew what she was talking about.

Work & Marriage

My oldest daughter met a young man at church, the son of a deacon. They decided to get married even though both were still in school.

The match seemed OK to me and I agreed - provided that the boy finish school and got a job so he could support a family. This last part was not part of the young man's plan. He wanted to get married NOW. His parents said that they could live with them.

I sent them to the Presbyterian minister who I assumed would teach them the Law. He advised them that he didn't see anything wrong with marriage taking place right then. This surprised me.

I then sent them to a Baptist minister for proper guidance. He agreed that it was all right to get married and said that he himself was going to school when he got married.

This was no help at all. My opinion was based on Scripture:

"Prepare thy work without, and make it fit for thyself in the field; and afterward build thine house. Pr 24:27

In due time my daughter agreed with me. The boy left and met another girl and married her several weeks later, had two children, then abandoned his wife and children soon after. That could have been my daughter.

Reference

The Bible says "This is the book of the generations of Adam (man)." Gen 5:1. It contains the LAW. If man obeys the Law matters tend to go well. If he disobeys he may be conquered and ruled by the stranger. Then, he is forced to use the parables in Scripture lest he offend his alien rulers.

This is what the WORD says about strangers in the land:

"They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:33; "I will deliver the inhabitants of the land into your hand; and thou shall drive them out before thee." Ex 23:31.

The following is the Law dealing with marriage to strangers:

"Neither shalt thou make marriages with them: thy daughter thou shalt not give unto his son, nor his daughter shalt thou take unto thy son." Deu 7:3

Suppose for one reason or another strangers come into the land, and marriage to strangers take place? What then is the Law?

"We have trespassed against our God, and have taken strange (5237 nokri'y - foreign, non-relative, alien) wives ... therefore let us make a covenant with our God to put away all the wives, and such as are born of them, according to the ... commandment of our God."

Ez 10:2-3

The objective of God's Law is:

"So shall we be separated, I and all of Thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth."
Ex 33:16

Slavery

The conquering stranger and his hired agents often twist the Law dealing with slavery.

There are many kinds of slavery. We have discussed "borrowing". There are other kinds.

Slavery Of Man

The Law says:

"If a man be found stealing any of his brethren of the children of Israel, and maketh merchandise of him, or selleth him; then that thief shall die; and thou shalt put evil away from among you." Deuteronomy 24:7

However, a man may work for another for as much as seven years in payment for a service rendered, and at the end of that period he has fulfilled his contract and is released and equipped with tools of the trade he has been practicing and other necessary goods needed to become independent.<sup>23</sup>

<sup>23</sup> "And if thy brother, a Hebrew man, or a Hebrew woman, be sold unto thee, and serve thee six years; then in the seventh year thou shalt let him go free from thee. .. thou shalt not let him go away empty: Thou shalt furnish him liberally out of thy flock, and out of thy floor." Deut 15:12-14

This is how America was largely settled in its early days. The agents of the kings of Europe drove the people from their own land and replaced them with sheep (which is why we are forbidden to have kings.). The people were forced to go to cities and work for corporations or indenture their labor for 7 years in exchange for passage and food across the Atlantic to the colonies.

Slavery Of Strangers

The Law dealing with man and with strangers is different.

"At the end of every seven years thou shalt make a release (of thy brother) ... of a foreigner thou mayest exact it again: but that which is thine with thy brother thine hand shall release." Deut 15:1- 3

In other words, while a kinsman is released from his 7 year labor contract, a stranger can be required to serve more than seven years.

Slavery Of Strangers

The following is the part of the Scripture usually left out by those in the pay of the merchant's agents.

"As for your men and women slaves, however, you may buy from among the nations that surround you. They shall be your slaves. You may also buy the children of the foreign residents among you, and from their families who are with out who are born in your country, and they shall be your property. You may also bequeath them to your sons after you, to hold them as property forever; and they shall serve you. But your relatives of the children of Israel are men, and your brothers; you shall not reduce them to slavery." Leviticus 25:44-46 (Ferrar Fenton)

Making slaves of the Children of Israel is forbidden.<sup>24</sup> In Jacob's lands ruled by Esau and his agents where strangers are permitted to live, slavery of Jacob-Israel is forbidden while the perpetual slavery of strangers is allowed.

Virginia's Slaves

The king of England had a slave monopoly obtained from France. He forced Virginians to purchase black slaves to work tobacco farms to increase the volume of tobacco that was in great demand in England. His decrees set the selling price and the purchase price and by his edicts all tobacco was sold to England.

Virginia several times petitioned the king to stop the importation of blacks because according to God's LAW strangers weren't allowed in the land. These petitions were met by threats from the Crown.

After independence, "African Colonization" was organized to buy America's slaves and return them to Africa. Money from the sale of the slaves was to be used to pay the passage for immigrants from Europe who were contracted to work the farms and replace the blacks..

This was done because the Law requires, "So shall we be separated, I and all of Thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth. Ex 33:16, "Israel then shall dwell in safety alone." Deut 33:28

This plan was immediately opposed by Esau's agents - the radical abolitionists - replacing black labor with white labor would in no way help Northern corporations gain possession of Southern land as they had done in Europe.

<sup>24</sup> This is nullified by usury-banking, taxes, and debt which reduces most to slavery.

Radical Abolitionists demanded that slave owners free their slaves - the strangers - and receive no payment. This was outright theft. They then went about making it happen.

The War For Land

Their puppet government launched an invasion of Charleston Harbor which brought on a sectional war. The motto was to "Save the Union". "Slavery" wasn't a propaganda theme until later.

The purpose of the War Between The States that killed 600,000 Saxons had little to do with Scripturally Lawful slavery. It had everything to do with land ownership.

The South produced tobacco and cotton. During the war the tobacco trade went to Turkey and the cotton trade went to India. After the war, Whites were disfranchised; black slaves were taken from them, enfranchised, and set to rule over their white masters. Corporations sent "carpetbaggers" to direct the blacks' voting. Union Troops built forts and occupied the Southland to keep blacks from being removed from power. Permanent garrisons were installed, which are still here. Then it happened - Black legislators enacted land taxes.

There were few workers for southern farms and no markets for their produce. There was no money to pay land taxes. Usury banks were established. In Lynchburg, on the front of some old bank buildings is inscribed "1865" - the year they were established. There were few banks in the Southland before then.

To pay the land taxes so they could keep their farms, farm owners obtained usury loans from these new banks. Few could repay the loans because of economic depression and lawlessness.

Tax sales of foreclosed land commenced. Tens of millions of acres were sold to land companies for pennies an acre and the formerly free and independent Southern farmers joined their northern brothers by leaving the land and going to cities. Lynchburg grew from 6,000 to 55,000. Richmond grew from 20,000 to almost a million; Norfolk and environs grew from 30,000 to more than a million.

If strangers or their agents rule the land, according to the LAW, the slavery of strangers is permitted. These blacks were forced on the Southland by the ruler of Great Britain. Taking these slaves without payment to their owners was stealing private property and is a violation of the LAW.

In essence, Saxons in the North, South, and West have had their lands taken from them by the international banking system depriving them of the ability to produce their own sustenance and produce wealth. Their debts have reduced them to slavery.

Conclusion

In spite of Esau's media propaganda - the War Between The States was not fought over slavery. It was fought to take land from its owners and reduce their owners to debt-slavery. Most of those who are "debt-free" work for Esau's corporations who control every word they utter.

The age of Esau is fast drawing to a close. Saxons have nowhere to go but to return to obedience of God's LAW.

Aryan, Swastika & Buddha

---

Esau's media often change word meanings. "Aryan" is one such word. Saxon people have an innate ability to successfully grow things. Where they reside the land flourishes. When they leave, or are forced to leave, the land falls into disuse and their formerly fruitful farms are often abandoned. Following is the meaning of the word:

"ARYAN, ahr' yan, meaning lord of the soil ... lived originally in Central Asia ... They are also called the Indo-European and Indo-Germanic race. ... Centuries ago the Aryans became the ruling race of India ... All modern languages sprang from these people." World Book, Vol 1, p.407. W.F. Quarie & Co, Chicago, 1928.

There is another word "Swastika

SWASTIKA: "... The swastika is one of the most ancient and widespread of all ornamental forms, appearing in both hemispheres. It is generally interpreted as a sun symbol. It occurs in Aegean and Archaic Greek pottery and in certain types of fret, found in Egypt and Greece. ..." The Ency Britanica, 14th Ed. Vol 21, P.633, 1936

Following is a letter from a subscriber.

Dear Mr. Hoskins:

Buddha: Siddhartha Gautama (Sakya Mani Buddha) A pure-blooded Aryan of the Sakya clan of Northern India (circa 555 B.C.) "Aryan" is Sanskrit (Aryan mother tongue) word meaning "of Noble Birth/Racial purity" (according to the ancient caste system):

"Swastika" is the original symbol of pure-blooded Aryan clans of N. India and means "Order out of Chaos". It is a principal symbol of Greek Solar deity Apollo - and figures into ancient Nordic/Germanic rites/mysteries as well.

Buddha had Golden-red hair, piercing blue eyes and fair skin. Modern Hinduism is a polluted and profane corruption of what was once a pure Aryan way of life placing emphasis on the superiority of the white Aryan race over the lesser and darker mongrelized species according to the caste system.

Most Hindus are descended from interbreeding between Aryans and aboriginal people of the East (New Guinea, Popua New Guinea, Indonesia, etc.) In any Great Aryan civilization Aryan miscegenation with the "untouchables" of the darker castes always results in the decay, decline and degeneracy of that civilization. Even today the Hindic and darker races jealously recognize and glorify the beauty of Aryans compared with mixed-breeds - see enclosed photo of an upper-caste Hindu of fair skin and Aryan features as opposed to a lower caste negroid Hindu next to her.

The idea that the mixed races will over-run the Earth is probably owing to fact that the Aryans have given them infusions of their bloodlines, thereby creating stronger and smarter species who yet retain their darker and degenerate ways. Hence Aryans have created their own worst enemies through miscegenation. Cain will always be jealous of his brother Abel and seek to destroy him.

A subscriber called me from Missouri a number of times with questions regarding the Scriptures. He gathered a number of friends who have questions and arranged a conference call. I received a phone call from one of his friends who was to be included in the conference call, who informed me that my friend had been bitten by a poisonous copper-head serpent and was in the hospital. The comment was made, "In the garden of Eden the Serpent didn't go after the devil, he went after Adam and Eve." The telephone conference will still be held at a later date.

Hoskins; I received and read your book Vigilantes of Christendom about 6 or 7 months ago. I never responded, but feel compelled to do so now. That was one of the best comprehensive books that I have read in some time. You covered as many bases as possible in such a short work and were able to tie it all together to help people understand the problem. I have since passed it on. That should be a textbook for any serious group and I'd recommend it as required reading." H.C. - Texas

This is a "reprint" of an article in the DeKalb County (Missouri) Record-Herald written by Charlie Stokes. Mr. Stokes is the Area Agronomy Agent / County Director MSU Extension Service.

"I wanted to give y'all some disturbing information on our wonderful president. I work with the Catch-A-Dream Foundation which provides hunting and fishing trips to children with life-threatening illnesses. This past weekend we had our annual banquet / fundraiser event in Starkville.

"As a part of our program, we had scheduled Sgt. 1st Class Greg Stube, a highly decorated U.S. Army Green Beret and inspirational speaker who was severely injured while deployed overseas and didn't have much of a chance for survival. Greg is stationed at Ft. Bragg and received permission from his commanding officer to come speak at our function.

"Everything was on go until Obama made a policy that NO U.S. SERVICEMAN CAN SPEAK AT ANY FAITH-BASED PUBLIC EVENTS ANYMORE. Needless to say, Greg had to cancel his speaking event with us. Didn't know if anyone else was aware of this new policy."

WAR CYCLES/ PEACE CYCLES

In 1980 I was invited to speak at one of Willis Carto's economic conferences held in Washington D.C. My subject was economic cycles that I had learned from the old timers in New York when I was training at old Francis I. DuPont. Many of its old stockbrokers had gone through the depression and had learned things that weren't in the text books that were required reading.

The subject I spoke on was the long 50 year economic cycle and the "four-year election cycle"; the result of debt, and usury, and scrip. Most of the attendees sat through my 30 minute talk and later met with me that afternoon to go deeper into the subject.

I remember that afternoon meeting. It was swelteringly hot; everyone was wet from perspiration. I would make a statement and was met with blank stares - almost no one had studied the history of money - much less knew what usury could do to a country and what it had done in years past. My talk that afternoon turned out to be 3/4 history and 1/4 economics.

At last I was so hoarse from talking that I had to stop. I promised I would write a book telling what I had learned on the subject, and the meeting broke up.

Writing War Cycles/ Peace Cycles

Writing a book is harder than it sounds. It took me five years to write and publish War Cycles / Peace Cycles.

The publishers I contacted weren't interested in handling an economics book. So, I had to learn about computers. After that I wrote the book and had 5,000 copies printed. In due time a truck backed into my driveway and unloaded five-thousand books. That's a lot of books and they had to be stored in my house. My wife had something to say about that.

Pete Peters' Camp

I received a phone call from someone named Pete Peters. He had read a copy of WC/PC and wanted me to fly out and speak on the subject at his summer camp in Colorado's Rocky Mountains.

Pete Peters was about six feet tall, trim mustache, and looked you in the eye when he spoke.

Attending were ministers who were speakers and people attending from Ireland, Australia, South Africa, Canada and all over America. Acquaintances who had known each other for ten minutes got along as if they had known each other all their lives.

The Usury Subject

My subject was "usury" - and the things that happen when you violate the Law. Most of the audience were knowledgeable about the Law dealing with the subject. But, on the subject of usury they had been taught one of two things. 1) Usury - lending money at any rate of interest was bad. 2) Usury - lending money at a high rate of interest was bad. The second explanation came from a denomination that owned usury banks.

The Book

The camp attendees took the usury argument home with them and book orders began to arrive by the case load. In fact, the usury argument lasted almost a year - at which time there seemed to be a general consensus among genuine Bible believers that any usury was bad.

But, WC/PC had stepped on toes.

Consequences

The book was published in 1985. During that time I could not get a newspaper to review the book. Neither could I get establishment churches to even mention the book.

Then in 1999, fourteen years after the first edition of WC/PC appeared, my world turned upside down. My website was canceled and the national media announced that a copy of my book had been found in the car of someone who had committed a crime. Without quoting me or my book they concluded that both I and my book were bad. (I learned later that the media had pulled this same trick on other authors whose writings they disapproved.)

The other day I ran across a review of War Cycles / Peace Cycles written by Clif Droke in 2002. Since many may have forgotten those days and the history involved in usury-banking, with his permission I am reprinting his copyrighted review with the hope that it will inspire subscribers to re-read the book.

WAR CYCLES / PEACE CYCLES

Review By Clif Droke

Momentum Strategies Reporter

(www.clifdroke.com)

Richard Hoskins dropped a bomb on the literary world in 1985 with the publication of his book, "War Cycles, Peace Cycles." The book was so poignant and controversial that references to it were made in nearly every major newspaper from coast to coast at the time, and its message was vilified especially by the banking community. Efforts at first lambasting, then later suppressing this work (when it became evident that the public was intrigued by its message) were the order of the day when the book first shocked readers in the mid 1980s. Since that time the book has undergone numerous printings.

Repeated attempts by this writer at locating a copy of this seminal work came up short every time until recently. Much to my surprise and delight I discovered that another print run was made of Hoskins' classic book in 2000, the first re-publication in nearly a decade. I read every page voraciously and loved every morsel. I felt compelled to share this information with "Momentum Strategies" readers since no other book I've encountered comes close to isolating the root of our modern-day economic problems than this one, and none offer more practical and effective solutions than Hoskins.

According to Hoskins, every major war, financial panic, economic depression, and famine in recorded history can be traced to the insidious influence of usury banking. Moreover, these devastating events recur with cyclical regularity that can be charted and predicted. While natural, geo-cosmic influences may account in part for these cyclical occurrences, Hoskins maintains that they are mostly attributable to central banking influences. Starting with this premise, Hoskins takes the reader on a journey that winds its way through nearly 4,000 years of history to our present day all within the short space of 300 pages. All along the way the presence of usury banking makes its appearance.

For instance, Hoskins points out that history records the first known use of credit-or IOUs-is found in the ancient ruins of Babylon and perfected by the priests of Baal. The whole concept of usury, or of lending money with interest, invented at that time remains unchanged today.

Hoskins boils it down to lending 10 talents of money and demanding payment of 11 talents when there are only 10 talents in circulation. Usury contracts drawn up then stated that the borrower was to pay his debt in "talents" only, but the problem is and always has been that the central bank-created money supply is always finite while compound interest is theoretically infinite. Little has changed since then, Hoskins says, as today's high priests of finance are the world's central banks sitting in their temples of mammon, the modern progeny of the money-lending priests of Baal.

Hoskins refers continually to the ancient common law prohibition against usury while painting his sordid picture of the history of the effects of usury upon any given nation. He catalogs an extensive list of biblical references that strictly condemn the lending (or borrowing) of money at interest: "Thou shalt not lend upon usury to thy brother." (Deuteronomy 23:19); "He that by usury and unjust gain increaseth his substance, he shall gather it for him that will pity the poor." (Proverbs 28:8); "The borrower is servant to the lender." (Proverbs 22:7); "Owe no man anything but to love one another." (Romans 13:8). Had people throughout history heeded these warnings about avoiding taking on debt with interest attached to it, untold wars, revolutions, conquests, famines, and financial panics could have been averted, Hoskins contends.

One of the first consequences of a usury-based financial system, according to Hoskins, is heavy taxation. Hoskins contends that "The only thing that has kept the usury system operating through the ages is taxation." The only time heavy taxation is not needed is when there is no usury system." This is done to keep the money supply moving and to prevent severe inflations and deflations due to hoarding or over-printing.

The next consequence of having a usury system is war, says Hoskins. This is the first phase of the "War Cycle, Peace Cycle" which the book is titled after. According to Hoskins, "hot" wars are typically fought near the trough of the War/Peace Cycle and are waged only as a desperation measure to stimulate an economy suffering from the effects of deflation (a consequence of usury). They tend to have the effect of providing a short-term stimulus to the economy since new money has to be borrowed into existence in order to fight the expensive battles and industry is provided an excuse to begin operating at full capacity again. This is followed by a "peace" phase of non-aggression, completing an idealized cycle of approximately 50 years from trough to trough. Hoskins identifies his War/Peace Cycle with the 50-year "Jubilee Cycle" mentioned in the biblical book of Leviticus. Without the plague of debt with compound interest attached, there could be no "War/Peace Cycle," says Hoskins.

Another consequence of having a debt/usury-based monetary system, according to Hoskins, is a declining birth rate. When typical 6% interest rates begin compounding debt over time, due to the lack of enough money to pay the existing debts, the debt-plagued native population of a given country stops reproducing due to the heavy cost of living. This in turn leads to the influx of immigration of foreign peoples. Hoskins states that mass immigration is an absolute necessity for any usury-based system since new money must always be borrowed into existence and the money system must continue to operate at all costs.

Immigrants represent new, debt-free borrowers and bank customers. Yet another result of a usury system is the complete abolition of slavery at some point. Hoskins maintains that every instance of slavery abolition in recorded history can be traced to the influence of a banking systems which must keep the money system circulating at all costs. Hence, slaves are abolished whenever the economy begins to contract and fresh new borrowers are needed to get the wheels of commerce rolling again. Writes Hoskins, "I have never encountered a case in history where slaves were freed en masse for humanitarian reasons. First usury causes high prices (inflation), then heavy debts, a landless people, lower birth rates and declining population, and finally immigration of new peoples needed to borrow money into existence and pay taxes, or slaves are emancipated to achieve the same object." As Hoskins relates, a debt-free potential borrower is of far greater value than a heavily indebted native citizen.

Hoskins' grasp of economic history is astounding. The reader is treated to many nuggets of his wisdom and he presents amazingly simple, yet profound, solutions to modern economic problems based on his learning. Perhaps the most profound chapter in his book is the chapter entitled "Tallies & T-Bills." Hoskins takes the reader back to the year 1100 A.D. when Henry I, fourth son of William the Conqueror, ascended the throne of England. Finding the treasury empty and his needs great, he cast about for a source of income.

Having wise advisors he soon hit on a plan. The plan, with a few refinements, remained in effect for the next 726 years and is so simple and workable that it can be reinstated tomorrow. He issued "tallies."

Quoting Hoskins at length, he writes: "A tally was a stick about nine inches or so long with each of the four sides about 1 1/2 inches wide. On two of the sides, the value of the "tally" was carved into the wood. On the other two sides, the amount was printed in ink.

"The tally was then split in half lengthwise. One half remained in the treasury and the other half was given to soldiers for their pay, to farmers for wheat, to armorers for armor, and to laborers for their labor.

"At tax time, taxpayers were required to bring in one half of a tally to pay their taxes. Woe unto the man who did not have the required number of tally sticks. As a consequence, these intrinsically worthless sticks of wood were in great demand. Gold and silver coins were fine if you traveled abroad for a crusade or something, but at home if you did not have your tax-tally at tax time-you were done.

"Upon receipt of a tally the treasurer would immediately match the presented half with the half stored in the treasury. They had to tally-which is what gave it the name. Counterfeiters lost their heads! Actually, it was practically impossible to counterfeit a tally. The wood grain had to match-the notches had to match-and the ink inscriptions had to match. This could only come about if both pieces came from the same split tally stick.

"There you have it! An inexhaustible source of revenue for the government. The means were available to make tallies as long as there were trees. There was a demand as long as the government required the tallies for taxes. The system flourished as long as tax evaders and counterfeiters were punished, and they always were. For 726 years the system flourished."

Hoskins points out that government "tally" money and "usury" money cannot exist side by side. Tally-money makes usury-money look bad because it stays constant, while usury-money expands and contracts. The advent of usury-money spelled the death of the tally. The process began with the Bank of England being chartered in 1694 and continues today with the Federal Reserve banking system.

Writes Hoskins, "The government has the right to make money. It can do so whenever it chooses. In the United States the government has authorized the Treasury to create Treasury Bills. These bills are created out of thin air, but they are no less real than the wooden tallies of our ancestors. The government doesn't need to borrow money from the banks of the Federal Reserve and have debt of trillions of dollars. It can make money instead. All it has to do is MAKE "T-Bill tallies in denominations of $1, $5, $10, $20 $50, $100, and $1000. Then it can spend them for needed government services, and tax them out of circulation again. Our ancestors did it for almost three- fourths of a thousand years."

Hoskins presents a modified system of the tally system in his book as a model to help relieve beleaguered towns and municipalities during times of economic depression when no money is available in the Fed-controlled economic system. He advises the printing of localized "scrip" for use as a monetary medium for payments of goods and services and taxes. With careful planning and organization, he maintains this plan can be put into effect with only minimal costs. He documents several instances in recent history when such systems were used effectively.

He also provides excellent words of advice for the individual or family suffering under the burden of crushing debts. His advice on this subject is worth the price of the book alone.

In 1985, Hoskins' book announced that South Africa, at that time the warmest friend the U.S. had in Africa, would be turned into an enemy. This occurred one year later. The book projected that the Arab oil-producing world would be the next war target- for different economic reasons. This prediction, too, has come to pass. Massive bank consolidations were predicted, reducing the total number worldwide. Open immigration was envisioned as a practical economic necessity. Now, every locality has its immigration problems. Other things have not yet come to pass- things like widespread municipal bond failures, a massive stock market collapse, widespread famine, a crackdown on dissidents, rampant civil disobedience, a religious revival, and an invasion of America by foreign armies. Logically, these things should also come in time. If they do, America will be very, very different from what it is today.

We deeply recommend "War Cycles, Peace Cycles" to any serious student of economic history as well as to the concerned individual who wants to learn more about why things are the way they are today and what can be done to assuage our problems. No library should be without a copy. The book is available from most on-line bookstores, or by ordering directly from the publisher at Virginia Publishing Company, POB 997, Lynchburg, VA 24505. $29.

Conclusion

It appears that difficult days brought on by the practice of usury may be coming to a head. There are several countries who cannot meet their debts as they come due. This may quickly spread to other countries and affect the economies of countries worldwide.

Only recently the United States needed money in amounts that in the past were only secured by war-borrowing. This time the government by-passed the usual time-consuming war needed to get large quantities of money into circulation and proceeded to borrow more than a trillion dollars - an amount larger than the expense of any previous war. The interesting thing is that the benefits of the large borrowing only lasted for several months - and still IOUs are coming due in large denominations and there is no money with which to pay them.

The institution with which we are having to deal is the Federal Reserve Bank. In spite of its name it is a private banking system that has never been audited by the government.

The lack of money can shut down the world's business, a calamity that could cause starvation and war as nations attempt to survive by doing whatever appears to be needed.

God forbid that that day should come, but if it does the system needed to jump-start the economy is the ancient non-usury scrip/tally system. It is a system we have used for hundreds of years in the past and can be used again if needed.

There is an additional item - there has to be someone to tell governments how to create and put a script/tally system to work. That person will have to be you.

The biggest enemy of the present usury-banking system is the ancient Christian religion whose Laws are being constantly violated. Christian Law is being fought by its ancient enemy - the Hindu religion of the international trader which maintains that all religions are one.

The Hindu merchant spreads "Dharma" - "One must love everyone without regard to race, creed, or religion". This is done to neutralize separatist religions.

Hindu missionaries, "Dharmamatras" are trained for 15 years or more to learn the language, religion, and customs of the targeted country to which he will be sent. Arriving in the targeted country he blends in with the local priesthood and with his use of unlimited wealth is soon elevated to a responsible position.

Adopting the customs and rituals of the local religion, he merely adds "Dharma". Seminaries are financed and talented priests who consent to be Christian revisionists are given the media publicity needed to become public figures.

Christianity remains Christianity with its rituals and customs - the only change being that the Law is done away. Hinduism has no law. Sodomy, promiscuity, etc. is dealt with by "reincarnation". The death penalty is seldom used; a murderer may be kept in a prison until he can be retrained. There is no Law against usury.

Thus, the Hindu merchant can enter a designated country's trade area and buy and sell and not worry about his personal safety.

To oppose Hindu usury-banking one must be familiar with the Christian Law, and must be ready to present the Law when needed.

The fate of Rome awaits the land that fails this effort.

Mr. Hoskins: It has been a bunch of months that I've been receiving the Hoskins Report. My complaint is that they are not 40 pages each! I pass them along so all the Aryan brothers can read them. POPE CAUTIONS: "Pope John Paul II told the arch-bishop of Canterbury that the acceptance of openly gay clergy members by many Anglicans presented 'new and serious difficulties' in relations between the two churches." NY Times

RKH: Anglican and Roman Churches are also commercial operations. Roman "canon law" and Anglican "canon law" are basically international Admiralty Law with religious bells and whistles thrown in. The Roman church can "warn" about Anglican openly sodomite priests while protecting its own pedophile priests. Both violate the WORD regarding sodomites and pedophiles and both operate usury banks. There is not a single organized Christian religious organization that I know of that does not accept Admiralty Law over Biblical Law. Thank goodness that in these religious organizations there are still individuals who aren't afraid to put the WORD first.

Chapter 444

TWO LAW SYSTEMS

There are two Law systems. First - there is the "Law of the God of Abraham, Isaac & Jacob".

Second - There is the Law of the "King of the Land".

Naming The Bearer Of The First Law

God's instructions are compiled in many different ancient manuscripts. Some of them were compiled in a book called the Bible. In the first part of this Bible it is stated; "This is the book of the generations of Adam." Gen 5:1

The identity of Adam is easy to discover simply by looking up the word "Adam" in Strong's Concordance of the Bible.

Finding the word "Adam", which is #120, you are instructed to look in the back of the concordance and find #120 in the Hebrew section. Here it says "MAN: Heb: Adam 120 - 'to show blood (in the face), ie: to flush or turn rosy: - be (dyed, made) red (ruddy).'"

"Adam-Man" is a race - the only one to "blush red". He was the last of God's creations - all other creatures and races were made before man. Each race has his own God and laws in whose image they are made.

The WORD says "In the image of God made he MAN." Gen 9:6. God the WORD created man and "God created man in His own image." Gen 1:27.

Not only are we named "man", man's descendants are naturally named "son-of-man". "Son-of-man" is used many, many times in the Scriptures. Even God's Son called Himself Son-of-man. After making man, and "son-of-man", God chose Abraham and his son Isaac from Adam-man and named Isaac's son Jacob - Israel - which means "having God's power of attorney". We also bear Isaac's name - son-of-Isaac - Isaacson - "Sacaе-son", "Saxon" and we bear Jacob's name "Israel" because God gave us the job of enforcing His Law.<sup>26</sup>

Not only did God create man, he gave him many names, but he gave him one Law-system to live by so that he could prosper and remain safe. Adam-Man instinctively tries to live by these laws since he was made in the image of them. If for some reason an "anti-christ" persuades man not to obey God's Law, the same Law that created him will destroy both him and the "anti-christ".

Educated people know that the name "man" is Hebrew for Adam-man., he who blushes red.

The Second Law

The second Law system is the Law of the "king of the land". The races created before man were made in the image of the law of their Gods. In the past many of these races interbred. Even Esau, Jacob's brother, became lawless and married strangers. His descendants became like the races he married - lawless. This racial integration created a hodge-podge of humanity made in the image of many different gods. The attempt to follow the different laws of these gods causes constant conflict. The descendants of Esau and those kin to him are pulled first one way and then another by the demands of the Gods of their many different racial ancestors.

The history of Esau and the races among whom he spread his blood is one of constant war, robbery, rape and mayhem. There is only one peace that controls the children of Esau - it is the iron fist of an absolute king. Troublemakers receive terrible punishment at his hand.

"Kings of the land" perceive any other king as a potential threat. The king's solution is to conquer potential enemies and rule them with the same law that he uses to rule the rest of his people. Unfortunately, while the "king of the land" is conquering subjects in one place, enemies wishing to replace him are rising up in another. Lands ruled by "kings of the land" are seldom at peace for long.

The Laws of the king of the land accept their people's traditional religious rituals, but all must obey his word and decrees. His edicts are law. He appoints judges to confirm his words and executioners to punish violators.

Trade

Recently a temple was found in southern India whose hidden vaults had long been forgotten, but when opened were found to contain bags of diamonds and gold coins worth 22 billion dollars, which is a lot of money. India has thousands of temples, and stories such as the one above are not that unusual.

This fabulous wealth is the result of India's geographic location midway between east and west. Her merchants and their agents take goods from east to west, and back to the east, exchanging goods for more gold. People who do their homework know that any who adopt a gold monetary standard are soon ruled by those having the most gold, and that is India whose merchants rule lands where they trade.

Usury

The weapon Indian merchants have long used to conquer lands is usury. One key to understanding the effectiveness of the system is understanding the following anecdote

Usury may be compared to lending 10 units when only 10 units of the thing lent exists; and requiring repayment of 11 of those units, or forfeiture of collateral. Ezek 18:13; Deu 23:20

One can adjust the above formula as much as he likes, but history calls usury "the ultimate deception". It empties the countryside, creates both the city and super-state, and requires kings, police, taxes, hucksters, and a corrupt priesthood to protect the monopoly. Usury is a capital crime under Biblical Law. "God the Word" ordered; "Hath given forth upon usury ... he shall surely die." Ezek 18:13.

Usury is the prime weapon that Esau and his agents have used through the ages to conquer and destroy nations. The end result being dusty and forgotten treasures in vaults under temples holding wealth of dead and forgotten peoples. Today, conquered countries openly practice usury in spite of God's prohibition.

Agents

God the WORD long ago gave the reason that many have fallen by the wayside; "The love of money is the root of all evil." I Ti 6:10.

Having unlimited amounts of money available, India's merchants easily find agents willing to sell their honor for gold and become "anti-Christ". These agents are given virtually unlimited amounts of money with which to buy the businesses of the nations with whom they trade. Dealing with "Man" they have a problem in that Adam-Man's "God the WORD" has forbidden them to trade with strangers. "If thou has stricken thy hand with a stranger (zûwr - racial alien), thou art snared with the words of thy mouth. Pr. 6:1; "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." I Ki 4:21

Kings

To circumvent this law the stranger establishes "kings" to rule the peoples who inhabit their markets. They do this by simply giving a local agent who has a love of money still more money to use to hire his own army. Then those living in the same land must follow his commands and he becomes the God of the Land."

Man's true king is God the WORD, the King of Kings. Since we are made in His image, His Son reminded us of our status; "Jesus Christ ... hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; Rev 1:5-6.

This has not changed. Each of us has been appointed a king and a priest since we are made in the image of our God, and we are told not to have any other Gods before us. God the WORD named the condition that would befall those who accepted another as king:

"The elders of Israel ... said ... Give us a king to judge us ... And the Lord said ... the people ... have rejected me, that I should not reign over them. ... they have forsaken me ... (the king) will take your sons (for his army). And he will take your daughters ... And he will take your fields ... and give them to his servants. He will (tax you) and ye shall be his servants." I Sam 8:1-20

A king (whether called king, premier, or president) is a merchant's agent hired to manage the merchant's markets, its people and its trade. He enforces his employer's directives as the law of the land superseding all prior laws including that of God the WORD.

Corporations

Having his own king, the stranger hires agents to lend money at usury. In time, usury siphons off the floating supply of money, and the shortage of money causes borrowers to request loans in exchange for more collateral. In time this results in an avalanche of forfeited collateral. Corporations are created to handle it. Agents who love money are hired from the children of Adam-man to put a familiar face on the corporation that is actually owned by Esau.

News

To capture minds, Esau keeps himself invisible by putting on the mask of corporations. His corporations dispense advertisements to those magazines, newspapers and TV that print news that please him. Those media that displease him are denied advertisement and fall by the wayside. Media that fall by the wayside is acquired cheaply by Esau who quickly change their editorial and news policy. They then receive advertisements and become profitable again.

In media controlled by Esau, one never sees the WORD of the God of Abraham in print. The Law of The WORD is treated as if it does not exist.

Business

Kings are established by merchants to control populations. Businesses that are established by the merchant's agents under the protection of their king hire the compliant of the local populations, and discharge troublemakers. Men working for Esau either eat or starve depending on their compliance to Esau's wishes.

Religion

Jasher 29:20 says, "Esau was a designing and deceitful man, one who hunted after the hearts of men and he stole their minds." A perfect example of this "stealing of their minds" is the religion of the merchant.

Buddhism, the missionary arm of the Hindu, teaches its followers to be nice, generous, and helpful. They also teach that there is no law except the law of the King of the Land.

"Dharmamatras", the Buddhist missionary takes this interpretation of god into each land in which the merchant trades.

He finds local religious people who, in exchange for money, build an imposing religious edifice, a school, or a seminary, and are glad to make a slight adjustment to what they teach. They will teach the usual rituals of their religion; the burial and marriage rituals, the parables and how to enter heaven - and they will even permit the Dharmamatras to select certain teachers to teach in the new schools and seminaries. All they need do in exchange for the generous help they receive in building their imposing religious edifices, schools, and seminaries is to teach the stories and parables of their religion while ignoring the Law of the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and accepting the Law of the King of the Land.

Anti-Christ

Websters Dictionary of the English Language, 1828, defines "antichrist" in this manner: "Adversary of Christ ... Extends to any persons who deny Christ or oppose the Fundamental Doctrines of Christianity."

Identification

Since the greatest revolts to the rule of Kings Of The Land have come from a revival of The WORD of the God of Abraham, special emphasis is given to the Christian Religion. One must determine whether a religious gathering is in fact "Christian" or an anti-Christ Christian-Hindu gathering. Both are "nice, generous, and helpful", but, the anti-Christ also teach unconditionally "Obey in all things your masters." Col 3:22,23; "Be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates." Tit 3:1; "Submit yourself to every ordinance of man for the Lords sake." I Peter 2:4

They neglect to add that these magistrates and powers to be followed must follow Abraham's God, and that The WORD teaches that first, "We must obey God rather than men." Acts 5:29; "If ye love me obey my commandments. John 14:15; "We know him, if we keep his commandments." 1 Jno 2:3; "Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man." Eccles. 3:1

We are to obey rulers only so far as they are obedient to The WORD.

Media, Politics, Religion

The fact that the Media do not print the Law of the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and instead exclusively use the Law of the King of the Land is proof that that the Media are the mouthpiece of Esau.

It is simple to determine an anti-Christ church. Simply walk into a "Christian" gathering and observe.

The WORD teaches, "We are confounded, because we have heard reproach: shame hath covered our faces: for strangers (Heb: 2114 zûwr - foreigner, strange, profane, adulterous) are come into the sanctuaries of the Lord's house." Jer 51:51; "The stranger (Heb: 2111 zûwr - racial alien) that cometh nigh (the tabernacle) shall be put to death." No 1:51; No 3:10; 16:40

This is why sons of Jacob who have been taught The WORD soon leave Hindu-Christian gatherings and form their own Christian home churches.

Politicians are known by their acts and speech. They can be made to look good or bad by media reports. Those obedient to Esau are given good publicity to ensure their election and re-election. They are also put on boards of Esau's corporations and receive generous additional pay - a great incentive to those who love money.

Politicians disobedient to Esau are ignored by their media because if politicians should become united in mind and spirit they would have the power to overthrow Esau. Esau watches political meetings and attending politicians very carefully. Even the little ones. For example:

In Pittsylvania County, Virginia the Board of Supervisors pray to the Christian God before each meeting. If such acts spread nationwide it can become dangerous to Esau's master plan to exterminate Jacob ("Esau said ... I (will) slay my brother Jacob." Ge 27:41.)

When their prayer session became known, a letter was immediately sent by one of Esau's watchdog agencies asking them to stop prayers that "explicitly refer to Jesus Christ", and "The government should never use its power to promote one religion over others." The Board Chairman Tim Barber replied "the board will continue its regular meetings," and, "We're not going to have a minority tell us we can't pray!" News & Advance, C4, Aug 17, 2011

Esau's policy is to amalgamate the peoples of the land. The resulting mixed-breeds will have many gods with many laws which must be managed by a God Of The Land instead of God The WORD.

Therefore, information that might alert the children of Jacob is concealed. Integration is Esau's policy. Difficulties caused by integration are suppressed.

Occasionally something slips under the door. On the tail end of England's race-riots the Investors Business Daily, a17, August 15, 2011, revealed that there were unreported hate crimes committed at the Wisconsin State Fair where mobs of blacks suddenly appeared, knocking over children, looting the Midway games and stealing prizes. They pulled whites from cars, threw them to the ground and punched and kicked them in the face. People were injured, including police.

A similar event took place at the Iowa State Fair. Organized as "beat whitey night", bands of blacks targeted white kids, fracturing skulls. Similar attacks are under investigation in Los Angeles, Chicago, Cleveland and Washington, DC where our government remains mum.

The most interesting thing, according to the IBD, is that this black on white news has been suppressed. This allows Jacob to walk into the mine-field of interracial war, unaware that a cloud of destruction is building over his head.

Another thing; 80 members of Congress recently took their yearly vacation and went on an all-expense-paid trip to one of the middle-eastern countries. We can guess which of those countries they will support on their return to Washington. Incidentally, none of them that I am aware of has mentioned America's racial troubles that have resulted from integration and immigration.

Conclusion

In a Saxon-Christian society only one of two Law systems can rule; the Law of the God of Abraham, which is also the God of Isaac and his descendants - or the Law of The King of the Land which is the God of Esau.

Today, Esau rules. The anti-Christ judges and politicians he has appointed have outlawed the 10 commandments of God The WORD from courtrooms, school rooms, the army, and the media. To control the minds of the people of the land he has instituted racial integration programs, with alien announcers, alien judges and juries who are forbidden by The WORD to rule over Isaac.<sup>27</sup>

His media-elected-politicians refuse to deport aliens or to install tariffs to create jobs for Isaac's unemployed. This is prophesied to take place in the last days.

But -

Adam-man is stirring. Spontaneous groups have organized "tea-parties" which are revolting against both of Esau's political parties. The anti-Christ churches are becoming deserted as those made in the image of the WORD leave to find their God elsewhere. Saxons are arming themselves preparing to meet the armies of Esau that the WORD says are to come. The states are beginning to pass laws on their own to deport aliens. Adam-man is already paying the penalty for allowing Esau's media to persuade them to choose a son of Esau to rule over them.

Soon, Jacob will force politicians to answer two questions;
Do you favor "racial-intermarriage?"<sup>28</sup>

And,

Do you favor "deporting aliens?"<sup>29</sup>

Their answers will win the vote of Esau or will win the vote of Jacob.

The day prophesied in The WORD appears to be dawning:

27 "Thou mayest not set a stranger (Heb: zûwr - racial alien) over thee, which is not thy brother." Deut 17:15

---

28 "When they heard the Law, they excluded from Israel all the mixed multitude." Neh: 13:3; "Children of Israel... You only have I known of all the families of the earth." Deut 7:6

---

29 "I will deliver the inhabitants of the land into your hand; and thou shalt drive them out before thee." Ex 23:31. "They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me." Ex 23:33.

"They will each turn to his own people, and each one will flee to his own land. Anyone who is found will be thrust through, and anyone who is captured will fall by the sword. Their little ones will also be dashed to pieces." Isaiah 13:14-16.

EMPIRE: Last year U.S. special operations forces were deployed in 75 countries, conducting kill/capture missions against terrorists, training local military and police, or conducting surveillance. South Africans now understand. Since the 1994 black takeover that their last white rulers, denounced by the world's controlled media as "racist", were happily betraying the white enclave to the ANC & its EU/UN backers. A

Currently, non-Hispanic whites make up just fewer than half of all children 3 years old, which is the youngest age group shown in the Census Bureau's October 2009 annual NORWAY: Norway has been one of the European countries reluctant to take any more alien immigrants. A certain Anders Breivk supposedly set off a bomb next to a government building killing a number of people and then went to an Island where Norwegian liberals were holding a camp for their children and shot some 68 of them. Such things are unusual in Norway. The response of the Prime Minister was that he was going to make Norway even more open and tolerant. This attitude along with the use of a fertilizer bomb, that in the case of the federal building in Oklahoma, said to be not powerful enough to do the damage done, raises the suspicion of a "false flag". Thus far we have heard little or nothing of Breivk's background or family. Time will tell.

complaints voiced against 19 priests between 1996 and 2009. Worse, the report found that the Vatican explicitly directed Irish bishops not to abide by the 1996 policy. The Irish government is now planning to make it a criminal offense to withhold knowledge of child abuse from authorities. THE WEEK

Mbeki and the ANC are more impatient ... but risk degrading the economy if they shift the racial balance in corporate boardrooms too swiftly or stuff them with cronies.

After elevating blacks to government the US has done nothing to protect the white remnant they placed under black rule. The obvious conclusion is that the occupation government of the US wishes the Christian S. African Saxons to die. The alien immigration flood into the US points to the same object planned for America.

assets into the weak hands of its native aborigines - excluding whites - preparing them for privatization.

LAST ISSUE - "RENEGADES"

This issue of the monthly Hoskins Report #445 will be the last report. The author will be 83 in October and is tired. He has wanted to stop writing for some time but hasn't known what to do about the South African orphans or the Prisoner Book Fund.

The solution is to stop writing the newsletter, but, continue to forward money to the Loeries for as long as faithful subscribers continue making donations. The Prisoner Book Ministry will also be continued as long as funds are available. Study groups have been formed in a number of prisons using books received from the fund. There are also individuals who have received money YOU instructed to use at our discretion. The author has a job so HR subscription money has not been used for his salary.

RENEGADES

Virginia Frontier

Early Virginia settlers had difficulty with the Indians. After a few peaceful meetings, the colonists were assailed by Indian attacks which were followed by lengthy armed standoffs.

The governor was instructed by the king to make the colonists be nice, and allow the Indians free access to their settlements. With the governor's permission, they were even allowed to take precious tools and enter private homes and take food. Still, an occasional settler went missing. Sometimes the remains of their tortured bodies were found.

In spite of all, no gold mines were found, nor would the Indians do white men's work. Matters came to a head with the Indian Massacre of 1622 which killed half the colony. After that, Indians were looked on differently.

Later, the Valley of Virginia became a frontier battle zone. Roving indian war parties often forced settlers to spend nights in the local fort. Travelers were welcome if someone was present who knew them. If there wasn't - at sundown the unsponsored traveler was bound hand and foot and locked in a prison room for the night. The reason? Settler's children had been kidnaped and raised as Indians. They looked white and could pass for white. But, if allowed to stay in a fort overnight they would wait until all were asleep and would then open the gates to an Indian war party.

LESSON: In recent years people without creditable sponsors have appeared in the midst of Saxon groups. They said they believed strongly in states rights, the Constitution, Saxon Identity and the Christian way. They joined our activities and often volunteered to do the disagreeable work that is always necessary with organizations.

However, their suggestions sometimes resulted in the destruction of the entire group. They had been trained, paid, and sent by Esau. New members should always be carefully investigated.

Janissaries

Arab-Turks are a mixed race whose ancestors often had different gods and laws. These gods and their laws are in constant conflict with each other and Arab-Turks require a strong ruler to keep order.

A Turk ruler's major problem is theft and homicide as his own people constantly make war on each other. Ottoman rulers noted that captive Saxon children, when raised in the teachings of Islam, were relatively honest and made excellent administrators and soldiers.

To obtain more such dependable workers, he paid kidnapers and slave traders handsome fees to sell him European children. He obtained thousands of them. When properly trained they became the most feared of all of Islam's warriors when fighting their Christian brothers in the West.

LESSON: Today, our nation's school system has been taken over by the state and students are taught to honor and obey state policy in the same manner the Jannisaries were taught to honor Islamic law. The result is that by ignoring the WORD to exclude strangers, Esau is teaching Jacob to once again fight his own kinsmen.

To prepare the public's mind, Esau's corporations advertise in the media. Their advertisements often picture alien males with Saxon females. This is done to condition the Jacob mind to accept aliens as part of their nation in spite of the prohibitions of the WORD.

Illegals

Today Europe, America, Australia and South Africa are being flooded with strangers. Leaders who follow other gods tell us that aliens are here to do the work that whites won't do. But, the real reason is something else. All we have to do is to look at defeated and destroyed Saxon states. They rose Saxon and fell half-breeds.

We know that the prime objective of Esau is to kill his brother Jacob; "Esau hated Jacob ... and Esau said ... I (will) slay my brother Jacob." Ge 27:41. There are several ways Esau has gone about this task;

In 1941, before the U.S. entered WWII, a book titled "Germany Must Perish" by the Jewish writer Theodore N. Kaufman was widely read. Kaufman proposed the forced sterilization of the German population in order to eradicate it forever.

In January 1943, the well sknown American anthropologist and Harvard professor, Dr Ernest Hooton, wrote an article for the newspaper P.M. titled "Shall We Kill All Germans?" in which he considered the "breeding out the war strain" from the Germans. It was Hooten who first publicly suggested that the German birthrate be strictly curtailed, and that after the war a great number of foreigners be introduced into Germany so that they can "lay with German women" who will then bear some sort of docile bastards.

Today Germany is full of foreigners as the "Hooton Plan" continues in force and no peace treaty has been made with that country to conclude a war that ended more than half a century ago. It would seem that the plan of the children of Esau and their allies to eradicate Jacob continues to be implemented to the letter.

Then there is this declaration that we have all read before:

"Program For The 20th Century"

"We must realize that our party's most powerful weapon is racial tension. By pounding into the consciousness of the dark races that for centuries they have been oppressed by the whites, we can mold them to the program of the Communist party. In America, we will aim for subtle victory. While inflaming the Negro minority against the Whites, we will endeavor to instill in the Whites a guilt complex for their exploitation of the Negroes. We will aid the Negroes to rise in prominence in every walk of life, in the professions and in the world of sports and entertainment. With this prestige the Negro will be able to intermarry with the Whites and begin a process which will deliver America to our cause." Israel Cohen, Communist spokesman in England, in A Racial Program for the 20th Century, Entered into Congressional Record June 7, 1957 (P. 7633). From The Canadian Intelligence Service, Flesherton, Ontario, Canada.

LESSON: Today, America is said to have perhaps 14,000,000 illegals living inside its borders, and no attempt is being made to deport them to give unemployed Saxons jobs in their own country.

Many say that this is the continuation of Esau's plan to destroy his brother Jacob using the "Hooten Plan" of Saxon's absorbing Hispanic/Negro/Indian blood vs. "repatriation of Esau". Regardless, a Saxon who takes a stand that would harm or destroy his people must be looked upon as a renegade. The day will certainly come when he will be held accountable. "If we sin willfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins." Heb 10:26

Other Incidents

In the '30s, Lynchburg had an influx of refugees who had fled the Russian Communist Revolution and its aftermath. Of the refugees who arrived in Lynchburg a number visited in our home. They were practically all Russian-Saxons. In time, I met a few Russian Slavs, but rarely.

The question I asked was; "If most of the Russian refugees I saw in Lynchburg were Saxons - were most of the 30 - 35 million who died in Esau's gulags also Saxon? I have been told that they were.

It is interesting that Soviet Communist State has supposedly collapsed, while the state still owns the land of its previous owners and the rest of the wealth of Russia has been divided and now belongs to a handful of so-called "oligarchs" - most of whom are sons of Esau.

Suppose the purpose of the Russian Communist Revolution was simply to kill as many Saxons as possible, and take their land and wealth. If that was the intent - it succeeded.

LESSON: We know that Esau seldom tells the truth. It is written "Esau was a designing and deceitful man, one who hunted after the hearts of men and he stole their minds." Jasher 29:20. When listening to Esau we should believe his acts rather than his words.

Media & The Federal Reserve

Andy Jackson, America's greatest hero of the age, complained bitterly that when he ran for president almost nothing he said was reported by the newspapers. He was forced to transmit his words by courier over wide distances in order to reach his supporters. We also know that Jackson was a determined enemy of the banking cartel - which he managed to destroy in time.

We know that over the last hundred years the media have been concentrated in corporations owned by a few people. Articles are often repeated worldwide on the same day in papers located continents apart.

The theory has been advanced that this media monopoly is the result of credit obtained from a private banking cartel known as the Federal Reserve. This organization of private banks owned by Esau was formed in 1911. In spite of attempts by many government representatives it has never been audited in its almost 100 year life.

What goes on behind its closed doors? No one knows. Theorists believe that it is possible that this Federal Reserve creates trillions of dollars in secret and uses this money for any purpose they wish. If so, this would explain how virtual beggars become overnight billionaires. It would explain how a few of these billionaires can buy the media of the world, finance revolutions, destroy countries that had limited the power of banks such as Russia, the American Southland, South Africa, Germany, Japan and China. It would also explain the assault by America and its allies on Islamic countries that ban usury. And last - but not least - the complete ownership of the political leadership of the world by either giving or withholding the gift of publicity and money

Of course this is only theory. A thorough audit of the Federal Reserve should confirm or deny its validity.

LESSON: Since "The love of money is the root of all evil", any theory that has the possibility of filling the pockets of certain people should be examined closely.

Colleges, Seminaries

Janisaries and white Indian captives were trained to hate their own people. There is a simpler way.

I went to a college near home. My teachers were the "old school". They would bring up a subject and often you were instructed to argue the side chosen by the professor. They did not pass judgement on your conclusions as long as your conclusion contained logic. In other words, you were educated as to both sides of many questions of the day. That was an education!

I left for the the Korean War. When I returned, everything was different: new buildings, a new president, and new teachers - the old teachers were gone.

There were no longer two sides of controversial questions. There was one answer and that was provided by the teacher. You gave his answer back to him or failed the course. Today's parents wonder what has happened to their children at school.

In many cases the school had been given money to expand. Esau's corporations. Trusts that provided the money were allowed to select one or more of their representatives to sit on the college's board, and perhaps recommend a few teachers to fill the new classrooms.

We see the result. We now have sons of Jacob who hate their own people. This is much simpler than opening the gates to an Indian war party or kidnaping children to be trained as Janissaries. The result is the same.

LESSON: Any grant or gift from Esau can be considered to have strings attached, and those who accept those gifts should be watched carefully.

Conclusion

In Richmond fifty years ago, nice, patriotic unknowns joined our newly organized conservative political party. One rainy day when most members stayed at home, the newcomers showed up as a bloc and voted themselves into power and never held another meeting. We never discovered who they represented. We had accepted the new members at their word and had not investigated their statements.

Virginia elected J. Lindsey Almond to be governor to fight the federal takeover of Virginia schools. He had promised to enforce Sen. Harry Byrd's "Massive Resistance". He was elected by a landslide and immediately gave in to the feds. He then complained that he was being persecuted by his fellow Virginians, and when he retired he was immediately made a federal judge.

Then there was the committee who came to my house promising money to make a movie of WC/PC. All I had to do was to sign a paper giving them exclusive rights to reprint my books. I didn't sign. I didn't know any of the people. The leader came by my house several times after and treated me like I was the most wonderful man in Virginia.

Later I was walking with my shepherd in the woods near the Black Water Creek. A man in jogging clothes ran up the path. It was the friend who had been talking to me. He saw me, smiled and slowed to a walk. As he approached me smiling, my shepherd walked out from behind a large oak and stood between us. Startled, my friend jumped back - and a sheath knife that he had been holding hidden in his hand fell to the ground. Without a word, he leaned down, scooped up the knife, and ran off. I tried to locate him later but he had moved out of town.<sup>30</sup>

These people, and others like them have had their day. Our people are learning to use the The LAW as a filter. Rest assured that the day will come when preachers, politicians, business men and their agents, will first hold up God the WORD to earn the right to stay in our midst.

"Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man." Ecclesiastes 12:12

Dear Mr. Hoskins, Anne, family and friends in America,
 The beloved Hantie Kwakkestijn, being so very ill, we realize she has a long road ahead to recovery and we are really concerned. The last time I went to see her and Hans, she was so brittle and I had to fight against the tears! Hans is such a wonderful and loyal support and does everything for her. They are so endearing and special to us all. If we had the means, we would have visited them more often but all we can do is pray.<sup>31</sup>

<sup>30</sup> After this incident, and during and after the time the newspapers went after me and my books - except for certain sons-of-Esau who were following the orders of their masters - I have received nothing but friendly waves and smiles from Lynchburgers from that day to this.

We feel terrible for not sending letters on a regular basis, but I think you will believe me when I say I am on duty almost 24 hours per day! After dinner we have to attend to the signing of school books, writing letters to teachers concerning school affairs, helping the children with home assignments by searching for information on the internet and the only time I have to attend to my administrative duties, is when all the children are in bed.

During week-days after the children have been taken to school, the phone start ringing and this is also the time when we welcome visitors - some times they would stay until school is out to meet the children. It is heartwarming when locals or visitors make the effort to come and show interest or offer support.

After fetching the children from school we have a strict routine as it is no joke when it comes to steering 37 children, each one: unique personality, with own aspirations, thoughts and identity to clearly understand why we have to study and learn to read, speak properly and aspire. We have to help them stay focused and thus, after having our main meal, we sit down to school work and assignments.

Most afternoons some of the children are taken to extra-mural activities or sport practices and fetched at different times. The children then need our full attention and assistance especially those who really struggle to progress. They also need time to exhale and relax before bath time, dinner, Bible reading, discussing certain issues that need to be addressed, brushing teeth, then the good night hugs and kisses and off to bed! Then my administrative gets attention.

The above happens each and every week day apart from the washing, drying, and ironing, handing out clothes, keeping the rooms, bathrooms, cupboards tidy and clean!

We have a tight schedule but it is rewarding. Please forgive me for not sending news on a regular basis. We will however make an effort as you and your subscribers are so dear and special to us. Had it not been for your support, caring and trust in what we do, we would in no way be in the position we are today! Only our Heavenly Father knows how much we appreciate your ongoing support of the Loerie Children's home and we feel so very privileged!

Unfortunately, we have also been targeted by criminals, and our telephone cables have been stolen twice in one month which complicates our lives even more. This means we are cut off from all regarding the internet (thus e-mailing, sending and receiving faxes, no telephone contact, and we are always so dependent of these facilities e.g. having to phone a doctor in an emergency, etc. It is such a burden and our only Telephone Company in South Africa is also getting fed up with the repetitive replacing of cables. They now refuse to install new cables and some suburbs have not had any phones (land lines) for the past six years!

Apart from that we also have this new policy installed by many Home Insurance Companies who refuse to insure certain households because of continuous break-ins. It is so demoralizing! The criminals target certain houses as they are so aware of the fact that an insurance company will replace the stolen goods in no time. They lie in waiting for about a month and return to steal again and this keeps on and on. Thus, a company can decide whether a client is insurable or too much of a high risk and end of story! Apart from that, monthly premiums increase at such a rate and people are suffering. But enough of that!

LOERIE BUS: You have seen our new bus when we sent you a photo and we thank our Heavenly Father every day for the benefit and to be able to transport the children in safety! During most week-ends we really make an effort to raise funds through baking pancakes and selling hot dogs to customers in front of a Groceries shop in order to support the trustees and donors in paying off the loan for the bus.

LOERIE MATTERS: We now have a family consisting of 37 Loeries! We had to make some quick changes. We expanded the girls sleeping quarters by breaking through the one bedroom wall into the children's recreation room. Another wall was erected. The recreation room is now half its original size but the children still have ample space and we cope very well.

The newcomers have adapted smoothly and to see the gratitude in their eyes when we gather in the eating hall, is so heart warming just to think of a child going to sleep without even having eaten a piece of bread is really unthinkable.

We now have 21 girls in the house and 16 boys aging from 8 years to 18!

REPORT ON TWO STUDENTS: As you remember, we wrote about the two Loeries who got the chance to pursue their dreams in becoming teachers one day. The Trustees have founded an additional bursary fund during June 2010 to sponsor Loeries who aspire and excel. These two young adults jumped for the opportunity and they both are thriving and are still very happy and fully aware of the privilege of being full time students - at the only university, well known for being very conservative and Christian oriented and with the grace of God still overwhelmingly white.

TWO ARTISANS: The other 2 boys (or rather young men) Gert and Joshua are also still coping under very tough circumstances. They live in a house in Johannesburg, close to their work and have to fend for themselves by cooking, doing their own washing, ironing, cleaning, etc. They do however come to the Loerie Home whenever they get the chance. Gert is hoping to train as an electrical engineer and Joshua as a diesel mechanic.

HILDERETTE & ERIKA: Hilderette (15) and Erika (12) who lost their mommy are coping well. Knowing that Loerie Home is their home which provides for them and that they belong and feel wanted, makes it easy for them to progress.

And last - I want to thank you on behalf of all the children for your ongoing, unconditional love and support. Please feel free to contact us at any time.

We salute you as always our dear friends and GOD BLESS! THANK YOU!

Betzy and the Loeries

INTERNET NEWS

(The following was brought to my attention recently. Excerpts follow with my opinion at the end.)

Wyoming Sheriffs Put Feds In Their Place

County sheriffs in Wyoming are demanding that federal agents actually abide by the Constitution, or face arrest. Even better, a U.S. Federal District Court agreed.

The court decision was the result of a suit against the BATF and the IRS by Sheriff Mattis and other members of the Wyoming Sheriff's Association. The suit in the Wyoming federal court district sought restoration of the protections in the United States Constitution and the Wyoming Constitution.

The District Court ruled in favor of the sheriffs. They stated that Wyoming is a sovereign state and the duly elected sheriff of a county is the highest law enforcement official within a county and has law enforcement powers exceeding that of any other state or federal official.

The court confirms and asserts that the duly elected sheriff of a county is the highest law enforcement official within a county and has law enforcement powers which exceeds that of any other state or federal official.

The Bighorn County Sheriff Dave Mattis commented: "If a sheriff doesn't want the Feds in his county he has the constitutional right and power to keep them out, or ask them to leave, or retain them in custody. ...

Sheriff Mattis continued; "I hope that more sheriffs all across America will join us in protecting their citizens from the illegal activities of the IRS, EPA, BATF, FBI, or any other federal agency that is operating outside the confines of constitutional law. ..."

My Opinion Of The Above

These are interesting opinions about the power of county sheriffs and what they can and can't do in their own counties. But, somehow it doesn't ring exactly right.

It is really hard to picture your local sheriff arresting an FBI agent or some other federal employee and putting him in jail for violating a state law. That's not to say that they shouldn't have the right to do so if federal agents violate state's rights, but, a sheriff actually arresting and jailing a fed for something other than robbery or murder might lead to other things.

I went to the internet and looked up this Wyoming case to get as much information as I could and found that there was a case of the sort back in 1997. Since then there has been a similar report almost every year with what seems to be additions and embellishments.

I personally have never heard a local politician or judge speak of the right of the local sheriff to do these sorts of things. If they did, I am confident it would be general information.

In my opinion, if a group of local patriots should use the above "sheriff's power" story as an excuse to take a stand for their rights - they may find themselves in the same place that the Ruby Ridge family found themselves.

Recently another story has been making the rounds. It's about a bill to audit the Federal Reserve co-sponsored by Ron Pau I. There is such a bill, but the story presented to me was that a partial audit has already been completed and it was found that the privately owned Federal Reserve had secretly lent out $16 trillion dollars to Wall Street banks, corporations, and banks in Europe. The figures listed who got how much and when.

I wouldn't put it beyond the Fed to do such a thing if they thought they could get away with it, but sixteen trillion dollars is a lot of money to put into circulation without being noticed by the public.

The story was presented to me as "HOT NEWS" - but believable? That's something else. Others can do this sort of thing much better than I can, but all my searches only turned up one other comment mentioning $16 trillion dollars in secret loans. Wouldn't the politicians running for office love to get their teeth into something like this - especially Ron Paul - and I haven't heard a word about this from of him.

Reason

The U.S. Post Office is in dire straits because people are using the internet instead of the mail. Because of the internet we now have access to news that would have been kept secret in former years. Tea Parties spring up overnight because of this exchange of information; political candidates such as Rick Perry of Texas are exposed as having been both for and against illegals. The internet makes it hard to hide this sort of thing.

In other words, the internet, with all its faults, is an enemy of the establishment that once had a monopoly on news and could lie whenever it chose.

A suspicious mind can envision Esau having his agents deliberately planting false stories on the internet that have the ring of the truth in hopes that they will be picked up by right-wing spokesman and passed on to their readers.

The result of false information spread by right-wing spokesmen by mistake can ruin that person in the eyes of his readers. That fragmentizes the newly organizing right wing. It's a form of warfare. Watch what is said and who says it! It's necessary to win public trust.

RUDOLPH HESS: In the dark hours of the night of 21 July 2011, between midnight and 2 a.m., a team of grave-diggers exhumed the remains of Rudolf Hess, one-time deputy-fuhrer in the Third Reich. He had been held in Spandau Prison, Berlin, from the time of the Nuremburg Trial to 17 August 1987, when he was murdered at the prison. He was buried in a cemetery in Wunsiedel three days after his death.

The Süd-Deutsche Zeitung reported that thousands came to his grave every year in remembrance of his death. In an attempt to put a stop to this homage, his remains were dug up in the middle of the night, cremated and the ashes secretly scattered at sea. IMPACT
